Miss Lily Weatherilt was a business visitor to Peterboro on Monday.

Rev J. E. Beckel left for Toronto on Monday morning to attend a meeting of the Ontario Religious Educational Council. Mr. Beckel expects to be there the entire week. Mrs. Beckel and children motored as far as Oshawa with him intending to visit friends.

Mr. Chris. Cumminskey of Fleetwood was a visitor to the village on Monday.

Misses Ruth Hamilton and Hazel Jackson of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute spent the week-end with their parents.

Mrs. E. Veals of St. Catherines is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Porteous.

Mr. Frank Jamieson has returned to Port Arthur after a pleasant visit of several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Jamieson.

Mrs. Wellington Card and children have gone on an extended visit to friends at Bonar Law.

Mr. Rolin Magill of Yelverton was a business visitor to the village on Monday.

Mrs T. G. Ryley and her daughter Miss Violet, left on Monday evening to make a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jas. Birchard, Peterboro.

Mrs. Alva Thorndyke was a visitor to Peterboro on Saturday

Record Attendance.

The Methodist Sunday school had a record attendance of 112 on Sunday. The superintendent Mr. Monk and his staff of teachers were all in their places with large classes. The lesson, Moses, Liberator and Lawgiver, was greatly enjoyed by the adult classes. Miss Parsons of Omemee and Mr. Ed. Bray delighted the school by a beautiful duet entitled, "Dear to the Heart of the Shepherd."

The annual business meeting of the Sunday chool board will be held on Monday, April 30.

Miss Parsons also sang at the evening service in the church and the number was greatly appreciated by every one present.

Old Fashioned Mother.

The Girls' Guild of St. Paul's church are to be congratulated on giving one of the best amateur plays ever staged in this village entitled "The Old Fashioned Mother". The commodious hall was packed to the doors when the curtain arose promptly at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Cascadden as "Mother" and Mr. Laing as "John", the wayward son was very realistic, Frank Hannah as "Jerry" gave the humor and laughable side of the play. Others taking part were: Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sisson, Mrs. McGrath, Mrs. R Morton, Miss Laura Morton, Mr. Fred Reynolds, Charlie Reynolds, Mary Sisson, May McGill, Frank Hamilton, Charlie Smith, Louis McGill, Hughie Swanson, Hazel Swanson, Violet Thompson. Mrs. Hume of Omemee sang very delightfully some old-fashioned songs between acts, well in keeping with the play.

May Meeting W.M.S

The Womens' Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold their May meeting and quarterly tea in the basement of the church on Tuesday, May the 8. Mrs. James Kendry of Peterboro and treasurer of the Women's Missionary Society for the Bay of Quinte branch will be present at this meeting and give an address. The ladies have been very fortunate in securing Mrs. Kendry and it is hoped every womau of the Methodist church interested in missions will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending this meeting.

Roads Drying Up.

The frost is coming out of the ground and the roads are drying up nicely, numerous cars are coming into the village daily. The farmers are talking of commencing work on the land. The maple syrup season was short, but the yield was very good, syrup selling at $2.50 per gallon.

BLUE SKY LAW IS HOLDING UP HOUSE

Great Difference of Opinion Over the Details of the Act — New Hotel Commission.

TORONTO, April 25.—(Canadian Press).—The Legislature yesterday afternoon got ahead with considerable business until delayed by the Blue Sky Law. In the first place Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and Wellington Hay, said that the Prime Minister told them at a conference yesterday morning that the dropping of this bill would be considered. In view of the attitude of the Premier they thought discussion of the bill should not proceed. Hon. W. E. Raney, leading the House at the time, insisted that the bill be proceeded with before this debate Premier Drury introduced a bill constituting a commission whose work it will be to look after the hotels of the province. Mr. Raney used the word "elevate" in describing their functions with hotels. The commission will grant standard hotel licenses etc and the legislation is based on the report of the special committee which toured the province last recess investigating hotel conditions. The House passed several readings of bills having to do with various Ontario municipalities. There was a procedure tie up when J. E. Johnston Simcoe moved third reading of a bill when he did not intend to do so. The Speaker ruled however, that the third reading should not be given and the bill was brought back to committee of the whole where it was amended as Mr. Johnston desired. One clause in the Blue Sky Law was allowed to stand over so that it may be redrafted. However, there was enough difference of opinion over the details of the act to keep the House busy on it until 6 o'clock.

A MUSICAL SOCIETY FORMED IN APSLEY

Officers Elected for Community Choral Organization—Spring Drive This Week

APSLEY, April 24.— Everything is now in readiness for the annual spring drive of the logs down Eel's Creek and operations will commence this week, a good head of water coming down since the warm weather set in. The scaler completed his work on Tuesday and general satisfaction is expressed by the jobbers with the measurements.

The last few days have made a wonderful change in the appearance of the country, nearly all the snow having disappeared and most of the frost being out of the ground. On Saturday the thermometer registered 79 degrees in the shade.

A big crowd attended Archie Whitmore's sale of farm stock and implements on Wednesday and with Fred Bullied as auctioneer it is needless to say proceedings went with a vim, bidding being brisk and keen. Cows fetched from $27 to $40 each. A couple of driving horses went for good figures. Will Dingman paying $155 for one and Fred Whitmore securing a five year old for $125. The implements also sold for fairly good sums.

Forward Step.

A forward step in community work was accomplished on Friday evening when through the Rev. C. A. G. Spence's efforts, a strong musical Society was organized, which will be known as the Apsley Community Choral Society. The following officers were elected: Director, Rev. C. Spence; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. Staples; Librarian, Mr. W. O. Collins; Accompanist, Miss Myrtle Windsor.

If the present enthusiasm of the members is maintained, prospects are bright for a successful organization. Practices will be held on Friday evenings at 7.30 and new members are cordially invited to join the Society.

Action By Anglicans to Collect Arrears.

LONDON, Ont., April 25.—(Canadain Press.)— It was announced that the financia board of the Anglican Diocese of Huron, one of the most important in the Dominion, is about to proceed against some 2,800 of its communicants who owe the diocese about $45,000. This debt represents arrears of payments to the Anglican Forward Movement of a few years past.

OMEMEE SOCIETY HELD A MEETING

Report of the Year's Work Showed Very Satisfactory Progress--Officers Elected

OMEMEE April 25.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church was held at the parsonage. The president, Mrs. Wm. Henderson, conducted the devotiional exercises. A report of the year's work was given by the secretary and also the treasurer, the sum of $519.24 having been raised, a balance of $161.93 now being in the treasury. It was decided to paint and redecorate some of the rooms in the parsonage.

President—Mrs. Wm. Henderson.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. Bushnell.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Bradburn.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. Shields.
Sec.—Mrs. Widdis.
Treas.—Mrs. Wm. Earle.
Flower Committee — Mrs. Bradburn and Miss Lila Parsons.
Parsonage committee—Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Bushnell.

Mrs. R. F. Stillman served dainty refreshments at the close and a social half hour was enjoyed.

The trapping season closed on Monday, much to the sorrow of the many trappers in this vicinity, who were looking forward to a big catch. Although the season was short, yet one experienced hand at the job caught about 200, which, at the high price will be a good week's pay, he claims.

IF YOU ARE NOT WELL HERE IS YOUR KEY TO HEALTH!

Hattonford, Alta. — "Being run-down after the 'flu' I was in a weakened condition, had dizzy spells and shortness of breath, followed by faintness, The middle age period made things seem as though I'd never feel well again, but I was determined not to give up. Hearing of Dr. Pierce's famous Golden Medical Discovery I sent for a bottle, followed the directions, and soon felt less tired and faint, and finally I got back to my normal state. I have thanked God many times for the restoration of my health so I could remain with my family, and I gladly recommend this Discovery of Dr. Pierce's for it is so pure, and worth a trial to any one who is run-down."—Mrs. Gertrude White, Crystal Springs Farm.

Golden Medical Discovery is put up in Dr. Pierce's Labratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., and sold by all druggists in both tablets and liquid. Send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial package of tablets.

Hamilton Man and Wife Succumb to Terrible Burns — Their Clothing Took Fire.

HAMILTON, April 25. Canadian Press. — Mike Ordena and his wife Sophia were terribly burned at their home yesterday afternoon when some coal oil they were using to light a fir exploded and then set fire to their clothing. They both succumbed last night within ten minutes of each other.

Martin Sabera ,their next door neighbor, heard their cries, and went to the house to see both with their clothes in flames. Mrs. Ordena ran into the yard and Ordena was taken out of the house by Sabera.

U. S. TO PROSECUTE SUGAR PROFITEERS

Attorney-General Has Strong Hopes for Break the Combine.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(Canadain Press.)—Honorable Augustus Seymour, Acting Attorney General, is directing a suit brought by the United States to close the sugar exchange and is promising to indict for criminal conspiracy a number of sugar profiteers. He was the personal choice of Attorney-General Daugherty, who wanted a life-long friend as well as a good lawyer to help him with his work. His suit is a bold move, but not intended by hi mto be theatrical. He really believes he has found some way to break the sugar combine, and it must be broken, not only for the sake of the public, but for the sake of the administration.

NORWOOD HOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Bucket Brigade Checked Flames — Considerable Damage Done.

NORWOOD, April 25.— On Tuesday morning about 11.20 the fire alarm was sounded and a bucket brigade was soon at work on Mr. John Baskin's residence, Peterborough street. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that it might have been from the chimney or from a spark from the box factory. However, the fire was checked but not before a considerable amount of damage was done to the house. Nearly all of the contents were removed. Mr. Baskin, Sr., who has been very ill, was removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Lumsden.

ANOTHER PRESENTATION TO REV. J. A. MACKENZIE

Young Peoples' Guild Give Photo of Church and an Address.

At a largely attended meeting of the Young People's Guild of Knox Church, held Monday evening, Mr. L. J. Pettit gave an interesting talk on the Home Missionary, basing his remarkson the life and work of John the Baptist, the speaker pointing out the need of careful preparation for any work which would influence others to become members of the church. Mr. Pettit was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his very fine address Another feature of the program was a much appreciated pianoforte selection given by Mr. J. A. Jeffries.

Rev J. A. MacKenzie was called upon to receive from the guild a framed photograph of Knox church. The presentation was made by Miss Helen Maddon. The following address read by Miss Elsie Northcotte, was also presented.

The Address.

"Dear Mr MacKenzie:

"The Young People's Guild of Knox Church, Peterboro, have met here this evening with feelings of the deepest regret due to your removal from Peterboro to Guelph, where you will continue your work for the Master in another part of His vineyard.

"We are unable to express in words our sense of appreciation of your assistance in connection with this branch of the work of the church. You have done everything possible to keep up the interest in the Guild and you are greatly responsible for any success our efforts have achieved. The officers especially, will miss your words of friendly advice, so willingly offered on any occasion.

"We cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing our appreciation in a tangible form by presentng you with a photograph of the church in which you have so successfully laboured during the past eight years. You have deeply endeared yourself in the hearts of the young people of Knox Church, and we trust that, in after days, when looking at this picture, you will recall memories of the happy days spent here, and you will be reminded of the loyal hearts of your many friends in Peterboro.

"We also remember with gratitude, the assistance rendered to the Guild by your charming wife. To Mrs. MacKenzie and family, our best wishes go forth for future health and happiness.

"We sincerely trust that God's blessing will attend you in your future efforts for the good of mankind and that the helpful sprit you have shown among your people here will be continued with renewed strength in your new field of labor.

(Signed on behalf of Knox Church Young People's Guild).

A Pitchford, president; G. G. Madden, vice-president; A. E. Cunningham, secretary; R. H. Pollock, treasurer.

Mr. MacKenzie made a suitable reply expressing the belief that Knox Church had a very bright future in store and stating that he would be always interested in the welfare of the young people of Knox Church.

Other Presentation

Sunday afternoon, Mr. MacKenzie was addressed at the meeting of the Brotherhood by the President, Mr. George Bartley, while Mr. Malcolm Clarke on behalf of the class presented him with a suitably engraved fountain pen. Mr MacKenzie was also handsomely remembered by the Volunteer Bible Class.

At a meeting of the Mission Band Monday afternoon he was further honored.

An address was read by Olive Jackson and the presentation of a book entitled "Adventures in Friendship" was made by Mildred Hunter. Mrs. MacKenzie was r e with a box of candy, while Master Ronald received a toy elephant.

The boys of Mr MacKenzie's Sunday school class presented him with a beautiful set of gold cuff links, Monday evening. Mr. MacKenzie acknowledged these gifts and thanked the donors heartily and expressed the belief that he would hear of the boys and girls of Knox Church winning many and great successes in the years to come.

Constipation is one of the most prevalent troubles the human race is subject to, and is the greatest cause of many of our ailments, for if the bowels cease to perform their proper functions all the other organs will become deranged.

Keep your bowels working gently and naturally by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and thus do away with the constipation and all other troubles caused by it.

Mrs. A. R. Spence, Springhill, N S., writes:—"I have suffered for some time from constipation, and was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. After taking a vial of them I have found wonderful relief, and would advise all those who are constipated to give them a trial, for I feel sure they will also receive the same benefit I did."

THE RUHR COMMERCIAL WAR A QUESTION OF BANKRUPTCY

French Will Have Won When the German Lemon Is Squeezed Dry — Berlin Using Up Its Gold to Carry on Fight—Germans Stop Trains to Hinder the French.

By ERNEST M. HEMINGWAY.

OFFENBURG, Baden, April 23. —Offenburg is the southern limit of the French occupation of Germany. It is a clean, neat little town with the hills of the Black Forest rising on one side and the Rhine plain stretching off on the other.

The French seized Offenburg in order to keep the great international railway line open. This line runs straight north from Basle in Switzerland through Frieburg, Offenburg, Karlsruhe, Frankfurt, Cologne, Dusseldorf, to Holland. It was the main artery of communication and commerce in Germany.

According to the French their occupation was to ensure the safe passage of coal trains on the main line between the Ruhr and Italy. They feared the Germans might shunt the cars off at Offenburg and ship them on a branch line up into the Black Forest, and eventually back into the industrial district of what French papers refer to as "unoccupied Germany."

Offenburg Without Trains.

Germany denounced the occupation of Offenburg, located in the Duchy of Baden in the far south of Germany, some hundreds of miles from the Ruhr, as a breach of the Treaty of Versailles The French replied by expelling the burgomaster and some two hundred citizens who had signed the protest, from the town. The Germans then informed the French that no more trains would run through Offenburg on the great main Rhineland railway.

For almost two months now not a train has run through Offenburg. I stood on the bridge over the right of way and looked at the four wide gauge tracks stretching to Switzerland in one direction, and Holland in the other, red with rust. Trains stop three miles each way from Offenburg, north and south. Passengers get out with their baggage, and if they are Germans, can ride into Offenburg in a motor bus and get another bus to take them the three miles the other side of the town where they can continue their journey. If they are French they are allowed to walk, carrying their baggage.

No Coal Has Gone Through.

No coal has gone through since the town was seized. Now the French face the problem—if they want to control the Rhine railway—of occupying every town along the whole length of it at an expenditure of at least four hundred thousand men, and then running the trains themselves. Otherwise the Germans say they will run trains to just outside the limit of the French occupation, and then stop them. It is their answer to the strategists who put their fingers on the map and said, "It is very simple. We will take this town here and that will control this railway. It will only take a few men, etc."

The Franco-German commercial war has settled down to a question of which government goes absolutely broke first. All the Germans I have talked to say, "We could not do anything without our government. The government pays all the people who lose their jobs through the occupation. It pays all those who are expelled from the town. It pays the unemployed."

How Germany is Using Gold.

The German government is now using up the gold to stabilize the mark that it ordinarily paid over to the Reparations Commission. It is using these marks that it buys at the fixed price of 20,800 to the dollar to fight the occupation. It is also already using a good portion of its hoarded gold. When through the crippling of German industries and the exhaustion of the gold supply the German government is no longer able to fight the occupation by putting the government resources back to the individuals who suffer by the occupation, and making good their loss with government money, the French will have won the struggle of attrition. But Germany's gold will have been used up before she quits, her industries ruined, and she will be as profitable to France as a squeezed lemon.

On the day before I left Paris M. Poincare asked the Chamber of Deputies for 192,000,000 francs for the expenses of the first four months' occupation of the Ruhr. Four months more of that, and if the German government goes under, the French government will have won a commercial victory at the cost of biting off its own nose to spite Germany's face.

The Unlucky Brother.

From Offenburg to Ortenberg, where there was a train, I rode in a motor truck. The driver was a short blonde German with sunken cheeks and faded blue eyes. He had been badly gassed at the Somme. We were riding along a white, dusty road through green fields forested with hop poles, their tangled wires flopping. We crossed a wide, swift clearly pebbled stream with a flock of geese resting on a gravel island. A manure spreader was busily clicking in the field. In the distance were the blue Schwartzwald hills.

"My brother," said the driver, guiding the big wheel with one arm half wrapped around it, "He had hard luck."

"So?"

"Ja. He never had no luck, my brother."

"What was he doing?"

"He was signal man on the railroad from Kehl. The French put him out. All the signal men. The day they came to Offenburg they gave them all twenty-four hours."

"But the government pays him, doesn't it?"

"What's the matter?"

"Well, hes got seven kids."

I pondered this. The driver went on in his drawling south German. They pay him what he got, but the prices are up and where he was signal man he had a little garden. A nice garden. It makes a difference when you got a garden."

"What's he do now?" I asked.

"He tried working in the sawmill at Hausach, but he can't work good —more to do. But they had to be Ja. He's got no luck, my brother."

We passed another lovely clear stream that curved alongside the road. It had clear, gravel bottomed ripples and then deep holes along the bank.

Why There's No Trout.

"Trout?" I asked.

"Not any more," the driver laughed. "When we had the revolution nobody knew what to do. It was in the papers and it was posted up. the republic,' and there was nothing 'Down with the Kaiser,' and 'Hoch They sang in the streets and said more to do. But they had to be something, so because it was always trouble to get fishenkarten (fishing licenses), they went out to the stream with hand grenades and killed the trout and everybody had trout to eat. Then the police came and made them stop and put some in jail and the revolution was over."

"Herr Canada," said the driver, "how long do you think the French will stay in Offenburg?"

"Three or four months maybe. Who knows?"

The driver looked ahead up the white road that we were turning to dust behind us. "There will be trouble then. Bad trouble. The working people will make trouble. Already the factories are shutting down all around here."

"It won't be like the other revolution?" I asked.

The driver laughed, a hollow-cheeked, skin drum-tight, hollow-eyed laugh. "No they won't throw any grenades at the trout then." The thought amused him very much. He laughed again.

"OLD DUTCH," LIFE CONVICT, AN ARTIST

McALLISTER, Ok a., April 25 (United Press).—Monotony of gray prison was failed to smother the genius of a life termer at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary home.

"Old Dutch," as the prisoner is known, convicted 23 years ago for murdering his wife, disclosed talent for painting and used his skil to beautify the prison dining room and lobbies.

Through kindness to the prisoner, Warden M. C. Townsend has withheld the artist's real name. Few about the prison know his name. He is "Old Dutch," the prison artist, to everyone there.

For many years after he was received at the penitentiary his talent remained buried beneath his rough exterior until one day he was detailed to paint some scenery for the stage. The scenery painted by "Old Dutch" was so artistic that he was owed to paint a portrait of each Oklahoma governor.

"Old Dutch's" latest canvas, a painting of Governor Jack Walton, has just been completed, but it will not be allowed to hang in the "Hall of Governors." The painter said the work did not do justice to Oklahoma's executive and announced another portrait would be painted.

Art critics who have chanced to visit the prison have invariably complimented the painter on his interpretation of the "Crucifixion" and "Resurrection" each 9 by 12 feet.

"Old Dutch" came to the United States soon after he was dismissed from the year of compulsory service in the Germany army, he said. He married the woman for whose murder he was convicted, at Clinton, N.Y. They later moved to Oklahoma. His wife was found dead in their home which had been set afire. "Old Dutch" claims that another committeed the crime.

ST. AUGUSTINE TO HONOR HER ANCIENT CAVALIER

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 25.—With a touch of historic sentiment, St. Augustine, the oldest city in the United States, will celebrate the discovery of Florida by Ponce de Leon on April 4, 5 and 6. The celebration to-be presented this spring is the first since the World War and into it there is to be crowded all the gayety, beauty and charm of sixteenth century romance.

Plans for the Ponce de Leon celebration are unique and essentially a part of St. Augustine, for the program is designed to portray famous historical happenings of which the city has been the center during the centuries gone.

It was near St. Augustine, historians declare, that Juan Ponce de Leon, seeking the fountain of eternal youth, stepped upon the shores of Florida on Easter Sunday, 1513. Flowers bloomed, birds sang and it was in truth a Pascual Florida, or Flowery Easter. To Ponce de Leon, weary from his search and gladdened by the sight of the delightful country, it seemed indeed that the veritable fountain of his quest must lie within its borders.

The first day of the celebration will portray the coming of Ponce de Leon. The Knight of Leon and his retinue, richly clad in the picturesque costumes of mediaeval days, will sail the blue waters of Matanzas Bay on their Spanish caravels, ancient high-pooped craft, such as brought the gallant cavalier to this alien shore.

Pedro de Aviles Menendez, explorer and colonizer, a hardy and brave soldier, but cruel and relentless, founded the city of St. Augustine in 1565, and the second day of the celebration will be devoted to the commemoration of this event.

The third day will come the change of flags, and the different banners which in turn have floated over the old grey ramparts of Fort Marion, formerly Fort San Marco, will be unfuried. The banner of Spain and the Union Jack of Great Britain will float on the April air, detachments from the Spanish and English companies taking part in the pageants, raising the pennants only to lower them again. Then, commemorating the change of flags when Florida became a part of the United States, the stars and stripes will show their colors and will remain to float from the flag-staff.

Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, heiress to the estate of the late Henry M. Flagler, will have charge of the closing event, a brilliant Spanish costume ball in the Alcazar casino, when charming senoritas will coquette with the gallant dons in Ponce de Leon's retinue.

An effective feature will be the bombardment by night of old Fort Marion by Oglethorpe's forces from the British colony of Georgia, an historic event of the early times. An attack on an Indian village by the Spaniards will be another interesting night event.

LORD CURZON DEPLORES "HAWKING" BRITISH TITLE

LONDON, April 25.—The hawking of peerages, knighthoods and other titles, which has periodically shocked the British public, is again engaging the attention of the government. In the House of Lords recently Marquis Curzon said it is the intension of the government to introduce legislation in order to carry out some of the recommendations of the royal commission on honors. He declared grave uneasiness had been excited by the excessive number of additions to the peerage in recent years. Much suspicion had been created, he said, by the fact that titles in some cases were conferred upon persons whose claims rested solely upon the basis of large political contribution.

The foreign secretary deplored the existence of what he termed "touts," who were engaged in peddling honors to the highest bidders. He referred to this gentry as "a deplorable, discreditable and ignoble phenomena in our public life, which I hope will soon be eradicated."

At the last inquiry into the subject of the indiscriminate award of titles, it was disclosed that as high as $100,000 was given for a baronetcy.

Italian Government Seeking Oil Reserve.

ROME, April 25—Wildcatting for oil is to become an established Italian speculative activity.

The absence of any mineral oil production throughout the Italian peninsula has caused the government to consider means for the discovery of any oil deposits within the borders. A ministerial committee, headed by Premier Musolini, has been formed to promote proposals for the development of oil lands. The committee has already held several meetings.

Italy's need for her own oil and her absolute dependence on importation of oil from abroad has been given weighty consideration by every ministry. The importance of oil, especially in time of war, has urged itself upon the present government with the result that the newly constituted ministerial oil committee intends to give all the encouragement and assistance possible in the discovery of deposits.

The committee is expected by a system of subsidies and premiums to foster the formation of oil companies to undertake drilling. Little or nothing is known of any oil deposits in Italy at present. Many of Italy's public men have constantly contended that there are mineral deposits in the volcanic strata, and that among these deposits is oil.

Meanwhile, the Sindacato Nazionale Combustibili, an Italian development corporation, has already started negotiations for oil lands in Albania. English and American companies also have been negotiating with the Albanian government for oil concessions, but, as yet, that government has concluded no contracts with foreign oil companies. The Italian corporation expects, through diplomatic channels, to secure the consent of the Albanians to drill. It has approached the Italian government asking its aid and protection in the development of Albanian oil and requests the right to build the necessary oil stations in Bari, Brindisi and Venice. It has also appealed to the government for a royalty on every ton of crude oil shipped into Italy.

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who were troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing short of misery for her. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanitarium and I kept wondering how I would get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This worried me because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her and gave me a prescription but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carnol was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Carnol to anyone who is in need of a tonic or a body builder. Excuse me for writing this letter but I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic known as Carnol." — Mr. J. M., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 7-G22

WEDDING BELLS

BISHOP—JAMES.

Keene, April 25. — A quiet, and very pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday evening, Apil 23rd, at 6 o'clock, when Martha James, was united to Mr. William Bishop, Jr., both of Keene, at the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Andrew McLauchlin officiated. Mrs. Joseph Thornton was matron of honor for the bride, while Mr Thornton assisted the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in white Georgette crepe with radium lace and beads.

SEVERELY INJURED BY TORONTO STREET CAR.

TORONTO, April 25 (Canadian Press). — Alexander Mackenzie, 86 years of age, brother of Sir William Mackenzie, was knocked down and severely injured by a street car yesterday afternoon. He suffered a broken nose, a fractured left leg, and head injuries.

He was removed to the General Hospital, where his condition is regarded as serious.

STRUCK BY FIRE TRUCK, AGED MAN IS KILLED.

TORONTO, April 25 (Canadian Press). — James Allen, aged 78, was killed by a fire truck at King and Tecumseh Streets yesterday afternoon. Unable to move quickly enough on account of his advanced years, Mr. Allen was struck by the fast moving truck and injured so badly that he died two hours later in the Western Hospital.

Some day we will read about lightning striking a tax collector's office and say the applause sounded like thunder.

AN ASSAULT CASE AGAINST AN INDIAN

Levi Smoke Sentenced to Two Months' Hard Labor For Assaulting "Cap." Carson.

Levi Smoke was sentenced to two months in the common jail with hard labor on conviction of common assault.

On April 11th last, "Cap" R. W. Carson, Fish and Game Inspector was on Sugar Island, and entered the hut where Levi Smoke and his mother were. The evidence showed that he was searching for fish, that he endeavored to take a parcel from Mrs. Rebecca Gray, Smoke's mother, and that Levi Smoke struck Carson several times, inflicting wounds on his head.

G. W. Hatton, Crown Attorney, conducted the case for the prosecution, and the defendant was represented by Wilfrid Huycke.

In his summing up, Magistrate Langley said: 'I find that Carson is shown to be a special patrol officer under the Fish and Game Act, and that in the exercise of his duties as such game warden he was assaulted by the defendant and that he told defendant who he was and that defendant knew he was a special patrol officer. I find that there was no legal justification for the assault. My conclusion is that Carson did not touch Mrs. Gray in a harsh manner. He was assaulted in what appears to me to be a brutal manner. He is a man getting up in years and the defendant is a much younger and stronger man. Carson was struck two blows when he was down the evidence shows, dastardly and cowardly blows—both of them—in my opinion. The defendant however is only an Indian and probably has not had the same opportunities as a white man. But the law must be observed by Indians as well as by white men. The defendant took upon himself to hit Captain Carson, a man with white hair, without giving him a chance to hit back. It is a poor way," the Magistrate said 'for the Indian to pay back what the white man has done for him." His Worship commended very highly the manner in which Mr. Huycke had conducted the defence.

OBITUARY

MRS. THOS. S. BAKER.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 25.— There passed away here at her home on Front street, on Monday, Mrs. Thomas S. Baker at the age of 46 years. The late Mrs. Baker, who had not been in the best of health for some time, had been confined to her home for the last couple of weeks. The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dunk, of Seymour East and was born on the old homestead, English Line, and upon her marriage lived for some time in Warkworth, coming to town about thirteen years ago. She was a woman of refined loving disposition, who had a host of friends who regret her early demise. The late Mrs. Baker was a faithful member of Christ church and was active in all its activities, ever reflecting the true Christian spirit, and in her passing the church and town, as well as her family, have sustained a great loss.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her loving husband, a daughter, Miss Reta and two sons, Ward and Morley all at home, also one brother, Lewis Dunk, English Line, and four sisters, Mrs. William Cassan, 24 Cornish Road, Toronto, Mrs. Joseph Sloggett, of Campbellford, Mrs. Charles Boyce of Warkworth, and Mrs. William Locke, of Seymour East.

The funeral takes place this afternoon from the family residence, to Christ church, where service will be conducted by the rector, Rev. Rural Dean Clark, and the remains will be laid to rest in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

The sturgeon lays about 7,000,000 eggs. Go out in the yard and read it to the hens.

WOMEN AND GIRLS IN SERIOUS PLIGHT

LONDON, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The serious position of a quarter of a million unemployed women and girls, for whom the government provision in the way of financial assistance is said to be totally inadequate, is pointed out in a manifesto issued by the general council of the trade union congress. A grant from the government is demanded so as to provide for the training of the unskilled women and girls so as to enable them to earn a livelihood, and a maintenance grant of a pound a week for 50,000 women who are skilled in trades and therefore unable to take domestic service.

The manifesto also demands a grant from the government to provide for the clerical training of a thousand women, chiefly former clerks in government employ.

The question as to what should be done to relieve the situation with regard to wowen and girls out of work will be raised in the house of commons next Thursday, it is stated.

The archbishop of Canterbury will receive a deputation of unemployed women to-morrow, when their present plight will be discussed.

INDIAN ESTIMATES GO THROUGH HOUSE

The Indian Is An Asset, Declares Dr. Manion.

OTTAWA, April 25 (Canadian Press). — Indian estimates, totalling roughly $3,500,000, went through the House last night. The view that everything possible had been done to give the Indian practical education, found sympathy on both sides of the House.

It was of no use, urged the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, to try to make a white man out of an Indian. Following his usual school course, the Indian should be given technical extension training, a view with which the Hon. Charles Stewart, Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, concurred.

Mr. Stewart added that it was hoped, by the employment of nurses and education, to check the spread of tuberculosis among the Indians.

"The Indian is an asset," urged Dr. Manion. With little increase in expenditures, said Dr. Manion, the Indian could be tuaght to protect himself against disease.

STRIKE AMERICAN SEAMEN ORDERED

Quit Work at Midnight—Eighty Thousand Men Are Affected.

NEW YORK, April 25.—(Canadian Press.)— A general strike of American seamen affiliated with the Industrial Workers of the World, who are on board ships in New York harbor, was ordered at midnight by officials of the organization. Eighty thousand men will be affected.

CANADIAN PATROL BOAT CAPTURED A SCHOONER.

VANCOUVER, April 25, Canadian Press. — The United States fishing schooner Siloam, of Seattle, suspected of poaching in Solander Bay, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, was captured last night by the Canadian Fisher's Patrol Boat Malaspina, after the schooner, struck broadside by a volley of shots from the patrol boat, had been scuttled by the crew that fled, leaving one wounded man who was taken prisoner. Federal officers are searching for the crew on Vancouver Island. This is believed to be the first time that a Canadian patrol boat has fired on United States craft in Canadian waters.

PRINCE OF WALES GETS VERY UNIQUE SOUVENIR

LONDON, April 25. — (United Press.)— Ambassador George Harvey, on behalf of the St. Andrew's Golf Club of New York, has presented the Prince of Wales, captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, with a piece of the apple tree near New York, under which the first golf club in the United States was formed.

ACCEPT TENDER NEW HIGH SCHOOL AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, April 25. — The members of the Board of Education met in secret session last night to open tenders for the construction of the new High School.

Mr. Brown formerly resided in Campbellford, and it was from him that the Board purchased the property on which it is proposed to erect the new High School.

Three members of the Board voted in the negative. These were Trustees Arnold, Hoover, and Stevhens, the latter being one of the members of the Board from Seymour Township. Trustees Arnold and Hoover challenged the right of three members to hold office as trustees, claiming that they were disqualified because they had sold supplies required in the schools.

This matter will be taken up later.

The question of building the High School will be discussed further at the Board's regular meeting tomorrow night.

OFFICERS ELECTED MILLBROOK RINK CO

W. E. Ball President, W. T. Wood Secretary—The Financial Statement Is Satisfactory.

MILLBROOK, April 25. — The annual meeting of the Millbrook Rink Company was held in the Council Chamber, the chair being taken by B. B. Allen, the retiring president. Minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer, W. T. Wood, who also gave the financial statement for the year. The latter proved satisfactory, although the combined returns from the sale of curling and skating tickets and door receipts on the nights for skating from those not purchasing season tickets, do not net the company a very large dividend. However, so long as there is no actual deficit, those responsible feel disposed to "carry on" from season to season.

President—W. E. Ball.

Vice-President—W. G. Hetherington.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. T. Wood.

Executive Committee—J. E. Allen, Joseph Lancashire, G. W. Sayles and J. Steele.

Personal News.

The Misses Maud and Nellie Finnimore have moved into their new home beside the Misses Vance, and are getting settled this week.

Miss Gertrude Spence, teacher at Carmel School, is unable to take her duties this week, being ill with measles at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cecil Hubbeard, Zion. The latter is also ill with the same disease. Their sister, Miss Elsie, is just convalescing at the home of her parents here.

Mrs. E. Whyte, who has been in Toronto with her sister, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, during the serious illness of the latter with pneumonia, returned home last Saturday. Mrs. Fitzgerald is regaining her usual health as fast as could be expected.

Hope to Recover Victory Bonds

TORONTO, April 25.—(Canadian Press).—Residents of Stouffville who had victory bonds for safe keeping in local bank last October, when the institution was robbed, met yesterday afternoon at Stouffville and discussed plans to recover the value of the bonds stolen. The liability of the bank was considered and, while some of the losers felt they might have no claim in law, they favored taking the matter up with head office. Bank officials will be interviewed. The bonds stolen at the time of robbery were worth ninety thousand dollars, and thirteen thousand in cash was also taken.

Ice Still Blocks the St. Lawrence Channel

MONTREAL, April 25 (Canadian Press). — Despite the fact that ice still blocks the St. Lawrence River ship channel from Montreal to Nicolet Wharf, a distance of about 69 nautical miles, five ocean liners with a total of 6,144 passengers, are scheduled to arrive at Quebec and Montreal this week-end.

Beyond one or two minor movements of ice, there was little change yesterday in conditions on the river.

SERIOUS FIRE.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 25 (Canadian Press), — Fire which raged for two hours in a high wind late yesterday afternoon completely destroyed the local premises of the Imperial Oil Company and the Prairie City Oil Company on adjoining sites.

The loss to the Prairie City Company is estimated at $30,000, and to the Imperial at $50,000.

Enjoyable Program By Millbrook Young Folks.

MILLBROOK, April 25.—One of the most enjoyable programme ever put on by the Young Peoples' League was given on Monday evening under the auspices of the missionary department, of which Mrs. G. W. Sayles is the capable vice-president.

The pastor, Rev. S. T. Tucker acted as chairman, making a brief opening address expressing appreciation of the good work done by the missionary committee during the year, and also his personal pleasure as well as that of the entire membership of the League in seeing so many present to enjoy the evening's entertainment.

Miss Estelle Hetherington played a number of piano selections while the audience was gathering, and after an opening hymn, "Precious Name," sung by all present and a few words of prayer by Mr. Tucker the following programme was exceptionally well rendered:

Piano Solo—Walter Sayles.

Recitation—"A Child's Offering" Bernice Smith.

Vocal Duet, — "No, Sir' — Nellie and Lawrence Rowland.

Piano Solo — "Meditation" — Gladys Tucker.

Reading, —"Her Answer"— Jean Burnham.

Piano Duet — Misses May Ryam and Hattie Barnard.

Piano Solo—Miss Ella Elson.

Recitation. —"The Cattle Thief", —Miss Ida Payne.

Vocal Duet, — "The Barefoot Trail."—Mrs. G. W. Sayles and Mr. W. Coombe.

Piano Solo—"Mazurka Brilliante" —Ewart Tucker.

Cornet Solo—Mr. G. E. Burnham.

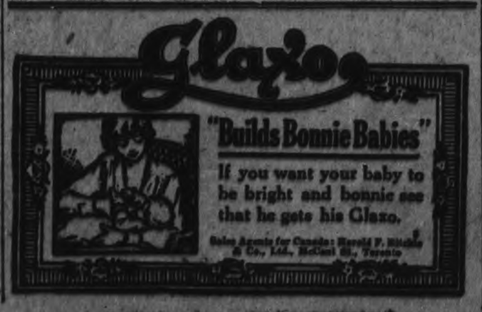
God Save the King.

Practically every number on the programme received a hearty encore; the total proceeds of the evening, which go towards the Forward Movement for missions, amounted to nearly $10, a satisfactory showing considering the low price of admission.



Special Committee For Copyright Act.

OTTAWA, April 25 (Canadian Press). — Suggestions that a special committee should consider proposed amendments to the Copyright Act were made in the House yesterday afternoon.

Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, explained that the purpose of the amendments was to bring the Act within the requirements of the Berne Convention. The Act as passed in 1921 (but never proclaimed) gave the right to reprint under license material copyrighted in other countries. To this the authorities of the Berne Convention objected. Mr. Robb added that he was informed by the Commissioner of Copyright that there was a despatch on file from the Imperial authorities saying that the 1921 Act did not comply with the Berne Convention.

W. A. Boys (Conservative; Simcoe S.), read a letter from the Ottawa Typographical Union, opposing the amendments. He said that there was evidently a division of opinion as to their wisdom. He supported the suggestion that a special committee consider the whole question.

Mr. Robb promised consideration of the question of appointing a committee, and progress on the Bill was reported.

THE "TROUBLE SHOOTER"

By E. H. SCOTT

This article gives practical, step-by-step instructions to the motorist who wants to reduce his repair bills, get more power from his motor, and eliminate trouble during the coming touring season.

Overhauling the Cooling System

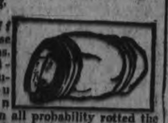
The Cooling System requires a thorough cleaning out at least twice a year. Rust and sediment collect in the radiator and water jackets. Most anti-freeze solutions rot the hose, causing them to peel inside and obstruct the free flow of the water. Small leaks develop which are not noticed during the cold weather, but which cause serious damage if allowed to continue. The Fan Belt probably requires adjusting. A defective cooling system causes an engine to overheat and knock, increases gasoline consumption and causes a loss of power, better examine it as shown below and make sure that it is in order.

First drain off the water in the radiator to see how many gallons it holds, then mix one pound of common washing soda to every gallon of water. Let the engine run slowly for about two or three hours. Do not let any of the liquid slop over on the paint work or it will mark it badly.

Disconnect the bottom water connection and allow the dirty water to drain out, then take a hose with a good pressure behind it, and let the water run through until it comes out clean and clear.

The use of hard water in the radiator is the cause of scale and sediment forming in the water jackets and tubes of the radiator. City water nearly always contains a certain proportion of lime in solution, and is a hard water. Just examine the inside of your family kettle, and you will probably notice a white scale all around. The scale is of course formed by the lime in the water, and this same kind of scale forms in the radiator tubes and water jackets, and is one of the causes of overheating. The soda will dissolve most of this if left in long enough, but why not prevent it from forming at all?

Rain water contains NO lime and is a soft water. The small amount of sediment in it is soft and easily flushed out with a hose. Use rain water in your radiator and it will prevent one of the troubles that may be a possible cause of your engine overheating.



Take off both hose connections. The anti-freeze solution you have been using has in all probability rotted the inside, causing the rubber to peel off and curl up inside the hose, obstructing the free flow of water.

Remove all dirt and mud from between the fins and cells in the radiator core by squirting water through from the rear, but be careful in doing this that you do not wet the distributor or Coil.

If the radiator is leaking at any point, have it repaired at once. Little leaks quickly develop into large ones, and some fine morning you are going to be in a hurry, forget to fill up the radiator, then find yourself coming to a sudden stop with a seized up engine and an expensive repair bill to pay.

Examine the Fan Belt to see that it is adjusted correctly and is not slipping. A Fan Belt should be adjusted so that you can just make the belt slip on the pulley by pressing down on one of the blades of the fan with two fingers. Keep the belt adjusted so that it does not slip, but at the same time do not have it adjusted too tightly or you will have trouble with the belt breaking.

If you have a Pump to circulate the water, examine to see that it is not leaking then tighten the stuffing nut.

If this does not stop the leak, then back off the nut and wind a few inches of cotton or hemp wick which has been soaked in graphite grease around the shaft, then tighten the nut again. After you have attended to the above details, make sure the pump is working properly. During the winter the water in the pump sometimes freezes, and the first turn of the engine the key in the pump shaft shears; then, of course, the paddle does not revolve and circulate the water. After filling the radiator, start the engine, then peer into the radiator through the hole in the filler cap, and see if the water is bubbling or churning, showing that it is circulating. If it is NOT, then remove the pump and examine to see that the paddle wheel is firmly attached to the pump shaft.

TAXES THAT DEFEAT THEMSELVES.

An interesting example of the way in which high taxes defeat their own purpose is quoted by the Financial Post. At $6 a thousand, cigarettes were heavily taxed, but Canadians smoked nearly 2,500,000,000 a year. The tax was increased last year to $7.50 a thousand and smokers turned to pipes and to rolling their own. Cigarettes consumption dropped by about half a billion a year and the government suffered a net loss in revenue. Taxes that are too high will always defeat revenue purposes. (Montreal Herald.)

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—My attention has been called to an editorial published in your paper "Mr. Tooms' Candidature," in which you state that Mr. Tooms will fight under the banner of Mr. Drury—and not under Labour's flag. I wish to correct that statement; I am coming out as the Labour-Farmer candidate, exactly as I did in 1919; the policy enunciated by me is the policy that is to be adopted by the Labor group at present in the Ontario legislature. Labour's many gains in the legislature were obtained under the Premiership of Hon. E. C. Drury, whom you as a paper persistently misrepresent, in this way, "Tooms accepts as a leader a man who owes his premiership to a movement that is a class movement pure and simple." The next editorial will be the difference between Mr. Drury and J. J. Morrison over Drury's broadening out, in order to effect a political evolution that will put politics upon a higher plane, a plane that will wipe out the stigma, "that politics are rotten." However, I wish to state that Tommy Tooms is the same Tommy Tooms that he was in 1919 and not one bit more conceited. I cannot feel proud so long as I see so many of my fellow people needing social and healthful benefit that should have been theirs long ago, but failed to obtain them through manoeuvres combinations, machinations, bargains and betrayals that have been the most eloquent demonstration of the complete bankruptcy, intellectually and morally, of the conduct in old party politics shown in the legislature during the last couple of weeks, improperly retaining private letters of other members, 25 per cent of the House, reading volume after volume, day after day to upset the business of the province that had the backing of the other 75 per cent. My good people I can assure you, you need to purify and raise the moral standard of the old party politics, these matters will, of course, be discussed later on when I am at liberty to watch local matters; at present I am working night and day in Toronto, but I will be back in a couple of weeks or so.

T. TOOMS, M.L.A.

HER THREE CHILDREN HAD WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but it is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. H. W. Maher, Kentville, N. S., writes: "My three children had whooping cough. I tried every medicine I could think of until an old gentleman told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before they had one bottle taken the cough seemed better, and after two bottles they were about well. It loosened the cough and relieved them of that hard, distressing and strangling feeling that goes with it."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c. and 60c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CHURCH SERVICE AT MARK STREET

Good Congregations at Both Morning and Evening Services.

The Sabbath services were deeply spiritual and the congregations, both morning and evening were good. The choir was not as large as usual, but the solo by Miss Fern Stenton in the evening was well received.

"The Salt of the Earth and the Light of the World" was the subject of the morning sermon, and was an exposition of Matt. V. 13-14, "Ye are the salt of the earth" . . . "Ye are the light of the world." The following is an outline of the sermon:

The Mount of Beatitudes formed the most wonderful pulpit ever occupied, and from that eminence Jesus, the sublime preacher of the ages, delivered a sermon for all the generations of men. The greatest qualification of this preacher was that he touched both God and man at one and the same time; and Jesus Himself was both human and divine. And no man can reach the masses of cold dead society today unless he touches God first. Touch God first, and then you are ready for whatever he has for you to do.

Thus, seeing the multitude coming to Him, He ascended the mountain, doubtless because it would be more convenient to address the masses from an eminence than on the same level with them.

What a congregation that was. Old and young, rich and poor, lame and homeless and blind. There was congregational singing, if they sang at all, free pews, and no collection. That was a model preacher, a unique pulpit, a popular audience and a burning message.

Preservation and Light for Society.

Christ's discourse, on this occasion, had for its theme the progress of His future church. The power of preservation and illumination must be applied to society, for the world was spiritually dead. The heel of Rome was on the neck of the world, and the empire was honeycombed through and through with moral decay. Jesus sets forth the cardinal characters of His church by the use of two metaphors, namely, that His disciples shall be the salt and the light of the world. Society is dead, and tends more and more toward decay and corruption. He sets forth the lofty and sublime task of his followers in His "sermon on the mount." The chief work of Christ's followers is not to stand and whine and find fault, or to ease the conscience by trying to make themselves believe that society is, in every way getting better and better; for this was not, and is not, true. It would be the work of the disciple of Jesus to put his finger on the pulse of society, diagnose the case, and then apply the remedy.

The Metaphors Applied.

Salt seems to refer to the influence of individual Christians on the course of social life; while light refers rather to the action of the Christian church as an organized and continuing spiritual institution. Individual Christians express themselves in the organized church of God. No one will deny the fact that society is spiritually dead. We have abundant evidence on every side. Death is the father of decay. Society is moving toward the destruction of spirituality. This is proven by the slowly moving determination to make the church a play-house. Take note of the class of entertainments that are being introduced into the hallowed house of God in these days. Notice how lightly the holy Sabbath is esteemed by many in authority. And yet we have splendid Christian men in civic positions whose hearts grow sick at the sight of the moral and spiritual decay all about them. What is the remedy? Salt and light.

Salt and Light the Only Hope.

We are told that the home is the cradle of the state; if this be true, then the life of the home will express itself in the life of the nation. Are we applying the salt to our home life? Are our children like "plants grown up in their youth?" Are we flashing the light of holy example along the dangerous path of childhood and youth? You say that youth will not listen, I tell that youth will listen, if you are in earnest. Nothing in the universe of God will follow a boy so long and so far as his mother's prayer. Look at that splendid boy of yours. The hot blood of inherited passion is coursing through his veins; but this is not his fault, and it is not yours. And yet you let him loose upon the cold and cruel world, unfortified by Christian counsel, example and prayer. We sat down and played cards with him, allowed him to fire his imagination with vile and suggestive pictures, laughed as he stole away with his ten-cent novel, watched him from our window as he played his Sunday game of ball, and thought him clever when he began to ridicule the Bible. God will hold us responsible for this.

The Remedy Applied to the Disease.

We apply salt to that which is dead, in order to prevent decay. It is not applied to that which is living. This preserving element must be brought into vital contact with the thing to be preserved. If the salt has lost its savour it is useless.

Now the disciple of Christ must rub shoulders with the poor sinner. The heads of the home must vigorously apply the salt of prayer, and holy counsel, and Godly example to the family life. You must remember that if you cannot govern yourself and your family, you will find it most difficult to be a competent leader in the church. The church must be a shining "city on a hill." She must pierce society with the light and truth of God. The church cannot afford to be commercialized, and she can never yield her glorious position to the present-day lads and follies. "Ye are the salt of the earth. Ye are the light of the world."

IN LAKEFIELD AND DISTRICT

Presentation to R. A. Hirsch—Birthday Party in St. John's—Women's League Elects Officers.

LAKEFIELD, April 25.—A very enjoyable evening was spent at Brown's restaurant on Monday, when the employees of the Canada Cement Co., met together to bid goodbye to Mr. R. A. Hirsch, who is leaving the village next week after a residence of two years and a half. Th first part of the evening was spent in cards which were followed by a generous supper. Mr. H. Wagar, in a neat speech expressed regret at the departing of Mr. Hirsch, who has always been prominently connected with the various athletic activities of the village and would be greatly missed. The presentation of a handsome leather club bag was made by Mr. J. R. Hill, who made a witty little speech. Mr. Hirsch, who was completely taken by surprise thanked the boys for their kindness and said he would always have pleasant recollections of Lakefield. The remainder of the evening was spent in music, the artists being Messrs. Somers and Robertshaw and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Birthday Party

A birthday party was given in St. John's School room on Monday night by the members of the A.Y.P.A. whose birthdays fell in March and April. The evening was very successful and was spent in a social manner. Prizes in an alphabet contest were won by Mrs. G. Dunford and Miss Ida Webster. In a musical contest: 1st prize was won by Miss Marjorie Burtchall, 2nd prize by Herbert Tucker and the consolation prize by T. A. Simpson.

The committee in charge were Miss Graham, Messrs Robertshaw, Alford and Tucker.

Officers Elected

The general meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in St. Paul's Church on Sunday and these officers were elected:

President—Miss E. Kennedy.
1st Vice President—Mrs. George Charlton.
2nd Vice President — Miss Mona Fortier.
3rd Vice President—Mrs. G. J. Elmsley.
Secretary—Miss Gladys Charlton.
Treasurer—Mrs. Lawless.

Personals

Mrs. Wilson and Master Herman of Janetville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burrow, last week.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith were in Peterboro on Monday.

RECIPES

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH

Bacon and Potatoes.

Cut one cupful of diced potatoes from cold boiled potatoes, and cut up four slices of bacon into small pieces. In a frying pan place two tablespoons of bacon fat and in it cook the potatoes and the bacon until heated, but not browned. Beat four eggs slightly, add one-half teaspoon of salt and a little pepper and pour over the bacon and potatoes.

Cook, moving the pan almost continuously until the egg is set. Then slip the knife around the edge of the pan and fold as an omelet. Turn onto a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

Eggs For Supper.

Allow one hard-boiled egg for each person to be served, and two or three extra ones. In "boiling" the eggs place them in cold water, bring water to a boil, and cook gently for 20 minutes. Pour off the boiling water and cover the eggs with cold water until ready to use.

Remove shells, cut in halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and add melted butter, salt pepper and any finely chooped bits of cold meat left over. Fill the egg whites with this mixture and press the two halves together. Have ready as many slices of tomato as there are eggs, and two or three leaves of lettuce for each serving.

On the lettuce, place the tomato slices, and on each slice of tomato place an egg. Pour over this a spoonful of mayonnaise, to which has been added chili sauce or tomato ketchup, allowing two tablespoons of the chili sauce or ketchup to each cup of mayonnaise.

Serve with these eggs olives and hot biscuits, or bread and butter sandwiches.

PREVENTS SHRINKAGE.

Your wool garments will not shrink if you hang them on the line dripping wet, without wringing them.

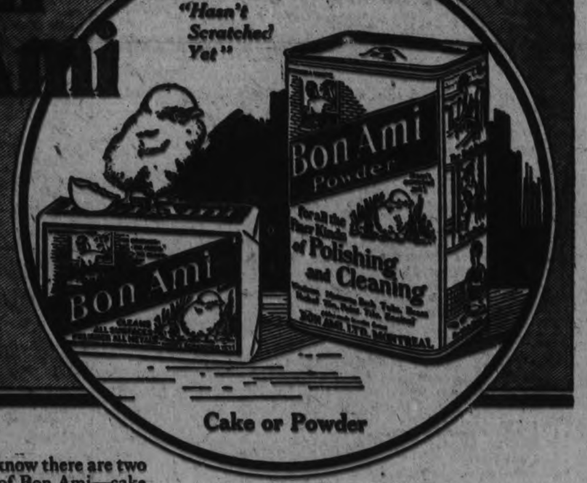
Bon Ami

Made in Canada



Do you know there are two kinds of Bon Ami—cake and powder? Both are made from the same ingredients—both are equally good.

It's a matter of taste which you use. Many women prefer the powder in its handy sprinkler-top tin—it's so easy to shake the powder on a damp cloth.

Many women keep both kinds on hand—they prefer the cake for some uses, the powder for others. It's a splendid idea to keep both—why not try it?

7,500 Yards Fresh New Wash Fabrics

Our Great Annual Gingham Selling Event Is at Hand!

Commencing Thursday, April 26th, and Ending Wednesday, May 2nd, Inclusive

Anderson's Yard-Wide Scotch Ginghams, Yd. 49c

Just a little finer than the rest, the patterns are exclusive and the weight is called a zephyr. The plaids have ground colors of tan, mauve, blue, canary and black, with fine lines of black, making a very distinctive design. Then we have plain colors of deep mauve, dark Copen. and deep pink. Full 36 inches wide.

"Tarrytown" Plain Color Ratines
49c Yard

For present wear and early summer wear the Ratine is bound to be very popular, and at this low price one can have a new frock at a very small price. Pleasing shades of Copen, blue, mauve, sunburst, sand and white to choose from.

Swiss Ratine Voiles
$1.39 Yard

Just a little different is this dress material. A very fine quality Voile with self-colored ratine checks in beautiful tones of mauve, blue, pink, canary, green and sunburst. An extra width material—38/40 inches. In this excellent material you get the coolness of voile and the character of ratine. Both have very desirable features, and in this case they are combined.

This Year We Have Widened Its Scope and You Will Find Both Ginghams by the Yard and Wash Frocks of Gingham

THROUGH our extensive buying organizations we have been able to procure thousands and thousands of yards of superior Scotch, English and Canadian ginghams, tissues, ratines, to be sold during this selling event at very inviting prices. In the "Greenlees" Scotch ginghams you will find many attractive designs shown only in this brand, and controlled in Peterborough by this firm.

Our ready-to-wear buyer has made several buying trips preparing for this event, and we feel sure you will be pleased with the wonderful array of Wash Frocks here for your inspection.

2,500 Yards "Greenlees" Genuine Scotch Ginghams, 32 Inches Wide

42c Yard

"The pick of the lot" are these wonderful Scotch Ginghams. In their home country—Scotland—"Greenlees" stand for the best in Ginghams, and are rapidly growing in favor in this country. The patterns are "different"—that's what sells them—and then, again, they wash perfectly. One pattern a fine line check of white over ground colors of orange, blue, rose, honeydew, brown, green, mauve and heather mixtures. Large checks in the same colorings, and Plain Chambray in shades of mauve, pink, honeydew, blue, yellow, tan, green and peach. Every piece 32 inches wide. Fully 60 pieces to choose from.

32-In. "Crown" Quality English Ginghams, Yd. 29c

And a wonderful assortment awaits you at this price. Fully 3,000 yards. All fine English Ginghams in a great array of patterns, including small and large checks and plaids. The checks includes red, blue, pink, mauve and black with white, in two sizes, and plaids in combinations of colors, such as blues, greys, greens, mauve, rose and Scotch tartan. All 32 inches wide and guaranteed fast washing colors.

500 Yards of English Ginghams

38/39 INCHES WIDE

Wonderful value you will say when you examine these extra wide, fine quality Ginghams, which come in neat check and designs in colorings of blues, pinks, mauves, black and white; also a few shades of Plain Chambrays in the same width.

Egyptian Tissue Gingham Voiles
75c Yard

Their beauty lies in their wonderful colorings and fine quality. We present broken check designs in helio and white, honeydew and white, Nile green and white. Interwoven with these colors are fine strands of silk in check design. All 36 inches wide.

Normandy Voiles and Paisley Prints, 98c Yard

38 INCHES WIDE

By a new process the patterns of the Normandy Voiles are compounded on the material by electricity and are guaranteed to wash perfectly. Egypt inspires these Paisley Voiles with there Eastern patterns. Many make up inexpensive Deauville ties from these Prints.

See Large Display of GINGHAMS AND TUB FROCKS TO-NIGHT

New Imported Plain Color Ratines, $1.15 Yard

36 INCHES WIDE

An ideal material for a one-piece dress for early summer wear. Combination of plain colors make very attractive frocks, and then we have such a pleasing array of colorings, such as grey, honeysuckle, helio, green, delf blue, dark blue, pumpkin, brown, tangerine and white.

Dresses of the Better Sort $10.00 to $12.75

Please Note This Particularly—
The Styles Have That Smartness That Distinguish Dresses of Good Taste

We draw particular attention to the quality of Scotch gingham used in these Dresses. No filling used. The styles show distinctive combinations of ratine and organdie with gingham. In some instances showing upper portion of Dress in ratine with bias strappings of gingham; others show skirt cut on bias, collars cuffs, pockets and belts showing smart organdie trims.

"Billie Burke" Dresses Share in the Gingham Week Event $6.65

And in this group three novelty styles bring much attention. One, showing organdie collar, cuffs, pockets and pleated trim on belt, is in straight-line and in assorted color checks. Another shows strappings of self material on bias; also a bias fold across the pockets. Novelty Bloomer Dresses, made on straight lines, slashed at the sides, collar, cuffs and belt of white pique, showing Bloomer of same material as Dress, finished below the knee with band of white pique. Sizes 36 to 44.

Smart Gingham Dresses in Pleasing Models - - $5.00

A pleasing group of Gingham Dresses selected specially for this Great Gingham Event, depicting the season's newest styles and showing trimmings of organdie, ric-rac and pipings; also Plain Chambray Dresses with trimmings of gingham. The assortment comprises mostly small checks in colors of black and white, navy and white, green and white, mauve and white, pink and white, yellow and white. Sizes 14 to 42.

Slip-Over Dresses of Gingham and Chambray, $1.75

Decidedly pleasing you will say of these Dresses, which are made in combination of gingham and chambray. The skirt is made of checked gingham and the upper part of Dress in chambray to match. Square neck and short sleeves, piped with bias fold of gingham, finish a very pleasing group of Dresses. Sizes, small, medium and large.

"Billie Burke" Dresses of Scotch Tissue Ginghams $8.50

Please note the fineness of this material—Scotch tissue—then the pleasing style—vestee collar and pouch pockets of white organdie, tucked and edged with Val. lace, pockets finished with white crochet buttons, girdle of self material. The material comes in small and medium check designs in colors of black, navy, cinnamon and rose.

CAMPBBELLFORD JOINS THE NEW BALL LEAGUE

Meeting Held Yesterday at Colborne—Season Opens on May 16th—Looks Like a Big Season

Campbellford wil be in league baseball this season, having been duly admitted a member of the Northumberland County Baseball League at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Brunswick Hotel, Colborne. The league season opens May 16th, when Campbellford will pay at Warkworth, according to the present programme. The locals will open the campaign at home on May 24th, paying a game with the Warkworth nine at the celebration to be given on that date by the Agricultural Society.

There was plenty of enthusiasm at the meeting and everything points to a successful season for the county league. The attendance was good, each of the nine clubs in the league being represented by two delegates. This year the members are: Colborne, Roseneath, Harwood, Brighton, Trenton, Warkworth, Campbellford, Hastings and Orland, the three clubs last mentioned getting into the league for the first time.

Charles H. Davidson and Afex McGregor represented Campbellford at the meeting yesterday, Dr. J. H. Hess and Frank Hawkins were there for Hastings, while Joseph Dickson and J. J. Zufelt were the delegates from Warkworth. Mr. Davidson was nominated for the presidency, but declined the honor on the ground that the place should go to some one who had been longer identified with the league.

To Join the O.B.A.

It is unanimously decided to affiliate with the Ontario Amateur Baseball Assocation, in fact willingness to adopt this course was made one of the conditions of membership, and no club would have been admitted on any other terms. A short time ago a meeting of last year's clubs was held at Brighton, when two delegates, A. D. Hall, of Colborne and S. M. Dafoe, of Trenton, were appointed delegates to the O.B.A On their return they reported in favour of affiliation.

A. D. Hall acted as chairman of the meeting yesterday, and J. H. Gale of Colborne was secretary. The officers elected for the year are as follow:

Hon. president, Sam Clarke, M. L.A.; president, J. W. Dickson, of Warkworth; vice-president, Dr. J. H. Hess, Hastings; secretary-treasurer, H. Mulhall, Castleton; executive committee (one member for each team), S. B. Sprung, Brighton; A. D. Hall, Colborne; S. M. Dafoe, of Trenton; J. H. Belford, Orland; C. H. Davidson, Campbellford; F. Hawkins, Hastings; J. J. Zufelt, of Warkworth; C. W. Varcoe, Roseneath; H. Campbell, Harwood.

In case any member of the executive is unable to act, then the club to which he belongs will appoint a member in his place.

Membership Fees.

Each club will be required to pay an entrance fee of $10.00. If at the end of the season the whole of the fund so raised is not used to meet current expenses the balance will be returned to the clubs.

Besides this fee each club must put up with the secretary a marked cheque for $15.00 as a guarantee that they will finish the season. The $15.00 will be forfeited by any club that fails to play a scheduled game without reasonable excuse for its non-appearance the disappointed team to get the money.

When a team plays a game at home it will take all the receipts, the visitors paying their own expenses.

Prospective Umpires.

The following were named by the various teams as suitable persons to officiate as umpires;

Harwood, Mr. White, T. Corkery.

Roseneath, Charles Macklin and T. Corkery.

Colborne, Alex. McDonald and E. Broomfield.

Campbellford, C. H. Nadoo and A. J. Wood.

Brighton, F. B. Sprung and K. Roblin.

Orland, W. Cowan.

Trenton, S. M. Dafoe.

Each club will be entitled to carry not more than 25 players and none shall be eligible to play unless they have been residents of the place where the club has its headquarters, since 1st January.

A man living in one place and working in another can play with the team nearest to which he resides. The residence rule does not hold in the case of students who have been away from home attending school or college.

All league games shall start not later than 3.30 p.m. The double umpire system will be used. Visiting teams are to pay the umpire-in-chief and the home team the one who officiates on the bases. Any team can secure a neutral umpire for a particular game by agreeing to pay his fee and by applying to the president of the league for the services of such an official. The home team must furnish two new balls and sufficient old ones to finish the game no ball to be used unless approved by the umpire.

Any team playing a professional will be barred from the league.

In Case of Protests

Protests will be dealt with by a committee of two or more neutral umpires to be appointed by the president. This committee shall receive and deal with the affidavits of the clubs in a dispute. On receipt of the decision the president, is to notify the clubs interested, and, of necessary, arrange for dates on which protested games are to be replayed.

The manager of the home team shall decide as to whether the grounds are fit for play and shall notify the contesting team before 12 o'clock on the day of the scheduled game.

At the end of the season the two leading clubs are to play home and home games to decide the question of supremacy.

Arranging the Schedule

The delegates spent nearly three hours in an effort to arrange a schedule and after one had been roughly outlined it was decided to leave the task to Mr. Hall of Colborne, each club to be furnished with copies.

The schedule calls for 16 games by each team, the season to open on May 16th and close on August 8th Before the former date, each club must furnish the secretary with a list of its officers and players and no "jumping" by the latter will be allowed during the season.

Holiday Dates

The only dates definitely agreed upon last night were the holidays' Campbellford and Warkworth will play here May 24th, and the local team will be at Warkworth on Dominion Day. As there are nine clubs in the league one team will have a lay off on each day there is a scheduled game and this adds to the difficulty of drawing up the schedule.

Plenty of Local Players

Charles H. Davidson already has 53 applications for positions on the local team and out of that number no difficulty is anticipated in securing an excellent line-up. The candidates will be given a workout at the Fair Grounds on Thursday evening and where darkness puts a stop to the practice a meeting will be held to organize by the election of club officers. The new team starts out under favorable auspices and it is probably that baseball will become as popular in Campbellford as lacrosse was in the days when the town had an intimable intermediate team.

One thing, however, is lacking. The weekly half holiday in Campbellford during the summer folk on Friday afternoon while in other league towns it is on Wednesday. As the schedule is arranged with the latter fact in view it is likely that the Town Council will be asked to change the half holiday to have it correspond with that of the surrounding municipalities.

An Energetic Official.

H. G. Willoughby, the retiring president of the league, is a baseball enthusiast of the first water, and made an active, untiring official. He was urged to continue in office, but felt that the honour should be passed around. Mr. Dickson's election to the presidency is a compliment to his success in bringing the Warkworth team to the high place it holds in the league.

A. D. Hall, chairman of the meeting yesterday, is a young attorney in Colborne, and was one of the best players on the roster of that team last year.

More New Cars.

Before he attended the baseball meeting at Colborne yesterday, Charles H Davidson went to Oshawa and secured three new Chevrolet cars to supply his customers here. He was accompanied by W. L. Wicker, Percy Campbell and Rev. Robert Bloye, of the Free Methodist church. Each of the two latter took a car back, that driven by Mr. Campbell having been purchased by his father, Adam Campbell, of Warkworth.

Foch is asking France to go back to the polka, waltz and three-step, while others are demanding the war dance.

GREAT NEED OF CANADIAN UNITY

Sir Lomer Gouin Says the Increase of Population Means Increase of Prosperity.

RENFREW, April 25.—(Canadian Press.)—The need of unity between all provinces of Canada in order that the Dominion might be enabled to develop to the full her unbounded resources, was stressed last night by Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, who, with Hon. T. A. Low, addressed a large gathering of Renfrew citizens at a dinner under Board of Trade auspices.

Sir Lomer Gouin, referred to the development of Renfrew since 100 years ago, the first Canadian, of French descent had stopped on the banks of the Bonnechere River. Renfrew had steadily grown since then, and while some 170 towns and villages had suffered loss of people since 1900, Renfrew had nearly doubled its population in the last decade. The business and industrial interests had developed and increased steadily until now $5,000,000 was invested, 2,000 persons employed and production was nealy $6,000,00 yearly. Renfrew, he said, owed a debt to her business men, some of whom were known all over Canada. Among these Sir Lomer mentioned Senator O'Brien, J. A. McFadden, Alex. Barnett and Hon. T. A. Low, who was one of Sir Lomer's most sympathetic colleagues.

Referring to taxation, Sir Lomer said that while not equal to those of most other countries, taxes in Canada were a heavy burden and necessarily heavy to meet the country's obligations. But Canada had every reason for confidence in the future. While obligations were heavy, Canada's resources were unbounded. The development of agriculture, of industries, of trade and of resources generally was necessary as a means of decreasing taxation. There must be immigraton of both men and capital.

By increasing her population, Canada would increase her prosperity, remove the existing uneasiness and many of the present difficulties.

STEAM AS MOTIVE POWER MAY ATTAIN POPULARITY THROUGH NEW COMPANIES

Various Active Concerns Incorporated to Manufacture Steam Cars During Year, While Host of Projects Are Dormant With Varying Possibilities of Development.

FUTURE P ROMISING.

Motorists of the present generation have for so long been accustomed to regarding the internal combustion engine as the sole means of propulsion of the automobile that little thought is given to the possibility of a rival stepping in. That such a possibility does exist must be admitted, however. Steam as a motive power for road vehicles is not by any means a new idea, but it has staged a remarkable "comeback" during the past year, and, while its effect has not been very marked, it is not improbable that a different story will be told in a year or two. Several new companies have entered the field of steam car manufacture since the beginning of 1922; a vast amount of experimentation has been undertaken and plans have been laid for the production of several hundred more cars of this type than have been produced in former years. Until recently steam has been very much in the same position as direct air cooling of the internal combustion motor, and its exploitation has necessarily been limited to the ability of a single organization to perfect the mechanism and to convince the fasoline-educated motorist of the value of the alternative method of obtaining road transportation.

Development is Promised

In 1921 there was but one steam car company in active existence. That company had been engaged in the manufacture of steam vehicles for 20 years. At the end of 1922 there were five active or "semi-active" companies incorporated to manufacture steamers, and a host of projects were lying dormant, with varying chances of reviving into productive organizations. To that extent did steam reassert its possibilities last year. The scope of future development, it is true, cannot be gauged by this fact alone, but it is admitted that a number of factors point favorably to material expansion.

A study of the field of steam at once reveals the fact that, whatever be its advantages and disadvantages, it has not experienced the same opportunities of development that have been afforded the internal combustion engine. The statement has been made that, had steam development been continued contemporaneously with gasoline engine progress, the present position of the former means of motive power would not have been so comparatively obscure. The two forms rivalled each other in the earlier days of automotive transport, but the inherent advantages of the early gasoline engine and the apparently insurmountable weakness of steam caused the steamer to rapidly fall behind in the race for general popularity. Fuel of high standard was then available in unlimited quantities and was consequently cheap.

Former Troubles

Steam plants, on the other hand, presented prolific trouble sources. Boilers could not be made that would stand the pounding and vibration of road use and would still be sufficiently light and small to be practicable for the work demanded of them. Perfect fuel combustion presented difficulties, and, to cap all, the early steamer outstripped the early gasoline vehicle in point of "messiness." One could get unbelievably dirty and greasy piloting an early gas buggy. But there was so much more mechanism about the steamer of the period that the possibility of remaining presentable for even a brief period of time was very remote. Gasoline had the initial advantage, and it is probably solely due to this factor that designing ingenuity and effort at development were concentrated on the internal combustion engine.

Despite the rise of the gasoline engine, however, the steam car did not entirely die out. At least three companies became very well known for their activities in the development of steamers, and for some years the steamer prospered in a small way. It has never entirely lost its place, and the developments of recent months promise that this somewhat neglected field is to be looked into.

Not Necessarily Complicated

Steam, in the first place, is not necessarily a more complicated form of power. The internal combustion engine is regarded as a simple piece of mechanism by the average motorist, but, after all, this impression is based on the fact that such engines very seldom give extreme trouble. Valve gear, ignition systems and clutches and transmissions would be regarded as quite complicated mechanisms by the untutiated. Even superficial consideration of the steam engines forces the admision that it is unfamiliarity with them and their ways which fosters the impression of complications raquiring hard and uninviting study. From the point of view of actual driving operations no one will dispute the simplicity of the steamer. In addition its proponents point to the multiplicity of moving parts in the gas car as opposed to the very few (often less than 50) similar parts in the steamer.

Consider fuel. Most of the existing and projected steamers burn kerosene for the greater part of the time. Kerosene, being of lower volatility, is more plentiful and therefore cheaper. Disregarding the records of existing steamers it is apparent that if an equal mileage per gallon can be obtained through efficient steamer design then fuel cost will be lessened. Fuel, however, is not a big item in the annual bill of the motorist, but relative economy, even in this point, may have a bearing on what the future will offer. Steam's proponents make the further claim that tire life is lengthened by a more even application of driving force. Whatever else may justify the claim it is certain that a badly handled clutch on a gas car, no matter how efficient it may be in design, transmits sudden straina to the tire material which must exert a destructive effect. That, incidentally, is are necessarily tolerated contrivances.

Where Gas Scores

Gasoline engines apparently score on the point of starting. A steamer cannot be started by simply turning a switch, manipulating a choking contrivance and stepping on a button. It takes from 10 to 15 minutes in cold weather to get up a reasonable head of steam. But those who favor steam are not "stumped" by the point. How long does it take a gasoline engine to warm up from cold to an efficient operating temperature, or even to a point where it will deliver sufficient power to keep running when the clutch is engaged? Moreover, the other side of the argument is continued, once a head of steam is developed it can be kept up indefinitely by the use of a secondery burner that relatively uses no more fuel than the pilot burner on a gas stove.

Silence and odor are two other points. A good gas car can be almost, but, except in a few cases, never quite silent. Tappets will get noisy after a short use, and few low and medium priced chassis are equipped with fully muffled engine exhausts. To the unprejudiced observer it would seem that steam has a slight margin in its favor, though in the matter of odor the two classes probably "break even."

These, however, are but a few of the comparative points. There is little doubt but that the present year will see a continuation of the development of steam and, in view of the fact that its major disadvantages have been overcome, it is not at all improbable that the mororing public will come to accept it as a running mate of the interna combustion-engined type of road vehicle

"BETTY BLUE" PREDOMINATES IN TROUSSEAU OF DUKE OF YORK'S BRIDE

(By Milton Bronner).

LONDON, April 25. — When Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon is married to the Duke of York on Thursday, she will wear a wedding dress of simple medieval design.

The design dates back to the fourteenth century and will be unusual because of its beauty and quaintness.

The material will be chiffon moire of an old ivory colour embroidered with pearl beads pearls and silver lame.

The gown will fall almost straight from the shoulders to the hem, following the lines of the figure more or less closely above the waist, but getting fuller toward the hem. The skirt will touch the toes.

Machine-made Lace.

The ivory tone has been chosen to match the lace, which has been made especially at Nottingham. Lady Elizabeth will be the first royal bride to wear machine-made lace. It is a perfect reproduction of an old Malines pattern.

This lace will be used for the medieval sleeves, covering the arm as far as the elbow. The lower half of the arm is bare, but the lace falls in two long ends to the ground at the back.

This silver is partly covered both on the bodice and the skirt with a conventional design carried out in pearls, pearl beads, and fine silver thread, the hard lines of the lame being softened by tiny scrolls of silver thread each centred with a pearl on either side.

Old lace worn by the queen at her wedding will form the train of the wedding gown. This will be mounted on chiffon.

Romantic Touch.

One romantic item of the trousseau is a strip of priceless old rose point Brussels lace which is to be inserted in the wedding dress.

It has been an heirloom in the Strathmore family for generations. An ancestress of the bride wore it at a great ball given for Bonnie Prince Charlie when he was staying at the royal palace in Scotland.

Bridesmaids' Dresses.

In keeping with the loveliness of the bride's gown will be the dresses worn by her bridesmaids. They will be made of cream chiffon.

In the trimming the bride has defied all old superstitions about the unluckiness of green.

A silver and rose thistle will fasten the girdle of silver leaves from which a trail of spring green tulle at one side will trail to the ground.

The symbolism of the rose and thistle was the bride's own poetic idea.

The white rose stands for York and the thistle is a reminder of her own Scottish descent.

The bridesmaids' dresses will be mounted on a foundation of crepe de chine hemmed with narrow Nottingham lace. On the narrow overskirts of the chigon will be floating panels decorated with silver lame leaves. Long ends of chiffon will fall from pretty headdresses of silver leaves fastened over the ears with silver roses.

The going-away dress of the bride will be dove grey crepe romain embroidered in dove and silver grey silk and with a complementary coatee of the same material. With this she will wear a small grey hat with massed grey flowers on the crown.

Blue and Grey.

Blue and grey are the colours that predominate in the rest of the bride's trousseau. One is a suit of pale grey velvet with a loose jacket which fastens with a crystal buckle at the side. It also has a velvet waistcoat and a lace frill.

One of her afternoon gowns is a pearl grey marocain frock. The full skirt is scalloped and edged with a narrow blue ruching.

There is a grey silk cloak to go deep brown wool marocain with high with this and a toque of blue and grey flowers.

Another evening gown is of white georgette trimmed in her favourite hine—Betty blue—and with long wide draperies of georgette to take the place of sleeves.

One of the walking suits is of rich deep brown wool marocain with high Medici collar and wide sleeves, all worked with wool stitchery and accompanied by a small hat of fine brown straw trimmed with ostrich feathers.

One little frock to be worn on afternoons or semi-evening occasions is of periwinkle blue crepe romain. The petal skirt is picot edged. Fine tiny tucks at either side form the bodice decorations and the belt is a narrow plait of twisted crepe, self-coloured, which is tied at the back.

Lingerie Is Simple.

Most of the negligee and tea gowns are of "blue, particularly "atmosphere blue" and "robin's egg blue." Some are of crepe marocain and others of crepe de chine.

While lace predominates, white swansdown is also a favourite garniture.

There are slippers and stockings to match all the gowns, but no buodoir caps, as the bride detests them.

The underwear is ivory white or pale shell pink. Ornate decoration has been avoided. A number of nightgowns and dressing-jackets are made of ivory white satin.

One nightgown made of white crepe de chine finished with Malines lace has been designed with a deep V neckline and long flowing sleeves.

LONDON CROWDS TO VIEW PASSING OF ROYAL BRIDE

LONDON, April 25 (Associated Press)—When the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon leave Westminster Abbey, man and wife, on April 26, they will make a mile and a half detour on the drive back to Buckingham Palace in order to permit more of the populace to see them. The rest of the wedding procession will head straight for the palace, going back the way it came.

The Duke's bride, on her wedding day, will drive over a longer distance than necessary, and thus thousands who could not have squeezed into a place had the route been shorter, will have their interest gratified by a sight of the royal bride and her spouse.

From Buckingham Palace, the Duke's wedding party will go down the broad Mall and under the famous Horse Guards' Arch into Whitehall, leading to Parliament Square and the Abbey. After the ceremony, the same route will be followed in reverse, except that the bride and bridegroom will turn off at Marlborough Gate and drive through the fashionable residential club and shopping streets of St. James and Piccadilly. Turning at Hyde Park Corner, where there is space for a vast concourse of people, they will go direct down Constitution Hill to the Palace.

Most of this route is bordered on at least one side by parks, where tens of thousands will wait patiently for a fleeting glimpse of the happy bride and her prince. St. James' Park lies along the Mall, and Green Park borders both the Mall and Green Park borders both Piccadilly and Constitution Hill.

RICE LAKE PELTS BRING BIG PRICE

Two thousand Rice Lake rat pelts were brought at auction by Tom Curvin at Hiawatha on Monday afternoon. Competition that was keen and exciting boosted the price to $2.56. The buyers were A. J. Peeling of Havelock and Harry Jopling and Mr. Curvin of Peterboro. Chief George Paudash conducted the sale and received the sealed bids from the buyers.

A long harangue and contentious debate about the method of procedure and other details, preceded the final action, and when the Chief opened the bids they showed Curvin and Jopling tied with $2.50 each while Peeling's offer was $2.43. After dicussing whether the catch should be halved and each of the top bidders take an equal share or re-open the sale for new bids the latter course was followed.

Last year's price was $2 to $2.07, and the consensus among the buyers was that they would probably have to pay $2.25 a pelt or perhaps as high as $2.35 this season; but in action yesterday afternoon with only their experience and intuitions to guide them as to the market limit the buyers plunged on the Rice Lake skins. On the second bids being opened it was found that Mr. Jopling offered $2.55 and Mr. Curvin $2.56.

For the sixth consecutive year Mr. Curvin had secured the Rice Lake rats in the public sale, and likewise for the sixth successive year he sold them to Thomas Barrie of Barrie's Limited. On arriving in the city late yesterday afternoon Mr. Curvin went directly to the Barrie building and disposed of his purchase even on the basis of the big price.

"Mr. Barrie took them off my hands" he said "because the quality was so much superior to the average rats caught elsewere. He would rather pay the extra price for the heavy-furred Rice Lake rat, the best in the world especially if it is handled right, and this year's pelts are of unusually high quality. The feed was good, the snow was deep, and there seemed to be little frost in the ground. The rats had all kinds of protection and they weren't exposed to the cold. When the winter did break it went out quickly. There has been only half a catch, perhaps a little less than that, but the trappers made more money than they did last year. The trappers say there were more rat, than ever but they had less than a week's operations, and right now down in the marches beyond Sugar Island there are lots of rats."

The work of the trappers in less than a week, some of them for only a few days, is indicated by the following payments for catches:—W. Sanderson 184 pelts for more than $400; W. Deyell 95 pelts about $200 Cecil Mather 148 for $375; George Paudaush $345; Alfie Crowe $372, Fred Hawkins $232, R. Godfrey $268, Bert Anderson $300 and Hank Cowie $192.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

Pablo was beating the thickets in the river bottom, searching out some spring calves he knew were lurking there, when his master reined up beside him.

"Pablo," he demanded, "has Senor Conway been to the ranch during my absence?"

"No, Don Miguel, he has not."

"Has Senorita Parker ridden Panchito over to Senor Conway's camp at Agua Caliente basin?"

"Yes, Don Miguel. I rode behind her, in case of accident."

"What day was that?"

Pablo considered. "The day after you were shot, Don Miguel."

"Did you see Senorita Parker give Senor Conway a writing?"

"I did, truly. She wrote from a small leathern book and tore out the page whereon she wrote. In return Senor Conway made a writing and this he gave to Senorita Parker who accepted it.

"Thank you, Pablo. That is all I desired to know." And he was away again, swinging his lariat and whooping joyously at the cattle. Pablo watched narrowly.

"Now whatever this mystery may be," he soliloquized, "the news I gave Don Miguel has certainly not displeased him. Ah, he is a sharp one, that boy. He learns everything and without effort, yet for all he knows he taiks but little. Can it be that he has the gift of second sight? I wonder!"

CHAPTER XXVII.

Kay Parker was seated on the bench under the catalpa tree when Miguel Farrel rode up athe palm-lined avenue to the hacienda that night; his face, as he dismounted before her, conveyed instantly to the girl the impression that he was in a more cheerful and contented mood than she had observed since that day she had first met him in uniform.

She smiled a welcome. He swept off his hat and favored her with a bow which appeared to Kay to be slightly more ceremonious than usual.

"Your horse is tired," she remarked. "Are you?"

"Something accomplished, something done, has earned a night's repose," he quoted cheerfully. "Rather a hard task to comb this ranch for a few hundred head of cattle when the number of one's riders is limited, but we have gotten the herd carreled at the old racetrack." He unbuckled his old leathern chaps, and stepped out of them, threw them across the saddle and with a slap sent his horse away to the barn.

"You're feeling quite yourself again?" she hazarded hopefully.

"My foolish head doesn't bother me," he replied amilingly, "but my equally foolish heart—" he heaved a gusty Castilian sigh and tried to appear forlorn. "Filled with mixed metaphors," he added. "May I sit here with you?"

She made room for him beside her on the bench. He seated himself, leaned back against the bole of the catalpa tree and stretched his legs, cramped from a long day in the saddle. The indolent gaze of his black eyes roved over her approvingly before shifting to the shadowy beauty of the valley and the orange-hued sky beyond, and a silence fell between them.

"I was thinking to-day," the girl said presently, "that you've been so busy since your return you haven't had time to call on any of your old friends."

"That is true, Miss Parker."

"You have called me Kay," she reminded him. "Wherefore this sudden formality, Don Mike?"

"My name is Miguel. You're right, Kay. Fortunately, all of my friends called on me when I was in the hospital, and at that time I took pains to remind them that my social activities would be limited for at least a year."

"Two of your friends called on mother and me to-day, Miguel."

"Anita Sepulvida and her mother?"

"Yes. She's adorable."

"They visited me in hospital. Very old friends—very dear friends. I asked them to call on you and your mother. I wanted you to know Anita."

"She's the most beautiful and charming girl I have ever met."

"She is beautiful and charming. Her family, like mine, had become more or less decayed about the time I enlisted, but fortunately her mother had a quarter section of land down in Ventura County and when a wild-cat oil operator on adjacent land brought in a splendid well, Senora Sepulvida was enabled to dispose of her land at a thousand dollars an acre and a royalty of one-eighth on all of the oil produced. The first well drilled was a success and in a few years the Sepulvida family will be far wealthier than it ever was. Meanwhile their ranch here has been saved from loss by foreclosure. Old Don Juan, Anita's father, is dead."

"Anita is the only child, is she not?"

He nodded. "Ma Sepulvida is a lady of the old school," he continued. "Very dignified, very proud of her distinguished descent——"

"And very fond of you," Kay interrupted.

"Always was, Kay. She's an old peach. Came to the hospital and cried over me and wanted to loan me enough money to lift the mortgage on my ranch."

"Then—then—your problem is—solved," Kay found difficu.ty in voicing the sentence.

He nodded. She turned her face away that he might not see the pallor that overspread it. "It is a very great comfort to me," he resumed presently, "to realize that the world is not altogether barren of love and kindness."

"It must be," she murmured, her face still averted.

"It was the dearest wish of my poor father and of Anita's that the ancient friendship between the families should be cemented by a marriage between Anita and me. For me Senora Sepulvida would be a marvelous mother-in-law, because she's my kind of people and we understand each other. Really, I feel tremendously complimented because, even before the oil strike saved the family from financial ruin, Anita did not lack opportunities for a many a more brilliant match."

"She's—dazzling," Kay murmured drearily. "What a brilliant wife she will be for you!"

"Anita is far too fine a woman for such a sacrifice. I've always entertained a very great affection for her and she for me. There's only one small bug in our amber."

"And that——"

"We aren't the least bit in love with each other. We're children of a later day and we object to the old-fashioned method of a marriage arranged by papa and mama. I know there must be something radically wrong with me; otherwise I never could resist Anita."

"But you are going to marry her, are you not?"

"I am not. She wouldn't marry me on a bet. And of course I didn't accept her dear old mother's offer of financial aid. Couldn't, under the circumstances, and besides, it would not be kind of me to transfer my burden to them. I much prefer to paddle my own canoe."

He noticed a rush of color to the face as she turned abruptly toward him now. "What a heritage of pride you have, Miguel. But are you quite certain Anita does not love you? You should have heard all the nice things she said about you to-day."

SEEKS MAN WITH HAND LIKE CLAW.

His Arrest Might Free Leo Sauerman Convicted of Slaying.

DETROIT, Mich., April 24.—Police here are seeking far and wide "the man with a hand like a claw."

For on his arrest depends the freedom of Leo Sauerman, lodged behind the bars of Marquette (Mich). prison upon conviction of a cold-blooded murder of which his friends believe he is innocent.

While the facts in the case would seem to warrant an appeal to the governor for a pardon, Mrs. Baumun has persistently refused to allow her counsel to take such an action.

"I know a pardon would free him," she says "but it would not clear his name from the stain of the murder charge—the mark of Cain!"

Seeks an Appeal.

So the devoted sister is striving, with the aid of counsel, to have the case appealed to the state supreme court.

Sauerman was convicted last October of murdering Alex Dombrowski in January, 1922. Sauerman is charged with having gone to Dombrowski's home with three companions, including Homer Noel and Melvin Brown, who have confessed their complicity but have denied they ever knew Sauerman, in an effort to steal a quantity of bootleg liquor alleged to have been in Dombroksi's possession.

Dombrowski refused to turn over the liquor and Sauerman shot him, according to testimony of Dombrowski's widow and 11-year-old son.

Brown and Noel have been tried for murer and have been convicted. They confessed their part in the crime to both federal and state agents They are now waiting sentence.

Since Sauerman has been waging the case have been sensational and his fight for liberty, disclosures in have shown the key for Sauerman's exit from prison to be the location and apprehension of a mystery man, called Hill and also Evans, who has two fingers missing from his left hand.

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

A QUICK CASH SALE

When circumstances compel a Want advertiser to sell for cash a piece of real estate, used automobile, or other thing usually sold on terms, he is under a handicap, but a handicap which the right Want Ad will remove. The mistake in such a situation is to price the thing and then to say, without explanation, "For cash only." The advertiser wishes to mention the cash stipulation, for otherwise inquirers who cannot possibly pay cash will come, wasting his time and their own; but the cash stipulation requires to be presented in association with just the right selling idea.

By itself, cash payment will keep away inquirers, but if in stipulating cash, the advertiser suggests he will sell for a very low price, he will immediately interest many people. The world is full of people looking for bargains. They are on every street, in every home. When a Want Ad, even though it stipulates cash payment, announces a bargain, it will have a heedful audience.

The advertisers who used the following quoted sentences in their Want Ads had to sell for cash, but they inserted Want Ads which got quick results.

"Price cut $250 for quick, cash sale."

"You can profit at my big loss. I cannot sell my car on terms, as I must have the money. $300 below real value."

"I have put a price on my 5-room modern brick bungalow which will sell it in four days at the most—perhaps in one. $3,775. CASH ONLY."

"Best cash offer takes my mountain camp; three rooms, fully furnished; beautiful spot in Platte forest; fine fishing, hunting; moving south and must sell this week."

Furnish a big enough incentive in your Want Ad, and crowds will come flocking to pay cash for automobile, real estate, or anything else commonly sold on terms. Such an incentive is a real bargain. It will be logically explained in your Want Ad by your necessity to sell at once, and for cash.

GOOD HEALTH SECRET OF BEAUTY

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step and a clear complexion never accompany, organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches, and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. QUIZ CORNER

THE WRECK OF "THE ATLANTIC."

Q—When did the wreck of the Atlantic take place?

A—On April 1, 1873, the White Star steamer Atlantic was wrecked off the coast of Nova Scotia. She was out from England with 647 passengers and owing to carlessness struck on the Meagher Rock. It was very cold, there was a high sea and though a shore fishermen and a missionary risked their lives to save life, 560 perished including all the women and children.

CANADA'S POST OFFICE.

Q—When did Canada act as a Federal post office?

A—On April 6, 1851, the Canadian Government took over the control of the post office service from the existing provinces and there was at once a great improvement. The first postage stamp was issued in May, 1851; post office money orders were started in 1854, registration in 1855, savings banks in 1863, post cards in 1871.

LIFE INSURANCE AMALGAMATION.

Announcement is made from the Head Office of the Ontario Equitable Life & Accident Insurance Company, of Waterloo, Ontario, that an agreement has just been completed for the amalgamation of The Policy-Holders' Mutual Life Insurance Company of Toronto with The Ontario Equitable. The negotiations, which have been under way for some weeks, were carried on with the consent and approval of the Ontario Insurance Department.

The Policy-Holders' Mutual Life was organized in 1909 by Mr. A. M. Featherston, who is Managing-Director. The Company, which has always operated along conservative lines, has made a steady growth, having at present over seven millions of Insurance and Assets of $600,0000.

The Ontario Equitable Life & Accident Insurance Company has Life Insurance in force amounting to over Fourteen Millions and Assets of $450,000. The combined business of the two companies will be Twenty-two Millions of Life Insurance and Assets of $1,100,000.

Mr. A. M. Featherston will become Vice-President of the Ontario Equitable and a number of the Policy-holders' Mutual Directors will join the Ontario Equitable Board.

The Policy-holders' Mutual is calling a special General Meeting of Shareholders and Policyholders for the ratification of the agreement.

STEEL, SUGAR AND OILS LED TO-DAY'S MARKET

(Special to The Examiner.

NEW YORK, April 25.— Steels responded sharply to-day on the New York Stock Exchange to the quarterly earnings statement of the U.S. Steel Corporation. The new high for raw and refined sugar also was a stimulating influence. Oils and Industrials moved in sympathy with the Steels and Sugars.

Rails and Motors also were strong.

Prices were stimulated on the early dealings by a new high for Cuban Raw Sugar, and a big surplus of five million after dividends reported by U. S. Steel for the first quarter. This was the first time in two years that the corporation covered all expenses.

Experienced traders argued that it would not be true to Wall Street tradition if Steel Common started on a permanent decline, with the prospects o fbig quarterly returns for some time to come.

Steel jumped a whole point to 105 7-8 on initial transactions and Bethlehem also gained a point. Sugar stocks scored good gains under the leadership of Cuban Cane Preferred, which moved up a point to 62 1-2. Trading developed a sluggish tone at the end of the first hour, but no renewal of selling pressure occurred, and bullish demonstrations went ahead in special stocks.

Mack Truck advanced to 88 1-2 against Tuesday's low of 87 1-2, responding to expectations of showing $4.50 a share for the common stock in the earnings statements for the first quarter due next week.

California Petroleum reached a new high on the move to 96 5-8, further reflecting that the agreement to curtail production in the Southern California district is the most constructive development in the Crude Oil industry since the first of the year.

This step will go a long way toward stabilizing Oil conditions east of the Rockies. With domestic consumption of gasoline 42 per cent. in excess of a year ago and total consumption of foreign and domestic and 25 per cent. greater, and Oil in shortage considerably less than a year ago. Based on consumption it is hard to place anything but a favorable construction on the immediate future o fthe Petroleum trade.

LETTER GIVES LONDON'S NEWS IN STORY FORM

Plays and Players in the English Theatres—Canadian Brides in London—Toronto Sculptor Praised

FASHIONS.

By Marie Dorland.

LONDON (Special by Mail).—To be in England now, as you probably suspect, is to be drenched, soaked, almost drowned, in fact, "Healthy," the newspapers tell us, and publish leaders in praise of rain. Moisture is all very well, but a perpetual percolating sort of damp is—well, no matter. There is an excellent antidote to rusting dispositions—a good bright comedy.

One of ther best in London at the moment is "Advertising April," Sibyl Thorndike, of Grand Guignol and Greek tragedy fame, to whom only a short time ago the critics in general, and Arthur Beverly Baxter in particular, were sounding a solemn warning against allowing her art to degenerate into hysterics, burst forth as the film star, April Mawne, "the girl who made the sunshine jealous," in pink and white striped pyjamas! The critical gentlemen were decidedly taken aback, but returned to Fleet Street and pronounced the erstwhile tragedienne the most engaging light comedy actress in London.

"Bax," who lived in Toronto before going to France with the Canadian forces, and wrote that cracking good novel, "The Parts Men Play," is a regular first-nighter these days. In addition to acting as managing editor of the "Sunday Express" and writing for the "Daily Express," Lord Beaverbrook's papers, he does a lot of dramatic criticism for both. That seems enough for any one person, but it is whispered that he is writing a play in his spare time. Perhaps when it is produced we shall have a little enlightenment on "The Parts (Canadian) Men Play" in the street of Fleet.

American comedies have had a cool reception in London of late. "Angel Face," a big New York hit, fell, as you probably have heard, like a lump of putty, and poor Marie Tempest on her recent reappearance in the West-End, was told quite bluntly by her first pit and gallery that "Good Gracious Annabelle!" was tripe.

But "The Bad Man," Porter Emerson Browne's American success, is going down extremely well. English people simply adore a wild west romantic comedy with cowboys in chaps and bold, bad bandits. Matheson Lang, who is a tall, broad striking-looking person and made a wonderful bull-fighter in "Blood and Sand," revels in the role of Pancho Lopez, the swaggering, insolent, but frightfully attractive brigand who would just as soon kill a man as let him live. As you may remember, he spends "the most peaceful day in years" exterminating a villainous Wall Street shark so that a man who had once befriended him might have said shark's money, and incidentally, his wife.

An American play by an all-English company is never completely satisfying from a Canadian's point of view, for the simple reason that English actors and actresses cannot give any better imitations of the American accent than the Americans can of the English. The important roles in "The Bad Man" were well done, but a cowboy with painful penultimate "r's" rather spoils the effect for transatlantic spectators.

Another compensation for dismal days are the spring mannequin parades which are in full swing now. English women have improved marvellously in their dress in the last few years, and one sees some gorgeous frocks at the big political receptions, prominent in the social calendar at the moment, but outside of a handful of exclusive houses in Hanover Square there are very few places where you find the tastefully simple but indescribably artistic creations that chase a thrill of pleasure down your spine.

All the big firms show models from Molyneux, Poiret, Jenny, Doucet and the rest, but they certainly are not the garments one sees in Paris. The French seem to think that clothes must be either sloppy, fussy or elaborate to please in England, but I am sure if they would send those charmingly simple things they love themselves the English women would take to them well enough.

Heaps of Egyptian fashions were shown at first, but they have not "caught on," thank goodness! Those front draperies are only suitable for the stage, complete with Egyptian rheumatism. As for hieroglyphics—well, can you imagine anything more ridiculous than a black evening gown with bodice embroidered in horses' heads, such as I saw on quite an intelligent-looking woman at the theatre the other night?

Fashion certainly has been snapping her fingers at superstition. Peacock feather fans were carried to an amazing extent last winter, and now comes the rage for almond green it is particularly noticeable in the foreshadowing of Ascot styles. Well, if the weather man—the clerk of the weather they call him here—shows a little more consideration at the big race meeting this summer than he did last season one will feel more inclined to accept the belief of the recent London bride who had an entirely green wedding for luck.

It always gives me a thrill when Canadians make their mark over here. The other day at a studio tea a prominent English artist said some extremely complimentary things about the work of Walter Allward, the Toronto architect and sculptor, who is in London carrying out his design for the Canadian memorial at Vimy Ridge.

It is a wonderful symbolic conception. I saw the plaster model of it in his huge studio in St. John's Wood which is really a not so cramped edition of Chelsea. The houses are queer rambling old places stuck back to front among the groves of trees, and it is no legend that the dreamy-eyed inhabitants deliberately disconnect their doorbells. In Mr. Allward's old world garden one feels miles away from the madding crowd yet it is really in the heart of London, and only about 20 minutes from Piccadilly.

It is surprising the number of Canadian brides one meets these days. I listened to a most amusing tale of woe from an extremely useful one the other day. Having at last got installed in a flat with a gas stove and small balcony—conveniences that are somewhat difficult to find—she decided to celebrate the event by giving her husband the dishes he liked best for dinner. So she went to a butcher shop and asked to be shown some pork tenderloin. The man produced a loin of pork.

"No," she said, "it is tenderloin I want," and endeavored to explain. He gave her a withering look, "Madame,' he replied, "all our loins of pork is tender." She then aked for salmon and was told just as disdainfully that the fishmonger would be found around the corner.

The system of provision shopping is entirely different in England and, at first, somewhat bewildering. Canadian women are usually scandalized at the lack of ice until they realize that they can buy fresh food all the year around, and that milk and butter, which are sold in very small quantities, keep perfectly on a marble slab in the kitchen cupboard.

ARE ATTENDING HYDRO ENQUIRY

Mayor Taylor and City Clerk Armstrong in Toronto for Another Session of Gregory Commission

Mayor Taylor and City Clerk Armstrong are in Toronto to-day attending a conference of representatives of municipalities of Ontario which was called by the Gregory Commission to discuss certain aspects of the relationship between the Ontario Government, the Hydro-Electric Commission and Hydro-Electric municipalities.

One of the purposes is to obtain the views of the municipal councils as to whether the Hydro - Electric Commission should be free from the control of the Government and made directly responsible to the municipalities, and also as to whether the financial responsibility of the Government in respect to the Hydro enterprises should be borne directly by the municipalities themselves.

A TIMELY DISCOURSE

Special services were held in St. George's Anglican church, on Sunday in honour of St. George the patron saint of England, to whom this church was dedicated.

The Rev. C. E. Clarke, M.A. R. D., rector of Campbellford, conducted both services. The members of the Men's Club, wearing roses, attended in a body at the evening service.

"England's patron saint" was the subject of Rev. Clarke's morning discourse. "Strange to relate, he declared, England's patron saint was not an Englishman, Scotland's patron saint was not a Scotchman and Ireland's patron saint was not an Irishman. Only the Welsh have a patron saint from among their own countrymen.

The comemoration of this day he said reminds us of the man who fought to relieve his countrymen from oppression; who turned back to the very feet of Diocoles to plead for them. Then again, there is the ancient myth or legend of the brave knight who slew the dragon to save a maiden and her people from the distress of that monster. England's patron saint is typical of England's people—Brave and loyal to their cause, but blind and stupid—stupid only insofar that they cannot see when they are beaten.

St. George's Day, he concluded, inspires us afresh to allegiance to our king and country, and to the faith for which we fought.

RECIPES

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH.

1 chicken or young fowl, cut in pieces for serving
½ cup bacon dice or ¼ cup olive oil
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons paprika
1 onion, medium sized
1 clove garlic
1 green pepper
2 cups tomato
2 quarts water
1 cup rice (well washed)

Sprinkle the pieces of chicken with the paprika and fry in the bacon fat or oil until nicely browned. In remaining fat, fry the onion, thinly sliced; the garlic, finely cut; the green pepper, cut in strips, and the rice. When rice is yellow, place all with the chicken in a kettle, add water and tomato and cook slowly until chicken is tender and rice is soft. In serving, turn rice on to platter, and on it lay the pieces of chicken. The rice will take up the liquid, leaving just enough to make it moist.

Note: The quantities of salt and pepper may not be sufficient. Always season more to taste.

$5,000 A YEAR TAKEN FROM GARBAGE CANS

PARIS, April 26 (United Press).—Two million dollars a year are garnered by the Parisian ragpickers who delve into the garbage cans along the sidewalks about the time the American milkman is going his rounds.

It is not a very clean business, but the hours are not long and the returns are high. The garbage can brigade is a close corporation. It is ruled by a king, Retore, sometimes known as the Duke of the Morning Sidewalk, Prince of the Ragpickers. His word is supreme. His insignia consists of a heavy gold chain worn around his neck and a ring on every finger.

King Retore apportions to each of his subjects a certain number of streets where they are permitted to work. Claim jumpers get short shift. Chief among the garbage can workers are the "islanders," each of whom runs an "island," or five blocks of streets. Under them are the "philosophers," who, lantern in hand, like Diogenes, whence their name, empty the cans and scrutinize every bit of the contents, looking for pieces of cloth, buttons, bones, wisps of hair, bottles and lemon peel.

Lemon peel? "Why yes," one ragpickers told the correspondent. "That's what they use in making syrups. It gives them an excellent flavor." The "airop" is as much a part of the Parisian's daily life as the cocktail was once that of the American. Bones are sought after by the manufacturers of carbon. Bottles are sold to the druggist. The wisps of hair find their way into Miladi's "at." Nothing is neglected.

But after all, rags are the ragpicker's delight. In the twinkling of an eye he can distinguish cotton from linen or wool or silk. Slightly over in the scale come pieces of old shoes, pocketbooks or bits of velvet.

THE MAN WHO MAKES ALL BRITAIN LAUGH

By MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, April 26.—The British cartoonist with most punch in his cartoons that make people think and the maximum of deftness in his drawings that make them laugh is a New Zealander, David Low, who never had a lesson as an artist in his life.

Low was born at Christchurch. He says he can't remember when he wasn't making black marks on white paper in the effort to reproduce the things he saw about him.

One wonderful day when he was 12 years old he sent a cartoon to a Christchurch newspaper, pleased the editor with it and not only received 50 cents in payment but got a regular contract to furnish two cartoons weekly at the same rate of emolument.

Two years later the young draughtsman transferred his services to a rival publication, at $11 weekly, and at 16 he was on a third paper's staff, drawing $25.

At 18 he got out an illustrated annual on his own account. It was an artistic success but a financial failure, so that the first issue was the last one, and besides Low lost all his savings.

About this time, Australia's Sydney Bulletin sent for him. Low remained with the Bulletin from 1910 to 1919. During the latter part of this period, Prime Minister Hughes of Australia was his target very frequently. Hughes was against any resumption of trade with Germany after the war was over. The Bulletin thought this foolish and Low's cartoons carried out its idea.

It happened that the Star, the big London evening newspaper, took the same view of the post-war situation as the Bulletin. Low's work attracted the editor's attention and the result was a liberal offer to the New Zealand draughtsman to join the Star's staff in London.

Among other things, the Star was vigorously opposed to the French advance into the Ruhr and no cartoonist has attacked the Poincare policy in this respect more vigorously than Low.

The picture published herewith aptly illustrates this point, in its representation of a French bayonet thrusting Germany backward into the arms of Bolshevism.

Low has devoted himself more especially, however, to David Lloyd George, the former British premier. He has poked a great deal of fun at the little Welshman for his political manoeuvring, and yet without wounding his subject's feelings. In fact, Lloyd George is said to be among Low's warm admirers and several times has asked for the originals of his pictures. Of course he got them.

VALUABLE HISTORIC DATA

LONDON, April 25.—Recent dispatches from C. L. Woolley, director of the joint archaeological expedition sent to the ancient city of Ur, in Babylonia, by the University of Pennsylvania and the British Museum, show that the Temple of the Moon God has been almost completely uncovered and that the main wall of the temenos, or enclosure, has been traced for a considerable distance. Inscriptions and tablets have been found in large numbers. These tablets are of unbaked clay and highly fragile. Mr. Woolley has devised a new method for their preservation, which is more elaborate than any hitherto applied.

The few tablets that have been examined so far are of the Sumerian period, about 2000 B.C., and relate to accounts, money and so forth. It is impossible, however, to estimate their value until they have been subjected to a more careful examination. Sculptures of some size were discovered toward the close of the excavations, but particulars of these have not yet been received.

Under a floor of the Persian period (6500 B.C.) a hoard of jewelry was found. It included gold and silver bracelets, gold rings, a gold statuette of a woman, silver bowls, necklaces of semi-precious stones, and other objects.

ASSIST PASSAGES FROM IRELAND TO DOMINIONS

LONDON, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable) — The fact that the overseas settlement office is at present debarred from making grants to persons resident in Ireland who wish assisted passage to one of the dominions was brought to light by the Duke of Devonshire Colonial Secretary in the House of Lords last night.

The Duke undertook to see that the order-in-Council would be altered to meet cases such as one of a British Officer who on being demobilized sought assistance to go to Canada, but was refused on the ground of his being resident of the Free State.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM DAMAGED BUILDINGS

HENRIETTA, Texas, April 25.—(Canadian Press.)—Virtually every building in Henrietta was damaged and five residence and six oil derricks at Burkburnett, thirty miles north of here, were blown to bits by terrific windstorm which swept up from the south east last night.

NEW YORK, April 25.—That hoary joke good for a laugh since great-grandfather's day anent the bowleg floorman who said "Please, just walk this way," is doomed to pass like dodo birds from out our future ken and coming generations ne'er will laugh at it again if Mr. Burchill of New York, assemblymen and, too, a very loyal Democrat, can put his new bill through. For his bill says there must be seats provided for each one engaged in work that, sitting down, can just as well be done.

If this bill should become a law that very lordly male all duded up in waxed mustache before whom minions quail (floorwalker, I refer to) will henceforth floorsitter be and with impressive gestures he'll direct where lingerie and infants' wear and notions and the stationery are and if his legs be bowed a bit the defect will not mar his haughty sitting posture as he gestures where to go to all the busy shoppers that around him ebb and flow.

For girls behind the counter seats must be provided too and this is quite a humane thing I really think, don't you? Just selfishly if they had seats how very glad I'd be for then perhaps they wouldn't quite so often sit on me. And as in parlance of the dance perhaps 'twill proper be to ask your saleslgirl "Will you, please, sit out this sale with me?"

• • •

If Mr. Burchill has his way down in a chair will droop your waiter when you've ordered and he's served you with the soup. Between each course he'll loll at ease while you may eat at yours. I'm sure that for both you and him contentment this insures. Just think with what more peace of mind henceforth you'll eat your meat if you may know your waiter and his weight are off his feet.

• • •

In mercantile establishments the third the charm will be because "one seat for ev'ry three employed" is the secret.

• • •

The bill in details does not go as to what sort of seat each branch of worker should enjoy, but it would not be meet, when offering floorwalkers theirs—they of the lordly air—to offer any lesser seats than regal throne-chairs, rare. For salesgirls, just a little fly, some wing chairs would be sweet. Rush bottomed ones for waiters their rush orders would complete.

• • •

But when it comes to giving seats to workers who as well could do their jobs when sitting down, who has, I bid you tell, a better right to occupy in ease a cozy seat than any traffic cop you see in midst of city street. A rocking chair with automatic signals GO and STOP, the Burchill bill should certainly provide for ev'ry cop.

PLATES REFUTE MANY DOCTRINES MORMONISM

ROCHESTER, April 25.—(Canadian Press),—Two metal plates, said to be made of copper, have been unearthed at Mormon Hill, Palmyra, the birthplace of Mormonism, by Rev. Charles E. Driver, Methodist evangelist, according to despatches received here to-day.

The plates refute many of the doctrines of Mormonism and seem to contradict and conflict with the religion as it is now practised, the clergyman is said to have asserted.

Two may not live cheaper than one, but they can live more.

Two miles of wire can be drawn from an ounce of gold, narrowing things down to a fine point.

On The Mountain Top

CLIMB the mountain—stand on the peak—and before you there unfolds a panorama extending as far as your eye can reach. Stay in the Big valley, and your view is restricted by the surrounding hills.

This newspaper—properly used—will guide you to the mountain top. Read it and your vision is enlarged. You get a bird's-eye view of world events. You glimpse the doings of the day.

Fail to use it, and your view is limited—you remain in ignorance not only of events at home and abroad, but of much that concerns you even more vitally—news of the very things that have to do with your personal, every-day life.

Some one might be selling a new, better and more economical food; or a utensil that would add immeasurably to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for shoes or clothing—but you would never know, because of your restricted view.

You may read every line of the news columns, but if you overlook the advertising, you are still living in the valley. You remain uninformed about many things you ought to know in order to live a happy, useful, profitable life in this age of progress.

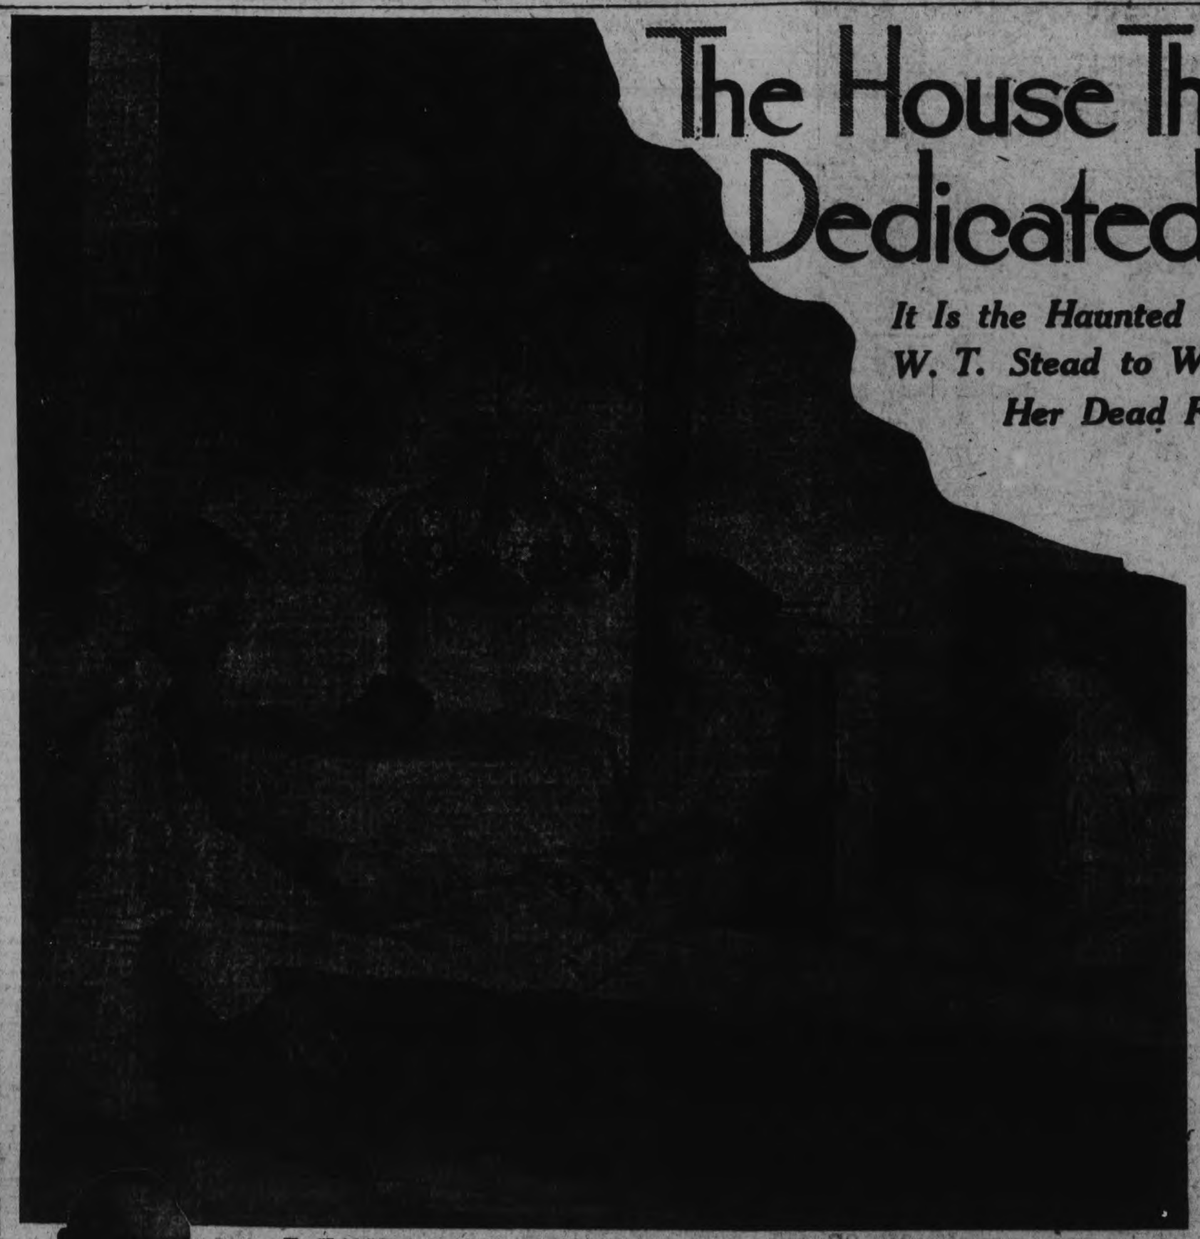
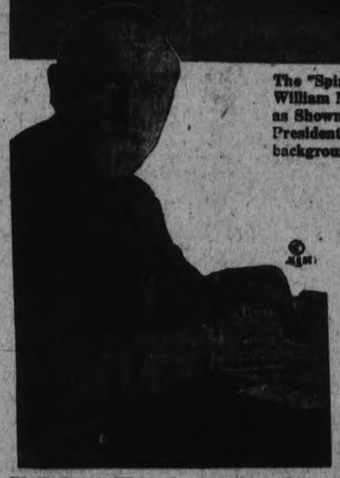
The House That Is to Be Dedicated to Ghosts

It Is the Haunted London Home of the Late W. T. Stead to Which, His Daughter Says, Her Dead Father Frequently Returns.



The "Spirit" Portrait of the Late Prof. Hyslop Which Appeared on a Photograph Taken by a Disinterested Photographer, William M. Van der Weyde. He Made It at a Seance in Which Marie Haviland, a Trained Nurse, Was Placed in a Trance, as Shown in the Foreground. A Committee Supervised the Photographing. The Members Were: Walter A. Roberts, President of the Writers' Club (left foreground); Dr. Edward F. Bowers, in Whose Home the Picture Was Taken (left background); Miss Eleanor Ramos, Editor of "Saucy Stories," and Mrs. Robert T. Scott. This Photograph Will Be on Exhibit in the "House That Is to Be Dedicated to Ghosts."



W. T. Stead, Whose London House Is to Be Dedicated as the Habitation of Disembodied Spirits.

ACCORDING to the dictionary, a haunted house is a place dedicated to visitations from the world of spirit. In the popular imagination it is a ramshackle wooden structure, shrinking behind dusty hedge-rows, with broken windows invaded by the branches of trees through the yoke of which the wind sighs in melancholy measure, or a dilapidated brick structure, stern and forbidding, with cold, marble floors and metal banisters clammy and terrible to the visitors' touch.

But over in London, which seems to be just now the mecca of those who have been caught in the ever-increasing interest in spirits and psychic manifestations, they have a different conception of a dwelling inhabited by the souls of those who have separated from the fleshy envelope called the body. They have neither terror nor curiosity for such a habitation. In fact, they have given ghosts a headquarters. The 200-year-old residence in old Smith Square of Miss Estelle Stead, daughter of W. T. Stead, has been turned over to ghosts, and this winter it is to be dedicated with formal ceremonies.

Thus the invisible save to the psychic, denizens of the world beyond the veil have been given a headquarters where they may meet and hold converse with those in the flesh. The spirit of the departed owner of the mansion will preside when the spirits hold a meeting. That he has never left the dwelling is the statement of his beautiful daughter. And to prove this assertion she has the photograph, a copy of which is published on this page, showing the presence of her father's spirit in the library of his late residence when the spirit photographer snapped him.

This library also has been turned over to the ghosts. It is here that Miss Stead and her friends who believe in ghosts hold their seances. Around its walls are book shelves holding a thousand volumes on the subject of spiritualism. All of these are offered as a sort of a public library on things ghostly.

"Believers" Are Conservative

The members of Miss Stead's circle are professional, business and wealthy folk who will give you sincere and very convincing testimony to the truth of their statements that ghosts are ghosts and can and do make themselves visible and communicative at the proper time and place. What they have done, they'll inform you, is merely to give their incorporeal friends the proper place and appointed times when they may so manifest themselves. They speak of the coming visit to headquarters of this or that ghost in the tone of voice that one who doesn't believe in spirits might announce the coming of a cousin by marriage. They become worth only when "double exposure" or "double negatives" is suggested as an explanation of the weird "spirit" photographs, two of which are printed on this page.

But, as the "spirit photograph" at the top of this page bears witness, belief in ghosts has almost as much strength here as in England. Many of the most conservative citizens and persons known as unbelievers have been convinced that there is "something to it." Among these are the witnesses to the taking of the now famous spirit photograph of the late Prof. Hyslop, produced in the course of an investigation conducted by Dr. Walter F. Prince, Chief Investigator of the Psychical Research Society.

When they exhibit this photograph they will remind you, with a pardonable ring of triumph in their voices, that Prof. Hyslop is the same psychologist and spiritualist who promised he would return after death and disclose himself to those who have faith. They will also recall to your mind the report that a week after his death he appeared at a banquet held in his honor and gave an automatic message through one of the psychic guests.

The circumstances attendant on the spirit photograph of the late professor are enough to give even the most incredulous pause. It was taken in the home of Dr. Edward F. Bowers of No. 325 West End avenue, New York City. Those present included Dr. Bowers, Miss Marie Haviland, a trained nurse, whose hypnotized mind conjured the supposed ghost; Mrs. Robert T. Scott, who didn't believe in spirits; Miss Eleanor Ramos, editor of "Saucy Stories," a magazine which doesn't publish spirit literature, and Walter A. Roberts, President of the Writers' Club and editor of the "National Pictorial Monthly."

The photographer, William M. Van Der Weyde, who took the picture, was a wholly disinterested party to the act. He was called in because he was known to be an expert in his line and he was given the plates for the exposure five minutes before he actually took the picture. He declares that after he made the exposure the plates were taken from him by the committee to be locked up overnight. In the morning they were brought to him in his studio, where he developed them in the presence of the committee, and disclosed the "ghost."

But, in order to prove once and for all that spirits can be "caught" by a sensitized photographic plate, Miss Stead, in addition to throwing open her library of 1000 books on spirits, will, this winter, open to the public a private studio she is having constructed at some expense in the old garden to the rear of her house in which every facility for photographing spirits will be installed and every possible loophole for trickery will be eliminated.

Unlike the great majority of those who are enthusiastic in the post-war psychic-phenomena, Miss Stead and her late father entertained ghosts long before the death of millions in the war accelerated the spiritist movement to its present unprecedented popularity. She says she has received numerous visits from the other side.

Visits from a Ghost

"My experiences with ghosts have been very agreeable," she says. "The first one who called on me was a poet named Gerdon Knight, who lived in the house 200 years ago. He called shortly after we moved in. I was awakened in the night by the violent slamming of a door. Then I heard someone or rather, felt someone, enter the room. I sat up in bed. As I looked I saw the figure of a man garbed in the style of another period, a huge soft hat and a black cloak being the outstanding features of his dress, walk into the beam of moonlight which streamed in through the French windows. He walked to my writing desk and began to write. For twenty minutes I watched him, transfixed. I was not terrified. I was deeply interested. Finally he arose and vanished. In the morning I told my father of the occurrence. Three nights later he appeared to me and my father in the library and then told us who he was. After that he made many visits. We looked him up and discovered that he had lived in the house just when he said he had and we also found some of his verses, which are quite good."

Miss Stead also tells of a visit paid her father by Li Hung Chang, the famous Chinese statesman.

"While Father was dining out one evening a Chinaman, whose appearance convinced me he was Li Hung Chang, called on me. I asked him if he were Li Hung Chang. He bowed and smiled and said he wanted to communicate with my father. I told him Father would be home later. He went away. I retired without seeing my father. But in the morning my father informed me that the first to write an automatic message through his hand that evening before was the spirit of the Chinese statesman."

Miss Stead declares that her father visits her regularly and that he is dictating to her the chapters of a book she will name "The Blue Island," which recounts the experiences her late parent is having on the other side of the veil.

But, convincing as are these photographs and the statements of witnesses who saw them taken, there are those who claim that the so-called "spirit" pictures are faked either by double exposure of the plate by means of an X-ray or by the old trick of the double negative. By the latter device the expert photographer is enabled to present pictorial "proof" of New York with water-filled streets and to make possible the visual paradox of some star in the motion pictures simultaneously playing three roles.

The Scientific American, October issue, contains an "exposure" of spirit photographing. James Black, the writer, is unsparing in his criticism of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who has espoused the research movement into "spirit" photography. He cites how William Hope, the "leading psychic photographer of Great Britain," whom Sir Arthur sponsored and vouched for was "exposed." A Mr. Marriott, a London photographic expert, challenged Hope to a test sitting, but never got it. But another investigator did, however, arrange for a fake picture. This is how Black describes what happened:

"Mr. Edward Bush, a member of the S. P. R. (British), arranged a seance with Hope and sent him a photograph of a man Hope presumed to be dead. At the first sitting a spirit message came through, the second produced a spirit picture of the subject of this photograph. This is doubly remarkable; the subject was the son-in-law of Mr. Bush, who was alive and well! The message received was in the same handwriting as that of numerous other messages received through the same agency, and carried the same error in spelling, too. This message has been admitted to be a forgery; but Hope and his adherents still insist that the picture is quite genuine."

"My Experiences with Ghosts Have Been Very Agreeable," Says Miss Estelle Stead, Who Turns Over Her Father's House for Carrying on Psychic Research.

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS STAGED LAST EVENING

Three Fast Exhibition Bouts Were Also Shown —Local Boys Do Well.

THE CHAMPS.

The finals of the city championship boxing tournament were fought last evening, and Peterborough's champions at the squared circle are:

160-pound class, Ted Williams.
135-pound class, Lorne Coombs.
118-pound class, undecided.
105-pound class, Joe Jordan.
90-pound class, Sims.
70-pound class, Lavery.

Williams and Jordan won their titles by default, no opponents turning up to dispute the honours with them. In the 118-pound class, three boys were eligible for the finals, Hutchinson, T. Minicolo and L. Minicolo. Hutchinson did not put in an appearance last evening, and the two Minicolo brothers would not fight one another.

In addition to the regular championship bouts last evening, three exhibition bouts were put on between Oshawa and Peterborough boxers. In two of the bouts the Peterborough boys were awarded the victory, and the other, which went an extra round, was declared a draw. The visiting boys showed themselves to be a trio of snappy fighters, and there was not a dull minute while they were in the ring.

The champion hip bouts, although confined to the lighter weights, were also productive of some lively boxing.

The 70 and 90 pound bouts were handled by Sandy McLean of Oshawa, while George Graham, Peterborough's authority on fistic matters, was the referee for the other affairs, and as usual showed himself well able to handle both the crowd and the fighters.

The first match on the card was the semi-final for the 70-pound class between Scott and Ted Smith. Smith was awarded the decision after a fast battle, but he had to work to get it. Scott proved particularly effective with his infighting, though Smith also landed some telling wallops in the close-ups.

The 90-pounders were the next, and Sims was awarded a decision over C. Smith. This bout was one of the best seen in the lighter weights. The boys went at a good clip right from the start, and in the second round Smith sent Sims to the mat for a moment. Sims, however, recovered his prestige by sending Smith down twice in the third, though he did not stay even to catch his breath on either occasion.

A blind-fold bout between Daniels and Jones provided considerable amusement with but little damage to either of the contestants.

The first exhibition bout of the evening between Coombs of Peterborough and Bill Adams of Oshawa resulted in a decided victory for the local boy. They both handed out some healthy wallops in the opening round, but Coombs landed a real one in the second session that knocked Adams groggy for a few minutes. Coombs followed this up by flooring his opponent twice before the round was over, though he failed to hand him a sleep-producer. Adams did not come back for the third round, and the decision was awarded to Coombs.

Ted Williams of Peterborough and Huhon of Oshawa, fighting at catch-weights, went an extra inning to a draw. Williamms sent Huhon down in the first round, but was himself was given a brief trip to the mat in the third. The two were so evenly matched that the judges called for an extra round, and as neither boy was able to gain an advantage, the bout was declared a draw.

Tony Minicolo of Peterborough and Donald George of Oshawa furnished the final bout, Minicolo being declared the winner, when George broke his wrist and could not return for the third round. Minicolo had the best of the bout all the way, and had George on the canvas for the count of seven in the second round.

Football

The DeLaval Juniors will play the C.G.E. Juniors at King Edward Park on Saturday afternoon. Kick off 1.30. Sam Calladine will referee.

All players, intending players and supporters of the C.G.E. Juniors are requested to attend a meeting at King Edward Park on Friday evening at 6.30 o'clock.

Any persons interested in Juvenile Football are invited to attend a meeting of the Peterboro District Junior Football Association on Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7 o'clock.

Tim O'Rourke Will Manage Canadiens.

MONTREAL, April 25. —(Canadian Press.) — Farnk Shaughnessy and Jean Dubuc have retained Tim O'Rourke to manage the Ottawa Canadiens, in the Eastern Canada baseball league, who will operate from Montreal this season. The Canadiens already have signed a formidable array of talent, who will shortly follow the Royals into the training camp. Working with Army, mainstay of the Ottawa team last season, will be Ruddy Rudolph, who has been in training with the Bostou clubs in the south and who is expected to do the brunt of the catching for the Canadiens this season. Other new players signed are Kinnier, a pitcher, and Moran, an outfielder, the two latter being the property of the St .Louis Cardinals.

HARTNETT MAKES HIS FOURTH HOMER

Chicago Shut Out St. Louis For the Seventh Straight Victory—New York Downed Brooklyn.

CHICAGO, April 25.—(Canadian Press.)—Vic Aldridge held St. Louis to two hits yesterday while Chicago hit Jesse Haines opportunely, making a clean sweep of the series by shutting out the visitors 3 to 0. Hartnett's homer, his fourth of the season, gave the locals the first run. Yesterday's victory was the seventh consecutive win for Chicago. Score:

DO YOU KNOW BASEBALL?

Questions

ONE—If the two captains are unable to agree on certain ground rules what happens?

TWO—Can a batsman step out of the box after the pitcher has go-t ten into his position on the rubber read to pitch?

THREE—With a runner on first, the batsman singles to right and the runner on first tries for third. With two umpires working, who gives the decision at thrd?

FOUR—Is it necessary for a pitcher to throw the ball to third or second, when he makes a feint to catch a runner at either of the two bases mentioned?

FIVE—Does the calling of a balk have any effect on the status of the batter? That is, can he go to first base in any situation which involves the calling of a balk?

Answers

ONE—The umpire makes the ground rules, if the two captains are unable to reach a decision.

TWO—He is not supposed to, but conditions often arise that make it necessary. He should appeal to the umpire, who will always call time if the pitcher has not started his delivery.

THREE—The umpire working at the plate should give the decision at third.

FOUR—It is only necessary that a pitcher complete the throw to first when he starts such an act. It is not necessary that he do so when making a feint to second or third.

FIVE—The calling of a balk in no way affects the status of the batsman. He can never go to first base on a called balk.

KINGSTON PLAYERS OUT FOR PRACTICE

Limestone City Expects to Break Into the Central League With a Strong Team.

The long-expected first practice of the Kingston baseballers took place Saturday afternoon at the Cricket Field and Manager Daley had his entire string of prospects out gambolling about the greensward and throwing the ball around. Batstone, Gallagher, J. Evans, Daley, Twigg, W. Evans, Cherry, Rice, Oates and Moore were out and had a good limbering up pr. ice. Their work was watched by a large number of fans who were out sizing up the line-up. It was a good start and the field was in fairly good shape The new uniforms for the team have been chosen and will be along in a few days. The new uniform is similar to that used by the New York Giants and consist of grey with black stripe, with a monogrammed "K," on the left breast, navy blue stockings, with two three-quarter inch grey stripes around them, and a navy blue cap with a white "K" in front. The uniforms promise to be natty and will undoubtedly make a fine showing.—Kingston Whig.

Cobourg Central Leaguers are holding indoor practices every night, and with warmer weather promised, expect to be out on the diamond soon Dick Turpin has been appointed manager and First Baseman Tom Keny assistant manager and captain. Bruce Thompson, the Cobourg shortstop has been bothered with his arm in throwing and to ascertain the trouble visited Rochester last week to consult a specialist. It was found that a muscle in the shoulder was torn, which, it is said, can be remedied.

They turned out last night to a practice in the Armouries and had a fine workout, Manager Gerow being pleased with the way the lads to it. If it doesn't rain too hard in the meantime they will be out on the fair grounds next week.

Those signed on were; Pitchers Williams and Oulette, catcher Billy Mills, infielders, Brownscombe, Weir, Meagher, J. K Williams and Harry Mills, outfielders W. Ross, Si Young and Bill Idey, a new comer to the team.

Stan. Hagerman and Babe Casey will be out later and Frank Goyer will also try for a place.

DUKE OF YORK SELECTS PEARLS FOR HIS BRIDE

LONDON, April 25 (Associated Press).—Lustrous pearls the favorite jewel of Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, are the bride's wedding present from her prince, the Duke of York. She has received a pearl sautoir, which is a modern piece of jewelry something like a necklace, only longer. The royal sweethearts selected it together the other day while visiting a jeweller.

The sautoir is composed of several hundred pearls of medium size, with half a dozen diamonds set in at intervals. At the bottom is a larger diamond, and finally a pearl drop of great beauty. The whole is mounted on platinum instead of the customary silk thread.

WHAT CANADA HAS ACCOMPLISHED

There has just been published by the Canadian Manufacturers Association a complete report of the proceedings at the National Conference on Scientific and Industrial Research held at Ottawa last February. The book constitutes a valuable record of what has been accomplished in Canada to date in the interests of research, since it contains statements of the work done by practically all the organizations, institutions and industries which have taken up the subject of research and have carried on investigations. The book is also of importance since it presents the ideas of the leaders in research work as to what is necessary to enable Canadians to devote more adequate attention to the subject and to provide for it the facilities which its increasing importance demands

TORONTO BATTERS HIT THEIR STRIDE

Seventeen Hits Against Newark—Buffalo Scored Nine Runs Against Baltimore in the Eighth Inning.

NEWARK, April 25.—(Canadian Press.)—The Toronto Maple Leafs, after dropping a twin bill to the Bears here Sunday, came back with a vengeance and won the third game by the score of 16 to 5, knocking three Newark twirlers, Kneisch, Ellis and Keay off the mound, Onslow and O'Rourke had four hits apiece. Score:

City League Meeting Held Last Evening.

At a meeting of the City Baseball League last evening it was decided to open the season on May 24. A double header will be staged both the morning and afternoon, an intermediate and a junior game being played on each occasion. The C.G.E. and Mercantile teams will stage the intermediate battle in the morning and the winner of this game will meet the Raybestos in the afternoon.

Girls' League Will Get Under Way Soon.

A reorganization meeting of the Girls' Soft Ball League will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. This league was unusually successful last year and plans are already under way to get it going again as soon as possible All members of the executive committee as well as representatives from all teams wishing to take part in the schedule are requested to be present.

SOCCER NOTES

The Peterboro and District Football Association met in the Board of Trade Rooms last night and a heavy session disposed of much laborious preliminaries, which always present themselves before the seasons' schedule can be got underway.

Everything is in readiness to open the 1923 schedule on Saturday next April 28, between The Thistle F. C. and C.P.C., King Edward Park, Referee Clark. Deputations were appointed at this meeting to interview other organizations to eradicate the ground difficulties. This cause has been a real trouble in the past, but this season it is hoped will remove all obstacles in this regard.

The City Council have generously placed the King Edward Park at the disposal of the P. and D. F.A. for all scheduled games under their jurisdiction.

Peterboro fans will be sorry to hear of the unfortunate accident to Bill Calder on Saturday at Oshawa Playing against Scarboro United in the Toronto and District 2nd Division. Bill had his leg broken in two places below the knee in the first minute of the game.

President J. Cairns was delighted to welcome back Fred Sutcliffe on to the P. and D.F.A. Directorate.

The Association are going to run the Gordon Cup series early and be able to play the final on May 24, (Victoria Day).

MILLION IN NEW BALL PLAYERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Almost a million dollars' worth of young ball players will be tried out this season in the major leagues. Most of them will make the grade not so much because they are great ball players but for the reason that the two big leagues are in desperate need of young blood.

Duties other than baseball which fell upon young men during the war tmes set the process of developing young player back about three years and it is just now that the minor leagues are beginning to turn out stars in large numbers for the faster company.

Every club in the two big leagues has one or more young players holding down important jobs, and in several cases pennant chances depend in a large part on how they deliver.

This is partcularly true with the St. Louis Browns, who have Robertson, a youngster, on third base, and Durst, another one, on first base. The fate of the St. Louis Cards also rests in a large part on how fast Holm, a college boy, comes in understudying Doc Lavan and how well Bottomly gets along at first base. The Chicago White Sox also stake their chances on Willie Kamm, the California third baseman, and Cleveland has two important places occupied by youngsters—Lutz at third base and Summa in the outfield.

The New York Giants have two big gambles in Jimmy O'Connell, the $75,000 outfielder, and Jack Bentley, $65,000 southpaw pitcher. If they deliver, the Giants ought to be in by the middle of August.

Miller Huggins, the manager of the New York Yankees, is a taciturn little man. He says very little and apparently hears very little of the criticism which has been his reward for giving New York two American League pennants and the greatest stadium in the world.

Huggins never answers his critics verbally, but he has found a much more forceful way of defending himself by silencing them with result sthat prove him right in most of the cases.

This spring Huggins was criticized because he ran a rather slip-shod training camp in which his players were allowed to do more or less as they pleased. He said they were experienced men who knew best how to condition themselves Huggins came north to start the season with six pitchers ready to work.

On the contrary, John McGraw ran the Giant camp with an iron hand. He prescribed a rigorous training schedule and forced his athletes in military fashion. Yet McGraw was ready to open the season he didn't have a pitcher in real conditon to work.

Huggins is staking everything on pitching to win another pennant for him and it would seem now that he obtained the objective of getting his hurlers ready for a fast start, regardless of the method in which it was done.

Lord Carnarvon, the deceased British achaeologist, considered in some circles as the victim of the spook of old King Tut, was better known as a turfman in England before he started digging in the Valley of the Kings.

His colors—scarlet, blue collar and white cap—were registered as far back as 1897, and his thoroughbreds won many events of note, although he never won one of the big classics. The first of his successes was scored in 1900, when the great Tod Sloan rode his Baldur to victory in the Ascot Stakes.

It is understood that his stable wil be retained and operated by his son.

As long as he doesn't have to make weight, Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, may engage in three or four big outdoor bouts this summer that might bring him in close for a half million dollars.

He has prospects for three bouts in his own class and one with Mickey Walker, the welterweight champon. Benny can make 135 pounds, but he is not strong at that weight. However, catchweights probably wil prevail if he fights Lew Tendler, Sailor Friedman or Charley White, as they are not keen about making the weight themselves.

BRITISH GOLFERS ARE A DOUBTFUL QUANTITY

LONDON, April 24 (Canadian Press). — Early season golfing competitions and the approach of the Walker Cup competitions find the games's ancestral homeland most pessimistic over the question of the paucity of British professional golf, while amateur prospects, considered more difficult to analyse, seem equally dark.

The advance guard of the team from the United States, which will compete for the Walker Cup, arrived yesterday. The United States team will meet the Oxford-Cambridge Golfing Society team at Rye next Saturday.

The British team is composed of E. W. E. Holderness, Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered, C. V. L. Hooman, R. H. De Montmorency, and Ellis, Briscowe, Darwin, Gillies, and Mellin.

The early season's competitions played in the chilly late spring weather, which is usually uncomfortable even for England, has resulted in the widest discussion of the question of British golfing talent.

On Saturday a team of the leading men players was nearly defeated by women players in the annual competition between women and men at Stokepoges. Tolley was the star of th day by halving a match with Miss Joyce Wethered, the woman champion, after giving her half a stroke. But Tolley's feat was counterbalanced by one member of the men's team losing by 7 up and 6 to play to a woman opponent.

Both the early season professional tests, the Roehampton tournament and the qualifying round for the Daily Mail's Thousand Guineas tournament, resulted in a triumph for the old school, Alexander Herd, the 55-year-old dean of the game, and George Duncan, who has been playing in championships for fifteen years, carrying off the honours.

Abe Mitchell, upon whom many depend to turn aside the attacks of the United States players Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, and Jock Hutchinson, and who is the leading star to join the professional ranks since 1913, now seems to be a distinctly receding luminary, after a dazzling existence on the highest pinnacle of the game for two years. All the trouble is with putting. Every day the professionals get shorter and shorter in their green shots, and the fear is everywhere expressed that the British game is suffering from a malignant recurrence of the old-time malady, "putting paralysis."

Last week's competition at Purley has been characterised as the worst exhibition of putting ever seen at a gathering of professionals, 100 of them. Strong men like Edward Ray, Harry Vardon, and James Braid drove straight as arrows down the fairways, sometimes 500 yards, with two powerful swings, and then ignominiously crept up to the cup with puerile putts, measurable in inches or feet. Vardon took four putts on the first green and Ray needed three for two yards at one hole, while Mitchell seemed hypnotised whenever the caddy handed him his putter.

NEW REFORM GOVERNMENT

RANGOON, April 25.—In his inaugural address before the Burma legislative council here, Sir Harcourt Butler, governor of Burma, defended the motives and policy of Great Britain, and urged the newly-elected members to co-operate with the administration in effecting the reforms set forth in the new constitution. The present council, now holding its first session, is the first body to be elected under the Burma reforms act.

"Today," said his excellency, "we inaugurate together the new regime. Burma is a good country for an optimist. Favored by nature, it has vast undeveloped resources, a fertile soil, a wealth of minerals, great forests, large waterways, a population of one of the most attractive in the world and one of the best educated in the East. There is a national spirit and a national character, which may at times run riot, but which in the end will help to build up a nation."

GENEROSITY UNAPPRECIATED

COLLEGE BASEBALL IS MUCH IMPROVED

By HENRY L FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Some most interesting comparisons of college baseball as against the professional game were made recently by L .W .St. John, athletic director of Ohio State University and one of the best baseball coaches in the Western Conference.

St. John expresses the opinion that the best teams of the Western Conference play as smart a game of baseball as the Class AA professional leagues, but in mechanical ability they are only on a par with Class B or C league teams.

Better coaching on scientific and "inside" baseball have brought about great improvement in college baseball in the last ten years and have equipped the players better technically and advanced them farther in strategy hen they report to the coach, he says.

In a analysis of the college game, the Ohio State director says:

"The big fault with the average players is a weakness at the bat, which can be explained in two ways. Primarily, the collegian is not on a par physically with the athlete who has come up through the professional ranks to the Class AA or major league teams. Professionals in the big leagues are, for the most part, a wonderful bunch of athletes from the physical standpoint. The other factor contributing to the weakness of college batting is the ignorance of the fundamentals of batting.

When the college player is given the proper sort of coaching, the average batter can be boosted from 100 to 150 points and in some cases even more.

"Varsity players display their greatest ignorance at the plate in not knowing how to start their swing and when to break it. Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland American League club, and one of the greatest outfielders and batters of all time, is one of the best examples of the proper form of starting his swing and breaking it. Watch Speaker through a season and you will discover that he rarely strikes out. The answer is that he is always ready and set at the plate to hit the ball. By the time the ball has nearly reached the plate he knows whether it was good enough to hit at, and if not he can easily break his swing.

"Not one college player in fifteen knows this trick. Too many of them are 'pick' hitters. They have their minds made up before the ball is thrown whether they'll hit at it or not.

"College players commit errors of form in standing too close to the plate and in not keeping their weight properly balanced while at bat, thus hampering them in following through. They also fail to keep their elbows down, thus interfering with a free swing.

"A college team, in view of these faults, is lucky to have five or six fair hitters."

Efficient coaching is attributed by Mr. St. John to the great improvement that every one admits has been brought about in the college game and figures out his point.

ADVICE TO THE LADY MOTORIST

How to Keep the Hands Clean While Operating Your Car.

In removing a heavy tire or demountable rim it is not necessary to lift it clear in order to remove the valve stem from the fellow. After all the clamps (or locking ring) are loosened, the wheel should be revolved slightly, holding the body of the tire away from the wheel. The tire will come off of itself. Unfortunately there is no easy way to replace it. The tire must be replaced with a straight lift.

Many people, ladies especially, object to doing needed work around their cars because of the necessity for dirtying their hands. Canvas gloves, costing 10 or 15 cents a pair, offer a very good way out of the difficulty. They are easily cleaned, a simple dipping in gasoline being sufficient. If economy in gasoline is an object they may be readily washed with laundry soap and water, but a little washing soda will be helpful in removing the excess of oil.

Dip Hands in Oil

A useful precaution whether canvas gloves are used or not, is to dip the hands in clean oil, or to use the squirt can, working the oil thoroughly into the skin. The oily dirt obtained from the mechanism of an automobile is particularly difficult to remove, because the oil carries the dirt into the pores, where soap and water cannot reach it. If the pores are already filled with oil the dirt cannot work in, but stays on the surface.

By the same token, oil is a good means of loosening any dirt already there. Work it thoroughly into the spot and wipe off all you can before washing the hands. This makes the removal of the dirt very much easier. By no means use gasoline for the purpose. It dissolves the dirt and carries it deeper into the pores. Even wiping the hands on a cloth or waste wet with gasoline is not recommended, but fresh oil on cloth or waste is good.

How to Wash Hands

And now a detail as to how to wash the hands. Do not wash both palms and backs of the hands at once, as the dirt from the palms will be carried into the more delicate skin of the back, and some of it will lodge there. The proper method is to apply soap (mechanics' soap is advised) to the palms alone, rubbing it in thoroughly, and rinsing it off repeatedly until the palms are clean. Then the backs can be washed in the usual way and much cleaner hands will result.

WHO SETS THE RE-SALE VALUE?

By Lansing Toms, Associate Editor, The Used Car Journal, Detroit, Mich (Reprinted from the January issue of the Used Car Journal)

Most everyone uses "Resale Value" as a sales argument, but do you really know what Resale Value is? How it is determined, who sets it and why it fluctuates?

Resale value is the criterion of the medium priced automobile, by it is indicated the approval or disapproval of the only real authorities on automobiles, the public.

The public set the resale value of every automobile, not any manufacturer or group of dealers, but the mass of owners set the price they will pay for a two-year-old Ford touring car, or for a three-year-old Chevrolet.

This price (and it will not vary $25.00 except in the case of a particular individual) indicates the value that this or that make of car has actually given to its mass of owners.

And that is the secret of Resale Value. You know that, as far as specifications are concerned, there is little difference between automobiles of the same class.

They have practically the same amount of iron, same tires, starters, wheelbase, horsepower, gear ratio, etc.

But the fact remains that the public will pay more for a 1919 Ford touring than a 1919 Chevrolet touring even though the Chevrolet cost more when new.

And the reason they will pay more for one used automobile than another is that the mass of owners have found that one particular make of car delivers more value per dollar than other makes of cars.

Resale value will fluctuate with the seasons and the demand, but the ratio of resale value on one car as compared to another will stay throughout the year. The only variation in this will be when one car improves or deteriorates, then this ratio will change.

Used cars take a big depreciation the first year. This is because the first depreciation is in good part made up of manufacturers' and dealers' profits. After the first year the depreciation follows more nearly the actual physical depreciation of the automobile.

Upon inspection you will find that in the first year, the public will pay almost as much for a used Ford as a Chevrolet or Overland which means that the owners of either of these cars must suffer a great deal bigger depreciation than the Ford owner.

After the first year the public will pay more for a Ford than a Chevrolet and very little more for an Overland then a Ford. In other words the Ford has consistently throughout its life a great deal higher Resale Value than either of these two cars, and the Ford owner thereby suffers less loss in dollars due to depreciation.

DRAFTED BY CHINESE NAVY

MANILA, P. I., April 25.—The yacht El Aguila, formerly owned by the late Senator Mark Hanna, of Ohio, is soon to be seen in action as a Chinese gunboat on the Yangtse river, according to Chau Chiaco, a local Chinese firm which has just purchased the craft from the Philippine department of the United States army for $6,025.

The yacht was built in 1892 and was named the "Commanche." It was taken over by the navy during the war and the name changed to the "Frolic." Later it passed to the army, and again became El Aguila.

VICTORY VS. CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 25 (United Press).—Some of those who hold that football does not warrant the important place it holds among college undergraduates should stop and ponder over a few words spoken by Percy Haughton when he took over the coaching job at Columbia:

"It will be my purpose to teach the men what they should learn in order to better prepare them for life after they leave the university. If I can do that, if I can contribute toward qualifying them for the finest type of citizenship, I will be satisfied."

Football, as it is being conducted now at many of the major universities, is far removed from the old game in which the main essential was considered to win at any cost. The virile quality which football exacts of a young man can be turned to other purposes than the mere running and stopping of the ball.

Tad Jones has had several disappointing seasons with the Yale football team. Old grads yelled for his scalp and critics said he spoiled wonderful prospects, but Jones holds on.

In reply to critics he said after the close of the last season that he might be considered a failure if he was to be judged on the games won and lost by the Yale team, but he was not directing football merely for the purpose of winning every game.

He said he felt that he had succeeded in a vastly more important mission in that he had sent out on the field a team of gentlemen, a team of fine sportsmen and a bunch of boys who were being trained under the most trying conditions to act the same way in after-college days.

* * *

It will be remembered that Charley Bueil, the guiding genius of the Harvard team, went into the last game with Yale in a very bad physical condition. One or two hard falls would have removed him from the lineup and it had been proved earlier in the season, if it needed proof, that Harvard was not the efficient football machine without Bueil that it was with the smart little general in command. Instead of playing the old game of "getting him out," the Yale players purposely "went easy with him" and they lost the game.

Far after it has been forgotten which team won the 1922 Harvard-Yale game, that sparkling piece of sportsmanship will be remembered and the impression it made on all who heard about it will do more moral good than ten touchdowns would have done for Yale.

* * *

Ethics of all sport are changing continuously for the better and it might be made the subject for a sermon in that it must be an indication of an improvement in civilization and a growing inclination not to take advantage of the other man.

Even in the prize ring, where the finer sensibilities may be slow to penetrate, a cleaner spirit of sportsmanship is prevailing. It is seldom that a boxer will put the final punch on a helpless opponent and instances where the winning boxer has appealed to the referee to interfere and prevent a knockout are too numerous to mention.

* * *

Professional sports are bound to get cleaner as years pass. Nearly every athlete who takes up some sport as a profession has the advantage of some high school training and the coaches who are getting hold of high school athletes are nearly all college men, whose naturally will pass on to their charges the lessons they learned themselves in college about personal conduct on the field. The effects are already being noticed and they will become increasingly apparent as time goes on.

* * *

Gentlemanly conduct on the field should never be confused with "niceness." Real men observe the spirit as well as the letter of the rules, and bullies respect neither.

America's reputation for clean sportsmanship avoided a nasty affair at the last Olyumpic games in Antwerp. One of the weight men on the American team appeared one afternoon on the field bearing the number of a teammate who had injured himself the day previous and was unable to compete.

One of the London sport writers in the press-box noticed the "mistake" and called the attention of an American writer to it. The athlete was withdrawn.

Asked later why he hadn't done something about it himself, the Englishman said he knew it was a mistake and the Americans would be sportsmen enough to correct it without a complaint.

THREE VOWS ARE KEPT BY WOMAN LEGISLATOR

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 25—Mrs. Melcene Smith, of University City, one of the first women to be elected to the Missouri Legislature, came to the sessions this year with three resolves, all of which she kept.

"One was that I would not miss a session," she said; "another that I would not mar the desks in the house by placing my feet thereon, and the third that I would not expectorate tobacco juice on the floor."

At the close of her first session, Mrs. Smith observed that there is no reason why the average woman, with some little experience in public affairs, should not be as efficient as a legislator as the average man. She is convinced that the election of a considerable number of women lawmakers would be a distinct advantage to the state. The new member, Mrs. Smith contends, should not be charged with sponsoring too many measures.

Mrs. Smith states that she was impressed with the fact that the men do not resent the coming of women to the legislature. "I supposed women would be regarded with good natured tolerance, but such was not the case, at least with the really worth while men. I wish to acknowledge the helpful and generous direction and assistance from the more experienced legislators," she added.

Mrs. Smith has an ambition to become sheriff of her county. She believes she could put all law violators to flight and make the county "a modern Sahara" as far as the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment is concerned.

THE "TROUBLE SHOOTER"

By E. H. SCOTT

This article gives practical, step-by-step instructions to the motorist who wants to reduce his repair bills, get more power from his motor, and eliminate trouble during the coming touring season.

Overhauling the Lubrication System

In the winter months, few engines receive the care and attention they should, with the result that a thorough inspection and checking up is necessary if you want to have trouble free service in the coming months. During the next few weeks, I will explain in detail the necessary work you will have to do to put your car in first class condition for the touring season.

Perhaps you may be one of those who have an engine which seems to "make" oil, in other words, the oil level is as high or nearly so, when you finish a run as it was when you went out. The explanation is that an excessive amount of gasoline is finding its way into the crankcase, and while the oil level shows plenty of oil, you really have a mixture of gasoline and oil, which is of very little use as a lubricant.

During the winter months considerable condensation takes place in the crankcase, and when you drain off the old oil, you may be surprised to see a small quantity of water is drained off also. The air drawn through the radiator contains a large per cent of moisture during the cold weather. Some of this air is drawn through the breather pipe into the crankcase where it immediately condenses, causing an accumulation of water in the crankcase.

After you come in from a run, the first thing you generally do is to have a wash to remove the dust and grit accumulated on the road. This same dirt and grit is also being drawn down into the crankcase through the breather pipe, and before long you have quite a quantity of it mixed with the lubricating oil.

Dust, grit, water and gasoline are not the best lubricants in the world for a motor, yet at the end of say 800 miles running, you have in the lubricating oil a large amount of these substances. They all combine and form a slimy sludge, which causes all kinds of trouble, blocking the oil pipes, the oil strainer, and getting into the bearings and on the cylinder walls, causing rapid wear.

Now perhaps you understand why I have placed the draining and flushing out of the crankcase at the head of the list of things to be attended to before the heavy touring season commences.

Unscrew the drain plug and allow the old oil to drain off, then replace the plug and pour about a gallon of kerosene into the crankcase. Now turn the Ignition Switch off, then turn the engine over with the starting motor for about a minute, or if you use a hand crank, swing the engine over smartly for about three minutes. This will swill the dirt and sediment down.

Once again remove the drain plug and drain off the kerosene, then get under and remove the oil pan and strainer. Thoroughly clean the pan and the depressions in it, and see that the strainer is free from lint and sediment. It is absolutely necessary that you REMOVE THE OIL PAN after flushing out the engine with KEROSENE, otherwise it is impossible to be sure of getting it all out of the crankcase before filling up with fresh oil. If any kerosene remains in the crankcase, it will dilute the oil again.

When replacing the pan first screw up each bolt finger tight, then with a spanner, turn each bolt half a turn at a time until you have them all tight. After this, fill up with fresh oil to the correct level. Before you start the engine under power, turn it over twenty or thirty times with the Ignition Switch off, to get the oil worked into the bearings and cylinder walls.

This is the most thorough way to clean out the crankcase, but need only be done like this once or twice each season. During the season, you should drain every 500-700 miles, flush out with three-fourths of a gallon of LIGHT LUBRICATING OIL, NOT kerosene, then refill with fresh oil. NEVER flush out the crankcase with kerosene unless you take off the oil pan, when you can be sure of removing all kerosene.

OFFENDER'S INCOME MAY MEASURE FINES

STOCKHOLM, April 14.—An unusual system of adapting criminal fines to the income of the offender, as well as to the seriousness of the crime, is one of the unique provisions in the proposed revision of Sweden's criminal statutes which has been recommended to the government by the Criminal Law Commission.

Attention often has been called to the unjust operation of fines fixed within narrow limits. To the wealthy man such a fine in no way served as a deterrent, while to the poor man it often became a punishment out of all proportion to the seriousness of the crime.

The principle of the proposed amendment, which will doubtless be accepted, is that the punishment by fine for any given offense shall work with the same effectiveness upon persons of various economic status. There are to be two bases for fixing the fine, the novelty being that the amount is divided up into daily payments, instead of being lumped in one sum. The degree of enormity of the crime is to be indicated by the number of days used as multiplier in the calculation, while the other factor, the sum to be paid each day, will vary with the financial means of the offender. These amounts may vary from 25 cents to $250.00 a day. The number of days shall not be less than one nor more than ninety.

Another humanitarian principle in this provision is that the payments need not be made in unbroken succession, though there must be at least ten daily payments a month for any given conviction.

Whenever failure to pay the fine ensues, the sentence may be commuted to imprisonment, though under the proposed amendment consideration will be given by the court to the question of whether such failure came through contempt, negligence, or was involuntary through unavoidable financial difficulties.

Another legal novelty in Sweden recommended by the Criminal Law Commission is the treatment of those who have violated the law of the land in such a way that the offense does not involve moral turpitude or personal dishonor. Instead of being imprisoned or sentenced to penal servitude, such offenders shall simply be placed in detention or "custodia honesta," the Swedish term for this punishment being "arrest." The periods of "arrest" may vary from three months to life, and the persons thus detained shall be cared for in institutions especially provided for them.

HOLLAND TO CELEBRATE

THE HAGUE, April 25.—To celebrate the 25th anniversary of the beginning of the regin of Queen Wilhelmina, festivals will be held this summer and fall throughout Hosand.

The attachment of the Dutch people to the house of Orange and the personal devotion of the nation to the queen is expected to result in an enthusiastic display of love and loyalty.

The celebrations will depict not only the present prosperity of the land, but the past welfare of Holland under the House of Orange will be set forth by pageants, historical processions, etc.

The festivals will present a picture of whatever is most characteristic of the various provinces of Holland. The costumes of the peasants, the picturesque backgrounds afforded by the cities themselves, the quaint old-fashioned sports, such as tilting at the ring, etc., will show the charm of Holland in a novel way. Not only are the more important cities of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, The Hague, etc., planning festivities on a large scale, but even the smaller towns and villages will vie with one another in doing all they can to make the celebrations a success.

IRENE CASTLE SURPASSED BY NO OTHER ENTERTAINER

From the Yukon to Cape Town, from Tokyo to Petrograd, the popularity of Irene Castle is surpassed by no other public entertainer. All the world knows her. Men and women of every walk in life are as familiar with her name a with their own. There isn't a person in America or in Europe who doesn't know Irene Castle.

Famous for her art, as a creator of new and charming modes, as a sportswoman and athlete, Irene Castle has established a reputation that will be remembered for generations to come.

Few indeed are the names that can equal that of Irene Castle as a box-office attraction, and her personality is equally as attractive. For Irene Castle is of the type of vivacious feminity that radiates good cheer and happiness. She has youth, good looks, attractiveness and the faculty of making friends.

Everywhere that dress is the keynote of woman's charm, the frocks and wraps worn by Irene Castle are used as models. She started the vogue for bobbed hair and to-day millions of American women are wearing their hair in that fashion

Tres chic say the French of a woman of Irene Castle's charm and personality. Wonderful, say Americans, and every man and woman in America will flock to the theatres where Irene's pictures are shown.

At the Royal last time to-night.

AT THE GRAND.

The Machan Sisters Stock Company followed their success in "Cappy Ricks" Monday night by their equally successful production of the famous play, "The Rosary" before an appreciative and fairly large audience at the Grand last night.

The very adequate cast given the production was featured by the work of Raymond Poore in the part of Father Kelly. Miss Rosalind Machan played a difficult dual role in the parts of the wrongly suspected wife and her sister and impressed the feminine section of the audience with her gowns. Miss Gloria Machan, seen here two seasons with the Rex Stock Company, scored again in an ingenue role as Father Kelly's neice. The supporting cast was very effective.

To-night the company will present the farce "Before Breakfast" as its farewell offering.

JAZZMANIA" AN ELABORATE FILM

"Jazzmania" is the title of the latest photoplay in which Robert Z. Leonard will present Mae Murray, and in it the popular star has more opportunities for histrionic and costume display than has yet fallen to her lot in the pictures she has made. The new Metro photoplay is scheduled for presentation on Thursday at the Capitol Theatre, where it will begin a run of three days.

Miss Murray's new picture is partly a costume play. The star is seen as the Queen of a Balkan kingdom which is beset by enemies. A revolution is impending; and she flees to America .Her love of novelty makes her an ardent lover of jazz and when a former subject advises her to return to her country to rescue the women and children who are being mistreated, she decides to go back. She rescues the kingdom and turns it into a republic, where jazz keeps Madame President and her subjects in good humor.

Of course there is a love story involved—more than one, as a matter of fact. With such a quartette of handsome actors as Rod La Rocque, Robert Frazer, Edward Burns and Jean Hersholt, Miss Murray will make more than one feminine heart beat with envy. And all are exceptionally fine actors, too.

SPEND HUGE SUMS FOR GERMAN SKYSCRAPERS

BERLIN, April 25.—Berliners are hardly less agitated about the high exchange on the dollar and pound than they are about the increasing height of buildings on Unter den Linden.

The buildings which are soaring upwards are all bank structures. That makes it even harder for the German with depreciated marks, for he feels that the bankers have in some mysterious way manipulated exchange to his disadvantage. To the average Berlin man, the high office buildings are monuments to war profiteering. German architects, especially those who have no commissions for high buildings, foresee another Wall Street district along Unter den Linden in the vicinity of the university, the state opera and the old palace. They predict that St. Hedwig's church, just south of the opera house, will soon be swallowed up as Trinity church is, and almost completely hemmed in by overshadowing office buildings.

Two skyscrapers have already made their appearance on Unter den Linden. At least Berliners call them skyscrapers. They would be lost alongside a New York monster as they really are only about ten stories, and their upper floors are well camouflaged under receding tile roofs, which lessen the discord with surrounding buildings of only half the height.

But Berliners insist the wonderful skyline of Unter den Linden is already ruined. One of the bank buildings is near the Brandenburger gate. The other is near the opera house. Unter den Linden, with its wide grass plot and bridlepath in the center, is so spacious that buildings of great height will not darken the boulevard. But the cross streets are narrow. One of the new bank buildings is at the corner of Charlotten Street, which is so narrow that tenants are complaining bitterly of the lessening of their light and air.

Under the pre-war regulations there were no buildings permitted in Berlin which exceed five or six stories, and there was little steel used in consctruction. Most of the banks have found themselves pressed for space under the frantic financing which has been brought about by post-war conditions, and are adding floors to the tops of their buildings. In some cases steel is used, but most of the extensions upward are of masonry alone.

With the disappearance of the Emperor and the great military organization, Unter den Linden has become far less of a parade ground than it was under the old regime. Berlin is growing westward. The better residences are springing up miles west of Unter den Linden, with the result that it is ceasing to have importance as a retail street. Motor transportation is carrying well-to-do Berliners far west of the Tiergarten to Grunewald, Wansee and even to Potsdam.

Friederich Street and other narrow retail streets which cross Unter den Linden are also becoming less important as the result of the shifting of the better residence centers to the westward. The better theatres and cafes are also moving westward. The state opera house, which was built in the time of Frederick the Great, is so old-fashioned and has been reconstructed so often that it will probably be replaced in a few years by a new building much nearer to the homes of operagoers.

GETS PRESENTATION AT MARK STREET CHURCH

At the close of a splendid concert given by the Mission Band of Mark Street Methodist Church, their leader was asked to take the chair, when the following address was read to her:

To Mrs. Payne (Band Leader):

Dear Friends,—It is with feelings of gratitude and appreciation, that we take this opportunity of expressing our sentiments toward you, in some tangible way.

During the past year you have endeared yourself to us, by your willingness to render us help.

As the leader of our Mission Band you efforts have been untiring. The fact of your living so far away has made the work very strenuous for you, but you have performed your task very cheerfully.

As a mark of our esteem and a slight token of our good will, we ask you to accept these flowers. The poet said: "Flowers are lovely, love is flowerlike." "Friendship is a sheltering tree." These flowers will fade and die, but it shall not be so with our love and friendship for you, it shall ever remain, pure and fresh and sweet.

(Signed on behalf of the Band),
OLIVE WEASE,
BERNICE DOXSEE.

Mrs. Payne made a very suitable reply, thanking the Band for their co-operation with her and the pleasure her association with them had given her.

INDIAN TRIAL RESUMED HERE

Argument in the Case Involving Treaty Rights and the Local Indians

The County Court stage was reset this afternoon for the resumption of the trail of ten Chemong and Alderville Indians who were charged three weeks ago with having and catching fish out of season contrary to the Game and Fisheries Act. At the former hearing the Indians had formally pleaded guilty, and the trial was adjourned for three weeks for argument and to enable the solicitors for the accused to enquire into the rights of the Indian in respect to hunting and fishing, and their liability under the Ontario statute prohibiting fishing during the closed season.
F. D. Kerr, K.C., Joseph Wearing and J. F. Strickland represented the Indians and G. W. Hatton, K.C., the Crown.
Mr. Hatton recalled at the opening of the case that the facts set out in the charges had virtually been admitted by the Indians. When arraigned they refused to plead, claiming that they were not subject to the jurisdiction of the court.
Mr. Strickland, speaking first, declared that the Indians, particularly those of Chemong or Curve Lake, had been led to believe by an officer of the Fish and Game Department that they could fish at all times of the year in waters adjacent to their reserves.
"The Indians further contend that this court is not competent to deal with cases of this kind because they claim and have always claimed that they were outside the regulation of the Department," Mr. Strickland said. "We must appeal for the rights of the Indians to fish and hunt for their own use largely on that traditional claim. It is not a case of enforcing the law, we say, but of persecuting the Indians."
Crown Attorney Hatton for the prosecution said that it didn't matter for what purpose the fish were caught. The question was whether the regulations under which the charges were laid against these Indians were contravened that is whether they had in their possession or caught bass and lunge contrary to the Act. Anything the Inspector may have said could not alter the law. It was his duty to prosecute any person he found committing offences against that law. Indians were not excepted in any way under the Fish and Game Act, Mr. Hatton pointed out. The Government was doing all it could to ameliorate their conditions of life and had been so doing since Confederation.
"Only in to-days papers we read that the Dominion government has voted $3500,000 towards the education of the Indians of this country, and for the provision of nurses to take care of them when sick," said Mr. Hatton.
All the Indians were in a comfortable position, the Crown Attorney continued, referring to the "latest frocks of the women" and the appearance of the men. Some of them have motor cars and motor boats. Roads are built for their use and they dont have to portage canoes as they did years ago between Chemong Lake and the Little Lake, in Peterborough.
Mr. Hatton asserted that the Indians must be amenable to the law, and must submit to penalties imposed for contravention of it.
Mr. Wearing admitted in defence of his Alderville clients that he could not dispute the judgment of Mr. Justice Riddell in the case of Sero vs. Galt, who found that everyone now in Canada was subject to the general law of Canada unless specifically excepted. Mr. Wearing believed that the law was an absolutely unjust one in so far as these men were concerned. They had every right to sympathy in regard to their old treaties.
In those days the Indians were a great nation, and they believed the British Government what it said when it promised that the rights of Indians would be maintained for them. That tradition had come down to the present. But, Mr. Wearing said, the Riddell judgment was a stonewall against an action in a lower court and redress, if any was gained, would have to come from a superior court or the Government.
Each Indian was fined $10 and costs, Magistrate Langley taking a lenient view of the case, and simply wishing to warn the offenders.

Indians Will Appeal.
Dan. Whetung told the Examiner at the conclusion of the trial that the Indians will appeal the case and carry it to the Attorney-General, and will possibly seek relief from the Dominion Government if necessary.

Society

The members of the Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnham who have achieved a reputation for success in anything they undertake, lived up to their record last evening in the very enjoyable and popular card-party given under their auspices in the G.W.V.A. Hall. Attended by over three hundred people, the evening proved a successful and entertaining affair in every particular. Dozens of pennants, and ferns and flowers on the musicians' stand and the small tables, provided a bright and festive note, and the refreshments served were exceptionally attractive and dainty. Salads, jellies, sandwiches, rolls cake and coffee were much enjoyed at the little tables, prettily centred with petalled green and white baskets and cut flowers. During the evening, a vocal solo, heartily encored, was rendered by Miss Ina Allen accompanied by Miss Stella Shearer.
Prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. A. E. Coulthard and Mr. S. T. Medd. Consolation awards went to Miss H. Lytle and Noble Kelly. In five hundred, the winners were Mrs. A. W. Clysdale and Mr. Harry Huffman, with consolation prizes to Mrs. O. M. Steer and Mr. Chas. Brown.
Mrs. R. H. Parsons, president of the League, was general convenor, and received loyal support and assistance from every member of the society Mrs. J. M. Gemmell and Miss E. Scott had charge of the bridge tables; Mrs. F. Sedgewick and Mrs. A. C. Gray of the five hundred tables; Mrs. T. H. Glover and Mrs. H. Morgan of the refreshments; Mrs. S. H. Holden of the musical programme; Mrs. Carlton Perry of the card prizes, and Miss M. J. Calcutt arranged the pretty table decorations.
Funds raised this card party will be used for the development of the Armour Hill Memorial Park recently purchased by the Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnam.
Mr. R. A. Brown is in Quebec for a few days.
Miss Ina Allan is spending the next two weeks in Toronto, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Johnston.

GYMNASIUM OF Y.W.C.A. BUSY PLACE JUST NOW
The gymnasium of the Y.W.C.A. is a busy place just now. During late hours and all through the evening, crowds of seniors, juniors and little boys and girls are practising for the big coming event, the Pageant which is to be given at the Grand Opera House on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. The offices, the basement, the little side rooms at the 'Y' have all been pressed into service to hold the many 'props' that are required for an affair that includes four hundred people in its staging.
With military precision, classes of senior girls were going through wand drills and club-swinging exercises a tthe 'Y' gym last night. Timed to a nicety, their movements to the bright music, gave the effect of a dance rather than a prosaic exercise.
The girls in the moonbeam dance are as light and graceful as swallow in their slimy, misty draperies, and the butterfly dance is a light, airy thing of glancing shades and tints. Costuming for the different numbers has been carried out to the minutest detail, and the gysy dance is particularly effective, with its rapid movement, its birght, flashing colors, the vigor and grace of its action.
Among the junior members is the jaunty Highland Fling, and the funny dance of the Golliwogs, with jerky steps. The babies have the "call of the oriole" in interpretive measures, and the intermediates do the always popular Sailors' Hornpipe. A classic number is the Autumn Flowrs dance, with its bright foliage and flashing colors, while "Sassy Sue" is a cute thing of quaint costuming and cunning poses.

GIVES T. J. PARROTT FREE CIGARETTE LICENSE.
A free cigarette license for six months was given to T. J. Parrott, who has a little notions stand in the Toronto Bank lane entrance on Hunter Street, by the Council on Monday. In applying for it, Mr. Parrott wrote that he had been eighteen years in Peterborough, and in spite of his physical disability, had managed to provide for himself. He asked for the cigarette license because the cold weather cut short his selling season.

A TRIBUTE
In the passing of the late Mrs. David McGrath, whose funeral was held Easter Sunday, East City (especially the north end, the community in which she lived), has lost a very dear and valued friend. In religion, the late Mrs. McGrath was a Roman Catholic, an ardent worker and a faithful member of her church.
Always ready to help in sickness and trouble, and a friend to old and young, she has left a vacancy hard to fill, but a beautiful memory of a life well spent, as she scattered seeds of kindness in her pathway.
Took her home to meet her daughter
Who had passed on before;
And one by one we'll meet her there
On that bright and happy shore.

Took home one dear old life-long friend,
So good and kind and true,
On her sure word you could depend,
Such faithful friends are few.

Took her home to the Shepherd's fold,
Across the silent river,
To one of the mansions Christ foretold,
To dwell with Him forever.
"May each of us be as ready."
THREE WHO LOVED HER.

Y.M.C.A. Financial Canvass This Week
THERE are no doubt many friends of the Association who may not be called on during the week who would like to assist in the work. Contributions would be gladly received at the Y.M.C.A. or by the Treasurer, Mr. J. J. Turner.
Pledges to be paid later at the convenience of the contributor may be mailed to the Y.M.C.A.

SPEAK ENGLISH AND YOU WILL HAVE A GAY TIME
PANAMA (By mail to United Press).—"Any girl who speaks English can have a wonderful time in Maracaibo," is the tidings brought by Miss Cecilia Cooke, a resident of the Venezuelan metropolis, recently arrived in Panama with her father, who came to be treated in Panama Hospital.
"Since the oil companies began to work on a big scale in Venezuela" she explained, "there are lots and lots o. young engineers and managers living around Marcaibo. Whenever they have a holiday or a week-end they come in Marcaibo for dances and parties. The girls who speak English are very much sought after."
Miss Cooke herself, pretty 20-year-old daughter of an Englishman who married into one of the distinguished families of Venezuela, speaks English, Spanish and French with equal fluency.

KING BATTLES HARD TO HOLD SLAV KINGDOM

REBELS GAINING

(By William Philip Simms.)

BELGRADE, April 26.—Alexander I, king of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, is going to have the battle of his life holding his kingdom together. In fact the battle has begun.

The Croats, Slovenes and Bosnians want autonomy. By autonomy I mean they want all the way from a republic to local self-government as individual states in the United States have.

Although the movement for autonomy had independent beginnings in Crotia, Sloevnia, Bosnia and Herzegovina ,it has now consolidated in a sort of bloc, dangerous to Serb ambitions.

Nobody in Jugoslavia thinks or talks anything else and the government or Premier Pachitch is profoundly disturbed.

For the whole trend of sentitment in the country to-day is toward breaking up into small self-governing states with but a nominal tie to Belgrade and King Alexander, and away from centralized power.

Bookseller Is Leader .

The leader of the separatists, or those who clamor for autonomy, is a bookseller in Zagreb ,named Raditch. You can remember it because it is pronounced almost exactly like the little red vegetable you have on your table these spring days. And you should remember it for it is going to figure in Balkan history if he remaines on the scene.

Raditch is the leader of the Croats. And the Croats, who live in modern northwestern Serbia, like most people in this part of the world, are peasants and very close to the soil.

So when not behind the counter of his bookshop in Zagreb ,Raditch may be seen dressed in peasant costume—sandals, embroidered stockings and all—making speeches to his Croat followers or talking to them in the fields and in their own dialect.

Here in Belgrade, Raditch is called a self-seeker; a bag of wind; a charlatan; a demagogue. They say he drives out of Zagreb in a high-powered motor car and changes into peasant costume just before reaching his destination.

Priest in Fight.

In Zagreb they say he is a patriot and very much in earnest. And to prove they really think what they say ,the Raditch, or Croat, party in the March elections made terrific gains, dealing a blow to the old Serb, or governing bloc.

The Croats had only 50 deputies in the old parliament out of a total of 417 members. To-day they have 70 out of a reduced total of 313.

The radicals—Premier Pashitch's party—and democrats together had 183 members in the old house. They have but 150 in the new. While the radicals won 16 seats the democrats lost 40 thanks partly to a bitter fight made on them by the radicals. So it is not expected the two parties will work together so well now when so much may depend upon it.

The Slovenes are led by a priest, Father Koroshetz. The Bosnians, who have made common cause with the Croats and Slovenes for political purposes, have 28 members. With the clericals 22 and the others who may be expected to join with them against the government, they form a dangerous bloc.

Religion enters largely into the fight. The Serbs are Greek Orthodox. The Croats and Slovenes are Catholic. According to the latest figures there were 5,460,000 Orthodox and 4,475,000 Roman Catholics, 345,000 Bosnians and about 750,000 others in the country. The Orthodox have not a very great majority —none, if the others unite against them.

Raditch says he is a republican but is willing for Crotia to remain inside Serbia as now defined providing she is given full autonomy. He would like a republic in Croatia and a kingdom in Serbia, the two being bound together about as Austria and Hungary formerly were.

Koroshetz would like Slovenia to be a state within a Serbian union.

Builders' Exchange Rejected Agreement

Objecting to conditions which they declare to be unreasonable and drastic the members of the Builders' Exchange have decided to reject the agreement presented by the Carpenters' Union as the basis of their employment this season. The Union demanded a wage of seventy-five cents an hour, and while this item alone was questioned, it is understood that greater obstacles were found in clauses that imposed certain restrictions which the Builders would not accept. Local construction prospects are beginning to show the usual Spring activities. Three of the larger worker are assured and several other, still under consideration, may be added to the list of undertakings.

PREPARING FOR THE ELECTIONS

Local Conservatives Select May 16 as Date of Convention — W. F. Nickle Will Speak.

Wednesday, May 16, is the date fixed upon by local Conservatives for holding an open convention in Peterborough city, when a Liberal-Conservative candidate will be selected to contest the West Riding of Peterborough. Arrangements are also made for W. F. Nickle K.C., of Kingston to address the convention. A member of the present Ontario Legislature and a former member of the Federal House. Mr. Nickle is one of the best political platform orators in the province.

The foregoing programe was decided on last evening, when the executive of West Peterborough Liberal Conservative Association met in preliminary campaign organization session The meeting was featured by an atmosphere of optimism for reclaiming West Peterborough to Conservative allegiance. The executive was fully represented by both city and country chairman, all on the tip-toe of preparedness for the coming provincial elections contest in June.

A COMING EVENT CHOIR CONCERT

By the Choir of Trinity Church, Monday Evening April 30th.

The concert to be given by the Trinity Church choir on Monday evening next, should prove one of the most interesting and entertaining of the season.

The choir itself has given very special attention to the numbers on the programme allocated to them, and they will be assisted by Miss Jessie Tuite, reader, Mrs. George H. King, soprano, and Miss Edwina Palmer, violinist.

EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS TO ST. ANDREW'S SCHOOL

A business meeting of St. Andrew's congregation was held last evening in the lecture room to consider extensive alterations to the Sunday school building of the church. It was the unanimous decision of the meeting to proceed at once with the work, which will include the transferring of a portion of the present one-storey structure into a building with two storeys and basement, capable of accommodating a number of separate class rooms for instructional purposes.

The building committee, of which Mr .J .John is convenor pro tem, includes Messrs. J. A McKone, B. Fowler, W. A. Richardson, Geo. Evans, Wm. Langford, J. E. Latimer, G Green, Jno. Hill, Jas. McIntosh, R. F. Raines and A. Weddell.

SCOTCH LASSIE IS FOURTH LADY OF THE EMPIRE

Lady Elizabeth by Marriage With Duke of York Ranks Next to Princess Mary.

THE ROYAL WEDDING

(By Chas. M. McCann, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, April 26.— The Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon were married at noon to-day in Westminster Abbey.

While the great bells of Parliament Square pealed the nation's joy at the union and millions sent up a thunder of cheers, the modest Scotch lassie who had entered the Abbey a commoner, emrged Cinderella-like, on the arm of her smiling husband, Fourth Lady of all England. At the wedding breakfast at the palace following the ceremony, King George dubbed the bride "your Royal Highness," and Lady Elizabeth became next in rank to Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra and the Princess Mary.

And just at the moment when the blushing bride and the popular straight-backed young Duke stepped from the massive abbey doors and started for their carriage, the sun, hidden two days behind disheartened clouds and showers, burst forth its rays striking upon the shimmering sheen of the wedding gown.

The five hundred toned bells of Westminster set up the pealing they maintained for three and a half hours and the Duke carried away his bride on a long ride through London streets where several millions saw them pass.

The wedding breakfast, the reception at Buckingham Palace and Bertie and Betty, despite the latter's new dignity, became just a happy pair of newly married lovers off on a honeymoon to Polesdonlacy in Surrey.

The great day dawned raw and misty, intermittent showers drenching the hundreds of thousands who had taken up positions of vantage in Parliament Square or along the wedding route. But undismayed at an hour long before royalty or the nobility that played the more intimate part in the ceremony was disturbed, the people sang songs and warmed themselves with flares. It was a British holiday .

Decorations, festoons, streamers, pennants, and flags that made the city along the route to be taken by the bride and groom a blaze of color, hung drenchingly in the morning moisture ,but the ardor of the thousands in the throngs could not be damped.

Other hundreds of thousands came pouring to join them with the daylight until it seemed millions of people must be moving towards the Abbey.

The long wait throughout the morning for crowds between the palace and Parliament Square was broken by the merriment of street performers who were shooed away nervously shortly before eleven o'clock. At exactly eight minutes past ,the big gates before the palace swung open and the King and Queen, accompanied by Prince George still a younger son than the Duke, drove out in a glittering glass coach designed that all might see them.

Queen Mary sat proudly erect, bowing and smiling in response to the cheers, even though her son was being married.

Five minutes later, amidst a craning of necks that interfered somewhat with the roar of cheers, the crowd saw the bridegroom, tight-lipped and smiling somewhat nervously with heightened color, drive from the gates, his brother, the Prince of Wales, as best man, grinning broadly at his side. An escort of clattering red trousered Hussars surrounded the gilt coach in which the Princes rode. The carriages proceeded down the Mall, swung into the Horse Guards' Parade, and thence via Whitehall to Parliament Square and the Abbey. Along the route, jammed almost motionless, the throngs paid homage to the Royal Family with hoarse cheers. Then came Lady Elizabeth with her father, the Earl of Strathmore, from their home on Bruton Street. The blushing pretty Scotch girl in her geogeous wedding gown of royal lace, was more confused than she might have been when she found she was to ride in resplendent state coach of gold and crimson.

Being a commoner before the ceremony, it had been planned for her to come to the Abbey in a simple carriage, but King George, carrying out the Cinderella tradition, sent the magnificent equipage designed only for Royalty.

Appearing somewhat nervous, Lady Elizabeth shrank into a corner of the coach and held her father's hand tightly as the carriage approached the Abbey.

But she managed a brave smile and many friendly nods as she stepped from the coach and entered the church.

The Final Details.

Outside the Abbey, on a temporary grand stand, nobility and society watched the last exterior details of the ceremony, while the people from positions less advan-

MINERS SEIZE FULL CONTROL OF THETFORD

Asbestos Workers Institute Mob Law and Forcibly Eject a Corps of Constables.

CALL FOR HELP

THETFORD MINES, Que., April 26.—(Canadian Press).—The ejectment of forty special constables from the offices of the Asbestos Corporation by a mob of some 1,500 miners late last night, and a second forced departure from the town of Colonel MacNutt, as general manager of the Corporation, are two outstanding developments of the tumultuous situation here. The constables were forced to capitulate to the mob and leave for Sherbrooke, after they had been attacked with stones and a fire hose and had fired blank revolver shots over the heads of the insurgent miners.

The town is now in control of the men, and it is reported that assistance has been asked from the Dominion Government, and further assistance requested from the Provincial authorities, who were, through an agency, responsible for the despatch of forty specials.

The President's Views.

W. G. Ross, president of the Asbestos Corporation, stated last night that apparently the whole trouble had arisen from the fact that the miners at Thetford Mines resented an order by Manager MacNutt that they must stick to their job until the 5.30 whistle sounded, while they were especially angry at the laying off of some of the hands who were not needed at one of the crushing mills, with other complaints of equally trivial nature.

"It seems outrageous," said Mr. Ross, "that these companies, with millions of dollars invested in this territory, and paying enormous taxes to both Federal and Provincial treasuries, as well as to the local authorities, should be left at the mercy of a disorganized and disorderly mob at Thetford Mines. Conditions today at the Thetford Mines are as bad as those reported under the Communists in Russia."

Largest in World.

The mines of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada, the largest of their kind in the world, and with neighboring pits producing nine-tenths of the world's supply of asbestos, are located about fifty miles from Sherbrooke. Altogether 9,000 men are employed in the industry.

Secure Firearms.

MONTREAL, April 26. Canadian Press. — Striking miners at Thetford asbestos mines have raided all the hardware stores in the district and supplied themselves with firearms and have also seized quantities of dynamite with which they threaten to blow up the public buildings and the mining company's property, it was stated this morning by W. G. Ross, President of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada.

In view of the serious outlook the company has applied to Hon. L. W. Taschereau as Provincial Attorney-General, to take the necessary steps to give adequate protection to the company's property, as well as public property, and the lives of individuals, in the Thetford mines district.

Order Restored.

With the departure of armed detectives brought into the Thetford district in connection with the strike of the miners of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada, quiet was restored this morning. The miners had not returned to work, but men from neighboring mines, who went out in sympathy with them, when detectives appeared yesterday, had all gone back to the pits.

The Examiner Goes to the Relief of a Distressed Missie

Extract from a Young Lady's Diary: I feel so badly that I could cry. This morning, I lost my lovely ring, the one with the pearls that Dad gave me last birthday. I had it on when I left the house, but I took my glove off to get some car-fare out of my purse, and now it's gone. Am going up to put a Lost Ad. in The Examiner.

7 p.m.—Saw my advertisement in The Examiner "Lost" column. Hope somebody finds the ring.

Next day, 8 p.m.—Eureka! Went up to The Examiner Office and found that a man had returned my ring at noon. I'm so glad. I'll never be careless with it again.

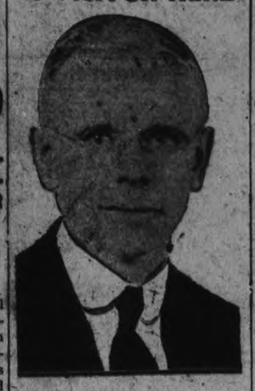
A VISITOR HERE



MR. GEO. H. HARRIS, Supervisor Field Service Bureau, in the City Attending Sun Life Convention.

FAMILIES ARE ON MOVE HERE

More Families Coming in Than Are Going Out—Situation Reversed.

More pople are coming into the city by motor transportation than are leaving it. This is the situation as revealed at the office of Mr. Ed. Cooney, who handles a large share of this business. The Examiner was told to-day that every time Mr. Cooney has taken a family away from Peterborough he has brought a family back. Last week he took one family's household goods to Galt ,and on the return trip he picked up two lots of furniture in Toronto—two families coming into the city for one leaving it.

At the presen time Ed. Cooney has five more orders on his books to bring people to Peterborough than he has to take families away. This situation was reversed last year.

HERBERT S. GOWAN RADIO INSPECTOR

Former Peterborough Boy Appointed Dominion Inspector For Large District.

KITCHENER, April 26.—Hubert S. Gowan of this city has been appointed dominion government radio inspector, confirmation of his appointment being received by him from Mr. Edwards at Ottawa. Mr. Gowan's duties will consist in the inspection of all stations in Kitchener and Waterloo and vicinity both receiving and sending. He will see that all stations have the proper license which can be obtained either from himself or the local postmaster

The unprecedent growth of radio in this district has made the appointment of a local inspector a necessity At the present time there are over 400 receiving sets and seven or eight transmitting stations .

Herbert S. Gowan is a former Peterborough boy, and a son of the late Dr. Gowan of Peterborough city.

UNITED FARM WOMEN'S DANCE WELL ATTENDED

The dance given last night in the G. W. V. A. hall under the auspices of the Peterboro branch of the United Farm Women of Ontario proved a very successful and enjoyable event. Over 200 people attended for dancing, which lasted until two o'clock, with excellent music provided by Eollis' four-piece orchestra. Sumptuous refreshments were served by the committee —of ladies, composed of Mrs. S. Redmond, the president, Mrs. G. H. Simpson, Mrs. H. A. Quinn, Mrs. F. Cann and Miss Helen Shaw.

MORE PETERBORO' MEN INVEST IN SHAKY STOCK

The Examiner was approached today by a man who bought a 1,000 mark bill at the market last Saturday for 50 cents. "How long will this pay my subscription for?" he asked

As marks are quoted at 43,000 for $1, this man's 1,000 mark bill is worth 2 cents and 3 mills. It was decided that the 1,000 marks would pay his subscription to 9 pages of to-night's issue of the paper and one column of another page.

In pre-war days this 1,000 mark would have paid a subscription to the Examiner for 40 years.

HICKS DROPPED ANOTHER BOMB

LONDON, Ont., April 26.—(Special.)—Andrew Hicks, former U.F.O. whip in the Legislature, dropped another boom shell here to-day, when he charged Premier Drury with an attempt to revive a "war-time junker group" and with treachery to Hydro-Electric Commission.

"Drury told the Farmer caucus that he intends to enter the Federal Cabinet after the Provincial election," added Mr. Hicks, who also charged that Drury proposed to bring R J. Fleming, Rowell and Sir Wm. Hearst into the Ontario Cabinet to "strengthen it."

$50 DAMAGE IN FIRE EARLY THIS MORNING

A fire in the early hours of this morning caused damage to the extent of $50 in the Rectory on Rogers street, the home of Monsignor McColl. The fire started at 2.55 a. m., and was caused by an incubator coal oil lamp .The loss is covered by insurance.

At 10.30 last night a short circuit in a motor in the Peterborough Lock Company's plant on Simcoe street, caused a fire which did only slight damage. The motor will be repaired. No insurance was carried.

ASK GOVT. TO PAY COST PROVINCIAL HIGHWAYS

TORONTO, April 26. — A large deputation representative of many municipalities in Ontario, will wait on the Hon. F. C. Biggs this afternoon to urge that the suburban areas be taken in under Mr. Biggs' bill to have the government assume the full cost of the Provincial highway scheme.

It was stated this morning that favorable consideration would likely meet the request.

SAYS POTATO PRICES ARE CONTROLLED BY COMBINE

OTTAWA, April 26. Canadian Press. — F. W. Pierle, potato grower of Grand Falls, N. Brunswick, in giving evidence this morning before a special committee of the House of Commons Committee on Agriculture, declared that potato prices and shipments to Cuba were controlled by a powerful ring which operated at both ends. Potatoes bought in New Brunswick at a dollar per bag of 165 lbs., were sold in Cuba at $4.50 per 180 pound sack.

Girls of Tender Years Parading Streets at Night

Editor, Examiner:

Sir,—What are our women doing in allowing so many young girls to perambulate the streets at night? There were few boys on the street, but there were in five blocks not less than fifty young things from 11 to 13 years of age just gadding about and loafing at nine o'clock at night, calling out to each other and making asses of themselves, as they are so well able to do. Stop singing "Where is my wandering boy to-night?" He is probably engaged in some healthy sport, but if you ask "Where is my wandering girl to-night?" you will find her out trying to vamp stray youths.

OBSERVER.

A DEMAND FOR HELP ON FARM

Fifty Applications at the Local Employment Bureau—Factories Busy.

That with fifty applications on the books for farm help there are a number of laborers walking about the city streets idle, is the report of the Peterborough branch of the Government Employment Bureau.

There are fewer men taking farm work than there were last year. Many married men find it impossible to live on the wages offered, especially in view of the fact that the work only lasts through the summer. When the building trade opens up it will absorb a large number of laborers, it is expected. The factories in the city are busy and are adding steadily to their staffs.

A speculative phase of the employment situation revealed at the Bureau is that a number of farmers' sons and others from the rural districts are registering for city work.

SELL ALBERTA COAL IN TORONTO AT $9

This Would Allow $1.50 a Ton for Profit and Local Delivery.

OTTAWA, April 26. Canadian Press. — "If I am right in my calculations, and I can see no error in them, Alberta coal of the best quality can be sold at retail in Toronto allowing $1.50 to cover profit and delivering locally, at $9.00 per ton," M. J. Butler, of Oakville, Ont., for five years Deputy Minister of Railways and three years general manager of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, told the Comomns Committee investigating the coal situation this morning.

LOCAL INDIANS PENALIZED FOR BREACH OF ACT

Convicted of Illegally Fishing, Ten Are Each Fined $10, With Costs of $7.00.

THAT TREATY CLAUSE

Fines of $10 and $7 costs each were imposed by Magistrate Langley Wednesday afternoon for breaches of the Fish and Game Act upon the following Indians: Alfreds Simpson, Noah Smoke, J. Simpson, George Gray, Isaac Beaver and Willard Smoke of the Alderville reserve and T. Taylor, A Johnston, D. Jacobs and J. Tobico of the Curve Lake reverve.

John Knott of the Curve Lake community who was charged with having assaulted Ira Toole of Lindsay, an overseer under the Department of Game and Fisheries, while in the execution of his duty, was acquitted.

The Indians who were penalized for illegal fishing intimated that they would carry their claims to some court of higher jurisdiction, if necessary to the Government itself.

Mr. F. D. Kerr K.C. who followed Mr. Joseph Wearing and Mr. J. F. Strickland in the defense of the Indians, said he was unable to argue that the law was not applicable to all persons living in Canada. He contended, however, that consideration should be given to the old treaties which the Indians had made with the King, one of which read that "while the waters run and the grass grow their hunting and fishing rights shall be preserved to them."

Nullifying Clause

A clause in a treaty made by Indians in Western Canada practically nullified the general terms of it, Mr. Kerr pointed out. The Indians were guaranteed certain privileges "subject to regulations." When the Indian chiefs put their crosses to that treaty they did not understand that their rights of obtaining food from nature by hunting and fishing would be taken away from them, and Mr. Kerr believed that the white men did not intend it to have that effect. It was absurd, he declared, that the Indians understood that they were agreeing to conditions of that kind, realizing that they would deprive children of the food, the fish and flesh whereby for generations after generation they had subsisted.

In conclusion Mr. Kerr said that what had been done hitherto by the Indians was with the tacit permission of the Government out of a spirit of benevolence and a sense of duty to the Indians. The enforcement of the law in the future was another matter, but in the present instance he pleaded for a minimum fine.

Had Been Warned

Mr. Hatton, Crown Prosecutor, replied that the Indians had been warned time and again that they must obey the law. Many of them even were game wardens and special game patrol officers appointed by the Department. No persons knew the laws better than the Indians themselves. They were permitted to fish, but an exception was made during the closed season which they were required to observe.

ISMET SAYS QUESTION OF FOREIGN PRIVILEGES WAS ABOLISHED IN 1914

TURKS CLAIM ISLAND

LAUSANNE, April 26.— (Canadian Press.)—The question of privileges for foreigners in Turkey, which the Turks assert were abolished in 1914, was raised in the political committee conference yesterday when the allied demanded restitution of the income taxes collected from foreigners during the war; the allies insisted that the levy was illegal, being in violation of the capitulation rights of foreigners.

The unilateral declaration of the Turks in 1914, the allies held, did not modify the situation. It was decided to reserve the income tax question until the entire problem of capitulations comes up for settlement.

Ismet Pasha brought the Russians back into the discussion by announcing that if any question arises modifying the Straits question, the delegates should be invited back to Lausanne.

Ismet said the Turks were satisfied however, with the provisions relating to the straits arranged at the previous conference, and had no intention of bringing the subject up again, but that the Angora Government felt the Russians should be afforded a chance to sign the document if they wished to.

Sir Horace Rumbold, head of the English delegation, informed Ismet that the Russians had been notified they would be welcome if they desired to change their attitude of opposition to the provisions, shown at the last conference.

Ismet Pasha unsuccessfully put in a claim for the island of Casteloriza, on the ground that it formed an integral part of Anatolia. The allies replied that the Turks had accepted the terrtiorial provisions of the treaty already agreed upon and had been informed by the Allies that the discussion would not be re-opened. The Allies declared they would not ask Italy to surrender the Island.

Ismet then demanded arbitration on the question, but again the Allies refused. Ismet failed also on his demand for the return to Turkey of the small island of Adakaleh, near the Rumanian shore of the Danube. He requested Rumania to give back the island, which Turkey wanted for sentimental reasons.

The Rumanian delegate, M. Diamant, declared that his country had no intention of abandoning the island.

Japanese Bishops in Entire Control

TOKIO, April 26. — (Canadian Press.)—The conference of English and American Episcopal Bishops now in session here, announced yesterday it had been decided to hand over to the Japanese entire control of the ecclesiastical affairs of Missionary work in Osaka and Tokio. This control has been held by the foreign missionary bishops for the past sixty years. The conference appointed two Japanese bishops to whom the transfer of the work will be made to-morrow.

ABANDON STEAMER AND STILL MISSING

No Trace of Passengers and Crew of Grounded Mail Boat.

LONDON, April 26.—(Canadian Press) — Reuter's despatch from Capetown says that Portuguese mail steamer Mossamedes which grounded several days ago at Cape Frio, southwest Africa, has been found abandoned with no sign of 237 passengers she carried, thus far despatch adds, no boats have been picked up and there is no indication of fate of passengers and crew.

Owing to fact that there are no landing places in the neighborhood of Cape Frio and that heavy sea is runing to-day, grave anxiety is felt for safety of boats. Mossamedes passengers included 24 women and 25 children, two of them are British, the rest are Portuguese.

Mossamedes left Capetown last Friday far West Coast. Just when she went ashore is unknown, but she sent out S.O.S. calls for help. British steamer, Port Victor, which was 290 miles away raced to her assistance, arriving about mirnight on Tue ance arriving, about midnight on Tuesday, Port Victor found Mossamedes abandoned.

British steamer despatch says, is still searching for boats. If necessary German steamer Orandi which is coaling at Walvis, will assist in search.

EVIDENCE WILL BE SENT TO ROUMANIA

WELLAND, Ont., April 26.—(Canadian Press). —The hearing of the evidence to be submitted to the Roumanian Government to have Nick Rutka charged with the murder of Adam Solton in Thorold August 20 1922, took place before Magistrate Goodwin yesterday afternoon in the presence of Inspector Greer of the Criminal Investigation dept and Inpector Stringer of the Provincial Police both of Toronto.

George Rutka a brother of the wanted man gave evidence that he heard of the murder the day following but had heard nothing of Nick until about three weeks ago when a letter was received by him from the home town in Roumania mentioning that Nick was there. Mike Smith a young boy gave details of the actual killing. This evidence alone was sufficient to implicate Nick Nutka.

Several other witnesses also gave details of events before and after the crime.

Nick Rutka has two othe r convictions for stabbing affairs one in Haileybury and the other in Montreal. He also has served a 40-day sentence at the jail farm for theft in Toronto. The evidence is not likely to reach Roumania for at least a month.

GIRL JUDGE HAS SENTENCED 25 MEN TO DEATH

Anna Gluzman, 23-Year-Old Judge, Has Imposed the Death Penalty on Twenty-Five Since February.

SELF-EDUCATED.

MOSCOW, April 26.—(Canadian Press.)— Citizeness Anna Gluzman, the 23-year-old presiding judge of the Moscow District Court, who a few days ago sent seven men to their death for robbery, informed the Associated Press correspondent yesterday that she had imposed the death penalty on about twenty-five persons since February, and had not lost a moment's sleep, or been troubled by her conscience because of them.

With a cigarette held firmly between tight lips and the fire of an enthusiast in her brown eyes, the girl judge spoke of her court experiences. She is slim and short, not at all pretty, her brown, wavy hair is bobbed and parted on the side like a man's; her jaw is stern.

A pleasant smile saved her from positive ugliness, but there was no hint of feminine finery in her rough, high boots, black skirt, blue denim workman's blouse, buttoned high at the neck and an old brown sweater which she wore. Her only ornament was the red enamelled badge of the Communist party.

"Since February I have tried eight or ten capital cases, mostly banditry and theft of public property," she said .She paused a moment to consider, when asked how many persons she had sentenced to death ,an danswered: "I think about twenty-five since February." These included one woman convicted last Thursday of assisting a gang of robbers.

"No, I have never seen an execution," she continued. "Sometimes the law requires the presiding judge to attend these, but always I have been busy at other things at the time and detailed someone else."

This new figure in Communist activities is a native of Kishinev, Bessarabia of Jewish parentage. She had to quit school and go to work when thirteen years of age, but she managed to educate herself and studied law at Odessa University. She joined the Communist Party in 1918 and served two years as judge of local tribunals in Kharkov, but never had a capital case until she came to Moscow. The Supreme Court of Russia, or the Central Executive Committee only can reverse or mitigate her decisions in the Moscow District Court.

Allies Refuse the Turkish Demands.

LAUSANNE, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—The Allied delegates to the Near East Conference yesterday refused the demand by the Turks for arbitration of the question of the sovereignty of the Casteloria Island, off the Asia Minor coast, which is now held by Italy and claimed by Turkey.

WHOLE EMPIRE REJOICED AS DUKE AND COMMONER WERE WED TODAY

FEW ADMITTED.

(By P. M. Sarl.)

LONDON, April 26 (United Press). — Amid scenes of extraordinary brilliance and naval, military, and religious pageantry, another British royal love match ended happily to-day, when the Duke of York, second son of King George and Queen Mary, led to the altar Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, younger daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore and Kinghorn, member of one of the most famous and ancient of Scotland's feudal families.

The Prince of Wales acted as best man to his brother, and attracted more attention than the bridegroom. The fact that, like his sister Princess Mary, who married Viscount Lascelles just fourteen months ago, the Duke of York had stepped outside the royal circle for a bride naturally increased public enthusiasm over the match; and everywhere the wish was heard that the Prince of Wales would also find an English bride.

Tickets Too Few.

From an early hour vast crowds thronged the streets and neighbourhood of Westminster Abbey—to which there was no hope of admission for anybody but carefully selected ticket-holders. Not even titles and blueblood were passports, and many notable folk had to be content with watching the arrival and departure of the royal processions from grand stands or balconies along the route. Some 2,000 tickets were in all 100 being reserved for the world's press, and the nicest discrimination had to be exercised to ensure that no person or body, national, municipal, local, industrial, charitable, social, etc., with which the bridal couple had ever been connected, was overlooked.

Practically the whole of the British royal family, including the latest "recruit," Viscount Lascelles, with many foreign royalties, and members of the bride's extensive family were present. Premier Bonar Law and the whole of the Cabinet were also there, together with representative delegations selected from the House of Lords and the House of Commons, including Asquith, Lloyd George, the Earl of Birkenhead, Viscount Grey, and the Labour leaders, Ramsay Macdonald, Arthur Henderson, J. H. Thomas, and J. R. Clynes, all with their wives.

Humbler Guests.

Despite the profusion of brilliant uniforms and rich costumes and jewels of the society women, there were many humbler-garbed folk, for the favoured ticket-holders included rough Yorkshire miners, tenants and servants from the bride's family estates, also a number of royal servants, tenants, and retainers from Sandringham, Windsor, and Balmoral.

Public bodies, particularly those Yorkshire and Scottish municipalities, etc., with which the bride's family are closely connected, were there in force, also detachments of boy scouts, girl guides, nurses, ex-"Waacs," "land girls," and ex-soldier associations. Practically every phase of British's war and peace time life was represented.

Naturally, naval, military, and other omcial uniforms predominated. But from the "service" point of view, it was a naval wedding, as the King, the Prince of Wales, and the bridegroom all wore naval uniforms, the King appearing as Admiral of the Fleet, Wales as a Captain, and York as a Commander of the Air Force.

The Earl of Balfour and Winston Churchill wore their "near-admiral" uniforms as "Elder Brothers of the Trinity House" (the British lighthouse and pilotage service).

The bridegroom and his brother-best-man arrived at the Abbey shortly before 11.30 a.m., having driven from Buckingham Palace escorted by red-trousered troopers of the 11th Hussars, of which the Duke of York is the colonel.

Duke and Duchess of York

Other members of the royal family arrived at carefully scheduled times, juniors first, and awaited the Sovereign's arrival at the main entrance. Their majesties were escorted by a sovereign's escort of cuirassed Life Guards.

The venerable Archbishop of Canterbury with the Archbishop of York the Bishop of London, and the Dean of Westminster, with their attendant clergy, were awaiting the monarchs at the entrance of the Abbey and a stately procession was formed to the chancel. Lady Elizabeth drove with her father from the Strathmore's town mansion, and looked radaint in a gown of "old parchment" color moire mousseline and silver tissue, a remarkable creation copied from a 14th century Florentine picture. Her bridal veil and train were composed of wonderful old lace given her by Queen Mary, and known as "the Queen's Lace." Awaiting her at the main entrance were the bridesmaids, a charming bevy of royal and aristocratic beauties with one untitled "commoner"—Miss Betty Cator and old school friend of the bride's.

A Simple Ceremony.

Escorted by clergy, the bride's procession made its way to the altar, the Earl of Strathmore placing his daughter's hand in that of the Duke of York, on reaching the chancel steps. Te actual ceremony was simple and followed the usual lines of the Church of England marriage ceremony, the bride promising to "honor and obey," as millions of her humbler sisters have done for ages past.

The congratulations in the Registry were ceremonious. The bridegroom kissed the hand, first of his bride and then his mother, the King giving his son a hearty handshake, and Queen Mary a motherly kiss.

The bride next advanced and curtseyed low before her royal "parents-in-law," receiving a hearty embrace from each, after which she was permitted to kiss her own mother and father.

The bridal procession reformed and escorted by the clergy made its way to the main entrance where the newly married couple etered a royal carriage drawn by six horses for their drive to Buckingham Palace, Life Guards and Hussars formed the escort.

The wedding breakfast was a brilliant affair, but the guests were strictly limited to members of the families of the "high contracting parties." After receiving numerous delegations bearing addresses of congratulation, the newly weds were permitted to change into travelling kit and depart for their honeymoon. The Duke's Hussar regiment provided the escort to the station.

Led by the energetic Prince George the Royal Family friends and servants pelted the happy couple with flowers rice and confetti, in quite ordinary "plebian" style.

Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon became the bride of the Duke of York garbed in a wedding gown of the fourteenth century.

Chiffon moire, is the official description of the material which clothed the young woman who today became England's Fourth Lady. The material followed the curve of the figure above the waist. The [illegible] long, reaching to the toes and is particularly full at the hem. [illegible]ming frocks include one of ivory georgette, another of fine lace skilfully draped, and a third is a picture frock of silver tissue with panniers of blue net on the skirt and girdled with tiny pink rosebuds. For this there has been designed a blue velvet cloak with a collar of white fox.

Among the boudoir coats — the new form of dressing jackets— are one of champagne crepe de chine edged with swansdown, and another of palest blue satin trimmed with pink marabout.

Much of the trousseau was made by special workers. Several orders for homespun tweeds and hand-knit woollen jumpers were given to the Porfar crofters around the bride's famous home at Glamis.

THREE IRREGULARS WERE EXECUTED

Were Members of Band Who Were Besieged in a Cave on the Kerry Coast.

DUBLIN, April 26.— (Canadian Press.)— The final chapter of the battle last week, in which a band of Irish Republicans were besieged in a cave on the Kerry coast by Free State troops, was written yesterday with the executions at Tralee, of three of the four captured rebels. They were Richard Hatheway, a deserter from the British Army; James McEnery, and John Greaney.

In explanation of the execution of the captives it was stated last night at Army headquarters that they had broken pledges made upon the occasion of a previous surrender, not to fight against the Free State. In statements made after their capture in the cave they set forth that, prior to giving their pledges, they had been members of the flying column headed by Lyons, Commander of the cave garrison, and that they had rejoined him only because of threats by Humphrey Murphy, rebel leader, that they would be shot within 24 hours for desertion unless they did so. Lyons was killed in the fight at the cave.

RAILWAYS ARE IN FAVOR OF A SEAWAY CANAL

St. Lawrence Project Considered Best Means of Improving Transportation Situation.

WESTERN ROADS.

CHICAGO, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—Seven of the largest railway system forming arteries of transportation throughout the Upper Mississippi Valley and the north west, through their president or other executives yesterday aligned themselves in favor of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project as one of the best means of improving national transportation situation.

Their stand in favor of the seaway project was announced by the road officials here yesterday at a meeting with the executive committee of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, including membership from 18 Middle Western States.

The opening of the Great Lakes to ocean shipping, railroad officials pointed out, will give numerous large western systems, serving an immense territory westward, direct ocean terminals and will be a big step in accelerating freight movement to Europe and the east, as well as clearing the way for necessary shipping to the eastern half of the United States.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project must be taken into consideration in any national plan for transportation improvement, Association members said. This already has been brought to the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission in its investigation of railroad groupings of the Central West.

Present at the meeting were W. H. Finley, President of the Chicago and Northwestern; S. M. Felton, President of the Great Western; Gentry Waldo, representing the Union Pacific; Ralph Budd, President of the Great Northern; R. V. Clark, Assistant to the President of the Northern Pacific; H. R. Safford, Vice-President of the Burlington, and W. G. Bierd, President of the Chicago and Alton.

HOUSE OF DAVID COLONY AGAIN INTO TROUBLE

SUBPOENAS ISSUED.

ST JOSEPH, Mich., April 26. — (Canadian Press.) — The State's Grand Jury investigation of charges of immorality against Benjamin Jurnell, head of the House of David Colony, took a new turn yesterday when six members of the sect were denied marriage licenses by order of Attorney General Andrew Dougherty. Later it was discovered another couple from the colony had obtained a license without the knowledge of the Attorney General and were married Tuesday night.

While the disappointed couples were returning home subpoenas were hurriedly issued for the three prospective brides and members of the State Constabulary and Sheriff George Bridgman of Berrien County were desatched to bring them before the Grand Jury.

The officers failed to find them, but brought in Bessie Daniels, 18 years old ,who was married Tuesday night to Emerald Woodward, also 18, and the authorities of the House of David Colony promised to produce the other girls wanted.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1923.

SAVE THE NEWSPAPERS.

This week is being observed as "Save-the-Forest Week," and the newspapers are, as usual, being called upon to devote much space to putting this matter before the people of Canada.

Recognizing the importance of the question and the necessity of a country-wide awakening to the fact that our timber resources are being destroyed by fires, the majority of which are preventable, many newspapers, the Examiner included, have used both their news and editorial columns in calling attention to the "Save-the-Forest" campaign.

But in this instance, as well as in many other drives of the same kind, the generosity of the papers is being taken advantage of.

There is no reason why if the Government or anybody else wants to place propaganda before the people the usual channel should not be followed.

The advertising column of the newspaper is the proper place for such publicity, and an intelligent, snappy, to-the-point display would do the work much more effectively than depending upon the good-nature of the various journals.

And it would be much fairer to the newspapers as well.

If many more such campaigns are inaugurated it will be necessary to establish a "Save-the-Newspaper Week."

There is a limit to everything, even to the amount of space a paper can devote to propaganda of this kind.

AN ELECTION MANOEUVRE?

In introducing legislation which favours the counties of Ontario at the expense of the municipalities, as does the proposed amendment to the Provincial Highways Act, which would authorize the payment by the Provincial Government of the portion of the cost of construction, repair and maintenance of highways hitherto charged to the counties, the Government will have difficulty in convincing urban dwellers that the approaching election has not considerable to do with the change in policy.

The amendment is retroactive in its operation to the beginning of last May.

That looks very much like an attempt to dissipate the none too gentle criticism of Mr. Biggs' road policy that has been frequently aired in Farmers' meetings.

The Provincial highway policy has been none too popular in the rural sections, and with an election in sight this last-minute amendment, which would relieve the counties of their share of the future cost of such roads and of what has been spent in the last year, has every appearance of campaign propaganda.

The municipalities will wait upon Hon. Mr. Biggs to urge that the same exemption be extended to them.

It should be, or else the amendment should be abandoned.

There is no logical reason why the counties should have this privilege if the urban municipalities are not to be included. All sections are entitled to equitable treatment, and the fact that an election is at hand should not be considered as justification for discrimination.

EDUCATING THE TAXPAYERS.

The system that has been adopted by the Hamilton Tax Collector's Department of sending out with each tax paper a statement showing exactly how the ratepayers' money is expended is worthy of imitation in other cities.

The information as to the disposition of the taxes is printed in red at the bottom of the tax bill, and every ratepayer in Hamilton is thus able to learn at a glance how his contribution to the city treasury is utilized.

This seems a very desirable innovation.

The auditors' reports are seen by only a few people, and although the newspapers usually publish a financial statement each year, it is often missed by many readers and is soon forgotten by those who do glance over the figures.

The Hamilton plan is inexpensive, it reaches every ratepayer and it supplies information that the people should know in a form that brings the important statistics directly home to those who should be most interested in them.

Such a method should have considerable educational value and should result in keener interest in civic affairs, and especially in civic finances.

The majority of citizens should know how much money is being expended on education, on parks and other features of the municipal administration, and the Hamilton plan puts them in possession of this information.

The Peterborough tax bills as used now furnish some data as to the manner in which the taxation is divided, but the more complete statement used in Hamilton might be of more value.

CANADA'S MINERAL COMMERCE.

Canadians have long been taught and accustomed to place mineral resources in a high rank among the Dominion's industrial assets, and, on that account, perhaps the greatest surprise that greets anyone who has had little occasion to study our national trade balance is the fact that Canada is heavily a debtor country in regard to mineral products, says the Ottawa Journal. The formidable sum of more than $190,000,000 is the amount by which the value of our exports of mineral commodities during the past year has fallen short of meeting the bill for our mineral purchases abroad.

The Canadian trade returns include three broad classes of commodities which are wholly or mainly of mineral origin: (1) iron and steel products; (2) metals other than iron, such as copper, tin and the precious metals; (3) non-metallic minerals, such as coal, oil, asbestos, glass and clay products. It should be noted that each main class includes highly manufactured articles as well as ores and other mine products in raw state. Altogether our imports under these three broad classes of merchandise amounted to roughly $307,000,000, while our total sale to other countries aggregated about $115,000,000. Thus on this group of foreign commerce items we incurred a national trade deficit of $192,000,000.

Viewed in the light of the Dominion's commercial balance sheet, it is doubtful whether any single class of natural resources now merits closer study than mineral areas as the foundation on which to build new Canadian development. Wheat lands and pulpwood areas have in turn attracted huge extensions of industry during the past quarter of a century. The growth which they have supported has vastly enhanced Canada's standing as a creditor country in regard to such commodities as cereals, lumber and paper, but that same growth has incidentally served to accentuate very sharply our debtor position with respect to iron and steel goods, coal, oil and mineral products in general. This broad result leaves no doubt that national development policies for the immediate future should turn much greater attention to every form of investigation and research serving to convert our unused mineral areas into active industrial assets.

THE FREIGHT RATES COMBINE.

The gravest feature of the interim report on ocean freight rates presented by the Special Committee of the House of Commons named to investigate conditions surrounding the agricultural industry is not that there is a combine of the various shipping companies, but that the Canadian Mercantile Marine has been a member of the combine.

That is an extraordinary condition of affairs.

The Government of the United States has forced the Shipping Board of that country, which controls the nationally owned ships to reduce rates for the transportation of flour ground in the United States and billed for Europe.

That move was met by the North Atlantic Conference lines, in other words, the shipping combine by the establishment of a rate of 15c per 100 pounds on American ground flour, while the rate on the Canadian ground article was maintained at 19c per 100 weight.

And Canada's own Mercantile Marine, owned by the Canadian people, was a party to this agreement, and "sat in" at conferences when a rate discriminating against Canadian products was established.

The committee's report in referring to this feature of the situation is all too mild when it declares that "the committee feel in this regard that the vast sums spent by the Canadian people on the development of a Merchant Marine was never intended to bring about this result."

The people of Canada will demand a correction of this evil as soon as is possible.

BETTER RETURNS FOR FARMERS AND FISHERMEN.

It is great good news to hear that we are going to bring in about ten thousand new settlers from Great Britain this year.

But it is a bit discouraging to turn to another column and find Premier Taschereau of Quebec wondering what we can do to stop "the exodus" from the rural sections of this fine, fat Province—and to see in still another column Premier Armstrong of Nova Scotia (who has just smashed a "Secession" resolution in his own Legislature) telling us that "all our fine young fishermen are packing up and leaving for the United States . . . where the growing fishing towns along the Massachusetts Coast are now populated largely by Nova Scotians and descendants of Nova Scotians"—and to read in yet other columns of the steady drainage of discouraged farmers from the Western prairies, even after a good harvest.

We want to get the hardy, hard-working and thrifty sons of the British Isles; but we want also to keep our own sons, men brought up amidst our native conditions, inured to our climate and familiar with our institutions. We want furthermore to make sure of keeping this ten thousand over whose arrival we are rejoicing. It is of little use for this country to serve as a relaying station on the highroad between Europe and the United States.

* * * * *

It is easy to admit that the present is a trying time for agriculture all over the world—and especially in this Western world. American publications are full of "hard luck stories" from their own farming sections. It is a tale of mounting mortgages, abandoned farms and fleeing farmers. Some of them are coming to Canada. There is undoubtedly a reciprocal movement on both sides of the border among farmers who undertook too much under the hot-house inflation of war prices, and are now merely seeking to get from under and try their luck in a new land.

But when we have made all the discounts and deductions possible, there still remains a problem—and it is a problem which is more serious for Canada than for her large and wealthy neighbor, who is attracting so many immigrants that she has to establish a deadline. Individual Americans may suffer from conditions of this sort, and suffer to the uttermost. But the American nation as a whole is not threatened.

He would be a blind optimist who would venture to say as much for Canada. This is a condition of affairs that we simply cannot permit to continue. It is not a sectional condition. The West has no monopoly in this human hemorrhage. The East is suffering too—the very East which some short-sighted Westerners are so fond of blaming. And the losses in the East are at least as serious as those in the West.

The problem which Parliament should take in hand is to make the lot of the direct developers of natural resources more attractive. That is the whole thing in a sentence. The man who catches the fish must not be so poorly rewarded in comparison with the man who merely sells it, or transports it, or cooks it, or serves it. The man who grows food must not be denied the winning amenities of life, while they are lavished—often to the verge of boredom—on the man who markets it, or retails it, or exchanges for it some city-made product.—Montreal Star.

EPWORTH LEAGE OF CAMPBELLFORD MET

Pleasant and Profitable Evening Spent—Personal Mention and News Nggets.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 26.—A very interesting and profitable meeting of the Epworth League was held on Monday evening in charge of the 4th vice-president, Mrs. C. W. Turner. Mrs. Turner gave gave a very excellent paper on "What Christian citizenship means to the community." Miss Cherrie Turner, who is a promising young musician gave a pianoforte solo, which was exceptionally well rendered. A chorus by the Canadian Girls-in-Training and a reading by Miss A. Arnold were also well received.

Following the league the Tuxis Square boys met and the C.G.I.T. girls spent a pleasant evening in games.

Personal News.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Williams, Ranney street motored to Cobourg on Sunday and spent the day at the home of the formers' sister, Mrs. Cowain.

Miss Jennie Nancarrow is in Toronto attending the mid-summer millinery openings and will also go on to Windsor, where she will be a delegate from the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of St. Andrews' church to a missionary convention there.

Frends of Mr. Edison Wynn are extending congratulations on his splendid success in obtaining second class certificate at the butter makers' course, at the Dairy School, Kingston.

Mr. Harry Denike has purchased the fine residence of Mrs. Robert Linn, Rear street and will occupy the same in the near future.

Interesting Meeting Millbrook Auxiliary.

MILLBROOK, April 26.—The Women's Auxiliary of St. Thomas Church held their April meeting at the home of Miss Annie Armstrong, a good attendance of members being present. The President, Mrs. (Canon) Allen, was in the chair and conducted the opening worship period, which is one of the most helpful features of the auxiliary meetings. The Secretary, Mrs. Whyte, read the minutes of the last regular meeting and a number of business items received attention, among them being arrangements for having Rev. Mr. Grobb of All Saints' Church, Peterborough, to give his illustrated lecture on "The Passion Play" on Monday, May 14, at 8 p.m. As Mr. Grobb took the views for his lecture while at Oberammergau last year and gives his talk from personal observation and experience, a real treat is in store for all who are privileged to hear him. The auxiliary will make every possible effort to have a large audience present on the occasion of his lecture here.

The correspondence letter from the Diocesan Secretary was read and its information and advice discussed and appreciated. Mrs. Charles McNeil, who succeeds Mrs. C. Needler as Treasurer of the auxiliary, took up the duties of her office for the first time at Monday's meeting. The matter of appointing two delegates to attend the annual meeting in Toronto on May 7 was taken up, but the names not yet definitely decided upon. The missionary study book for the year having been completed no further work along that line will now be done until the meetings re-open next September for the fall and winter months.

The Only "Eight" of its Kind in Value, in Size, in Price

The Oldsmobile Eight-Cylinder Sedan combines a degree of beauty, comfort and mechanical excellence usually found only in the costliest cars.

Its rich upholstery, its durable, soft-toned mohair plush over interlaced hair, and the incomparable Marshall-type springs insure thorough comfort. People comment on the fact that the interior affords more room than cars of equal wheel base. The equipment includes heater, dome and corner lamps, satin silver-finished interior hardware, certain and silent window-lifting devices, sun visor, cowl ventilator, locks on all four doors, walnut steering wheel, rear view mirror, window lifters and shades, windshield wiper, beautiful walnut-finish instrument board with symmetrical grouping of nickeled instruments.

The eight-cylinder motor of this high-grade sedan is powerful, flexible, smooth-running and vibrationless—a power plant in every way fitting a car so unusually good. We invite your judgment of this sedan from any standpoint, confident that for beauty, comfort, utility or performance, it has no equal at anywhere near the price.

ONTARIO LIBERALS NOT TO JOIN HANDS WITH U.F.O. FOR ELECTIONS

Lone Member Who Advocated Union Was Howled Down at Meeting in Toronto.

HARDY EXPLAINS.

TORONTO, April 26, Canadian Press. — Official Ontario Liberalism apart from the elected members of the Legislature, decided emphatically yesterday to "stand on its own pins" in the approaching provincial elections. The executive of the Ontario Liberal Association yesterday morning passed a resolution that the Liberals run a candidate in every riding. Yesterday afternoon the Liberal Club Federation of Ontario passed a resolution "that in order to establish and maintain a stable and progressive form of government, it is necessary for all like minded citizens to unite with the Liberals in returning to power a Liberal government." Previous to this resolution passing, E. Fielding of Toronto, rose to speak, advocating that the Liberals join with Premier Drury. He got no further than a few sentences before he was hauled down. The convention made it plain that it would stand for no such talk. As a result the resolution passed unanimously.

At the meeting of the Liberal Club Federation Senator A. C. Hardy gave some explanation of his letter addressed to J. A. Currie, M.L.A., but which was intended for J. W. Curry, M.L.A., which was read in the Legislature last week by J. A. Currie. He said that he had no apology to offer and that if any one doubted his Liberalism after his own record, and that of his family, that he was prepared to welcome their doubts. "It was a most informal letter. It represented no official opinion," he said. "I never discussed with any of the Liberal leaders the proposition of amalgamation. I had in Ottawa an informal call from J. W. Curry, and the letter followed. This morning the executive of the Liberal association was good enough to insist that I remain as president for the full period of my term."

The reading of the letter, he said, showed the nature of the following behind Hon. G. Howard Ferguson. Senator Hardy said that the present cabinet was no credit to Mr. Drury, and that Mr Hay would be the next Prime Minister because he had earned the respect of Ontario.

The Federation passed resolutions favoring the alternative vote in ridings where two or more candidates offered themselves for election; that representation by population should be observed with a due regard for county boundaries, and that redistribution measures should not be brought down during the dying hours of a Parliament but during the first session following a census; that proportional representation should be the method of election and should be tried out by grouping certain ridings.

Another resolution stated that the Liberals were supporters and believers in the generation and transmission of Hydro electric power, and wishing to extent the benefits thereof, resolved that the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission be instructed to report forthwith upon plans for the development of the St. Lawrence with the governments of Canada and the United States. The resolution also asserted the rights of waters within the province not wanted for navigation purposes. Another demanded that Hydro municipalities have better and adequate representation upon the Hydro Commission. Another advocated more equitable Hydro power rates in Ontario.

Other resolutions favored greater educational advantages and the creation of a bureau of agricultural scientific research, better marketing facilities for farm products, and the teaching of more practical agriculture in educational institutions.

The Federation elected the following officers: Hon. Presidents, Right Hon. W. L. King and F. Wellington Hay; President, W. K. Murphy, Toronto; Vice-Presidents, L. M. Patterson, Fort William; Colonel E. D. O'Flynn, Belleville; Russell Treleaven, Hamilton; Dr. J. M. Rogers, Ingersoll; Secretary, J. D. Peck, Toronto; Treasurer, D. W. Lang, Toronto; Executive, Gordon Conant, former president, Oshawa; J. Chisholm, Oshawa; A. Shea, Kingston; J. A. Stewart, Indian River; Dr. I. C. Mackie, Brampton; Claude Sanagan, Toronto; Frank Denton, Toronto, Andrew Robson, London, Alex. Stewart, Guelph; W. H. Furlong, Windsor, and H. P. Binney, Owen Sound.

An official statement issued after the private meeting of the executive of the Ontario Liberal Association in the forenoon, said, that Senator Hardy after much persuasion had withdrawn his resignation as president of the Ontario Liberal Association. It also stated that Dr. H. J. Cascaden and H. J. Kirby of Toronto had been appointed to the management committee.

It was moved by W. H. Wright, Owen Sound, and seconded by T. B. McQuesten, Hamilton, that Liberal candidates be nominated in every riding.

Speeches were made by Wellington Hay, Liberal leader, H. H. Dewart, K. C., M.L.A., and Major J. C. Tolmie, M.L.A.

An Impressive Sermon to Young People — News Nuggets of Interest.

CAVAN, April 26.—Rev. S. G. Rorke occupied the pulpit of his own church on Sunday evening. He spoke particularly to the young people, impressing upon them the wisdom of uniting themselves with some branch of the Church of God. He assured them that the chuch needed young folks and that still more they needed the church. He said: "In the beginning God founded three institutions for the development of man— the Sabbath, the home, and the church. All were essential if we make of life what we are intended to."

Two weeks from last night's service will be sacrament Sunday. Mr. Rorke wishes to have Rev. I. Craw preach on that occasion. He also intends having a reception for any who desire to unite with the church.

NO AFFILIATION WITH THE U.F.O.

Province-Wide Liberal Organizations Insist on Candidate For Election in Every Constituency.

TORONTO, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—Two Province-wide Liberal organizations, the Executive Committee of the Ontario Liberal Association and the Ontario Federation of Young Men's Liberal Clubs, yesterday repudiated the suggestion that Ontario Liberals consider co-operation with U.F.O. forces during the forthcoming contest for Provincial political honors.

In session yesterday morning, 150 members of the Liberal Executive had voted unanimously in endorsation of a resolution declaring that a Liberal candidate should be nominated in every constituency of the Province. These pronouncements followed speeches by F. Wellington Hay, Provincial Liberal leader; H. H. Dewart, K.C., M.L.A., and Major J. C. Tolmie, M.L.A., all three of whom expressed the conviction that, given the united, loyal and energetic support of the rank and file of Liberalism throughout Ontario, the June election would place a Liberal Government on the treasury benches at Queen's Park.

A few hours after 400 delegates in open convention of the Liberal Club Federation, supplemented the first declaration by unanimously accepting a resolution which in effect denounced a group or coalition government, refused alliance with the Farmers and invited all progressive-minded citizens, whether U.F.O. or otherwise, to join with Liberalism with the object of establishing a stable Liberal Government.

DRURY HOPES TO PATCH UP A TRUCE

Has Arranged For a Meeting With the U. F. O. Executive Today.

TORONTO, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—Premier Drury to-day will attempt to patch up a truce between the Government and the U.F.O. organization. In political circles it was no secret that the Premier had arranged to meet the U.F.O. Executive this morning. The discussion, it is expected, will range around steps the Government intends taking if it returns from the polls lacking a majority. The Farmers' Sun recently intimated that, lacking a promise from the Premier that there would be no attempt to affiliate with the Liberals after the election, there would be no agreement between the opposing factions in the Farmers' camp.

Second, a courteous showing to inquirers.

Third, a fair price.

The last of these is so important that it merits discussion by itself. To begin with, just what is a "fair price"? We hear the expression again and again, yet often people cannot agree on what a fair price is. Knowing how to set a fair price on what he offers is not only a moral satisfacton to the Want Advertiser—he likes to feel he is doing the square thing by others—but a business asset as well. Fair prices speed sales, make friends.

A fair price is a price which is just to both parties. When the article or service is being commonly traded in, so that a definite, readily determined "market" exists, it is a quite simple matter to arrive at a fair price. From the seller's standpoint, it is a figure which is neither above, nor below, what others are selling the same thing for under similar conditions. The price is "in line with the market." It is fair to the buyer, as he would have to pay as much to any other seller.

One business man, pondering a price, puts these questions to himself. "Could I, perhaps, get a little more than this if I asked for it? If I asked less than this, would I be unfair to myself?" If he is able to answer, "Yes," to both questions, he feels he is right in his price, it is fair, reasonable.

Often prices must be set where there are no recent similar sales to guide. The two questions just given are good ones to consider in such cases. Another point to consider is, "What could the buyer do if he tried to buy closely?"

When Want advertiser and buyer together eliminate a middleman, a fair price is one which permits each to share in the benefit enjoyed.

Every Want advertiser should strive to set fair prices. They pay, in cold business. They spell quick sales, satisfied buyers.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"She ought to say nice things about me," he replied casually. "When she was quite a little girl she was given to understand that her ultimate mission in life was to marry me. Of course I always realized that it would not be a compliment to Anita to indicate that I was not head over heels in love with her; I merely pretended I was too bashful to mention it. Finally one day Anita suggested, as a favor to her and for the sake of my own self-respect, that I abandon the pose; with tears in her eyes she begged me to be a gallant rebel and save her from the loving solicitude of her parents to see her settled in life. At that moment I almost loved her, particularly when, having assured her of my entire willingness and ability to spoil everything, she kissed me rapturously on both cheeks and confided to me that she was secretly engaged to an engineer chap who was gophering for potash in Death Valley. The war interrupted his gophering but Anita informs me that he found the potash, and now he can be a sport and bet his potash against Senora Sepulvida's crude oil. Fortunately, my alleged death gave Anita an opportunity to advance his claims, and he was in a fair way of becoming acceptable until my unexpected return rather greased the skids for him. Anita's mother is trying to give the poor devil the double-cross now, but I told Anita she needn't worry."

Kay's eyes danced with merriment—and relief. "But," she persisted, "you told me your problem was settled. And it isn't."

"It is. I'm going to sell about eighteen thousand dollars worth of cattle off this ranch, and I've leased the valley grazing privilege for one year for ten thousand dollars. My raid on Loustalot netted me sixty-seven thousand dollars, so that my total bankroll is now about ninety-five thousand dollars. At first I thought I'd let Bill Conway have most of my fortune to help him complete that dam, but I have now decided to stop work on the dam and use all of my energy and my fortune to put through such other deals as may occur to me. If I am lucky I shall emerge with sufficient funds to save the ranch. If I am unlucky, I shall lose the ranch. Therefore, the issue is decided. 'God's in his Heaven; all's right with the world.' What have you been doing all day?"

"Painting and sketching. I'll never be a worthwhile artist, but I like to paint things for myself. I've been trying to depict on canvas the San Gregorio in her new spring gown, as you phase it. The arrival of the Sepulvida family interrupted me, and I've been sitting here since they departed. We had tea."

"Getting a trifle bored with the country, Kay? I fancy you find it lonely out here."

"It was a trifle quiet while you were in hospital. Now that you're back, I suppose we can ride occasionally and visit some of the places of local interest."

"By all means. As soon as I get rid of that little bunch of cattle I'm going to give a barbecue and festival to the countryside in honor of my guests. We'll eat a half dozen fat two-year-old steers and about a thousand loaves of bread and a couple of barrels of claret and a huge mess of chilli sauce. When I announce in the El Toro Sentinel that I'm going to give a fiesta and that everybody is welcome, all my friends and their friends and relatives will come and I shall be spared the trouble of visiting them individually. Don Nicolas Sandoval remarked when he collected that Loustalot judgment for that, now that I could afford it, Mother Sepulvida suggested it and Anita seconded the motion. It will probably be the last event of its kind on such a scale ever given in California, and when it is finished it will have marked my transition from an indolent ranchero to some sort of commercial go-getter."

"I see. Little Mike, the Hustler."

He nodded, rose and stood before her, smiling down at her with an inscrutable little smile. "Will you motor me in to El Toro to-morrow morning?" he pleaded. "I must go there to arrange for cattle cars."

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know that these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach, which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

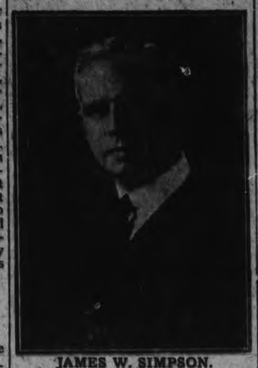
HERE THE MAN PAYS!

PARIS (United Press)—Before leaving Cameron, M. Carde, the governor-general, introduced the marriage custom. He prescribed a species of limited polygamy, four wives for a chief, three for a subchief, one for the ordinary person and faithfulness for all. When a Cameron buck decides to take unto himself a wife he has to deposit a certain sum with the parents. If she is unfaithful, the money is returned to him. If he breaks his marriage vows, the parents keep the money.

CONFERENCE OF ASSURANCE MEN

Delegates Motored to the Lift Locks and Other Points of Interest.

Life Assurance men from all over this part of the province came together for a conference, when the agents of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada met this afternoon. The following officials from Head Office are in the city in connection with the gathering: Mr. J. W. Simpson, Superintendent of Agencies, Mr. J. B. Mabon, Asisstant Actuary, Mr. Geo. H. Harris, Supervisor Field Service Bureau, and Mr. W. Stuart Penny, Inspector of Home Agencies.



JAMES W. SIMPSON.

The local manager, Mr. J. F. H. Wallace, took the chair at the first meeting. In a few suitable words he welcomed the men to the city. Greeting was also extended to the outside delegates by the local branch of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. Mr. J. W. Simpson officially opened the convention by a few well chosen remarks, in which he dwelt on the importance of local gatherings, which gave an opportunity to many of the company's representatives who were unable to attend the larger conventions held from time to time. He welcomed the men to a Sun Life Family Gathering, and hoped that the proceedings would be more of a conference than of a formal nature. Mr. J. B. Mabon gave an excellent address on some of the actuarial problems of the Life Assurance business. An interesting discussion took place, during which Mr. Mabon was able to answer questions on his particular subject. Two papers were listened to with great interest—one given by Mr. J. F. Hinchey, of Belleville, on Consecutive Weekly Production, and the other by Mr. J. A. Tedford, of Peterborough, on Novel Methods of Presenting the Assurance Idea.

Later in the afternoon the delegate were motored to the Lift Locks and other points of interest. Tonight the party are attending the Capitol Theatre.

ENGLISH LAYMEN IN DEEP FEAR OF FOREIGN INVADER.

Ten Years Has Developed Weapon That Defies Tradition—Have Planes But Not Enough For Defence.

By LYLE C. WILSON.

LONDON, April 25.—(United Press).—England is in the unhappy position of a fine old diningroom table from which has suddenly been cut one of the necessary four legs. Englishmen are groping around, wonderingly for that satisfying, "splendid isolation" which has so long provided them peace and freedom from war in the homeland.

For the first time in nearly 1,000 years this country is subject to the invading whim of any country sufficiently supplied with the tools of invasion.

The tools are airplanes.

The vanished bulwarks are the English Channel and the North Sea.

Barriers Swept Away.

These two tempestuous bodies of water have disappeared in a military sense, as surely as though they had been swallowed in the cavernous maw of a great earth schism.

Military maps are due for revision. Oceans, rivers, bridges, mountain chains—all those natural barriers which have weaved themselves into the stirring tales of former wars, are, in a military sense, obsolete.

The whole science of warfare, brought, it was thought, to the highest possible pitch of excellence during the war, is being turned inside out.

England, which since 1066 has confidently relied on her water frontiers to stave off foreign forces, is looking the facts in the face for the first time since they became visible some six years ago.

What Chancellor Baldwin terms a "profound difference in English and French opinion" has turned the thoughts of Englishmen to what might happen if France were minded to make use of her powerful air fleet against England.

England's Danger.

Englishmen are concretely examining the fact that any country equipped with a proper air fleet, could sail planes high above the waves one day, inflict incalculable damage on England; return home and send in a bill for the gas and explosives used in the raid.

That spectre of foreign invasion, called up for the first time in ten centuries, has taken a prominent seat about the English firesides. Englishmen cringe from its raw ugliness. But it is there.

It remains to be seen whether England will await a possible catastrophe before she accepts the proof that the sinews of the threat are not of gossamer thread texture.

A THOUGHT

And all mine are thine and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them. —St. John 17:10.

Half the misery of human life might be extinguished, would men alleviate the general curse they lie under, by mutual offices of compassion, benevolence and humanity.—Addison.

Even if women do have more sense than men you never see a man button his shirt up the back.

TURNING THINGS TOPSY-TURVY.

A negro farm tenant, his wife and their child, were in this house when a tornado picked it up, carried it 12 feet and dropped it on its roof in Wake County, N.C. The occupants escaped unhurt.

ECZEMA

Hands Were Raw

Would Crack and Bleed

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is commonly called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when exposed to heat, are almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

The pre-eminent success which

has met with in permanently removing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

Mrs. M. R. Willard, Dudswell Jct., Que., writes: "For about three years I had eczema, in a very bad form, on my hands. They were all raw and would crack and bleed so that I could not do my housework. I tried everything I could think of without any results. At last I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had it about all taken I could see it was helping me; by the time I had taken five bottles my hands were all well again and I have not been bothered since. I cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters enough."

PRESSURE ON LUNGS CAUSED BY GAS

Often a dull, full feeling in chest is caused by gas from undigested food pressing upwards towards lungs, Sometimes gas presses on heart and is mistaken for heart trouble. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and stops pressure almost INSTANTLY in many cases. Removes surprising matter from BOTH upper and lower bowel which formed gas and poisoned stomach. Adlerika is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. McDermid & Jury; and E. L. Payne druggists.

DULL SESSION IN LEGISLATURE

Many Bills of Minor Importance Are Being Brought Up — Price of Liquor Asked.

TORONTO, April 26.— (Canadian Press.)—Yesterday afternoon's session of the Legislature was one of the dullest this session. The rapid approach of the date of dissolution is more than evident from the nature of the discussion and the bills before the House. The opening moments yesterday were devoted to clearing from the order a number of questions that have been before the House since the first few weeks of the session. Answering such a question Mr. Raney stated that the Gregory Public Service Commission had not as yet submitted a report on the matter of Registry Offices. He stated that all data for the compilation of the report had been gathered leaving only the report to be drafted. This had been delayed by Mr Gregory's appointment to the Hydro Investigating Commission.

Hon. Howard Ferguson wanted to know if Mr. Gregory was indispensible and whether the report could not be prepared without his presence. Mr. Raney stated that Mr. Sommerville, the only other lawyer on the Commission, had been ill for some time and that the legislature was no worse off for waiting for the information.

Sertg.-Major J .McNamara (Independent, Riverdale) had filed a question asking for the wholesale price of the various brands of government liquor and the retail price received for it. Mr. Raney thought that it was not in the public interest to answer the question, but stated that the value of government liquor stocks, including excise taxes paid, was $1,010,174.

The House went into Committee on Hon. G. S. Henry's bill to amend the Cemetery Act, which provides that the cemetery boards shall take care of neglected plots when the owners cannot be found and also gives them the power to sell such abandoned lots. A special clause will bring in cemeteries now acting under private bills. The bill stood for further consideration.

A bill to amend the Commissioners for Taking Affidavits Act passed through committee. It extends to the clerk of the county or local municipality the power to administer oaths.

Dr. H. A Stevenson, (Labor, London) was successful in having his bill relating to the University of Western Ontario pass the committee. The City of London Bill providing for the sale of Federal Square in London and applying the proceeds to the building of a city hall was passed by the committee.

Nominations for the new Council for York City were set at June 16 next and elections on June 23 in the bill to incorporate the city which passed through committee.

Hon .Peter Smith' bill to amend the Billiard Room and Bowling Alley License Act also passed committee. It provides that all licenses shall continue in force until May 31 following the date of issue and fixes fees on licenses for parts of the year.

Hon. F. C. Bigg's Bill to amend the Highway Travel Act was subjected to lengthy discussion in committee. R. L. Brackin raised strenuous objection to the fact that there was no provision for the impounding of foreign cars that cause damage in motor accidents on Canadian Highways or some other bond of good faith pledged until such time as the damage claim could be setted. He stated that American cars could come into Canada and do damage and escape scot free by crossing the border. Hon. W. E. Raney did not think the proposed amendment was practicable.

WEDDING BELLS

CLARKE—PEACOCK.

COLBORNE, April 26.—A fashionable marriage took place at St. Mark's chucr, Port Hope on Saturday, when Ruth Emma, daughter of Capt. James H. and Mrs. Peacock, Port Hope, was married to Mr. Rupert J .Clarke, son of Mrs. Joseph Clarke of this place. Rev. Canon Rigby conducted the ceremony. The bride's gown was white satin crepe with overdress of Spanish lace, with bridal veil and she carried a boquet of sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and orchids. She wore also the groom's gift, a beautiful platinum pin, diamond set. The attendents were the bride's cousin, Miss Carrie Matthews of Rochester and her niece, Miss Margaret Jamieson of Port Hope. They wore pretty gowns of yellow and rose taffeta and carried roses. The groomsman was Mr. Wallace W. McGlennon of Colborne and the ushers were Mr. Harry McDougall of Rochester and Mr. W F. McMahon of Port Hope. Miss Gladys Westaway sang during the signing of the register.

The groom's gifts to the attendants were: to the maid of honor, a platinum whole pearl pin; to the bridesmaid, a platinum pendant pin; to the groomsman, a platinum diamond tie pin, and to the ushers, gold cuff links.

Following the church ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Capt .and Mrs. Peacock. After congratulations and good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left for a trip to Ottawa, the bride wearing a smart suit of navy poiret twill with hat to match and grey squirrel choker. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will take up residence here, where they will be heartily welcomed by our citizens.

WILL SAIL THE PACIFIC IN A HOME MADE SUB

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 26.— (United Press)—William Roland, 42, carpenter and fisherman, plans to depart soon for Madagascar, on the east coast of Africa in a 30-foot wooden submarine he has built, the "Roland Neptune."

Roland built his craft on Mormon Island, in the inner harbor, during the past two years. The peculiar vessel is only seven feet deep, and has a one-cylinder motorcycle engine to furnish power, with sails for auxiliary power.

Roland plans to catch fish through a hatch in the bottom of the boat. In case the craft capsizes, the navigator will escape through the hatch in the bottom, and then will utilize a collapsible liferaft which he will carry, lashed to the deck.

The sail can be taken down like a periscope when he wants to submerge. As soon as he finishes a few more details, Roland plans to take a tank of gasoline, water, beans and sea biscuit, and start for Madagascar. He is 42, and has been a sailor all his life, and feels confident that he can make the trip.

Italian Forces Defeated Rebels.

ROME, April 26. — (Canadian Press). — Further details of last week's fighting in which the Italian troops in Tripoli defeated the Senussi rebels show that the latter lost 600 killed and wounded including Chief Abullah Hollum, who was killed in the fighting. The commander of the Italian troops was seriously wounded.

Six hundred of the enemy encamped forty miles from Agedabia, where the headquarters of the Senossi Chief was occupied, surrendered their arms to an Italian column.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and couldbarely do my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do every thing that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY HAENCHEN, 944 36th St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

INDIFFERENCE IN AID TO ORIENTALS

OTTAWA, April 26.— (Canadian Press).—The greatest ally of the Oriental in entering Canada has been the apathy of the easterner who persistently has refrained from carefully studying the situation and has always looked on the appeals of the British Columbian as being of a political nature, and not taken this whole matter verp seriously, according to Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, member for Victoria in the federal house and a member of the Meighen cabinet, in the late Government.

"There is only one kind of a law to pass and that is a law which means total exclusion with the exception of permitting trade under proper regulations."

Dr. Tolmie reiterates that the Asiatic is not a desirable settler, that he will not assimilate, and if Canadians are to compete with him they must entirely change their standard of living. He urges that Canada profit by the experience of the United States, where, he says, much more severe immigration laws were passed after many thousands of immigrants of a low type had gained access to that country.

Dr. Tolmie further stated that in spite of British Columbia legislation backed to the limit by business organizations and various associations, the people of the coast province had been met in the east by "procrastinating politicians who have failed to give us legislation that would properly meet the situation, and no single party is more to blame than the other in this particular respect.' The result had been that they had seen "abortive legislation, half way measures, jelly-fishing for fear of hurting the feelings of the Orientals until the hinese question, once a very simple one, is now developed into an Oriental problem that is very dificult to meet.

"I want to say that this country and its representatives must wake up if we are to preserve Canada as a white man's country to be enjoyed by this and future generations."

Referring to a bill which is scheduled to come before the commons at any time now, Dr. Tolmie contends that it "proposes to leave wide open the entry of merchants into Canada."

"Anyone, he says, "familiar with the situation on the Pacific coast must know that we have too many Chinese merchants in this country now and their competition is very keenly felt by those of our own race in the same line of business."

The clause covering merchants, he says, also will lead to a great deal of misrepresentation. "Experience of immigration agents in the past clearly shows that no loop-holes should have been left.

NEWS BRIGHTON AND DISTRICT

BRIGHTON, April 26.—Brighton township council at its last meeting made an appropriation of $4,500 for work on the different highways of the municipality the coming season. The reeve was appointed overseer.

Rev. W. G. Clarke, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, Trenton preached in Belleville on Sunday and Rev. Wesley Elliott pastor of the Tabernacle, Belleville, occupied his pulpit at Brighton.

Mrs. Esther Victoria Maybee, died in Thurlow township last Wednesday, aged 41 years. She was a daughter of Mr. H. A .Waite and was born at Coe Hill.

Five Sent For Trial.

Five young men from this district have been committed for trial in connection with robbing the residence of the Misses Proctor here, when liquor, dresses, jewelry, wine and gramaphone records were taken. The robbery it is thought arose out of a desire to secure liquor. Four of the youths suspected are local boys and one is from Trenton.

News Nuggets.

General Strike Was Called By I. W. W.

LOS ANGELES, April 26— (Canadian Press). — A general strike was called yesterday by the Industrial Workers of the World, according to a circular seized by the police They said the y found the circular in the hand bag of Alice Chase, who was arrested on a charge of criminal syndicalism while circulating other I.W.W. literature.

Soap that soaks clothes clean different from anything you have ever used before

Rinso is an entirely new kind of soap, every granule made of pure materials perfectly combined.

Just by soaking, in its big lasting suds, the most ground-in dirt is gently loosened and dissolved. Only the very dirtiest places need to be rubbed at all.

Price of Home Spent In Vain by Mrs. Downs

Toronto Lady Tells of Costly Search For Health Ending in Complete Recovery From Stomach Trouble By Taking Tanlac.

"Before I took Tanlac three years ago I spent enough money on medicine to buy a home," says Mrs. Mary Downs, 1 Currie Place, Toronto, Ont.

"For seventeen years I suffered terribly from indigestion and dyspepsia. Pains in the pit of my stomach often made me cry out in agony, and if I ate any heavy food it almost killed me. I would get so nauseated and dizzy I couldn't retain by balance, and gas cut off my breath until I woud turn purple. My nerves weer so shattered I couldn't sleep, and frequently I was confined to my bed. Everyone remarked how sickly I looked, and many times I thought the end was near.

"A druggist recommended Tanlac and the treatment restored my health so completely that I haven't had a sick day in three years. I eat enough now for a laborer and sleep so soundly I have to be awakened every morning. Tanlac has been a godsend to me and I will always praise it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists—take no substitute. Over 35-million bottles sold.

PLAN PROPOSED TO LOWER COSTS

Major Douglas Outlines Skeleton Scheme Before Parliamentary Banking Committee.

OTTAWA, April 26.— (Canadian Press.)—The sale of a $2,000 automobile for $1,500 was a feature of an illustration of his credit plan given by Major Douglas to the Banking and Commerce yesterday afternoon. He called it a "skeleton scheme" and expressly stated that an actual scheme would necessitate a careful study of Canadian conditions in various industries. But he did not put forward the underlying principles and applied them to the working of departmental stores.

"Arrange with a number of departmental stores," he said, "to sell their products at cost plus an agreed percentage on turnover. In consideration of the agreement of the stores to put their costs on the table you would authorize these stores to issue with each a discount voucher for a percentage of the purchase price.

"These vouchers may be turned in by the purchaser at his bank, and the bank will enter them to his credit. The banks in turn would, after a certain agreed period, present these vouchers to the government and get in return a credit from the government equal to that which had been applied to the private accounts. This would in effect be a transfer of the public credit to private account.

"The stores which had entered into these agreements would be in a position to undersell anybody who would not agree to the provisions for working under a system of proper costs. It would mean that two or three stores would sell at a flat rate. It would be an agreed percentage on cost. You would have competition which would lower the level of prices.

"The whole validity of this plan," agreed Major Douglas, "rests on whether you agree that the public credit is only held in trust for individuals. It would not be a subsidy. A subsidy is collected by taxation and applied to a particular part of a process. This is not collected by tax. It is derived by the creation of credit. The mechanism for that is in existence to-day and is the monopoly of the banks."

In his illustration in regard to the automobile, the major suggests a discount of 25 per cent. to the purchaser. The discount voucher for this amount he would deposit in his bank. The method would, he said, by lowering the price increase the demand for motor cars.

J. J. Hughes, Liberal, Prince Edward Island, asked if the sale of products at less than cost was an essential part of the plan. Major Douglas agreed that it was, and then Mr. Hughes wanted to know who would pay the difference.

"Either the government or the existing banks or new banks or a local credit organization," was the answer. "That is a question of detail."

There was a long discussion between Hon. W. H. Stevens and the witness in regard to conditions in Germans and Austria. Major Douglas maintained that the Austrian people were more prosperous individually before they began to re-organize their financial system than they are now. When asked why they had made the change, he attributed it to outside political pressure.

In this connection, E. B. Ryckman, Conservative, entered a protest against the picture of Austrian prosperity and said that the employes of the law courts in Vienna had appealed to the lawyers at Osgoode Hall for help.

Major Douglas agreed that some people had suffered form the rise of prices because the system of credit assistance by the government was not extended to them.

Before stating his skeleton scheme to the committee, Major Douglas restated the existing evil which he defined as an enormous, unfilled demand side-by-side with immense capacity for production and unemployment. As an additional reason for action at the present time he cited the growing imminence of another great cataclysm. At the basis of it is a perfectly simple cause, though there may be subsidiary reasons and that simple cause is the necessity for the capture of commercial markets."

New Freight Rates to Be Announced.

OTTAWA, April 26. — (Canadian Press).—All farm products moving between Prince Edward Island and the mainland are to be brought under commodity rates by the Canadian National Railways, according to information received here yesterday. Publication of new tariffs bringing building material, lumber and other forest products, livestock, high explosives, cooperate stock, hay and straw, grain and grain products, potatoes and scrap iron under the commodity rates, has been delayed owing to the re-organization of the Canadian National Railways' Traffic Department. Information yesterday, however, was to the effect that the new tariffs will be published next week.

Coal and fertilizers move between Prince Edward Island and the mainland at the same rates as on the mainland, and class and commodity tariffs applicable locally between points on the island are stated to be on the same or a lower basis than on the mainland.

The extension of commodity rates to the further list of farm products comes as the result of a lengthy series of representations by Prince Edward Island members of Parliament who took the matter up with the Canadian National management and the Railway Commission.

WEAK AND NERVOUS

Hardly any condition of ill health causes more worry to the sufferer than that for which there is generally least sympathy. Men and women with nerves out of gear often become irritable and are blamed for ill-temper, when it is not their fault. Their poor health is the cause. The tired, over-busy wife and mother, whose household cares have worn her out; the bread-winner whose anxieties have worried him until he is thin and ill are among the nerve sufferers who become run down. Their nerves, like all bodily organs, need rich, red blood. In such cases the best and simplest treatment is a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which enrich the blood and tone up the nervous system and bring good health and cheerfulness. Proof is given by Mr. Donald McLellan, Bay St. Lawrence, N.S., says: "I was nervous and run down and did not sleep well. As I grew older I became worse, and suffered from the nervousness more than can be readily believed. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pnk Pills, and I began a treatment of this medicine. After taking five boxes I felt like a new man, could eat well and sleep well, and felt improved in every way. I think very highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommend them to any person who is run down and in want of vitality."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

QUIZ CORNER

CANADA'S FIRST PLOUGH

Q—When was the first plough used in Canada?

A—On April 27, 1628, Sieur Couillard used the first plough in Canada to the astonishment of the Indians who called it the Frenchman's moose. Theretofore spade and hoe were the only methods of farming. In 1644 the first wheat was grown as an experiment—and it grew.

THE BATTLE OF ST. JULIEN.

Q—When was the Battle of St. Julien fought?

A—The Battle of St. Julien was fought on April 24, 1915 when fresh troops, British and Canadian, recaptured some of the lost ground. The Canadians pressed on fearlessly, fighting by the light of the moon till they had retaken all their lost guns.

PREPARING ROYAL WEDDING LICENSE

Drafting of the Document Very Formal and Quite a Serious Business.

LONDON, April 26 (Special to The Examiner). — The marriage license for the wedding of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon has been completed, the Archbishop of Canterbury's Faculty Office, almost in the shadow of St. Paul's Church, has returned to its usual somnolent calm.

Preparation of a royal marriage license is a serious business. The preliminary work of drafting the license is done by a staff of the Faculty Office. Then there is a solemn and formal inspection by the Registrar. After that the license is turned over to B. B. Bull, the veteran clerk and sealer of the Faculty Office, who engrosses it on vellum.

At this stage a bundle of specially ordered turkey quills arrives at the office. First they are cut, carefully and variegatedly, by the engrosser, to suit his various needs, and then begins the tedious, expert task of engrossing the license. It takes weeks to accomplish.

Mr. Bull has engrossed the license for all royal marriages in recent years. He has just finished that of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, and he and the rest of the staff of the Faculty Office are awaiting their next purple moment which, may be the marriage of the Prince of Wales.

FLOOD WATERS DO GREAT DAMAGE

WINNIPEG, April 26. — (Canadian Press).—The flood waters which have been sweeping over Manitoba districts for the past week have caused considerable suffering to many farm residents of the province who have been marooned in their homes by impassable roads and their farms turned into huge lakes of swiftly flowing water. Reports continue to be received here of many near-tragedies from drowning this week, while last week two men lost their lives in the swirling waters. Doctors find it increasingly difficult to get around to their patients, in many cases boats being the only means of transportation, and it is equally impossible for farmers to obtain supplies of medicine. At Baie St. Paul and St. Eustache, where the flood has exceeded all previous inundations since 1882, the municipal doctor has requested the Provincial Government to send a gasoline launch at once so that he can visit his patients.

In the Kenville district a farmer attempting to cross a stream with a team hitched to a wagon of household effects, missed a bridge covered with water and fell into a creek. His horses were swept away and drowned. The man caught some brush, and for about five hours was immersed to the armpits before being rescued. His wife and five children, following in another wagon, were marooned a few yards from where he went in, and had to be rescued by neighboring farmers.

HISTORIC MEET CAMPBELLFORD SCHOOL BOARD

Session in Unusual Meeting Place to Accept Tender for High School is So Regarded.

KEEN DISCUSSION

CAMPBELLFORD, April 26. — Tuesday night's session of the Board of Education, a short account of which appeared in yesterday's Examiner, will long be regarded as a historic session of that body, both on account of the action taken in accepting a tender for the building of a new High school and on account of the heated nature of the discussion which at times equalled in point of acidity anything heard in the Legislative chamber in Toronto during the present session. For some reason which has not been made quite clear, the special session was held in one of the class rooms of the High school instead of in the public library, the regular meeting place. Perhaps the object in taking this course was to invest the gathering with an air of secrecy or there may have been a hope that from the environment the majority of the members would receive new inspiration for the task to which they have set their hands—providing better quarters for the students taking the secondary course in education.

Only Two Absentees.

Of the 13 members o fthe Board, all were present with two exceptions. S. J. Moore has not attended a session since appointment by the County Council last January to succeed J. P. Archer. Dr. O. C. Watson was at the time of the meeting providing the public with a lighter form of entertainment, as one of the leading characters in the minstrel show which was being held in Cole's opera house. The doctor's presence, however, was not required by his colleagues, as the majority was assured, but had he been at the meeting there is no doubt as to how his vote would have been recorded as he has always been an active supporter of the movement for a new building, invariably open and above board in his attitude, regardless of the direction in which the feline was likely to spring.

The Tenders Submitted.

Architect S. B. Coon, of Toronto, who prepared the plans, brought the tenders to Campbellford and they were opened by the special committee appointed for the purpose some weeks ago. When the Board met, Secretary Stephens read from a list the names of all those who had tendered with the amounts asked by each. There were in all about 10 tenders, the highest being $82,000. That of Thomas Brown, which was accepted, was for $67,350, the only one that was less than $68,000, the estimated cost of the building. The only tender received from local men was that of Mason and Hawking, who bid on the plumbing work.

Motion To Accept.

When the motion to accept the tender of Mr. Brown was made, Trustee Arnold moved an amendment ,supported by Trustee Hoover, that no action be taken. He also demanded that the vote of each member be recorded, the first instance of a roll call, some members claim, in the history of the Board.

Trustee Free, one of the respresentatives from Seymour township, who on his issue differs from Mr. Stephens the other Seymour trustee moved an adjournment. Trustee Arnold fought this motion so vigorously that the matter was dropped and the vote taken, the amendment being lost on the following divisions.

Yeas—Trustees. Arnold, Hoover, Stephens.

The motion to amend the contract to Mr. Brown was then carried on the same division of the members.

An Oversight

After the Board had regularly and finally adjourned for the evening it was discovered that Chairman Douglas had not been vested with the authority to sign the contract with Mr. Brown. Some one proposed this the Board be reconvened at once to attend to this formality but here again Trustee Arnold interposed an objection on the ground that the members could not be called together again unless all the steps necessary for the holding of a special session were complied with. His contention prevailed so that this phase of the movement will come up at the regular monthly session of the Board to be held to-night.

Trustee Arnold served verbal notice on Contractor Brown that the debentures for the new school had not yet been issued and that there was at present no money in sight for the building. If the contractor, in the face of these circumstances, went ahead with the work he would do so, Trustee Arnold said, at his own risk and he could look to the majority of the Board, not to the Town Council for his money.

This morning Mayor A. J. Meyers issued a call for a special meeting of the Town Council to be held to-morrow evening to discuss the school question.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

CAMPBELLFORD, April 20. — The total receipts of the two performances of the Princess Chrysanthemum, the Japanese operetta recently given in Cole's opera house, amounted to $255.45. After the war tax, $23.48 had been paid, the net revenue was $232.00. The expenses reduced the total to a balance of $81.10 and this has been turned over to the Junior Chapter of the D.O.E. to be added to the soldiers' memorial fund. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cowell, who directed the play and trained the members of the cast, received nothing for their services.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Cline, Grimsby East, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Helen Barber, to Mr. Ewart Campbell Cross, son of Mrs. Cross and the late Rev. James Cross, of Grimsby, formerly of Campbellford. The marriage will take place in May.

Mr. G. W. Lucy has disposed of his residence on West River Road, which he last year purchased from Mr. Jarvis Boyle, and will reside down town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, who a few months ago went to Toronto and have returned to town to reside and will again occupy Mrs. O'Sullivan's bungalow on Queen street.

Mr. and Mrs .G. A. Payne and Miss Grace were in Cobourg on Tuesday attending the funeral of Mr. Payne's mother ,which took place on Tuesday .

Mrs. William Cassan, of Toronto, was called to town this week, due to the illness and death of her sister, Mrs. Thomas S. Baker.

Mr. Albert Hardy, teacher of Morganston, is convalescing after the 'flu' at the home of his mother, Mrs. Robert Hardy.

Board of Education Meets.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held to-night in the Council Chamber.

District Quarterly Services.

On Sunday, May 6th District Quarterly services will be held in the Free Methodist church here, when it is expected that a large number from neighbouring towns and districts will be present.

Unsettled Conditions Holding Up Exports.

MONTREAL, April 26 (Canadian Press). — Unsettled conditions in Europe are acting adversely on the exportation of Canadian asbestos, W. G. Ross president, told the annual meeting of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada here yesterday. This applies particularly to Germany, which was Canada's largest customer for this product.

Another factor with which Canadian producers of asbestos must contend, said Mr. Ross, is increasing competition from Rhodesia and Russia, which latter country has reentered the market.

The decline in prices is indicated by the fact that while exports of asbestos doubled during 1922, their value increased by less than one million dollars.

MARLOCK DELAYED

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 26.—(Canadian Press) The steamer Marloch which is bringing the party of four hundred Scottish immigrants from the Hebrides Islands, still is losing time. She was originally due on Tuesday but has been delayed by fog and ice and word was received from her yesterday that she would not dock before noon on Saturday.

INSTANTLY KILLED ON G.T.R. CROSSING

Three Others Seriously Injured When Automobile Struck By Freight.

HAMILTON, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—One man was instantly killed and three others were so seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Grand Trunk freight at Sherman Avenue crossing this morning that little hope is held out for their recovery. The dead man is Alfred Hoyle, of Toronto. He was a driver in the employ of the Grant Springs Brewing Company of this city.

The injured are Val Thedorf, Earl Jacks and Otter Rindlehart Thedorf. These men were reported this morning to be dying.

SHOT HIS AGED MOTHER THEN KILLED HIMSELF

NEW YORK, April 26.—(Canadian Press).—The long smouldering resentment of sacrifice he had made for his seventy-year-old mother belched into a consuming flame in the brain of Joseph McGrath, a middle-aged longshoreman, last night, and he shot her and then killed himself.

For years McGrath had spurned chances to marry in order to live with and maintain his mother. On the previous night McGrath had come home late, and she chided him as his supper was cold. Yesterday morning he left without speaking to her. When he came home last night his mother had strawberry shortcake for him as a peace offering, but it was found by his dead body. Neighbors found the old lady mumbling a prayer, and with two bullets near her heart and one in her head. It is said she cannot live.

ACNE ON FACE CUTICURA HEALS
Hard, Large and Red Pimples. Itching Was Terrible.
"Had been troubled all my life with acne on my face. My forehead was a mass of pimples. They were hard, large and red, and the itching was most terrible. My face was disfigured. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them got instant relief. I bought more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. O. B. Miller, Box 14, Marshall, Wash., Jan. 9, 1922.

Assistant Manager Shipped Out of Town.

THETFORD MINES, Que., April 26 (Canadian Press). — The miners who quit work on Monday at the King Mine of the Asbestos Corporation, to take the assistant manager of the company, Col. C. H. McNutt, from his bed, and send him out of town on the Quebec Central morning train, have not yet been allowed to return to work.

The company took the stand that none of the miners would be allowed to return to their jobs until Col. McNutt was back on duty in Thetford, and the company are holding firmly to their position.

The situation took a new turn yesterday when Col. McNutt arrived in Thetford from Quebec, bringing with him a posse of forty special constables.

PENNSYLVANIA BANK ROBBED OF A MILLION

YORK, Penn., April 26 (Canadian Press). — In a confession given out late last night by the authorities, Thomas B. Baird, cashier of the City Bank of York, who, with his assistant William Boll, is in jail charged with embezzling about $1,000,000 of the bank's funds, said that his speculations had continued for about 25 years, and that he was responsible for $800,000 of shortage.

BODY FOUND

North Stanbridge, Que., April 26. —(Canadian Press). — The badly decomposed body of Thomas Smith 65, formerly a resident of this place, was found by workmen in a field near the central Vermont Railroad track about a mile north of Stone Station. The last time Smith was seen was late in January.

SUGAR IS MOVING SKYWARD IN PRICE

NEW YORK, April 26 (Canadian Press). — The sugar market continued its skyward move to-day, and some new high records for the year to date were established.

Refined granulated sugar, Cuban raw sugar, and sugar futures all moved to new high records.

The latest advance in the prices was the result of further lowering of the estimated production of Cuban sugar for the current year.

Mark Vaughan Will Stand For Welland.

WELLAND, Ont., April 26.—(Canadian Press).—The Liberals-Conservative nomination convention is now been set definitely for May 8th at which the presence of Hon. Howard Ferguson is assured.

Although several names may be brought up before the convention it is felt that Mark Vaughan will do the honors of contesting the riding against Robert Cooper. He was for some time Mayor of the city of Welland and is widely known throughout the districts surrounding the city whereas President of the Vaughan Seed Co., he has been brought in very close contact with the farmers.

Irrigation Canal Will Be Opened.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta, April 26. — The official opening of the headgates of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation projects is set for this week, when water will be turned in to prime the ditches in the hope that a supply for irrigation throughout the 105,000 acre system, will be available in June.

Construction of the $5,000,000 project is now practically completed, Major Muckleton, the chief engineer, said to-day.

Second Reading of British Housing Bill.

LONDON, April 26. Canadian Press. — The House of Commons last night after two days of debate which had been characterized by interruptions on the part of a small section of the Laborites, who came into frequent conflict with the Speakers chair, passed the second reading of the government's housing bill. Previously the house defeated a motion for the rejection of the measure by a vote of 340 to 140. This is the largest majority the government has secured, and was received with loud ministerial cheering.

The chief objection of the Laborites to the bill is based on its alleged inadequacy to meet the extensive housing shortage, and its failure to make any effective proposals for the clearing of the slum areas.

CHANGES SOUGHT IN LIVE STOCK BILLS

Bill to Consolidate Several Acts Came Up in the Federal House Yesterday.

OTTAWA, April 26. — Canadian Press. — A bill to amend and consolidate acts respecting livestock was considered in the House yesterday and will be taken up again later.

Among other things the bill provides that a commission may selling livestock must deposit any moneys received for the same to a separate account and not disburse the money except in accordance with the regulations made by the the exchange and approved by the Minister.

Robert Forke thought that these regulations were very necessary. Recently he said a Winnipeg firm which had been regarded as reliable, had failed, and a number of farmers had lost the purchase price for some carloads of stock.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie moved an amendment which he said was designed to appear as a clause at the end of the bill and provided "that in every case where, in the opinion of a veterinary inspector duly appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Animals' Contagious Diseases Act, a contagious disease of animals exist or is expected to exist the Animal Contagious Diseases Act shall prevail as against this act, or all or any other acts relating to live stock or live-stock yards."

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, said that he would leave the bill in committee and consider the amendment. Progress was reported.

SERIOUS FOREST FIRES SWEEPING LARGE AREA

HARRISBURG, Penn., April 26 (Canadian Press). — Five thousand acres of timber land in Northern Dauphin County is being swept by a serious forest fire, which at midnight last night was within a few hundred yards of Elizabethville.

Hundreds of men, women, and boys from Halifax, Millersburg, Elizabethville, and Lykens have been mobilized to help check the flames.

ENGLAND STRONG FOR THE OLYMPIC GAMES NEXT YEAR

Difficulties of Last Team Have Been Overcome—Money Being Raised.

KING A PATRON.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 26.—(United Press).—England will make a powerful bid for the championship of the next Olympic games in Paris, if home interest and substantial financial backing mean anything in the development of a team.

The British Olympic Association set about raising a fund of $150,000 some time ago to finance the organization and transportation of a team to Paris and with little effort $50,000 has already been subscribed. The committee is confident that the remaining two-thirds of the desired sum will be donated before the end of this year.

Some political troubles, such as were experienced in the United States, caused a lot of discontentment over the showing made by the British team at Antwerp in 1920 and it reached such a stage that some suggestions were made that England withdraw from all future Olympic contests.

Inefficient management in the organization of the team was given as the reason for some belief that England was not represented by the strongest team that could be recruited in the country. The same criticism was directed as the managers of the American team who left behind several fine athletes because sectional politics demanded less capable athletes in their places.

All the difficulties seemed to have been overcome in England and the whole country is getting behind the team. King George has agreed to act as patron of the team and the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and Prince Henry will act as vice-patrons. Lord Cadagon has been appointed chairman of the committee under the president, the Duke of Sutherland.

More than sentimental and financial support will be necessary, of course, to win the high point score in the Paris games, as success depends entirely upon the ability of the athletes who compete in the games. England, however, has good material and more good young talent has been developed there since the Antwerp games than in any other European nation.

America has no reason to look with pessimism toward the Paris games, but on the other hand there is no cause to crow too much in advance. The American committee, fortunately, is in a position where financial worries are few and the main duty is to select the right men from a wealth of material.

The United States could send a better team than the one that carried the shield in 1920, and perhaps the need may become imperative to send a more balanced representation to the game next year.

Mike Ryan, member of the American team in 1908 and 1912, one of the coaches of the 1920 team and now coaching at Colby College, points out a crying needs for good distance runners to compete in the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs, the cross country and the marathon.

The decline in the class of distance runners in this country is attributed by Ryan to the lack of interest in distance events, and he points out the great need of encouraging young athletes to go in for the long distances. He sees no reason, for the United States to feel flattered over the decline of our athletes in the events that require courage, stamina and manhood.

The crusade that Ryan is now valiantly leading comes rather late. It should have been started in 1921 and, by this time, America might have some good distance runners. The American committee knew as well as anyone who observed the weakness were passed off with the characteristic attitude of the American that: "We'll have 'em when the time comes."

As long as the United States wins, it might be considered trivial how the points were scored. America possibly can pile up enough points in the running events under the mile and in the field to exceed those that any other nation can acquire in the distance events, but greater moral credit goes to the athletes who have punch over the long routes.

Great batting averages can be piled up in baseball by an adept bunter, but it is the hard hitter who makes the real impressive record.

It might not be too late to stir up some marathon races around the country during the coming season, and if the sectional directors of amateur sports can get the youngsters to realize that they can do a real patriotic duty by developing distance talent, the Americans in Paris may not have to hang their heads when the little dash events have been completed.

Mercantile League Will Meet To-Night.

A special meeting of the Mercantile League will be held this evening in Cressman's store at which final plans for the season will be discussed and a tentative schedule outlined. The meeting will start promptly at 7 o'clock in order that the business may be handled with as much dispatch as possible. All

BOSTON NOSED OUT BY PHILADELPHIA

St. Louis Also Lost a Close Game in Ninth Inning —Chicago's Winning Streak Stopped at Seven

BOSTON, Mass., April 26. —(Canadian Press.)—Philadelphia obtained an even break in the series with Boston by winning yesterday's game, 3 to 2. A batting rally in the seventh brought three runs on four singles. John Head, a recruit from Hartford, Conn., held Boston to five hits. Score:

Philadelphia	000 000 300	3	9 1
Boston	000 010 000	2	5 1

Cincinnati 3, St. Louis 1.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 26.—(Canadian Press.)—St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the National League season here yesterday. The locals held a one-run lead from the fourth until the ninth inning. About 9,000 persons were in attendance. Score:

Cincinnati	000 000 003	3	9 3
St. Louis	000 100 000	1	7 0

Donohue, Keck and Hargrave; Pfeffer and Ainsmith.

Pittsburgh 7, Chicago 3.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 26. —(Canadian Press.)—Pittburgh opened the home season here yesterday by breaking Chicago's winning streak of seven consecutive games. The score was 7 to 3. Cooper was in fine form, allowing the Cubs only six hits. Grimm knocked a home run. The score:

Chicago	020 000 100	3	6 0
Pittsburgh	010 150 00x	7	15 1

Fussel, Kaufman, Keen and O'Farrel; Cooper and Gooch.

LACROSSE

The first work-out of the lacrosse squad has been arranged for Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park prior to the practice of the Central League ball team.

Permission to use the grounds at that time was obtained last night by President Vic Hamilton, and it is expected that the lacrosse players will put in at least an hour limbering up.

The baseball aspirants are expected to take the diamond at 2.30 o'clock, and for that reason the lacrosse crowd should turn out as soon as possible after one o'clock with suits and sticks.

A general invitation is extended to all those who intend to play lacrosse this year. They will not only get in a practice and a line-up on themselves, but they will have a chance to see Jake Solomon's candidates in action.

Among those who were casually named over at the executive meeting last night were Jim McCoy, George Leonard, Lionel Brown, Johnnie Ward, Wilfrid Ranger, Lou LeBarr, Jack O'Toole, Killoran, Taylor, McDonald, Nolan, Cowan, Mein, Simms, Alf. Johnston, Fred Goodfellow, Gene Donovan, J. Lynch, Foy, Stan Stacey, Gus Hay, Elmer Brown, Brioux, Clementi, Curtis, Fred and Joe Jones, and several of the Normal students.

Vic Hamilton will take charge of the practice, and it is hoped that there will be a big attendance.

Peterborough has plenty of material this season in spite of several losses from last year's string, but for all that it is believed that with proper training an intermediate team can be whipped into shape, likewise junior and juvenile teams.

Special attention will be paid to the juveniles next week with the prospect of forming a City League of three or four teams.

This is to remind George Mein that his absence was felt at last night's meeting, and the same goes for Charlie Perry. There are a lot of boys talking lacrosse right now, and all they need is a little encouragement and direction.

Reports from Dr. Sutton's travels in pursuance of his extensive duties as District Officer of Health that in spare moments he never misses an opportunity for lacrosse missionary work in the district.

Lakefield and Millbrook are said to be waking up to lacrosse interest, and if Lindsay could step into line this district would soon be on par with some of the best the other side of Toronto.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

Questions

ONE—Is the catcher credited with an error if he makes a wild throw when a runner is stealing?

TWO—If a fielder drops a fly ball but recovers in time to force a runner at another base, is he exempted from an error?

THREE—If a triple steal is started, and one of the runners is retired, do the others receive credit for a stolen base?

FOUR—When a runner is declared out for interference or running out of line, who is credited with the putout?

FIVE—When two players collide in going after a batted ball and suffer injury, when is the proper time for the umpire to suspend play?

Answers

ONE—The catcher is not credited with an error unless the runner advances an extra base on the wild throw.

TWO—He is exempted from an error if he manages to force out a runner after dropping a fly ball.

FOUR—On all such plays the player who would have made the putout is credited with it, when the action of the runner prevents the completion of the play.

FIVE—Time cannot be called until all chances for a play have ceased and the pitcher stands on the rubber with the ball in his possession.

Present Shields to Championship Team.

KINGSTON, April 26 (Canadian Press). — The trustees of Queen's University are presenting a shield to each member of the 1922 championship football team who is entitled to his "Q."

The presentation will be made on the steps of the gymnasium at 12 o'clock noon to-day, when all the students will assemble to join with the trustees in expressing congratulations to the members of the senior team.

The presentation will be made by J. M. Farrell, who is the representative of the Board of Trustees on the Athletic Board of Control.

Some Fast Games in Softball Schedule.

Many changes in the standing of the various teams in the club section are expected before the end of next week, the schedule for which was announced to-day.

Four of the leading teams are scheduled to play on Monday, and a defeat for any one of them will mean the elimination of that team from the running.

Kiwanis and Firemen, two of the strongest contenders are scheduled to meet ths evening. These two are among the bunch ties for second place, and so close is the race that the winner will be on even terms with the Belmonts for first honours, while the loser will be practically eliminated.

Hamilton Team Has Good Workout.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 26 (Canadian Press). — Bright sunshine, with just enough crispness in the air to make the going comfortable, made conditions yesterday ideal for the visiting athletes to get in a full day's training in preparation for the Pennsylvania relay carnival on Friday and Saturday.

And they took advantage of it. The Oxford University and Hamilton (Ontario) Collegiate Institute runners took the most strenuous workouts.

The Canadian boys spent a busy afternoon, all fourteen of the squad being on the track at one time or another. They also practiced starts, ran a quarter-mile race, in which most of them took part, and jogged around the cinder path several times.

TRIPLE LINK WON.

The Triple Link softball team added another victory to its list last evening by defeating the L.O.L. 30 team by a score of 14 to 6.

The game was played on short notice, the members of the teams having been notified the night before. Price and Crowe formed the battery for the winners, while Spenceley and Hardill officiated for the losers.

SIKI MIXED UP IN ANOTHER ROW

Sapheaded Senegalese Runs Amuck in the Streets of Paris.

PARIS, April 26.— (Canadian Press)—Battling Siki, prima donna of the French prize ring, got loose again last night with the usual results—fight, police, jail, released.

The black man from Africa was awaiting a train for Lyon, where he was scheduled to box an exhibition bout. He sat down to think in a waiting room, and suddenly without any sound or warning decided to desert the train and went running down the street.

His sparring partner, whose meal ticket largely depended on whether Siki attended that exhibition, set out after him.

Hubert, the sparring partner, overtook him, and then ensued four rounds of conversation and one snappy round of fighting, which curbstone observers described thus:

Round 1—Hubert missed a right to the jaw and Siki came right back with a swing that came within half a yard of Hubert's nose. Hubert, cooly missed a simultaneous right and left which knocked out two spectators. Thereupon Siki drew back and brushed down three spectators, and both fell exhausted in the arms of intruding police.

The gendarmes took them to headquarters, but they were later released.

NEW YORK, April 26 (Canadian Press). — Mike McTigue, light heavyweight boxing champion, will engage in three no-decision bouts in the United States and Canada before defending his title against Georges Carpentier on 14th July, his manager, Joe Jacobs, announced yesterday.

McTigue, who is expected back shortly from Ireland, where he won the 175-pound crown from Battling Siki, is booked to box Young Bob Fitzsimmons at Chicago, on 29th May, in the first bout after his return. His other matches are with Tommy Loughran, at Philadelphia, 8th June, and with Roddy McDonald, Canadian boxer, on 18th June, at Halifax, N.S., where McTigue won the Canadian middleweight title in 1920 by knocking out Gene Brosseau.

DAMAGE $130,000 CANOE CLUB FIRE

Believe the Fire Which Destroyed the Parkdale Canoe Club Was Incendiary.

TORONTO, April 26.—(Canadian Press).— Parkdale Canoe Club at Sunnyside was destroyed by fire last night. Officials of Club have every reason to believe blaze was of incendiary origin. Many of members were in building when fire was discovered, but succeeded in reaching safety, some scantily clad in gym togs. Building is total loss. Wall facing King street and part of walls on either sides remain standing but will have to be demolished when reconstruction commences. Damage is estimated at $80,000, plus canoes owned by Club, and privately owned by members and general equipment valued at $50,000. Insurance carried totals $30,000.

Why Chevrolet Can Give You Such Extraordinary Value

LARGE scale production—big sales volume! That's why Chevrolet can give you such extraordinary value—why you can buy a fully equipped quality automobile at such a surprisingly low price.

Chevrolet is the world's largest producer of quality automobiles. Savings in cost of material, production, distribution and overhead are passed on to Chevrolet buyers in the form of greater car value. Chevrolet's growth in sales volume proves that Chevrolet cars make good in service and represent today's greatest motor car value per dollar of cost. Lowest in first cost, these cars also cost less to operate than any other cars built.

See Chevrolet first.

SCOTCH LASSIE

Inside the more important guests had long been in their places. The ceremony was brief. It followed the Church of England ritual, and Lady Elizabeth promised to "Love, honor and obey."

A Brief Address.

The Archbishop of York performed the ceremony, and, in a brief address to the wedded couple on what he termed "the crowning day of your lives," said solemnly:

"Before this host of witnesses you have offered your love to one another and to God. You have received from Him at this altar new life in which your separate lives are from now until death made one."

The Archbishop asked the Duke and his bride to "take and keep this gift of wedded life" as a sacred trust. He wished them happiness, but hoped "You'll think not so much of enjoyment as of accomplishment."

If the Prince of Wales does not marry an heir to the union seated to-day will be in line for the Throne of England. The last occasion on which the son of a reigning King of England wedded a commoner in the Abbey was more than six centuries ago, in 1269, when Edmond Crouchband married Aveline of Lancaster, daughter of the Duke of Albemarle.

The wedding ceremony, which began at 11.30, was over shortly after noon. The King and Queen returned directly to the Palace to prepare the wedding breakfast, over which Queen Mary took a personal motherly charge.

The Duke and his bride, the former very military in his air service uniform, with the hat like an inverted bowl, with a stiff egret sticking up, over which there has been so much discussion, the bride charming in her wonderful gown of lace that beggared description were not allowed to escape thus easily.

They drove to the Palace, but over a longer route along which thousands who had not hitherto caught even a glimpse of the wedding show had waited patiently since daybreak.

This route took them down Whitehall, to the tomb of the unknown soldier, where the bride must needs lay her bridal bouquet and everyone stand silent a moment in tribute to the national hero, then through the Mall and St. James' Street, past the Prince of Wales' house to Picadilly, up to Hyde Park Corner and down Constitution Hall, a routing, it is estimated, which let an additional million and a half see the bridal couple.

Traffic had been stopped for miles around at 9 a.m., and 7,700 foot police, 2,500 mounted and 1,000 specials kept the peace for the Duke and his bride.

After 9 a.m., battalions of Grenadier and Coldstream Guards, Scotch and Welsh Guards, lined the route from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey, a colorful lane for the principals in the great event.

During all the ceremony, within and without the Abbey, the Duke and his bride were calm and composed in a veritable Royal dignity. When the bridal procession went down the aisle, the choir singing "Lead us, Heavenly Father, Lead us," the wedding couple moved easily into their places.

At his brother's side, the Prince of Wales looked distinctly bored. The reception accorded the couple, in general, throughout the city, exceeded even that given Princess Mary when she was married last year.

Many thousands of Americans and other tourists were at well-paid-for posts of vantage, and the spring throngs from the provinces made it in many ways the greatest holiday London has seen since the last coronation. Well-dressed country men, slummers, hawkers, Americans, society folk who had lost their favored places, the working man and his wife and the kids all were there.

Occasionally the crush became unbearable, and sweating police would bustle to the assistance of a fainting woman.

But everyone felt that one and only needed reward, was the long awaited and necessarily fleeting glimpse of the bride and groom, who may some day sit side by side on the Throne of Great Britain.

It is authoritatively announced that King George last night conferred upon Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, who to-day became the bride of the King's second son, the Duke of York, the dignity of Princess.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by Britain's most distinguished prelates, solemnized the union. The Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince Henry, were best men.

The bride was dressed in an exquisite gown of white ivory moire chiffon, embellished with bands of silver and pearl embroidery. A fifteen-foot train of ivory colored set hung from her shoulders.

The Duke walked to the altar with the Prince of Wales on his left, and was followed by Lady Elizabeth on the arm of her father, the Earl of Strathmore, to the strains of "Lead us, Heavenly Father, Lead us."

The Archbishop then joined the couple in holy matrimony, and bestowed his blessing upon them. This was followed by a second blessing and an address by the Archbishop of York.

While the Royal pair signed the register the choir sang, "Beloved, let us love one another."

Emerging into the street, the Duke and his bride were greeted by peals of the Abbey chimes and deafening cheers from fifty thousand throats.

Parliament Square was a sea of faces as the couple stepped into their gorgeous carriage of plate glass and gold for their drive to Buckingham Palace. Eight thousand police, five hundred mounted officers and numberless detectives kept order along the mile and a quarter route. Every building in the neighborhood was festooned with vivid red bunting, Royal crests and countless banners and flags.

The people had turned the event into a holiday, and special accommodation was given to crippled soldiers, school children and invalids to view the procession.

SPENT HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS

Mrs. Rice found relief at last in Dreco—Earnestly wishes all sufferers would give this wonderful remedy a trial.

Mrs. J. Rice, of 91 Napier Street, Hamilton, suffered so severely from indigestion, gastritis, pains in the back and dizzy spells that for years she hardly knew what it was to enjoy a well day. Medicine after medicine she tried, spending hundreds of dollars, without the slightest improvement in her condition until finally she heard of Dreco and tried it. Let her tell you what two bottles of this splendid herb and root corrective accomplished.

"For years I have suffered from stomach, liver and kidney trouble. I had chronic indigestion and gas would always form in my stomach after meals Would also get severe pains across my back, and at times, got terribly dizzy by and spots floated before my eyes. My bowels were never regular, I was intensely nervous, could not sleep and my appetite was very poor. I spent hundreds of dollars trying different medicines, but my sufferings continued unchecked until I started taking Dreco. It was just what I needed, for it seemed to go to the very root of my ailments right from the start. I am a new woman now and very thankful that I can recommend Dreco to all who suffer as I did."

Wonderful as her recovery seems to Mrs. Rice, it is but typical of the effect of Dreco on internal disorders such as hers. Dreco, compounded of Nature's own roots, herbs and leaves, tones and regulates the system in a natural way. It quickly disperses noxious gasses, restores the appetite and brings soothing, restful sleep by making stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels function normally, as Nature intended. No matter how long standing or obstinate your case is, Dreco will help you.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Peterboro by Bond's Drug Store. It is also sold in Lakefield by E. H. Northey and by a good druggist everywhere.

LAWN BOWLERS PREPARE FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR

A meeting of the Lawn Bowlers' Executive was held last night in the Chamber of Commerce, and considerable work done. It was announced that already nearly 60 bowlers have signified their intention of bowling this summer, and it was decided to run a schedule, made up of sixteen rinks, divided into Groups A and B. The question of skips was taken up, and the following appointed:

Group A—Dr. Hammond, R. M. Waddell, M. Chenhall, J. Wyllie, H. R. Martin, W. E. Taylor, T. C. Elliott and J. Bacon.

Group B—A. Gilliam, J. Maynecord, J. Skinner, T. Pratt, Dr. Allan, R. Elliott, W. J. Oke and G. Cairns.

These skips will obtain their own vices and notify the secretary of their choice on or before May 5, and the schedule season will officially open May 28th.

Dates will be set later for the Clark Cup, the Business College Cup and the Dr. Hammond prize. In the meantime the various committees have shown enthusiasm; the club-house work has been commenced; the green is in excellent shape, and it has been proposed to have an opening day on May 24.

Skips are urgently requested to arrange for their vice and to notify the secretary, W. Reg. Fox, Royal Bank Bldg., in writing, or 'phone 897.

DE VALERA NOT CAPTURED

DUBLIN, April 26. — (Canadian Press).— There is no foundation for the report from Paris that De Valera has been captured, it was declared in responsibile circles to-day.

LOCAL INDIANS

which supply fish for th re-stocking of the waters in this district, Mr. Hatton pointed out. Thousands of fingerlings are deposited in these waters for the Indians to catch, and without the cost of one cent to them. Animals were also protected, and from his preservation the Indians also benefit. Mr. Hatton declared that to game laws are of most benefit to the Indians themselves. If it were not for those regulations the Indians would soon lose their calling as guides for tourists from whom they receive the wage of five dollars a day and their board.

Must Obey the Law

Magistrate Langley in a brief statement said he considered himself bound to find from the facts that the defendant Indians had disobeyed the laws which were applicable to them as to every person in Ontario It had been urged upon him that he should make the fines light in view of the long winter with its hardships and of the short trapping season with the result that the Indians could not pay heavy fines. He decided that if they were required to pay $10 and costs they would understand that the law must be obeyed. He hoped that this case would be a warning, and stated that he would be more severe in the event of future infractions of the law. He had power to impose fines up to $1,000 in these cases.

Replying to the question as to what the Indians should do if they were dissatisfied with the regulations, His Worship said he could only suggest, although it was not his duty to do so, that they make representations to the Department of Game and Fisheries of the province and Dominion setting out what they thought should be given to them in the way of priviliges. The matter would then be taken up by the proper authorities and given every consideration.

John Knott Discharged

In disposing of the case in which John Knott was accused of having resisted and willfully obstructed Ira Toole a fisheries officer in the performance of his duties, Magistrate Langley said it was not proved that the defendant knew that Toole was a game overseer. "Under the criminal code in regard to obstructing peace officers there have been decisions that knowledge is not necessary but it is also established that the person resisted must at the time have been in performance of his duties as such officer, and that is what I fail to find in this case.

Ira Toole had the right to search Knott's sleigh, but only if he suspected that it contained fish taken contrary to the Act, but there is not at little of evidence that he had that suspicion, and here is very little evidence that he had that suspicion, and there is very little evidence that he had good grounds for such a suspicion. Without that suspicion and good grounds for it he had no right to search the sleigh. It is not for me to say that such evidence could have been given or not. At the time he was not actually in execution of his duty and that ground entitles the defendants to discharge. There is also some doubt about knowledge being necessary. If the case stood on that alone I would be inclined to make a conviction. The overseer didn't act wisely in not stating who he was, his suspicion of the contents of the sleigh and demanded right to search it."

His Worship dismissed the case without costs.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

Face to face with a man-eating grizzly; grappling with the snarling brute till the man tottered on the very brink of eternity; hurled into a surging, ice-jammed river in a blinding snow storm to rescue a girl who was caught in the swift currants; both being borne on the tide over jagged rocks to the very edge of a great water falls—these are but a few of the thrills that combine to make Jane Novak's melodrama "The Snowshoe Trail", which will be at the Regent Theatre to-night, one of the outstanding dramatic thrill subjects of the season.

The screen has produced many a super-thrill in the course of its career but seldom, if ever, has a single production possessed such a stirring succession of gripping scenes as "The Snowshoe Trail." Miss Novak and Roy Stewart, her leading man, risked their lives not once but a dozen times in filming this subject in the snow-covered reaches of the Northwest.

TRINITY ORCHESTRA TO ENTER FESTIVAL

The orchestra of Trinity church, which is only musical organization from Peterboro entering the Ontario Musical Competition Festival commencing in Toronto on Monday of next week, has received word that they are scheduled to play in Massey Hall at eight oclock on Tuesday evening next. The orchestra, numbering between thirty and forty members will leave here on the afternoon train on Tuesday. Their test piece is the overture "Poet and Peasant."

Anyone desiring to assist in defraying the expenses of the trip is asked to leave contributions either at the Greene Music Company's store or The Examiner Office.

EIGHT BRIDESMAIDS FOR LADY BETTY AT WEDDING TO THE DUKE OF YORK

By Milton Bronner.

LONDON, April 26.—When the Duke of York married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon to-day the royal bridegroom had three supporters and the bride had eight bridesmaids.

The bridesmaids are all friends who have known the bride for years. Two are relatives of the royal family, Lady Mary Cambridge, daughter of the Marquis of Cambridge, and Lady May Cambridge, daughter of the Earl of Athlone. They grew up with the King's children.

Lady Katharine Hamilton is the daughter of the Duke of Abercorn and has often been included in shooting parties in which the Duke of York and his bride were guests.

The Hon. Elizabeth Elphinstone, daughter of Lord Elphinstone, and Hon. Cecilia Bowes-Lyon, daughter of Lord Glamis, are nieces of the bride. They will be the kids in the bridal party, being 12 and 11 respectively.

Hon. Diamond Hardinge is the daughter of Lord Hardinge of Penshurst. While her father was British Ambassador at Paris, she acted as the official hostess.

Schoolmate Chosen.

The eighth bridesmaid's name came as a surprise to English people. She is Betty Cator, daughter of John Cator, a former member of Parliament. She is the only one of the eight bridesmaids who hasn't a courtesy title. She is an intimate school friend of the bride and they made their debut together.

Three of the bridesmaids, with the present bride, acted in a similar capacity at the wedding of the Princess Mary. They are Lady Mary Cambridge, Lady May Cambridge and Lady Mary Thynne.

The Duke of York's three supporters will be his brothers, the Prince of Wales, Prince Henry and Prince George.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The following players of the G.W.V.A. Football Club are asked to be at King Edward Park Thursday evening at 6.15 sharp, for the exhibition game with the C.P.C.: Griffin, Peel, Bishop, Crowe, Williams, Burrows, Hurle, Edwards, Mander, Willis, Sr., Monk, Dyer, Warman, Sharman, Leach.

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HER HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.

Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta. writes:—"About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes I took them and felt much better, so continued all Winter, and now I ever feel any such faintness, I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Rebekahs Entertained a Hundred Guests at Jolly Function—Oddfellows to Attend Divine Service Sunday.

MILLBROOK, April 26.—A very enjoyable social gathering was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Tuesday evening by the officers and members of "Golden Sheaf" Rebekah Lodge, No 176, about one hundred guests being in attendance. The regular lodge session was held first, and at its conclusion a brief programme, including piano duets by Misses May Byam and Hattie Barnard, vocal solos by Mrs. (Rev.) G. S. Gervan, community singing by all present, with games and contests furnished a delightful evening's entertainment.

A "peanut hunt" gave plenty of room for noise and fun, the entire company being divided into four groups, captained by Sister Ethel Vance, N. G., Sister Irene Fallis, V.G., Sister Maud Armstrong, R. S., and Sister Mina Bradley, P.G., Naming the groups added to the fun the 'Cats', Mrs. Fallis captain, being the winners having fifty-three peanuts when time was called. The prize a large box of chocolates, was divided between the members of group No. 2, the others contenting themselves with eating the generous supply of peanuts given each captain for her "men".

Flower Romance

The second contest, "A Flower Romance", was also thoroughly enjoyed, those having the largest and smallest list of correct answers being obliged to cut for both first and consolation prizes. Miss Hattie Barnard and Mr. Eric Hunter were tied with Miss Pearl Burnham and Mr. T. H. Bradley for first, the latter two winning the cut, while Miss Gertrude Harkness and Mr. E. Morden, Miss B. Syer and Mr. Wrragg, Ms. C. Garside and Mr. D. Sheppard were equal for the consolation. Brother J. A. Vance acted as chairman during the social part of the evening, and as a closing number called, in turn, Past Grands T. H. Bradley, Vernon Hunter, H. R. Armstrong, P. I. Bentley, and W. Thorne, to come forward and make impromptu speeches of one minute's duration upon the subject mentioned on the slip of paper of which each was the recipient. Needless to say some very original information was forth coming.

A very pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome pair of solid gold cuff-links with the three links of Oddfellowship in raised design, the letters, "F.L.T.", being engraved within the links, to Bro. P. I. Bentley, captain of the Degree Team, District-Deputy President, Sister Bertha Hamilton, made the presentation on behalf of the Degree Team, expressing in a few well-chosen words the appreciation, and gratitude, which the members felt for the excellent training, patience, and uniform kindness of their captain. Mr. Bentley made a brief, but suitable reply, expressing his surprise at the gift, and his pleasure in the work under his charge. The Degree staff, who had formed a circle in the centre of the Lodge room, succeeded in securing the captain within the circle and while moving slowly round all sang "For he's a jolly, good fellow," and one or two other appropriate selections which helped to carry off the embarrassment of the moment.

The supper which was enjoyed in the dining-hall about midnight added to the social good fellowship of the evening, an shortly afterwards the gathering was brought to a close.

Oddfellows Sunday.

The I.O.O.F. No. 308, will attend divine service in the Methodist church, Millbrook, on Sunday, April 29, at 7 p.m., when the pastor, Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D., will preach a sermon specially to this organization. The choir is preparing special music for the occasion including the following numbers:

Anthem, "Praise Ye Him"—Walter Shawker.

(Special parts by Mrs. G. W. Sayles, Mrs Irwin Hatherly, Messrs. W .Coombe and G. A. Duncan.)

Anthem, "I Have a Friend So Precious"—Marie Hine.

Solo, seelcted—Miss Ethel Richardson.

News Paragarphs.

Born—In Millbrook at Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital, on Tuesday, April 24, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tate, of Cavan, a daughter.

The merchants are following their usual custom of observing the Thursday half-holiday during May, June, July, August and September, beginning Thursday, May 3, and closing at 12 a.m. The stores will be kept open on Wednesday evenings after the weekly half holidays begin.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, April 26. (Special.)—Baldwin, Studebaker, Corn Products and other issues led the New York Stock Exchange list to higher levels during the early trading. The market displayed a strong undertone. Equipments, Sugars and Steels were strong; equipment stocks responded to high earning estimates while Sugars went into high ground on the strength of higher raw and refined quotations. New developments over night affected only individual stocks. Prices at the opening to-day were steady. Changes from the previous close were confined to a fractional area. Lima Loco reached a new high on the move at 71 in response to the call for the retirement of 1,943,900 preferred stock and sugar stocks moved ahead in response to the buoyant state of raw and refined prices. Cuban American was up 5-8 at 37 5-8 and Punta Alegre reached new high ground on the current recovery at 66. «Stocks in the first hour displayed the greatest degree of buoyancy seen since the break in oil shares two weeks ago threw the whole market into an irregular condition; prices moved moved ahead under the leadership of stocks like Studebaker, Baldwin, Corn. Prod., and a few other issues, which have headed each phase of the upswing since the bull market several months ago; equipments were the strongest group; no public liquidation of the stocks has taken place. Shareholders are not inclined to sell stocks that are showing earnings several times in excess of dividend requirements, which generally means increased disbursements. With American Loco. earning at the rate of $50 for the share and profits of Baldwin and Limas proportionately large, the bear element has a hard time forcing out investment stocks.

"You can expect a clean sweep in the Canadian General Electric board at all events," a New Yorker fairly close to the U .S. General Electric told a Toronto broker recently. This informant is under the impression that the Canadian concern is to be stripped of its deadwood and taken back as a virtual brauch of the U.S .company, though it may retain its identity for a time. The plan for issuing C. E. bonds for outstanding Canadian stock has been discussed, but it is doubted in some quarters whether common stockholders here would take bonds, preferring rather stock in the parent concern. If such an alternative plan materializes, the opinion is current that Canadian holders may be offered three shares of American stock to every five Canadian. At present market this would put an exchange figure of around 108 for the Canadian stock.—Toronto Telegram.

Society

Mrs. E. S. Simmons of Toronto is visiting with Mrs. S. C. Kernegan, 9 Monaghan road.

In the account in last evening's paper of the open meeting held by the Prince of Wales' Home and School Association on Tuesday evening last, the name of Irene Wright, who recited very pleasingly, was inadvertently omitted.

Mrs. Lionel W. Scott, 373 Park street, entertained a number of her young friends at a bridge tea yesteray afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan are opening their cottage at Cremong Park to-day. Mrs. Sullivan leaves shortly for a visit with friends in Oakville.

Dr. and Mrs. F. P. McNulty have returned to the city, and Dr. McNulty will resume practice at once.

DIED SUDDENLY

MONTREA, April 26.—(Canadian Press). —Sir Oliver Taillon, aged 84 Ex-Premier of the province of Quebec and former postmaster of Montreal, died suddenly here last night at Sherbrooke Street Hall of the Knights of Columbus, as he was seated in his chair waiting for a lecture by Rev. Father Sanson to commence.

TYPEWRITER CELEBRATES JUBILEE THIS MONTH

The typewriter celebrates its jubilee this month. Its invention 50 years ago is credited to Christopher Latham Sholes, Ilion, New York, but like many other inventions, the idea of a typewriting machine had been buzzing in inventors' heads for generations. As far back as 1714, Henry Miller patented a typewriter in England, which he described as "A machine for impressing letters singly and progressively as in writing, whereby all writings may be engrossed on paper so exact as not to be distinguished from print." To Latham, apparently, goes the credit of perfecting the first practical typewriter.

It is difficult for humanity to do anything in a new way, as is seen in the resemblance of the first railway passenger cars to stage coaches and the likeness the first automobiles bore to buggies. The first typewriting machines had the keys in a row like the keys of a piano. Laziness and convenience combined to bring the keys into the present universal arrangement in rows so placed that the key to be struck next is as close as possible to the one just tapped. Many of the early typewriters printed an imitation of handwriting instead of type.

The typewriter forged one more link in the chain of mechanical devices which at once serve and enslave the business world. It would be almost impossible for the mercantile world to function today without this machine, almost human in its ingenuity, which this month celebrates its fiftieth birthday.

WORLD PEACE CENTERING IN RUHR SCRAP

Essential That Germany and France Agree on Reparations—Germany Must Assuredly Pay.

CLOSE UP ACCOUNTS

By William Philip Simms.

PRAGUE, April 27.—(Special). — There will never be real peace nor real progress in Europe until France and Germany have settled their quarrel once and for all.

Here in Czechoslovakia, the very heart of Central Europe, that fact is everywhere thrown at you, no matter with whom you talk—public officials, professors in the great university here, business men or anybody else.

I attended an official reception in the centuries-old halls of the castle of the former kings of Bohemia — Hradcany, they call it—on top of the hill dominating the city.

President Masaryk lives there and also Dr. Edward Benes, now Minister of Foreign Affairs — the two men who have made Czechoslovakia. Dr. Benes was giving the reception.

"What this country needs above all things," Dr. Benes told me with vigorous jabbing gestures with the index finger of his right hand, "is peace." He made a jab. "Peace."

"And how are we to be sure of peace? Two things are necessary.

"First, there must be agreement between Germany and France on the question of reparations and, second, Germany must be made to pay those reparations.

"The Ruhr has not hurt Czechoslovakia," he went on. "At least not yet.

"To the contrary, I must confess, the disturbance brought about by the Ruhr really did us a good turn. It gave our industries a much needed boost.

"You see, we have considerable quantities of coal and iron and other minerals; also, we are a large manufacturing nation, and German competition had hurt us pretty badly.

"The drop in the German mark for a long time gave Germany a big advantage over us because our money, the korum—remained dear, like your dollar, only not quite so much.

Crux of Situation.

"But the whole Ruhr problem must be settled definitely before the world can have real peace and make any real progress—settle down and earn a living for itself.

"The little advantage Czechoslovakia obtained through German competition easing off a bit was, I know, only temporary. What we got to have throughout Europe is stability. That will come with real peace.

"Industry will then know what to expect, it can plan for to-morrow, get going again, employ more men; unemployment problems will gradually disappear; social unrest will go with unemployment and so on to a prosperous and contented world.

"But first we must close up accounts left floating after the war."

CHIEF JUSTICE MULOCK COMING

Sir William Mulock, K.C.M.G., Chief Justice of the Exchequer, will preside at the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court of Ontario which opens at the Court House on Monday at 1 p.m. The docket is fairly heavy, although one or two cases are understood to have been settled.

Hetherington vs. Hastings.

Charles S. Hetherington, insurance agent, claims $825 and costs and other relief from H. J. N. Hastings, a broker residing in New York City, under the terms of a contract made on June 1, 1921. Plaintiff says Hastings represented himself to be the exclusive agent in Canada for the purpose of canvassing for applications for shares in the Lever Production Spring Suspension Syndicate formed on April 20, 1921. Plaintiff says he was to be paid a commission on the applications obtained between June 1 and October 1, 1921, and also on any business started by the plaintiff, which was subsequently closed up. Subscriptions for shares in the syndicate were obtained as follows, cash or other securities: Wm. G. Ferguson, $5,000; Michael Carton, $18,000; W. B. Warne, $500—a total of $23,500, the total commission earned being $3525. Plaintiff received $200 cash and $2,500 stock.

Defendant denies the plaintiff's allegations. The only shares sold by plaintiff were C. Gould $100 and W. W. Benson $1,000. Commission was paid for this, and defendant says he holds the receipt.

Dean vs. Dean.

Marcus Dean, a farmer in Smith Township, and his sister, Mrs. Clara Dobson, of this city, are the only children of the defendant, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Dean, of Smith Township, widow of the late Adolphus Corban Dean, who died on July 11, 1911, intestate without having left any will, and who is said to have been insane from the year 1906 until she died. Plaintiffs allege that their mother, "fraudulently making use of the influence she had acquired over him," induced her husband to convey to her the farm they occupied. They ask that the deed be declared void and set aside, also for an accounting of rentals and profits, and an order for the administration of the estate under direction of the court for the benefit of plaintiffs.

Defendant denies that the conveyance of the property was procured by her through any influence or control on her part, but was made by her husband with full understanding of the effect of his act.

Dwyer vs. Crough.

Mrs. Julia Ann Dwyer, widow of the late Philip Crough, of Smith, the plaintiff, brings suit for dower in lands devised by the late Philip Crough to his son, Francis Leo Crough, the defendant.

John R. Corkery for plaintiff.

Curtis vs. Morrison.

Samuel J. Curtis, a returned soldier residing in Otonabee Township, claims immediate possession of a farm in Cavan Township under a lease from John Morrison, the defendant, specific performance of the agreement to lease the farm or in the alternative $500. The farm is on the 10th Concession of Cavan. Plaintiff alleges that the lease was given to him for two years, from March 1, 1923, for $400 a year and taxes. He also says the defendant agreed to sell him live stock, implements, grain and hay on the premises for $2,200 in three promissory notes, which he alleges were accepted by the defendant. On March 1 plaintiff demanded occupancy of the farm, but the defendant ordered him away.

Plaintiff's claim includes possession of the goods and chattels and specific performance of the agreement of sale or $1,500, also an injunction restraining the defendant from selling or leasing the farm and chattels.

Defendant replies that the plaintiff was to pay $500 cash down, but instead of a cheque for that amount had left at defendant's home two promissory notes for that amount, and had persisted in obtaining possession of the farm and chattels without payment of one cent in cash.

G. W. Hatten, K.C., for plaintiff, and Peck, Kerr and McElderry for defendant.

BIG AIR FORCE TO BE BUILT UP BY THE SOVIETS

LOOKING FORWARD

MOSCOW, April 27. — (United Press.)—The two isolated countries in the world are the United States of America and the United States of the Soviets, Leon Trotsky, Russian Minister of War, said in a speech here.

Trotsky spoke at the meeting of the Voluntary Air Fleet Society, urging expansion of the Government air force.

"There is a difference between our positions in relation," he said; "the isolation of the United States is voluntary, but we are isolated because the capitalistic countries hate us."

Conquer the Air.

"But with all this hatred surrounding our nation, our Soviet will not be broken down. We will build up a strong air force and conquer the air as we have conquered the ground we are standing on."

Trotsky said figures illustrated the backwardness of Russia in arming herself for the air. He pointed out that countries which were most hostile to Russia possessed the strongest air fleets.

VERY PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENING

Members of St. Peter's Debating Society Hosts to High School Debating Youths.

The members of the debating committee of the St. Peter's Holy Name Society, acted as hosts last evening at a very jolly social evening at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum, given in honour of the High School youths who took part in Lyceum debates this winter, and their parents. Mr. W. J. Scollard, convenor of the committee, was chairman during a very enjoyable evening of music and dancing, followed by sumptuous and dainty refreshments served by the executive of the Catholic Women's League.

Speeches, brief and pithy, were made by Mr. Scollard, who spoke in terms of appreciation of the loyal co-operation of the young men who had helped to make the winter's debates so successful. Mr. Scollard also thanked the members of the Catholic Women's League for their assistance.

Rev. John Collins repeated the sentiments of the first speaker and voiced a few words or encouragement to the debaters stressing the importance and stimulus of competition and ambition "to help push one over the top." He urged the young men to make an early choice of a life vocation.

Mr. A. Doherty president of the St. Peter's Holy Name Society, spoke of the splendid progress made by the boys of the debating society in the last two years, and of the rapid development and confidence in public speaking engendered by their participation in the these debates.

Jack Roach, "Micky" Koster, and Geoffrey Castricum voiced in turn the appreciation of the boys for the assistance given by the Holy Name Society to the youths of the High School. A vote of thanks to the Society, moved by the last speaker, was seconded by Charles Holland.

A musical programme by the boy members of the Sacred Heart Orchestra was received with hearty appreciation for the fine music of these clever young players; and the Highland Fling, danced by Miss Jessie Hodgson, brought an enthusiastic encore. The Sacred Heart Orchestra members are: Harold Collins, Vincent Rishea, and F. Cullen. Ted McCarthy also contributed his assistance with the drums.

The Fight in Russia Against Starvation No Longer Needed

MOSCOW, April 27.—(Canadian Press). — The American Relief Administration's fight against starvation in Russia is won, Col. W. N. Haskell announced to-day in the Russian press.

Crop reports throughout Russia are most favorable.

There is no longer starvation in Russia. There may be underfed people but none will die.

If the American administration stops immediately there are stocks here sufficient to feed the people until August. A joint distribution commission of Mennonites, Y.M.C.A. workers, and Lutherians is staying to perform reconstruction work.

There is no longer necessity for the American administration remaining in Russia.

Starts Clean-up

Captain Morgan Collins, just appointed chief of police, has started an attack on vice and gambling aimed to deprive Chicago of the title of "Wicked City."

APPROACHED ON HYDRO AFFAIRS

Sir William Hearst Shies at Giving Opinion as to More Municipal Control.

TORONTO, April 27 (Canadian Press). ¼ Sir William Hearst, former Premier of Ontario, gave evidence before the Gregory Hydro Investigation Commission this morning.

Asked if he thought there should be any change in the form of the Hydro Commission, he said that his opinion was obvious, because he had made no change when Prime Minister. He would not venture an opinion as to more municipal control in Hydro affairs. He gave some sentiments of hte first speaker and his Government.

Sir Adam Beck this morning refused to give the Commission any opinion as to what form he thought an administering body of the Hydro should take. He was prepared to give the Government his well-considered opinion when called upon, but he would not give it to the Commission

Sir Adam said he was disappointed with the earlier reports of the Commission, and contended that the report on the Windsor Railway was not founded on fact. The fact that Ontario was on the eve of a general election, he said, was another reason why he should not give his opinion on the Hydro policy.

SEE HICKS' FINISH AS A LEGISLATOR

U. F. O. Members Charge Him With Divulging Secrets of Caucus.

TORONTO, April 27.—(Special) —Andrew Hicks former government whip, is "through" as a "legislator" says U.F.O. members, who charge him with divulging caucus secrets, and declare that he will lose South Huron nomination.

Sir William Hearst and Newton Wesley Rowell deny all knowledge of a plan to bring them into the Ontario Cabinet as charged by Andrew Hicks.

IMMIGRANTS DELAYED.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 27. Canadian Press. — It was announced here last night that the steamer Marloch bringing a party of immigrants from the Hebrides Islands, would not reach St. John before Sunday afternoon.

TENSE MOMENTS WHEN MEMBERS LOSE TEMPERS

HARSH EXPLETIVES

TORONTO, April 27.—(Special.) —There were tense moments in the Legislature at three o'clock this morning, when Col. Carmichael, enraged at the attitude and remarks of Col. J. A. Currie, left his seat, stepped on the carpet of the floor of the House and headed in the direction of the Toronto member. His face had turned ashen white. High words between the Minister and Col. Currie preceded the usual incident. But for the intervention of Hon. Harry Mills, who jumped from his seat, caught hold of Col. Carmichael and prevented him from approaching near to Col. Currie's desk, a scene unprecedented in the House might have been witnessed.

Estimates the Cause.

The matter arose during the consideration of supplementary estimates for game and fisheries in the department of Hon. H. Mills. Col. Currie had for a considerable time bombarded Mr. Mills with questions concerning certain items and in particular with reference to the purchase of a boat. He declared he would insist on all inquiries being answered before he would allow any item to pass.

Colonel Carmichael at last leaned over to Mr. Mills and spoke to him. Col. Currie suspected that Col. Carmichael knew something about the matter and wanted to know where he got his information. "I know Captain Hopps and have known him for a long time," said Col. Carmichael. "Captain Hopps was the man who made the valuation of $25,000 for the boat for the government."

"Perhaps the Minister of Power can give us some information" said Col. Currie in an insinuating tone of voice.

"Don't you take that line with me," replied Col. Carmichael.

"Don't talk to me like that—your senior officer— or you will get a court martial," fired back Col. Currie.

Col. Carmichael protested and Col. Currie, with some heat, exclaimed, "Don't think you can put it over me, and you cannot lick me, either."

"You dirty scoundred," said Col. Carmichael, and h left his seat with the evident intention of reaching that of the local member.

After Mr. Mills had intervened, Col. Currie, thinking he had been called "a dirty skunk," called out to Col. Carmichael: "He's a double skunk."

Withdraw Demanded.

"Order, order," came from the members.

The excitement had increased by this time. Col. Carmichael explained he had not used the words 'skunk,' but 'scoundrel,' and Col. Currie demanded he withdraw the words.

F. G. Sandy, chairman in committee of supply, requested both members to withdraw the offensive remarks, but pointing to the government benches, he added, "I think these gentlemen are under tremendous provocation from him."

"I withdraw," stated Col. Carmichael.

"Then I will," declared Col. Currie.

The house adjourned at 4.40 a.m. after spending the evening on supplementary estimates in committee of supply.

Premier Clashed.

WORK STARTED ON SALVATION ARMY'S TEMPLE

Building Permit Gives Estimated Expenditure at $28,000-W. J. Braund in Charge of Construction

FINISHED OCT. 1st

Plans of the Salvation Army's new Temple on Simcoe street were approved by City Engineer Parsons on Wednesday, and a building permit was issued yesterday indicating an estimated expenditure of $28,000.

Mr. W. J. Braund has been appointed foreman of construction. He started a gang of men at work Thursday clearing out the debris of the fire that left only the walls of the main body of the old Temple. Most of these walls will be retained in the new building, but the front will be entirely changed. New towers will be erected at each corner and the facade will be brought out to the street line, providing for a new entrance, vestibule, and stairways to the gallery.

The roof will be of steel truss design, and the order for the steel has been placed with the William Hamilton Company. Some other changes will be made at the rear of the Temple especially in the arrangement of accomodation for the bandsmen, providing them with a special cloak and rest room beneath their rehearsal quarters.

Mr. R. C. Braund represents the building committee in generally supervising the work as it progresses He said that the $28,000 is exclusive of the cost of the special windows, furnishings and some other items. He expects that the new Temple will be completed by the first of October.

DECLARE JUDGMENT CONTRARY TO LAW

Gordon & O'Brien Will Appeal Against Finding By Judge Huycke.

On behalf of Miss Minnie Quinn, Messrs. Gordon & O'Brien, her solicitors, have launched an appeal to the Supreme Court of Ontario against the judgment of his Honour Judge Huycke, which was given on the 19th of April.

The grounds of appeal are briefly as follows:

1. That the said judgment is contrary to law in that the said learned Judge should have found the respondent guilty of gross negligence in maintaining the sidewalk upon which the appellant was injured, in a condition of non-repair and lack of repair, by neglecting to have a proper system of inspection and of removing dangerous conditions which developed through pedestrian traffic and by failing to perform or improperly performing the duty devolving on the respondent to maintain the said sidewalk in a fit and proper condition so as to be safe for pedestrians and others using the same.

2. That the learned trial Judge erred in not finding that the said highway was in a condition of non-repair and lack of repair to the knowledge of the respondent and that such non-repair and lack of repair and such knowledge as aforesaid on the part of the respondent constituted gross negligence.

3. Upon the further ground that the learned trial Judge erred in improperly admitting evidence properly not admissible.

4. That the said judgment is contrary to the evidence and weight of evidence.

5. Upon such further and other grounds as to this Honorable Court may appear just and reasonable and counsel may advise.

Two Gallons Syrup From a Maple Tree Since April Eleven

From a maple tree in his sugar bush which he has been testing, W. H. Landon of Gosford, has taken 58 gallons of sap, equal to a little over two gallons of syrup, since April 11, so the season, although late in starting, has been almost up to the average.

CHILD HELPED AVERT TRAGEDY

Presence of Mind of Seven Year Old Paul Roche Saved Companion's Life

Presence of mind in a very small child helped to avert a tragedy yesterday. Jack Cooper, the little seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Cooper, of Engleburn Avenue, and his companion of the same age, Paul Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Roche, 3 Engleburn Avenue, were playing in the water on the river bank near their home, gathering small sticks of floating wood, when Jack fell in. He went under twice, but Paul thrust a stick of wood into the little grasping hands reaching out of the water, and wading in, managed in some fashion to drag the other child to safety.

When asked by his mother why he didn't run for help, little Paul answered; "But I wouldn't have time to get back to save Jack."

A DEPUTATION FROM COUNCIL RETURNS HOME

Change in the Administration of Hydro in This District Was Discussed at Meeting.

COST OF ROADS

A deputation consisting of Mayor W. H. Taylor, Alderman J. W. Meyers, and City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, have returned from Toronto where they represented Peterborough in the Gregory inquiry.

They report that one of the principal matters taken up was the question of whether the Hydro-Electric Power Commission should be appointed by the municipalities instead of by the Government.

The Hydro-Electric Power Association passed a resolution asking that this system be adopted and that the Provinces be relieved of financial responsibility in connection with the Hydro.

Officers were there and advocated the change, but did not seem to have a clear idea of how the financial change could be brought about or how the municipalities would elect members of the Commission if the request was granted.

Some members supported the change; some advocated two members appointed by the municipalites and one by the Government; while others opposed any change.

The Central Ontario system, from which Peterborough receives its power is in a different position from the other systems because the Government owns the developments and the transmission lines, and unless the municipalities purchase the system, there could not be any change in the control.

Cost of Roads.

Yesterday afternoon there was an interview with Hon. F. C. Biggs, the Minister of Highways; Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General; and the Hon. Peter Smith, Provincial Treasurer regarding two amendments to the Provincial Highways Act introduced by the Hon. Mr. Biggs. By these amendments the counties would be relieved of any contribution towards the cost of the Provincial Highways from the first of May last while the cities would still be required to pay 20 per cent of the cost of the Provincial Highways within the suburban area

Nineteen cities were represented, and they all asked that the Bill be amended so that the cities would be relieved of payment towards the Provincial Highways in the same way as the counties. They submitted that it would be a great injustice to relieve the counties and not relieve the cities.

After representatives of the cities had been heard, Hon. Mr. Biggs replied at some length, and his reply indicated that he was inclined to oppose the request of the cities, but he said he would bring their representations before the Cabinet, and they would be considered.

After the Cabinet members withdrew, the representatives of the cities held a meeting and passed a resolution saying that after listening to the reply of the Ministers, they are still of the same opinion, and urged that in justice to the cities, the Bill should be amended as they requested.

KING AND QUEEN OF DANES HELD A CELEBRATION

Silver Wedding Anniversary of Their Majesties Fittingly Observed at Fredensborg Castle.

NOTABLES PRESENT.

COPENHAGEN, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—The silver wedding anniversary of Their Danish Majesties, King Christian X. and Queen Alexandrine, was celebrated yesterday at the Fredensborg Castle, where thirty and forty years ago nearly all the crowned heads of Europe were accustomed to gather around the picturesque figure of "Europe's Father-in-Law."

Here for the festivities were King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf, of Norway; Prince Waldemar, King Christian's brother, who has been spending some time in London; Queen Alexandrine's sister, the former Crown Princess of Germany, and her children; the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland and many other illustrious personages.

Although Their Majesties' guests spent the day amid the sylvan charms of Fredensborg, twenty miles north of this city, the King and Queen motored here to receive at the Amalienborg Palace the various deputations from their Royal subjects, who called to offer congratulations and to bring anniversary gifts.

A gala banquet was held last evening at Fredensborg Castle for the Royal guests, the chiefs of the foreign legations and other notables.

TURKS REMAIN RECALCITRANT AT LAUSANNE

Slight Progress is Made But on the Whole Turkey Proves Difficult to Deal With.

CONCESSIONS.

LAUNSANNE, April 27. Canadian Press. — The absence of a plenary session of the Near East conference, the various sub-committees dealt yesterday chiefly with the relationships between the Turkish government and companies operating in Turkey; the negotiations, according to some of the allied observers, showed some progress.

Under pressure from the allies Ismet Pasha agreed to urge the Angora government to hasten direct negotiations involving concessions, in order to avoid having them brought before the conference. Ismet reiterated Turkey's determination never to permit the relations between the Ottoman Government and the Ottoman Nationals to be fixed in the Lausanne Treaty, holding that this question was one purely for Turkey.

The Allies, on the other hand, contended that most of the companies holding concessions may have Turkish names, but in reality are controlled by foreigners. This diversion of the discussion of concessions to Constantinople and Angora, it is hoped by the conference leaders, may serve to keep discussion of the Chester agreement away from Lausanne, although the indications are that Turkey would like to see it form party of the treaty.

The tendency of the allies, however, is to avoid any question likely to develop a clash of interests between France and the United States over Turkish economic problems and the open door.

Liquidation of German property in Turkey was also discussed, involving the famous Berlin-Bagdad Railroad project, although its name was not mentioned. The Turks said they did not object to liquidation but could not carry it out without foreign assistance.

Experts have been charged with drafting a liquidation plan whereby Turkey will surrender all the proceeds to the Reparations Commission when the property is governmental, and to private owners when it is private property.

So live that you can laugh at any collector in town.

The question of the hour is, "Is it that late?"

PREM. DRURY SMOKES THE PIPE OF PEACE WITH J. J. MORRISON

Farmers Will Go to the Country as a Solid Group, But Committed to No Broadening Out

CHARGES DENIED

TORONTO, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—Within 24 hours after the unanimous decision of the Ontario Liberals to fight the coming election without making alliances, Premier Drury yesterday agreed to the demands laid down on April 14 by the Farmers' Sun, and smoked the pipe of peace with J. J. Morrison and members of the organization executive. As a result, the Farmers will go to the country as a solid group. But there must be no broadening out either before or after the election without the consent of the organization.

According to an official statement handed out from U.F.O. offices after the conference yesterday, the Premier has pledged himself, in the event of the Government lacking a majority after the election, to call a conference of elected members, defeated candidates and the Executive of the United Farmers and affiliated organizations and to be guided by the decision reached. Two weeks ago, in a speech at Milton, Premier Drury took up the challenge of the Farmers' Sun and refused to promise that there would be no affiliation. The Farmers' Sun had asked the Premier to give assurance of a future policy to his supporters that would put an end to the whispers of re-alignment after the election.

Hon. Manning Doherty was ambassador between the Premier and the organizations, and is believed to have suggested terms on which an agreement was reached.

Sweeping Denial.

A general and sweeping denial of the latest charges preferred by Andrew Hicks, member for South Huron, against Premier Drury, emanated from Government circles at Queen's Park last night. The Premier issued an unqualified denial, and a U. F. O. caucus subsequently issued a brief statement of denial.

Mr. Hicks' second bombshell of the session — wherein he charged that the Premier had at one time decided to join the King Cabinet as a Liberal, and that he had discussed with U.F.O. members Cabinet changes, involving the entry of R. J. Fleming, Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., and Sir William Hearst—undoubtedly exploded with some considerable effect in the House.

But there were quick results. Shortly after 8 o'clock a caucus was hurriedly called and the following statement was issued:

"Discussion on the Ottawa situation referred to by Andrew Hicks, M.L.A., in his alleged interview, took place in full caucus, not during the summer, as stated by Mr. Hicks, but immediately after the Dominion elections in December, 1921, and nothing that occurred in that meeting can possibly bear out the interpretation placed upon it by Mr. Hicks.

Say Utterly Untrue.

"Further, allegations and interferences made in an article with reference to the introduction of outside prominent men into the Cabinet and to the election of these men under a system of proportional representation are equally without any foundation in fact, and must be branded as utterly untrue.

"Signed on behalf of the Government caucus,

"T. W. Freeborn, Secretary.
"E. J. Evans, Government Whip."

MONEY

Cost of living in Germany increased two and a half times during January. If we had the same situation, it would take $3.50 to buy what cost only $1 a month ago. The German wage earner must have his hands full, trying to keep his income increasing apace with prices. That's the real internal situation in Germany.

HIGH WAGES HERE HOLD UP INDUSTRY

Canadian Ship Builders Cannot Compete With British.

MONTREAL, April 27. Canadian Press. — England is ousting Canadian shipbuilding companies from their own market, owing to a big variation, amounting to 40 per cent., in the cost of production. The result is that there will not be much ship building in Canada for some time.

These are the conclusions formed by Arthur R. Gillham, managing director of Canadian Vickers Limited, who has just returned from a four months' business trip to England and and France.

"As regards shipbuilding overseas" he said, "there are signs of moderate improvement. Today Great Britain is building about 30 ships for the Canadian great lakes at figures which it has been impossible for the Canadian ship builder to approach, largely brought about by the fact that the skilled mechanic in England is getting approximately one half of what is paid to the same labor on this side."

Ontario Legislature Making Rapid Strides in Clearing Up Work of the Last Few Days.

BLUE SKY LAW.

TORONTO, April 27—(Canadian Press).—The Legislature yesterday afternoon made rapid progress in cleaning up Legislation. Hon. Beniah, Bowman, Minister of Lands and Forests in a resolution ask leave to borrow five million dollars for Northern Ontario development. He said that the fire of last year has used up such a large sum that the loan was necessary now. Z. 'Mageau (Lib. Sturgeon Falls) said the extra loan should be made every year and that then the north would not be getting enough. The resolution carried.

Hon. F. C. Nixon secured second reading for a bill which allows bakers to be assessed as retailers instead of manufacturers thereby saving them considerable expense. It also gives the right where those assessed on last year' basis may appeal and get advantage of the new legislation.

Second reading was given a bill introduced by Hon. D. Carmichael whereby a municipality having a hydro electric plant may provide power to a neighboring municipality if the latter consents by laws of its council. Hon. Harry Mills Minister of Mines out through a bill whereby the Canada Company may surrender certain of its mineral rights on lands held back to the crown thus escaping taxation on mineral holdings. R. L. Bracklin (Lib. West Kent) urged the Minister to see that municipalities which were now taxing the company to see that municipalities which were now taxing the company on its mineral right, be protested. The Minister promised protection and the bill passed.

Hon. W. E. Raney withdrew as arranged with the opposition leaders the bill on land titles and another dealing with commercial agreement. The latter is an anti combine act and the Attorney General pointed out that in view of the legislation being introduced along the same line at Ottawa that the provincial measure was not so imperative now. Further discussion of the Blue Sky Law in committee as delayed. H. H. Dewart said that the Attorney General had promised to have the bill reprinted with the amendments. As the bill was not printed Mr. Dewart demanded and was allowed an adjournment of the discussion until it is.

The House then went into estimates. H. H. Dewart, J. W. Curry and W. H. Price, Toronto members urged that the Attorney General increase the salaries of the assistant crown attorneys in Toronto and York. The three members paid a tribute to the splendid work of these officials. The Attorney General said he thought he could promise an increase but that such action would have to be taken by the Lieutenant in Council.

Railway Construction

Prompt investigation into allegations made in legislature last night as to conditions under which workmen on Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway extension are placed by sub contractors was promised by Premier Drury who said that he would "have matter thoroughly investigated, get information and submit to house before it rises."

Charges were made by J. H. Marceau (Liberal Nipissing) who said that contract for extension had been sublet and sublet and sublet again and final contractors were getting men to work for "nothing but their board." Mr. Marceau brought matter to attention of house when he asked Hon. Walter Rollo if fair wage clause had been placed. Mr. Rollo replied that he had been assured by T. and N. O. commission that clause would be inserted providing for payment of prevailing rate of wages in district. This was first intimation he had that this clause had not been inserted in contract.

Mr. Marceau charged that sub contractors charged men for mail service. Doctorss fees, transportation etc. He admitted that on certain work, men were paid from $26 to $32 a month.

KEEP OUT OF THE WAY.

Because of interference with the fire brigade while the latter was busy in the business for which it was engaged—fighting a fire—several Kitchener people are being hailed into police court.

The interference complained of consisted in driving motor cars too close to the scene of the fire and thus hampering the operations of the firemen.

It is a practice that unfortunately is not confined to Kitchener.

There are many motorists in Peterborough who indulge in this kind of thing every time a fire alarm is sounded, and it will perhaps be necessary to administer the same warning as Kitchener is giving, that the fire fighters must have a clear field in which to do their work.

No reason except the gratification of curiosity exists why automobilists should consider it necessary to drive in almost on top of the fire apparatus, block hydrants and generally make nuisances of themselves when the serious business of trying to extinguish a fire is in hand.

The least that can be done is to ensure the brigade not only a clear run to the scene, but a chance to operate under the most favourable conditions.

It is a point for drivers to remember the next time an alarm is sounded.

MR. TOOMS' POSITION.

The statement from Mr. Thos. Tooms, M.L.A., that the Examiner was in error in declaring that Mr. Tooms intended to contest the coming election as an independent follower of Mr Drury and not under Labour's flag contains a considerable element of surprise.

In his address to the electors of West Peterborough in announcing his candidature, Mr. Tooms certainly left a general impression that he proposed to enter the fight as an independent.

There was no mention of Labour whatever in his pronouncement and the absence of such references, it may be mentioned, has not gone unnoticed by labour men in the riding.

Now he declares that he is "coming out as the Labour-Farmer candidate, exactly as I did in 1919."

Where does that statement leave Mr. Tooms?

If it means anything, it means that he intends to offer himself as a candidate before a convention of the Independent Labour Party and that if he is the choice of the convention he will be in the field.

It should mean too, that if somebody else receives the Labour nomination, Mr. Tooms will not be a candidate.

Too receive the same status as he had in 1919 and which he claims today, the member for West Peterborough should not only be nominated by the Labour Party, but receive the endorsation of the Farmers.

That is the only way in which he could earn the right to call himself the Labour-Farmer candidate. And if that is the way he proposes to go about it he is on sound ground, whether he could carry out such a programme or not is another matter.

The Independent Labour Party in this district has not shown much signs of activity. It may revive under the stimulus of an election campaign, but supposing it does, has Mr. Tooms any guarantee that he could carry the convention?

The alliance which threw considerable agrarian support to Mr. Tooms in 1919 was based on the understanding that Labour would co-operate with the U.F.O. in the Federal arena.

But the Labour Party entered its own candidate in the Federal by-election in opposition to a Farmer nominee and the Farmers have not forgotten that fact.

They are more likely to nominate a candidate on their own account in the provincial fight, than they are to get behind a Labour nominee.

These are the conditions that cause some wonder at Mr Tooms' re-statement of his position.

His original announcement, in which the impression was left that he was to be an independent candidate, was much more easily understood.

As a matter of fact, however, is there an elector in West Peterborough who does not believe that Mr. Tooms intends to be a candidate in any event, and that even if the Labour Party nominated another standard-bearer and the Farmers entered the arena with a man of their own, that the sitting member for the riding would still be found in the fight?

What he will finally decide to call himself is not clear, but one fact seems to stand out prominently — Mr Tooms will be a candidate.

EXPERT FIGURES ON COAL HAULAGE

While it is important to remember that we must make every effort to reduce the railway deficit, there is danger that we may overlook other just-as-important problems, says the Ottawa Journal. Apparently the cost of hauling coal from Alberta, based on the expert computations of traffic officials, prevents Ontario from seeking relief from her coal troubles from that quarter. But such figures should be discarded in the light of the emergency which was upon us the past winter. Surely there is need of drastic treatment of a situation that may be as painful in its results as many of the so-called emergencies of war time that were handled without regard to existing regulations.

The trouble is we can't get our eyes away from the war debt and the railway deficit. We can't see anything but the maintenance of traffic charges that are slowly strangling the people and causing uneasiness in every part of the land. And we are inclined to murmur: "What's the use—the winter is over and spring is upon us—let next winter take care of itself."

When railway statisticians are asked to give the cost of hauling a ton of coal from Alberta to Ottawa they, doubtless, take into account every item of expense in the carrying on of the railway and apportion a share of every item against that particular ton of coal Even a fraction of Sir Henry Thornton's salary is included. But if, on the other hand, only the actual running expenses of the coal trains are considered, eliminating all overhead, it may be found that the distance from Alberta is not a difficulty that cannot be surmounted.

Let us cut out the expert figures and deal with the problem in a human way. Most of the coal could be hauled during seasons when the railways have thousands of idle cars in the yards, when earnings are low. It is undeniable that it would be a wonderful thing if the people of Ontario could use coal mined within the Dominion -Then what more fitting thing than for Parliament to busy itself with the removal of the obstacles that keep us from doing the thing that it is desirable for us to do? Our legislators have spent weeks eloquently debating personal grudges against the Mounted Police, the Douglas Credit System, and fiscal theories that are not particularly pertinent to the problem of how Canadians can live in comfort. There seems to be time for everything but the urgency of the fuel situation.

THE FARMER AS A BUSINESSMAN.

Keeping a set of books on the farm is no longer the idea of a professor or a faddist, says the London Advertiser. It is part of the day's work on hundreds of farms in Ontario. Prof. Archibald Leitch, of the farm management department of the O.A.C., has done more by persistent effort and careful co-operation with the farmers themselves to popularize this work than could possibly have been accomplished in any other way. The fact that he has a number of agriculturists all over the country working with him in this matter accounts for the success that has attended his efforts.

Or perhaps greater importance than anything Prof. Leitch can say is the testimony of the men who are furnishing him with the material from which he gets his cost figures. In the county of Oxford, for instance, he has 17 selected farms where accurate accounts are kept every day. These entries are all sent to the farm accounting department at the O.A.C. at the end of the year, and each time put it in its proper place. Of course, this system is too extensive and too great in its demands to be of practical value on the average farm. But it is from these 17 places that the actual cost figures are secured, and these are so carefully compiled that they can be accepted as working bases for any other agriculturists in the district.

The fact that it costs 94 cents per hour for a man to operate a team of horses on a plow has taken a great deal of detailed cost work to establish; likewise that it cost in Oxford county in the last year for which figures are available 48½ cents per bushel to grow oats, $12.83 per ton for hay, 49 cents per bushel for mixed grain, or $1.34 to produce fall wheat. These figures were all obtained under carefully noted, positive conditions and they will stand up under investigation as being the average costs.

The man in the city is often heard to make the statement that the farmer gets his living for nothing. Not for one minute. Prof. Leitch allows him a salary, based on what his services would be worth if he went to work for another farmer with equal responsibilities to his own. He charges him for his house, for all the supplies furnished to the house from the farm, for the use of the horses for other than farm work, etc. There is no chance for the farmer to be fooled or to fool himself under that system.

Men who use farm accounting, and there are many of them in Oxford, say that it enables them to know rather than to guess what they are doing. They can tell whether it is better for them to alter their style of farming. Apart from all this there is the necessity for the thing, because the average investment in 17 farms from which figures are taken to represent the county, is $17,342, and no man is going to have that much capital at stake and be loose or careless about keeping records of what the property is doing for him. The keeping of farm records is one of the best positive forces that has been introduced and extended in recent years.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Every day in every way, the candidates are getting more plentiful.

Any kind of a blue sky law would be better than none at all. But there is no reason why Ontario should not be able to get a satisfactory one.

A Montreal girl charged with having narcotic drugs in her possession flashed a $1,000 bill upon the court officials. In cases of that kind a fine will not do much to stop the traffic.

Mr. Tilley's bill for legal service in connection with the Grand Trunk arbitration is $95,800. No wonder there is an exodus from the farms.

The honour conferred by Ontario upon Dr. F. G. Banting is a merited tribute to the work done by the discoverer of insulin.

The Canadian Merchant Marine should be yanked out of the shipping combine. National ships should not be a party to discrimination against national products.

The Dominion Budget is expected to be brought down next week. Its contents will be awaited with general interest.

People who are inclined to buy German marks are asked to notice the Mail and Empire's advice that something like thirty dollars will make a man a millionaire in German marks, but if he waits a little longer thirty cents may do the trick.

One dog in Peterboro certainly played a mean trick on the rest of the dogs in that city. He was around looking over the garbage cans, and apparently there must have been a salmon tin or a wishbone in the mayor's collection, and the dog proceeded to root it out.

In order to do this it was necessary to turn the garbage can over and spread the contents on the ground. That showed wisdom and persistence on the part of the dog. He probably came from a very thrifty home, where they sift all the ashes and look carefully to see that nothing goes to waste via the garbage route.

But all these fine points were lost, because the mayor brought the matter up at the council meeting, and one of the aldermen was empowered to hire a real honest-to-goodness dog catcher to run down all these garbage can hounds.

The dog that caused all this mischief will certainly be well advised if he stays under the barn for the next week or ten days.—London Advertiser.

"Since Zam-Buk removed the child's skin disease," continues Mrs. Campbell, "my brother-in-law has come to realise Zam-Buk's wonderful power. He has a hip trouble that periodically causes a gathering which breaks open. For healing this sore he finds Zam-Buk most effective.

"My husband (a railroad man), often needs Zam-Buk. Last summer his thumb was bad through getting it caught in the metal fastener of a box-car door. When the thumb end was almost severed Zam-Buk prevented complications and healed in a week. We would not be without Zam-Buk at any price, and every family should know of its value."

CROP REPORT

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agriculture Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Less seeding has been done than for many years at the same date. The season has been unusually backward—some place it at three weeks—and suitable farm labor has been harder to procure than ever.

Fall wheat has shown marked improvement during the week, the two or three warm days causing the fields to green nicely, although some patchy spots are revealed where ice had done injury Kent, which grows more fall wheat than any other county, says: "The condition of the weather in the past week has been very favorable for the fall wheat, and we are hoping that it will turn out better than has been anticipated. Some fields are quite green, and the majority of the wheat that got a good start in the fall is coming through in fairly good condition."

Lincoln: Most of the fruit growers have applied the dormont spray for the prevention of peach leaf curl, but there are still a few orchards which have not yet been attended to.

Hastings: Many farmers are busy cleaning up their orchards in preparation for spraying. Most farmers are using nicotine sulphate in their first spray this year for apple trees in order to destroy aphids which have done considerable damage in the past year to the new buds. A quantity of maple syrup is being offered for sale at $2.50 per gallon. The run of sap this year has been much larger than was first expected.

Port Arthur: A nursery man and agent in this district has received orders for apple trees to the extent of over $4,000 for spring delivery. Most of the trees are Russian varieties.

Brant: Live stock are beginning to move now. The big cattle for export have been bought recently at 7½-c and some drovers are offering more for cattle to be lifted in May. Smaller cattle are selling from 6 to 7c. One thing very noticeable this year is the mortality among little pigs. I know at least six farmers in the vicinity who have lost all the little pigs they had this spring.

Kent: We have a number of steers in the county ready for the market. The drovers state that shipping capacity on the boats for the holding up the sales.

Victoria: It will be some time yet before cows can be put out on pasture. In the meantime, however, the supply of cream and milk is increasing. Quite a number of farmers are planning to provide sweet clover pasture again this year.

Fort William says that in the Finnish settlements there appears to be a preference for Jersey Cattle.

Elgin reports that milk has gone up to $2.25 per cwt. for 3.5 fat test at the condensery, and that production is increasing.

Leeds: There is a greater demand for breeding sows of bacon type than usual. These are scarce and bring from $25 to $50 for good stock.

Lanark: Good horses are selling up to $200 each and some heavy horses of good quality as high as $250.

Norfolk: There is complaint generally of the poor hatches of chicks this year Very few report more than a forty percent hatch. Eggs seem fertile, but germ is too weak to develop The cold weather is blamed.

NEWS WARKWORTH AND THE DISTRICT.

The McGillivray - Baker Nuptials—Personal Mention and News Paragraphs.

WARKWORTH, April 27.—A very quiet wedding was solemnized Tuesday, April 24th, at eleven thirty a.m. at the home of Mr and Mrs. W. J. Baker, when their third daughter, Alice Victoria, was united in holy matrimony to Rev. Russell McGillivray, B.A., B.D., of the manse Burlington, Ont., son of the late Donald and Mrs. McGillivray of Hamilton, Rev. D. A. Thompson of Hastings, officiating.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus played by Miss Blanche Baker, the bride, wearing a gown of pale blue canton crepe with crystal trimmings and carrying a bouquet of Hoosier Beauty roses and fern, entered the living room leaning on the arm of her father. The room was beautifully decorated with evergreens and pussywillows.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where a dainty luncheon was served. Hepaticas and white streamers formed the decoration of the dining room.

The grooms gift to the bride was a purse and to the pianist a pearl brooch.

Mr and Mrs McGillivray left for a two weeks trip to New York and Atlantic City ,the bride travelling in a navy poiret twill tailored suit and with plum colored hat and veil to match. On their return they will reside at Burlington.

On Friday evening, April 20th the choir of the Presbyterian church, Warkworth presented Miss Baker with a cut glass bowl

AT BAILIEBORO AND DISTRICT

Cavan and South Monaghan Farmers' Picnic June 21 — Sports Day Arranged For May 24.

BALIEBORO, April 27.—On Monday evening the regular fortnight meeting of the Cavan and South Monaghan, U.F.O. Club was held in the hall at Centreville. After the regular routine of business, the question of setting the date for the annual U.F.O. picnic was discussed. It was decided to hold the picnic on June 21 at Wallace's Point, and committees were appointed to arrange for the occasion.

M. Hollowell, a representative of the Northern Electric Telephone Company, was present and gave a talk on improving the telephone system in Cavan and South Monaghan. It was decided to send circulars to phone-holders, explaining the advantage of uniting the several lines in one. A interesting discussion followed between the visitor and phone-holders.

Epworth League.

The weekly meeting of the Epworth League was held in the Methodist church on Monday evening. Rev. R .M. Patterson, occupied the chair and after the devotional exercises, the new officers or the ensuing year were appointed They are:

President, Miss Hattie Dawson; secretary, Mr. Ernest Dawson; organist, Miss Zelma Gainer; 1st vice-president, May Graham; 2nd vice-president, Frank Dawson; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. J Jewison; 4th vice-president, Fred Barnard, William Lang; treasurer, Norman Earle.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening under the direction of the 1st vice-president, Miss Graham.

Sports Day

A meeting was held in the Tuxis Boys' hall on Monday evening, to consider the prospects for a Sports day on May 24.

Hector Jewison was appointed chairman of the meeting and Wm. Lang, secretary. It was decided to arrange a day of sports for May 24, and a committee consisting of Jno. Porter, Jas. Lang, Jno. Greer and Hector Jewison, were appointed to secure a suitable field for the occasion.

Last year's sport committee was appointed to serve again this year.

The managing committee is as follows: Jno. Greer, James Campbell, S. R. Nichol, Jno. Porter, Harry Dawson, Chas. Wicks, A. C. Cole, J. W. White, Thos. Skitch, Geo. Fletcher, Wilbur Barnard, Hector Jewison and Jas. Lang.

The committee's sport last last year was a decided success, and it is hoped that this coming event may prove better than ever. The Tuxis Boys will provide a booth on the grounds again this year and supper will be served.

News Nuggets.

Mostly all of the farmers in this district have started their spring seeding. The full wheat has turned out wonderfully well this spring and is looking quite green. Prospects for a good wheat crop throughout this district certainly are decidely promising if late frosts are not too numerous and severe.

On account of the ice remaining in the lake so late, the trappers did not get as large catches of rats this season as in previous years It is thought that muskrats will be more plentiful next year as there were so few trapped this season.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 28 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before.

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. Ellen Laira of Pictou, N. S. who is 87, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Chas. N. Nicholas of Winnipeg, Man., finds it both helpful and beneficial, and everything that can be desired from a laxative standpoint.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps.

Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 23 Caldwell Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

COBOURG AND DISTRICT

COBOURG, April 27—An unusual event here in that two local pastors, Rev. H. A. Carson, pastor of Cobourg and Coldsprings Congregational churches and Rev. J. P. McLennon, pastor of Cobourg Baptist church, complete their work here next Sunday. Cobourg citizens regret this removal from town.

Two Marriages.

On Wednesday, April 18, Ella Luella, daughter of Mr. Richard White, and Mr. Frederick Wilfred Dean, both of Elizabethville, were married, Rev. J F. Meers, now of Port Hope, officiating.

Rev. J F. Meers officated also at the marriage of Dorothy Pearl, daughter of Mr. George Lengard, Port Hopen and Lanceley Theodore Mills of Hope township.

Six Months at Burwash

Cecil Middleton, a Newcastle youth, who was remanded to jail here for sentence after pleading guilty to the theft of $18.50, and a motor tire from citizens of Hope township was taken to Port Hope, where he was sentenced to six months at Burwash Farm. It is stated that his previous record was not a good one, and the court felt that lawlessness must be stopped.

Oddfellows at Funeral.

A number of Cobourg Oddfellows went up to Port Hope on Sunday to attend the funeral of Harold Brown, little son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Brown, who died of pneumonia. The little boy was in his fifth year and had been sick for about two weeks. Rev. Mr. Wood of the Baptist church officiated at the service and the funeral was largely attended.

A Delightful Concert

Friday evening the Cobourg Music Study Club arranged for a very enjoyable concert which was held in the Congregational church. It was a benefit concert and the proceeds are to be donated to the benevolent work of the local branch of the King's Daughters. The out-of-town artists were: Mr. Davidson, Kitchen- a son of the late Judge Kitchen, of the Counties Court of Durham and Northumberland and Major Alexander of Toronto. Mr. Kitchen was heard with much delight in organ numbers and Major Alexander sang. Local musical people who assisted were: Mr. J. Edward Fisher, in organ numbers; Miss K. Warner, and J. McDougall Hayden in organ and piano duets; Mrs Henry Fullerton, Miss Sailsbury and Mr. Reginald Jackson in vocal solos and Mr. Cowen in cornet selections. The programme was a very enjoyable one and the concert was well attended.

Local and Personal

CANADIAN NOTE ISSUES ARE THE BEST IN WORLD

Committee Told That the Canadian Plan Has Been Adopted By U. S. For Federal Reserve System.

BRITISH SYSTEM.

OTTAWA, April 27.—(Canadian Press.)—"I would not like to say we had any fiat money in Canada at the present time," said Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, before the Banking and Commerce yesterday afternoon.

He defined fiat money as "money without gold as its basis and not redeemable and passing on the fiat of the government."

"Can banks control prices by control of credit?" asked W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant.

"I suppose that any person who handles a large amount of credit can affect prices by issuing it or recalling it," was the reply, "but that is a very different thing from price making."

Sir Edmund admitted frankly that the right to issue notes was "a franchise given to the banks by the Canadian people." He expressed the view, however, that the Canadian note issue was the best in the world. The Federal Reserve system he said, had adopted the Canadian plan except as re-discount and as to branch banks.

He emphasized the value of having Canadian bank notes subject to daily redemption.

"Could not a government issue of notes be subject to daily redemption?" asked Mr. Good.

"If the government were a banker, yes," was the reply, "if the notes were part of the funded debt, no."

The Canadian Finance Act should be continued in force until the British pound and the Canadian dollar go on a gold basis, Sir Edmund told L. J. Ladner, Conservative, South Vancouver. He did not favor the adoption in Canada of the Federal Reserve system of the United States as it made re-discounting profitable, while the Bank of England made re-discount costly. Under the American system if the rural banks had loaned, they could borrow at 5 and loan at 7 per cent., while in England the re-discount rate was higher than the rate at which the bank could relean.

Mr. Ladner read a telegram from the British Columbia bond dealers association complaining against the banks doing bond business.

Sir Edmund replied that banks had dealt in government bonds ever since the establishment of the Bank of England.

Jas. Woodsworth, Labor, Centre Winnipeg, referred to a statement by Sir Edmund urging the need of hard work and greater production to pay the cost of the war, and asked how the increased amount of production could be sold.

It could be sold in the markets of the world, was the reply, if the products were made of the kind that purchasers want.

"Not classes," corrected Sir Edmund. "There are servant girls holding $50 war bonds."

He opposed the outside audit of banks and expressed the view that this system by creating a false sense of confidence had had its natural result in the collapse of the Merchants Bank.

"Are bank directors usually large shareholders?" asked Mr. Woodsworth.

In the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Sir Edmund answered, out of a total of a little over 7,000 shares, six thousand were owned by holders of 25 shares or less.

"Who profits when a bank note is destroyed," queried Mr. Woodsworth.

"The public," was the reply, "the bank has to carry it as a debit and in case of failure has to place its equivalent in the hands of the government."

"In the meantime," said Mr. Woodsworth, "the bank has the use of the money?"

"Yes," replied the witness.

He criticized the proposal for a five year revision of the Bank Act.

"It would be agonizing to the banks," he added, "and serve no good purpose."

In other countries, he remarked, bank charters were for 30 to 50 years or indefinite.

He told A. M. Carmichael, (Progressive, Kindersley), that a 7 per cent maximum on the interest rate would close most of the bank offices in the west.

"We would like to see some closed," were Mr. Carmichael's comments.

H. H. Stevens called attention to the complaints against the keeping of money on call loans in New York.

"Would it not be well to bring that money back to Canada at this time of stringency," he asked.

"In the first place," was the reply, "the present time is not stringent. There is plenty of credit. The trouble is that the people have not the transactions to offer that are a good basis for bank credit. As regards New York loans, Canada has again been saved in time of crisis by our ability to withdraw funds from New York."

Sir Edmund criticized the proposas ito prohibit banks from carrying as current loans those on which the interest has not been paid for the last year. This proposal has been regarded as designed to meet such conditions as arose in connection with the Merchants Bank. Sir Edmund said the proposed amendment would put in the class of overdue debts a large body of loans that were quite sound, including many western loans. He opposed the registration of bank liens as asked by the British Textile trade and as included in the Bank Bill by the Minister of Finance.

The new penalty clauses for false statements in monthly bank returns, Sir Edmund told H. Marler Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George, Montreal, would make it impossible for bank presidents or general managers to sign these returns. He urged that the furthest the law should go was to punish guilty knowledge.

The committee then adjourned till to-day.

TWELVE PERSONS DIED IN A FIRE

Tenement Building in New York Destroyed This Morning.

NEW YORK, April 27.—(Canadian Press.)—Twelve persons were believed to have died in a fire which swept through a tenement building in East 109th Street early to-day. A family of five were among the victims, perishing in the fifth floor apartment. Scores fled from the flame-filled structure by way of fire escapes, while a dozen others were spectacularly rescued by police and firemen.

Twenty persons were injured, many of them seriously. Several firemen and policemen were burned in effecting rescues. Nine of the dead perished in the building. The other two had been removed to hospital, where they died of shock and burns.

When the firemen were able to enter the shell of the building they found ten charred bodies, those of two women, two girls, three men and three boys. All were removed to the morgue, where hysterical men and women tried to identify them. Seven of the dead were members of the family of David Mandelbaum. They were Mrs. Mandelbaum and her children, Alexander 5, Benajmin 8, Morris 10, Michael 12, Minnie 16, and a year old baby. The other dead were Aaron Kuxis, his wife, their daughter Bertha 21, their son David, 18, and a relative, Mrs. Isaac Brownstein, who was visiting them.

TRADE TREATY PASSES HOUSE

Solid Party Division on Second Reading of Canadian - French Trad Measure.

OTTAWA, April 7. —(Canadian Press.)— Following another day of spirited debate the House of Commons last night passed the second reading of the bill to give effect to a new trade treaty between Canada and France.

Division gave a majority for the treaty of 109. A feature—unusual in the present Parliament—was the solid party vote. All Liberals and all Progressives present votes for the Treaty. All Conservatives voted against it.

Favorable Treatment.

By Article 2, of the treaty, Canada was guaranteed most favorable nation treatment, said Mr. Guthrie in debate. Under the old treaty Canada was guaranteed the best terms which France gave to any other nation. The new treaty would permit France to make special trade agreements with other nations, but Canada could not claim the same consideration. Another point was that France reserved the right to raise either the general or minimum tariff, and merely undertook to give Canada a percentage reduction.

Amendment Hinted.

In the afternoon came intimation of a Conservative amendment. But, subsequently Hon. Hugh Guthrie announced that after consultation with the Opposition leader, amendment for the present would be held over. In debate, the Conservatives charged that the treaty gave advantages to France without corresponding advantages to Canada. It was, declared Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, a mere surrender to France on the part of the Minister of Finance, and would result in greater exodus from Canada to the United States. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, who, along with the Minister of Finance, negotiated the treaty strongly pressed that the net result would be to lower tariff rates. He thought attacks on the treaty would be received in France with mixed feelings. J. Fred Johnston, chief Progressive whip, said the Progressives supported the treaty because they wanted better relations with France.

GILLETT'S LYE

Comparatively few people realize to what extent Gillett's Lye can be used to advantage in every home. For instance, with one can of Gillett's Lye and five and a half pounds of lard or grease, ten pounds of good hard soap can be made. Use one tablespoon Gillett's Lye in gallon of water for cleaning and disinfecting refrigerators, sinks, garbage cans, tiled floors, baths and toilets.

Useful for over 500 purposes.

Always The Same—
Always The Best

THE Quaker Flour motto means what it says. The Quaker standard is the highest in flour milling, and this standard is rigidly maintained in every bag. First comes the careful cleaning of the grain, then a milling process possible only with the most modern equipment, and finally the constant laboratory and baking tests.

"The happy baker uses Quaker"— because its consistent uniform quality guarantees unvarying success. Equally satisfactory for bread, cakes and pies.

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

GOOD RADIO WANT ADS.

If you are a radio fan, the Want Ads can help you—if not in one way only, then in another. Maybe you are that common party in these days the owner of a small radio set who wishes one of greater power. There are many persons in just such a situation. When radio first interested them, they went ahead cautiously. They got sets requiring moderate expenditure only. Now, they are radio followers of unrestrained enthusiasm. They want to hear the distant stations.

If you are not in this situation now, you may be sometime. This is the kind of a Want Ad to insert to find a buyer quickly for the outgrown set.

Tell what the set cost now, then what you will sell it for. If you don't care to mention figures, indicate that you are willing to make it a bargain. "Cheap," "very reasonable," "bargain price," are good words. Describe the condition of the set. If "like new" or "good as new," say so. Mention some of the stations you heard. Say, is possible, "Call any evening this week for demonstration." If you know of something unusually good to be broadcasted on one of these evenings, mention it and say, "Come and hear this." One other piece of information will strengthen your Want Ad—why you are selling. "Want larger set," will secure confidence.

Now, having found a buyer for your old set, perhaps you wish to buy a good used one of greater capacity. You use the classified section again, making your Want Ad effective by following these hints:

You offer to pay cash. You say, "Phone and will call and examine." You give a phone number. You indicate in general terms, or specifically if you can, what you want in the way of a set. If you are disposed to pay an excellent price to get what you want, used—even so, you will be saving a good deal—you say, "Will pay excellent cash price."

The Want Ads help radio fans in still other ways. A lady who conducts a boarding house says, advertising for boarders, "Guests much enjoy our splendid radio set." She finds the boarders! Yes, Want Ads, given a chance will help anybody.

This Nurse Sends a Message To Every Woman in Canada

Brantford, Ont.—"During my twenty-one years of experience at nursing, I not only took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription myself to keep up my health and strength, but I have also recommended it to many a patient, especially to prospective mothers, and think it is by far the best tonic and nervine that a woman can take, and for that reason I give it my highest endorsement."—Mrs. A. A. Foulger, 41 Sheridan Street.

Health is most important to every woman. You cannot afford to neglect it when your neighborhood druggist can supply you with Favorite Prescription, in tablets or liquid. This Prescription is made in Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont. Send 10 cents here if you wish a trial package.

BROTHERS' VIEWS ABOUT THE SCREEN

The De Mille Brothers Are a Study in Contrasts.

By JACK JUNGMEYER

HOLLYWOOD, April 21.—William C. De Mille has closed his script "rejection" department, saying he will consider no more amateur screeds because from many thousands examined in the past 10 years he he has not found one screenable story.

Cecil B. De Mille at the same time is doubling his reading department and will continue to give careful attention to all manuscripts submitted.

These diverse announcements from the equally famous picture producers will not alone interest budding authors and scenario novices the country over, but will also serve to contrast the dramatic viewpoints the brothers so strikingly personify.

* * *

William De Mille, the elder, says there is dramatic material in you and me, in the milkman and street car conductor, in every individual, sufficient to fashion gripping plays.

Cecil maintains that it requires the composite of about 5,000 humans to create a universally interesting screen character adding and substracting something from each.

Hence Cecil's thematic spectacular presentations and caricatures of life, with brilliant color and movement and mobs, while William works in lower tones, vignetting the individual, exploring and exploiting the subjective.

* * *

In personal characteristics the De Milles differ as sharply as they do professionally. Cecil always immaculately dressed; William saying "what's a wrinkle more or less between a friendly coat and vest?" Cecil dynamic, electrifying his organization, making vivid pictorial illustrations in his speech; his brother, epigrammatic, unobtrusive, and more the artist than the showman. Cecil, the capitalist; William, a single taxer, married to the daughter of Henry George, his idea of a "good time" spending $3,000 in advertising the lost cause at last year's California election. Cecil relishing the sea-spume from a speeding yacht; Bill ruminating to the swing of leisurely golf.

* * *

These suggestive flashes of personality may serve to give the readers a clearer conception of what the two are driving at in pictures as wide apart as William's "Only 38" and Cecil's forthcoming "Ten Commandments," or the former's "Grumpy" and Cecil's "Adam's Rib."

Fraternal admiration and respect for each other's talents is in no wise minimized, however, by their opposing concepts, ideals and methods. Working side by side on the Lasky lot, they are an exceptionally devoted pair—two typical straws in the wind of picture movements.

Curiously enough, it is William, asserting that life in its everyday expressions is dramatic enough for plays, who has not found one screenable scenario in 10,000 amateurs' efforts, while Cecil, saying that life must be improved upon for drama, still looks hopefully to the untutored for material.

* * *

Eugene Palette, one of the musketeers in Doug. Fairbanks' "The Three Musketeers," has been engaged to play in Tom Mix's new picture, "The Jo of Death," now being made at Hollywood.

* * *

DON'T GUARD YOURSELF AGAINST ONE DISEASE

Cancer is especially likely to attack constitutionally strong and healthy people, according to a popular notion. And you find the same idea in many medical books of standing.

The truth is this: Cancer and tuberculosis tend to attack persons who are constitutionally weak. So announces Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins, after studying the life histories of 100,000 residents of Baltimore.

Live sensibly, keep the body's general health good by plenty of fresh air, exercise, pure food, sleep and healthful thinking. Then almost any disease will have a hard time "getting" you. Better than guarding against individual diseases.

RADIO IS THE GREAT ACHIEVEMENT OF AGE

Rodger Dolan now has $1,500 invested in his radio. He keeps adding to it, though the outfit already looks like the inside of an electrical goods shop.

Dolan writes: "I'm getting the concerts fine. I get them all—and usually all at the same time, piled on top of each other."

Though discouraged because he is unable to develop a "tuning sense," Dolan will continue with his radio. He's wise. Radio is the toy of youth. Nothing equals it for keeping mature young people in heart, up to the times. The man without a radio will waken presently.

IMMENSE TRAFFIC TO SUSTAIN EACH PERSON

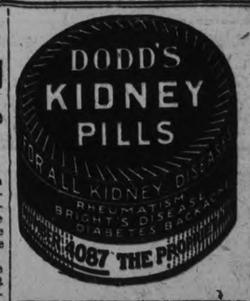
A soldier at the battlefront requires 30 pounds of food and allied supplies a day, army experts figure. For a million men, 30 million pounds of food and stores daily. This emphasizes how transportation is needed wherever men congregate in large numbers.

Peacetime included. For instance, the railroads move 40,000 pounds of paid freight a year for each of us, or about 110 pounds a day. In addition are deliveries by wagon and motor truck. Conservative guess would be that it requires the movement of 200 pounds of food, coal, building materials, etc., each day for each of us, to keep our civilization moving.

LARGE NUMBER ENGINES LAID UP FOR REPAIRS

Railroads report 15,581 locomotives laid up for repairs. This is 24 per cent. of all the engines owned by all the roads. The figure is getting chronic.

Maybe we're barking up the wrong tree when we talk of "car shortage" instead of "locomotive shortage." Motive power is the weakest point of railroad transportation.



UNEMPLOYMENT IS LOWER IN CANADA

LONDON April 27 Canadian Press—Sir Montagu Barlow, Minister of Labor, dealing with his estimates in the House of Commons yesterday, drew attention to the gradual and steady decrease in unemployment.

The number of unemployed, he said, has fallen to 1,239,500, the lowest figure reached since the high peak of unemployment in June, 1921, when the total was two million. In the last fortnight there has been a reduction of 45,000.

"The foundation of unemployment insurance has been well and truly laid," continued the Minister. "We now have a solid structure which has given shelter and help to millions during the storm period of depression."

Dealing with the 'raining of ex-officers and men, Sir Montagu mentioned that 35,000 had received state assistance in their training in various forms.

All The Family Had Bad Colds

"Did you ever notice that if one of the family contracts a cold it generally runs to all the other members?"

Many people when they contract a cold do not pay any attention to it, thinking perhaps it will pass away of itself in a day or two. This is a great mistake for before they know it, it has become settled on the lungs.

and see how quickly your cold will disappear.

Mrs. A. Coghlan, Magnolia, Alta., writes:—"Last Winter we all had bad colds in our family, and I didn't know what to do. Some friends told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I went and got a couple of bottles and in a short while our colds were all gone. Now we always keep a bottle on hand in case one of us might catch a cold."

"Dr. Wood's is 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

FIVE BOMB EXPLOSIONS ON RUHR RAILWAYS

DUESSELDORF, April 27. — (Canadian Press.)— Five separate bomb explosions on Ruhr railroads during the night cut the railway, telegraph and telephone communications, temporarily disorganizing traffic. French headquarters said the explosions had caused the most serious damage since the beginning of occupation.

REICHSBANK HAS PROFIT.

BERLIN, April 27. — (Canadian Press.)— The annual statement of the Reichsbank for 1922 shows a net profit of forty-three billion, five hundred million marks for the year. The profit in 1921 was about half a billion marks.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"Of course."

"Thank you, Kay. Now, if I have—our permission to withdraw I think I shall make myself presentable for dinner."

He hesitated a moment before withdrawing, however, meanwhile gazing down on her with a gaze so intent that the girl flushed a little. Suddenly his hand darted out and he had her adorable little chin clasped between his brown thumb and forefinger, shaking it with little shakes of mock ferocity. He seemed about to deliver some important announcement—impassioned, even, but to her huge disgust he smothered the impulse, jerked his hand away as if he had scorched his fingers, and blushed guiltily. "Oh, I'm a sky-blue idiot," he half growled and left her abruptly.

A snort—to a hunter it would have been vaguely reminiscent of that of an old buck deer suddenly disturbed in a thicket—caused her to look up. At the corner of the wall Pablo Artelan stood, staring at her with alert interest; his posture was one of a man suddenly galvanized into immobility. Kay blushed, but instantly decided to appear nonchalant.

"Good evening, Pablo," she greeted the majordomo. "How do you feel after your long, hard day on the range?"

"Gracias, mees. Myself, I feel pretty good. When my boss hees happy—well—Pablo Artelan hees happy just the same."

The girl noted his emphasis. "That's very nice of you, Pablo, I'm sure. Have you any idea," she continued with bland innocence, "why Don Miguel is so happy this evening?"

Pablo leaned against the adobe wall, throughtfully drew forth tobacco bag and brown cigarette paper and, while shaking his head and appearing to ponder Kay's question, rolled a cigarette and lighted it. "Well, senorita," he began presently, "I theenk first meb-beao eet ees because Don Miguel find heem one leetle piece paper on the trail. I am see him peeck those paper up and look at heem for long time before he ride to me and ask me many question about the senorita and Senor Bill Conway those day we ride to Agua Caliente. He say to me: 'Pablo, you see Senor Beel Conway give to the senorita a writing?' 'Si, senor.' 'You see Senorita Parker give to Senor Beel Conway a writing?' 'Si, senor.' Then Don Miguel hee's don' say sometheeng more, but just shake hees cabeza like these, and Pablo gave an imitation of a muchly puzzled man wagging his head to stimulate a flow of ideas.

"Oh, well, yes, he say someheeng. He say: 'Well, I'bedam!' Then that leetle smile he don' have for long time come back to Don Migue,'s face and hee's happy like one baby. I don' un'erstand those boy until I see thees business'—Pablo wiggled his tobacco-stained thumb and forefinger—'then I know someheeng! For long time those boy hee's pretty partecular. Even those so beautiful senorita, 'Nita Sepulvida, she don' rose those boy like your rope it, senorita." And with the license of an old and trusted servant, the sage of Palomar favored her with a knowing wink.

"He knows—he knows!" the girl thought. "What must he think of me! Oh, yes, oh, dear! If he mentions the subject to me I shall die." Tears of mortification were in her eyes as she turned angrily upon the amazed Pablo. "You—you—old sky-blue idiot!" she charged and fled to her room.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Kay's first coherent thought was to claim the privilege of her sex—a headache—and refrain from joining Don Mike and her parents at dinner. Upon consideration, however, she decided that since she would have to face the issue sooner or later, she might as well be brave and not try to evade it. For she knew now the fate of the promissory note Bill Conway had given her and which see had thrust into the pocket of her riding coat. It had worked out of her pocket and dropped beside the trail to Agua Caliente Basin, and fate had ordained that it should be found by the one person in the world not entitled to that privilege. Kay would have given fifty thousand dollars for some miraculous philter which, administered surreptitiously to Miguel Farrel, would cause him to forget what the girl now realized he knew of her secret negotiations with Bill Conway for the salvation of the ranch. Nevertheless, despite her overwhelming embarrassment and distress, the question occurred to her again and again: What would Don Miguel Farrel do about it? She hadn't the slightest doubt but that his tremendous pride would lead him to object her aid and comfort, but how was he to accomplish this delicate procedure? The situation was fraught with as much awkwardness and embarrassment for him as for her.

She was late in joining the others at table. To her great relief, after rising politely at her entrance and favoring her with an impersonal smile, Farrel sat down and continued to discuss with John Parker and his wife the great natural resources of Siberia and the designs of the Japanese empire upon that territory. About the time the black coffee made its appearance, Kay's harassed soul had found sanctuary in the discussion of a topic which she knew would be of interest—one in which she felt she could join exuberantly.

"Do tell father and mother of your plans for a fiesta, Miguel," she pleaded presently.

"A fiesta, eh?" Mrs. Parker was instantly interested. "Miguel, that is, indeed, a bright thought. I volunteer as a patroness here and now. John, you can be a judge of the course, or something. Miguel, what is the occasion of your fiesta?"

"At a period in the world's history, Mrs. Parker, when butter is a dollar a pound and blue-denim overalls sell freely for three dollars a pair, I think we ought to do something to dissipate the general gloom. I want to celebrate my return to civil life, and my more recent return from the grave. Also, I would just as lief indicate to the county at large that, outside of business hours, we constitute a very happy little family here; so if you all please, I shall announce a fiesta in honor of the Parker family."

"It will last all day and night and we are to have a Wild West show," Kay added eagerly.

"Where will it be held, Miguel?"

Mrs. Parker nodded approval. "John you old dud," she decided, "you always liked horse-races and athletics. You're stuck for some prizes."

Her indulgent husband good-naturedly agreed, and at Kay's suggestion, Carolina brought a pencil and a large writing-tablet, whereupon the girl constituted herself secretary of the carnival committee and wrote the program, as arranged by Don Mike and her father. She thrilled when Farrel announced a race of six furlongs for ladies' saddle-horses, to be ridden by their owners.

"You ought to win that with Panchito," he suggested to Kay.

Kay's heart beat happily. In Farrel's suggestion that she ride Panchito in this race she decided that here was evidence that her host did not contemplate any action that would tend to render the ranch untenable for her prior to the fiesta; indeed, there was nothing in his speech or bearing that indicated the slightest mental perturbation now that he had discovered the compact existing between her and Bill Conway. Perhaps his pride was not so high as she had rated it; what if her action had been secretly pleasing to him?

Somehow, Kay found this latter thought disturbing and distasteful. It was long past midnight before she could dismiss the enigma from her thoughts and fall asleep.

(To Be Continued)

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish and weary

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish, weary and irritable; if you lack the spirit and sparkle and the ability to do your work with the same briskness and cheerfulness that you see in others, it is probably because your organs are not generating enough vital energy.

If your blood lacks the normal amount of the elements that are necessary in the production of vital energy, it is not possible for you to feel strong, industrious and sprightly; you are bound to tire quickly, feel downcast and find it difficult to take proper interest in your work or your favorite recreations.

If you are not feeling as "fit" as you would like to; if you are in need of reinvigoration, you should take Wincarnis for a week or so. You will probably be surprised and delighted at the promptness with which this general tonic and restorative will enrich your blood, strengthen your nervous system and relieve your feeling of general debility and exhaustion. Physicians are prescribing Wincarnis because of its great virtue as a tonic and reconstructive.

SHOT AS SPY IN WAR FRENCHMAN IS CLEARED

PARIS, April 27 (United Press)—Shot in 1914, at the very beginning of the war, as a German spy, Professor Copie, of Laon, has just been the object of a pathetic ceremony at the Amiens courtmartial when the officers composing the tribunal, at the termination of the trial which rehabilitated the memory of the professor rose and repeated after the presiding officer:

"Copie, you died for France."

The teacher was ..ested in September, 1914, by soldiers of a territorial regiment. Copie had fled from home before the advancing Germans, and in order that the invaders might not profit by certain maps of the district which he possessed he was taking them away with him. When he was arrested in the woods the soldiers found also in his possession a passport visaed for Germany, souvenir of a trip made a year previously. The troops were escorting their prisoned to Chamouilles, the seat of a courtmartial, when they were attacked by Uhlans. Fearing that the prisoner might fall into the hands of the Germans, for whom they believed he was acting as an agent, a sergeant gave the order to shoot him, which was immmediately carried out. It was the trial of this sergeant, as a result of the patient efforts of the teacher's family, that brought about his rehabilitation.

The trouble with war is it is nothing else but trouble.

A Clear, Beautiful Skin

There are millions of tiny openings or pores in the skin and these must be kept open and clean if the beauty of the skin is to be maintained.

Because it cleanses these pores and encourages the healthful action of the skin, Dr. Chase's Ointment is most effective as a skin beautifier. Roughness, redness, pimples and all sorts of skin blemishes disappear by its use, and the skin is left clear, smooth and velvety.

SPRING MAID GAY IN RED SHOES

By HEDDA HOYT.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 26. — (United Press).—Spring costumes have blossomed out on Fifth avenue almost overnight. While a few women are still wearing the winter fur coats, the great majority have stored them away in moth balls within the last two weeks.

The assortment of spring styles is more varied this year than ever before, owing to the innovation of the Egyptian styles and the brilliantly colored shoes. Never before has there been such an array of color on the avenue. A few months back the appearance of a red street shoe would have occasioned a riot, but today the percentage of bright red and green shoes is so great that one no longer pays any attention to them.

In fact, one of the favorite modes of the moment is the black street costume worn with a red hat, red shoes and red handbag. Often gloves also carry out the note of red with stitching or embroidery. Usually light grey or tan stockings are worn with the red slipper.

The blue shoe is also popular and is worn with the blue costume suit. With the Paisley wraps and the brilliantly colored Egyptian coats, both bronze and purple shoes are seen, as well as those of red and green.

Spring Wraps.

The most popular coat of the season is the long straight-lined garment, which crosses in surplice effect in front and ties or buckles on the left hip. At present the majority of these worn on the avenue are of cloth material, plain or embroidered in colored Egyptian motifs, but it is predicted that those made of black Canton crepe and trimmed in monkey fur will be more prevalent as the season progresses. In these straight-lined models fur is used only for the collars and about the hems as the cuffs are left untrimmed.

Another wrap seen on the avenue will probably have many followers before long. It is a three tiered cape of grey Canton crepe with each tier edged with grey squirrel. Since fur is to be used so extensively on wraps this coming season, the grey wrap will perhaps be more summery than the dark fur-trimmed wrap.

Short fur jacquettes of caracol or summer ermine worn with pleated skirts are very popular just now. Beige predominates over other shades.

Spring Pickups.

Small cloche shaped hats have brown or black veils falling just over the eyes. Black turbans draped in Egyptian lines with tabs of ribbon covering the ears are worn by some of the smartly gowned girls who favor Egyptian lines rather than Egyptian colorings.

Jacquette suits of tan camel's hair are popular with the younger girls. They tie with a tan ribbon sash at one side. Often they are accompanied by mannish top-coats of plaid material.

The bandana neckwear is waning in popularity. One seldom sees it on a well dressed person lately.

Skirts are neither long or short, being about eight inches from the ground.

Beige fox neckpieces are worn with the tailored suit.

A FEW KIND WORDS FOR MOVIE ACTRESSES

LONDON (By mail to the United Press)—"Bobbed hair, bobbed brains and that look of innocence that is only seen on the face of a thoroughly abandoned woman," is St. John Ervine's description of the average movie actress.

By way of squaring things, he declared that "the majority of scenarios are written by half-educated persons, for half-witted persons"

Ervine's contentions were voted down by a huge majority.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Town Is Looking For a Lower Fire Insurance Rate — Woodmen Elect Officers.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 27.—Some time ago Town Clerk McGregor, acting on instructions from the Council, wrote the Underwriters' Association asking for a special inspection of Campbellford's fire protection. It was the general opinion that the town was entitled to a reduction in insurance rates, as a result of the purchase of the new motor truck one year ago and the unusually low percentage of loss by fire in the municipality.

The inspection asked for was made yesterday. All announced L. B. Walker, inspector for the Underwriters' Association dropped into town and immediately on his arrival got down to business. Accompanied by some of the town officials he turned in an alarm from market square.

The brigade headed by Chief Davidson made a quick response. In 58 seconds after the first stroke of the bell the motor truck was at the corner of Front and Bridge streets. In four minutes by the inspector's watch from the time the alarm was sent in the brigade had reached market square, laid 250 feet of hose and the water was turned on.

The inspector made a thorough test of the apparatus. Four lines of hose, 500 each, two to each hydrant were laid on Front street and it was found that the pressure was sufficient to throw the water over the top of the highest building on the neighborhood. The pressure at the fire hall at this time was 135 pounds.

Inspector Walker also made a minute examination of the apparatus in the fire hall which is under the charge of Engineer E. E. Plumrier. Apparently he found everything satisfactory, at least he had no suggestion to make of improvement. His report of his visit will be sent to the Underwriters' and a copy is expected here, the arrival of the document being a matter of interest to every tax payer who carries insurance on his property.

Woodmen Elect Officers

Deputy Council A. A. Haskell of Peterborough, organizer for the Woodmen of the World, was in town yesterday on official business. On the previous evening he attended a meeting of Maple Leaf Camp, No. 161, the Campbellford branch of the order, when the annual election was held as follows:

C. C.—L. J. Stover.
Advisory Lieut.—N. Lloyd.
Clerk—W. J. Abernethy.
Banker—Charles Ackerman.
Escort— R. Pettifer.
Watchman—C. G. McComb.
Sentry—H. E. Bowen.
Physician—Dr. E. F. Richardson

The Maple Leaf Camp Deputy Council Haskell says, is carrying on a good work in Campbellford.

J. R. Wilkinson, caretaker of the bowling green has the grounds in excellent shape and play will soon begin.

Mr. Burnham on the Election

Mr Burnham fklb

It seems that a number of well-known Conservatives of West Peterborough have consented to allow their names to go before the convention on May 16. There evidently will be no lack of timber on that occasion. Mr. J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., was asked if he had consented to let his name go before the convention as rumor had connected him with it. Mr. Burnham smiled and remarked that it was customary for a number to be nominated, most of whom would retire if there was a nominee who would stand, but that the number of names already spoken of showed that there would be a candidate forthcoming.

"Would you mind saying, Mr. Burnham, what would be your platform if you did find yourself the candidate?"

"Regarding the O.T.A., I may say that as it is the law and the will of the people it must be observed and enforced loyally and faithfully until the will of the people changes it. But prohibitionists have been grossly and wickedly deceived by Mr. Drury. There is a clause in the act which, as I have pointed out, allows of the sale a consumption of alcoholic liquo made from grapes grown in Onto This wine is highly intoxicatin It is a fine wine, and there is enormous consumption of it. As consequence Drury gets the vote of the grape growers west of Toro, for they all grow grapes up re. So that Drury gets the supt of both sides, of those who th they have prohibition and of ose who know we haven't it. illions of bottles of this wine of y high alcoholic content is sold and consumed at 75 cents a bot delivered, and one bottle make our men dead drunk for twelve urs. Meanwhile the prohibitionists heers for Drury and prohibition. me time ago I called attention to is scandalous deception and Reuben Spence & Co. interviewed Dr — put up a bluff about it I old say— but Drury promised nothing and nothing has been done. . Spence knows that prohibitionists have been sold out by Drury for grape growers' support. This and I would have remedied.

"If the wof the people is for prohibition y shall have it, for the will of people must rule."

Will Sell Quebec Power in Ontario.

MONTREAL, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—In connection with the leasing yesterday of the water powers on the Des Quinze River to the Fasken interests of Ontario, it is learned, say the Montreal Gazette, that these interests intend to use the power thus developed practically all in the province of Ontario. There will be in addition to the rental of 80,100 per ann a royalty of $1 per horsepower eveloped, less fifty cents if this ower is used in the province of ebec.

Since it ined to develop 60,000 horse powe is will mean a total yearly sum he provincial government of $100, if all the power goes into Ario. The amount of the royalty ay be revised after each period ten years from May 1, 1927.

Bernhardt's Treasures Of Art Will Be Sold

PARIS, April 27.—(Canadian Press). — Sarah Bernhardt's books, pictures and furniture, many of them given her by notables, are soon to be sold at public auction. She had gathered many art works in her remarkably furnished home and her library was particularly attractive. It contains a number of beautifully bound works, some with autograph dedications by Dumas Fils, Sardou, Rostand and others in whose plays she starred.

CARPENTERS' UNION AGREES ON WAGES

Will Demand 75c. an Hour, Lowest Rate Paid in the Province.

At a special meeting of the Carpenters' Union held last evening the report of the committee on the wage agreement was accepted, 50 per cent. of the contractors having signed the agreement for the coming year. The members went unanimously on record in the form of a resolution, that none of the members would work for any contractor who has not signed the agreement. The wage rate is the lowest wage paid to carpenters in the province, 75 cents an hour. The men feel that the agreement asked is very reasonable, and it stipulates that the contractors shall employ only members of the Carpenters Union, as the agreement is not made for men who do not belong to the Union, and is a similar attitude to that taken by the Contractors' Association.

The majority of the carpenters have left Peterboro within the last six months and should the contractors refuse to sign the agreement, those of the contractors who are still here say that there will be very few left at the end of the next six months, as arrangements are already being made by many to move to other localities where the wages are considerably higher than in Peterboro.

The highest wage rate in the province for the carpenters is said to be $1 an hour, while the average would fall between 85 and 90 cents, according to a statement made last evening by Pat Green, general representative of the United B. otherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

REFLECTIONS

(By Jeannette.)

Reflections after reading some recent news despatches:

The Burgomaster:
"O Lord, remember thy servant,
And forget not the French,
Let not my people harass them
In any wise Or do ought to offend them.
O Lord, keep their tempers cool.
Thou knowest that last week I
Prayed in different fashion and asked
That their schemes be defeated. But now,
O Lord, my heart has changed. I pray
Thee to give them smooth ways—at least
Until I have escaped from their hands.
Anger them not."

("The speed game in typewriting has not yet received the attention it merits," is the lament of Canada's speed champion, Fred Jarrett, who recommends a rate of 100 words per minute.)

The typewriter:
"What does the man mean?
The world is going mad
On this speed game.
Look at this girl
Trying to get a hundred words a minute
Out of me. Her face is red
And her nerves will soon be in pieces.
She hasn't had time to chew her gum or Even to smile an ymore.
There! There's another spring gone in my insides
And the thermometer registers eighty in the shade.
Phew! If I could talk, I would tell
That man something that would 'jar' him."

("Owing to the long winter, the muskrat trapping season this year has been a failure.")

Father Muskrat:
"Hurray! The season ends to-night,
And we're safe for another year.
Let them swear all they please,
They've got to take those traps in.
I only had one casualty in my family this year.
Jerry, my youngest, went out the other night and got caught.
They say miladi will have to pay more next year for her 'sealskin' coat,
But we should worry, as long as our skins are safe,
Now we'll have a fine, long, lively summer
Instead of being strung up in some smelly furriers' shop.
Hurray for that lovely icy winter!"

("In future ,eggs will be sold only by standard legal grade.")

The Little Brown Hen:
"Do you know why they are feeding us up so high?
I just found out. They want better eggs
You know the sort they mark
"Eggs for invalids" in the shops, and sell for a dollar a dozen.
Of course someone has to pay for these new-fangled ideas.
But they say it's usually what they call
The ultimate consumer. Anyway,
That big creature next door won't
Have a chance to crow over me any more.
I heard the farmer say the other day
That her eggs were big but not just the Best. Quite different to any neat little ones
She cackles a lot, but, as they say,
You "have to have the goods!"

Hundred Barrels of Beer Seized.

SASKATOON, Sask., April 27.—(Canadian Press). — One hundred and twenty-three barrels of beer were seized by "dry" officers in two raids here yesterday. At the Canadian National freight sheds officials grabbed eighty-seven barrels, and at a creamery warehouse they secured 36 barrels. A report from Melfort yesterday stated the town constable at that point had seized 21 barrels.

"THE PHOTOGRAPHER IN YOUR TOWN"

Double Value of German Mark

(By JUL H. WEST, Stuttgart)

The double value of the German mark—and of other weak currencies—exercises a most destructive influence on the political economy of the countries with sound currency, under which everybody suffers. Hence, it is a matter of general concern to state what circumstances cause this double value and how it is possible that in two adjacent territories the same currency can, for years running, have two entirely different standards of value. If one considers the present day rapid changes in the money and goods market one might suppose that such differences, if they arise, must be adjusted automatically within a few days or weeks. But apparently this is not the case;—anyhow, we see for instance that the domestic value of the German mark has now for years been continually 3 to 5 times higher than its foreign value.

If, however, we examine the existing conditions more closely, we see that such an adjustment takes actually place, however, not in the course of a few days or weeks, but in the course of about 3 to 5 months; but in the meantime the foreign value of the mark has continued to sink, and in this way the difference between the domestic and the foreign value maintains itself.

For clearer understanding let us illustrate the existing conditions by a simple example: I had luncheon at the "Elsasser Taverne" at Stuttgart and finished by taking a cup of good coffee, for which, at that time, I paid 90 marks; I then went to the bank, bought Suisse money—100 frs for 180,000 marks—and then I took the afternoon express for Zurich. There I paid, the following day at the "Waadtlander Weinstube", for a cup of equally good coffee, 60 cents—for me equal to 1080 German paper-marks, that is twelve times the price I had paid the previous day at Stuttgart.

How can we account for this? Both Switzerland and Germany buy their coffee from the same tropical countries and, no doubt, pay the same prices. How, then, is it possible that the German hotel-keeper supplies a cup of equally good coffee at about 1-12 of the price which the Suisse hotel-keeper charges?

Now this is not only possible, but even quite natural; it is based on two facts:

1. That the rate of exchange of the German mark keeps falling.

2. That the German producers and merchants are legally bound (or up to the present time were legally bound) to base their selling prices on the cost-price—leaving out of consideration the fact that in the period between buying and selling the value of money has depreciated by about 2-3 or 3-4 or even more.

Let us reckon 8 grammes of raw coffee for one cup, and let us suppose that the import price for 1 lb. of coffee amounted at the time to 3 gold marks—3.75 Suisse frs,—that is 4.8 gold pfennigs or 6 Suisse cents for 8 grammes. We must now reduce these two amounts to paper-marks. For the 6 Suisse cents I paid the day before 108 paper-marks, whereas the 4.8 gold pfennigs were paid by the German importer already months ago, at the time when the coffee was imported. The exchange value of the paper mark may at that time have been 1-200 of a gold mark. At this rate, 4.8 gold pfennigs are equal to 9.60 paper marks. From this we see that the import price of raw coffee put on the cup of coffee I drank at Stuttgart a charge of only 9.60 paper marks and on the cup I drank at Zurich a charge of 108 paper marks, i. e., 11 times the Stuttgart amount.

Similarly, all other expenses which are charged by the wholesale dealer, the retailer and the hotel-keeper on my cup of coffee, until it finally stands before me, must be calculated on the same principle.

This illustrates clearly that the double value of the paper mark is caused by the stocks on hand, which, according to law, had up to now to be sold at prices calculated from the buying prices, regardless of the depreciation of the paper mark in the period which has elapsed between the buying and the selling. These legal restrictions which are now being altered or rather modified; together with continual fall of the mark, have kept the German home market prices on a much lower level than the corresponding prices in the countries with a high rate of exchange.

Apart from the two chief causes of the double value of the German mark mentioned already, there are some minor factors also delaying the fall of its domestic value to the level of the foreign value. We only mention two of them: House rents are kept down by legal regulations—in December last, for instance, prices of victuals had reached, on an average, 807 times their pre-war amount, whereas house rents had only become 16 times higher. We further mention rates of traffic: freights, fares, postages, etc., which, up to quite recently, rose much too slowly in comparison with the prices of victuals and other necessities of daily life.

In the following we make an attempt to give a short outline of the development of prices: Supposing three months to elapse from the day the foreign goods are imported into Germany up to the day of their consumption. This means that the retail selling prices in January are based on the import prices and the value of the mark of October last. As soon as the goods imported in October have been consumed, those imported in November are placed on the market at higher mark prices, because the foreign value of the mark has dropped in the interval between October and November. In consequence of this increase in the prices of imported goods, workmen and employees are soon obliged to demand higher wages and salaries. After negotiations of some days or weeks these are granted, causing the cost of production and the prices of inland goods to rise, which, after further negotiations, leads to another rise in wages and salaries, thus causing the prices of inland goods to rise again, and so on. This process takes about 3-5 months, and for such a space of time the sinking of the domestic value of the paper mark remains behind the sinking of its foreign value, these curves indicating the sinking of the two values (domestic and foreign) clearly show.

An interesting illustration of the conditions just described is to be found in the following fact: The well known chocolate manufacturer, Suchard, has a chocolate factory in the neighborhood of Neuchatel (Suisse) and a German factory at Lorrach in Baden. Both factories are supplied with the same sorts of raw cocoa at the same prices; The methods of manufacture, the goods manufactured and the methods of calculation are the same in both factories yet the price of the Suisse chocolate has for months past been 3-5 times higher than the price of the same kind of chocolate made in the German factory.

We have now to consider the question: Why does the foreign value of the mark continue to fall? The chief cause is that the German balance of trade and, still more so, the balance of payment have during and after the war, been passive. From August 1st, 1914, until December 31st, 1922, the German import has greatly exceeded the export—by about 22 milliards of gold marks, in payment of which Germany has handed frs more than 200 milliards of paper marks over to foreign countries. Consequently, the foreign markets have been flooded with paper mark values: notes, bills and stocks, and for this reason German bank notes have lost abroad their character as a means of payment, they have become a mere trading article and more than that, a typical speculation article. Thus the price of the paper mark is bound to keep falling, as, on account of the steadily growing quantity, the supply far exceeds the demand. Another point has to be taken into consideration: Paper money has no intrinsic value, its value is determined by the value of the goods one can buy in exchange. Before the war, the owner of a 100 mark note had the right and the possibility of demand from the Reichsbank at any time a certain fixed quantity of gold in exchange for the note, and this determined the value of the 100 mark note. To-day, such a right exists no longer and thus the German mark has lost its firm basis. Now, what can the foreigner, who has German bank notes in his safe, buy for them: He cannot acquire German export articles, for the German exporters demand payment of their goods in foreign currency. He can himself go to Germany and buy goods, or use his money by living there But this way of using German paper money is not of great importance. Further, he can invest his paper money in real estate, houses, fields, forests or industrial concerns, etc., in Germany, or he can buy German stocks, shares, securities, etc. But as the proceeds of all similar investments have only the value of paper marks, such investments are not very tempting—especially if we take into consideration that the paper mark, as far as we can see, must continue to fall.

This clearly shows how much the value of the German paper mark is forced down on foreign markets by the circumstance that the German exporters demand foreign bills for their exports, and from this point of view it would seem more advantageous to the German mark if the German government would demand from exporters to sell abroad chiefly in German currency. But for other reasons this is out of the question: for Germany must have foreign bills, not only in order to pay for her imports, but also for reparation payments. On account of these two factors the German government is on the contrary bound to demand from exporters to sell abroad against foreign bills only.

Germany can, by its own strength, get out of this dilemma only if the German import would be restricted and the German export increased to such an extent that the export exceeds the impact by at least 1 milliard of gold marks a year. The possibility to attain this must be doubted. Since the war, the German import has, on a yearly average, exceeded the export by 2.7 milliards of gold marks. At the present time the German import amounts to 60%, the export to 30% of the corresponding figures in 1913. The considerable falling off of the export is chiefly caused by the circumstance that two millions of the best German workers were killed in the war, that the efficiency of many others has been reduced by injuries and disease, by the hunger blockade, and by the many years alienation from professional work. Further, the German industry is greatly hampered by the deliveries of coal to the Entente. These causes can only be removed very slowly, and for this reason the prospects for a speedy increase of the German export are but small, especially since the occupation of the Ruhr district.

* * *

Similar conditions apply to other weak currencies. Like the German mark nearly all of them have a double value: a domestic value and a much lower foreign one. This double value is very harmful to countries with sound currencies, for it renders it most difficult to countries with weak currency to buy goods from those with sound currency. Through the double value of the weak currencies the countries with sound currency are deprived of customers—and this is the chief reason for the present vast amount of unemployment in the countries with sound currencies.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills The Great Liver Regulators

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secret bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Therefore when the liver is inactive and failing to secrete bile in sufficient quantity constipation and other liver troubles soon follow.

Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and they have done me a lot of good.

My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything, let alone my housework, I tried everything, but your Pills seemed to do the work for bet.. than anything I had ever taken."

New System of Tax Suggested.

OTTAWA, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—The Minister of Finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding, has received a letter from the North Bay Board of Trade in which it is recommended that the sales tax be abolished and that in its place, a special excise tax be levied, which would include the present sales tax, check tax and receipt tax, the new tax to be collected at the customs offices on importations by all excepting by licensed manufacturers and on the sales of the manufacturers, excepting sales made to licensed manufacturers.

Italian Leaders Indulge in a Duel

ROME, April 27.—(Canadian Press. — A duel with cavalry sabres was fought yesterday by Deputy Giunta, Secretary-General of the Grand Fascista Council, and Captain Forni, one of the military leaders of the Fascisti, resulting in the latter being so badly slashed that the attending doctors refused to permit the affair of honor to continue beyond the second round. The opponents refused to be reconciled, reserving the right to continue their quarrel the nature of which was not made public.

DAY'S WORK NOW A PLEASURE SHE SAYS

Mrs. Miller suffered severely from pains in heart and back—found wonderful relief in Dreco, the famous system builder.

For years Mrs. Adeline Miller of 173 Catherine St. North, Hamilton, Ont., suffered these common but distressing ailments brought about by a run down condition of the digestive organs. Her stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels simply would not function properly, with the result that indigestion, gastritis, heartburn, pains in the back and biliousness made life a misery for her. Read how two bottles of Dreco restored her whole system by toning and regulating these important organs.

"For years I had stomach, kidney and liver trouble. Everything I ate would cause me to belch and bloat and often had pains around my heart and in my back so bad I could hardly stoop over. My liver was sluggish, causing dizzy spells and spots floating before my eyes. All these troubles stopped when I started taking Dreco. My bowels are regular, I have a good appetite and I sleep all the night through without getting up. I feel much stronger and my day's work is now a pleasure. I am glad I heard about Dreco as it has done a world of good for me."

Mrs. Miller found relief in Dreco. Profit by her experience. Let Dreco, the famous health builder, put you on your feet. Only Nature's own roots, herbs ,barks and leaves are used in Dreco. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Peterboro by Bond's Drug Store. It is also sold in Lakefield by E. H. Northey, and by a good druggist everywhere.

MAN IS FORCED TO COURT HIS OWN WIFE

By ROY GIBBONS

CHICAGO, April 27—Facing John H. Dudley here is the most unusual problem of courting that ever confronted a lovelorn swain.

For it's up to Dudley to woo and to win his own legally wedded wife.

That sentence has been imposed on him by a Chicago court.

If Dudley's wooing wins — then wife, home and happiness will be his.

And if it fails—Mrs. Dudley will be allowed unrestrained to live at the home of her parents while Dudley in loneliness fries his own breakfast bacon and longs for the life that might have been.

How It Started

A few days ago Dudley and Helen Peterson, 18, felt the lure of spring, went to Crown Point, Indiana's Gretna Green, and were married.

But within a week married life irked the youthful bride. And Dudley found himself alone in his little flat.

Straightway hastened Dudley into court. Helen's parents, he declared, were holding the bride incommunicado against her will. And the husband demanded a writ of habeas corpus.

Came into court the bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Peterson, accompanied by the sheriff.

"I don't love John as a wife should," the bride testified. "I hadn't intended marrying him at all. But it was a nice day as I was passing his house on my w.. to work, so I thought I'd just step in and say hello.

"And he said: 'Let's get married!' It was such a nice day. I didn't feel much like going to work. So we went to Crown Point. I left him of my own free will a week later.

Then Helen's mother broke in.

"The marriage was not the act of God," she interpolated. "Helen will get rid of her husband as quietly as possible, and go away as a missionary.

"Case dismissed" announced Judge Sabath. "I don't believe this girl is being held against her will. So I'm not going to issue any writ." And then—

"John, it is spring and love is in the air. Start courting your wife all over. You may send her flowers and candy and take her to the theatre.

"Be gentle. Try the romance of Shakespeare. Caveman tactics will not do. Consider yourself a lover and not a husband. I give you one month in which to pay your court.

"Then come back here, both of you. Let me know then how you feel about the situation.

And now Dudley's playing Romeo.

MRS. HELEN DUDLEY — JOHN H. DUDLEY

MUSIC GAINS HEALTH, WEALTH AND HAPPINESS

By Maurice Henle

CLEVELAND, April 27.—With music—

You can tap the vast resources of your subconscious self.

You can soothe your pains.

You can treble your appreciation of life.

You can almost control your destiny.

So says C. C. Birchard, music publisher of Boston, who spoke to the music supervisors' national conference here.

"Consider the case of Dr. Emile Coue,' Birchard told me. "I believe he rather lost out with the American public. Why?

"His theory is sound basically. He says there is a point midway between our conscious self and our subsconscious self, and that just before we fall asleep we pass through that stage, which is the closest we can reach to our subsconscious self.

"But he didn't explain how we may reach that state. Some think he doesn't know. I believe he must But he didn't explain to us.

Music Does It

"Now we come to music. Go to a concert, an opera. Listen. Allow yourself to be carried away with the music. Live it. Breathe the spirit of it. If you do this you will find yourself in a deep state of consciousness.

"You will feel almost—as if you are leaving your body. But don't allow yourself to go to sleep. Tell your conscious mind, "I will not go to sleep.'

"But you will be close to your subconscious mind, that strange thing that is nine-tenths of us. Reach that stage and you can talk to your subconscious self.

"You can determine to do such-and- such a thing, and you will be filled with the tremendous power of your body to accomplish it."

Possible Without Music

"But," I asked, "can a person reach this state of mind without music?"

"Of course. But not so easily. Music transports you there by its very nature.'

He told of a friend complaining of a sore shoulder. They met in a hotel lobby.

"I took him over to where an orchestra was playing—for it doesn't make any difference what kind of music it is, it could even be a march and told him to allow himself to be carried away with the music.

"Then when he had done that I had him repeat in tune with the rhythm of the music: 'Health, peace, tranquility.' The pain left him.

"It all resolves itself into the law of vibrations. Everything centers around vibrations. And the vibrations of music act on the muscular system of man."

Traffic Normal in Flood District.

WINNIPEG, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—Railway traffic throughout Manitoba was practically restored to normal yesterday, railway officials announced.

On the Canadian Pacific Railway lines, all road beds have been repaired, Charles Murphy, general manager Western lines, stated on his return yesterday from an inspection trip.

With the exception of a few minor washouts on four branch lines, Canadian National officials report traffic almost normal.

Ford Official Gave Statistics of Company.

OTTAWA, April 27. — (Canadian Press).—W. R. Campbell, Chief Executive officer of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, stated before the House Committee on Agricultural Conditions yesterday that during its thirteen years' operations in Canada, his company had paid total wages amounting to $43,000,000, taxes amounting to $15,000,000, and Customs duties totalling $14,000,000. While the cost of all commodities had increased in Canada by 69 per cent. since 1914, the price of his company's product had been decreased by 31 per cent.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.

LAND OFFICE OPENED.

QUEBEC, April 27. — (Canadian Press).—The record office in Ville Marie, Temiscamingue, has now been opened in accordance with special provisions made recently to meet the requirements as a result of the gold rush. The office will be in charge of J. A. Simard, at present agent of the mines department in that section of the province.

CAMPBELLFORD COUNCIL ASKED RAISE $68,000

Chairman and Secretary Education Board Sign Contract for a New High School.

SAY MEETING OPEN

CAMPBELLFORD, April 27th. — The contract with Thomas Brown of Toronto for building a new high school here has been signed by Chairman Douglas and Secretary Stephens of the Board of Education, and the Town Council has been formally asked to raise the $68,000 by debenture asue, and to turn the amount over to the credit of the Board.

At the regular meeting of the Board held in the Public Library last night, the trustees in attendance were Chairman Douglas, O'Sullivan, Hoover, Irwin Loucks, Lynch, Free, Arnold, Bygott and Douglas.

A dispute arose over the minutes of the special meeting as soon as they were read by Secretary Stephens.

Trustee Arnold claimed that the meeting had been adjourned without giving the secretary and chairman authority to sign the contract, the agreement with the contract having been ratified by the two members in question on the day following the special session.

Trustee Arnold offered a resolution, which was seconded by Trustee Hoover, setting forth their contention in detail and providing that the signed and sealed contract be declared null and void but the resolution was lost on a roll call, being supported only by the mover and seconder. The minutes as read were then approved.

Chairman Douglas explained just how this misunderstanding had arisen. Trustee Free had moved an adjournment, without waiting for the question to be put, the members of the board left their seats, and some of them went out of the room, Trustee Arnold among them. Chairman Douglas, who had not declared the meeting adjourned called the attention of the remaining members to the fact that no authority had been given him to sign the contract. The members took their places again and the matter was disposed of.

Chairman Douglas made it clear that no sharp practice was intended. It was necessary to have this formality disposed of at once instead of leaving it over until the regular meeting as Architect Coon and Contractor Brown were both leaving for Toronto Wednesday morning.

Meeting Not Secret

Trustee Lynch took exception to the statement which appeared in the Examiner to the effect that the Board held a secret session to award the contract. The meeting, he said, was open to anybody, as the Board had nothing to conceal but were at all times ready to transact business in the open.

Chairman Douglas supported the assertion of Trustee Lynch and added that the reason the meeting was held in the High School instead of in the public library was that the blackboards might be used upon which to write the various tenders for the benefit of the members.

Contract Confirmed

On motion of Trustees O'Sullivan and Irwin the contract as awarded at the special session and since signed and sealed, was validated and confirmed, Trustees Arnold and Hoover alone voting in the negative.

A building committee, composed of Trustees Irwin (chairman) Douglas, Lynch, Dr. Watson and Birmingham was appointed to look after the building of the new High School and the fixing up of the grounds, the committee to report progress to the Board at each monthly meeting on more frequently if at any time it is deemed advisable to call a special session.

Council Asked For Funds.

Trustee Lynch submitted a lengthy resolution, reviewing the financial aspect of the situation since the Council of 1920 made a grant of $75,000 for a new High School and site, of which grant there still remains a balance of $68,000. The resolution contained a formal demand of the Town Council to issue debentures for this amount, the money to be deposited in a local bank to the credit of the Board.

Some weeks ago the Board made a similar demand upon the Council and received a reply to the effect that the matter had been tabled until such time as the members of the Board were ready to take it up with the Council again.

Trustee Lynch said that one of the reasons given by the Council for this action was that there were no plans or contract for a building to cost within the amount asked for. The situation had now been changed, as the plans had been revised and the contract awarded. This resolution was adopted.

Bonding the Secretary.

The matter of requiring Secretary-Treasurer Stephens to give bonds was brought up by Trustee Hoover, who declared that he meant no reflection upon Mr. Stephens, on whom he had the highest confidence. The law, however, required that such an offical should give bonds, and in the absence of this security, if anything happened, the members of the Board would be held personally responsible.

The other members agreed that the law in this regard should be complied with, but the majority were of the opinion that the premium should be paid by the Board, not by Mr. Stephens. The sum of $2,000 was suggested as adequate security, the Board to pay the $10 premium which would be charged by a bonding company. Trustee Arnold contended that a personal bond for $1,000 could be given by Mr. Stephens without expense to himself or to the Board. The matter was finally left open until the next meeting.

Mr. Moore Resigns.

S. J. Moore, who was appointed a member of the Board at the January session of the County Council, but who has been prevented by illness from taking his place, sent in his resignation, which was accepted. Secretary Stephens will notify Col. MacNachton, clerk of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, of the vacancy which will probably be filled at the June session.

Mr. Kingston's Report.

G. A. Kingston, who represented the town at the recent session of the Trustees Branch of the O.E.A. at Toronto, submitted his report.

Bumper House.

The minstrels were greeted by another bumper house last night, when they put on their performance for the second time. Every man in the cast, no matter what his part, gave a creditable account of himself, and some of the singing was especially popular. The jokes were of modern vintage, lacking the maturity of the average minstrel merriment, and the local hits were clever and timely.

The closing performance will be given to-night. At the close a dance will be held, free to all those who have been thoughtful enough to preserve the stubs of their tickets, provided they are over five and under 90 years of age.

LABOR PARTY LIGHT DRINKERS

LONDON, April 27.—In proportion to their numbers, the members of the Labor Party drink far less than those of any other political party represented in parliament, it was asserted by Dr. Salter, Labor M.P., in an address before the Industrial Christian Fellowship. So many of his party are teetolers he said, that they will soon be called upon to pay for their meals.

Dr. Salter said in the past few years the Kitchen Committee—that is, the committee responsible for the conduct of the refreshment department—had barely succeeded in making both ends meet.

"But the committee now complains,' he added, "that the restaurant is being run at a heavy loss. The sole reason for that is that the great accession in strength to the Labor Party which now numbers 14 members—has caused a great falling off in the consumption of alcoholic drink in the house. Many members who had liberally patronized the bar in the past did not succeed in getting re-elected. And of the labor members who took their places, three-quarters are total abstainers. They contribute practically nothing to the profits of the restaurant. Everybody familiar with the restaurant business knows that it is out of the drinks sold that the bulk of their profits are made.

The Kitchen Committee is now considering whether, in order to make up for its decreased profits at the bar, it will not be necessary to increase its charges for meals.

MIRAGE WAS SEEN ON LAKE HURON

Remarkably Clear Reflection Seen of Objects Far Beyond the Normal Range of View.

SARNIA, Ont., April 27.—(Canadian Press.)—A mirage of remarkably clear visibility was the subject of interest to those who were near Lake Huron yesterday morning when from the wireless station at Point Edward the reflection of trees and other objects could be seen far out in the waters of the lake. The lightship usually only a black spot as far as detail goes, was looming up in great bulk and seemed removed very close to shore. Along the American shore objects were discerned whic have never before been seen with the naked eye. The scene was one of marvellous beauty, the placid waters of Huron being in turn a gorgeous blue and in turn a dark and unfathomable green. Many Sarnians drove to the lake upon hearing of the occurrence and enjoyed the unusual sight.

PROVINCIAL HELP TO NEEDY SETTLERS

Will Clear Burnt Timberlots, Erect Houses and Supply Seed.

QUEBEC, Que., April 27.— (Canadian Press).—It was learned yesterday that fifteen acres of land on each of a number of burnt timber lots are to be cleared by the provincial government this season in the Abitibi region. It is also understood that in accordance with the policy in augurated in some sections of the province small houses for the use of settlers will also be erected.

With this announcement also comes one to the effect that a distribution of grain seed, will be made for the benefit of poor settlers by the Department of Colonization in the course of the next Summer. These seeds will be given to settlers whose crops were damaged last year.

3,000 CASUALTIES AT ROYAL WEDDING

LONDON, April 27. — (United Press).—Three thousand casualties, mostly of fainting women, were handled in London emergency hospitals during the wedding procession of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyons.

The Duke and his bride, now Princess Elizabeth, are honeymooning in Surrey to-day.

WINTER STILL HAS WATERS IN THRALL

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 27.—(Canadian Press.)— Despite the unfavorable condition of the ice in St. Mary's river, a determined effort will be made to-day to force a passage to the Soo and Lake Superior.

The whale backs Cort and Neilson of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., in charge of Fleet Captain F. A. Bailey, of Cleveland, arrived at Detour yesterday afternoon to commence work on the ice pack at daylight to-day. Ice was cleared out from abreast Rickland Mather dock Thursday afternoon and open water now extends up past that point.

Generally it is thought that the steamer will be able to make the Soo but the hardest task will be the immense field at White Fish. Reports yesterday morning from Iroquois Point above the Soo, state fishermen were still using teams to haul in their fish three miles off shore. White Fish reports no change in that section, no open water being visible to the west and ice in the bay solid ,but honeycombing some on top

Can a Woman Come Back?

In the Rescue Homes of the Salvation Army every practical and religious help is given to the unfortunate girls and women who find a haven there —and the answer of the Salvation Army to the question "Can a woman come back?" is that 80 per cent. do come back and are held for home and happiness.

Isn't It Worth While Giving Your Generous Support to Work Like That?

This is only one phase of the Army's varied activities, and your financial assistance is most earnestly desired.

CAPE TOWN, April 27.—(United Press).—Three lifeboats with survivors from the ill-fated Portuguese mail steamer Mossamedes have reached Port Alexander safely. The survivors expressed the belief that the other boats which set out from the Mossamedes after the vessel had grounded off Cape Fire probably have reached land also.

HALIFAX, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—The steamer Cymric Queen was reported by wireless this morning ashore in packed ice latitude 45, 35½ north, and longitude 60, 36½ west, which is estimated to be about five miles from Point Stesprit, on the Cape Breton coast. It is said the steamer is in immediate danger and has asked for assistance.

WEDDING BELLS

O'DONNELL—HARRINGTON

Downeyville, April 27. — A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday at St. Luke's church, when Mary, daughter of Michael D. Harrington, became the bride of George O'Donnell, son of the late Mr. Richard O'Donnell of this place. The bride who was given away by her father, looked charming in a navy blue suit; with hat to match, and carrying Ophelia roses. Miss Carmelita Morrissey, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ and after a sumptuous wedding repast, at which Rev. Father Galvin, Rev. Father McGuire of Peterboro, and many relatives and friends, were present, the happy couple left on the C. P. R. for points east, and on their return will reside in Downeyville.

The preliminary events included a linen shower given at the parish hall on Tuesday evening. The presents were many and beautiful.

GRAY—CHRISTIE.

On Tuesday of this week, April 24th, the marriage took place at eight o'clock mass at St. Peter's Cathedral, of Nelson Joseph Gray and Mary Elizabeth Christie, both of Peterborough. Rev. P. Costello performed the ceremony, and Miss Mary Torpay and Leonard Christie acted as attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray will reside in Peterborough.

RICHARDS—CAMPBELL.

On 24th February, 1923, by Rev. A. Mansell Irwin, Oshawa, Miss Margaret Campbell, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell, of Toronto, to Mr. Basil L. Richards, teller of the Bank of Toronto, Riverdale Branch, Toronto, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Richards, Millbrook, Ont.

OBITUARY

JAMES STEWART

The death occurred at the family residence 306 Mark street, at 1.30 o'clock this morning of James Stewart, a resident of this community for many years. The deceased who was in his seventy-third year, was the youngest son of the late Matthew and Eliza Stewart and was born at Inver Bay, Donegal, Ireland in 1850. With his mother, his brother Hugh and his sister Margaret the late James Stewart came to Ashburnham in 1860. Fifteen years later he was married to Catharine Wright of Ashburnham, later moving to Waubaushene where he was engaged in farming and lumbering for twenty-seven years. In 1900 he returned to Ashburnham and had lived here ever since. He was widely known in the district and had a large circle of friends.

There are left to mourn his loss three daughters and one son, namely Elizabeth at home, Mrs. F. E. Joyes, 247 Burnham street, Mrs. Bruce Gardiner, 62 Sophia street, and Hugh T. Stewart of Orillia. Seven grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will take place from 306 Mark street at 3.30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. G. J. Bousfield of St. Luke's Church will officiate.

ANNA GERTRUDE FINNERTY.

The death occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, this morning, of Anna Gertrude Finnerty, of Toronto.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss four sisters, Mrs. Deverell of Paris, Ontario; Mrs. C. Finnerty, of Toronto: Mrs. Stickney, of Brantford, and Alice Finnerty of Orangeville. She also leaves her aunt, Mrs. Steel, of Superior, Wisconsin.

The funeral will be in Toronto on Monday, service being held in St. Basil's church, and interment in Mount Hope cemetery.

HENRY CARVETH.

Funeral announcements will be made to-morrow.

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — | New York Stock Exchange — And Cash Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, April 27. — (Special.)—Apathy still ruled the New York Stock Exchange to-day despite the bullish factor of the high Federal Reserve system ratio and the attempt of the bears to depress prices. Generally the market had strong and fractional gains and losses were about evenly distributed. Bears met powerful resistance in their attempts to rush the Oils to lower levels on the strength of reductions in gasoline prices by the Standard Oil of N.J. and similar action by other companies. The bears made little headway. Stocks were stimulated in early dealings by the raise in reserve ratio of the whole Federal Reserve system to the highest level of the year at 77 per cent. against 75.5 per cent. for the previous week. Rediscounts for all banks declined seven million while for the New York institution the drop was fifteen million dollars. This furthed demonstration of the absence of credit strain was re-assuring in view of the advance of call money to six per cent. in the previous session which was clearly due to special causes in connection with Armour maturity. U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, Studebaker and other speculative leaders scored fractional gains in the early dealing and special strength was shown by several issues of the calibre of Union Bag and Paper, Gen. Motors and Dupont. Trading was sluggish in the first hour with speculative attention confined to a narrow group of stocks. Pan American issues were subject to renwed selling, the A stock dropping to 71 3-4 against Thursday's high of 74 1-4 and B at 66 7-8 was off 2 1-4 from the best price of the previuous day.

THE SEASON FOR GRASS FIRES IS ON THE WAY

Several Small Fires Handled by the Department Yesterday.

A party of children playing with matches set fire to the wood chips which litter the yard of the Peterborough Utilities premises at the corner of Sherbrooke and Bethune street yesterday morning at 11.48. At 3.20 p.m. a spark from a train caused a grass fire at 492 McDonnel street. At 8.25 the fire brigade was called to a rubbish fire on George street between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie and 12.05 this morning to another rubbish fire at 440 George street. A chimney fire demanded attention at 9.59 a.m. to-day at Lake and George streets.

In view of the danger attached to burning rubbish in the open street or on vacant lots in the event of a wind rising as happened in one yesterday, Chief Gimblett draws attention to the fact that no one may legally start a fire in the open without receiving his permission.

MAN HANGED HIMSELF AT ONTARIO HOSPITAL

BROCKVILLE, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—Obsessed with the idea that he might be hanged for imagined killings of people about his home, Peter Laraviere, aged 29, of Ottawa, a patient at the Ontario Hospital for Insane, hanged himself in a lavatory of the men's ward at the institution last night.

WINDOW DISPLAY PRIZES AWARDED

Decision of Three Lady Judges was Unanimous—Groceteria Gets First.

When lists were compared after judging the thirteen entries in the competition for best window display of Gold Dust Washing Powder yesterday, it was found that the three ladies who acted as judges were unanimous in their decision, which awarded the prizes given for the best display, as folllows: First — $15 to The Groceteria, Market Arcade. Second prize; $10.00, to E. Benson, 59 George street. Third prize, $5.00 to Boyle's Self Serve Store, Hunter street east.

The window displays were judged by general effect, neatness and originality of design. Most of the entries included with the display of the familiar black and white and orange packages of Gold Dust Washing Powder, an assortment of other aids to housekeeping, and spring cleaning such as brooms, wash tubs, wash boards, and clothes lines, mops and polishes, scrubbing brushes, kettles and ammonia powders.

The Groceteria window, first prize winner, has a very striking display, with the familiar Gold Dust Twins in miniature ebony figures with diminutive orange-paper skirts topping a round strand of stripped black and orange. The background is contrived of orange and black paper, and brooms and polishes add a finishing touch.

The Benson window is without doubt catchy enough to warrant a second place. Flags and geraniums in pots give a bright note to the pyramid of mops which covers large packages of the Gold Dust powder, while a girl's face, presumably the happy countenance of the habitual user of the advertised powder, looks out from a circular central frame.

Boyle's East City store display is set well back, with dignified-looking upright brooms resting against a dark blue backing. Washing accessories surround the few but effectively-arranged packages of the powder, while a plain list of prices attracts the eye.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING 57TH CHAPTER

At the regular monthly meeting of the 57th Regimental Chapter I.O.D.E. held yesterday afternoon in the officers' quarters at the Armouries, Mr. A. Mowat gave a brief, interesting address on the recent Conference on Education and Citizenship held in Toronto during Easter week, outlining the various addresses given.

The ladies moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, also to the young ladies who assisted in selling flowers at the Chapter's booth at the Motor Show, and to Mr. H. E. Hodgens, manager of the Turnbull Company, who so kindly loaned decorations for the flower stand. Mrs. E. B. Clegg occupied the chair.

Y. W. C. A. PAGEANT AT GRAND

(By Jeannette)

"One of the best amateur shows I have ever seen," was the verdict of the manager of the theatre in St. John, N.B., where Miss Caroline F. Littlefield, put on a gymnasium pageant some years ago, and anyone in the large audience who watched the presentation of the same pageant by members of the Peterboro Y.W.C.A. last evening at the Grand Opera House would, without doubt, give hearty approval to such a sentiment. Commencing promptly at a quarter past eight o'clock, a somewhat surprised audience, anticipating the usual unavoidable waits of an amateur performance, found itself streaming out of the front doors shortly after ten, after a presentation of drills, exercises and dances that moved with clock-work precision and speed. Miss Littlefield, the indefatigable directress of every item on the programme, must be possessed of a considerable amount of the quality of generalship, to be able to train the various classes to such a perfection of skill and dispatch as was exhibited last evening.

Commencing with a Grand March that brought every member of the massed classes onto the stage, by way of the side stage entrance out through the house and up the centre runway to form a serpentine promenade, led by a tot of three, the programme progressed through gymnastic drills and exercises, the girls wearing their 'gym' suits of navy bloomers with white middy blouses crossed by black bandoliers, to an assortment of interpretive dances, wish gauzy draperies floating under colored spots.

Perhaps the hit of the evening, juging by the appreciative gales of laughter and applause they evoked, was the tiny tots' and junior boys' dances. "The Call of the Oriole" was a classic dance whose artless appeal met with immediate response. A group of rimless, fluttering small creatures, their odd tufted dresses and head-pieces with pointed vizors looking exactly like fuzzy little baby birds with tiny, upheld, bare arms and pattering miniature feet, rotated solemnly in the measures of a dance which interprets the listening of the baby birds to the call of the oriole.

The Junior Boys' class, small stiff, sturdy men marching in 'goose-step' fashion, did the Golliwog dance an "awkward squad" number that brought down the house with its stiff staccato atmosphere. In long-trousered, long-coat-tail'd suits of green and yellow, three enormous red buttons progressing down their chests, and woolly black caps on their heads, the little lads went through the weird arm and foot wavings of their fantastic little number, to much laughter and applause.

The interpretive and classical dances were extremely effective. Artistic floating, filmy lengths of shaded-blue chiffon clothed the soft-footed, shimmering measures of the dainty dance of the moonbeams, by the Advanced Class; "Le Papillon," the Butterfly dance of the Interpretive Dancing Class, had a gorgeous, semi-Oriental effect, with the brilliant hues of orange and purple which simulated the tight, sheathed body and glittering, gauzy wings of the butterflies, the quivering doubit filaments on their tight caps vibrating to the soft, tiptoe'd advance of the animated 'flies. In glistening, slender fashion, the pretty creatures interpreted in rythmic movement the light rise and fall of their fragile prototypes.

"Autumn Flowers," by the Classic Dancing Class of younger girls, pictured the story of two little children lost in the woods, wakened by the fluttering presence of autumn fairies in light, yellow, pointed draperies, with autumn leaves on breast and head.

The Interpretive Dancing Class gave "Rosette," a particularly pleasing and graceful number by young girls wearing frilled rose and blue frocks with rose rose chiffon bows on their flowing locks and gilded slippers. light, airy, graceful, its rapid tempo softening to dainty repost, this was a very prettily-executed number.

"The Gypsy Festival" by Senior and Senior School Girls, was a colorful, vigorous, rapid dance, with vim and vigor in its tinkling tambourines its soft, reiterated stampings and low cries which ushered in the swift rush of brilliantly clad gypsies, in white blouses, red 'kerchiefs and sashes, and skirts of blue and yellow bandings.

"Sassy Sue", by the Classic Dancing Class, was a dance in the "rustic courtship' style, the amorous swains and coy maidens making a soft, quaint number in their suits of pink and green, their flowered muslin frocks and peeping pantalettes. The prolonged applause which greeted all the varied items on the programme was repeated for the charming effectiveness of this old-fashioned dance.

A boyish, attractive effect was achieved by the young girls of the Intermediate Class who did the Sailors Hornpipe in such realistic fashion. In spotless suits of white, with flat white caps, under a soft light, they pulled the ropes and scanned the skyline in true nautical fashion, with all the swaggering ease of jolly jack tars.

The Junior Class in the Highland Fling had a triumphant entrance, the small girls in their pleated skirts and tams of Stuart tartan swinging in behind the impressive figure of the Highland piper, David Grant, in full Scottish regalia. To the drone of the stirring music, the little lassies danced with clever, nimble-footed agility.

Military precision, exactititude in time and attack, pep, vim, enthusiasm, characterized the various drills and gymnastic exercises. In rythmic swinging movement, the advanced and senior school girls went through a very effective exercise with reeds, handling their pliable, curved instruments with graceful ease. This class also had a difficult club swinging interlude, whose intricate manoeuvres brought repeated applause.

The Swedish exercises by the Special Class of Seniors were surprisingly well handled, in lithe, quick response to sharp commands; while the simple stick drill of the Intermediates, the dumbell and wand exercises of the Junior and Senior classes, were all despatched with a degree of excellence and confidence, that bespoke the very best of training.

The entire programme was directed and supervised from its inception a great measure of praise for her unstring efforts and skill in training for such an outstanding exhibition of gymnastic abiity and interpretive grace as was produced on the Grand Opera stage last evening. Miss Phyllis Hall acts as leader of the pageant, and excellent music is supplied by an orchestra composed of Miss Gwendolyn Donley, accompanist, Miss Edwina Palmer, violinist, and Wilson Dunlop, drums and taps.

The pageant will be repeated this evening, and is well worth a second visit from those who were delighted with its clever staging last evening.

TENSE MOMENTS

occupied such a lengthy time in asking multitudes of questions in the various items that one stage the Premier clashed with both. "The hon. member promised to assist in expediting the business; does he think he is keeping his promise," asked the Premier of Mr. Ferguson. "Yes," replied the Conservative leader, charging that Mr. Drury had promised to see himself and the Liberal leader again, as to whether certain bill should come up, but had not done so.

"Do you mean the policy of obstruction is to go through?" asked the Premier.

Mr. Ferguson—"No one is talking about obstruction .Keep your head there."

Drury Annoyed.

"I have a right to speak," retorted Mr. Drury.

Mr. Ferguson: "Yes, but the hon. member talks about obstruction. You are not going to get away with that sort of thing any more."

The Premier declared that he had not broken any promise, saying he had sent Mr. Ferguson word regarding the bills.

Mr. Ferguson made a remark about finishing up business on Wednesday or Thursday.

"You know that is impossible," replied the Premier. "Does my hon. friend really think we can get through?"

"Yes."

Case of Nerves.

The long hours the Legislature is sitting is evidently getting on the nerves of members, for the Carmichael-Currie incident was only one of several, only slightly less tense. There was heated argument when Premier Drury accused Hon. Howard Ferguson and Col. Currie with obstruction.

CELEBRATED THEIR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kingsbury, 177 Murray Street, last evening celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding by entertaining a large number of their friends to a whist drive and party. The winners at the cards were Mrs. French and Mr. Jas. Reid; consolation winners were Mrs. Machin and Mr. French. After the whist drive was over, refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening was pleasantly spent in music and song. The jolly party ended by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and every one wishing the host and hostess all good wishes for their future happiness. They were the recipients of a large number of useful gifts.

THEATRES

Mae Murray has done the best work of her photoplay career in her latest Metro picture, "Jazzmania," presented by Robert Z. Leonard at the Capitol Theatre, where it was seen for the first time yesterday.

"Jazzmania" has everything in it. As a matter of fact, it is more than one photoplay. It has its background for the most part in the colourful kingdom of Jassmania, a tiny Balkan principality. It shifts to Paris for a while; then to the Casino at Monte Carlo; and finally to New York. Spectacular scenes follow each other with incredible swiftness; and no sooner has one glimpsed a scene of rare beauty than another is flashed on the screen in its stead. "Jazzmania" is really a New York Hippodrome of filmdom.

The story is concerned with the troubles of a young Queen, Ninon, whose kingdom is beset by enemies. She flees to avert a revolution, and her love of jazz and excitement leads her to Monte Carlo and New York. During her stay in the American metropolis she learns of the plight of the women and children of her own country and is persuaded to return to them. She arrives in time to prevent the betrayal of the kingdom. The people rejoice at her return, and she turns her tiny state into a happy jazz kingdom.

Miss Murray is throughout admirable in her portrayal of Ninon. She makes the transition from sheer comedy to dramatic emotionalism very easily, and her dancing and costumes are even more attractive to the eye than usual.

THE MAN who knows clothes—who realizes there is a difference in the way clothes are made —comes to this store before he buys a new suit.

You too will realize the difference after you have compared the values we offer here with what you get elsewhere. You will note a pleasing difference in many little details of style, fit and workmanship. We want to make sure that once a man buys a suit here he will be sure to come back, and so we select only dependable fabrics, have them made by the best manufacturers and the result is a better fitting suit, a more stylish suit and a bigger value suit than you will find at an equal or oftentimes higher price elsewhere.

Three Tied in Soft Ball Race--Meeting of the Mercantile League

SOFT BALLERS HAD AN EASY TIME IN THREE GAMES LAST EVENING

Kiwanis Ran Rampant in Game With Smoke Eaters—Rotary Won From Rangers.

ALL ONE-SIDED.

The soft ball games last evening were not in the same class with some of the previous games, being for the most part one-sided affairs.

The firts game went to the Rotarians by the socre of 14 to 2. The Rotarians played a good fielding game and hit "Sammy" Colladine's offerings hard and often. Abbott collected one of the longest hits of the season, hitting the far-wall with a clean wallop.

The players were:

Rangers — Calladine p; Varty c; Grant 1b; Hensley 2b; Dwyer 3b; Shevlin ss; Ronco ss; McKinley rf; Hagan lf.

Rotary Club — MacPherson ss; Matthews p; Abbott 1b; Young ss; Graham c; Primeau 2b; Dobbin lf; McHardy rf; Laurie 3b.

Sore by innings——

Rangers ....200000— 2
Rotary ....140072—14

Second Game.

The second game supplied lots of fun but not much real ball. The Knights of Columbus trimmed the Lowly Lawn Bowlers by the score of 19 to 5. The Caseys shuffled their line up a little and had Mike Sheehy on the rubber for them. Many long hits were collected by the Caseys. Errors also helped them pile up their large total.

K. of C. — M. Sheehy p; P. Hern, c; J. Rutherford 3b; Murphy 3b; G. Rutherford 2b; Cronin 22; Kirns rf; Long 1b; Sharp, lf.

Bowlers — Freeman c; Curvin 1b; Ross 2b; McArthur 3b; Fox p; Henry ss; Martin ss; Morden rf; Wright lf.

K. of C. ....72442000—19
Bowlers .. ..11003001— 5

Third Game.

The Firemen-Kiwanis battle supplied some fast ball for the first few innings of their game, but the Firemen went in the air in the fourth innings and the Kiwanis sent across ten runs. They got five more in the fifth.

McLean pitching for the Kiwanis had eight strike outs in the first three innings. The Firemen missed greatly the services of Chief Gimblett, their catcher and captain. Dunkerly had 13 strike outs, striking out seven in th last two innings.

The players were:

Firemen — Carr 1b; Johnston ss; Rose rf; Mason 2b; Connors 3b; Gmblit c; McBride lf; Dunkerly p; Marchand ss.

Kiwanis — Weber b; Gordon ss; Parker 2b; Craig lf; Brown c; McLean p; Dick rf; Cummer 3b.

BALTIMORE HELD LEAFS SCORELESS

Orioles Pounded Three Toronto Pitchers For Thirteen Runs—Groves Fanned 14.

BALTIMORE, April 27.—(Canadian Press.)— While Lefty Groves held the Leafs scoreless, fanning 14 men, Oriole hitters pounded the offerings of three Toronto pitchers and tallied 13 times. The Canadians were able to get only four hits, three of which were credited to George Maisel, brother of the Oriole captain. Score:

Rochester 11, Reading 4.

READING, Pa., April 27.—(Canadian Press.) — Rochester opened their series here by trouncing the Keys by the score of 11 to 4. Carts' wildness, coupled with loose fielding by the locals and timely hitting by the Hustlers, sent seven runs across in the second inning. Connelly hit his second homer of the season with two men on base in the eighth for Reading. Score:

NEW YORK OPENED AT HOME WITH WIN

Boston Went Under in a Game That Was Full of Freak Plays — Chicago Lost Again.

NEW YORK, April 27— (Canadian Press.) —The New York Nationals opened their home season here yesterday with a hard-fought 7 to 3 victory over the Boston Club. The game was a freakish affair and full of unusual incidents. Boston made only one fluke hit off Nehf and Ryan, a bounder by Boeckel in the fourth inning. All three of Boston's runs resulted from errors. Mayor John F. Hylan threw out the first ball. Score:

Club Standings in Soft Eall League

As the result of last night's soft ball games, the Belmonts, Rotary and Kiwanis are running neck and neck for first place. Rotary and Kiwanis have each a tie game to play off, and the Gunners, at present tied with the K. of C., for fourth place, have an excellent chance to jump up on even terms with the leaders. The defeat of the Firemen last eevning relegated them to the scrap heap.

Tie games will be played off next week, the games being scheduled for Thursday at 8 and 9 o'clock, and Friday at 7 and 8 o'clock.

The standings are:

MIKE McTIGUE

NEW YORK, April 27.—(Canadian Press). Mike McTigue, light heavyweight ring champion yesterday, cabled his manager, Joe Jacobs, that he would sail for the United States on May 5, from Ireland, where last St. Patrick's Day he dethroned Battling Siki as 175-pound king. He will arrive here about May 11.

KEN WILLIAMS GOT HIS THIRD HOMER

Detroit Lost the Opening Game at Home Before a Record Crowd—Boston Soaked New York.

DETROIT, Mich., April 27 — (Canadian Press.)—Thirty-six thousand persons moved down to Navin Field yesterday and saw Detroit vanquished by the Browns, 4 to 3. The enlarged grandstands, pavilions and bleachers were jammed to capacity, with hundreds sitting or standing around the field. The attendance was 6,000 greater than the previous opening day crowd.

The Tigers were off to a three-run lead in the third on consecutive hits by Haney, Cobb, Veach and Heilman, coupled with a poor throw by Gerber to the plate. St. Louis went hitless until the fifth. Ken Williams got his third home run of the season. Score:

Quoit League May Be Formed in City.

Cognizance was taken at the meeting of the P.A.A.A. executive held on Wednesday evening, of the growing interest which is being taken in quoits in this city. Already Peterboro boasts of several stars in this branch of sport and it was decided at the meeting, to form a league among the city players if possible. To that end a meeting has been called for Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to which all quoit tossers, horseshoe heavers and barnyard golf artists are invited.

MERCANTILE LAY SEASON'S PLANS

Five-Team League Will Be Run — Expect to Play First Game on May 15.

At a meeting of the Mercantile League held last evening an application was received from the Bankers for a franchise in the League and the application was granted, making a five team league The teams now entered are: Canadian Packing Company, Westclox, Examiner, Lock Company and Bankers. A change was also made in the entrance fee which was formerly $5 and was boosted to $10. These entrance fees must be paid before the first game.

A schedule committee composed of one member from each club was appointed to confer with the city league schedule committee and make arrangements for the games. It is probable that the season will be opened on May 15.

There was some discussion over the matter of uniforms, some of the representatives feeling that the additional expense entailed by a whole new set of uniforms would be too great a burden for their teams. A resolution was therefore passed to the effect that while uniforms were desirable they would not be considered absolutely necessary. The expense of purchasing the ball was also taken of the shoulders of the teams for it was decided that they should be furnished by the league.

Certificates will be issued for each player but no limit was set upon the number of players to be signed by each team as the teams have already been restricted to the employees of the organization represented. The certificates must be signed and in the hands of the league secretary before the player takes part in a game.

It was decided that the control of the Mercantile team should rest in the executive of the league who were given power to appoint a manager. Several names were suggested for the managership but the appointment will not be definitely made till after the first games has been played. The Mercantile team will be picked from the best players of all teams in the league and is scheduled to play its first game on the morning of May 24 when they will meet the C.G.E. nine. The winner of this game will meet the Raybestos in the afternoon.

TORONTO "SORE" AT CENTRAL LEAGUE

Petty Efforts of T.A.B.A. to Throw Discredit on "A" Section of the Central Circuit.

The first meeting of the sub-committee of the O.B.A.A. for this year was held on Wednesday evening at the Carl-Rite Hotel, with W. J. Snyder, Hamilton, chairman; A. J. Walsh P. M. Kennedy, Toronto, and M. B. Dulmage, Guelph, secretary, present. A telegram was received from President MacFarlane, of Harriston, stating that the annual meeting of the North Wellington League was still in session, and he regretted his inability to be present. A letter was received from the secretary of the T. A. B. A. calling attention to the fact that Players Hoose, Lennon, Dillon and Maguire, all residents of Toronto, had signed contracts to play with the Leaside Club, in the Central Ontario League. The secretary was instructed to write the T.A.B.A. and request sworn statements with respect to these players and their places of residence, and when this is received action will be taken.

Would Reinstate Players.

The T.A.B.A. recommended the reinstatement of D. A. Carey, of the Beaver Athletic Club, who was suspended last fall following a trip with his team to Ottawa and Montreal, but no action was taken pending further information. The application of J. Keane for reinstatement was given favorable consideration, and will be forwarded to the A.A.U. of C.

The Kingston Central Ontario League team asked permission to use Player Hall who was with Port Hope last year but as he was not in Kingston until after January 1 the request was refused.

Central Ontario Troubles.

A number of matters in connection with the Central Ontario League were brought to the attention of the committee one of them being the report that Dainty, who pitched for Oshawa in 1921, and who later tried for a place on the London M.-O. team, was back in Oshawa again and it was decided to request the officers and executive of the Central Ontario League to appear before the meeting of the O.B.A.A. executive at its next meeting which will be held on Tuesday evening, May 8, and explain matters more fully, especially with regard to one section of their league deciding to abide by the January 1 residence rule, and the other half declining to do so.

The additions and changes which were made to the constitution at the annual meeting were gone over, and the new constitution will be issued as soon as possible.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

Questions

ONE—Pitched ball strikes several feet in front of the home plate. The moment it so strikes the umpire calls, "ball." The ball then strikes the batsman. What about it?

TWO—Can pitcher stand to the side of the rubber and feint his wind-up, then throwing to first in an effort to catch a runner napping?

THREE—Umpire calls balk on pitcher, who then delivers the ball to the batsman, who hits a home run over the fence. What is the proper ruling?

FOUR—Can a pitcher get on the rubber without having the ball in his possession?

FIVE—If pitcher is standing on rubber and runner on third starts for home, what must he do in order to have the right to throw the ball to the catcher in order to make a play on the runner?

Answers

ONE—Umpire called the play too quickly. When the batsman is hit by the wild pitch which struck in front of the plate he is entitled to first.

TWO—It is a balk if a pitcher is off the rubber and starts to wind up.

THREE—Calling of balk instantly suspends play. No consideration is given the fact that the batter hit a home run. He continues at bat. All base runners advance one base.

FOUR—It is a balk if he does.

FIVE—All he needs to do is step off the rubber. Then he has a right to make a play to the plate as any other base. If he remains on the rubber and delivers the ball to the catcher it is a legal pitch and the batsman can strike at the ball if he so elects.

WON AUTO RACE

LAKEFIELD TENNIS ENTHUSIASTS MEET

Best Season in Club's History Looked For—Officers Elected.

LAKEFIELD, April 26. — A meeting was held in the Lakefield House to elect officers and form plans for the season by the Lakefield Tennis Club. In the absence of the president, O. A. Langley, the captain, J. A. Creaser, occupied the chair.

Although the attendance was not large, there was no lack of enthusiasm and the coming season promises to be one of the best in the history of the village.

A large number have signified their intention of joining the club this season, and the membership will be materially increased. There is still room on the roster for more members, and it is to be hoped there will be a good response.

These officers were elected for the season:

Hon. president, G. J. Elmsley.
President, Dr. J. C. Smith.
Secy.-treasurer, K. A. Mackenzie.
Captain, J. A. Creasor.
Executive committee: J. C. Smith, J. A. Creasor, K. A. Mackenzie, and H. R. Wagar.

After some discussion, the fees were fixed at $4.00 for senior male members, 2.00 for juniors and second male member in family, and $1.00 for ladies. This exceedingly reasonable fee was fixed so that the financial problem would not be a barrier to many who may wish to join.

Miss Graham was elected an honorary member of the club for the year 1923.

It was decided to adopt the "ladder system" this season and also to provide for local tournaments. The interest will be stimulated and greater enthusiasm will be taken in the game There will be, of course, tournaments with visiting players during the season as usual.

The courts will be put in shape immediately and play will be commenced in the near future.

A cup for competition, if any such trophy was put up would increase local interest and also be of material assistance to the tennis club.

Over 3,000 Will Run in Relay Carnival.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—(Canadian Press). More than 3,000 college and high school athletes from all sections of the country either were here last night, or on their way, to compete in the Pennsylvania relay carnival today and Saturday. Nearly every incoming train yesterday brought one or more squads and the influx continued until late in the night. Franklin Field was crowded yesterday with stars of the cinder path taking their final workouts. Brilliant sunshine made conditions ideal. The gates of the new stadium were thrown open and hundreds of spectators trickled through.

GERMANY WAS SECOND ONLY TO GREAT BRITAIN

When the jury at Versailles got through with Germany, many thought that Germany was gone forever from the leading mercantile marine nations.

However, Germany ranked second only to Great Britain last year in shipbuilding. She's rapidly replacing what she had to surrender. Tonnage of her mercantile marine now is two-fifths as big as when the war started.

LACROSSE

Just a last reminder to all lacrosse men to turn out early at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon. This means between 1 and 1.30 o'clock, which will allow about an hour for light practice.

Albert Armstrong, of Havelock, who is a member of th O.A.L.A. Council this year, was in the city yesterday afternoon, and told the Examiner that the group meeting would likely be convened in Peterborough. He expects intermediate teams from Hastings, Peterborough, and Havelock, and also juvenile teams from these three clubs.

The junior section is a little doubtful yet, although Marmora and Madoc are entering teams,

Mr. Armstrong intimated that Campbellford would not likely be represented this year. He also stated that the Hastings club had been notified that their playing field must be roped this season, and so far as the local councillor is concerned he will insist that the new regulation by which a team whose supporters invade the field shall automatically lose the game, must be rigidly enforced. Fair warning will be given not so much to the teams themselves as to their too ardent partisans.

Jack Dempsey May Fight Tom Gibbons.

CHICAGO, April 27.—(Canadian Press). Negotiations for a championship match between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul challenger, at Shelby, Montana, July 4, will be resumed here to-day with the expected arrival of Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion.

Kearns will meet Loy Mollumby, representing American Legion posts of Montana and Mike Collins of Minneapolis, who is associated with Mollumby in promoting the propsed contest.

Mollumby and Collins were due to arrive her last night by airplane from Minneapolis. Mollumby started in his plane from Shelby Wednesday morning, stopping at Minneapolis yesterday to pick up Collins.

The Shelby promoter has a certified check for $110,000 to post as a guarantee that the contest will be held.

LADIES' SOFTBALL LEAGUE.

A meeting of the executive of the Ladies' Softball League will be held this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce.

It is desirable that all members will be present, also representatives from the different teams who participated last season, and any who are desirous of entering teams during the coming season. A very successful season as anticipated.

PETES ROUNDING INTO GOOD SHAPE

The Peterborough Central Ontario League Club have been taking full advantage of the favourable weather conditions, and although Manager Jake Solomon has been keeping the brakes on and not driving the squad too hard, the players are beginning to round into shape and will soon be ready to cut loose.

The team has already had five good workouts, starting last Saturday and after taking a night off, tonight are billed for a hard practice at Riverside park to-morrow afternoon. If the weather is favourable the crew should be in fine fettle for a week from Saturday, when Leaside will be here for an exhibition game that will open what promises to be a great season.

Manager Solomon has made no announcements as to his line-up, although the fans are busy trying to dope out the personnel of the team. The players have already shown the Petes' pilot enough in practice to warrant him looking forward to the campaign with confidence that the local outfit will prove formidable opposition for any man's team The team should be well fortified in every position and an esprit de corps is already being established that promises well for a successful season.

The Petes' new uniforms have arrived and will likely be given out at once, as it is planned to have as many practices in uniform as possible.

George East, who looked after the grounds in good style last year, has been appointed grounds-keeper at Riverside park by the Baseball Association and he will commence his duties on Tuesday. Considerable work is needed on the diamond to put it in proper shape for the season.

Exhibition games with Leaside, Lindsay and possibly with Oshawa, will put the Petes in good condition for the opening Central Ontario League game at Cobourg on May 24th.

The fans are already talking about that clash and the favourite outing for the first holiday of the summer will be a motor jaunt to Cobourg. It is within easy motoring distance over good roads and there is plenty of accommodation for the spectators, so that it is expected that hundreds of Peterborough cars will be parked in the Cobourg grounds on Victoria Day.

Military Honors For Hero of St. Julien.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 27. — (Canadian Press).—With full military honors, the funeral of Lieut.-Col. William Malloch Hart, M.C., a former Winnipeg resident, who died in Ottawa last week, was held here yesterday. He was a well-known authority on the treatment of tuberculosis, and for several years was medical adviser to the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment at Ottawa. He was born in Winnipeg but left here in 1907.

Lieut.-Col. Hart was a resident of Regina at one time. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the Fifth Battalion as a private, later assuming the position of medical officer of that battalion, and was captured at the second battle of Ypres. He was the first Canadian prisoner to return from Germany.

FIFTEEN SIMPLE SAFETY RULES FOR TRAFFIC

Read the automobile laws carefully for the district in which you are driving and obey them.

Never travel at a high rate of speed over a road with which you are not familiar.

Never drive, at any time, on the wrong side of the highway.

Heed the warning signs.

Never pass, or attempt to pass, a car going in the same direction at the crest of a hill or on a curve.

Never stop your car just over the brow of a hill or just around a curve.

Never follow a car travelling at a high rate of speed at less distance than fifty yards.

If you wish to pass another car going in your direction, choose a long, straight stretch of road.

When you are travelling at a chosen rate of speed, do not "speed up" because someone attempts to pass you.

Make careful and frequent inspections and tests of your brakes.

Never use bulbs of higher candlepower than those prescribed by law for your lense.

Inspect your tail-light frequently. This light marks the position of your car for the following driver, who may be facing lights of an oncoming automobile.

Remember that the taking of a human life by an otherwise lawful act, done in an unlawful manner is manslaughter, a crime punishable by imprisonment.

Remember that every time you "take a chance" you are gambling—with the lives of other people as the "stakes."

"Safety first, last and always."

These rules, if observed, would reduce the accidents on our highways 95 per cent.

DISTURBANCES CEASE AND MINERS AT WORK

THETFORD MINES, Quebec, April 27, Canadian Press. — All is quiet at the Thetford Mines. All except King Mine Asbestos Corporation are at work as usual. Officials do not think there will be any further trouble.

MINE EXPLODED AT A MOVIE PICTURE HOUSE

DUBLIN, April 27. — (United Press.)—Two women were in a band of five which exploded a planted mine in front of the Grand moving picture theatre in O'Connell street to-day.

A portion of the front of the movie house was blown out and windows were shattered all along on both sides of the street.

Three pedestrians and one of the bombers were wounded. All the Irregulars escaped.

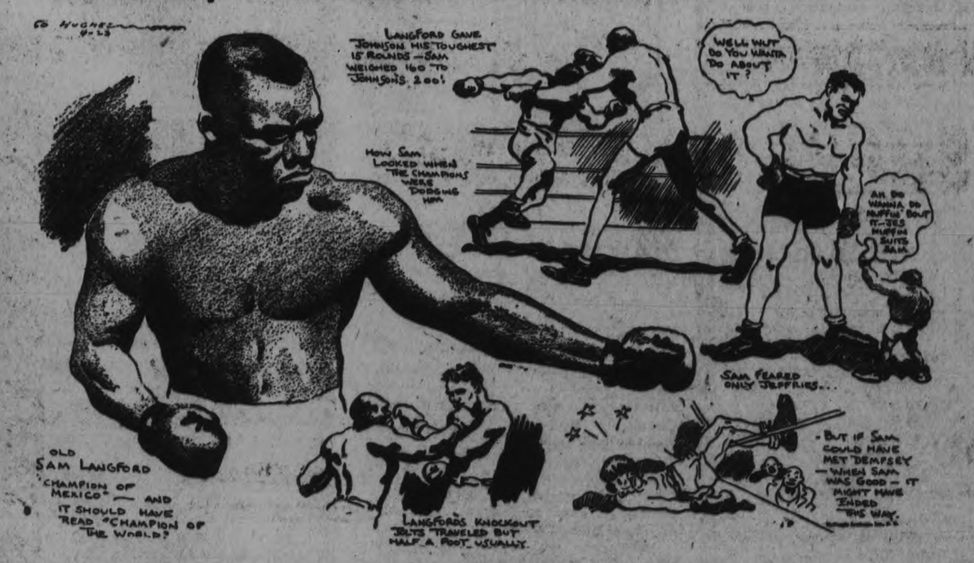
Sideburns are not so numerous, but some look pretty common.

"The Champion of Mexico" - - - By ED. HUGHES



Sam Langford is at last a happy man. Langford, one of the real marvels of the ring, almost drifted, penniless, into the shadows of obscurity without becoming a champion. A whimsy of fate beckoned him to Mexico last fall. And there in the turbulent panorama of Mexican life parades good old Tham, as high in the esteem of the populace as the loftiest peak of the Sierra Madras. The once redoubtable "Boston Tar Baby" is now the champion of Mexico. He won the title by knocking out Kid Savage in a round the other day. Sam Langford is a champion at last—if only of Mexico—and true lovers of boxing are happy with him. He should have been a champion of the world.

Sam Langford is the oldest man, in point of ring service, in the grim game today. A fighter's years are not counted on the calendar. They are counted in the ring. Many a boxer is an old man, pugilistically, after five years between ropes. One blow, figuratively, may age a man a year. One battle leaves him a gray head, so to speak. Langford has been exchanging blows with his fellow man since 1902—twenty-one years. That is a long time, in the ring or out of it. And now Sam, the petal-plucked black-eyed susan, is matched with Georges Carpentier, withered orchid of France. If old Tham could call back his form of even seven years ago! That would be a bad match for Georges.

An enjoyable tea, attended by about 75 guests, took pla yesterday afternoon and evening, at the home of Mrs. George Tremain, Victoria avenue, under the auspices of the Queen Alexandra Circle, No .136, of the A. O. F. In the evening, spent in the enjoyment of cards and dancing, the guests were received by Mrs. Tremaine, and the President of the society, Mrs. S. Adlam. Assistants were Mrs. William Ballard, Mrs. George Matthews and Miss Ettie Wiggins.

A unique cake-guessing contest provided much enjoyment for the company, and was won by Mrs. J. Tremaine and Mrs. Norman Clark. Music for dancing was provided by Miss Ethel Shurety.

The next Kiwanis Club luncheon will be on Friday, May 4th when Captain J. T. Shaw, K. C. M.P., for Calgary West, will be the speaker. The change in date from Tuesday until Friday of next week was made in order that Captain Shaw could be secured. The week following the club luncheon will be held on Tuesday after which the luncheon day each week will be on Friday in accordance with a recent enactment of the club.

The tea held in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum yesterday afternoon by the incoming executive of the Catholic Women's League, was very successful. A large number of people dropped in for a cup of tea or a salad in the attractive hall, with its bright overhead streamers and pretty tables arranged with floral decorations of roses, carnations and sweet peas. Ladies in charge were the acting president, Mrs. B. Law, and the executive members, Mesdames F. J. McFadden, E. H. Hickey, C. Snyder, E. Cronin and Miss T. McNamara, Mrs Jno. Coughlin, Mrs. W. S. Merrill, Mrs. W. J. Gallagher and Mrs. Jos. J. Duffus formed the reception committee. Assistants in charge of general arrangements and tea tables were Mesadmes Owen, Geary, Fitzpatrick, McCoy and McGarrell, the Misses M. Lonergan, M. Halpin, M. O'Brien, K. Conroy B. Conroy, A. Gallagher, E. McManus, M. Hayes, F. Giroux. Excellent music was provided by the Sacred Heart orchestra, by Miss Dorothy Garden and Mr. J. Robertson.

Mr. G. N. Gordon will be in the city to-morrow.

Dr. R. C. Blagrave is in Toronto to-day, attending a meeting of the Corporation of Trinity College, and also an executive meeting of the Diocesan Executive.

Miss J. Horsfield has returned from the midsummer millinery openings in Toronto.

LOCAL DEMAND FOR LABOR ON THE INCREASE

Factories Are Busy and Many of Them Are Working Overtime—Skilled Help Scarce.

BUILDING TRADES

That the indications at present are of a fairly prosperous year is the opinion of the local Government Employment Bureau. In the event of an industrial boom ,there will be a marked scarcity of labour, and, in fact, there is at present a call for certain classes of skilled mechanics which cannot be filled locally.

The situation this year is much better than last, practically all of the factories being exceptionally busy, some of them working overtime.

A large number of labourers have been placed in temporary work, and when Government road work opens up, it is expected that there will be difficulty in supplying the demand.

Millwrights have already been brought from out of town, none being abailable here. Mechanics who last year were willing to work as labourers, have this year been placed in their own trades, and more are required.

In the building trades generally there is not much movement yet, but house painters are asked for.

Female help is being urgently demanded, over eighty applications being on hand. Much of this help is required at the summer resorts.

There does not appear to be any cause for despondency in the present situation. While many are leaving the city, many more are coming in. Though Peterborough may not boom, and this depends greatly on building activity, it will at least be comfortably well off for work this summer.

CLASS WARFARE LEADS TO HELL

J.H. Thomas, M.P. Utters Warning to Labour Industrial Agitators.

LONDON, April 28. Canadian Press. — "A union leader who wants a strike is not fit for his job," declared J. H. Thomas, M.P., railwaymen's leader at a meeting in Birmingham last night, "although employers and employed frequently have been driven into situations over which they have had no control. Talk of class warfare can lead only to hell"

These words of Mr Thomas were spoken at a meeting of the National Alliance of employers and employed which was also addressed by Neville Chamberlain, the Minister of Health. The Minister remarked that last year was a comparatively peaceful one in industry in this country, but once again Britain appeared to be coming within sight of a season of industrial strife.

Five hundred school teachers in Croydon, near London, who had been on strike for three weeks, and were demanding the same rate of payment as London teachers were receiving had decided to return to work next week, Mr. Chamberlain stated. Public opinion generally had been against the strikers. Croydon Council had stood firmly against conceding the strikers' demands and had even refused to have the question submitted to arbitration. It had contended that no real cause had been made out by the Croydon teachers, who were the highest paid teachers outside of London, and whose expenses were much lower than those of the London teachers.

A MAN FULL OF REMINISCENCES

Messenger of Commons Has Served Under All Canada's Premiers Since Its Confederation.

OTTAWA, April 28.—(Canadian Press)—A man full of reminiscences, and all the recollections which fifty years of continuous service at the House of Parliament would bring Mr. George A. Boudreault, Chief Messenger and Housekeeper of the House of Commons, 63 years old, who celebrated the completion of his fiftieth year of service at the House of Commons on March 1, has served under all the Prime Ministers of Canada since Confederation. Mr. Boudreault started at the House of Commons in 1873 as a page.

In the old days when sitting around the Speaker's Chair in his capacity of Page, Mr. Boudreault became quite a student of oratory. In his present capacity as Chief Messenger he does not visit the Chamber very often, but when he does, he says that he is immediately struck by the decline in the quality of oratory heard in the House. In the days of Sir John A. MacDonald, he said, when such men as L. S. Huntington, J. J. Curran or Mr. Bosse spoke, the whole House sat up and took notice. Especially were the proceedings interesting when Mr. Bosse, a Frenchman would get up and deliver an impassioned speech in wonderfully worded English and then his seatmate, Mr. Curran, an Irishman, would rise and deliver an equally eloquent address in French. Either could hold an audience spellbound with both French and English. In those days, said Mr. Boudreault many more French speeches were heard in the House, although there are actually more French members today than formerly.

Other fine speakers who Mr. Boudreault admired were Sir George Foster, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, F. D. Monk and Hon. W. S. Fielding, but in Mr. Boudreault's estimation the finest speaker who ever talked in the House of Commons was Henri Bourassa.

One thing which Mr. Boudreault especially remembers was the scathing criticism levelled by the late F. D. Monk at the laguage recorded in the official gazette. It was at this time that a sweeping reform was effected in the methods of recording the proceedings of the House.

The Chief Messenger was always a great admirer of the Press men and in his early days as a page made it a point to attend to their wants most assiduously. Especially did he call to mind the great admiration he had for Nicholas Flood Davin, a newspaper man and M.P. during Laurier's regime. This speaker was wont to quote poetry and fill his appeals with beautifully worded excerpts from the classics.

Mr. Boudreault was born in Quebec City in 1860. He received his early education in that city but moved to Ottawa in 1868. While going to school in Ottawa he took a position as page in the House of Commons in 1873. He gradually rose from page to clerk's messenger, then to chief page, then Speaker's messenger and finally in 1918 he was made Chief Messenger and House Keeper. He married in 1899.

Prime Ministers whom Mr. Broudreault served under in succession were: Rt. Hon. Sir John A. MacDonald, Hon. A. Mackenzie, Rt. Hon. Sir John A. MacDonald, Hon. Sir J. J. Abbott. Hon. Sir J. Thompson, Hon. Sir M. Bowell, Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Rt. Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden Rt .Hon. Arthur Meighen and the present Prime Minister. Rt. Hon .W. L. Mackenzie King.

GERMAN HATER PERFECT PEST TO TRAVELLER

LIKE WILD BOAR

By ERNEST M. HEMINGWAY.
Special to The Examiner. Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, April 28.—On the frontier between Baden and Wurtemberg I found my first Hater. It was all the fault of the Belgian lady who would insist on speaking French. In the roaring dark of going through a tunnel the Belgian lady had shouted something at me. I didn't understand and she repeated, this time in French: "Please close the door."

When we came out of the tunnel the Belgian lady beamed an enormous beam and began talking French. She talked French rapidly and interesting for the next eight hours in a country where to say one French word is to invite an attack.

During those eight hours we changed trains six times. Sometimes we stood on a platform at a little junction like Schiltach with a crowd of at least six hundred people waiting for the train to come. There would be four places vacant in the train. We always got two of them. That was the Belgian lady.

"You wait with the baggage," the Belgian lady would say as the train came in sight down the track. "I will go in ahead of these boche and get two places. I will open the window and you throw the bags through. We will be comfortable."

That was exactly the way it happened. The train stopped. The Belgian lady would go through "these boche" like the widely-advertised Mr. Lionel Conacher through the line of scrimmage. Four hundred perspiring and worthy Germans would be assaulting the door. A window would fly open. The smiling face of the Belgian lady would emerge triumphantly shouting "Voici Monsieur! The baggage. Quick!"

Some way or other I would get aboard a platform of the train and in half an hour of apologetic threading my way, get through the sardine-packed aisles of the cars to where the Belgian lady was saving my "platz."

"Where have you been, monsieur?" she would ask anxiously and loudly in French. Everyone in the car would look at us blackly. I would tell her I had been making my way through the crowd.

The Belgian lady would snort a terrific Belgian snort.

"Where would you be if you did not have me to take care of you, I ask you? Where would you be? Never mind. I am here and I will look after you."

So guided and guarded by the brave Belgian lady I crossed Baden, Wurtemberg and the Rhenish provinces in safety.

As we crossed the frontier into Wurtemberg a tall, distinguished-looking man with grey mustaches, came into the car.

"Good day," he said and looked around keenly. Then asked politely but severely: "Is there an ausiander in this car?"

I thought my time had come. There are at least four special visas that no one ever bothers to get in Germany, for the lack of which you can be thrown into jail and fined anything up to a million marks. It is much better to have these visas, but if you take the time to get them you will spend eight out of every twenty-four hours in police and passport control offices, and these officials will discover that you lack nine other special and highly-necessary visas that you have never heard of and throw you into the jug on general principles.

The grey mustached man took my passpotr and luckily opened it to a page covered with Turkish, Budgarian, Croatian, Greek, and other incomprehensible official stampings. It was simply too much of a mess for him. He was too much of a gentle-

HEARD A TALK ON PALESTINE

Illuminative Address by Miss Butterfield to the Local School Children in St. Paul's.

Yesterday afternoon, in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Miss M. A. Butterfield, visiting missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, told a number of the school children of the city about the lives of the children of Palestine, where Miss Butterfield is engaged in missionary work. Her brief discourse, listened to with interest by the small hearers, described the customs and the dress of that Eastern land. Clad in the "Jerusalem" dress (every section of Palestine has a distinctive costume), the speaker asked the children to take note of its similarity with the dress of women in Biblical illustrations. Of deep red, with heavy red and yellow embroidery on front and sleeves, the loosely-belted gown fell to the wearer's toes, the long, flowing angel sleeves and white veil giving a graceful appearance. On her head, Miss Butterfield wore the silver coins which constitute the dowry of the woman of Palestine, her mark of honor, which to part with for any reason has only one popular interpretation, that of a departure from the path of virtue. In the stressful times of war, these linked silver coins, with the silver chain which connects the head band with the loosely-hanging row of coins below the chin, were guarded until the last by mothers of hungry children.

Primitive Methods.

The primitive methods of tilling the land, with the Abrahamic plows scratching the stony soil; the prevalence of blood feuds and banditry which causes the farmers to live in huddled villages; the little towers which they build for armed night watches in the ripe fig season; the dirt and poverty and ignorance and disease rife among the children, many of whom suffer from a loathsome eye infection; the schools in Jerusalem, where the little ones learn to read and write and spell in two languages, the English and the Arabic; all these were described by the speaker in brief sentences. Miss Butterfield gave a Bible text in Arabic to illustrate the language's difficulty, the prevailing gutturals and whining cadence forming a strange contrast to the musical accents of the speaker's pleasant voice.

To amuse the children, Miss Butterfield told them of the pet kitten, which imitated with loud meows her vocal struggles with the "wow" of the Arabic, a sound which has several different meanings, and spoke of her half-blind old woman attendant, who could cook only two dishes, both variations of a certain

AFTERMATH OF RED ARROW CO.

John Stockdale Charged With Misappropriating Funds of Stockholder, Dr. Chartrand.

OTTAWA, April 28.—John Stockdale, charged with the theft of $110.90, the property of Dr. W. S. Chartrand, has left for Montreal, accompanied by Constable Payette, to procure vouchers which the accused claimed would prove that he used Dr. Chartrand's money to pay bills of the Red Arrow Tire Corporation. After hearing Stockdale's testimony, Magistrate Hopewell in the Police Court decided to give the accused a chance to prove his innocence and ordered Constable Payette to go with Stockdale to Montreal.

The evidence showed that Stockdale received $110.90 from Dr. Chartrand for stock of the Red Arrow Tire Company, which was never delivered. The accused, upon being questioned by Mr. Alan Fleming, counsel for Dr. Chartrand, stated that the stock was not delivered owing to differences among the board of directors.

Stockdale claimed he used Dr. Chartrand's money to pay bills which the Red Arrow Tire Company owed. Stockdale's testimony showed that he had been dismissed from seven charges in the Montreal Police Court, after spending 63 days in Bordeaux Jail. The accused almost tearfully stated that he wanted this charge cleared up, as the Brockville police wanted him on another such charge which might be cleared up.

Mr. Fleming subjected Stockdale to a severe cross-examination, during which Stockdale stoutly maintained his innocence, though he admitted knowing a lot about the practices of stock companies and promoters. Mr. Fleming warned the Magistrate that many local people were losing money on unsound stock companies and he urged that Stockdale be kept under strict surveillance. Mr. Fleming urged that Stockdale's lawyers, Messrs. Audette and Genest, go to Montreal to procure Stockdale's vouchers. Magistrate Hopewell contended that Stockdale could procure these papers in his trunks held by the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, quicker than either Messrs. Audette or Genest, so he ordered that Stockdale go to Montreal at his own expense, under the surveillance of a police officer.

A UNIQUE GIFT IS CLOCK THAT KEEPS SABBATH

Another Wedding Present to the Royal Duke and Bride is a Pair of Fire Buckets.

LETTER FROM LONDON

(By Marie Dorland.)

LONDON, April 28.—(Special.)—London newspapers have been full of reports about the Royal wedding and daily lists have been published of the gifts to the bride and bridegroom. The Duke and Duchess of Athol gave a pair of fire buckets. Every day the Duke and Lady Elizabeth received gifts from delegations representing various public bodies and have made speeches about how delighted they are to receive aluminium cooking sets, and so on. Glasgow's gift was most original. It is a clock that keeps the Sabbath. Every other day it provides martial music and a royal procession. This puritianical time-piece, however, is not the products of the Clyde-side responsible for the labour members of parliament who have been distinguishing themselves by singing 'The Red Flag' in the House, and having free fights with government M.P.'s. It was made in 1804 in the hope that George the third would take a fancy to it. At three, six, nine and twelve it plays a march and at an opening in the dial, figures of the King and Queen and all the members of the royal family as in 1804 pass in procession, complete with horse guards.

At last America has scored on the London stage. Eugene O'Brien's "Anna Christie" has been proclaimed a great play and Pauline Lord, the American actress, as the motherless child of a Swedish-American sailor, was welcomed on the first night by an audience whose enthusiasm amounted almost to hysteria. When she first came in the stage jaded critics sat up with a jerk, and when the curtain fell several of them were speaking her name in the same breath with Bernhardt, Duse and the famous Siddonses. It was wonderful to see this simple drama of tough, rugged, but real human beings after the superficially brilliant drawing-room conversational plays that hold the boards in so many London theatres at the moment.

Then an awfully amusing farce, "So This is London" "arrived" this week. It was obviously written to bring about a better understanding between Americans and Englishmen. The Americans, pa, ma, and the only son were caricatured, of course, and so were the English lord, his wife and daughter, with whom the American hopeful falls in love, but the lines are killingly funny and will in all probability sustain the show long enough to allow the lesson to percolate a bit.

To a Canadian who can laugh at both "Life" and "Punch," it is rather sad to see the lack of understanding between the average Britisher and American. The London newspapers are perhaps largely to blame. If the summer the penny journals fill their pages with stories of Americans and in many cases the interviewers have succeeded with diabolical cleverness in making the unsuspecting American visitor say just the things the English public has grown to expect him to say and to laugh at him for saying. Then as the American people expect to see the monocled "Ah say, old chap," stage type of Englishman, the English audience must have its cigar-chewing American with horn-rimmed glasse who boasts about "God's Country." In "Rats," one of the brighest revues in London at the moment there is a skit entitled "Things Guaranteed Never to Happen." One of these consists in the appearance of a gum-chewing "Amurrican" with checkd trousers who merely remarks, "Well I must say old New York hasn't got much on your Lordon."

April is a fitful child but the 6th-er day she smiled so sweetly that the thought of a few days at the sea was too much to resist. Green and white landscape flew by —the plum trees are like spring brides — and in less than two hours I found myself in a delightful little hotel on the top of the cliff overlooking the famous Oyster Bay at Whitstable. "Oysters; There is an 'r' in April," I exulted, but mine host informed me quite matter-of-factly that this week's supply had all been shipped to London.

Canterbury is only six miles away,

W. H. HILL,
Who was the guest of honor last evening at a banquet held by the Sun Life staff. Mr. Hill completes forty years' service with the company.

W.H. HILL WAS GUEST HONOUR AT A BANQUET

Formal Finality to a Business Career of Forty Years With the Sun Life Company.

OFFICIALS PRESENT

William H. Hill was the guest of honour of representatives of the Sun Life Assurance Company in the Central Ontario division at the banquet in the Empress hotel last night which concluded their first annual convention.

The chief significance of the event was the formal finality it gave to Mr. Hill's business career of forty years with the Sun Life company from 1882 to 1922 when he was succeeded by Mr. J. F. H. Wallace, the present district manager, who assumed the position nearly twelve months ago. The presence of four officials of the company from headquarters in Montreal emphasized the high standing to which Mr. Hill attained in the inner circle of the organization he has served so long, so faithfully and so successfully.

To the handsome tribute paid him by his immediate associates and assistants in the Central Ontario field was added the Sun Life Company's respects and esteem conveyed by James W. Simpson, superintendent of Home Agencies, J. B. Mabon, assistant actuary; W. Stuart Penny, inspector, and George H. Harris, superintendent of the Field Service Bureau, all of Montreal. The district representatives presented Mr. Hill with a beautifully bound and illuminated address which was read by Mr. E. V. Dyer, of Port Hope, and signed by the twenty-five members of the district staff who attended the conference, which has been in progress here for two days.

Mr. Wallace made a capital chair man. His duties were made doubly pleasant by the presence of a number of the wives of the visitors to the convention, and the proceedings were interspersed ith choruses. Incidentally the rich harmonies of Alex. Fortye's accompaniments were decidedly noteworthy. Only three toasts comprised the programme, the King, the guest, of the evening, Mr. Hill, and the ladies, the last of which was proposed by Frank Hinchey. A motion picture that strikingly illustrated the benefits of life insurance as an asset to society in the protection guaranteed to mothers and children provided an interesting feature.

Although last night's banquet was a Sun Life family affair, an eloquent expression of appreciation to W. H. Hill from those who have been connected with him in business it had its reflex of public interest in the fact that Mr. Hill has been such a prominent figure in the community life of Peterboro that any reward of honors and felicities seems to be re-echoed with the approval of his fellow citizens. The signal success that marked his civic service stands out as wholesomie and complete as his accomplishments in private life. And the retirement that set a period to his public endeavors a few years ago has now terminated his active participation in the business he estaoish-ed in this city.

Mr. Hill was greeted with prolonged applause at the conclusion of the address from the divisional representatives, as he waited to reply under the emotion its kindly sentiments kindled, and perhaps too in a passing glimpse of those forty-rich est years of his life. That demontration of personal regard fused with deep fraternal feeling of men in the contact of a common vocation was one of those rarely intrinsic treasures of a life time that comparatively few men receive.

The Address

The address from the district agents to Mr. Hill follows:

Dear Mr. Hill,— It is with mingled feelings that we address you on this occasion, one of the milestones of your life, which means the severance of your active connections with the Sun

LOCAL MARKET A MOIST SPOT

Seed Potatoes at One Dollar a Bag Butter Plentiful.

The farmers' market was a moist-looking spot this morning. A dozen or more dejected-looking vehicles lined the curbs, with sundry roots and cans of maple syrup. The latter commodity was selling anywhere from 65 cents a quart, or $2.25 a gallon, to 85 cents a quart this morning.

Little pigs were $6.50 and $7.00 a-piece, veal on one vehicle was 13 cents and 18 cents a pound for an "asking" price, and seed potatoes of Irish Cobbler extraction were $1.00 a bag.

Turnips were 20 cents a peck, parsnips 45 cents.

The gentleman who retails fish had a supply that seemed to be enjoying the damp atmosphere. A couple of huge pike flanked pieces of white halibut.

The two auctioneers had a crowd of listeners who sheltered under umbrellas or stood unprotected in the drizzle. The genial face of one framd itslf in th tir it took himtttta framed itself in the tire it took him several minutes to dispose of, and discoursed on the good qualities of the second member of a sturdy black pair of farm horses, the first offered going at a final bid of $100.00.

There was plenty of butter, ranging in price from 37 cents to 40 cents per pound, and quantities of eggs at 27c, 28c, and 30c a dozen.

Fowl were very scarce, the few specimens of chicken selling at 30c a pound, one lady had chilli sauce at 25c a quart, and another sold lard at 25c a pound.

LADIES SOFT BALL CLUB MADE A PRESENTATION

The Colonial Weaving Ladies' Soft ball team met together last night to present to Mrs. W. Macdougall (nee Lillian Wade) a handsome brush, comb and mirror in case as a mark of esteem and good fellowship, which is the keynote of this club

Regret was felt and expressed at the departure of Mrs Macdougall, who is leaving the city to reside in Detroit, but the club will carry on with the same esprit de corps that was so much in evidence during last season

BIG INCREASE IN PROPERTY VALUES IN PETERBOROUGH

An increase of $11,292,675 in the value of assessed property in Peterborough in 36 years is the record shown by figures obtained today.

In the Examiner of August 10, 1887, a report compiled by C. D. MacDonald shows the total value of assessed property in the town to be $3,716,410, and figures obtained from the City Clerk's office today show the present value of assessed property to be $15,000,085. In 1887 property valued at $303,400 was exempt from taxes, and today there is $2,950,070 exempt. This exempt property includes schools and Government buildings.

BONAR LAW ON VOYAGE TO REGAIN HIS HEALTH AND ESCAPE TROUBLE

Internal Party Dissensions Prove Trying to the Premier's Health--Baldwin Will Act as Premier

STRONG OPPOSITION.

LONDON, April 28.—(Canadian Press) — The annouuncement that Premier Bonar Law is about to start on a sea voyage for at least a month, to regain his voice and health was issued after the House of Commons made its customary early adjournment this afternoon. If not a surprise to the members of the House, it certainly is looked upon as a surprise to the country after the optimistic statements made by Marquis Curzon and other Cabinet Miniters concerning the Premier's health

Parliamentary authorities declare it possesses significance beyond the mere question of the Premier's physical condition, pointing out that the Administration, "notably deficient in debating strength, is faced by tireless, determined and extremely vocal opposition in a Commons well ammunitioned with questions like housing and unemployment to harrass the Ministers.

In addition, they say, the Government party is torn by internal dissension and rivalry for the expected succession to the Premiership, since the belief is almost universal that Mr. Bonar Law' health, even under most favorable conditions, can hardly stand the strain of a prolonged term of office.

The Premier had already deputed Stanley Balwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to take his place in all speaking parts, but while he remained on the scene of action he could not protect himself from the worries of these internal conflicts, hence, Parliamentary commentators say, it may safely be assumed his journey is to be undertaken as much to escape these anxieties for a few weeks as for any immediate cause in the actual condition of his throat, although it is known that it has proved less amenable to treatment than was expected and that his medical advisers feared the effect on his health of constant worry.

If the Prime Minister's absence, Mr. Baldwin will act as leader in the House of Commons and virtually as Premier.

It is well known that the Premier desired reconstruction of the Ministry—to bring in Austen Chamberlain Sir Robert Stevenson Horne and Lord Birkenhead to strengthen the Treasury bench — but he has been opposed by the die hards of the Conservative Party, who bitterly resent the readmisison of Lord Birkenhead. Nowhere is it supposed that these feuds will be discontinued during the premier's absence.

CAPTAIN CAPTURED.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Captain Courage of Seattle and his three men who escaped from the Canadian Fisheries Patrol steamer Malaspina on Tuesday when his schooner, the Siloam, was captured, and one of the crew, J. M. Yorke, fatally shot, is in custody at Kyuquot Harbor, according to advices received here late yesterday afternoon by Major A. Motherwell, Chief Inspector of Fisheries.

Wheat Board Bill Met With Defeat

WINNIPEG, April 28.—(Canadian Press). — The Wheat Board Bill, introduced in the Legislature by Premier John Bracken, providing for Manitoba's participation in the establishment of a western compulsory Wheat Board, was defeated in the Legislature early last evening when the measure was up for second reading. The vote was 24 to 21.

AIR SERVICE WILL SPEED THE MAILS

New System For Final Lap of Transatlantic Mail Service Was Tried Out Yesterday.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., April. 28.—(Canadian Press) — The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce yesterday inaugurated a time-saving experiment in picking up urgent mails dropped from incoming liners in Plymouth Sound. Dummy mail dropped overboard at six o'clock yesterday morning, was taken ashore in a fast motor launch and transferred to airplanes, which uefr for Cologne and Paris, arriving in those places at approximately three and four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The use of this scheme, it is contended, would enable the delivery of letters to business houses in time for the replies to catch the return air mail the following morning and reach Southampton for the mail boat that evening. The Air Ministry is said to be watching the experiment with great interest.

EAST PETERBORO VOTE IS NOT WORTH FOUR ELSEWHERE?

Marmora Herald—At the recent meeting of the electors of East Peterboro held in Norwood it was decided to send a deputation to Ottawa to wait on the Redistribution Committee and protest any action that would deprive Peterboro City and County of two members. It will doubtless be a pleasant and interesting trip for the members of the delegation but they will have a hard job to convince the committee that one vote in East Peterboro is as good as four or five somewhere else. That is really what is amounts to for the population in some ridings is four or five times that of East Peterboro, and representation by population is supposed to be in effect.

HOUSE IN POSITION TO COMPLETE WORK ADJOURN NEXT WEEK

Provision Was Made Yesterday For the Official Recognition of Dr. Banting's Great Work.

OTHER MEASURES.

TORONTO, April 28. Canadian Press. — The Legislature yesterday put itself into a position to finish its work next week. There was little acrimonious discussion, although the Premier brought down some information to throw enlightenment on a debate of the night before.

Yesterday, there was an important amendment to the Medical Act introduced, and the official recognition of Dr. Banting and Dr. Best as discovers of the cure for diabetes.

Just after the House opened th Premier introduced a bill which put aside with certain regulations, $10,000 a year for Dr. Banting and Dr. Best for research work. Dr. Banting and Dr. Besteaicureerl layrknown becomes the pofessor in charge and Dr. Best the assistant.

Captain Ramsden (South West Toronto) brought to the Premier's attention the matter of making permanent appointees of returned soldiers who had been in the service for 12 months. He wanted a guarantee put into legislation.

The Prime Minister said that the government had pursued a policy of preference but doubted if it was wise to put into legislation the preference.

Jos. McNamara (Riverdale) gave the government credit for having done its duty to the returned soldiers in appointments.

The Premier promised to give effect to the requests of Mr. Ramsden but without legislation.

The House passed in committee the act which gives one Hydro power community the right to give power to a bordering municipality, providing the latter gives consent.

The Prime Minister took several minutes to reply to the chrage of J. H. Marceau, the night before, that employees on the extension of the T. and N. O. Railway were not receiving proper treatment at the hands of the contractors. The Premier read communications received by wire from the chief engineer of the T. and N. and O. and Commissioner Martyn of the T. and N.O. Road, that the fair wage clause was observed in the major and in the minor contracts. The rate of pay as stated in the fair wage contract had been right with the concurrent rate of wages for similar work in the same neighborhood. He denied emphatically that the men were being fleeced and that the standard of labor was not being maintained.

In discussion on the colonization road grantsJ. H. Marceau and Col. J. A. Currie had a row. The latter said that most of the overseers were French. Mr. Marceau took the statements as meaning those of foreign birth, and started a hot defence of the French-Canadian in Northern Ontario development.

Colonel Currie informed Mr. Marceau he meant no such thing, and that the French were as much native to Northern Ontario as were any other race.

Mr. Marceau then gave him a lecture for any distinction among Canadian peoples, and the inciden closed.

The bill amending the Medical Act sets forth that "every person shall be deemed to practice medicine within the meaning of this act who holds himself out as being able to diagnose, treat, operate or prescribe for any human disease, pain, injury, disability or physical condition, or who shall either offer, or undertake by any means or method to diagnose, treat, operate or prescribe for any human disease, pain, injury, disability or physical condition." Nothing in the act applies to dentistry. It also provides that any person not being a legally qualified medical practioneer, who before January 1, 1923, was practising as an osteopath, chiropractor, or drug healer, who files his name and particulars of himself with the Provincial secretary within 60 days of the coming into effect of the act is not debarred from further practice. The Act comes into force on July 1, 1923.

Championship Steer Raised in the Wes

WINNIPEG, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—As an example of what Western Canada can produce in the way of cattle, Col. H. A. Mullins, of Winnipeg, has purchased a young Shorthorn which he will send overseas to be shown at all the principal livestock centres in Great Britain. It is a two-year-old steer weighing 1,440 pounds, well over 250 pounds heavier than the average three-year-old. The price paid to the owner, Oscar Brown, of Edmonton, was $143.28. Col. Mullins bought the steer at the Union Stock Yards here Thursday.

RUM ARMADA NEXT VICTIMS OF U.S. FLEET

Plan Has Been Worked Out to Use the U. S. Navy to Prevent Liquor Smuggling.

MAY NOT BE USED.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(Canadian Press.) — A plan to use the United States' Navy against the rum smuggling fleet of the Atlantic coast has been worked out by the Administration it was said at the White House yesterday, and will be put into effect if the President is found to have the necessary legal authority.

The Department of Justice has been asked for an opinion as to whether President Harding has power to declare an "emergency" and use the armed forces of the Government to curtail the operations of the rum smugglers.

Announcement of the decision to utilize naval craft in curbing the activities of the rum smugglers, in the event there is no legal barrier was made after it became known that the State Department again had asked the co-operation of Great Britain in checking rum-running.

New representations made to the London Government seek its assistance in preventing ships flying the British flags from engaging in the liquor traffic between foreign parts and the United States. The co-operation of the Canadian authorities has also been requested.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes for some time has been urging that the Navy be utilized to stop the operations of the rum fleet.

It was emphasized at the White House in the enforcement of the law the President desired to proceed with circumspection and may not take any extra legal powers. There was doubt whether the President had the power to proclaim the smuggling an emergency warranting the use of naval vessels to enforce civil or criminal laws. Another legal question was said to be whether the President had authority to divert appropriations made by Congress for the recognized activities of the Navy for use in enforcing prohibition laws.

CANADIAN TRADE IN GOOD CONDITION

Weekly Report Shows Conditions Throughout the Dominion to Be Very Satisfactory.

WINNIPEG, April 28.— (Canadian Press.)—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Creditmen's Trust Association, Limited states:

Halifax— General volume of wholesale business holding steady. Retail conditions fairly satisfactory.

St. John—Wholesale business improving considerably with nice volume of current business. Retail conditions improving as the season advances. Collections only fair, but general confidence prevails. Winter port activities will soon be over for the season.

Montreal— Wholesale conditions are slowly improving with a more optimistic feeling throughout the market, though the general retail buying policy is of a conservative nature. Dry goods volume satisfactory and collections better. Grocers and packers report good business and collections much improved. Shoe trade only fair. Metal, millinery and ladies' wear slightly improved and collections fair Retail trade somewhat slow on account of the weather, but with the opening of the shipping season, bigger business is expected.

Toronto— Wholesale business at large still quiet with improvement noted in some lines. Building materials in good demand. Retailers report general conditions still unsatisfactory though there is some improvement and better conditions anticipated as the season opens up. Collections are a little easier but still room for improvement.

Winnipeg—Wholesale trade fair. Hardware and builders' supplies improving. Retail business feeling benefit of better weather. Collections fair.

Regina—Wholesale trade fair. Retail slightly improved over previous week. Collections slow to fair. First official crop bulletin by Department of Agriculture indicates wheat seeding started generally over the province except east-central district. Soil conditions generally good with sufficient moisture content at present. Acreage prospects approximately same as last year. Some scarcity of farm help.

Calgary — Wholesale conditions practically unchanged. Retail business only fair with good response to special price inducements. Crop conditions average.

Vancouver — Wholesalers report steady improvement in all lines with prospects this will be maintained. Considerable development work now in initial stages. Retail business fairly good with collections reflecting this condition.

REBEL LEADER MAKES OVERTURES FOR PEACE ON HIS OWN CONDITIONS

De Valera Orders His Troops to Suspend Hostilities By Noon of Monday — Asks For An Election.

RESULTS DOUBTFUL.

DUBLIN, April 27. —(Canadian Press.)—A suspension of hostilities by the Irish Republicans against the forces of the Free Sttae Government, and offer to negotiate peace with the Free State on certain conditions, were proclaimed last night by Eamon De Valera, the Republican leader, and his Chief of Staff, E. F. Aitken.

De Valera's proclamation sets forth the general political principles of the Republicans and asserts that the ultimate court of appeals for deciding disputed questions is a majority vote of the people of Ireland; that resistance by violence should be excluded, but that adequate facilites should be afforded the people for a proper presehtation of the issues involved.

The proclamation adds that nobody holding republican principles should be excluded from Parliament and the Council of the Nations. It says the military forces and servants of the nation and amenable to a freely elected national assembly.

De Valera expressed the belief that this declaration affords a basis for peace and adds:

"We hope this advance will be met in the spirit in which we make it, and that it will be supported by all who love our country and desire a speedy and just ending to the present national trouble

"As evidence of our good will the Army Command is issuing herewith an order to suspended aggressive action ,to take effect as soon as may be, but not later than on of Monday."

The effect of this proclamation is still doubtful. De Valera all along has declared this willingness to abide by a decision based on the free will of the people; but he is said still to maintain his original position that the British Government must not interfere in Ireland if the people decide in favor of a republic.

Illegal Export Manitoba Liquor

OTTAWA, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—The keeping of intoxicating liquor in the Province of Manitoba for export and the exportation of intoxicating liquor therefrom by persons other than brewers and distillers duly licensed by the Government of Canada, is forbidden on and after June 1, 1923, it is announced here. An Order-in-Council providing for this was made public in the form of an extra of the Canada Gazette.

HEAVY SHELF FELL FATALITY RESULTS

Simcoe Woman Dies of Shock From Accident While Shopping.

SIMCOE, April 28. Canadian Press —When a thirty foot shelf, laden with canned goods, collapsed in the store of O. W. Learn, in which she was shopping yesterday afternoon, Mr Gordon J. Butler received a shock which proved fatal. At the time of the accident the store was filled with customers, although nobody was injured.

Mrs. Butler was taken to her home in a highly nervous state, and three hours later she died. Mrs. Butler, who was the wife of Gordon J. Butler, of the staff of the Simcoe Reformer, has been in delicate health for some time.

STRANGE BEAST RAIDS A FARM IN SANDWICH

WINDSOR, April 28. Canadian Press. — A strange animal is reported by a farmer named Marentette to be haunting his farm on the Grand Marais Road in Sandwich Township; it successfully eluded the Windsor police yesterday, who scoured 200 acres Marentette told the police the animal is about the size of a horse, is yellow in color, with eyes as large as saucers, and walks on ts hind legs. He has seen it twice. He told the police that others have seen the animal.

TURKEY IS STILL CAUSE TROUBLE AT CONFERENCE

Britain Refuses to Recognize Turk Demands — U. S. Delegate Backs Up Sir Horace Rumbold.

ARTICLE 94 TO-DAY.

LAUSANNE, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—The feature of yesterday's session of the political committee of the Near East Conference was a declaration by Sir Horace Rumbold, head of the British delegation, that Great Britain cannot recognize the stability of Turkey's abolition of the capitulations in 1914 and that insistence would be made upon the retention of all rights to which British citizens were entitled under the treaties. It was quite impossible, he said, to accept the Turkish retention that the abolition of capitulations was effective in Septem ber, 1914, when Turkey declared them abrogated.

Joseph C. Grew, head of the delegation representing the United States read a statement indicating tha the United States took the same position.

Sir Horace pointed out that acceptance would mean that Turkey could collect arrears on taxes levied on foreigners, and that the proceedings of the Consular Courts since 1914 would be brought into question. Mr. Crew said the question was one of particular interest to the United States and that the United States Government was firmly of the opinion that the rights assured to United States citizens and other foreigners by virtue of the treaties could not lawfully be terminated by an act of one of the parties thereto.

The Allies agreed to an abrogation, effective when the Treaty of Lausanne is signed, and the Turks no longer insisted on their viewpoit.

Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, asked the Conference to provide for a joint Greco-Turk Commission of Control of the Orient Railroad in territory occupied by the Greeks. M. Venizelos, Greece, proposed that the League of Nations be asked to name a neutral controller

THE HYDRO COMMISSION.

Much of the present confusion and misunderstanding in regard to Hydro-electric matters would be removed if the municipalities who are partners in the scheme were to be given direct representation upon the Hydro-electric Commission.

There seems to be the crux of the difficulty.

The municipalities, feeling that the Government of the day is not friendly to the Hydro scheme and that there is always danger of commissioners hostile to the principles that have guided the administration of the Hydro being appointed, believe that at least one member of the Hydro Commission should be appointed by the municipalities.

There seems no logical reason why the municipalities should not have that privilege.

They are really the parties most interested in the whole matter.

The commission is a board acting on behalf of them, although appointed by the Province and using funds supplied by the Province.

The Ontario Government is the banker, the municipalities the borrowers and the commission is given the supervision of the money loaned.

Why then should not the municipalities who will have to redeem the bonds issued by the Province have something to say about the personnel of the commission?

Eventually the whole debt will be paid off and the municipalities will be the sole owners of the system.

They are surely entitled to have a voice on the Hydro Commission.

THE VETERANS WHO ARE LIVING.

A veteran of the Great War, writing to The London Advertiser about the parade in London on Sunday, when the returned men were out with their medals and decorations, makes the charge that if these men wore these same medals when they were around looking for work they would starve to death.

This may seem rather an extreme way of stating the case, but the same statement has been made before by returned men, says the Advertiser. They say that the wearing even of a service button is not by any means an assistance to them in securing work. In several cases they will go to the other extreme and tell you that the wearing of their service button hinders them from securing employment.

We hope that this feeling has very little latitude in which to work. The possession of a button of service neither makes a man a poorer or a better workman. There was a time when it might have made him a poorer workman, because there were many of these men who, on their return from service overseas, were in no shape to go to work. They had gone through too much, and even if they looked fit enough, were in no shape to get down to the grind of hard work every day.

It is not a nice charge to have made against any people, that the wearing of a service button makes it harder to secure employment in their midst. If that charge could be substantiated it would place us as a nation and as a people on a very low plane. No returned man wants to trade on his service button. He simply asks a fair chance with others, and if there is any preference to be shown that it should be turned his way. That is a very modest request.

THE CAUSE OF SOCIAL UNREST.

In a very illuminating address to the Canadian Club of Montreal on "The Remoter Causes of the Present Unrest," Professor R M. Wenley, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Michigan, gave what he considered to be the basic reason for the social unrest which almost everywhere prevails. Professor Wenley is a graduate of the Universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh, and, having had an extensive experience of European life, as well as a wide knowledge of American conditions, he is consequently well fitted, by reason of his education and practical knowledge of affairs, to speak with authority, on this question. He is decidely of the opinion that the cause lies deeper than the upheaval of the World War.

In the course of a well-reasoned address, in which he referred to the rapid and gigantic development in the economic sphere, the speaker spoke as follows:

"The great World War served the purpose of calling attention to the present conditions under which we live. We are living in an extraordinary age, due to the fact that the great inventions and knowledge which we have today of basic essentials have all come about since 1807. Ninety p.c. of our knowledge has come to us within the last 120 years, as compared with 10 per cent. in all the years before that time. This has meant tremendous pressure and the necessity for readjustment. It is absolutely impossible for us to think of the physical universe, living organism and the result of human effort as our fathers and grandfathers thought of them, and the result is that we are drifting. We have not yet managed to put this mass of information flung upon us into shape that would permit us to make our own interpretation of it."

As an illustration of the constant change that is going on he remarked that he himself had lived in 29 different houses. These conditions had brought about the present drifting, in which multitudes of people are merely atoms tossed about without anchorage. As a result people do not know what to think on many questions. Another factor which had contributed to the present state of unrest is the fact that the State has undertaken so largely to interfere in the private affairs of citizens, a state of things which during the war amounted almost to persecution. The speaker pointed out that the people were interfered with everywhere, a complete departure from the Anglo-Saxon policy which has always held that the best Government is the one that governs the least. The reaction from this condition, the professor declared, has resulted in acute unrest. The remedy will come when men definitely decide what they are prepared to support. Then the drifting and unrest will cease.—Brantford Expositor.

THE MINISTERS' RECORDS.

The members of the Ontario Cabinet in appealing to the electors upon their administrative records since they have held their responsible positions, will find it hard to discover material upon which to base their claims.

The Provincial Treasurer, for example, will have to admit that his years in office have been characterized by the most lavish expenditures in the history of the Province.

The Minister of Agriculture will not be able to dodge the accusation that, according to the statements of the Farmers themselves, they have never been in much worse condition than they have been under the Doherty regime.

Hon. Mr. Biggs can show something accomplished in his road policy, but with it he will have to accept responsibility for methods that have not been, to say the least, saving.

Hon. R. H. Grant, the Minister of Education, will have difficulty in pointing to any progressive ideas that have been interjected into the Department of Education since he took hold.

The Attorney-General will doubtless claim that he has enforced the law, but will not say very much about the interference with magistrates and other officials, and the general tendency to poke into everybody's business that have characterized the rule of Raney.

As for the other Ministers the less they say the better. Most of them are dead-wood. A chain of unforeseen circumstances shoved them into prominence, and they have held on because the Premier could not or did not dare to find anybody better.

Good fellows, doubtless, honest, too, but lacking the ability that Ontario should have in the administration of her affairs.

"BALANCED IMMIGRATION."

Mr. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., who spoke at the annual banquet of the local chamber of commerce last night, stressed the need of a "balanced immigration" policy, so that the requirements not merely of agriculture but of industry could be supplied. As the head of the world's foremost railway system, which has achieved its success and prosperity largely by reason of this kind of immigration, and consequent development, President Beatty's words carry great weight. In fact, it is obvious to every thinking person that Canada's expansion and economic welfare depend primarily upon an increase of our population and the exploitation of our rich natural resources.

President Beatty regrets the post-war opportunities which have been lost for starting this great immigration movement. While time has been frittered away in argument, and even in active opposition, other countries of the British commonwealth have been busily attracting the best type of settlers to their domains. Canada has been side-tracked, and the consequence is that it has lost not merely the people whom it is most desirable to have, but also has suffered in the estimation of would-be emigrants, by reason of the lackadaisical methods pursued and the unfavorable reports which have been sent out as to prospects in this country.

The unemployment situation through which we have been passing, in common with other countries, has had a deterrent effect, naturally, on the immigration movement. Labor, hard put to it at times to provide for the native workers, has done its best to prevent others coming in to swell the ranks. This policy has been criticized rather severely, and it has no doubt had a most unfortunate effect abroad. Other countries however, have been subjected to exactly the same handicaps. Even in Australia—the great "empty continent"—complaints have been heard that the obstructionist attitude of Labor has seriously interfered with the influx of immigrants, though Australia, we know, has secured the bulk of the British settlers. Such tactics, as President Beatty points out, exhibit a strange lack of faith. There is plenty of room for these extra workers in Canada and there should be abundance of employment, for their hands, given the right kind of policy.

Industrial expansion is needed quite as much as agricultural expansion, declared Mr. Beatty. There are some so restricted in their outlook that they cannot see the necessity for expansion of any sort. We have just been witnessing at Ottawa the laborious effort to obtain the consent of parliament to the passage of estimates, of a small amount for the assistance of agricultural settlement on the wild lands of western Canada. Finally that consent was accorded, but only after days and days of talk and critical argumentation. Yet the need for agricultural development, especially of those fertile areas lying idle and unproductive, is patent. For Canada to carry her financial burdens, to place her National railways on a paying basis, and to enter into the full enjoyment of her heritage, it is absolutely essential that more people be brought into the country—but we must insist that they are of the right kind.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

If anybody wants to know who is the boss rooster in the U.F.O. camp he has only to listen to the crowing of J. J. Morrison.

Judging by the language they are using in the Legislature some of the members must be rehearsing their election speeches.

Private property-owners have been busy cleaning up their premises. The city should join in the campaign by seeing that Victoria Park receives some of the same treatment.

Mr. Drury had to choose between broadening out and being flattened out. That explains the reason for the peace treaty with Mr. Morrison.

There appears to be little doubt, says the Globe, that as a class rural mail carriers are among the most poorly paid servants of the people of Canada. Everybody seems to recognize that fact except the Government.

It will be hard to keep the Gregory Commission from being an issue in the coming campaign.

GAINED 65 POUNDS!

"Five years ago when I was first married, I had wonderful energy. I could be on the go all day long without feeling the least bit fatigued. I had a great appetite and could eat anything. I weighed 147 pounds. I used to be busy every minute of the day and, when the day was over, I could go to bed and never waken once during the night. Thirteen months ago my first baby was born. After that my energy seemed to leave me. I was tired all the time. I had to force myself to do my household duties. Instead of being a pleasure as formerly, these duties became a real task. I lost all desire for food and anything would tempt me. I had to make myself eat. I would go to bed at night and toss from side to side for hours at a time. After a while I would doze off only to find that I had been sleeping for ten or fifteen minutes. Naturally when morning came, not having slept, I started the day completely tired out. I was shaky and nervous. The least noise would startle me and make my heart race along. I could see that my husband was worried. I was losing weight every week and had already lost 54 pounds. I tried all kinds of tonics, but they didn't help me. One night, a night I shall never forget because it started me on the way to health and happiness again, my husband brought in a bottle of Carnol. A friend told him that Carnol had saved his wife's life, so he insisted upon my trying it. Six weeks after I began taking Carnol, my weight increased from 93 pounds to 158, an increase of 65 pounds. And, am I well these days? Every morning I fairly jump out of bed ready to tackle anything and every minute of the day is a joy to me now."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 8-622

NORWOOD FIRE FIGHTERS GOOD, EQUIPMENT POOR

NORWOOD, April 28.—Tuesday's fire demonstrated the fact that Norwood has a splendid lot of fire fighters. A most threatening situation was tackled by many willing workers who fought the flames at close quarters from every side and won out. This has been the case in more than one fire in Norwood when scores of workers have beaten the flames back where they have had any kind of a chance. In the case of an ordinary fire we believe there are enough good men here to effectively combat such if they had any kind of equipment and an adequate water supply.

At Tuesday's fire the old hand engine hose leaked badly and valuable time had to be taken to patch it up, while it was also too short to reach all the parts where it was needed. The next time there is a fire Norwood may not be so lucky and it may be much harder to overcome than this one.

If there is a serious conflagration and much propetry wiped out the taxes on the remaining property will be heavy. It is certainly time something was done.

MAY'S HOME AND SCHOOL ASSN. HELD A MEETING

NORTH MONAGHAN, April 28.—The monthly meeting of the May's Home and School Association held their annual meeting at May's School on Thursday evening.

After the usual opening exercises and reading the minutes, the ladies held a business discussion. It was agreed to make their next meeting on May 12, a social one, and an interesting speaker will be procured.

Don't Squeeze Black-Heads—Dissolve Them

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxine powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off, and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition.

OFFICERS ELECTED W.M.S. LAKEFIELD

Mrs. W. Reddick President—Personal Mention and News Paragraphs.

COBOURG AND DISTRICT

COBOURG, April 28.—Mr. Boyce represented the Board of Railway Commissioners at the meeting held here on Friday in connection with the William street crossing in this town, where several fatalities have taken place. The town of Cobourg was represented by Major F. D. Boggs and Councillors H. Fullerton and Harry McGuire; Mr. D. H. Chisholm, Town Solicitor for Port Hope, was present; Mr. A. R. Dundas, represented the Ontario Motor League; Mr. Hogarth represented the Provincial Highway; Reeve R. George Holdsworth, Hamilton Township; Reeve Cann, Hope Township; also ex-Mayor W. J. Maher, Mr. J. D. Hayden, Dr. Geo. H. Ferris and others were present.

Mr. Boyce and representatives of the G.T.R. visited the William street crossing and made a thorough examination of the place. It was pointed out that the removal of some buildings and trees that obstruct the view when approaching the crossing would be an advantage; also the installation of a "wig-wag" signal. In the discussion the concensus of opinion was that the best means of protecting the public at this place would be a subway. Some few favored the opening up of the lakeshore road, which runs west for some distance from Cobourg through to Port Hope. This would do away with crossing the railroads so many times on travelling the seven miles between the two towns. Mr. Boyce stated to the meeting that he would report regarding what was done at the meeting to the Board of Railway Commissioners, and that their finding on the matter would be presented to the interested municipalities in due time.

Death of Mrs. Fitzsimmons.

The funeral of Mrs. Fitzsimmons, wife of Mr. John Fitzsimmons, took place yesterday morning from the family residence, Perry street, to St. Michael's Church and Cemetery. Two weeks ago while visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Roberts, "The Lakeview," here, Mrs. Fitzsimmons was seized with a stroke. About a week later she had a second attack and became unconscious, remaining so until her death on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fitzsimmons before her marriage was Miss Jennie Cross. She was a daughter of the late Samuel Cross and of Mrs. Cross, Belleville. She leaves no family. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, one brother, John Cross of Belleville, and by four sisters, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Porte and Mrs. Wilson of Detroit and Mrs. J. J. Roberts of town, all of whom were present at her funeral.

Seized With Illness.

Mr. Thomas Roberts, the genial and highly esteemed Clerk of Hope Township, was seized with a weak spell while addressing a class meeting in the Methodist Church at Port Hope on Sunday last. He was removed to his home, when it was found that there was a numbness in the right side. He is reported to be now considerably improved.

Chief of Staff Aitken in his order for a cessation of offensive operations tells the Republican troops to remain on the defensive and protect themselves and their munitions. This is taken as implying that there is to be no yielding on the part of the Republicans to the Free State Government's demand for the surrender of all arms

Following is the text of the order:

"To All Commands and Independent Brigades:

"Suspension of Offensive: In order to give effect to the decision of the Government and the Army Council embodied in the attached proclamation, you will arrange a suspension of all offensive operations in your area as from noon Monday, April 30.

"You will insure that whilst remaining on the defensive all units take adequate measures to protect themselves and their munitions."

First convention of new political organization supporting present ministry, was held in Mansion House yesterday, delegates being present, from city and country.

William Cosgrave, president of Free State Cabinet, made speech which he declared his belief that new organization would bridge differences between Republicans and Free staters.

In government circles last night it was asserted that De Valera's proclamation was not considered as having made any change in political complexion, that documents saved all points of his old position and left him free to interpret proclamation in accordance with them.

TURKEY IS STILL

The Economic Committee at its meeting today will discuss problems of insurance and may refer to the famous Article 94 of the Peace Treaty, which deals with the general question of concessions and incidentally provides protection for French railroad concessions with which the Chester grafit is said to conflict. Turkey has never accepted this article which was one of the main causes of the collapse of the first Lausanne Conference.

Young People's League. ....

The Young People's League of the Methodist Church was held on Wednesday evening with a large attendance. Mr. Monk took charge of the opening exercises, beginning with a song service, while the people gathered. The Scripture lesson was read alternately.

After the reading of the minutes, Mr. P. C. Brown, 4th Vice-President, took the chair and the following programme was given: Reading by Bertrand Monk; song, entitled, "Give Me Thy Heart," by Helen Byers, Jean Thorndyke, Mildred Davis and Marion Fallis; reading, by Mrs. Thorndyke; duet, by P. C. Brown and Edward Bray.

The event of the evening then followed in the shape of a debate, "Resolved, that the consolidated school is of more benefit to a community than the ordinary public school." Debators on the affirmative side were Mr. Robert Crerar, Mrs. Monk and Mr. Milton Challice; on the negative side Mr. Walter Rowland, Mr. Earnest Beer and Frank Bigelow. The judges were Mrs. Claud Porteous, Mrs. Bill Rowan and W. A. Jakeman. Time-keeper, A. H. Monk. Each speaker was allowed ten minutes, and the affirmative side had two minutes to reply. The decision was given in favor of the affirmatives.

During the interval before the judges made their decision Miss Violet Jackson sang a solo which was greatly enjoyed, and the closing hymn and Mizaph benediction concluded the event.

This is the last league meeting of the season. Next Wednesday the annual business meeting and election of officers takes place, and reports of the work done during the winter will be given. Then the league will be closed for the summer months.

CHANGES IN THE CRIMINAL CODE

Second Reading Given to Bill Which Would Prevent Betting'— Other Amendments.

OTTAWA, April 28 (Canadian Press). — A Government Bill to amend the criminal code was given second reading in the House of Commons last evening, and in committee a number of additional clauses were inserted in it. The first two clauses of the Bill repealed provisions in the criminal code in regard to opium joints, leaving this subject to be covered by the Narcotic Drugs Bill recently passed.

The third clause in the Bill prohibits the publication of racing tips except upon the premises of a racing association during the progress of a meet.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labour, Centre Winnipeg) asked why the monopoly of betting was being given to the race tracks.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, replied that the matter had already been discussed in the House, and it had been decided to retain the pari-mutuel system. The great complaint made had been against betting outside race tracks.

Mr. Woodsworth wanted to know if betting would be illegal at a baseball game.

Sir Lomer replied that on a private game it was legal to bet.

This section then carried, and Sir Lomer introduced two amendments dealing with offences against young girls. The first raised the age of consent from fourteen to sixteen years and the second removed the requirement of the existing law that the girl must be of "previously chaste character," between fourteen and sixteen. Both these provisions were passed by the House of Commons last year, but were killed by the Senate. The two amendments were again accepted by the Committee.

Another amendment, which Sir Lomer said, had been asked for by the Toronto Transportation Commission included the word "badge" in Section 412. The effect of this was to make the improper use of a badge on transportation lines an offence. The final amendment, which was suggested by the Attorney-General of Alberta, provided for the inclusion of the words "or acquittal" in Section 1024 A. of the code. The request for this amendment arose out of a case in which the Appellate Courts of Ontario, Quebec, and Manitoba had decided that a certain device was a gambling machine, said Sir Lomer, Alberta had decided that it was not. The law provided for an appeal to the Supreme Court when there was a difference ni the interpretation of the code. The section making this provision referred merely to cases where there was a conviction, so in the case of an acquittal, the Attorney-General had no chance to appeal. The amendment proposed to set this right. Both these amendments carried.

Before the Bill received the third reading, Mr. Woodsworth protested once more agains discrimination in favour of those who wished to bet on race tracks. He had no desire to encourage betting or gambling, but he failed to see why it should be made illegal in certain cases while it was permitted on the race tracks.

The Bill was given the third reading.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not, ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do."—Mrs. J. R. McMAHON, 158 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." G.

BRITISH LABOR MEMBERS WEARING DRESS SUITS

By CHAS. McCANN

LONDON, April 28.—(United Press)—Great Britain is safe from the bogey of Bolshevism.

Labor leaders in the House of Commons, who used to be called wild men and were accused of being in league with Moscow, are wearing evening clothes to night sessions of the House.

It was three years ago that all England was discussing the imminence of a labor government, and with it was discussing seriously the possibility of Labor going over to Bolshevism.

Success has brought conservatism to the Labor ranks. There are still wild men in Commons, but mostly they are a few members from Scotland—no more wild than some of the present pillars of Labor conservatism used to be.

The recent round of social functions which some Laborites have been attending—Ladp Astor's dinner the King's dinner, and the subsequent royal afternoon party at Buckingham Palace is partly the cause of the wearing of the soup-and-fish uniform, the hated symbol of upper-classdom.

At a growing number of functions, social and political, labor men are expected to dear the dress which ordinary bourgeois convention prescribes for the occasion. There used to be a time when a Labor man, if it happened that he went anywhere in evening dress was careful to change back into his stage clothes before he went to the House of Commons.

But not any more. The Laborites are finding out that it doesn't hurt them to dress up. Many British workingmen are intensely conservative and were repelled rather than attracted by red neckties and the rest of the accepted scenery for a "fellow workers" act.

J. R .Clynes deputy leader of the Labor Party, was the pioneer to introduce evening dress to the Labor benches.

CAPTAIN DENIES HIS SHIP WAS POACHING

SEATTLE, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Denial that the American fishing schooner Siloam was "poaching" when fired upon by the Canadian patrol boat Malaspina, off the British Columbia coast last Tuesday was made yesterday by Captain John Courage, master of the schooner, who arrived here yesterday. J. H. Yorke, a member of the Siloam's crew, was killed in the encounter.

An inquest held at Port Alco, B.C., returned a verdict that Yorke was killed while resisting arrest for poaching.

Captain Courage declared he had not fished in Canadian waters, although the Siloam was within the three-mile limit when overhauled by the Malaspina. He said the vessel was sunk by gunfire, and asserted that previous reports that he had ordered the Siloam scuttled were untrue.

Government Majority on Copyright Act.

OTTAWA, April 28. — (Canadian Press).—In a typical Friday night division, with many members of all parties absent from their places in the Chamber, an amendment to the bill amending the Copyright Act went through the Commons last night by 55 to 34, a Government majority of 21. The vote came unexpectedly, after the House in Committee had carried on division a Government amendment providing that the licensing and importation sections of the Copyright Act should not apply to works of an author who was a British subject (other than a Canadian), or of a citizen of a country adhering to the Berne Convention. This would continue the protection of Canadian policies against American publishers until the United States should adhere to the Berne Convention.

Under the amendment the Act is to come into effect on July 1, 1923. The third reading of the bill was allowed to stand over.

Woman is Barred From Boxing Bouts.

MUSKEGON, Mich., April 28. — (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Joe Lohman has been forbidden by the State Athletic Association to attend any more boxing exhibitions in which her husband, the Toledo heavyweight, participates. Charles Campau, of Detroit, chairman of the Association, made the announcement here yesterday, giving as his reason the alleged coaching tactics employed by Mrs. Lohman Thursday night while her husband was engaging Ted Jamieson in the ring. She also is charged by Mr. Campau with having shouted remarks at Jamieson during the bout.

DANCER EXACTS INSURANCE AGAINST HER SPECTATORS

VIENNA, April 28.—(Associated Press)—A dancer at a local theater appeared in such scant attire recently that a group of students, in protest, threw a gas bomb at her.

She has now compelled the theater to insure her person for 2,00,000,000 crowns, or $30,000.

As We See Others

by Jack Lait

A GREAT, simple soul uttered to the gods a prayer which wafted into an immortal phrase, for the gift to see ourselves as others see us. A gift, indeed it would be, more potent than that wild yarn we all had in childhood to be able to make ourselves invisible, and that other human yenhok to be able to peer into the future.

But, isn't there room for a plain prattler who hasn't the inspiration of a Bobby Burns, to say a word for a sharper insight into others as we see them? Isn't that at times as vital as knowing how they may see us? The others see us, yes; but we see them, too—and we are their others. How would this be:

O' wad the power some giftie gie 'em
To be just as we ithers see 'em.

It is very baffling, sometimes quite embarrassing, always goosefleshy, to face a sudden realization that we misjudged another.

No hollow tooth or unrequited passion can hurt like the sharply sickening sensation of ingratitude. It isn't the loss of the friend, it isn't the substantial consequences—it is the wound to vanity, to know that we misjudged someone so far as to trust or give or love and have faith where faith should find no resting place. To know that we saw another not as he was, but as we, in our myopic confidence, fancied him!

And the corollary: To conceive, nurse, cherish, develop a hot hatred or a cold contempt for another (the more unreasonable and unfounded, the deeper and stronger), and at once to have the subject thereof turn on one—turn into a decent party, square, right, clean—everything that shouldn't go with or come from one we have enjoyed disliking! That is a considerable adventure, too. It is fine to find a friend or a benefactor where one anticipated an enemy or a plunderer, but it still twinges the vanity to admit that we looked at white and saw red—and called it black.

If you don't think so, ask Deacon Blaisdell and his dear wife.

The Blaisdells were easily—oh, so easily!—the leading citizens of Mirror Falls, one of the principal towns in Somerset County, Md. The Blaisdell bank had a paid-up capital of $100,000 and a surplus of almost as much again. B. G. Blaisdell was a deacon of the best-looking church in Mirror Falls, a member of the school board, a director in the electric light and power corporation, a trustee of the library, chief emeritus of the fire department and the generally accepted film censor.

When B. G. Blaisdell wrote a letter to the Weekly Intelligencer it issued with a headline and was commented on editorially in the same edition.

He was a hound for the integrity of international finance, bone-dry application of the enabling act to the eighteenth amendment (not so much the fourteenth), the three R's and not so many new-fangled F's and Q's in common school education, sexless movies, gilt-edged securities, personal dignity, municipal home rule where the home rules agreed with his own views, long skirts, short credit, the sanctity of the home (as long as the mortgage on it wasn't due), the vested interests, foreign missions, low wages, a tall hat and Mirror Falls for Mirror Fallsers.

There isn't a Mirror Falls that hasn't its Blaisdell. And this one knew it had that one.

He was the most important and most conspicuous figure in the community. Until Cherry De Lancey blew in.

Cherry had been a college mate to Sylvia Berringer, whose father operated the Palace Theatre in Mirror Falls. He had other houses in other nearby towns and did handsomely; so much so that he had been enabled to send Sylvia to a toppy school up North, where she had met such girls as Cherry.

Cherry liked Sylvia. And, though she had plenty of diversions in Westchester County, she accepted Sylvia's bid for a fortnight's visit at Mirror Falls.

Sylvia, one of the richest girls in town, who had "been away" and had long ceased to dress or behave like a villager, was still a "local," and her New York dresses and Bryn Mawr manners had never kicked up more than sub rosa shrugs and tut-tuts. She was still "Sylly" Berringer, and if she wanted to affect a few metropolitan airs, who cared? She couldn't be any more than what she was born to be in Mirror Falls, which had no one-generation aristocrats, even if they came up from the cottage district and went to Congress.

But Cherry! When she flounced in with four trunks and a maid, a chauffeur and a chow, a grey car that looked like a battleship and six extra tires, Mirror Falls knew some one had arrived. The chauffeur and the maid sat in back; Cherry and the dog were in front—she drove, drew up before the Berringer house with a snort that scared the postman's horse pink, blew a siren that brought everybody within a square to doors, hopped out in driving pants (yes, pants!) and gaiters and embraced Sylvia.

The Mirror Falls-Beuregard telephone wires (in which Deacon Blaisdell had a stockholder's interest) began to buzz. Before twilight the town knew that a city hussy with fancy trimmings had come to stay with Sylly Berringer, and that she was the cat's neck-ribbon. It was certain that Sylly would give a party for her guest—she had to. And all the girls sneered, and all the young bloods yawned (but without much heart in it), and Deacon Blaisdell said these No'the'ners should be brought down a peg or two again, like they were in '61.

Of course, the visitor was a snob, a slangy flapper of the kind the whole world knows about, probably a fraud and an adventuress, surely a vamp and maybe a drunkard.

The party transpired as per pre-schedule. Every one met Cherry, who wore a Paris decollete model. When she lit a cigarette Deacon Blaisdell almost fell out of the easy chair and his wife trembled; when she danced "doggy" with Shep Riggs, who had worked in Washington during the war and knew capers, no one spoke—no one even breathed. In a score of households, long after the party had ended, lights still burned and clatter and buzz went on. Cherry was a social panic—thrilling, dangerous, fascinating, revolutionary, riotous.

The days and nights that followed blew her up in even more glaring relief. She tore about town in her wow machine. She played golf in clothes such as Mirror Falls had never seen, even at Sylly's father's theatre, and such golf as Mirror Falls had never seen. She went to church in a pure-white walking suit with monkey fur that stopped the sermon when she toddled down the aisle, the last one in. She sent more telegrams on her personal affairs than the canning company, which employed half the colored folks in town, filed on its business matters, and she was calling New York and White Sulphur Springs and Miami a dozen times a day on the long-distance and being called by these and other Sunday supplement stands—and all this, of course, was known to everybody.

Had It Been Staged, the Dramatic Climax Couldn't Have Happened More Thrillingly.

The deacon snooped and observed and deplored. It hurt him to cease being the First Citizen, for where Cherry was even he was a dark spot in the mere background. It rubbed against his grain to see some one behave other than he had taught Mirror Falls to behave, whether better or worse—the right way was his way, and the town had taught him (and he had taught the town) he could have his own way.

He considered several times calling on Evelyn's father. Berringer was an independent man with some fixed convictions. He had occasionally disagreed with Deacon Blaisdell's rule of one, and once or twice had flagrantly defied him, despite the banker's commonly accepted post as movie censor. That job was not official, and Blaisdell had never actively exercised it beyond writing to the Intelligencer. But it was a sort of accepted conclusion locally that Blaisdell, who was a steady visitor at the theatre, and who was admitted deadhead by some never quite explained policy of noblesse oblige or inferential blackmail, could stop a film he disapproved. Just how, no one had ever settled; but that he could—somehow—and would was what is referred to as a matter of "common knowledge."

Blaisdell aired his views on Cherry at the bank, on the main highway and in his own home without concealment. And not alone Berringer, but Sylvia and her snappy guest were soon aware that the piquant stranger had incurred the displeasure of the principal figure in Mirror Falls social, financial and civic life.

Cherry said that since she had looked the old chromo over his verdict was all apple sauce to her, and that she craved no finer monument during this mundane stretch than to incur the dislike of the Deacon Blaisdells. Sylvia, who had been away just enough to get a few impressions from within, yet had lived in Mirror Falls enough to be impressed by absorption with the deacon's high-mightiness, was between agreeing with her because she wanted to and shuddering for her because she couldn't help it.

But it passed the borders of mere sentiment and policy when old Blaisdell made the decisive bull and took it by the horns; which means that he called on Sylvia's father, at his office in the theatre, and started:

"Clem, I've come to make a protest—a serious one."

"Yes?" asked Berringer. "What now? My five-reel feature last night was"——

"Oh, it was all right. I liked it myself. It isn't that."

"Well, none of my paper is overdue, and the security"——

"No—it isn't money."

"Then what is it?"

"Something that doesn't affect me personally, Clem, at all, except as a citizen of Mirror Falls, a Christian and an American. Clem, that gal that's visiting at your house"——

"Just a momene,t B. G. Guests at my house are my business. They're more than my business—they're my—my—honor; my own domestic affair. And I don't care for any discussion of them, even from you."

"Just a moment, Clem—don't get uptious. I think I can convince you this has gone further than just your own fam'ly's concern. This here De Lancey woman, her cuttin' up ways, right before our young folks"——

"Deacon Blaisdell," cut in Berringer, rising, "the young lady you are discussing is living under my roof. She is the guest of my daughter. I don't care a whoop in October what you or anybody-else thinks about her; it's your privilege to think what you please. But—you say one word about her, and I'll throw you right in the middle of Main street—bodily. Now, go ahead."

Deacon Blaisdell, who had never been spoken to like that since he had come out of high school, staggered to his feet.

"You—you say you would assault me? You say you would vi'late the law and strike me, Clem Berringer?"

"I say I'll pitch you right between those car tracks if you say one word derogatory to the young lady that my wife, my daughter and I have taken into our home."

"Well!" sputtered the deacon. "Well! This is a fine, high-handed thing, in this age o' peace and law-abiding decency. You must understand that I didn't come here because I liked it, but because I felt called on as a citizen, a"——

"A Christian and an American—I know. And I feel called on as a husband, a father and a man to tell you that I won't stand for it. You can't argue that with me, and you can't bullyrag me about anything."

"But, Clem, this here high-flyin' flapper"——

And Mirror Falls was treated to a sight it had never dared to anticipate—Deacon Blaisdell, his tall hat streaking behind him, his long coat-tails flopping and flapping, catapulting out of the main door of the Palace Theatre and scrambling on his hands, knees and eyebrows over the sidewalk and into the street.

Eye-witnesses were courted and cross-questioned and buzzed for weeks over the most infinitesimal details.

Traffic stopped cold as the old crab rolled out and over, picked himself up and stood groggily while the breezes blew his sparse hair until an eager bystander rushed to him with his soiled, ruffled bonnet. Then he stamped across to his bank and banged the heavy door after him. And before nightfall Mirror Falls had vague expectations of seeing the Palace blown up, Clem Berringer put in irons and a slaughter of the women and children just as an added effect.

A hundred men forced their way in on Berringer and asked a hundred questions each. Blaisdell was not so approachable—but Berringer was easy enough to talk at, and every one wanted first-hand information. Berringer held nothing back. He knew everybody, everybody knew him. He told his neighbors freely what had transpired. He told them, moreover, that he was tired of the Blaisdell bugaboo, and didn't propose to be ridden by any volunteer censor of woman, man or movie. Not since the news that Fort Sumter had been fired upon had such a bombshell struck Mirror Falls.

Thoughts none had ever ventured to utter past the domestic fireside; thoughts man had never conjured up the courage to think, even, were heard on the street corners, in the post office, in the stores and over the wires which were known to have the listening ears, always, of Blaisdell's stool pigeons in the 'phone service.

Now every one remembered and every one told the things about Blaisdell that had been only nebulous rumors. He was a hard money lender—a hundred people gave the details; he was an arrogant tyrant—a hundred citizens released for verbal publication the names, dates, places and exact conversations of each corroborating instance; he had been a tight-fisted four-flusher who had blatantly taken credit for every improvement and had given comparatively little himself—oh, it all came to the surface now.

Only the close of banking hours soon after the episode occurred and the aftermath began to snowball into a general indignation and rebellion saved a run on the Blaisdell Bank, Inc. It was a Saturday. That gave the half-holiday to factory hands and the crowds on the business thoroughfare all afternoon and evening the ideal conditions for crystalizing the swelling spirit of hostility against Blaisdell.

Sunday morning broke clear, warm and beatific.

No one had seen Deacon Blaisdell on Saturday. He had sent for his flivver coupe to call for him at the back door of his bank, and had been driven right to his mansion.

But now it was Sunday morning, and the town knew that Deacon Blaisdell hadn't missed services at the church—his church—rain or fine, for forty years. The house of worship was jammed an hour before the ceremonies were to begin. Backsliders and lukewarmers and once-in-a-whilers, who always had to make lame and bromidic explanations to Blaisdell for not showing up at church regularly, were there far ahead of time on this particular Sunday.

They were not going to be cheated. And they were not. Exactly at the same moment when he always turned the corner toward the main door of the church, and just as he always did it, Deacon Blaisdell, with Ma Blaisdell at his side, came into sight. The walk was lined with overflow and curious ones who waited outside for fear of missing something.

Had it been staged, the dramatic climax couldn't have happened more thrillingly. For, just as Blaisdell passed the Berringer home, which stood between the church and the corner, down the path from the steps came Cherry!

She was clad in riding togs. Sunday morning meant nothing to her; even this Sunday morning meant nothing to her: she wanted to have a canter, and a canter she was about to have. Her horse was in the back yard, and as she turned to enter the side passage she had to cross directly in front of the deacon and his wife. She saw them, gave them a cavalierly glance over her pert shoulder and kept on. But an even more electric sensation was to come.

Blaisdell stepped forward, raised his hat and was addressing her!

The citizens of Mirror Falls were on their toes already, and their manners were not of the most punctilious at any time; so they crowded up to see and hear just what happened. This happened:

"Miss De Lancey," said Deacon Blaisdell, "I called on my friend, Clem Berringer, yesterday. I said some unkind things about you. He threw me out of his theatre. I guess the fall jarred some of the cobwebs out of my mind. When I think back and realize just how rude, unjustified and cowardly my action was, I am surprised that he didn't break my neck."

"Oh—Mrs. Blaisdell!" was all that the flippant city girl could command.

"I want to apologize to you, Miss De Lancey," he continued. "You are not only the guest of the Berringers—you are the guest of Mirror Falls and every one in it. Mirror Falls for a long time has allowed me to go along as a pestiferous busybody. Why, I don't know. Berringer brought me to my senses. If you will forgive me, I will ask Clem to, and then the rest of these kind friends, as I get around to them. Won't you?"

"Of—of course I will," she stammered.

And Deacon Blaisdell thanked her, returned to Ma Blaisdell and escorted her to services; acted as deacon in his usual duties; smiled and bowed and shook hands with all his old acquaintances; then went home.

By Sunday vespers Mirror Falls had the story in toto. And Mirror Falls was as strong for old Blaisdell as it had been bitter against him. Only Cherry De Lancey, the heroine of it all, couldn't quite work up any enthusiasm over it, but did say to Sylvia:

"Can you imagine that dried-up old hyena turning out to be a gentleman—a true Christian in the true spirit—a lion-hearted man who could do the squarest, bravest thing I ever saw or could ever have dreamed? It makes me feel like a chump, Sylly. I'm going home to-morrow."

MINSTRELS WERE STAR ATTRACTION

Campbellford Talented Amateurs Rose to the Occasion as Never Before

CAMPBELLFORD, April 28. — The great minstrel show is over, the closing performance having been given last night, and now forty ebony complexions will disappear from the landscape for another year and the citizens will have a chance to restore to normalcy their own countenances that have been distorted with merriment for the past week. The show ran three nights in Cole's Opera House and the highest compliment that can be paid the performance is to say that the last seat for the closing performance was sold out early yesterday morning and the S.R.O. sign was out long before the curtain rose.

It is of common report around town that a mysterious stranger who has been noticed round town for the past few days was not a sleuth of Attorney-General Raney's squad, as at first suspected but was really a scout for the Harvey Minstrel Company sent here to look over the cast with a view to securing recruits. Before he left town, the report goes on to say, he hinted that if Dr. Watson, I. A. Humphries, George Salter, O. H. Gledhill, Herb Leonard and Joe POoulton, the end-man, cared to put their names to Harvey contracts for the next theatrical season, each could name his own figures, and that if A. J. Jenkins had any ambition to take up interlocuting on a regular job the way lay straight and open before him.

Among the special acts on the programme, was a monologue by A. J. Wood that dealt cleverly with some of the local questions in Campbellford and with the idiosyncrasies of some of the residents. A Hawaiian Band of five pieces, a duet on the euphonium and cornet by George Salter and W. Lowe, and a daring exhibition of prevarication by O. H. Gledhill and Herb Leonard, specimens of an art that would make the best efforts of the late Baron Munchausen appear by contrast as so many innocent fancy talks, told for the purpose of lulling children to sleep.

Perhaps the most striking act of the evening was that put on by I. A. Humphries and Dr. Watson who specialized in local hits which showed their intimate knowledge of all the little weaknesses and foibles of their fellow citizens, but that were pungent without being offensive, sharp yet lacking anything like a sting and at which none laughed so heartily or enjoyed more thoroughly that the victims themselves. All of the quips were in well constructed rhyme, chanted by the commedians and after the performance no one can say with justice that Campbellford is lacking in literary ability. The identity of the author of the complete, quartrains and odes is carefully concealed, another striking example of the modesty of true genius.

The soloists, other than the end men, were G. W. Lucy, E. Henton John Storie, H. Bertrand, A. M. Rollo, A. Wood, A. Macdonald and R. A. Dunk, every one a well known singer and all by there rendition of plantation and topical songs, contributed to the success of the entertainment.

This minstrel show, an annual event held under the auspices of the Men's Club of Christ Church, is always looked forward to as one of the star attractions of the season, and the crowded house of each of the three performance, is sufficient proof that the affair is not wanting in popularity.

A full list of the members of the cast, including the orchestra and the Hawaiian Band, was published at the time of the opening performance.

DE VALERA SEEKING BREATHING PERIOD

DUBLIN, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Eamon de Valera's statement of conditions on which Irish Republicans are willing to negotiate peace sheds little new light on the political situation in the opinion of Free State government circles, although it does contain a definite order suspending hostilities as evidence of the irregulars "good will."

De Valera' proposition contains six proposal which are generally regarded as embodying points of old position: He asserts that the Irish people constitute "ultimate court of appeal for deciding disputed questions of national expediency and policy, and declares in substance that persons holding Republican principles should not be excluded from councils of government.

This position set forth in article 4, is taken in some quarters as expressing a desire that the oath of allegiance, prescribed by treaty with Great Britain may be waived.

Another Manoeuver

Commenting on the proclamation Freeman's Journal says to-day: "Frankly it is difficult to see anything in it but another manoeuvre designed to extort terms which it is clearly impossible for government to accede to or alternatively, to procure breathing period for reorganization of forces that have been engaged in attack upon the nation. If it is something better than that De Valera can easily make it clear by leaving the issue to 'the ultimate court of appeal, and immediately abandoning the weapon he has been employing for intimidation and destruction of that court." The Irish Times regret that De Valera fails to realize necessity for direct language and says the Free State cannot make terms which would compromise its security, nor can it tolerate outrage, but it nevertheless should test the feasibility of De Valera's proposed basis of negotiations.

HICKS STANDS BY LATEST CHARGES

LONDON, Ont., April 28.—(Special.) — Hicks stands by his latest charges and promises to amplify these charges in the House next week. He calls Drury able but changeable and untrustworthy, and will never follow him again.

Sherwood Appointed District Engineer.

KINGSTON, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Major H. L. Sherwood has been appointed district engineer officer for M. D. No. 3, and assumed his duties yesterday. Major Sherwood comes from Ottawa, where he has been in personal service for the past four years in the Adjutant-General's branch at Defence Headquarters. He is a graduate of the Royal Military College, and served overseas with the Engineers, going across in 1914.

Communists Staged a Big Demonstration.

VIENNA, April 28. —Canadian Press.— Five thousand Communist unemployed staged a demonstration outside the Parliament Building yesterday. They fired guns, threw stones and attempted to break the cordon and enter Parliament, where their delegates were submitting demands for increased doles. The police finally routed them.

Several policemen were wounded. Five of the Communists were beaten by the police and many of them were arrested.

ASBESTOS MINERS WILL RETURN WORK MONDAY

SHERBROOKE, April 28.—(Canadian Press.) — A conference between men and officials of the Asbestos Corporation concluded early this morning with the result that a satisfactory understanding of the men's grievances and points in dispute, was arrived at. The men will return to work on Monday.

Laymen Approve Changes in Book.

LONDON, April 27.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The house of laity of the national assembly of the Church of England decided to-day to give general approval of the revision of the Anglican prayer book.

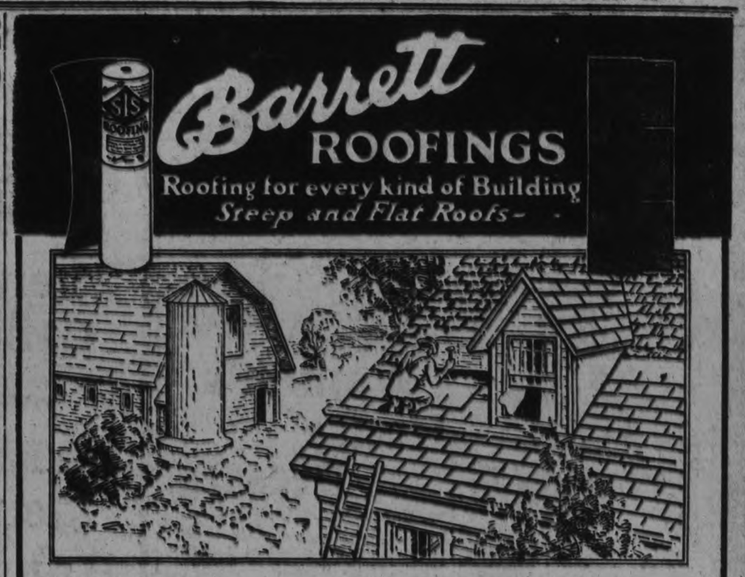
The House of Bishops of the National assembly a week ago approved of the proposed revision of the Anglican prayer book, there being three dissentients on the question. The house of bishops last week unanimously approved of the proposed revision of the psalters.

ISOLATION IMPRACTICABLE.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press.)— People of the United States accept the view that isolation is an impracticable ideal, Lord Robert Cecil British proponent of the League of Nations declared last night before the Economic Club in his farewell address in the United Sttaes. He could not say, however, he added, that they accepted the proposition of the League of Nations.

SAY STATES MUST JOIN IN MOVEMENT FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(Canadian Press.)—Participation by the United States in a permanent court of international justice was advocated last night by Secretary Hughes in an address before the American Society of International Law, as indispensable to any plan for the prevention of war and promotion of peace.



Barrett ROOFINGS

Roofing for every kind of Building
Steep and Flat Roofs—

Barrett Everlastic Giant Shingles

Lay Them Right Over the Old Roof

These sturdy shingles are made and laid 3 to a strip. Thanks to their extra weight, thickness, and rigidity, they can be laid right over the old roof. (Use 1¼" galvanized roofing nails). This means big savings in money, labor and trouble.

You can rely on these shingles to stand staunch and tight against storm and blizzard throughout the years. Their base is of extra-heavy, best grade roofing-felt, saturated with high grade waterproofing material.

These "Giants" for service are strikingly handsome. Their surface is of everlasting mineral in artistic shades of red, green or blue-black. Because of this mineral surface they are highly fire-resistant—never need painting or staining.

Come in. See these modern roofings. Get our estimate on a complete roof of Barrett Everlastic Giant Shingles. Prices are extremely moderate.

S. I. S. Roll Roofing
(Seamless Lock Shingle-Edge Roofing)

Total width of roll 32 inches. 13½ of the width of roll is mineral-surfaced. 17½ of the width is plain surfaced to insure firm cementing of the overlap. A roof of S. I. S. is double thickness throughout with weather-proof, fire-resisting mineral surface in red or green.

Everlastic Liquid Roofing Cement. Gives new durable surface to worn-out "rubber" and other prepared roofs, stops leaks.

Plastic Roofing Patching Cement. Stops leaks in roofs; repairs flashings, gutters, cisterns, etc. Sticks to wet or dry surfaces.

Creosote Fly-Oil and Cow Spray—An effective fly-oil, lice-destroyer and cow spray.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Rev. T. A. Halpenny, Recently Honored, Connected in Village—News Nuggets and Personals

MILLBROOK, April 28.—Rev. T. Anson Halpenny, B.A., B.D., Principal of Stanstead College, Quebec, was among those who were honored by having the degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred upon them at the recent convocation of Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal. The college was founded in 1873 and was celebrating its Golden Jubilee, and St. James' Methodist Church was filled to capacity with visiting alumni, students and their friends, while distinguished ministers, professors and laymen occupied seats upon the platform and in the choir loft. Nine ministers were made recipients of the honorary degree of D.D. Rev. Dr. Trevor H. Davies, pastor of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, and Rev. Principal Smyth, B.A., D.D., LL.D., were the two speakers of the evening, their addresses being of unusual interest, the former having for his subject, "Religion and the National Vocation," and the latter, "The Faith of the Modern Man." Rev. Mr. Halpenny, while holding the position of general secretary of the Ontario Sunday School Association, has preached in Millbrook on more than one occasion, as well as addressing conventions in this vicinity, always to the great pleasure and instruction of his hearers. His wife (nee May Winter) was a former Millbrook girl, and has still a large circle of relatives and friends resident here, or in the immediate neighborhood.

Pictures at School.

A series of slides on the story of "Ruth" will be given in the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday afternoon, thus fixing clearly upon the minds of teachers and scholars the details of this beautiful story of life in Israel during the first half of the period of the Judges. There is no more gracious figure anywhere than the Moabite girl, whose goodness won the suspicious townsfolk of Bethlehem. "Why do you not write an idyll upon the story of Ruth?" asked Francis Turner Palgrave of his friend, Alfred Tennyson. And Tennyson's answer has never been forgotten: "Do you think I could make it any more poetic?" Ruth was not only an ancestress of Jesus but she was also among his best disciples.

News Nuggets.

Messrs. Lang and Medill shipped two carloads of stock from Frazerville on Monday.

Special missionary sermons will be preached in Grace Presbyterian Church on Sunday, 29th April, both morning and evening, Dr. Alex. Nugent, a returned missionary from India, being the speaker for the day. Dr. Nugent will also preach at St. Enoch's Church, Garden Hill, in the afternoon.

Police Officer J. Syer, of Toronto, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. E. Syer, Prince Street, for a two weeks' holiday.

Mrs. C. Needler is the guest of friends in Toronto this week.

The many friends of Mr. D. Hampton will be glad to learn that he is somewhat recovered from his recent severe illness, probably caused by a relapse from the flu. He is now able to sit up for a short time each day.

The next regular meeting of Cavan Council will be held on Wednesday, 2nd May, at 1.30 p.m.

WILHELM AND BRIDE READ POLITICS AND HISTORY

DOORN (By mail to the United Press)—"Kaiserin" Hermine and her husband Wilhelm have identical literary tastes.

Neither cares for novels. Both devour all the works on politics and history they can lay their hands on.

Hermine, especially, is a great reader. She has given up so-called "light reading" since her advent to Doorn, spending hours in the company of the former emperor, delving into books on politics and history, especially everything dealing with the ex-kaiser's reign and the world war.

The Crown Prince, on the other hand, like Roosevelt and Wilson, reads all the detective stories he can have shipped him to his out-of-the way exile at Wieringen.

PUBLIC ADVISED TO STORE COAL FOR FUTURE NEEDS

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(Associated Press)—General adoption by consumers of the practice of storing coal, the Bureau of Mines suggest, may result in the elimination of shortage, high prices, and labor disturbances unsatisfactory to both the public and the industry itself.

Practical methods of storing have been worked out as a result of investigation which the government has conducted lately in cooperation with the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Joseph D. Davis, fuel chemist for the bureau and John F. Byrne, of the research staff of the Institute, have found that the dangers of spontaneous combustion and deterioration can to a considerable degree be avoided by proper methods in handling the product.

Coal should be screened and the fine stuff eliminated, the bureau experts say, beore any storage is attempted. Likewise two or more different kinds of bituminous coal should not be mixed in storage, as this increases the danger of fire. The less volatile types of eastern mined coal can be stored with advantage and safety by consumers if they will observe the necessary precautions.

Cut Announced in Price of Gasoline.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Five big oil companies yesterday announced a cut of one cent a gallon in the tank-wagon price of gasoline in their territories, effective at once. Surplus production and a consequent lowering of costs was said to have led to the cut.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, a subsidiary of the New Jersey Company, the Texas Company and the Gulf Refining Company were the companies making the announcement.

Socialists Staged a Street Battle.

BERLIN, April 28.—(Canadian Press) — A street battle in Munich Thursday between rival Socialist factions is reported by the newspapers. The National Socialists stormed a meeting of young Socialists in a restaurant. The appearance of the police was a signal for the Nationalists firing thirty shots, and four men were wounded.

Vorwaerts says that when the police were asked to use their weapons they replied: "We are not allowed to shoot."

MOONSHINE WHISKEY THE CAUSE OF MURDER

FORT WILLIAM, April 28. Canadian Press. — The inquest on the two French trappers found dead in a lonely shack near Sioux Lookout a few days ago, was concluded with a verdict of murder and suicide against Morsette. It was found that he had shot Dulphiste and then turned the gun on himself. The theory of the use of an axe in the murder was scouted. Moonshine whiskey is said to have been the cause of the quarrel

DRIVER OF AUTOMOBILE SWALLOWED FALSE TEETH

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press.) — Rolling cast from Broadway, near 103rd street, like a car on the wilchy waves at Coney Island, an automobile startled scores of motorists and Policeman William Steaken of Traffic B to-day.

"What's the matter with you, drunk?" roared Steaken, ready to summon the chauffeur for driving on the wrong side of the street.

"Mm ugh, ugh, good," gurgled the driver, black in the face and pointing to his throat. Steaken pounded the man's back and he coughed up the upper plate of his false teeth, which he had swallowed.

Traffic then continued as usual.

MISS DOLORES DIXON DROPPED CASE TO-DAY

NEW YORK, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—Miss Dolores Dixon, who recently brought a suit for $50,000 damages against "Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankees Home Run King, alleging seduction and assault, withdrew her case to-day. The withdrawal was made just as the case of Robert McChesney, who was to have been examined in Supreme Court as to the record of Miss Dixon, was about to be called.

DELAY TRANSPORTATION.

DUESSELDORF, Germany, April 27.—(Canadian Press).—Destruction to mines or railways in the Ruhr will delay transportation for several days while the damage is being repaired. Besides these cases of violence, the French authorities report that an attempt was made to wreck a passenger train near Mayence by placing huge pieces of iron and steel on the tracks.

URGE HOUSEWIVES CONSERVE SUGAR

Then Supply Will Soon Exceed Demand, Resulting in Lowering of Prices

DETROIT, April 28. Canadian Press. — Mayor Doremus, in a statement issued late yesterday, urged all the Detroit housewives to conserve their sugar, and not to use the commodity at all, except in cases where it was absolutely necessary.

The Mayor in his statement refused to comment on the cause of 100 per cent. increase in the cost of sugar during the past six months but added that if people will conserve it, the supply will soon exceed the demand and a drop will result.

LEAPED TO DEATH TO ESCAPE FLAMES

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press.)— One man was killed and a number of persons burned today in a fire that swept the three-storey tenement in Pitkin avenue, Brooklyn.

Harvey Orr, 56 years old, who jumped from the third storey window, died of a fractured skull. His wife and daughter are in hospital in a critical condition. Firemen carried twelve persons down the ladders.

GETS 6 YEARS' SENTENCE.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press.)—Having pleaded guilty to participation in the robbery of three hundred thousand dollars' worth of jewels from Mrs. Irene Schoelkopf, Buffalo, at a party in New York, Matthew Biddulph was yesterday sentenced to six years in Sing Sing.

AMENDMENTS FOR RACING BILL PASS

OTTAWA, April 28 (Canadian Press). — Amendments to the criminal code in respect to gambling were given their third reading in the House of Commons last night. These prohibit to sell or supply:

(1) Other than on the premises of an association lawfully conducting race meetings in Canada, and during the actual progress of a race meeting there on any tips, selections odds winning money prizes, pari-mutual payments, or any similar intelligence with respect of or applicable to any horse race, whether such race be held within or without the Dominion of Canada, and whether at the time such race has or has not taken place.

(2) Any information intended to assist in or intended for use in connection with bookmaking, pool selling, betting or wagering upon any fight, game, sport, or race, other than a horse race, whether at the time such fight, game, sport, or race has or has not taken place.

Protest against giving to racing associations a monopoly of gambling privileges were voiced by J. S. Woodsworth (Labour, Centre Winnipeg) before the Bill passed.

BULYEA RESIGNED.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Chairman G. H. V. Bulyea has resigned from the Alberta Public Utilities Commission for reasons of ill-health, and the Government has accepted the resignation, to take effect May 1. No successor has been appointed as yet.

120,000 THRONG SOCCER FINAL KING PRESENT

Bolton Wanderers Won English Cup by 2-0 from West Ham at New Wembley Stadium.

GATES SMASHED

(Special C. P. Cable).

LONDON, April 28.—In the presence of an enormous and record-breaking crowd, Bolton Wanderers won the English Cup final from West Ham by the score of 2 to 0 at Wembley Park to-day. No accurate count of the crowd that witnessed the game could be gained because thousands of those who were unable to gain admission stormed the fences, broke onto the playing pitch and witnessed the game without payment. About forty persons received injuries in the rush on the grounds. Although the police were helpless against the great throng, there was no deliberate roughness, and good nature prevailed.

On the arrival of the King, who witnessed the game and presented the cup and medals to the winners, the crowd was out of hand, and reinforcements had to be summoned. A cordon was thrown around the playing pitch with the swaying mass of humanity behind it, and the game began. The contest was not a good example of Cup-tie playing, as the crowd cramped the outside wings.

The line-up:

Bolton Wanderers—Pym; Howard and Finney; Nuttal, Seddon and Jennings; Butler, Jack, J. R. Smith, J. Smith and Viseard.

West Ham—Hufton; Henderson and Young; Bishop, Kay and Treasaderu; Richard, Brown, Watson, Moore and Raffell.

Bolton won the toss and immediately pressed on the West Ham goal. After three minutes' play Jack sent the Wanderers' supporters wild with cheering when he netted the first goal for the Lancashire team. West Ham was not discouraged, and several times made dangerous rushes towards their opponents' goal, but the Bolton defence was strong, and half-time arrived with the Londoners one goal down.

Teams Appealed to Crowd.

Trouble was again experienced when play commenced after the interval, and the players had to appeal to the huge crowd which was again breaking onto the playing pitch, to keep behind the cordon of police and allow the game to proceed. Ambulances were busy conveying to the hospital dozens of people who had fainted.

When the game re-started, West Ham made a determined onslaught on Bolton's goal in an effort to equalize, and several times they almost succeeded, but fortune smiled on the Wanderers, and their net remained unpenetrated. Bolton then carried the play to the West Ham goal, and after storming the Londoners in several rushes, Smith broke through and notched the second goal for the Wanderers.

Play Grew Rough.

The quality of the game following the second goal secured by Bolton rapidly deteriorated, and bad feeling manifested itself. Neither side found their men with their passes. West Ham threw combination to the winds. While valuable ground was gained by brilliant individual work, it was negatived by frequent free kicks registered against them through sloppy passing. West Ham in the last few moments of the struggle made thrilling efforts to stave off defeat, but the Bolton backs were as steady as a rock. They gave Pym splendid protection, and he was rarely troubled. Near the end J. R. Smith broke away and got too near the West Ham goal, to be brought down heavily by Henderson.

Crowds Were Early.

London was asleep when the first Lancashire legions arrived by special trains this morning, sporting the blue and white of the Wanderers. Trains from all parts of the country arrived this morning, teeming their thousands of football fans into the Metropolis for the big match, and coffee stands and vendors of club favors, etc., were doing a fine business. London is in sparkling sunshine and holiday attire, and the visitors saw the city at its best.

STRONGLY OPPOSES UNION OF CHURCHES

Rev. Dr. MacGillavry Declares Proposition Would Wipe Out Presbyterian Church.

BROCKVILLE, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—In stating his strong opposition to church union at meeting held here last night under the auspices of Presbyterian Church Association, Rev. Dr. MacGillavry, Guelph members of the Union Committee, declared that the proposed bill for incorporation of the United Church of Canada, retains the essential element of coercion, and its very heart, its very purpose, is to eliminate and wipe out the Presbyterian Church as such from the Dominion of Canada.'

FITTING FLEET FOR THE WATER

Government Shipyard at the Mouth of the Canal Humming Again With Preparations for the Season.

Spring briskness in Peterboro's shipyards at the mouth of the canal, may be of interest to those who probably were unaware that there was a shipyard in this district. Both on the shore of the Little Lake, on both sides of the entrance to the canal, looking towards the Lift Lock, the government and private yards have reawakened to the call of the new season and are preparing for many months of work.

In the government location, the tugs "Harwood," J. B. McColl,' and "Bob Hall," and the dredges "Auburn' and "Fenelon," with their respective houseboats, dump scows and derricks, are being overhauled, lubricated and tuned up for the first assignments, probably down the Otonabee. The Peterboro Lumber Co. are building a new scow, and in the Governments repair yard there is also construction work unde way. The whole place is a-bustle with the business of peparing the local fleet for the water, of hauling the dried barques down the ways once more.

STANLEY BALDWIN HAS MADE HIT IN COMMONS

LONDON, April 28. Canadian Press Cable. — Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who will act as the government leader in the House of Commons during the absence of Premier Bonar Law, has virtually been doing this for some days now. His handling of the budget enormously increased his reputation and his more recent leadership in the House has enhanced the good opinion in which he is held in his Parliamentary capacity.

QUEBEC BASILICA FIRE WAS DUE TO COMBUSTION

Quebec, April 28. — Canadian Press. — Spontaneous combustion is given as the cause of a fire which destroyed the Quebec Basilica on December 22 last, in the report issued by Eugene Leclerc, fire marshall. The report expressed the belief that none of the fires in the religious institutions of the province during the past decade may be laid to the account of incendrianism.

CONTINUE FIGHT DECLARES LEADER

Free State Cabinet Conference Held at Mansion House Today.

PARIS, April 29.—(Special)—If the Free State government does not accept the De Valera plan "the fight will be continued to the bitter end." L. H. Kerney, personal representative of the Irish irregulars here and having an underground communication with the De Valera quarters, declared to-day.

"This is not defeat but a reasonable peace offer," Kerney said. If it is not reasonably, peace will be in sight for the first time in years.

De Valera will demand a referendum regarding establishment of a Republican Government but it is feared England may intervene and prevent acceptance. De Valera is now in Dublin or was when my last communication was received."

A hasty conference of Free State Cabinet was called at Mansion House to-day to form the Government's reply to the proposals of De Valera for Peace. A despatch states that indications are strong that proposals of irregular leader will be rejected.

GORDON & O'BRIEN ARE APPEALING JUDGMENT

Messrs. Gordon & O'Brien, on behalf of John E. Hayes are appealing the judgment of the Court of Appeal reversing the trial Judge's judgment in favor of Mr. Hayes. The case is being taken to the Supreme Court of Canada, and the appeal is on the ground that the Court of Appeal has sought to review the trial Judge's finding of fact and that the conclusion is contrary to the evidence and weight of evidence.

The appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada will likely come on for hearing early in the Fall.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED ON GREAT WHITE WAY

An accident occurred this forenoon at the corner of George and Hunter streets which resulted in a shaking up and some bruises to the victim.

Alfred Burchard of Millbrook turning west on Hunter out of George street in his automobile collided with Jock Jordan, Peterborough florist, who was cycling, throwing him to the ground. The automobile ran over Jordan, leg, fortunately without breaking any bones.

PLEASANT MASQUERADE CALEDONIANS THE HOSTS

The members of the Peterborough Caledonian Club and its feminine auxiliary were hosts last evening at a pleasant masquerade party in the W.O.W. hall, attended by some hundred and twenty-five members, the majority of whom were in fancy costumes. Prizes for best-dressed ladies went to: (1) Miss Jennie Anderson as Orange Marmalade, (2) Mrs. A. Jackson as a Cat. Annie Henthorn won the children's prize. The men's prizes were awarded to: (1) Alex. Dick as a Zulu Chieftain, (2) Alex. Clarke in Scotch character costume. Wm. Dunlop received the boys' prize.

Much enjoyed vocal solos were given by Messrs. Robt. Hendry and Jno. Smith. The small Misses Henthorn gave Irish and Scotch dances in costume.

Rev. J. A. MacKenzie, who was present, was given a farewell by the assembled club, and replied in suitable terms. Lunch was served by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

CENTRAL HOME AND SCHOOL CLUB HELD MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Central Home and School Club, held last evening in the Kindergarten Room was well attended and much enjoyed. Following the regular business, a splendid programme was given, Mr. Downey in the chair Instrumental solos were given by Miss Marguerite Johnston, Miss Alda Bartlett and Mr. Carl McCarthy. Readings given by Miss Nellie Boorman and Miss Evelyn Miller were much appreciated. Mrs. Percy Blade rendered a vocal solo in her usual pleasing style.

Mr. Steer gave a talk on the Cadet training given in the school, pointing out that the training given was to develop the moral, physical and educational side of the child and not to make soldiers of our boys, as is often felt by the mothers.

Mrs. F. E. Miller gave a very interesting report of the convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Clubs recently held in Toronto, bringing back many helpful suggestions and broadening ideas. Refreshments were then served and the meeting closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

STEAMSHIP'S LIFEBOATS MUTE EVIDENCE TRAGEDY

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Hundred and Eight Boxes Cheese Boarded—Special Meeting of the Council Adjourned Till Monday.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 28. — There were 108 boxes of cheese boarded at the first sale held by the Board here. The various factories represented were: Brae 23, Empire 25, and Menil and Prince of Wales 30 each. James Cook and W. R. McCreary ,both of Belleville, were the bidders and the entire lot was disposed of at 16 cents, Mr. Cook taking Empire and the Prince of Wales and Mr. McCreary the cheese from the other two factories. Last year the highest price paid at the opening sale was 14 cents.

It is announced here that the patrons of the Rylstone factory have decided to dispose of thir cheese this year to the Co-operative Company at Belleville

Free Methodist Conference.

A district conference of the Free Methodists will be held here opening at 8 p.m. on Friday, May 4, and continuing for three days. There will be a holiness convention on Saturday and special services in the church on Sunday. All of the 60 Free Methodist pastors in the district have signified their intention of being present. L. Slengerland, district elder, Campbellford, will preside. Rev. Robert Boye, the pastor of the local church, is making arrangements for the conference, which is expected to be one of the most important gatherings of the denomination ever held in the district.

Council Meeting Adjourned.

The special meeting of the Town Council called for last night to consider the school question, has been postponed until Monday evening.

Play Ball.

Of the 53 candidates for places on Campbellford's new league baseball team it is now proposed to select 25 of the best, the management to see each prospective player personally. The boys will be given a work-out at the Fair grounds Monday evening.

Spearing Pickerel.

The new men who are looking after the enforcement of the fishing regulations in this vicinity, claim that they caught three men at Meyersburg in the act of catching pickerel by the use of spears. Complaints will be lodged against them.

Self Denial Week.

The following business men have consented to assist the local corps of the Salvation Army during self-denial week, May 6th to 13th, and will canvass for funds: F. W. Wood, Reeve J. A. Anderson, W. S. Wiggins and C. H. Davidson. The treasurer of the fund is G. Nicol, manager of the Bank of Montreal. The objective for Campbellford is $350.

Special services, conducted by Brigadier and Mrs. Moore, of headquarters, Toronto ,will be held here to-night and to-morrow. There will be the usual open air meeting at 8 o'clock this evening and the programme for Sunday is a holiness meeting at 11 a.m., praise meeting at 3 p.m. and a salvation meeting at 7.30. A cordial invitation is extended the public to come to these meetings.

Ladies' Aid Elects Officers.

The regular annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church was held on Thursday afternoon in the school room, with a fairly good attendance. The reports showed a very successful year, considerably over $900 having been raised by the ladies, which was most gratifying to the executive and members. The annual election of officers took place when all the old officers were re-elected as follows:

President—Mrs. J. N. Stone
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs F. W. Wood.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. F. J. Smith
Secretary—Mrs. Carence Williams.
Treasurer—Mrs. Charles H. Davidson.
Pianist—Mrs. I. T. Frederick.

OBITUARY

W. H. WEBSTER.

GRAFTON, April 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Burnham have just returned from Cleveland, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Burnham's brother, the late William Howard Webster, who died very suddenly there. Mr. Webster had been suffering from the grippe, but his condition was not regarded as serious. He and his wife had their lunch together on the day of his death, after which he lay down, and shortly afterwards passed away.

Mr. Webster was a son of the late William Webster, Sr. and of Mrs. Webster and was born at Grafton where his boyhood was spent. He went to Cleveland some years ago, where he had become a successful business man. He is survived by his wife and two sons, by his mother, who returned to Grafton a fortnight ago after visiting him in Cleveland; two brothers, Jack of Detroit and Arthur of Edmonton, and by six sisters, Mrs. Harry Burnham of Grafton, Mrs. Hugh Radcliffe of Port Hope, Misses Nellie, Annie and Lila Webster and a married sister, formerly Miss Amy Webster, all residing at Cleveland.

MRS. MARY ENGLISH.

On April 14 there passed away at the family residence, Lot 15, Concession 4, Asphodel, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of the township in the person of Mrs. Mary English, relict of the late Edward English, who predeceased her some twenty-nine years ago. Her maiden name was Mary O'Donnell and she was born in the township of Douro.

Two brothers and one sister survive, John of Chicago and Patrick of Peterborough and Mrs. M. Sullivan of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., besides her immediate family, which are, John, Patrick and Edward of Ashvodel and Michael of Peterborough; also Mrs. W. J. Crough of Ennismore, Mrs. James Sweeney of Douro and Mrs. Robert Hickson of Peterborough, with some twenty-five grandchildren, of whom Rev. M. J. Fitzpatrick of Medicine Hat is one.

The remains were taken from the house at nine o'clock and proceeded to St. Paul's Church, Norwood, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father McCarthy, and thence to St. Paul's Cemetery for interment.

The pall-bearers were Richard Hoffernan, W. J. Crough, David Garvey, Robert Hickson, Charles McNulty and James Sweeney.

GERMANY MUST ADMIT DEFEAT AND PAY DEBTS

Senator Dandurand Says Germany Is Deliberately Depreciating Her Currency to Escape Reparations.

ABLE TO PAY.

OTTAWA, April 28.—(Canadian Press)—Senator Dandurand, Government leader, speaking in the Senate yesterday, declared that Germany had deliberately depreciated her currency to avoid reparations and could not expect outside help until her currency was placed on a sound basis. Germany had broken faith in the past and would in the future. Germany believed the Allies to be divided and that she could afford to continue to act with insincerity and arrogance. It was a great regret that a knockout blow had not been given that country before the armistice. She must be made to admit that she is lost and then it is possible she may redeem herself. She must wipe out her fake currency and start afresh by taking gold stored away in that country and putting it in circulation. The terms imposed on Germany were not onerous and the yearly payment would be no greater than she spent previous to the war on her army and navy.

It had been suggested that Canada might act as an interpreter between Great Britain and the United States and the speaker believed she could as successfully do so between Great Britain and France.

Senator Dandurand believed that Mr. Lloyd George was largely responsible for the German attitude. It was impossible to refer the Ruhr dispute to the League of Nations as Germany was not a member of the league and would not conform to the conditions required. France, Italy and Belgium would refuse to burden the League with the dispute. All these countries were asking for was the justice promised them after the sacrifice they had made in winning the war.

Jacques Fournier to Join Brooklyn Club.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press.) — The Brooklyn National League Baseball Club yesterday announced that First Baseman Jacques Fournier, a hold-out, who was traded by the St. Louis Nationals to Brooklyn for Outfielder Myers, last fall, will join the Brooklyn Club on a two-year contract. He will report next Sunday to Manager Robinson

Fournier, who had been holding out for a better salary and other terms, is regarded as a valuable asset because of his hitting ability. For two years he was the Chicago White Sox first baseman and also was in the Pacific Coast League.

President Ebbets also announced that he had offered $100,000 for Shortstop Boley, of the Baltimore Orioles, and that offers had been made to two other infielders whose names he refused to disclose.

ILLEGAL FOR WHITE TO LIVE ON RESERVE

Indian Department Issues Statement of Cause For Expelling Joseph Boyer.

OTTAWA, April 28.—(Canadian Press)—The ejection of Joseph Boyer from the Caughnawaga Indian Reserve near Montreal, which has aroused some controversy is the subject of a memorandum issued by the Department of Indian Affairs last night.

"The facts are chiefly as follows," says the memorandum.

The premises in question on the reserve occupied by Boyer were the property of the late Joseph Jacobs, an Indian belonging to the reserve. The daughter of this Indian married Boyer who is a white man. It was arranged, in April 1921, between Jacobs and his son-in-law that the latter should reside with him on the reserve on agreement that he should provide maintenance for Jacobs for the remainder of his lifetime. It appears that shortly after which the parties found themselves unable to get along together, Jacobs leaving the place and calling upon Boyer to give up his property. Boyer, however, refused to do so and the Department was then called upon to intervene and to set aside aside the agreement between Jacobs and Boyer, which under the Indian Act, was illegal in view of the fact that Boyer is a white man. In the meantime Jacobs died, having first conveyed the property to another Indian of the band who naturally desired to enter into possession. In order that there might be no hardship however, the Department permitted Boyer to remain on the reserve throughout the winter. The Indian to whom the property rightfully belongs now desires to put in his Spring crop and the department had no other alternative than to eject Boyer who was wrongfully occupying the premises.

"The case, which is a very clear one, stands upon its own merit and does not in any way affect anyone other than the parties concerned."

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — New York Stock Exchange — And Curb Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

– NEW YORK, April 28—(United Press).—Although to-day's sport session held little attraction for the element in the speculative community which likes to see action, it was important from the standpoint of the information it furnished regarding the markets inside position. With Cotton, breaking $4.50 a bale and professional operators continuing their hammering on the Oil shares, the general list manifested remarkable indifference toward the prevailing bearishness.

Intead of the heavy selling which such an atmosphere might have produced in the technical situation, the volume of dealings fell below Friday's low market.

The day was baffling to the short interests, which found little encouragement in the new high for the year established by Dupont and the steadiness displayed by several industrial leaders such a General Motors, Corn Products and Studebaker. The market closed lower.

Closing prices: United Steel 105, off 3-4; Republic Iron and Steel 81 1-8, off 5-8; Baldwin 137 5-8, off 5-8; Texas Company 47 1-2, up 1-8; Sinclair 33, off 1-2; Corn Products 132 1-8, off 1 1-4; Studebaker 121 3-4, off 1 1-2; General Motors 17 1-8, off 1-8; Kelly Springfield 57 1-2, off 1-4; Dupont 147 1-4, up 1 7-8; Cuban American Sugar 35 1-8, off 3-4; Anaconda 48 1-4, unchanged; Southern Railway 33 1-4, unchanged; New York Central, 93 1-4, off 3-8; Reading 76 7-8, up 1-4; Canadian Pacific 154 1-4, off 1-4.

HEARD A TALK

sort of vegetable. Her system was to cook enough of one style of preparation to last from Monday to Wednesday, and on Thursday to cook sufficient of the other to provide food until Sunday, when the missionary tried her hand at a little variation. This old lady flavored the soup on one occasion with an entirely unintentional dish-rag.

Rice to Children.

To the children, also, Miss Butterfield made a plea for prayers for the children of Palestine, and sent them away with a cordial handshake and personal farewell to each.

Speaking of her work later, the missionary, who has an attractive, earnest personality, large dark eyes smiling out of a thin, brown face, and an eloquence of speech which makes her evident sincerity very appealing, provided a reason for the American enunciation of her English, an accent which has not been lost in fifteen years' missionary work abroad. Born in Pennsylvania, she has been "around the world on Red Cross work," but her missionary life has been spent mainly in Palestine, in teaching and clerical work at the school in Jerusalem, and in evangelistic labors through Galilee. A missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, which has over 400 workers in its foreign mission fields, with 77½ native workers, and 19,600 Sunday school adherents, Miss Butterfield has a boundless enthusiasm for the missionary's life, and a belief in the ultimate reversion to Christianity of the entire Jewish race.

Ancient Prophecy.

Referring to the ancient prophecy regarding the deliverance from bondage of the Jew by a leader named Cyrus, and its subsequent fulfillment after many centuries by Cyrus of Persia, Miss Butterfield drew a parallel between that prophecy and its fulfillment and the coming fulfillment of the prophecy regarding the reclamation of the Hebrews, in the "coming of the Gentiles." In the entrance of General Allenby into Jerusalem, she discerns the beginning of such a fulfillment, and in the Balfour declaration of Palestine as a Jewish national home the signs of a leadership among the Christian nations which shall lead the Jews to final redemption. Under Sir Herbert Samuels, she declares, the country is being administered diplomatically and she sees in the British protectorate and the British plans for electrification of the Jordan the first steps in a general modern fulfilment of the many prophecies of the Bible which are to precede the actual coming of Christ.

A UNIQUE GIFT

and for the modest sum of sixpence a char-a-banc pops one down almost at the door of the cathedral. It was Sunday and the sleepy town with its quaint lanes and inns and ancient cattle market probably looked much the same to one Chaucer, and his fellow pilgrims several centuries ago. Suddenly it seemed all wrong to arrive with an escort of gasoline vapour. One might at least have had the decency to stop at the city wall and put a pebble or two in one's shoe. In the cathedral choir, a church within a church, the thin, clear voices of the boy sopranos rose and fell with the notes of a wondrous organ, and sunshine glistening through the altar windows of sapphire blue fell aslant pillared arches of unforgettable beauty. If you come to England this summer do not fail to see Canterbury. It is within easy reach of London and the Kent seas-side resorts.

I saw some of the dresses for the forthcoming courts at Lucile's the other day. I have been within the awe-inspiring portals of many famous dress houses, but for exclusiveness and almost smothering elegance, nothing, I am sure could quite equal this "maison" in Hanover-square. A sign inside the imposing hall requests ladies to leave their dogs with the hall-porter, who really looks like a butler. In a beautifully-appointed reception room one is received, oh, so politely, and shown to the "salon," a French grey ballroom with a French grey stage at one end. And from between its midnight curtains step creatures of ethereal grace, in ravishing gowns, and glide over the polished floor like thistledown fanned by a southern breeze, with that air of blase elegance which is at once the admiration and despair of every woman who sees them.

The most enchanting creation was an exact replica of a second Empire presentation gown in the heavy, stiff white duchess satin which our great grandmothers adored. The long pointed bodice and panniers were embroidered with gold and silver thread, diamants and pearls. The train was of old Chantilly lace.

Lady Duff-Gordon, known as "Lucile" who, by the way, was a Miss Sutherland of Toronto, and is a sister of Elinor Glyn, the novelist, severed connections with Lucile Limited last fall and later appeared in the bankruptcy court. She has now announced that she intends opening a new establishment to be known as "My House— Lucie- Duff-Gordon," and adds, "in ynew venture will be a revelation." As Lady Duff-Gordon was the first dressmaker to introduce the mannequins, one can well believe it. In the meantime she is writing a series of dress articles for a London paper on much the same lines as the "Lucile" features which have been appearing in Canadian papers for years.

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? If there is you should not be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact they relieve all minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Moise Cadotte, Makamik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FROM JERUSALEM WILL SPEAK HERE.

Miss Mary Butterfield at St. Paul's and at Bethany Tabernacle.

Miss Mary A. Butterfield is a missionary on furlough from Jerusalem, Palestine, having been in service there for eleven years including most of the War period.

When Great Britain and Turkey went to war in 1914, all British subjects had to leave Turkey. This deprived the American Mission of its Canadian superintendent and several other British subjects, leaving the work in charge of three American ladies, of whom Miss Butterfield is one. Their experiences for two and one half years when famine pestilence and death reigned were very thrilling.

When the U.S.A. entered the war, Miss Butterfield and her companions had to leave Palestine with the American Consul, Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook. After a perilous journey of three months overland through Turkey and Europe and across the danger zone in the Atlantic they arrived in N.Y. city in company with a large party of Americans whom they had joined at Aleppo and Constantinople. In New York they found representatives of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief who enlisted their services in securing funds for the starving in Bible lands. After six months lecturing for this purose Miss Butterfield joined a special Red Cross Commission sent over to Palestine to aid the dying civilians there. They had to journey this time around South Africa, via India, through the Red Sea and Suez Canal, boarding a train at Port Said, which carried them over General Allenby's new railroad.

Miss Butterfield's story of meeting General Allenby, as well as of her experiences as a missionary and under the Red Cross is most interesting and all should hear it. She will tell it in St. Paul's Church, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to be present. Miss Butterfield will wear a Syrian costume—the dress worn by Bethlehem woman while delivering this address.

It might be well to notice here that Miss Butterfield will relate some of her experiences on her journey around the World as a Red Cross Worker, at the evening service in Bethany Tabernacle.

A fork never should be jabbed into a roast or grilling steak or chop; it lets the juice out.

RACE MOVES FORWARD ON FEET OF CHILDREN

The executive of Work Board of city church schools met at the call of the presidents who came to consider the observance of Children's Week usually held in May.

The object of Childrens' Week is to increase interest in the religious education of children under twelve years of age by bringing every child into Sunday school and securing better co-operation of home and teachers.

The events of the week are the special sermon on Sunday Mothers' Day, visitation of the home of the elementary grade children by their teachers; parents meetings; conference of Elementary Graded Union and any other events that may be considered advisable in the interest of the work.

It was decided by the executive that the experience of the schools that attempted some observance of the week, last year, that the beneficial results of the work were practically lost by the breaking up of the schools so soon after, as is the case in Peterborough. The visitation work had to be gone over again in the fall.

Therefore, it was decided to hold childrens' week in the fall just before Rally Day.

The Work Board of the Religious Education Council of the city, hopes that the schools may unite and make "Children's Week", tell in the life of our city schools.

RESORT TO TERRORISM WITH LENIN'S ABSENCE

Turning to Massacre to Overawe Russia is an Expert's Opinion of the Execution of Catholic Prelates By Bolsheviki.

By J. W. T. MASON
(United Press)

Absence from active Russian affairs of Nikolai Lenin is bringing back fanatical bolsheviki to the control of the Moscow government. Lenin's moderation has long been antagonistic to the subordinate red leaders. Now that he is no longer able to exercise authority, a reactionary movement has begun in Moscow away from leniency.

The execution of high catholic prelates by the Bolsheviki, despite protests from the Christian powers who have saved millions of Russians from death by starvation, is only one of many indications that the Moscow authorities are turning again to massacre as their principal weapon.

Discretion no longer is being practiced. The bitter hatred of western civilization shown by the Bolsheviki cannot be held in check, with Lenin absent. There are no other leaders in Moscow with the necessary prestige to compel the Bolos to dissemble their real intentions.

Ruling by Fear

The Moscow authorities are still awaiting the time to create a world revolution and spread into the western nations government by massacre. The red leaders believe the policy of compromise adopted by Lenin threatens the overthrow of the bolsheviki. Only by a continuous display of strength can the reds keep their hold on the Moscow government.

This reasoning is the real cause of the imprisonment and executions of Christian clergy in Petrograd and Moscow. Newspapers are now publishing world facts in the principal Russian cities. Protests from foreign nations against the anti-religious crusade of the reds cannot be kept from the Russian people. Leniency on the part of Moscow toward condemned prelates would be taken as subserviency toward the western countries. Therefore, massacre has been restored to its old place by the Bolos, to overawe their own people into submission.

Two counter-revolutionary organizations are now at work in Europe under the direction of Russian exiles. They are prepared to seize power in Moscow when the Bolsheviki begin to fall. Professor Miulikoff, leader of the Russian liberals, formerly called the Cadets, in Paris; while Kerensky, the leader of the moderate socialists, who overthrew the Romanoff regime has his headquarters in Berlin and Prague.

Prepared to Unite

Both these statesmen are prepared to unite their forces and organize a non-partisan government to take over the control of Russian affairs, upon the downfall of the Bolsheviki.

Miulikoff and Kerensky have agreed to recognize the seizure of the land by the peasants as an accomplished fact. They will not advocate any payment by the state to the former landed proprietors. But, they are opposed to the excesses of the red leaders and are willing to give the fullest protection to private property and to investments in Russia, excepting the return of farm lands.

The Bolsheviki are watching the activities of Miulikoff and Kerensky with increasing disquietude. Popular elections must soon be held in Russia. The only way the reds can hope to control these elections is through the element of fear, now that Lenin no longer is an active influence. Therefore, a return to the old tyranny is being made.

The Arctic ocean is said by scientists to be getting appreciably warmer.

TO AVOID PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

This Trouble is Located in the Blood, and Relief Comes Through Better Blood.

Rheumatism comes with thin, impure blood, and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that quickly banishes this disagreeable symptom. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in rheumatic troubles is proven by the testimony of Mrs. A. Bryson, Arthur, Ont., who says:—"I was so used up with rheumatism in my shoulders and neck that I could not turn in bed without the help of my husband, and the pain at times was almost unbearable. I took doctors' medicine which did me little or no good. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pnk Pills and have since been free from rheumatism. I can also recommend the pills to young mothers, as in my own case I found they are unexcelled. I may aso add that I recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a neighbor who took fainting spells at the change of life, and who could not walk any distance She took the pills for nearly three months and they made her a strong well woman."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOOD LUXURIES
By Bertha E. Shapleigh

There comes a time, perhaps in April or May, or in some parts of the country December and January, when the housewife in buying supplies is sorely tempted to buy, what seems to her, unwisely and possibly extravagantly. There are vegetables and fruits which are a little out of season, and she longs to purchase a delicacy for the family.

There is, I think, a justification for such expenditure at times, and the wise woman will buy "pleasure-giving" foods, and balance her budget by having a cheaper cut of meat or a less expensive vegetable another day. If during the week a meal or two contain a surprise—a favorite dessert, or a cake or pie, an unusual salad, or a choice cut of meat, the housewife can keep her family satisfied and happy. It is the deadly monotony of food, no matter how good it may be, that we cannot stand without fussing.

Sometimes the color of strawberries are as appealing as the flavor. Who cannot be moved by the combination of strawberries, sugar, butter, hot biscuits and cream? In combination it is the "old-fashioned" strawberry shortcake which some consider the only "real" one. Others are equally pleased with a cake filled with berries, and white on top, with beaten cream.

For breakfas or lunch on a warm spring day is there any dish more inviting than broiled shad roe on a bed of watercress?

Or some days there will be mushrooms in the market, cheap and good. One can make a meal of creamed mushrooms and a salad.

VEAL SOUFFLE

Cook one cup of milk, one-half cup of soft bread crumbs and two tablespoons of butter until a paste is formed. Add one and one-half cups of chopped, cooked veal. Then add seasonings consisting of one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of paprika and one teaspoon of chopped parsley. Beat three egg yolks and add this. Cool and add the whites of three eggs which have been beaten until stiff. Cut and fold the whites into the meat mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish, set dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes.

Lamb may be used in place of veal, and tomato sauce added. Instead of tomato sauce, however, the following sauce will be found good;

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups top milk
2 egg yolks
½ teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt the butter, add flour, and cook one minute; add the milk and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture boils. Add seasonings and egg yolks and place over water. Cook five minutes.

EAR IS MASTER OF THE EYE

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—The shortest and surest road to the understanding is through the vision, but the ear is often master of the eye.

The truth of this was borne in upon me as I previewed a photoplay called "Mighty Lak a Rose." A violin, cello and piano just behind me played an accompaniment.

In itself this film is of about average merit. Coupled with sentimental music it has an impressive reaction on the emotions. The music-stirred emotions compel the mind to accept as true and natural situations that would appear false and artificial in a cold film.

Perhaps I'm hyper-sensitive to violin music. The most beautiful things created by man are, to me, "Caprice Viennois," played by Kreisler, and the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," played by Spalding.

• • •

Music is, as a subtitle of "Mighty Lak a Rose" puts it, "the universal language of the heart, the voice of the soul." I doubt the entire truth of another subtitle, "By its melody we are brought to love and through its glory we may find even God." The effect does not endure for long after the music ceases. It has been my observation that those who find God only through psalm singing and revival hallelujahs don't hold Him for long. A strumming guitar or banjo may bring a fair maiden to love, but it takes something more substantial to keep her in love.

However, the story of "Mighty Lak a Rose" is based on the hypothesis that wicked men and women may be turned into paths of righteousness by a violin. Circumstances cast the lot of a little blind girl with that of a band of New York crooks. The younger one falls in love with her and the others reform. Then it is learned that the girl's sight may be restored for $1,000. The young fellow is caught after he has stolen the money for the operation and goes to jail for three years.

When he is released he finds the gang leader and the hard-faced woman are married and have a country home and a baby. The girl's sight is restored and she makes a brilliant debut as a concert violinist, thanks to a rich man who has fallen in love with her. And there's the problem—did she marry the rich benefactor, or the youth who stole the money that restored her sight? One guess, and you win.

Dorothy Mackaill, erstwhile leading woman in the "Torchy" comedies, and before that a Follies girl, plays the role of the blind girl in "Mighty Lak a Rose." Her performance is of uneven quality, but she seems to be endowed with intelligence and inspiration. James Rennie, leading man, in features and in mannerism is much like Gaston Glass.

Adolph Zukor, president of Famous Players, has called a conference of novelists, artists, dramatists, editors and educators to formulate a set of principles for the artistic development of motion pictures. Zukor has gone to Europe to induce leading lights to attend the conference which will be held in New York.

"The big field of picture progress lies in developing the screen along the soundest artistic principles," says Zukor. (Others, principally newspaper commentators, have said the same thing.)

"Our aim," Zukor continues, "is to have a conference that will be to the motion picture what the French Academy is to French letters, what the Royal Academy is to British art and what the Pulitzer Foundation is to American journalism."

BOILS
Made Him Sick and Miserable

Mr. Richard Zaienzoski, McLern, Sask., writes:—"I had been suffering continuously, with boils, for three years, and during that time I tried many different remedies without any success whatever. In spite of all my efforts I was compelled to go to the hospital. This was in the Fall of the year, and right in the busiest time of the season. Upon my return home it just took about two weeks until my neck and arms were again occupied by the boils which made me feel very sick and miserable.

One day one of my friends advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used less than two bottles I was very much surprised at the result.

It is now over two years since I got in touch with B.B.B., and I have had no bother with boils since. I will recommend it to all persons suffering from any defect in the blood."

B. B. B. is manufacutred only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GEISHA

The notorious geisha girl system of Japan is destroyed by the Japanese courts. Hereafter it will be unlawful for parents to sell their daughters into geisha girl slavery against their will.

The immediate effect of this decision by the judges is to free possibly half a million Japanese girls from bondage. It shatters a system thousands of years old.

Democracy is rising on the other side of the Pacific when Japan makes a contribution this important to the world-wide emancipation of women.

THEY ARE THE REAL REMEDY

QUEBEC MAN FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Placide Fortin Says He Cannot Praise Dodd's Kidney Pills Enough.

Laurierville, Que., April 27,—(Special).—"For a long time I have suffered with bad kidneys. I have taken all kinds of remedies and none of them have relieved me. My illness continued day after day. I always had bad pains in my kidneys. I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after the first box, I felt that they were the real remedy that I was wanting. I am employed in a flour mill and my work is heavy and tiring for the kidneys. Now that I take your remedy I do not feel any fatigue after my day's work. I cannot praise your pills enough."

This testimonial is sent by Mr. Placide Fortin, who is well-known and highly respected here.

It is statements like the above that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy throughout Canada.

No ordinary remedy could produce such results as these, because only Dodd's Kidney Pills contain the peculiar tonic and restorative elements needed by weakened and inactive kidneys.

BOTULISM

Scientists discover that heat destroys the germs of the dread food poisoning known as botulism. Canners will prevent any danger of bolulism by heating food, before it goes into cans, "for the time and degree of heat that has been scientifically determined."

Not as important as it looks, however, for botulism kills only 25 Americans a year, possibly not as many as choke to death by swallowing their false teeth.

The important angle, worth remembering, is that heat kills all germs

STYLES

France is alarmed by the discovery that her exports of dressmaking material—such as laces and embroideries—are a half billion francs a year less than before the war.

All around, French styles are losing ground. Parisian designers seem to have lost their famed knack of keeping a finger on the world's fashion pulse.

It is part of the growing independence of women. Each year they are less inclined to accept whatever is dictated by style leaders, whether they like it or not.

BENJAMINS OF HEBRIDES SAIL TO-DAY FOR CANADA

Greatest Human Drama in History of the Western Isles Witnessed at Stornoway—Crofters Mourn Loss of Their Best, But Ontario Will Gain.

Liners Call at Lewis For the First Time.

STORNOWAY, April 28.—Four hundred splendid selected specimens of Hebrides manhood, not one man less in stature than 5 feet 9 inches, or 168 pounds in weight, and two hundred rosy-cheeked crofter girls from the tiny townships in the bog and the fen, and laughing fisher lassies from Stornoway and Castlebay, set sail today on the Metagama for Canada. Two hundred more young men had asked for places in the party, but their applications had been rejected. Today's party will all be located in Ontario.

This is the second large party to sail from Stornoway for Canada this week. On Monday there sailed on the steamer Manioch four hundred men, women and children, most of them from the Isle of Eriska. They will be settled in Alberta.

Start of a Greater Migration

And this is but the start of a greater migration to the west. More people will place a waste of seas between them and the lone shielings of the misty isles of the Hebrides this year than at any time during the past century. The same inexorable law of necessity which emptied the rugged isles when the kelp industry failed, and when the potato famine brought the grisly spectre of want into the black houses of the moor and the hillside, is exacting its penalty.

Scores of applications flood the mail of the tiny emigration office, with its fragrant window-bills in a back street of this town. And many Lewismen—hundreds, it is said—are contracting privately to be taken to the new lands overseas.

The history of the romantic islands never held a more suggestive date than April 21, 1923. Hundreds of Lewismen, in the years before the war, left the island by the mail steamer for Glasgow there to take passage on the liners that were to take them to their new homes. But this week the liners called at Stornoway for the first time.

Losing All Her Benjamins.

Lewis is losing all her Benjamins. All the younger sons are going. Look for a young man between 18 and 23 beside their toilworn fathers on the croft when the May lambs come, and the search will be in vain. A few older sons are remaining; the croft and the boats and lines are their inheritance.

Almost every house in Knack, in the Eye peninsula, up past Barvas to Ness and the Butte and down again to Uig and Locha, is losing a son, mostly a younger son. And younger sons are beloved of a mother. At no time before have the mothers of the island—which is the Island of Sorrow for the motyer-heart—sustained such a blow.

And away down in South Uist and Barra, the continuation of the island group, forty families are selling out, lock, stock and barrel, and changing their homes to an islanders' colony in the greater west. And more are now contemplating giving up their crofts.

Threat of Depopulation.

For weeks a common sight in Uist has been the rouping of stock. There are about 4,000 people in Uist and Barra, and the crofts are being so rapidly relinquished that the threat of complete depopulation looms up menacingly. Uist and Barra, some of these days, may become as empty as a coral island in the South Seas. That is no figure of speech. The little black cattle will not sell, and the horses that are bred will not pay their transhipment fees in market prices, and the wool—the famous wool—produces no more money than would buy provender for the chicken run.

The prime mover in this migration is Father Macdonnell, a Roman Catholic priest, who has engineered more than one large movement from the islands in recent years.

Emigration! The word is not music in the ears of a Hebridean. There is no doubt it has done more than anything else to sustain life in the Hebrides, for there are townships on the fringes of Lewis that are today mainly supported by remittances from Canada and the United States. The croft stone is a poor bulwark against starvation; the epic loyalty of the exiled Lewis man and woman, that tenacious memory of love and life in the old world, is one of the brightest lights in the strong character of the islanders.

An Economic Necessity

Emigration for the last 200 years has made life possible to the remnant of the islanders. Yet emigration in the island is not the restless spirit to make good that it is in the south, generally speaking, or the symptom of the colonizing instinct. It is an economic necessity. The islander would not leave his beloved island if he could stay. He always comes back when he can afford to. But the old crofter's house can no longer roof them, nor the tiny croft provide their frugal fare. Where can they turn? They could never remain a threat to the existence of the old people: it is not in their nature.

And so today the broken circle of the Bay of Stornoway, over which the white gulls eternally wheel with their plaintive calls, will witness the spectacle of a human drama more tremendous in its setting and emotional appeal than any since the first Norsemen coveted Lewis.

Fine Young Men

And what of these young men who today bid farewell to the islands of their birth? They are big, shy, likeable fellows, with frank, open features and quick intelligence, slow to talk of themselves. But as one speaks to them, one is conscious of their extreme suitability for colonizing. One remembers the words of the old emigration agent in Glasgow: "When I look at these Hebrides men beside the others, I am proud I am a Highlander. They look as if they were capable of taking the others in their teeth and shaking them."

The physique of these men is worthy of the race of giants from whom, it is fabled, they are sprung. Educationally they are as sound ly equipped. All of them have passed through the higher grade school at Stornoway and there is no school in Scotland superior for the high standard of results that are obtained. If Lewis could absorb them—ah, then it would be different. Lewis would be a commercial force to be reckoned with.

Macaroni and spaghetti have many possibilities for delicious main dishes. Careful seasoning always makes any dish, but macaroni or spaghetti demand the most particular attention in this respect.

Hints on Keeping Fit

Beauty is not chiefly a matter of cosmetics or perfect features. Primarily it is a matter of perfect health. Only a healthy woman can be truly beautiful, and to be healthy one must exercise as regularly as one eats and sleeps.

When a star of the screen or stage makes a statement like the above I know that the average busy woman—the business girl, for instance—sighs and says: "Yes; it's all very well for a motion picture star to talk that way. Probably she'll go on and tell us to exercise by riding horseback daily or playing golf when we haven't the leisure or money to do either. Why doesn't she suggest something practical?"

You would think we had loads of leisure, wouldn't you. But we haven't. My hours of work are long and irregular. I have very little time for sports and the more complicated forms of exercise. I am like any other very busy woman. I insist, nevertheless, that exercising regularly is necessary in order to preserve one's health and looks, and I try to practice what I preach. Moreover, I think that my system of exercising is practical and especially adapted to the busy woman. Here it is:

Some years ago I took a course with a physical training teacher. My exercise periods consist of going through four different movements learned from him. Here they are:

1. Standing with the heels together and knees stiff, bend forward from the waist and attempt to touch the floor with the tips of the fingers. Do this ten times.

2. Standing with the hands on the hips, inhale as deeply as possible ten times, rising on the toes with each inhalation and dropping back as you exhale.

3. Stretch out on the floor, face upward. Raise one leg at a time as high as possible, with a kicking motion. Kick ten times with each leg.

4. Standing erect, raise the arms to right angles with the body, with hands extended horizontally before the chest. From this position throw the arms back sharply as far as they will reach. This flexes the chest and shoulder muscles and expands the lungs.

These exercises are very simple. They can be accomplished within one's room. The window should be opened wide while you are exercising so that a good supply of fresh air circulates through the room. They should be followed if possible by a shower bath. Start with warm water and soap, then gradually cool the bath off to adminster the proper rosy tingle to the body. Rub down briskly with the thickest towel you can find. However, do not use very cold water if it makes you feel shivery even after your rub-down. That is a sign that cold water doesn't agree with you. It is nothing to worry about. Many people are constituted that way.

Although both macaroni and spaghetti are usually cooked before combining with seasonings this first cooking is one of great consideration. The macaroni and spaghetti should not be overcooked. Drop it into boiling salted water and boil not more than 15 minutes. This insures tenderness in the finished dish, but allows the cereals or vegetables, as you choose to designate them, to cook in the seasonings and blend into the other ingredients.

"Mystery"

Four tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons olive oil, 3 cloves garlic, 1 cup dried mushrooms, 2 cups stewed veal, 2 cups tomatoes, ½ teaspoon thyme, bay leaves, 1½ cups spaghetti, salt and pepper.

Cook garlic in butter and oil till garlic is brown. Soak mushrooms in water to cover till mushrooms are soft and add water and mushrooms to garlic.

Add meat, tomatoes, thyme and bay leaves. Simmer very slowly, stirring occasionally, till the meat is in shreds. It will take about two hours. Season with salt and pepper. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and hold under cold running water. Put a layer of spaghetti in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of meat and gravy. Continue layer for layer till all is used. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour

Spaghetti With Tomato Sauce

One-fourth pound unbroken spaghetti, 1 quart canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup grated cheese, salt and pepper.

Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Rub the tomatoes through a strainer and cook till reduced to two cups. Melt the butter in a smooth saucepan, but do not let it brown or bubble.

Add the partially cooked and drained spaghetti and lift with a fork until it has absorbed all the butter. Add the tomatoes and simmer 10 minutes. Season with salt and pepper and add cheese. Lift with forks till cheese is melted and thoroughly mixed with spaghetti.

Serve with more grated cheese.

SMOKING

Dr. Knight Dunlap and other noted medical men at John Hopkins University, after three years of research, report that the immediate effect of smoking tobacco is "a lowering of the accuracy of finely co-ordinated reaction, but that there is no indication that the speed of complicated reactions is affected."

This makes it look as if tobacco has more effect on the dictionary than on smokers. It means that smoking apparently does not lower the efficiency of a routine worker, but is apt to befuddle men engaged in intellectual work.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

It was later than that, however, before Don Miguel Jose Federico Noriaga Farrel dismissed her from his thoughts and succumbed to the arms of Morpheus. For q uite a while after retiring to his room he sat on the edge of the bed, rubbing his toes with one hand and holding Bill Conway's promissory note before him with the other.

"That girl and her mother are my secret allies," he soliloquized. "Bless their dear kind hearts. Kay has confided in Conway and for reasons best known to himself he has secretly accepted of her aid. Now I wonder," he continued, "what the devil actuates her to double-cross her own father's in favor of a stranger?"

He tucked the note back in his pocket, removed a sock and rubbed the other foot thoughtfully. "Well, whatever happens," he decided eventually, "I've got to keep my secret to myself, while at the same time effectually preventing this young lady from advancing Bill Conway any further funds for my relief. I cannot afford her pity or her charity; I can accept her sympathy, but not her aid. Conway cannot have so soon spent much of the money he borrowed from her, and if I insist on the cessation of operations in the Basin he'll promptly give her back her fifty thousand dollars in order to save the interest charges; in the meantime I shall mail Kay the note in a plain white envelope, with the address typewritten, so she will never know where it came from, for of course she'll have to hand Bill back his canceled note when he pays it."

He blew out the light and retired, not to sleep, but to revolve plan after plan for the salvation of the ranch. To float a new loan from any source in San Marcos County he dismissed for the hundredth time as a proposition too nebulous for consideration. His only hope of a bank loan lay in an attempt to interest outside bankers to a point where they would consent to have the property appraised. Perhaps the letter from Parker which he held would constitute evidence to cautious capitalists of the sufficiency of the security for the loan. It was for that purpose that he had cunningly inveigled Parker into making him that offer to clear out and leave him a fair field and no litigation. However, Don Mike knew that between bankers there exists a certain mutual dependence, a certain cohesiveness that makes for mutual protection. If, for instance (he told himself), he should apply to a San Francisco bank for a loan on the ranch, the bank, prior to wasting either time or mental energy on his application, would first ascertain from sources other than him, whether it was remotely worth while considering the loan up to a point of sending a representative down to appraise the land. Their first move, therefore, would be to write their correspondent in El Toro—John Parker's bank, the First National—for information regarding the Farrel family, the ranch and the history of the mortgage. Don Mike was not such an optimist as to believe that the report of Parker's bank would be such as to encourage the outside bank to proceed further in the deal.

He was also aware that the loan would not be attractive to commercial banks, who are forced, in self-protection, to loan their money on liquid assets. He must therefore turn to the savings-banks and trust companies. But here again he faced an impasse. Such institutions loan money for the purpose of securing interest on it; the last thing they wish to do is to be forced, in the protection of the loan, to foreclose a mortgage. Hence, should they entertain the slightest doubt of his inability to repay the mortgage; should they be forced to consider the probability of foreclosure eventually, he knew they would not consider the loan. Don Mike was bitterly aware of the fact that the history of his family had been one of waste, extravagance, carelessness and inefficiency. In order to place the ranch on a paying basis and take up John Parker's mortgage, therefore, he would have a new loan of not less than half a million dollars, and at six per cent., t lowest rate of interest he could hope to obtain, his annual interest charge would be thirty thousand dollars. Naturally he would be expected to repay the loan gradually—say at the rate of fifty thousand dollars a year. By running ten thousand head of cattle on the Palomar he knew he could meet his payments of interest and principal without lessening his working capital, but he could not do it by attempting to raise scrub beef cattle. He would gradually produce a herd of pure-bred Herefords, but in the meantime he would have to buy "feeders," grow them out on the Palomar range and sell them at a profit. During the present high price of beef cattle, he dared not gamble on borrowed capital, else with a slump in prices he might be destroyed. It would be a year or two, at least before he might accept that risk; indeed, the knowledge of this condition had, induced him to lease the San Gregorio for one year to the Basque sheep man, Andre Loustalot. If, in the interim, he should succeed in saving the ranch, he knew that a rest of one year would enable the range to recover from the damage inflicted upon it by the sheep.

In his desolation there came to him presently a wave of the strong religious faith that was his sole unencumbered heritage. Once again he was a trustful little boy. He slid out of the great bed of his ancestors and knelt on the old rag mat beside it; he poured out na appeal for help from One who, he had been told—who, he truly believed marked the sparrow's fall. Don Mik was far from being the orthodox person one ordinarily visualizes in a Spanish-Irish Catholic, but he was deeply religious, his religious impulse taking quite naturally a much more practical form and one most pleasing to himself and his neighbors, in that it impelled him to be brave and kind and hopeful, a gentleman in all that the word implies. He valued far more than he did the promise of a mansion in the skies a certain tranquility of spirit which comes of conscious virtue.

FINE TRIBUTE TO MATRON AND STAFF

Rev. Ernest Butcher of Brighton Highly Compliments Peterboro Upon Efficiency of Queen Mary Hospital.

The splendid services of the Matron and the nurses attending me, in their self-sacrificing attendance to duty and incomparable loyalty to their profession, are beyond my powers to express. And in this connection I should like to place on record my unshaken conviction that any needing such attention as the result of a contagious disease can, without a single fear of qualm, place themselves in the hands of this splendid staff.

The outstanding efficiecy of every member of the staff is most marked. They act with the precision and unfailing accuracy of a magnificent machine. And I think that the City of Peterboro is to be most warmly congratulated on the possession of such a splendid institution, for the assuagement of the ills of human kind.

Thanking you again most warmly for the kind, courteous and efficient service I received during my fifteen days sojourn, as a diphtheria patient in your midst, I beg to subscribe myself,

Yours very sincerely,
(Rev) Ernest Butcher.

The following fine compliment from the Rev. Ernest Butcher, Baptist minister at Brighton, who was recently a diphtheria patient at the Queen Mary Isolation hospital, was recently received bp Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H., who felt that Rev Mr. Butcher's glowing tribute to the hospital staff should be made known to the citizens of Peterboro.

OCCULT FAKERY IS EXPOSED IN FILM

Notes on the Latest Movie Plays and Actors.

(By JACK JUNGMEYER)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 28.—After seeing a pre-view of Blair Coan's "A Little Sir. Next Door" at the Ambassador, I am no longer afraid to go home in the dark.

I even pass dusky graveyards without whistling. For this picture plays humpty-dumpty with ghosts, and all the Sir Olivers and Conan Doyles may not put the fragments together again.

Its big scene, with all the ingenuity of the flicker camera, strips the hokum from occult fakery, exposing the mystifying practices of the tricky seance medium.

"The Little Girl Next Door" is likely to put quite a crimp in the slate writing and rabbit foot business, and indicates the pahntom fighting power of the movies.

* * *

Dope and easy credulity are linked as twin ogres in the picture, threatening the romance of a boy and girl who bring "honest faces and unsophistication" to the big city from a small town.

Mitchell Lewis as lord of the underworld needs the "honest face" of James Morrison to carry on his dope traffic. The love Carmel Myers bears James must be shattered to keep the boy an enslaved tool. Pauline Starke, as siren and co-plotter with Lewis, is selected as the instrument, and faked messages from the "beyond" as the means of accomplishing the design. These four are co-starred in the production.

"The Little Girl" is susceptible to plottings, the author lets you know, because her mother had been a steady patron of mediums. After the mother died, the daughter quite naturally expected occult counsel to extricate her and her lover from impending trouble.

The siren, herself infatuated with Morrison's "honest face," masquerades as a trance priestess and has the girl on the verge of handing back the engagement ring when our young hero, now sophisticated aplenty, puts the kibosh on the villainy by exposing the trappings of the ghostly darkroom.

The scene culminates in a very materialistic fist battle. The wicked drug king is shot by the wileful lady partner and their intended dupes return to the town of harmony, where coal business takes the place of dope running and truffles supplant trances.

* * *

Seeing this picture is in itself a good deal like attending a seance. The only thing you're apt to miss is holding some stranger's hand while you shudder. But the price per shudder is considerably chesper than those I've enjoyed in so-called spiritualistic circles I have graced.

What am I bid for one well-worn left-hind-leg rabbit foot?

FLICKERINGS

William Russell's latest Fox release, which was first called "McPhee's Sensational Rest," then changed to "Wanted—a wife," won't have that name after all. It's now going to be called "Goodby, Girls." Names is names!

* * *

Gee, but I hate to get up in the mornin'—sang Marion Davies after completing the filming of "Little Old New York." During its production she led a gosh-darned military life—rose at 5:30 a.m. Then went out in Central Park, New York, for a brisk walk, and followed that with some setting-up exercises.

Gloria Morgan, who recently became the bride of Reginald C. Vanderbilt, will be seen in the role of a rue in "Enemies of Women," the new V. Blasco Ibanez film, which opens in New York April 2.

TORONTO, April 28.—(Canadian Press.)— Robert J. Stead, Ottawa, was yesterday elected President of the Canadian Authors' Association.

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and disease-symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor Examiner

Dear Sir,—I notice in your report of the deliberations of the City Council that Jimmy Gates will be employed to slaughter all stray dogs, presumably that in so doing he will get the dog or dogs that upset the Mayor's Ash Can.

I am sorry I did not know that upsetting the Mayor's ash can would have such beneficial results. Benefic ial to me it would have been last season I reckon, as stray dogs or a stray dog killed so many of my fowl. All I would have to have done, would have been to secure the services of a good Ash Can Upsetting Dog and start him operating near the Mayor's residence. If he was a real good Ash Can upsetter and made a good job of the Mayor's Ash Can, it would have started the campaign, that would no doubt have saved me my fowl.

After Jimmy Gates gets through with his two months' campaign, I reckon that Good Ash Can Upsetting Dogs will be at a premium, so if you should hear of a real good one for sale kindly remember that I would like to procure him, judging that he might come in handy later on.

Yours Very Truly,
A Lover of a Real Good Dog.

KISMET.

At 45 the average man has more money than he ever had before—or will ever have again. The top of the money hill, in most lives, is the 45th birthday. From then on, it's usually a down hill trip. And fewer men have $100 or more at 75 than at 25, though they've had 50 more years for accumulating.

These figures are announced by Joseph J. Devney, insurance man, after an investigation helped by 1000 bankers.

The lesson behind it all is that the average person is a money failure, and that to succeed you have to do better than the average in work, thrift, judgment and cunning.

AUTO HAS STOLEN OLD STYLE HOME

Bring Back Old-Fashioned Table and the One-Horse Shay.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 28.—Bring back the old-fashioned living-room table.

Bring back the front porch swing and, if you want real, romantic joy again, take out the one-horse shay.

Thus will the home return to its former glory, asserts Mrs. V. Janet Heckman, teacher and mother of Helen Heckman, "Oklahoma's Wonder Girl." And, to assure the development of character and fineness in our youth, she adds, beware of failing a victim to the automobile.

Mrs. Heckman has written articles and books on children and their development, and from her studies has concluded this age of automobiles and petting parties has been ruinous to our youth.

Auto to Blame

"The automobile, one of the greatest and most useful of our modern inventions, yet highly destructive to our youth, has robbed the home of its former charm and interest for the child and, in many instances, for the parents as well," she says.

"It has led them into places of amusement unthought or unheard of before, and divided the interests of the family.

"The passing of the living-room table in so many of our modern homes is the reason for so many delinquencies in the boy and girl of today. With its passing, the fineness of our youth has suffered, their character undeveloped.

"No longer do we have the home-like picture of the father on one side of the table, the mother on the other, with their sons and daughters grouped about reading from constructive books of an evening, discussing, exchanging and weighing thoughts and passing judgment upon their values.

Generalship Needed

"With parents no longer like generals, drilling and training their young recruits, the home is losing its foundation for strength and fails in the purpose for which it was intended.

"After all, the modern boy and girl are really a reflection of the home. For is this not an age of parental irresponsibility? Has not the parents' indifference, as a rule, caused their chitdren to drift from their influence into the modern maelstrom of pleasure?

"With the re-establishment of the substantial reading table in the home, with broadening literature for the child upon it, the parent and the child growing in constructive thought together, and with the introduction of the study and practice of good music, we will hear less of juvenile delinquencies."

MANUFACTURING IDEALS IN MOTOR CAR INDUSTRY

Business Success of Enduring Sort is Built on Solid Foundation.

(By A. R. ERSKINE)
President The Studebaker Corporation

Business success of the enduring sort is built stone by stone, so to speak, upon a solid foundation and cemented by a steadfast determination to merit the reward which adherence to high ideals assures.

In the automobile industry Studebaker enjoys a unique distinction. The name Studebaker has appeared on quality vehicles continuously since 1852. Seventy-one years ago it represented a capital investment of $68 in cash and two forges. Today it represents $82,000,000 of actual net assets, including $41,000,000 of plants. The experience of Studebaker provides a splendid background for consideration of lasting success and the factors that make it possible.

The factor that contributes most to the permenent success of any institution is the standard of quality of its product. Particularly is this true in the automobile industry where quality is so quickly determined and where a manufacturer, by failure to observe extreme care habitually in maintaining highest quality, can lose a position in the industry which may appear to have been securely held.

The price of an automobile is not an index of quality, although in some cases, high quality is obtainable at very moderate prices. The theory that high prices necessarily mean fine cars is fallacious, simply because prices are not based upon intrinsic values but upon production costs of individual makers, which vary widely according to their ability, manufacturing facilities and output. Obviously, high costs of production, inevitably arising from deficiencies or inadequate manufacturing facilities, mean not only high prices but actually inferior cars.

Manufacturing economics should never be confused with lowered standards of quality of materials or workmanship. These economics must come from skillful selection and layout of factory equipment, short cuts in time and labor and simplified design, if the product and its maker are to endure. Savings are also made possible under conditions of quantity production by the complete manufacture of vital parts which results in the elimination of middlemen's profits as well as by large-scale purchasing. Quite naturally, the manufacturer who builds cars in great numbers is in a position to buy materials at the most favorable prices, because of the volume of his requirements. Often such a manufacturer can purchase the highest quality materials at lower prices than other manacturers have to pay for relatively inferior materials.

The old theory that quantity production means less than maximum quality has been exploded since modern methods have been introduced to produce cars with greater than human accuracy and efficiency. Quality in an automobile varies only as quality of materials and standards of workmanship vary, providing, of course, that the design is correct.

Just as the public is interested in the quality of a car so also is it interested in getting that quality at the lowest possible price. To accomplish this, the manufacturer must be favored by organization, equipment and ample resources.

Another manufacturing ideal in the automobile industry is the necessity o keeping abreast of the times. The automobile industry is no place for "moss backs." It is essentially an industry of youth, energy, imagination, progress and responsiveness to the demands of the public. While standardized in large degree, it is still undergoing changes and will continue to do so in the matters of car design, appointments, manufacturing methods, service and other respects. In no other industry may it be more truly said that the manufacturer who stands still is in reality going backward.

The supreme purpose of manufacturing ideals is to create, hold and increase public good will, confidence and respect. In addition to car quality and value in terms of endurance, economy of operation, comfort, appearance, power, appointments and service, there is the consideration of the manufacturer's integrity which is determined by his record in the past. The car itself must be favorably supported by fairness in all dealings. This human element is a most important one. It can go a long way toward building up respect and confidence for a manufacturer and his goods. On the other hand, unfair, inefficient or discourteous methods of doing business can offset any amount of good will that may be created by a product, however high its quality.

Mention of the human element as it relates to the public brings up the question of the human element as it pertains to factory workers—the men who build cars. It is our policy to reward employees for honest and faithful service, because it means better work, greater loyalty and lower labor turnover, all of which increase the intrinsic value of the product. Specific features of our co-operative plans include vacations with pay, anniversary checks, pensions, insurance policies, the opportunity to buy a home at cost and the chance for every worker to become a shareholder through the purchase of stock under special conditions.

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

BRIEF ARGUMENTS WHICH SOLD CARS.

When you make your want ad, story brief, give it selling power, too. This list of descriptive statements, picked from successful used car want ads, illustrate how much an advertiser can say to sell an article in few words. Some of these quoted phrases tell very forcefully and appealingly what easily could be elaborated into several paragraphs.

They actually are elaborated—by the reader. The brief want ad. statement is for him the starting point. He deduces and reasons. Take the assertion, made of a car, "Never been off city streets." Five words, but in the reader's mind forms a picture of an automobile which has been driven only on good roads, moderate grades. An automobile which has always been handy to garage and repair shop. An automobile, perhaps, which has only been driven a few thousand miles. In all likelihood, a very desirable automobile to own—at any rate, surely worth investigating.

Those few words may, of themselves, be enough to make a want ad. produce a quick sale.

Other selling arguments can be put tellingly in few words. Scan this list:

"Family car," "can't be told from new," "guaranteed mechanically," "quiet motor," "beautiful body," "perfect running condition," "all essentials guaranteed," "driven less than 6,000 miles," "overhauled and repainted, powerful motor," "original finish, in splendid condition," "motor the very best we have ever seen in an '18," "was owned by a man who loved it," "has a long life ahead of it," "a car that you can be proud of," "owned by a very careful driver," "a real good car at the price of the body alone," "looks like new," "upholstery like new," "has many extras," "purchased new in August," "has scarcely been driven at all," "let the best mechanic in town inspect this for you—he'll agree," "on small payments you'll not miss."

When you come to sell your used car, decide which of these powerful condensed arguments will fit it. One or more perhaps will.

TARRED RACE TRACKS INCREASE CAR'S SPEED

The Italian system of tarring the surface of automobile racing tracks, invented in 1901 by a civil engineer, Guido Rimini, has been described by Senator Silvio Crespi, President of the Italian Automobile Club, as the best in existence from the point of view of the speed obtained.

During the Grand Prix of the Automobile Club of Italy, run at Monza, a driver reached an average speed of 90 miles an hour in bad weather, while at Strasbourg similar cars did not surpass 80 miles an hour under perfect conditions. The Monza track had been treated in the Rimini manner, while the other had not. Signor Rimini builds his roads of cement and then applies a thick layer of tar.

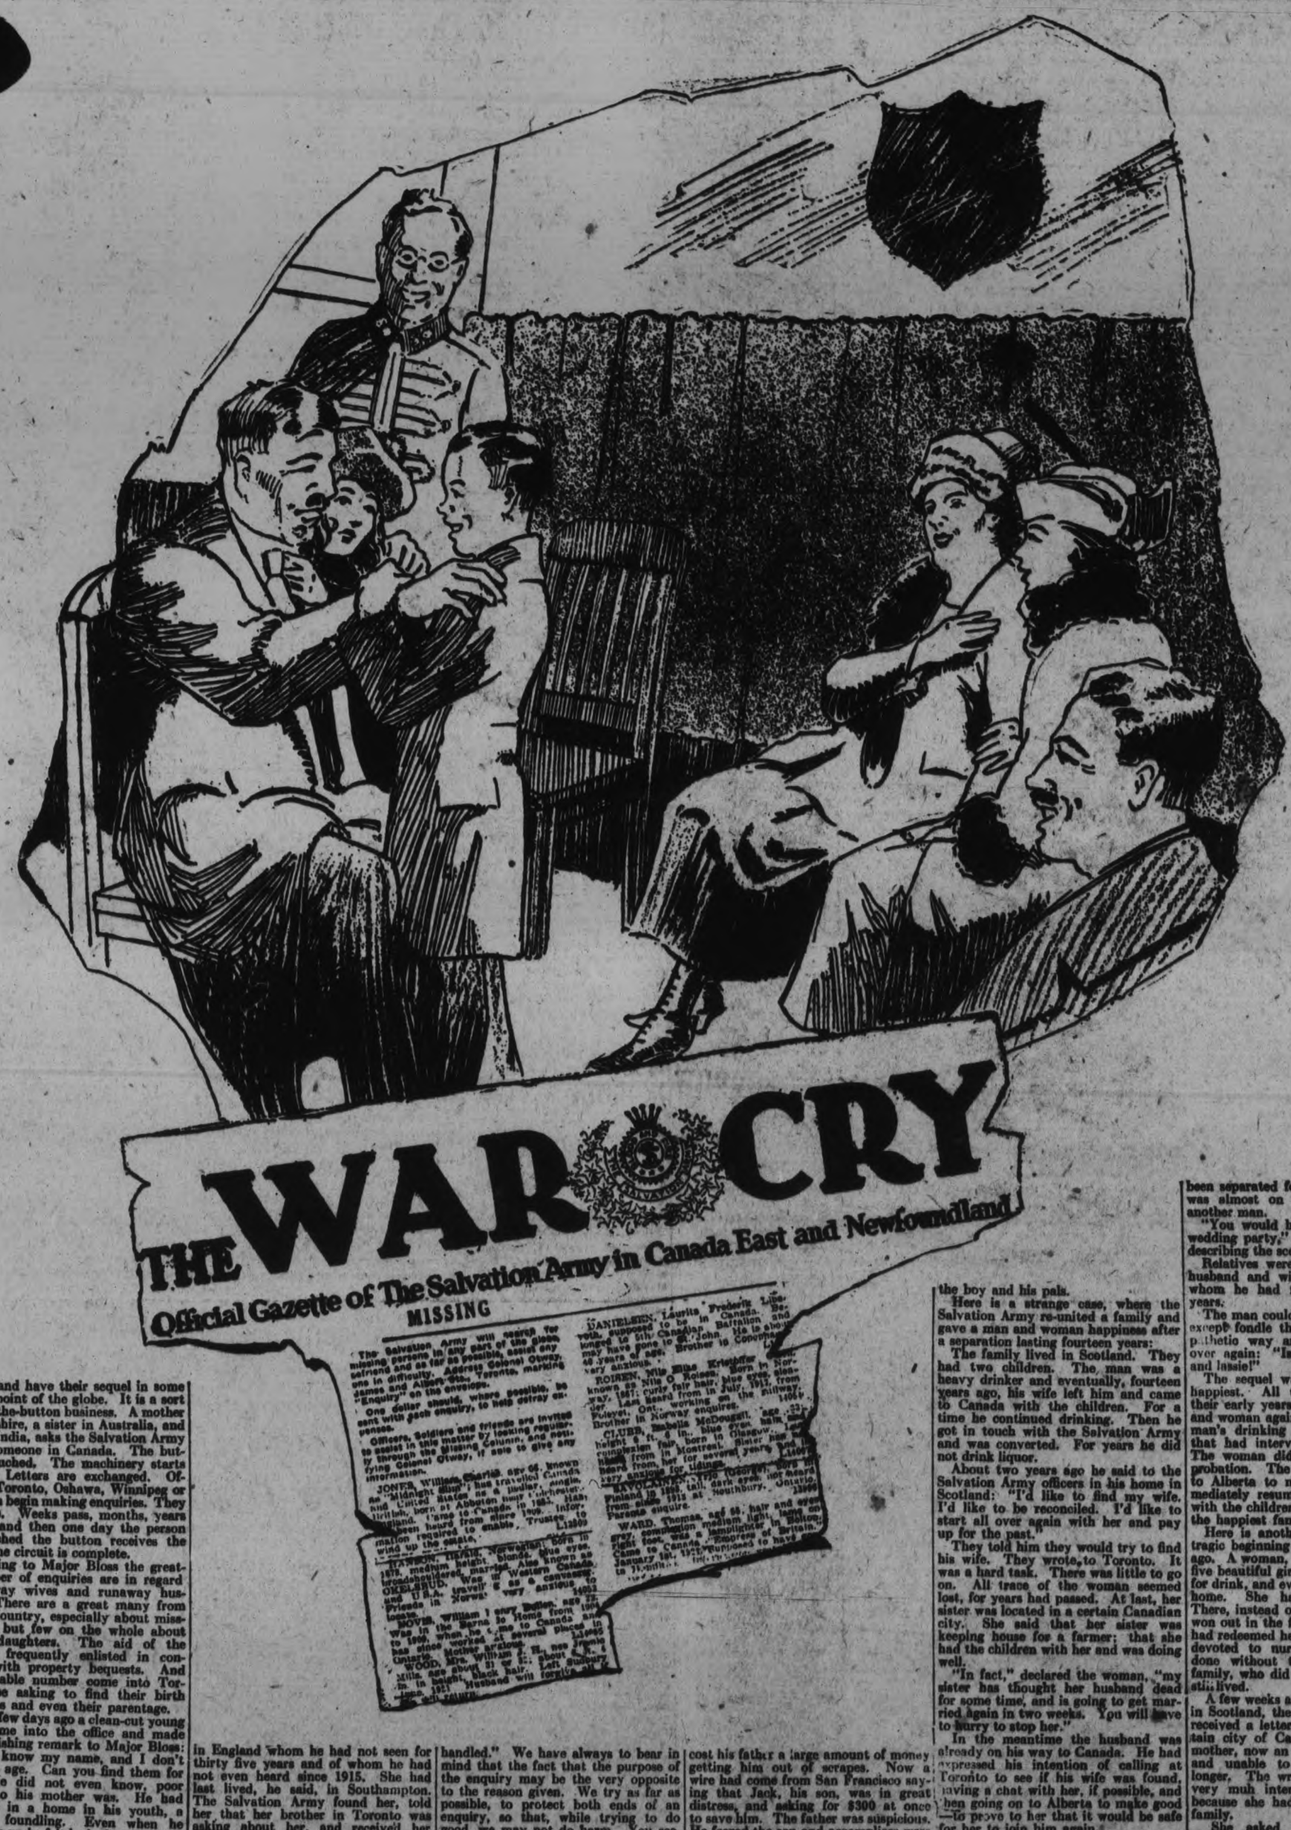
H. K. MIDDLETON, 332 Burnham St., Peterborough



(By FREDERICK G. GRIFFIN.)

"Where is my wandering boy tonight." The mother of this sadly sentimental song should have asked the Salvation Army. Given a little time, a few particulars about the last place he was known to board, and the color of his hair, they would probably have found him and persuaded him to return home—or at least write.

For they are finding wanderers every day, wandering boys, girls who leave home, vanished husbands and errant wives. It does not matter how far they have wandered or how low. For the sweep of the army encircles the world, practically. It will climb down into the depths anywhere, everywhere, to seek for them. Just give them a clue and they will follow it.

And once found, it will spare no pains, no persuasion, to turn their thoughts, and, if possible, their steps, homewards. That is the beauty of the Salvation Army in this phase of its work. It acts not merely as a beneficent detective with eyes everywhere, but as a patcher-up of broken homes and a healer of broken hearts.

Of course, it does not do to have quite the faith in the Bureau of Missing Friends, which is the Army's medium for locating these lost ones, possessed by the mother in the Old Country who wrote to Toronto asking them to locate her wandering boy. All the particulars she gave about him were that he stuttered and that when last heard of was working in a rubber factory. Slim clues to work on.

Then there was another woman in the United States who did not know where her brother was; in fact, was not sure that he was not dead. But she wanted to find him. The last place she had seen him, years ago, was in Ontario. But she did not know the name of the place. Perhaps the army could locate it? She knew that you reached it by taking the train from Galt, riding five hours and getting off at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. That was where her brother had been the last time she had seen him. Where was it? For once the army was stumped. She was asking too much.

But clues, which on the face of them often seem as slender as this, often yield results. Rosie Polonsky was the daughter of a Russian Jew. Her mother had died when she was a baby in 1906, and Rosie had been given for adoption to a family named Sparkes. Probably she never knew that she was not their own daughter. Years passed. A sister of hers grew up and determined to find her. She wrote from Detroit to the Salvation Army in Toronto and asked them to find Rosie. They did. They found that Rosie was living with her foster-mother in Walkerville, just across the river from Detroit, almost next door to the sister who had never seen her. So they were re-united.

How was this done? An advertisement in the War Cry costing a dollar brought these sisters together after all those years. It seems cheap for a sister. Yet that is all the Salvation Army charges those who are able to afford it. Inquiries without advertising cost nothing. Yet inquiries may last two or three years and cover two or three or more countries. This is free of charge. The machinery of the Salvation Army is at the disposal of the seeker of missing ones for the asking.

The investigation and inquiry department in Toronto handles between 600 and 700 cases a year, according to Major F. R. Bloss, who has charge of the work under Col. H. E. Otway, head of the men's social work. In addition there are the cases that originate in Toronto and have their sequel in some faraway point of the globe. It is a sort of touch-the-button business. A mother in Lancashire, a sister in Australia, and uncle in India, asks the Salvation Army to find someone in Canada. The button is touched. The machinery starts moving. Letters are exchanged. Officers in Toronto, Oshawa, Winnipeg or Saskatoon begin making enquiries. They pay visits. Weeks pass, months, years perhaps, and then one day the person who touched the button receives the news. The circuit is complete.

According to Major Bloss the greatest number of enquiries are in regard to runaway wives and runaway husbands. There are a great many from the old Country, especially about missing sons, but few on the whole about missing daughters. The aid of the Army is frequently enlisted in connection with property bequests. And a remarkable number come into Toronto office asking to find their birth certificates and even their parentage.

Only a few days ago a clean-cut young fellow came into the office and made the astonishing remark to Major Bloss: 'I don's know my name, and I don't know my age. Can you find them for me?" He did not even know, poor chap, who his mother was. He had been put in a home in his youth, a nameless foundling. Even when he was grown up he felt he had no identity. The Salvation Army is trying to find out from the Old Country, something that will help him to feel that he has a beginning, a background, sometime, somewhere.

A few months ago a Toronto business man asked the bureau to find a sister in England whom he had not seen for thirty five years and of whom he had not even heard since 1915. She had last lived, he said, in Southampton. The Salvation Army found her, told her that her brother in Toronto was asking about her, and received her thanks. The very next day a letter from her was on its way to Toronto. A week or so later the brother called in to express his joy at having heard from her again.

"Every case has to be dealt with individually on its merits," declares Major Bloss, "and very carefully handled." We have always to bear in mind that the fact that the purpose of the enquiry may be the very opposite to the reason given. We try as far as possible, to protect both ends of an enquiry, so that, while trying to do good, we may not do harm. You see, we never know what they are asking our agency for."

A good example of this was afforded recently when a citizen of Toronto of very good social position, acted in to see Major Bloss regarding his son in California. The latter was the black sheep of the family, and had already cost his father a large amount of money getting him out of scrapes. Now a wire had come from San Francisco saying that Jack, his son, was in great distress, and asking for $300 at once to save him. The father was suspicious. He feared the son and accomplices were trying to get money out of him by false pretenses. He was right.

Major Bloss wired Salvation Army officers in San Francisco, asking them to get the facts and help the boy if he needed help. They wired back confirming the father's suspicions and saved him from sending the money to the boy and his pals.

Here is a strange case, where the Salvation Army re-united a family and gave a man and woman happiness after a separation lasting fourteen years:

The family lived in Scotland. They had two children. The man was a heavy drinker and eventually, fourteen years ago, his wife left him and came to Canada with the children. For a time he continued drinking. Then he got in touch with the Salvation Army and was converted. For years he did not drink liquor.

About two years ago he said to the Salvation Army officers in his home in Scotland: "I'd like to find my wife. I'd like to be reconciled. I'd like to start all over again with her and pay up for the past."

They told him they would try to find his wife. They wrote to Toronto. It was a hard task. There was little to go on. All trace of the woman seemed lost, for years had passed. At last, her sister was located in a certain Canadian city. She said that her sister was keeping house for a farmer; that she had the children with her and was doing well.

"In fact," declared the woman, "my sister has thought her husband dead for some time, and is going to get married again in two weeks. You will have to hurry to stop her."

In the meantime the husband was already on his way to Canada. He had expressed his intention of calling at Toronto to see if his wife was found, having a chat with her, if possible, and then going on to Alberta to make good —to prove to her that it would be safe for her to join him again.

There was no time to be lost. Within forty-eight hours of the wife being found she was brought to Toronto. Her husband had arrived from Scotland about an hour previously. He was waiting for her when she arrived. Remember, two days before that she had not even known he was alive, they had been separated fourteen years, and she was almost on the eve of marrying another man.

"You would have thought it was a wedding party," declared Major Bloss, describing the scene in his office.

Relatives were there as well as the husband and wife and their children, whom he had not seen for fourteen years.

The man could not do or say a thing except fondle the children in a rather pathetic way and murmur over and over again: "Isn't that a bonny boy and lassie!"

The sequel was immediately of the happiest. All the old tenderness of their early years welled up in the man and woman again. The memory of the man's drinking and the lonely years that had intervened were wiped out. The woman did not ask a period of probation. The man did not even go to Alberta to make good. They immediately resumed life together again with the children, and now form one of the happiest families in the Dominion.

Here is another case which had its tragic beginning also in Scotland years ago. A woman, who was the mother of five beautiful girls, developed a craving for drink, and eventually left her ruined home. She had come to Canada. There, instead of going under, she had won out in the fight against drink, and had redeemed her past by several years devoted to nursing. This had been done without the knowledge of her family, who did not know whether she still lived.

A few weeks ago one of her daughters in Scotland, the wife of a city doctor, received a letter from a lady in a certain city of Canada, saying that her mother, now an elderly woman, was ill and unable to support herself any longer. The writer said that she was very much interested in the woman because she had often nursed for the family.

She asked the daughter to do something for her in her age and illness. The daughter in Scotland wrote to the Salvation Army in Toronto. She wanted to know if the letter was authentic and whether the people who had written to her were genuine in the desire to help her mother. She asked if her mother would be willing to come back to Scotland if she provided the means. She said that she would be grateful if they would make inquiries for her. In the meantime she forwarded $25 to be spent for her mother's immediate comfort if necessary.

The Salvation Army made inquiries at once, found the facts about the mother were correct; she was in hospital, in want, with the rent of her rooms unpaid. They spent the money her daughter had sent from Scotland, and immediately cabled the latter that her mother was indeed found, a very different mother from the one who had left home, a fine woman who had fought her own way as long as she could until illness overtook her. So she was restored to a family who had long thought her lost. Perhaps she will start for home some of these days. Perhaps her daughter will come across the seas to her. The story has not yet had "finis" written.

The case take all kinds of forms and have many angles. A young man called in a few weeks ago and told Major Bloss that his father, an old man in the Old Country, was to have the benefit of some property while he lived, but he feared that his brothers over there were not treating the old man right. Would the Salvation Army help him to find out if his father was being treated properly? They would. They communicated with a lawyer in the Old Country and asked him to find out whether the father was getting a square deal from his other sons.

Another bright young fellow called in the other day and asked for help of another kind. He was a good mechanic and two years ago had had a good home in the Old Country, and a nice wife. But they had taken in a lodger. He had become jealous. He had taken to drink. He had left home. He had come to Saskatchewan and worked with relatives on a farm. But he became restless. He was unhappy. He started to wander. He had drifted to Toronto. He was in a repentant mood. He wanted his wife back. He wanted to be reconciled. He loved her still, and he was sick of being alone. Could the Salvation Army get in touch with his wife and see if she would come out to Canada and join him? This case is still proceeding. No doubt, some of these days the wife will come and the two of them will start life together all over again.

Here is the little case of a wandering girl to conclude the recital. She lived in a little Ontario town. It was a very quiet place, very sleepy, very slow. She was persuaded to leave home and come to Toronto to enjoy life. It is not merely in the movies that these things happen. Her parents were heartbroken at her disappearance. They asked the Salvation Army to find her and bring her back.

It was a hard task to find her. She had become a poor little bird of passage, flitting here and there, sometimes giving the wrong name, sometimes without a name at all—for her name did not matter. Finally she was found living in a rooming house owned by Chinese, and she was working in a Chinese restaurant.

But she was tired of enjoying life. Toronto had not quite come up to the vision of her dreams.

When she was told that her parents wanted her home again, she burst into tears. It needed little persuasion to make her go back to the quiet sleepy village she had left some months before. The Salvation Army go their reward in a letter of thanks from a grateful father.

"It just requires a little touch sometimes," declares Major Bloss, "to bring people back."

man to go into that sort of thing He folded the passport and handed it back with courtly gesture, first carefully identifying the brave Belgian lady, from the picture of Mrs. Hemingway in the back of the paspotr, as my wife!

The lady whose picture appears in the passport has bobbed hair and has just finished a very successful season of tennis on the Rivera. I will not attempt to describe her, being prejudiced. The brave Belgian lady weighs, perhaps, 180 pounds, has a face like a composite Rodin's group of the Burghers of Calais waiting to be hanged, and sets this face off by a series of accordeon type double chins. This evidence is offered in the case of The People vs. Passports.

It was just after the passage of the knightly official that the Hater got into action. The Hater sat directly opposite us. He had been listening to our conversation in French, and some time back had begun to mutter. He was a small man, the Hater, with his head shaved, rosy cheeks, a big face culminating in a toothbrush mustache. The strain of his rapidly increasing hate was telling on him. It was obvious he could not hold out much longer. Then he burst.

It was just like the time a bath heater blew up on me at Genoa. I could not catch the first eight hundred words. They came too fast. The Hater's little blue eyes were just like a wild boar's. When my ears got tuned to his sending speed the conversation was going something like this:

"Dirty French swine. Rotten French change hyenas. Baby killers. Filthy attachers of defenceless populations. War swine. Swine hounds, etc."

The brave Belgian lady leaned forward into the zone of the Hater's fire and placed one of her twelve-pound fists on the Hater's knee.

"The Herr is not a Frenchman," she shouted at the Hater in German, "I am not French. We talk French because it is the language of civilized people. Why don't you learn to talk French? You can't even talk German. All you can talk is profanity. Shut up!"

It seemed as though we ought to pened. The Hater shut up. He muttered for a time like a subsiding geyser, but he gradually shut up and sat there hating the brave Belgian lady. Once more he broke out as he got up to leave the train at Karisruhe. He was always too fast for me and I didn't get it.

"Qu'es-ce que c'est, ca?" I asked the brave Belgian lady.

She snorted, her most devastating Belgian snort." He makes some Jew. I showed them. We stayed there a week."

We talked finance for a long time. The B B. lady wanted me to tell her confidentially whether the dollar was going to rise or fall in France. She said it would be extremely important if her husband could know that, and she wanted me to tell her so she could tell her husband. I did my best. Luckily she hadn't my address if I am wrong.

Then we talekd about the war. I asked the B. B. lady if she had been in Belgian under the occupation.

"Yes," she said.

"How was it? Pretty bad?" I asked.

"The B. B. lady snorted, her most powerful Belgian snort, "I did not suffer at all."

I believe her. In fact, having travelled with the brave Belgian lady I am greatly surprised and unable to get into Belgium at all, charge against France. But is is not important.

The B. B. lady was travelling through Germany without a passport She avowed that she didn't need a passport anywhere. She and her "mari" were on the same passport and he was in Switzerland on business. If anyone demanded a passport she could always tell them that she was going to meet her husband at Mannheim.

"My husband is a Jew," she said "but he is tres gentil. One time in Frankfurt they would not let us stop the night at a hotel because he was a

PAN BROILED STEAK.

The ideal way to broil steak is to cook it under the gas flame or over the coals or charcoal. It may, however, be possible to use a frying pan. Heat the pan until it is very hot. Wipe the steak and trim it of excessive fat. Put it into the hot pan, turn it almost immediately, and do this once or twice until it is seared on both sides. Then allow it to cook first on one side and then on the other. Remove to a hot platter, add salt and pepper, and saute mushroom caps. Pour mushroom sauce around the steak.

For the sauce, wash, peel caps and remove stems from mushrooms. Cook stems and skins in water for 20 minutes. Strain and use the liquor for the sauce. To the fat left in the pan in which the steak was cooked add a tablespoon of flour and stir until browned. Add one cup of mushroom liquor, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and a little pepper. Cook three minutes, stirring all the time. Strain around the steak. The mushroom caps are cooked in butter 10 minutes.

ENGINEERS WON A CLOSE GAME

Jackson Turned in a First-Class Exhibition on the Mound--Murray Fanned Nine.

Engineers defeated the De Laval Greys in the only close game of the evening by a score of 5 to 3. Owing to the fact that the game could have no bearing on the final winning of the League, it lost some of its interest to both spectators and players. The game developed into a pitchers' battle, in which Jackson had a slight edge by virtue of his excellent fielding. He figured in retiring seventeen of the twenty-one of his oponents who were put out. He fanned five, caught five, and retired seven at first. Murray beat him in the mater of strike-outs, with nine to his credit.

Elliott pulled a single-handed double play in the sixth inning when he speared Rose's liner and tagged Allen off third.

The players were:

Engineers: McCarney, rf; Burgess, 2b; Jackson, p; Langley, 1b; Munro, c; Allen, 3b; Metheral, ss; Rose, lf; Carruthers, ss.

De Laval: Ward, c Cooper, lf; Elliott, 3b; Kennedy, ss; McIntyre, ss; MacFarlane, 1b; Murray, p; Miller, 2b; Feeley, rf.

Questions

ONE—A runner steals second, but overslides and is touched out. Does he get credit for a stolen base?

TWO—Has a batsman who hits the ball the right to stop and retrace his steps toward the plate if he so desires?

THREE—If a fielder muffs a foul fly ball, and the batsman is later retired before reaching first is the muff scored as an error?

FOUR—Ground rule gives batsman two bases on a hit to a certain part of the field. The ball bounds out is recovered and batter is thrown out trying to go to third. What is the ruling?

FIVE—Runner on first starts to steal second field umpire is hit by the ball thrown by the catcher. It goes into right field, and runner tries for third but is thrown out. What about the play?

Answers

ONE—He does not receive credit for a stolen base.

TWO—Batsman can stop between first and home just as between any other bases, if he so desires.

THREE—The fielder is charged with an error on a palpable muff, regardless of what later happens.

FOUR—The ball was dead the moment it went into unrestricted territory. It was impossible to retire the runner, who should have been sent back to second.

FIVE—The ball is in play, and the fielder made a proper play when he threw the runner out at third.

READY FOR THE GREAT PEN RELAYS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 28.—(United Press.)—Of all the enterprises that operate under the commercial slogan of: "Where the promise is fulfilled," the Pennsylvania relay carnival is one that has never failed to deliver.

Billed, year after year, as bigger and better than ever, the competition furnished by the king of all American track and field meets has lived up to the promise with the most remarkable consistency.

Starting tomorrow afternoon in the new stadium of the University of Pennsylvania, thousands of athletes from more than five hundred schools and colleges, ranking from the little novices of the grammar grades to the great champions of the inter-collegiate world, will compete in two days of great sport.

The Pennsylvania relay carnival is the outstanding event of its kind in all the world, both from the prestige that it has established as a pioneer in the field and by the brilliance of its management.

The task of getting order out of chaos resulting from the dumping of a thousand yelping young athletes on a field is a stupendous one and its magnitude is liable to be overlooked as long as there is no reason to figure how it is done. At the Penn relays it is done, and the spectator takes it for granted.

When an event is scheduled on the program for one minute after two, the gun is fired at that exact moment and the next event is started hardly before the prostrate forms of some of the game little runners have been removed from the track. The perfect management of the carnival is the result of a system that has no equal in its line.

There are bound to be many records because the track is one of the fastest in the world, the competition becomes more spirited with each year and the ability of the young athletes is increasing by what can be explained only as a natural process.

Behind the Penn relays are motives beyond the "gate" and the mere production of a big athletic show. The games were conceived with the idea of stimulating an interest in beneficial athletics among school boys and with the notion of getting the beginners on an imposing field among the leaders of the track and field, where they can be inspired by close contact with their big heroes.

It is becoming and more evident that young athletes should be placed in the hands of competent trainers, not that their latest talents might be developed to the maximum, but for the more important reason that they may injure themselves permanently if they are not taught to restrain their and refrain from overdoing things.

One of the first big athletic bodies to take official cognizance of what has long been regarded as an imperative duty to protect school bay athletes was the rules committee of the combined basketball bodies.

It was made a rule, to be enforced by officials, that high school athletes must play four periods of eight minutes each with two minutes' rest between the first and second and third and fourth periods and that boys under the age of fourteen should not play periods longer than six minutes each.

The building minds of baseball, alert against the possibility of having a future $100,000 arm thrown out by pegging too great a distance, several years ago adopted a miniature size diamond for kid players, and the innovation met with immediate success.

More than suggestions may be necessary to carry out the same with school boy runners and jumpers. Some day crack track coaches may organize, like the big football coaches, and then by co-operative methods a system may be adopted whereby the little fellows will not kill themselves trying to run a hundred in ten second, until they have learned how to get the best out of their physical resources and are strong enough to do it.

The danger of trying to do too much is not confined to the youngsters although among them the results of over-exertion are more serious. One of the most promising college athletes on the Pacific Coast was temporarily, if not permanently, thrown of form last year because his coach allowed him, if he did not actually suggest it, to try to become a champion in four or five events.

The idea of specialization is looked upon by the British as something within the first degree of kindred of professionalism. It is argued on the other side that any athlete who can sprint, run and jump should be allowed to do it and should not be allowed to do it and should not be permitted to confine his attention to one particular event for the purpose of becoming more proficient at that particular job.

The theory may be sound, but the results that the British have obtained do not make it an outstanding example to follow.

Charlie Allen Has Injured His Knee.

Pitcher Charlie Allen, the former Lindsay southpaw, who has signed to play with Hillcrests in the Hampden Park League this season, has been confined to bed since last Saturday following an injured knee received while practising at Hampden Park on that day. According to Dr. M. M. Crawford, who is attending him, the portsider will be out of the game for several weeks. He has a loose cartilage of the knee.

While playing with the Varsity O.R.F.U. team last fall against Hamilton Rowing Club, Allen had his knee injured and was laid up for five weeks. In practice Allen looked like one of the best left-handed pitchers seen around Toronto in many years, and his absence from the Hillcrest twirling staff will be a hard blow.

While playing with Lindsay in the Central Ontario League, Allen turned in several clever performances, and on one ocasion entered the hall of fame with a no-hit game.

He is also a good hitter, and was up at the top among the leading clouters in the "league down east."

Sugar has been made recently at Liverpool University by the action of light on carbonic acid.

LINDSAY TEAM NOT SO STRONG

Many of Those Expected to Appear on the Greybird Line-Up Have Been Out of the Game For Some Time.

There has been much speculation regardin gthe line-up of the Greybirds for the opening game, which will be an exhibition affair at Peterboro, on Saturday, May 19.

From all indications says the Lindsay Post, the Greybirds will have a strong home-brew team, this season, and all that is necessary is for the home boys to turn out, and get down to practice. Other teams have been practicing indoors and out of doors. It was stated that Charlie Allen of last year's team, would be on the mound, but his recent injury while playing in Toronto, has put him out of the game. Murchison, who is teaching at Oakwood, and whose home is a few miles out of Lind..y, will be found behind the bat doing the receiving. He caught last year for Newmarket and the year before for Stouffville. He is said to have a good wing and is a good sticker. George Logan is back at Valentia on the farm and is also expected to turn a hand with the Greybirds The Begg Brothers of Cameron, who played in the surrounding country league last year, will be given a try, and both are said to be good Coombs, the first baseman in the Central league, will be at first sack as usual, Orville Ashton, who came along so well last season, will cover second, and Art Carew will be found on third base. The short stop position will likely be filled by Mark, who played for Valentia in the Mariposa League last year, and a brother (W. Mark, of town) will also play for the position. It is hoped to secure the services of Vince Brown, a ball player of note, who is well known around Belleville. Brown has been employed by the C.N.R. for several years out of Lindsay and is at present enthused in softball. The usual squad, Richmond, York, Wetherup, Starr, Williamson, McMahon and others, will be ready for the outfield. It is anticipated also that Dr. Harry Sharpe will turn out with the Birds. Although he has not been in the game for a few years, yet he played good ball for one of the Toronto city teams in his palmy days. Hilton Brown of Flavelles, and Buster McDonald are expected to try for a place B. C. Stone, manager of the Royal Bank, another old ball player, will try out. Wes. Saunders, formerly of the L.C.I., will endeavor to get into shape for the season. Albert Gage of the Post, another old ball player, will turn out to practice with the Birds, as will Peacock, of the Beal Leather Company, an old player

Girl Used Frame-Up Against 'Babe' Ruth.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(Canadian Press)—At a conference in Boston tonight, Babe Ruth and his attorney, Hyman Bushel, will decide whether to go any further with the cast of Delores Dixon, who dropped her $50,000 suit against the home run king today. Miss Dixon has signed a paper in which she admits her charge that Ruth attacked her was a "frame-up" to Bushel.

Bushel stated he desired to confer with Ruth before deciding whether to take any further action toward ferreting out those who are believed to have "arranged" the girl's suit, using her as a tool.

The suit was dropped just as Robert McChesney was about to go on the witness stand before a supreme court justice and give testimony concerning the circumstances under which the suit was planned. Bushel said McChesney, who used to live in the same house with Miss Dixon, heard details arranged.

Bushel said that McChesney would remain in New York for the time being, ready to tell his story to the proper authorities, if desired. He also said he was ready to turn over all his evidence to officials, if it is decided to demand an investigation of the alleged plot back of the suit.

Investigation might lead to important revelations with regard to the individuals who instigated the girl's action. No additional steps will be taken, however, until Ruth is consulted.

OXFORD FIRST IN SPRINT MEDLEY

British and U. S. Athletes on Even Terms at End of First Day—Hamilton Nosed Out.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28 (Canadian Press). — Capturing the college sprint medley relay championship yesterday from the pick of the United States track stars, Oxford University's sturdy band of runners enabled Great Britain to share honours with the United States in the first day's events of the two-day relay carnival under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin Field.

The Britishers, however, were forced to taste defeat in the only other event in which they participated, when C. B. E. Morgan barely ed, when C. B. E. Morgan barely finished sixth in the two-mile international run, won by Walter Higgins of Columbia, intercollegiate cross-country champion, in brilliant fashion.

The Pentathlon, emblematic of the all-round individual championship, developed a new endurance king, when C. West, negro star of Washington and Jefferson, who finished third to Legendre, of Georgetown, last year, triumphed over a picked field.

Oxford's victory over a dozen rivals in the sprint medley was somewhat unexpected, but justified the last-minute decision of the British to enter this event instead of the distance medley.

The great running of Milligan, captain of the British team, in the final relay of a half-mile, clinched the victory. Taking the baton a scant few feet in front, he kept the stride with Newhall, of the Navy, and Brooks, of Georgetown, until the last turn before the stretch. Here Milligan cut loose with a spring that seemed to leave his opponents standing still, and he broke the tape a good 15 yards in front in the fast time of 1.35 4-5.

The interscholastic medley relay championship furnished keen international competition, with Phillips, Exeter Academy, last year's winner, barely nosing out Hamilton Collegiate Institute, of Canada, in a thrilling drive down the stretch between Barnes, the Canadian captain, and Prenderwast, of Exeter.

BRITISH GOLFERS MEET U.S. TODAY

U. S. Players Are After British Amateur Honors at Rye Golf Club.

RYE, Sussex, England, April 28.—(Canadian Press.) — The visiting United States' golf players in quest of British amateur honors will open their campaign to-day in a series of matches over the seaside links of the Rye Golf Club with the top-notch players of the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing Society as their opponents.

The British amateurs include Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered and Bernard Darwin.

E. W. E. Holderness, British amateur champion, and E. H. Gillies, winner of the Royal St. George's Challenge Cup in 1913, will tee off at 10:30 o'clock this morning in a four-ball match with Jesse Sweetser, Siwanoy, and Francis Ouimet, Boston. They will be followed around the links in the forenoon by five other Anglo-American foursomes. In the afternoon two ball foursomes will be played.

The pairings for this morning's four-ball matches follow:

Sweetser and Ouimet against Holderness and Gillies; Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, and S. Davison Herron, Pittsburgh against Tolley and R. H. De Montmorency; F. J. Wright Jr., Los Angeles and Dr. O. P. Willing, Portland, against Wethered and Darwin; Maxwell R. Marston, Philadelphia, and Reginald Lewis, Connecticut State Champion, against A. J. Evans and D. E. Landale; Rotan and John F. Neville, San Francisco, against L. G. Melin and M. A. Powel, and Gardner and Byers against Croome and Storey.

The pairings for the two-ball foursomes in the afternoon are: Sweetser and Ouimet, against De Montmorency and Tolley; Gardner and Marston against Wethered and Darwin; Herron and Johnston against Holderness and Gillies; Willing and Wright against Evans and Landale; Rotan and Lewis against Mellon and Powell; Neville and Byers against Storey and Croome.

BERE MARQUETTE.

Q—Who was Bere Marquette?

A—Bere Marquette was one of the great pioneer Frenchmen of the 17th century who, on April 8, 1668, founded a mission at Sault Ste. Marie. He was one of the band of Jesuits who plunged into the forest ahead of the pioneer. Noticing the redmen gathered at the St. Mary's river to fish he there stayed to preach to them. Later he went further with Joliet and the two were the first white men to see the Mississippi.

BEHRING SEA ARBITRATION.

—What was the Behring Sea arbitration?

A—On March 23, 1893, the Behring Sea Arbitration Tribunal met at Paris to settle the serious friction between Canadian and American sealers in Behring Sea and reached an agreement that though the sea was to be open to all sealers, the seals must not be killed out of season.

CONFEDERATION.

Q—When was Confederation decided upon?

A—Following many conferences and debates, the parliament of Canada, on March 10, 1865, notified the British Parliament that the colonies of Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island were ready for Confederation which was finally accomplished in 1867.

Life Assurance Company of Canada.

You have watched the Sun Life grow from its organization in earlier years to the premier place it now occupies as the largest purely Life Assurance Company in the British Empire, international in its relationships, and adding to the importance and renown of the Dominion of Canada.

Our first thought is one of congratulation that you have been spared to see the completion of a record, which measured in years means more than the average life time. With this, however, is the feeling of deep regret that the enjoyable relations of years of official association are now to be relegated to the past.

May we suggest that such a connection may not be lightly or abruptly set aside. For thereby the tendrils and ties of a most intimate business and personal relation are severed. We cannot forget the wise, encouraging and stimulating assistance you so unstintingly bestowed when most needed. The advice you gave, that we might profit, together with your constant loyalty to our Company, its traditions, practices and objects are what contributed to your own success. All these attributes you succeeded in transmitting in a large degree to your staff.

We are happy in the thought that the passing years have brought their just reward, and that now when the time has come for a well-earned rest, you find yourself in the happy position which is ever the lot of the faithful laborer. And then what a reward—the knowledge of work well done—the possession of the respect and confidence of your fellows, the unfeigned regard and best wishes of your business associates.

All these are yours, sir, and still more. For we venture the thought that if those who came in contact with you during the years gone by and who have passed on could be with us it would be but to join us in saying "Well done, good and faithful servant."

Our parting thought is that the years may continue to bring their blessings, and that you may be favored with the health which has ever been your stay and good fortune.

Put Sun Life on Map.

Referring to Mr. Hill as the man who put the Sun Life on the map in Central Ontario, Mr. Wallace said: "I want to bear public acknowledgement of the fact that Mr. Hill has been more than kind to me since I came to Peterborough a year ago. He has helped me when I needed it and accepted me as a successor in such a manner that no man could have wished for a kinder reception and better treatment. Mr. Hill put the Sun Life on the map in this district in a way that it will stay there, in a manner that was absolutely clean and straight. That is one of the finest features of the Sun Life. Mr. Hill is our guest this evening, and it is only fit and proper that our eulogies to him should come from representatives of the head office."

Mr. Wallace called upon James W. Simpscon, superintendent of Home Agencies to pay tribute to Mr. Hill's service to the company.

Highly Respected.

"I can go back twenty-one years in which I have known Mr. Hill personally and the other nineteen years he was with the company which I know by hearsay," Mr Simpson said. "He started out in life as a school teacher, and when he entered the insurance business the profession of teaching lost a good man. However, I believe that he has been of more benefit to the community in life insurance than he might have been as a teacher. He made good from the start, wrote a large volume of business for those days, and was soon made manager. Mr. Hill is and always has been highly respected at head office; no man in the company more so. He used to make yearly trips to Montreal, and our only complaint was that he didn't come oftener. However, he had his business in such good condition that there wasn't anything to settle. Mr. Hill has done a lot for the Sun Life. It is men like him who have laid the foundation of the Sun Life Assurance Company so securely in Canada and throughout the world."

No matter what might be said, Mr. Simpson continued, the story of Mr. Hill's work in Peterborough would not be half told, and the company offered their tribute to him not only as their manager in this district for so many years, but also to himself personally as a man of high and outstanding character.

Mr. Hill's Reply.

In reply to the glowing encomiums of his hosts, Mr. Hill spoke feelingly of the cordial relations that had always existed between himself and the heads of the company. To them and to his staff in the city and district he expressed his deepest gratitude for their assistance and co-operation. He extolled the Sun Life as one of the greatest institutions in this country and also in the world, ranking next to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and with warm praise for T. B. Macaulay, whom he regarded as a genius whose worth would stand forth in clear perspective a hundred years from now. Mr. Hill turned to reminiscence of his first years in the insurance field. His predecessor, Mr. Waldie, had underwritten business averaging between $35,000 and $40,000 during his last two years in Peterborough before being moved to Kingston.

Company's Vast Strides.

In 1883 his first year with the Sun Life, Mr. Hill's total business amounted to $92,500, and the total for the company was six million dollars with a surplus of $30,000, of which the company was extremely proud.

On December 31st, 1922, the Sun Life had in force $631,000,000. Its business last year amounted to one hundred millions and its surplus had grown to more than fourteen millions. The company's position forty years hence if it continued to prosper at the same rate was something to ponder, Mr. Hill suggested. His own underwriting of $92,500 in his first year was contrasted with his best year's work when the business he produced reached $2,012,000. In the early days the agents rarely wrote more than $1,000 policies. The Sun Life company then ranked fourth to the Canada Life, the Confederation Life and the Ontario Mutual. The Canada Life company had a tremendous business here under the management of Senator Cox To-day, Mr. Hill said, the Sun Life was an outstanding company ranking ninth in business in the entire world. It had been the forerunner in insurance reforms which other companies had decried as dangerous but had subsequently copied.

"The Sun Life Company", he continued, "is founded on character the only true and permanent foundation, and with men of character at the head of the institution and its divisions I see no reason why the Sun Life should into continue its success, so that we shall always be proud of it as the years roll by."

Paying a special tribute to Mr. Dyer of Port Hope and Mr. Moore of the Peterboro office whom he described as an exceedingly valuable man the company would not forget, Mr. Hill appealed to the ambition of the agents throughout the field.

"Napoleon said that every private had a marshall's baton in his knapsack, and the same may be said of the staff in Central Ontario. Everyone of you may have a manager's baton, and I expect to see some of those before me become managers. One of the secrets of success is service. He profits most who serves best. Give service and the public will patronize you. Take an active part in affairs, be well known and highly respected and of blameless character. The Sun Life is known according to the standard of the men who represent it. The agent's character should be blameless because he represents one of the greatest organizations in existence. It is a pleasure to leave the company with the high standards it has built up. I congratulate you on my successor. I have the highest regard for Mr. Wallace. He is a young man energetic and tactful, and one of the best canvassers I know. He is a leader of men, and I believe the interests of the company are safe in his hands. You may be assured that you will have his support to the fullest extent. I also congratulate Mr. Wallace on the staff I see before me. I wish you all every success, this year and in the years to come, and I shall always be happy to hear of your success in the years to come."

Mr. Wallace in a concluding assertion that it was difficult to follow in the footsteps of a man like Mr. Hill appealed to the district staff for their loyal support, and thanked them for the co-operation they had rendered in his first year. He also thanked Mr. Hill for his kindly reference.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

You enjoy every moment of "The Woman He Married," the feature at the Royal Theatre. It began a three-day run there Thursday, and should draw a capacity house tonight.

The inimitable Anita Stewart is the star of this First National attraction, and it has been directed by Fred Niblo, the genius who made "The Three Musketeers." Their combined talents have turned an excellent story into one of the best motion pictures it has been our good fortune to see in many months.

The theme is undying love—the love a wife holds for her husband and which inspires her to make every sacrifice possible for his sake. Miss Stewart as the wife of the young millionaire, who sticks to him loyally through the storms that break soon after their marriage, makes an appealing figure. Darrel Foss is cast as the young husband, and none could have portrayed the difficult role better than he.

The story contains some sharp contrasts between the "classes," and has been developed with such suspense and dramatic incidents that it holds one rapt until the end.

We are glad to place "The Woman He Married" in the category of "better pictures."

With the feature is an excellent programme of short subjects, including a particularly lively and funny round of the new "Leather Pushers," the serial, "The Radio King," and a Buster Keaton comedy.

MARION DAVIES IN SPLENDID PICTURE

Said to be one of the most delightful pictures in which Marion Davies, beautiful Cosmopolitan star in Paramount pictures, has ever appeared is "Adam and Eva," which comes to the Capitol Theatre next Monday for three days. Its scenes range from the fashionable home of a capitalist, to a farm where much of the action finally develops.

"Adam and Eva," adapted for the screen from the famous stage comedy by Guy Bolton and George Middleton, was directed by Robert G. Vignola, creator of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," also starring Miss Davies. In support of Miss Davies is an excellent cast, including such well-known players as T. Roy Barnes, Tom Lewis, William Norris, Percy Ames, Leon Gordon, Lucila Gear, William Davidson, and Edward Douglas.

One of the most striking and beautiful scenes ever filmed is the Venetian carnival scene in "Adam and Eva." This scene brings into play all the atmosphere of Venice, including a festival barge, a fleet of six gondolas and a Venetian canal. The carnival scene was taken at the beautiful Laddin's Rock Farm, near Stamford, Conn., where the opening scenes of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" were filmed. Its construction cost more than $40,000. During the "shooting" of this scene, Miss Davies and her supporting players worked four "days" from sunset to sunrise, this particular action of the picture calling for nothing but night scenes.

AT THE GRAND.

There is an exceptional movie combination of story, cast and leading man in "The Three Must-Get-Theres." Max Linder's very newest screen comedy, made for Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation, which is the feature attraction for to-day at the Grand Opera House.

Max Linder, famous international comedy favorite, who has been absent from the screen for some time, returns to the certain delight of his hosts of admirers in the stellar role of his picture which as the title implies is a burlesque film version of the great Dumas' romance, "The Three Musketeers." And in this five-reel feature Linder gives one of the very best performances of his many splendid ones. In addition to his own sterling fun and laugh-provoking work, Mr. Linder is ably supported by a cast of comedy players that is seldom equally and certainly never excelled.

MAX LINDER in "THE THREE MUST-GET-THERES"

"The Three Must-Get-Theres" is genuine comedy in all that the word means. There isn't any "rough stuff," so-called, but there are more laughs to the minute and fewer opportunities for the spectator to get a straight face than in any laugh feature that has been produced for more than one movie season. This Linder comedy will run only to-day at the Grand.

SIDEWALK CYCLISTS TO PAY FOR THEIR CHOICE

Cycling on the sidewalk cost three men $6.00 each in the Police Court, and a number of boys were brought before Chief Newhall and warned to cease the practice.

Most of the offenders were from East City, where the nuisance is prevalent.

Many citizens have complained of this practice, and Chief Newhall gave notice that no further warnings will be given.

Most of the cases show the offenders to be men who stayed at home until they had to rush to their places of business, and took the sidewalk route in order to travel faster.

Cycling and coasting on the sidewalks of the city are offences against the by-law.

WEDDING BELLS

BRADLEY—WARMAN

A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized in Park street church manse at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. W. E. Morrow, when Minnie Elsie Warman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warman of Albert street ,became the bride of Samuel James Bradley, son of Mrs. Mary Bradley, 33 Lafayette avenue.

The young couple left on the 3.50 C. P. R. train to Toronto. On their return they will reside in the city.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM THOMAS ELLIOTT

William Thomas Elliott, a veteran railway engineer, died very suddenly at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his residence, 257 Stewart street.

The late Mr. Elliott came to Peterboro from Madoc seven years ago. He was in the service of the Grand Trunk Railway from 1870 to 1916, and for 35 years operated a train on the run from Madoc to Belleville. His wife pre-deceased him on May 19, 1921 The deceased was born in Dumfries, Scotland, and was affiliated with the Sons of Scotland Association in Madoc He had received shortly before his death an honorary medal for 40 years membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers

There are left to mourn his loss five sons and four daughters, Jack of Barrie; David of Midland; Herbert of Lindsay; William of Allandale; Fred of Peterboro; Mrs E. A. Taylor of Peterboro; Mrs. E. Sanderson of Minneapolis; Mrs. J. K. Milne of Toronto, and Mrs. W. F. Leader, at home.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. James A. MacKenzie of Knox Church officiating.

HENRY CARVETH.

After a lingering illness, Henry Carveth passed away yesterday afternoon at his home, 390 Charlotte Street. Mr. Carveth was 80 years of age, and had lived in Peterborough practically all his life, coming here from Douro. He was widely known in the city as a builder and contractor, and also as a member of St. Peter's Holy Name Society and the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association. Some of Mr. Carveth's work stands in the city as a lasting monument, among his outstanding achievements being the building of the Fire Hall, the Police Station, St. Peter's School, the recent remodelling of St. Peter's Church and the construction of many private houses. He was for many years a valued member of the Separate School Board.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, five daughters and one son: Mrs. F. Hall, of Toronto; Mrs. F. Conroy, of Edmonton; Veronica, of Toronto; Sister Seraphine, of Port Arthur Hospital, Port Arthur; Frances at home, and Thomas, of Buffalo.

He is also survived by three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Michael Ouinlan, Mount Pleasant, Michigan; Mrs. W. Boyland and Mrs. L. Boyland, Peterborough, and Richard Carveth, of Indian River.

The funeral will be held on Monday at 9 a.m. from his late residence to St. Peter's Church, Rev. Father Costello officiating. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE DREW A LARGE CROWD

The Grand Opera House was filled to almost capacity last evening for the second performance of the big Pageant by the various classes of the local Young Women's Christian Association, under direction of Miss Carolina F. Littlefield .The audience was intensely appreciative of the varied programme which brought out so well the progress in athletic development as well as the artstic elements in the dancing ability of the youthful performers. The tiny tots and little boys with their interpretive numbers, received repeated applause, in fact, every well-executed number was greeted with enthusiasm. The Junior Class, which gave the Highland Fling, appeared from the front of the house, led by the tall piper, David Grant, in his Highland regalia. The Swedish exercises by the special Senior Class, gave a well-received exhibition of a type of physical exercise with which the general public is not very familiar, and formed an especially interesting portion of the gymnastic showing.

The directress, Miss Caroline Littlefield, received several beautiful bouquets of flowers last evening, as an expression of appreciation from the different classes, and the pianiste, Miss Gwen Donley, was also the recipient of flowers.

UNITED STATES BACKS ALLIES AT CONFERENCE

Turks Thought United States Would Abandon Previous Stand.

LAUSANNE, April 28.— (Special). — The action of the United States in backing the Allies against Turkey in the matter of capitulation, threw the Near East conference into still further dissension to-day. The Turks, who recently granted the Chester group of America valuable oil leases and concessions in Anatolia, have professed their belief that the United States would abandon its previous stand and side with them on the capitulations issue.

Joseph C. Grew, head of the American delegation, however, clearly dissipated these hopes by intervening in the debtae and making plain ing in the debate and making plain The American government, he said, would never consent to any proposition that rights acquired in a treaty could be abrogated by action such as was taken by the Turks in 1914.

The Turks maintained that the treaties made before the war were abrogated by the war.

SPECIAL ADDRESS TO YOUNG PEOPLE

Evening Subject at St. Andrew's "Men Who Create Movements."

A subject that is of unusual interest to young people and to others as well ,will be taken as the basis of the evening sermon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to-morrow evening. "Men Who Create Movements" will be discussed by Rev. Jas. Rollins in a manner that should attract another large audience and be distinctly helpful.

The singing by the choir of St. Andrew's will be appropriate. Miss Gorrie will sing at both morning and evening services.

DAYLIGHT SAVING BEGINS ON SUNDAY IN EASTERN STATES

People of 350 Cities and Towns Will Start Working and Playing on the Summertime Schedule.

NEW YORK, April 28.— (Associated Pres.)—Daylight saving time will begin at 2 a.m. to-morrow under local ordinances in about 350 cities and towns in a group of Eastern states, as well as a few scattered middlewestern cities. Massachusetts is the only state having a daylight saving statute. The new time will continue until 2 a.m., September 30.

New York and New Jersew are the principal states in the eastern time zone in which under local ordinances, clocks will be advanced one hour, while about 50 scattered cities and towns in New England, outside of Massachusetts, will observe day light saving either by local ordinance or by common consent. Daylight saving throughout Massachusetts was assured by the recent action o fthe House in refusing to consider further the repeal of the present statute.

In Connecticut attempts to prevent daylight saving time failed earlier this month when the state Senate defeated an anti-daylight saving bill, which the House previously had passed. The bill provided for a fine of $100 or ten days' imprisonment, or both ,for the wilful display of any but standard time in public places. Some members of the legislature considered that the bill even applied to wrist watches . Members from the rural districts opposed any change in time.

The Common Council of Hartford recently voted for daylight saving, after the failure of an attempt in the legislature to have a referendum on the question. Hartford, so far as known, is the only municipality in the state to take this action. Last year such cities as New Haven, Hartford, New London, Norwalk, Bridgeport, New Britain, Meriden, Waterbury and others in the manufacturing districts observed daylight saving by common consent, or by earlier working hours, without advancing clocks.

In Delaware, where Wilmington and Newport last year observed daylight saving time under local ordinances, an anti-daylight saving bill this year passed the legislature and became law without the governor's signature. There was talk of the possibility of court action against the law, which compels courts, public offices and banks to operate on eastern standard time.

Tenative arrangements have been made by the Merchants' Association of New York to have Marcus M. Marks, president of the National Daylight Saving Association, who launched the movement in 1915 broadcast throughout the United States by radio an address on the advantages of the new time, with the view of augmenting the number of cities which have adopted it.

England and Belgium are among some of the European countries which observe five months of daylight saving, beginning the latter part of April.

Advocates of the new time here declare the principal objections to daylight saving, originating mostly in the rural districts, have been exploded by results of tests at the Massachusetts state experimental farms and by those farmers who do advocate daylight saving.

Many farmers have contended that crops could not be cultivated early in the morning when dew still is on the plants, but this argument, daylight saving proponents say, was reduced to the case of one plant — beans. Subsequently, it was added, one Massachusetts farmer, an advocate of daylight saving, cultivated a record crop of beans while still dew-laden, prior to 6 a.m.

MAN AND WOMAN TO HANG NEXT WEDNESDAY

LETHBRIDGE, April 28.—(Canadian Press).—Unless a reprieve or commutation of sentence is granted by the Cabinet Council in the meantime, Emilio Piccarillo and Mrs. Florence Lassandra will go to the gallows here next Wednesday to pay the penalty for the murder of Provincial Constable Steve Lawson at Cotemain last September, a new trial having been refused by the Supreme Court and Appeal Court of Alberta.

LINDSAY BOY GETS A YEAR FOR THEFT OF CAR

OSHAWA, April 28.—The young Lindsay man who recently stole an automobile, the property of Bruce Glover, of Whitby, and drove it to a point near Greenbank, where it stalled, and where he was captured by the local police, was sentenced to serve one year in the Ontario Reformatory in police court by Magistrate A. F. Hind. The prisoner admitted his guilt.

REIGN OF BEIGE

By HEDDA HOYT.

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 28.—(United Press).—Beige offers a "piece de resistance" to the woman who is afraid of the fanciful color combinations which are so overwhelmingly popular this season.

Black, blues and browns have taken a back seat as far as the summer wardrobe is concerned and the woman who wants to be just a little bit different from the Egyptian garbed feminity of today, turns to beige.

For several years we have been flirting with the use of beige, employing it for minor details of dress rather than for complete garments, until today many of our fashionable accessories are made of this shade. Beige stockings and gloves have become staple. This year we have beige-dyed fox, beige-dyed ermine and beige-dyed carecul leading above all other summer furs.

Now comes the beige evening gowns defying the vivid shades with its gentility and softness. Many of these are created of georgette or chiffon, trimmed in Spanish or Bohemian lace panels or overskirts, the lace being dyed to match the material of the gown. Again we see them beaded in designs of floral colorings, in which case they are low-necked and sleeveless for strict evening purposes. Whether boufiant or with straight fitting skirts the bodices are always long and semi-fitted. Contrast may be affected by using costume slips of harmonizing colors, such as burnt orange or Nile green.

Hats of Beige.

The fluffy summer frock of organdy is equally smart in beige tones and can be worn more generally than the organdy of more brilliant colors. Hats of beige for summer wear are already shown on Fifth avenue. Some of them are turbans made of tulle with finely pleated bows at one side, while others are large hair shapes trimmed in flowers.

* * *

Another summer hat which can be worn with the dressy frock is the blaik lace-trimmed leghorn. Combining wide black lace with leghorn is quite new and can be extremely lovely. Usually the upper brim is covered with the lace allowing a narrow border to extend over the brim. A cluster of flowers among the newer sports hats are those wide brimmed affairs of neutral colors with hand painted flowers covering the crown and upper brim. If one is adept at painting or stenciling a very pretty hat can be made out of an inexpensive one.

* * *

Tucks and tiny ruffles adorn the 16 button silk gloves for summer. Champagne and pearl grey will be more popular than white for the elbow length glove of silk.

* * *

Organdy collar and cuff sets will be worn again this season. Often the organdy edgings purchased by the yard are prettier than the ready-made sets. Ecru is preferable to white, unless white is embroidered in oriental colorings, as dead white is seldom becoming about the face.

* * *

Handkerchiefs to match the frock are the newest things in accessories. Not only must the handkerchief be colored, but it must be the exact color of the gown. In New York many girls have their "totem" embroidered on their handkerchiefs and lingerie believing that this brings them luck. Some of them have elephants, others turtles; others cats. They select the animal that they most admire and use him as a lucky emblem.

TO UNVEIL A MEMORIAL TO MRS. MASSEY-COOKE

To-morrow morning at 11 o'clock a memorial will be unveiled in St John's church in memory of Mrs. Massey-Cooke . Members of the G. W.V.A. will take part in the service and will parade to the church at 10.30 a.m. The memorial was presented by Captain Massey-Cooke.

Mr. Art Donoghue, of the advertising department of the Canadian National Railways, Toronto, has been home during the week visiting his parents at 586 Charlotte street, before leaving for the western division at Winnipeg, where he has been transferred.

Miss Agnes Logan will take part next week in the Ontario Musical Competition in Toronto.

Mrs. J. Lynch of Otonabee, is in Montreal, called there by the death of her sister, Mrs. William Holdship.

Mrs. Thomas Hardy, 370 Hunter street, whose husband died recently has returned to her former home in England, leaving this week for New York to sail to-day.

Miss Mathilde Masson is singing in the Ontario Musical Competition Festival in Toronto next week.

A number of people were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. McKee Bingham, 58 Benson Street, on the occasion of a vocal recital given by two of the advanced pupils of Mr. Bingham. Miss Trucie Pearson of this city and Miss Mable Money of Millbrook. The two young ladies gave a splendid programme of lovely music, which received enthusiastic praise from their audience. Miss Money has a deep, rich contralto voice, with warm, full expressive powers, while Miss Pearson is possessed of a clear soprano of wide range. Both excelled in their artistic interpretation, careful phrasing, and enunciation. Little Arthur Wood presented the singers with beautiful bouquets of flowers at the close of their recital. Among those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Blagrave, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Neal Dr. and Mrs. F. Wood and Arthur Wood, Mrs. W. R. Blackwell, Mrs. E. W. Borbridge, Mrs. W. A. Logan, Mrs. P. Hooper, Mrs. F. L. Goodwill, Mrs. H. Wightman, Mrs. H. Pearson, Mrs. J. H. Seels, Mrs. H. W. Donnelly, Miss J. Redmond, Miss Edna Borbridge, Misses Gollon, Bennett, and Davidson, Mr. F. M. DelaFosse. Visitors from Millbrook were Misses Lancashire, Collins, M. Smith, Hood, and O'Brien. The work of Miss Isobel Donnelly who played the accompaniments for the entire programme, was especially good, evidencing a sympathetic interpretation on the part of the young pianist.

MORE GIFTS FOR PASTOR AND LADY

Ladies' Aid Bid Farewell to Rev. J. A. and Mrs. MacKenzie.

On Tuesday evening last Knox Manse was visited by more than 70 members of the Ladies' Aid of the church, who came to say good-bye to Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie, and to wish them all success and happiness in their future home. The following address was read by Mrs. Robert Martin, president of the Society:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie,

It is with feelings of regret that we, the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Knox Church, and other ladies of the congregation, have assembled here this evening to say good-bye and to wish you every blessing in your new field of labour. During the eight years in which you have lived among us, you have in your official capacity in the church with which you are connected, and in your private life, endeared yourselves to us. We honour you for your generosity, which has been manifested in many acts of charity, of which only those who have been most closely associated with you are aware. You have ever kept before you the highest ideals in connection with our home, business, and Christian life, and if in the past we have failed to attain to the high standard you have set for us, we hope that in the future the seed you have so patiently sown may bear much fruit. As a slight token of our esteem, we ask you to accept this lamp and comforter, and our earnest prayer is that you may be spared for many years to carry on the Master's work.

(Signed)
President, Mrs. Robert Martin.
Treasurer, Mrs. George Davis.
Secretary, Mrs. N. Henry.
Committee, Mrs. D. Beavis, Mrs. J. Wylie, Mrs. J. Pollock, Mrs. J. Preston, Mrs. Jas. Jackson.

During the reading of the address Mrs. Preston presented Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie with a very handsome parlour lamp, while Mrs. Pollock presented them with a lovely down comforter.

Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie both replied to the address, and thanked the ladies for these very beautiful tokens of their goodwill. Mr. MacKenzie spoke of the great work that had been done in the church by the ladies, and thanked them for their loyal and efficient support all through the years.

After singing "For they are jolly good fellows," dainty refreshments were served by the ladies. Before leaving, the company joined in one verse of "Blest be the tie that binds."

CUNO'S PLANS MAY NOT MEET FRENCH NEEDS

German Chancellor Will Likely Be Below the Objective Set by France—Little Headway.

TO RAISE A LOAN

PARIS, April 30. — (Canadian Press).—The French Government, it was stated here to-day, expects that reparation proposals being framed by Chancellor Cuno, will offer less than twenty billion gold marks in cash. The Chancellor, according to the French, is expected to propose that this sum be raised by an international loan, the balance of the reparations to be determined by an international committee of experts.

French official circles express themselves as very pessimistic concerning the prospects of any headway resulting from the proposals. A high official in the Foreign Office stated that the impression was that Chancellor Cuno was not making the offer with any idea of coming to a real settlement, but for the purpose of bringing forward such points favorable to Germany as he thinks may be possible.

The British, United States and Italian Ambassadors conferred today with Chancellor Cuno regarding Germany's new reparation offer, says a Central News despatch from Berlin this afternoon.

To mark the occasion in a fitting way, the local branch led the twenty three other Canadian branches in the total amount of business in their first anniversary month.

The happy throng numbering over fifty, made up of salesmen, their wives, visiting managers and a few friends, voted it one of the peppiest and most enjoyable evenings ever spent.

Mr. Edie as chairman, filled that position in a capable manner, his main talk being a review of the fine progress of the Peterboro Office since its opening a year ago, and the excellent opportunity for future growth.

Mr. E. W. Joy, Sales Manager of the Ontario District gave a very interesting talk featuring the growth of the organization from a half million dollar business in 1916 to a twelve million dollar turnover in 1922. Mr. Joy concluded his talk by announcing the promotion of Mr. A. J. Tingley, formerly of Peterboro, to the position of Assistant Manager, with headquarters at North Bay.

A special feature of the evening was the fine rendering of "My Dear Soul," and "The Little Brown Owl" by Mrs. Charles McDonald, accompanied by Mrs. G. B. Edie.

Mr. F. W. White Jr. Manager of the Hamilton factory, gave a spirited address featuring the fine personal record of the local manager.

Mr. Phillips was engaged to supply the laughs, which he certainly did with his original comic songs and acting.

On Sunday morning, after an auto mobile trip through Peterborough the out of town guests, some of whom had come from as far as 400 miles north, and having never seen Peterboro, before, unanimously agreed it to be one of the finest of its size they had ever seen for beautiful scenery, combined with general progressiveness.

RECEIVED FIRST COMMUNION

At nine o'clock Mass at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning, forty-two little girls and twenty-eight little boys, ranging in age from six to seven years, received their first Holy Communion. The children's choir sang for the little things, who exhibited great devotion and reverence, the little girls clothed in white, with long veils, the little boys with large white ribbon bows around the left sleeves of their immaculate black suits.

The devotion of the Forty Hours commenced yesterday at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Beginning with next Sunday, May 6th, hours for Masses at St. Peter's Cathedral will revert to the summer-time schedule of 7.30, 9.00 and 10.30 a.m.

I.O.O.F. AND THE NEEDS OF RACE

Oddfellows and Similar Organizations Extolled for Work in Strengthening of Character.

Peterborough Oddfellows celebrated the 104th anniversary of the Order by attending George street Methodist church last night. The centre of the church was filled by the visiting brethren, and the choir for the occasion was composed entirely of members of the Order. The usual good congregation which marks the George street services was augmented to such an extent last night as to tax the capacity of the church.

In a masterly exposition of the needs of present day civilization for a strengthening of character, and mentioning the ways in which the Order of Oddfellows and similar organizations help in this work, Rev. W. Harold Young pointed to Abraham as a fit subject for emulation by this age. Abraham is mentioned in the Bible as a man rich in worldly possesions, but he was thousands of times richer in character, as is learned from a study of his life of unselfishness, kindness and humility. In the contemplation of riches of gold and silver these things often go unheeded and unnoticed, and yet it is the richness of character that counts. Abraham had gold and silver and cattle, but the big fact about his life is that whatever else he had, the stuff of which real manhood is made was in his heart. Courage, integrity, consecration honour and faith— these are the riches of true manhood. These things or the absence of them mark us out as men of influence or men of no account.

Goodness is Nobility.

True manhood and womanhood, the speaker pointed out, are built on sympathy and tenderness, courage and strength, integrity and honour, justice and purity, and out of these things arises the knowledge that the only nobility is in being good.

Abraham was good, too, in the spirit of unselfish service. When he offered Lot his choice of the fertile land on the one side and the barren expanse of hill and desert on the other, he showed this spirit. That spirit is just as much needed to-day as in Abraham's day, and the wise man knows to-day that the reward of selfishness in the end is a shrivelled soul.

Selfishness, greed and self-indulgence start like cancer— no larger than the point of a pin. The way to combat the insidious growth is to realize from the start that we have no right to all our rights. "One of the things the world demands today," the speaker said, "is the spirit of unselfish service, the spirit of the helping hand."

Remarking that all secret societies take not of the mystery of death, and that no matter how we cry after our loved ones who have passed through its portals no answering call comes back, the speaker concluded by urging in this crisis in man's life confidence in God. "The stern stuff of which manhood is made, the unselfish service, make men strong and willing to look with confidence on the darkest hour which everyone of us is called on to face."

Acceptable Music .

The music, under the direction of John H. Renwick, was led by Oddfellows from all churches in the city. The anthem was "Lord of Our Life" and a quartette composed of Messrs Albert Lee, H. Taylor, Bert Cudmore and E. Baldry rendered very acceptably "Watchman, What of the Night," Charles Tinney, of the Toronto Male Quartette, sang, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

A full attendance of all taking part in May Queen is requested for to-morrow night at 8 sharp.

PREMIER KING'S ANTI-COMBINE BILL REVIEWED

Important Piece of Legislation Aimed to Conserve Trade and Commercial Interests.

FULLEST INQUIRY

At the present session of the Federal Parliament, discussion is being carried on relative to a very important piece of legislation introduced by Prime Minister King, viz., an anti-Combine Bill embodied in an Act to provide for the investigation of Combines, Monopolies, Trusts and Mergers, which shall be deemed, on complaint and investigation, "to be operating or likely to operate to the detriment of or against the interest of the public, whether consumers, producers or others," and that shall be discovered to be restraining or injuring trade or commerce by the use of unlawful measures.

Registrar and Commission.

By the provision of this proposed piece of legislation, a "Registrar of the Combines Investigation Act" shall be appointed, whose duty it shall be to receive, register and bring at once to the attention of the Minister charged with the general administration of the Act, all applications for investigation of alleged combines as shall, in his opinion, after thorough inquiry, be regarded as justifiable. Complaints of such combines, either actually existing, or in the making, may be made by any resident of Canada who is of the full lage of twenty-one years.

The Registrar shall have authority to demand from any suspected corporation a full disclosure of any information demanded, and also the power of access to premises and books, preceding a full examination of such books and premises, which may be held by commissioners appointed by the Governor in Council. These commissioners shall have authority to summon and examine witnesses on oath, and to order production of such books, records or articles as they may deem expedient in the progress of such an investigation, such witnesses being liable on non attendance, to a term of imprisonment not exceeding six months and a maximum fine of $1,000 or to both fine and imprisonment. The fixed powers of the Commission are also very broad with regard to administration of oaths, taking of evidence in foreign countries, conduct of proceedings, etc. the reports of such investigations to be given to any person or newspaper applying for same.

Further Procedure.

The Minister charged with administration of the Act then remits to the Attorney-General of the province in which the alleged combine is operating full returns of the proceedings of the commission holding the investigation for his consideration, Failing action by him within three months' time, the Solicitor General of Canada may, upon representation of the case, permit an information to be laid against such an alleged combine.

By the provisions of this Act, the owner or holder of a patent who makes use of his exclusive rights to unduly limit production or restrict or injure trade shall be liable to revocation of such patent rights. The wording of the Act, however, does not apply in any way to combinations of workmen or employees for their own reasonable protection.

The penalty for formation or operation of a combine, as defined by the proposed act, is placed at $10,000 and two years' imprisonment in the case of an individual, and a fine not exceeding $25,000 for a corporation.

Safeguard to Public

A safeguard to the buying public is contained in Section 23 of the proposed act, which says: "Whenever, from or as a result, of an investigation under the provisions of this Act, or from or as a result of a judgment of the Supreme Court or Exchequer Court of Canada or of any superior court, or circuit, district or county court of Canada, it appears to the satisfaction of the Governor in Council that with regard to any article of commerce, there exists any combine to promote unduly the advantage of manufacturers or dealers at the expense of the public and if it appears to the Governor in Council that such disadvantage to the public is facilitated by the duties of custom imposed on the article, or an any life article, the Governor in Council may direct either that such article be admitted into Canada free of duty or that the duty thereon be reduced to such amount or rate as will in the opinion of the Governor-in-Council, give the public the benefit of reasonable competition."

BAPTIST PASTOR HAS GOOD WORD FOR THE STAGE

Dr. C. Woelfkin Also Criticizes Some Long-Standing Church Doctrines as Reactionary.

URGES TOLERANCE

NEW YORK, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, pastor of the wealthy Park Avenue Baptist Church, often called "Rockefeller Church," has aroused considerable discussion by his sermon yesterday, in which he criticised some long-standing Baptist doctrines as re-actionary, and urged his congregation to abandon them. He defended the stage and had a good word for Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Christian Science.

"Our practice of excluding members of other denominations unless they are baptized again in our rite is out of harmony with the spirit that is growing in the churches," he declared. "Do you suppose that in heaven, when Communion is celebrated, that John Calvin, John Knox and John and Charles Wesley and other great leaders in the non-Baptist world will be denied the privilege of sitting with Baptists?" he asked.

"We need greater tolerance for the various religious sects and fads that are spring up about the fringes of older churches. I do not regard them as heretical; they are the result of a spiritual urge on the part of people who are seeking what they think the Church cannot furnish them." It was learned to-day that some of the church officers, including Mr. Rockefeller, who favor an "open church," plan to submit a resolution on that subject during the week.

SEEDING NO LATER THAN LAST YEAR

John McIntosh Says Work Was Delayed More in 1916.

John McIntosh of North Monaghan, former reeve of the township, refutes the impression that the agricultural year has opened unusually late. According to his records he started seeding this season on the same date as last year, April 25th, which he also reports as the opener in 1917. The latest date for the commencement of seeding since 1912 was in 1916, when operations were delayed until April 28th. In each case work began several days earlier in preparing the land.

Mr. McIntosh's record is as follows:

1913, April 21; 1914, April 14; 1915, April 21; 1916, April 28; 1917, April 25; 1918, April 16; 1919, April 23; 1920, April 20; 1921, April 7; 1922, April 25; 1923, April 25th.

"It's not the early opening that counts," Mr. McIntosh remarked, "it's the weather. In 1921 we started the earliest in eleven years, but the crop was light because the season was hot and dry."

Large Decrease in Cigarette Smoking Due to Taxation

That there has been a large decrease in cigarette smoking, due directly to the increased cost through taxation, is the report of Peterborough tobacconists That this is in line with experiences all over the Dominion is shown by a statement issued by C. S. Richardson, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Cigar and Tobacco Association, who states that increasing the duty on cigarettes has resulted in a direct loss to the Dominion treasury of more than three and a half million dollars gross.

FIELD OF ICE DELAYS SHIPS

Fifty Steamers Held Up by Marine Trap That Reaches Out to the Atlantic.

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Solid field of heavy closed packed ice, stretching between Cape Breton coast to Newfoundland and far south into Atlantic was estimated this morning to be blocking progress of fifty steamers and other craft. Exact number of vessels caught in this marine trap was not known and local shipping agents and offices could obtain little information. Two ships nearest to Cape Breton coast are S. S. Kyle of Reid Newfoundland Company, bound from Port Aux Basques to North Sydney and Government steamer Montcalm proceeding out of Gulf of St. Lawrence from Quebec. S. S. Kyle with broken propeller was making little progress and her exact position was not known.

JAMES GATES D.C. IS AGAIN ON JOB

Captured Four This Morning - Incinerator Awaits the Wanderer.

The dog catching season opened this morning with a bag of four canines before 9.30 a.m., all of which were released with a caution to their respective owners.

The city's dog-catcher, James Gates, points out that no more warnings will be given. When he finds a dog running at large without a tag he will escort the animal to the incinerator, where it will be destroyed. If the dog wears a tag he will be handed over to his owner on payment of $1 to the catcher, or, in default of payment, the owner will be brought into court, where the fine may be $6.

ALBERTA COAL WILL NOT BE BROUGHT IN

No Alberta coal will be brought to Peterborough according to present indications, Mr. Robert Hicks told the Examiner to-day. Amongst the objections are the freight rate and the doubt as to storing qualities.

The freight rate handicap may be overcome, but if the coal is liable to deteriorate in storage there is no expectation that coal dealers will order it.

ROTARY HEARS ABOUT BIG BEN AND ITS CAREER

Story of Western Clock Company Told by Rotarian De Graw to Club Members.

NEW COMMITTEES

That the Western Clock Company, which started in La Salle, Ill., in 1884, with nothing but an idea, has now a working staff of 2,500, and turns out 20,000 clocks a day, while the Peterborough plant, which began here in 1920, employs 115 people and has an output of 1,000 clocks a day,, were interesting figures given the Rotary Club today in a most enjoyable talk at the weekly luncheon by Rotarian Orley DeGraw of the Westclox Company, who spoke on his classification to the great profit of his fellow-members.

President V. J. McElderry presided, and among the guests were Rev. Mr. Lloyd, of St. John's Church, and Mr. Gerald McClelland.

Pesident McElderry, at the beginning of the luncheon, emphasized the necessity of constant attendance by reading Crawford McCullough's remarks upon this important matter, and Rotarian Jas. Hamilton, chairman of the Attendance Committee, announced that the committee were aiming at four 100 per cent. attendance meetings during May. Six committees were being appointed to see that the attendance was kept up to the mark.

Rotarian Hugh Bertram read a report on the splendid results attained in the supplying of milk by the Rotary Club to the children of several public school classes. A systematic increase in weight was reported.

President McElderry announced that the Get-the-Goods Committee would consist of G. A. Gillespie (chairman), Frank Linton, Jack Primeau and Noble Kelly, while the New Work Committee would be composed of E. B. Fowler (chairman), Thos. Barrie, S. R. Armstrong, H. R. H. Kenner and Peter Westby.

Reid Wrenn was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his great assistance to Rotary in preparing the weekly bulletins, and it was announced that he would be relieved of his task and the work undertaken by Rev. Harold Young.

In his most interesting talk, Rotarian DeGraw told of the early experiences of the Western Clock Company, which commenced operations in La Salle, Ill., as the United Clock Company, working upon a new idea in the manufacture of alarm clocks. The first venture was not a success because those who were associated with the company were not business men, but the reorganization of the company into the Western Clock Company and the installation of Mr. E. Roth, now the president of the concern as manager, started the company on its way to success, with the result that 2,500 people are now employed and 20,000 clocks a day are turned out at the La Salle plant.

The speaker emphasized the part advertising had played in this success, giving a most interesting biography of the former advertising manager of the company, Mr. G. A. Laroy, who was killed in the first year of the war, fighting for his native France. Mr. Laroy's advertising campaign, inaugurated in 1910, had been so quickly successful, that in one year the capacity of the plant had been doubled, and Big Ben became the best known clock in the world.

Speaking of the local company, Mr. DeGraw stated that it had commenced in January, 1920, on about the same scale as the original plant, and now it gave employment to 115 people, of whom only four came from across the line. It was the principal of the company to train local workers, and it had been found that watches or clocks could be made under such conditions here equal in every way to the American product.

Another principle was that the most satisfactory work was secured from the most satisfied employees, and, accordingly, different plans to improve the conditions of the workers were adopted, a group insurance system two years ago, and the addition of a total disability clause a year later, while $360,000 has been set apart by the directors as the nucleus of a pension fund, the details of which have not been yet worked out.

Rotarian Frank Linton was thanked by the president for his excellent work as treasurer for two years.

The luncheon ended with a sing-song, conducted by Rotarian R. A. Browne.

UNVEIL TABLET AT ST. JOHN'S

Memory of the Late Mrs. Massey-Cooke Perpetuated in Sacred Old Edifice.

At St. John's church yesterday morning, and in the presence of a large congregation, a brass tablet to the memory of Constance Mabel, wife of E. Massey-Cooke, was unveiled and dedicated with fitting Anglican ceremony. Mrs. R. J. Devey and forty members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the G.W.V.A., of which order the late Mrs. Massey-Cooke had been an active member, attended in a body and were seated on the west side of the nave, immediately adjacent to the Union-Jack-veiled memorial tablet. Immediately behind the ladies sat returned overseas men who were also present in a body to about an equal number with the lady members of the Veterans' organization.

The presence of the Ladies' Auxiliary was a graceful tribute to the memory of a departed comrade who for five years held the office in their organization of convener of the committee for visiting sick veterans of the great war. And attendance by the returned men reflected the fullest measure of appreciation of untiring ministrations in her official capacity by a sister comrade who never failed in cheerfully and sympathetically responding to the call of duty.

The actual unveiling took place immediately preceding the sermon at the 11 o'clock service, the tablet being uncovered by Secretary Sidney Whatley of the G.W.V.A., who saw service as Sergeant Major with the British "Contemptibles" during the great world war, and who participated in their glorious retreat from Mons in 1914. Mr. Massey-Cooke, the bereaved husband, also an officer in that never to be forgotten armed struggle, holding a captain's commission in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, was for some two years held prisoner in Germany.

The late Mrs. Massey-Cooke died in Peterborough on December 1st, 1922.

The design of the tablet is the work of J. Kenett this city, and displays real artistry in that particular line.

Appropriate Sermon.

In a discourse acceptably appropriate to a memorial occasion, the Vicar of St. John's, Dr. R. C. Blagrave stressed Christ's assurance of a life to come, citing his promise to the disciples that he would send his Comforter — the Holy Ghost — and that where he is there shall we be also, and, emphasized the doctor, though the heavens may fall the Master always keeps his word. Referring directly to the unveiling feature of the service he conveyed a thought perhaps new to many, by asserting in substance that a memorial tablet is in reality a symbol of one's memory, for those stricken with poignant grief over the loss of a dear one do not need any such reminder of their irreparable loss. JUDGE TRIED TO SETTLE FAMILY PROPERTY CASE

Chief Justice Mulock Volunteered His Mediation in First Action This Afternoon.

NON-JURY SITTINGS

Sir William Mulock, K.C.M.G., Chief Justice of the Exchequer, intervened in the case of Dean vs. Dean, in an effort to arrange a settlement without trial at the opening of the non-jury sittngs of the Supreme Court this afternoon. In this action the plaintiffs, Marcus Dean of Smith and his sister Mrs. Clara Dobson of Peterboro, sought to have set aside the deed by which their father's farm property in Smith passed into the hands of their mother who is the widow of Adolphus C. Dean. R. R. Hall, K. C., acting as counsel to John R. Corkery, solicitor of the plaintiffs, replying to Mr. Justice Mulock's remark that it was a regrettable action, said that before proceedings were taken efforts were made to see whether an amicable settlement could be arrived at.

Mr. Justice Mulock suggested that in the course of nature the property would revert to the children.

"I believe," said Mr. Hall, "that what precipitated this action was that the children heard the property was to go to the defendants' brother and sister and away from her own children.

Mr. Hall said that there was no intention of depriving the mother of her rights, which under the law would give her one-third of the property. The terms of the proposed settlement were a great deal better than that.

Adolphus Dean, the head of the family, died on July 19, 1911. He is said to have been insane from the year 1906 until the time of his death and that under his wife's influence he deeded the property to her on January 5th 1907. With the brief statement of the facts before him Mr. Justice Mulock called both parties with their lawyers into a conference in his private chamber off the court room.

The following members of the Bar were present when Mr. Justice Mulock took his place on the bench at the opening of court: G. W. Hatton, K.C., R. R. Hall, K.C., F. D. Kerr, K.C., B. D. Hall, John R. Corkery, J. F. Strickland, and J. A. O'Brien.

The first case of Hetherington vs. Hastings was moved to the bottom of the list at the request of Mr. Strickland who said that the defendant, his client was on his from New-York and would not arrive until to-night. Mr. B. D. Hall for the plaintiff agreed.

Mr. Strickland announced that the Howson vs Nesley action had been settled but he had not yet received the agreement.

LECTURE OF THE SEASON.

The last lecture of the season under the auspices of the Women's Art Association was held in the studio at the Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon, with a good attendance. Rev. R. B. Grobb gave an address, illustrated with lantern slides, on "Palestine," the views of the Holy Land and of Egypt, with the reverend speaker's description of their famed surroundings, being very much appreciated.

Following the lecture, tea was served, Mrs. F. C. Neal, Mrs. R. Gliddon and Mrs. W. McKee Bingham in charge and an exhibit of the new hand loom given. This machine —a small table loom—is about 12 inches wide and was purchased in Indiana for the use of the hand-weaving class of the Women's Art Association during the next winter

PRICE THREE CENTS — PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 30, 1923 — PRICE THREE CENTS

FRANCE IS SENDING A LARGE DETACHMENT OF TROOPS INTO SYRIA

French Action Necessitated By the Presence of a Strong Turkish Corps Near the Border.

COLONIAL TROOPS.

PARIS, April 30. — (Canadian Press.)— France is sending more troops to Syria to hold the mandated territory against any possible aggression by the Turks. A considerable number of French Colonials have already quietly embarked and are on their way to Syria, and two divisions, totalling 20,000 men, it is reported, have been decided upon as probable reinforcements to be sent, so as to give General Weygand a sufficient army.

France now has 26,000 men in Syria, but the northern front is about 200 miles in length, and a Turkish Army Corps of 20,000 is concentrated there, with additional forces on their way.

The announcement of French military preparations was made after Premier Poincare's two-hour talk yesterday morning with General Pelle, the French High Commissioner at Constantinople, who first went to Lausanne and then came to Paris for a conference with the Premier on the general situation and for a discussion with General Weygand on the military plans. President Millerand later received General Pelle and gave the President full information of conditions.

The Government, without divulging the details of its future Syrian policy, simply let it be known through a semi-official channel that because of the massing of the Turkish forces across the border from the French, "the dispatch of fresh contingents of French troops taken from the Colonial forces, is considered necessary."

The military measures, however, it is understood, have been taken only as a precaution, for General Pelle brought from Lausanne a report of his long talks with Ismet Pasha, which the French considered more encouraging than Ismet's attitude in the conference.

The French government nevertheless take the stand that the Turkish troops concentration looks like a threat, even if the Turks do not intend a military offensive, and in any case it is regarded as a distinct effort to exert pressure on the French, which is considered intolerable. The situation in Syria was described to-day in Government circles as at least "disquieting."

General Weygand will sail from Toulon Thursday or Friday aboard the battleship Lorraine for Beirut, the chief seaport of Syria, to take command of the situation there, as he succeeds General Gouraud as French High Commissioner in Syria and Commander of the Army in the East.

Marshal Foch and his Chief of Staff were in numerous conferences with President Millerand and Premier Poincare for the last few days. General Pelle as High Commissioner to Constantinople and delegate to the Lausanne Conference, is thoroughly in touch with both the political and military aspects of the Turkish problem. Ismet Pasha at Lausanne assured General Pelle that there was no Turkish military concentration against France, but the French General was able to give Ismet a list of the Turkish army units on the Syrian frontier under Djavid Pasha, who commanded on the Dardanelles front.

General Pelle's conference with the Premier and others at the Foreign Office is described as hopeful, although the Lausanne Conference so far, according to the French, has merely enabled each side to feel the other out and to bring out in sharp relief the old differences developed at the last conference, as well as a few new ones.

General Pelle went to Lausanne from Constantinople, and so, had only written instructions from M. Poincare. The Premier was able yesterday to give a further outline of the Governments' attitude in view of the developments at Lausanne and in Syria. General Pelle afterwards conferred with some of the French concession holders who are going to Angora to try to settle their claims directly with the Turkish Government.

Premier Bonar Law Has Left England

LONDON, April 30.—(Canadian Press.)— Premier Bonar Law left London yesterday for a sea trip, according to official announcement, which, however, contained no information as to the yessel or its route. During the absence of the Prime Minister, Marquis Curzon, in the Lords, and Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the Commons, will as leaders, have the responsibility of making the decisions usually the province of the Premier. Although precedents exist for the absence of the Premier during an important period of the legislative session, such absence is usually due to some reasons of extreme urgency.

U. S. SENATOR DIED WHILE ON A TRAIN

Oldest Member of the U. S. Senate Was Suddenly Stricken While on His Way Home.

HARISBURG, Pa., April 30 (Canadian Press). — United States Senator Knute Nelson, the Grand Old Man of the Senate, died on a Pennsylvania Railroad train at 8.15 o'clock on Saturday night while on his way from Washington to Chicago, where he was to continue on his way to his home in Minnesota.

Death was due to heart failure.

As far as the railroad train crew could figure, the train was passing through Timonium, Maryland, eleven miles from Baltimore, when the aged Senator had an attack of angina pectoris, and died in a few minutes.

His death removed from the Senate its oldest member and one of those with one of the longest service records. He was 80 years of age, and had served 28 years.

Senator Nelson was active during the last session of Congrss, and when he left Washington for his home he appeared in excellent health.

Senator Nelson was a Civil War veteran. He was chairman of the Judiciary Committee a member of the Commerc Committee of the Senate.

SISTER OF AN EARL SHOT BY REGULARS

Honorable Albinia Broderick Actively Co-operated With the Irish Rebels.

DUBLIN, April 30. — (Canadian Press).—Ignoring an order to halt while cycling near Sneem, County Kerry, on Saturday, Honorable Albinia Broderick, sister of the Earl of Midland, was shot in the leg by rifle fire from Free State troops.

It is stated that she has been actively engaged in co-operating with the rebels. Her brother is a prominent Conservative and former British Secretary for War and Secretary for India.

TAKE OVER HOSPITAL.

TORONTO, April 30. Canadian Press. — At a meeting of the Ontario Red Cross on Saturday it was decided to take over the administration of the hospital at Cochrane. The society will bear the expenses.

FINAL APPEAL FOR CLEMENCY IS BEING MADE

Mrs. Florence Lassandra Will Hang at Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday Unless Granted a Reprieve.

LOCAL SENTIMENT.

MONTREAL, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Final appeal for exercise of clemency towards the woman, Mrs. Florence Lassandra, who is to hang at Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday of this week, at the same time as Emil Piccarillo, for the killing of a police man, is being made by the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association. A message to the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Mac-Kenzie King, has been dispatched in the following terms:

'Having for some time past protested the proposed execution of the woman, Florence Lassandra, at Fort Saskatchewan, the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association desires to enter a final appeal that the degrading and revolting spectacle of hanging a woman in the twentieth century should not be permitted under your regime. It is now fourteen years since any such occurrence in Canada. A similar event in England recently caused widespread horror. We are aware that local sentiment, especially on the part of women, is for hanging, but suggest that the spirit of revenge should be checked rather than encouraged by a Christian state. In any case her desire for blood will be satisfied by the execution of the man, though even this is against our principals as we wish to see capital punishment abolished. We wish formally to wash our hands of the blood of this woman on Wednesday next."

The message was sent in the names of Board members, including Robert Bickerdike, president, Rev. A. E. Runnells, Charles Mullen, vice-presidents, John Ridman, secretary and Charles Fyle, treasurer.

Increase in B. C. Mining Production.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 30. — (Canadian Press)—British Columbia mining production for the last year, with a total output valued at $35,156,843, shows an increase of 25 per cent. over the previous year, according to the report of the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, issued Saturday. The actual increase was $7,002,202.

This year's production, it is estimated, will run between forty and fifty millions.

Conditions in British Columbia are now such, Mr. Sloan says, that they have reached a point where a margin of profit for the miner is visible. "It is extremely gratifying to note that the output for the year has only been exceeded three times in the history of mining in the province, and that was in 1916, when production reached $42,462; in 1918, when it was $41,782,474, and in 1920, when the value was $38,543,048."

Seven Lives Lost When Steamer Sank.

NEWPORT, R. I., April 30. — (Canadian Press). — The steamer Seaconnet sank early yesterday in Vineyard Sound with a loss of probably seven lives. Of the 21 men and one woman aboard, the woman and fourteen men succeeded in reaching the Vineyard Sound Lightship, according to word reaching here.

Sugar Declines on Threat of Strike.

NEW YORK, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Threats of a buyers' strike against sugar accompanied by a sharp decline in the futures market, had an unsettling effect in the sugar trade. In raws no sales were reported, but offerings were more liberal from operators, with Cubas available at 6 3-8 cents, cost and freight, equal to 8.16 for centrifugal, without being taken.

SERIOUS FIRE IN BROCKVILLE

Two Business Blocks in the Heart of the City Were Completely Gutted Yesterday.

BROCKVILLE, April 30. — Canadian Press. — The Tompkins and Turner Blocks, owned respectively by Thomas Tompkins, Ottawa, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and located in the heart of the King street west business section, were gutted by fire yesterday afternoon, with an accompanying loss estimated to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. The fire was discovered in the residence flat of Anthony Rubino, above his business premises in the Tompkins block, the occupants being absent at the time, and thence, fanned by a high wind, it spread to the adjoining frame Turner block, from which Mrs. Allan Turner, upwards of 90 years of age, was removed with difficulty. The fire walls on either side of the two structures prevented the spread of the blaze to other business blocks but it was not until after two hours work on the part of the fire brigade that it was brought under control. The business premises located in the ground floors of the structures, while not suffering actually from the fire, had their stocks total losses from smoke and water.

Those in the Tompkins Block were the Singer Sewing Machine Company, the Ontario Laundry, Anthony Rubino fruit and in the Turner Block G. A. Walter boots and shoes; A. Economos shoe shine and A. P. Louch electrical supplies. The Brockville Steam Laundry situated in a rear extension of the Tompkins Block, escaped damage.

PREDICTS UPLIFT OF BLACK RACE

Marcus Garvey Says There Will Come a Day When Whites Will Awake.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 30 (Canadian Press). — "There will be a day not far away when the black man will deal with the white man as the white man dealt with the black man in the past."

Speaking here last night, Marcus Garvey, president-general of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, made the above prediction, which was greeted with wild demonstrations.

"Everybody has a flag but the coon," Garvey began his speech.

"This flag, red, white and green, some day will flutter in the breezes of African climes, planted on top of every hill. There will be a day on which white people will awake and wonder. It will be a day when the Lord will lead his people out of captivity, when the Princes of Egypt will come forth and lead 400,000,000 negroes into their own. Uncle Sam will be wise enough to keep his finger out of this sort of international pie."

OBITUARY

HERMAN R. CLARK.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30. Canadian Press. — Herman R. Clark died yesterday, aged 79 years. The deceased moved from Brighton town ship to Campbellford over 40 years ago, and for about 30 years was the bookkeeper for the Ferris Company of Campbellford. Some time ago he retired from active business. His wife predeceased him several years ago. Two sons and one daughter survive, namely Salem Clark, reeve of Cramahe township, J. H. Clark and Elizabeth Clark, both of Campbellford. The fuperal will be held this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Latest Thing in Trade Unionism

LONDON, April 30. Canadian Press. — The latest thing in trades unionism was created by the housewives of Deal in Kent who combined to resist the excessive prices of household necessities. The members range from the Countess Loreburn to the humbleat workingmans wife. Already there has been a reduction of two pence a quart in the price of milk. The price of tea and sugar will be attacked next.

TURKS SHOWING BETTER SPIRIT

Near Eastern Peace Conference is Making Considerable Progress.

LAUSANNE, April 30 (Canadian Press. — The first week of the resumed Near Eastern Peace Conference has brought considerable progress; the territorial section of the Treaty has practically been agreed upon except the boundary of Eastern Thrace, which, it is expected, will be easily adjusted.

The Turks are credited with showing a conciliatory spirit on the whole. They stoutly oppose attempts to make them take over responsibility for the acts of the old Imperial Government, and they are extremely sensitive about anything reuecting on their national capacities. They are opposed, for instance, to the arbitration of certain legal disputes, on the ground that that would imply lack of confidence in the justice of decisions by Turkish Courts.

To-morrow will be devoted to the work of the experts seeking a solution of the multitude of financial problems.

Tobacconist Charged With Incendiarism.

WINNIPEG, April 30 (Canadian Press). — Following an investigation by officials of the Provincial Fire Commissioner's Department, Leslie A. Clubb, of the firm of W. J. Clubb & Co., tobacconists, was arrested on Saturday afternoon on a warrant charging incendiarism.

He is charged with setting fire to the James Scott building, on Main Street and Portage Avenue, on 25th March, when five firms suffered losses in an early morning blaze.

The Clubb Company had a store in the building.

Information against the tobacconist was sworn by representatives of the Provincial Department, and he was arrested by city detectives.

Shipbuilder Takes a Slap at Lloyd George.

LONDON, April 30. — (Canadian Press).—F. D. Holt, the well-known Liverpool ship-owner, writes to the press that if Liberalism means anything of value it involves the utter condemnation of the whole spirit of Lloyd George's Government from 1916 until its forced dissolution last autumn. It is impossible, writes Mr. Holt, for Lloyd George to be an honest ally of Liberals in pursuing a Liberal policy when it is obvious that he aspires to this position only because he has been rejected by the Tories as an ally in pursuit of a Tory policy. "Liberals can have no place for a man with Lloyd George's political record, and if he wishes to make amends for the past, which I doubt, there is only one course left to him and that is complete retirement from public life."

ALGONQIUN PARK, ONTARIO. SPRING FISHING.

SHIPWRECKED CREW RESCUED BY PORTUGUESE

At Least Seven Lives Lost When Mossamedes Went on the Rocks at Cape Frio —Passengers in a Panic.

227 RESCUED.

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 30.—(Canadian Press.) —The Portuguese gunboat Salvador Correira arrived at Mossamedes, Portuguese West Africa, Friday, with 110 survivors of the steamship Mossamedes, wrecked several days ago at Cape Frio; 84 survivors have been landed at Port Alexander, and the French gunboat Cassiopee is on its way to Mossamedes with 33 others.

The chief officer of the wrecked steamship, says the vessel struck the rocks in a fog Tuesday morning and a rough sea swept the liner still further toward the shore. The passengers aroused from sleep, rushed to the deck in a panic and were put into the lifeboats, with great difficulty.

The electrical apparatus was almost instantly put out of commission by the influx of water to the boiler rooms, preventing the summoning of assistance by wireless. One of the lifeboats upset, seven of the occupants being drowned, while 13 others were rescued by Chief Officer Paulino. The captain remained on the deck of his ship until two o'clock in the afternoon, when he finally abandoned her.

HASTINGS READY FOR BALL SEASON

Organized at Enthusiastic Meeting—Lacrosse Juveniles Practice Every Evening.

HASTINGS, April 30.—A well-attended and enthusiastic baseball meeting was held in Spellman Hotel on Friday evening to discuss plans and organize for the coming season. The president, Dr. J. H. Hess, presided. The following are the officers:

President—Dr. J. Hess.
Vice-Pres.—L. E. Kelly.
Secretary—W. H. Chapman.
Asst.-Sec.—C. P. Doughty.
Treas.—B. Richardson.
Manager—Dr. J. H. Hess.

The President made a brief address, explaining what team were in the league and that he would call the first practice for Monday evening.

The first league game will be played here on May 16th, with Campbellford.

Chas. Davidson, manager of the Campbellford team, has mustered together an aggregation which will be heard from this season.

Lacrosse Nuggets.

The manager of the Hastings intermediate lacrosse team has received an invitation from Campbellford to play an exhibition game in that town on May 24.

The juvenile lacrosse team are practising hard every night and there are 21 players to pick from.

Work will commence right away putting the grounds into shape. The management have not decided as yet if they will build a wire fence around the field or use rope, but the spectators seem to be a law-abiding bunch and would not have caused as much trouble last year only a few players from one of the neighboring towns, seeing they could not win the game on its merits, engaged in rough play, which caused the crowd to rush the field.

The juveniles are out to hold the honor the juniors won last year and with the addition of a few of Campbellford's boys, expect to go into the finals.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD GIRL VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

FRANCE IS EXPECTING TROUBLE FROM RUHR SOCIALISTS ON MAY 1

Fuel Has Been Added to the Fire of Discontent Among German Workmen By French Announcement.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE.

BERLIN, April 30. — (Canadian Press.)—Flushed with the large part it has played in blocking the efforts of the French and the Belgians in the occupation of the Ruhr, German labor is rallying with more vim than ever for the celebration of May 1 as an international workingman's holiday.

For nearly a quarter of a year, the workers claim, nothing but an unarmed army of laborers has successfully withstood the attempts of tens of thousands of soldiers to achieve fruitful results in the occupation of Europe's leading industrial district. The laborers believe this battle has been unique in the annals of history, and it has inspired them to make May Day ring with the slogans, "Death rather than slavery"; "No work under bayonets," and "Keep up passive reistance in the Ruhr."

Fuel has been added to the fire of discontent among the workers by the announcement that the French Government will demand abandonment of the passive resistance campaign before it will negotiate with Germany. The leaders of German labor declare such a concession is absolutely out of the question; that it would mean the surrendering of their only weapon.

Emphasis is laid on the fact that once passive resistance were abandoned it would not be so readily or widely adopted a second time. The Socialists and Communists are working hand in hand in urging workmen to the observance of May Day, and the Government and Conservative circles are hardly in a position actively to discourage the May Day plans in view of what is considered the loyal attitude of the workingmen in the Ruhr during the past four months.

Although the May Day holiday will be recognized as legal in only half of the States of Germany, it apparently will be observed throughout the country. In other years protest against the Versailles Treaty has comprised the chief slogan which the German demonstrators added to labor's usual claims for recognition; but the Ruhr question undoubtedly will receive the major attention this year in speeches and proclamations and on the banners carried by the paraders. All organized labor is expected to participate in the demonstrations, except the Federations known as the Christian Trades Unions.

Berlin expects to undergo its usual May 1 inconvenience of a general suspension of the public traffic services for at least part of the day, and an effort is under way to have all the restaurants and cafes shut their doors during the demonstrations, which are to be held during the last two hours of the forenoon of May 1.

Individual branches of unorganized labor are taking separate action on the observance of the holiday in sections of the country where it is not official. The Communists are agitating against any attendance by children at school on May Day, as well as a general suspension of work.

It is announced from Dresden that the Saxon Premier has ordered all Government buildings, schools and other places to fly flags on May Day. Although the Munich Socialists and Communists are reported to be cooperating in plans for demonstrations in the Bavarian captial, it is feared that trouble may occur there and that it is likely a state of siege may be declared in Munich in the course of the next few days. It is said that the Socialists of Munch have received instructions not to appear for the parades without bringing their small arms with them.

The Executive committee of the Christian Trades Unions of Greater Berlin announces that its organizations will not observe May Day as a holiday, believing idleness is indefensible economically and patriotically "in time of economic weakness."

WETZLAR, Rhenish Prussia, April 30.— It is stated in German quarters here that the occupation authorities have prohibited May Day demonstrations in the occupied area.

Norwood U.F.O. Has Confidence in Drury

At a joint meeting of the executive of the Political Association and the Executive of the U.F.O. Party held in Norwood on Saturday evening, the date for the convention was set for May 21. The meeting was held in the council chamber and was well attended, the members being very optimistic regarding the outcome of the election in East Peterboro and showing great enthusiasm.

A resolution was passed reaffirming belief in the U.F.O. platform and confidence in Premier Drury.

No names have been decided on as possible candidates, but it is certain that a U.F.O. standard bearer will take the field in that riding.

FORMER PREMIER GAVE AN ADDRESS

Liberalism Not a Proprietary Medicine to Be Sold in Bottles, Says Lloyd George.

LONDON, April 30 (Canadian Press Cable). — Former Premier Lloyd-George, speaking as the guest of the Lancashire and Cheshire Federation of Young Liberals at the Manchester Reform Club on Saturday, said he was glad to learn that the gathering had been summoned without distinction as regards groups. The more of such meetings addressed by the leaders of both sections of the Liberal Party the better, till there was only one united section of Liberals in the House of Commons.

Mr. Lloyd-George said Liberalism was not a proprietary medicine to be sold in bottles with only one label. It was something belonging to them all. The Labour Party, he declared, had had no experience in the work of government. That Party's great promises had not been subjected to the assay of experience. Liberalism on the other hand, had a great record. Liberation, its great task of the future was the remedy for the evils of modern industrialism, but before tackling that problem the Liberal forces must overthrow the tyranny of the sword and germinate peace. More than 1,300,000 in the United Kingdom were unemployed as a result of the war which they had not made. A system which condemned millions living sober, decent and industrious lives to unemployment without any fault of their own, was organised blasphemy.

The former Premier said that one of the first tasks of Liberalism must be to eradicate slumdom, and its next task would be the re-organisation of the agricultural system and the elimination of waste due to drink. Three dangers to liberty were arising. The first was Protection. "If there is to be a fight for Free-trade, let us go forward as a united party," said the speaker, whose sentiments were loudly cheered. Then there were Socialism and Fascism, he declared. Liberalism must further provide for educational facilities and also develop the strength of the Empire.

GERMANY TO MAKE REPARATION OFFER

BERLIN, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—The proposed conference between the Central Government and th presidents and premiers of the German States, to discuss the reparations situation, was postponed yesterday until Tuesday when the political party leaders also will be received.

The new German reparations offer will be presented simultaneously to the London, Paris Rome, Brussels and Washington Governments.

LONDON, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—A dispatch to the Central News says the text of Germany's reparations proposal will be finally decided on at a Cabinet meeting to be held next Tuesday.

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"
Mrs. A. Moffatt, Routon Falls, Que., writes:

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. CANADIAN COAL SUPPPLY.

With the passing of winter there is also noticeable a great falling off in interest in the question of Canada's fuel supply.

This, of course, is to be expected, but at the same time it is the indifference to the matter between seasons that leaves us at the mercy of the United States operators in the cold weather.

As soon as the ice and snow disappears we shove this question of fuel supply away with the snow shovel and the ash sifter, and none of them are dragged out again until another winter has closed in.

Then, of course, it is too late to do anything but besiege the coal offices.

The tests that have been made of Alberta coal seem to have been satisfactory so far as the coal itself is concerned, although it has been proven that car-load lots under the present freight rates are prohibitive.

The problem resolves itself into a question of transportation, and it is upon this feature of the situation that attention should chiefly be directed.

If in the summer months before the grain movement commences train loads of Alberta coal could be brought East there is reason to believe that the cost under such conditions would be low enough to make the proposition commercially feasible.

That, however, is a matter for transportation experts to decide.

The main point is that the question is of importance enough to warrant the Federal Government in thoroughly investigating every phase of the problem as soon as possible.

THE PRESENT DUTY.

With a general election to take place in Ontario at the end of June, there is an unusual opportunity for the people of the Province to decide now to show a genuine interest in the campaign and in the selection of a Government.

The tendency, unfortunately, in recent years has been in a different direction.

There has been apathy on the part of the electors, an inclination to disregard the importance of such things as elections, a reluctance to take a serious interest in politics.

Can we afford to go on in that way?

Can we afford to neglect our duty as voters, to leave politics to a comparative few, to entrust the task of choosing the Government to less than half the electors?

People groan about high taxes, about Governmental extravagance, about inefficiency in administration.

But who are primarily responsible?

Not so much the people who voted, but the equally large—and sometimes larger—percentage who failed to vote.

The people who were "not interested in politics," who thought "all parties are alike," must take a large share of the blame.

Ontario is to have a general election in a few weeks.

Is it not time to take stock of the situation, to resolve to study the policies and records of the parties, to investigate the issues that are introduced, to endeavour to visualize the needs of the Province and to do everything possible to give Ontario a Government that will function effectively?

Every citizen should not only decide upon a programme such as has been outlined but such also resolve to make sure that his name is registered on the voters' lists.

HARD ON THE ROADS.

The London Advertiser gives a sound piece of advice when it suggests that at this season of the year the country roads should be given a chance to dry out before too much traffic is allowed upon them.

That applies equally well to the conditions around Peterborough.

Until the frost is all out of the ground and the road surfaces are allowed to dry, there is no doubt that an immense amount of damage is done by motor cars and trucks.

The result is unpleasant conditions for some time and a heavy bill of expense when the necessary repairs are undertaken.

The worst of it is that much of this early driving is unnecessary—merely joy-riding.

It is natural, of course, after being imprisoned all winter, that motorists should yearn for the open highways and the visits of the countryside.

The temptation to get out "the old bus" and go tearing off into the country on the first warm spring day is great.

But if drivers would only stop to consider that too much driving before the roads are ready only means trouble and expense late on, they undoubtedly would agree to give the roads a chance.

Some of the roads around Peterborough already show the effect of the early traffic and it would be a good thing for everybody, if some way could be found of keeping all motorists, except those whose business is urgent, off the highways until they are ready to meet the test.

POLITICAL ACROBATICS.

The latest action of Premier Drury in kow-towing to the Morrison faction of the U.F.O. is a surprising development of the constantly shifting political situation, says the Hamilton Spectator. And yet, perhaps, it is not so surprising, after all. If the Premier has any hopes at all of returning to power—and he has repeatedly admitted such ambitions—there was nothing left for him to do but just what he has done. The Liberals have announced their intention to oppose the farmers as a matter of principle; the "broadening-out" plea has been rejected on every hand. The U. F. O. is thus forced to rely upon its own unaided political resources—and those resources, with a divided party, and the probability of a return on the part of the majority of the agriculturists to their former political affiliations, were weak indeed. So the Premier has bowed to the inevitable and made it up with Mr. Morrison. A valiant effort will be made to hold the farmers together.

The rupture has been too severe, however, to be healed so hastily. Bitter feelings and antagonisms have been aroused and divergent policies formulated. Premier Drury now promises to be good; obedience obtained by force majeure, however, is not to be esteemed of much value. Even if the ranks of the U.F.O. can be reformed and a united attack on the legislative stronghold organized, the chances of victory are the reverse of bright. The U.F.O. at the time of the last Provincial elections was carried into power by reason of the support of a great number of voters outside its own ranks. Much was promised and much was expected; those promises have not been fulfilled and those expectations have been largely disappointed. The farmers cannot rely upon extraneous support in the present election. It will be a straight fight between the various political parties, and the strongest will win. Recent happenings have not made for the strength of the present party, and the professed confidence of Mr. Drury has every appearance of being the old device of whistling to keep his courage up. His optimism may be entertaining, but it is not impressive.

THE PENNY BANK.

The Whig has often marvelled why the Penny Bank system was not introduced into the public schools of Kingston. It might have meant a little work for the teachers once a week—though we doubt if these self-sacrificing public servants would object—but it assuredly would have inculcated much needed lessons of thrift for the pupils. A few days ago news dispatches told of a movement to discontinue the Penny Bank in the schools of Toronto, in which city it originated. The Toronto Star takes to task the critics who would deprive the children of that city of their right to save their pennies and dimes. Out of an enrollment of 75,000, it says, the Penny Bank gets nearly 50,000 savings accounts, representing present deposits of $475,000—an average of less than $10 per account. "From 1905 up to the end of 1922," continues this authority, "the children of Toronto had banked $4,250,000 in the institution. Every depositor has learned the invaluable lesson that a penny saved is a penny earned, that money grows, that self-restraint pays, that doing without things is in the end worth while. Little sums which might have been wasted have been banked instead, and in many instances the nest-egg thus accumulated has played an important part in youthful careers."

The system in Toronto, the Star goes on to say, has proved so marked a success that the original "Penny Bank of Toronto" has become the "Penny Bank of Ontario," with activities in fifty other places, the operations in which are carried on through branches of the various chartered banks. "Under these circumstances," concludes the Star, "it is surprising to find, even within a limited circle, a demand for elimination of the Penny Bank from Toronto schools. The things which the bank does are worth doing. Any small inconvenience which it may cause once a week to the teachers who act as its collectors is more than counterbalanced by the habits of thrift, which it is inculcating in the young at an impressionable age."

The Penny Bank system has proved a splendid success wherever it has been adopted. How could it be otherwise, when its primary object is to impress upon the youthful mind the need and the advantage of early saving? The children of this generation require just such an object lesson as is afforded by this institution. Any attempt, therefore, to deprive them of this advantage is certain to be resented. The Star is doing a patriotic service in defending the Penny Bank against those who would destroy it.

Kingston is one of the few cities in Ontario which has denied to its children the advantages of the Penny Bank. Scores of cities, some of them much smaller than Kingston, have tried out the scheme, and found it of great value. Thousands of dollars have been deposited in these banks which otherwise would have been squandered. Habits of thrift have been taught which will be of incalculable value in the years to come. Is it not time that the Penny Bank was introduced into the public schools of this city?—Kingston Whig.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Andy Hicks, M.P.P., is not very likely to be Queen of the May in the U.F.O. camp.

Apparently the issues in the coming campaign are to be as numerous as the candidates.

The Farmers' Sun appears to have convinced Mr. Drury that he had better pay more attention to the official U.F.O. organ than follow the promptings of his journalistic champion, the Toronto Star.

Canadidates in the Ontario fight should be expected to state their position in regard to flat rates for Hydro power.

So far the dog that upset the Mayor's garbage can has not been located. Out of gratitude, the official dog catcher might allow this canine to run at large as long as possible.

Every party in the Ontario free-for-all is expected to adopt an economy plank in its platform. But as Rube Goldberg puts it, "That don't mean nothing."

Lord Robert Cecil may not have "sold" the United States on the League of Nations proposition, but he drew big audiences at all events.

"Listeners in" may expect to hear Andy Hicks included in the list of bed-time story contributors.

Judging by the attendance at the English cup-tie game Saturday, the people of the Old Land are still more interested in football than they are in the League of Nations or the Ruhr situation.

HOWARD FERGUSON AT SPENCERVILLE

Criticized the Drury Government—Must Stay in His Own Riding.

Recalls Effort in Britain to Form a Centre Party.

SPENCERVILLE, Ont., April 30 (Canadian Press). — At a meeting on Saturday of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association, it was decided to hold a convention immediately following the dissolution of the Ontario Legislature, and the president was authorised to convene it.

There was a full attendance of the officers of the association who were addressed by the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the present member for Grenville, and leader of the Ontario Conservative Party.

Mr. Ferguson made a strong criticism of the Drury Goevrnment denouncing the extravagance in administration and the failure to implement pledges.

The secretary of the association informed the meeting that he had been asked by several constituencies if Mr. Ferguson would become their candidate in the coming contest.

The association instructed the secretary to inform these constituencies that Grenville County would not permit Mr. Ferguson to represent any other than his native county and guaranteed his return, if there was opposition, by a record majority.

Hon. J. D. Reid, who represented Grenville in the Federal House for thirty years, was present, and addressed the gathering.

BUSINESS VERY DULL IN ISOLATED PETROGRAD

PETROGRAD, April 27.—Petrograd still appears as an isolated city and, in comparison with Moscow, business life is as dull as in a majority of Soviet provincial towns.

The population of Petrograd fell to about 700,000 about the years of civil war, epidemics and evacuations and it has risen but slightly since the coming of the new economic policy. Housing conditions, therefore, are very favorable in comparison with the congestion of Moscow, where two or more persons live in nearly every room. Here families of two and three persons may enjoy five, six or even ten or twelve room apartments, while scores of buildings are empty and nearing ruin for want of heating. Spacious warehouses are without goods.

Living is fifty percent cheaper than in Moscow. There is plenty of food and very little business. Only the Nevsky Prospekt, Petrograd's chief avenue, and a few other of the principal streets show signs of life, thanks to the open shops and offices of the various state concerns. All other streets, especially in the once fashionable suburbs, look empty and deserted. Only the electric lighting of the streets, now thoroughly re-established, relieves the dullness of the once international city.

BUYING LOYALTY.

You can't buy loyalty, they say,
I bought it, though, this very day!
You can't buy friendship, firm and true,
I bought sincerest friendship, too!
And truth and kindliness I got,
And happiness, oh, such a lot!
So many joyous hours-to-be
Were sold with this commodity!
I bought a life of simple faith,
And love that will be mine till death,
And two brown eyes that I could see
Would not be long in knowing me.
I bought protection. I've a guard
Right now and afterward.
Buy human friendship? Maybe not!
You see, it was a dog I bought.

RAMSAY MACDONALD DETESTS DISORDERS IN BRITISH HOUSE

Declares Fascism is Stimulated Into Life By the Communist Tactics.

LONDON, April 30. Canadian Press. — Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party, writing in the current Socialist Review, boldly airs his views on the recent disorders in the House of Commons, when there were personal encounters between Conservative and Labor members for which Mr. MacDonald's followers were held to be chiefly responsible.

"I detest these scenes," writes the Labor leader. "One heated furnace of a man can lead the legitimate calls of 'adjourn' into the badly sung strains of Rule Britannia, or the Red Flag or Tipperary, or fisticuffs, and not only make a fool of himself btu degrade everyone associated with him. Fascism was stimulated into life by communist tactics."

LOOKS FOR FUSION OF LIBERAL PARTY

LONDON, April 30.— (Canadain Press Cable.)—Sir Donald Maclean, one of the prominent men in the independent or Asquithian liberal forces, speaking at Edinburgh Saturday on the question of liberal re-union declared that between 1918 and 1919 there was a steady and persistent propaganda carried on for the formation of a centre party which meant the obliteration of the liberal party and he had yet to learn that the scheme had been finally disposed of.

A large number of national liberals, said Sir Donald, were bound to the conservative party. Liberal re-union was proceeding swiftly, he continued, chiefly in the constituencies both north and south of the Tweed. While speaking only for himself, he was quite certain he was expressing Mr Asquiths' opinion in saying that the whole matter was one of confidence.

One of the objects of the election of 1918 of evil memory, said Sir Donald, was the destruction of the liberal party and this object was very nearly attained.

Henderson President of Royal Caledonian.

MONTREAL, April 30.—(Canadian Press.)—George F. Henderson of the Ottawa Curling Club, Ottawa, was elected president of the Canadian branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club at the annual meeting of that body held at the Thistle Curling Club here Saturday evening.

An important change with regard to the management of the charity bon spiel was made at the meeting, and in future it will be handled by the branch instead of by an individual club as in the past. Last season more than $10,000 was raised for the benefit of local charities through the bonspiel.

Milk, Cheese, Ice Cream sales are increased!

by Long Distance

Some quotations from recent reports:

"We depend on Long Distance to order milk and cream from farmers, and to find a market in the cities for butter."

"A 15 cent Long Distance call enabled us to get 12 cents more a pound for our butter in a nearby city"—writes a farmer.

"Long Distance is the cheapest way to sell ice cream."

"We purchased over $100,000 worth of cheese by Long Distance at a cost of $16 or .016%. This cheese we sold by Long Distance at a cost of $30 or .03%, and never saw the buyer."

"We sell thousands of dollars of surplus milk by Long Distance."

May we tell you how Long Distance is being used to increase sales in your business?

Millbrook Comment.

MILLBROOK, April 30.—There will be considerable gratitude and relief felt, not only amongst members and adherents of the Methodist Church but of other churches as well, that Rev. Jesse Arnup, Missionary Secretary of the Methodist Church for Canada, who has been seriously ill for some time past with sleeping sickness, is now, according to latest reports, well on the road to recovery. Mr. Arnup, who has been receiving treatment in the Western Hospital, Toronto, is allowed to sit up for a little while each day, and his complete recovery is hoped for.

Safety Essay Competition.

The Ontario Safety League is again this year undertaking the "Safety Essay Competition" for school children, thus drawing attention of thousands of the young folks of the Province to the dangers of the road, and giving them a thorough lesson in avoiding automobile accidents. One hundred and forty cash prizes, ranging from $10 down to $1, and totalling $200, have been offered by the Ontario Motor League, and school children are to be asked to contribute essays on "How children may help avoid motor accidents."

The competition is open to any school child in Ontario, the prizes being divided into two classes—those 12 years old and under and scholars of 13 years and over—and compositions must be confined to the one subject mentioned. Excellent results were attained last year, and the Safety League is making an extra effort to interest teachers in all schools throughout the Province and have them urge their pupils to take part in the contest. Copies of the rules are being mailed to each teacher, and immediate action is hoped for as the contest closes May 15, 1923.

Who'll Pay That Mortgage?

THAT mortgage—or other indebtedness—may cause you no worry. You know you can repay it if all goes well. But there's the rub. What if things go wrong? Supposing you should die—could your wife pay the mortgage without your income?

An Imperial Endowment Policy for the amount of the indebtedness will insure its repayment, whether you live or die. There is no other means of meeting the case that is quite so certain—that leaves nothing to chance.

And the annual investment required is very moderate—moderate at least when you consider the peace of mind it will afford you.

Look at this problem squarely—don't dodge—don't wait. The advantages of life insurance are available only to those in good health.

Send to-day for information about a policy to suit your own particular needs and circumstances. To-morrow you may be uninsurable.

The Advancement of Science Keeps Up

New Help Found for the Weak and Debilitated

SCIENTIFIC progress has become so rapid that it is almost impossible for the average person to keep up with the wonderful discoveries that are leading to complete mastery of disease. We have come to feel that there is really no limit to what the tireless workers in the field of medical research can achieve.

The cause of the extreme weakness of body and mind and the nervous exhaustion that is so often seen in men and women, and for which they have not been able to account, has been found. And, what is much more important to the thousands thus afflicted, a way has been discovered to relieve these symptoms and promptly restore vigor to the body.

It has been found that the loss of weight, strength and energy that brings distress and depression of mind to countless men and women, is often due solely to the fact that the inorganic elements present in the food they eat are not properly utilized by the millions of little cells of which our tissues are composed. When these cells fail to receive the proper amount of these inorganic elements—when they are faced by a famine—they lessen their functional activity in order to escape death through starvation. In other words, these cells curtail their production of vital energy and, as a consequence, the entire body is weakened, just as it is after a day of extremely hard labor if we do not take time for a mid-day lunch and rest.

In Wincarnis—the reconstructive tonic—are combined the inorganic elements present in the food we eat, and which the cells of the body require in order to produce strength and energy and rebuild tissue. When taken three or four times a day, Wincarnis furnishes the cells with an abundance of the necessary inorganic elements, and the body promptly regains its lost vigor, weight is restored, and there is a full recovery of energy. For almost half-a-century, physicians have prescribed Wincarnis for the weak, anemic, nervous and run-down.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

When he rose from his knees he had a feeling that God had not lost track of him and that, despite a long list of debit entries, a celestial accountant had, at some period in Don Mike's life, posted a considerable sum to his credit in the Book of Things. "That credit may just balance the account," he reflected, "although it is quite probable I am still working in the red ink. Well—I've asked Him for the privilege of overdrawing my account—we shall see what we shall see."

At daylight he awakened suddenly and found himself quite mysteriously the possessor of a trend of reasoning that automatically forced him to sit up in bed.

Fifteen minutes later, mounted on Panchito, he was cantering up the San Gregorio, and just as the cook at Bill Conway's camp at Agua Caliente Basin came to the door of the mess hall and yelled: "Come an' git it or I'll throw it out," Panchito slid down the gravel cut-bank into camp.

"Where is Mr. Conway?" he demanded of the cook.

The latter jerked a greasy thumb toward the interior of the mess hall, so, leaving Panchito "tied to the breeze," Don Mike dismounted and entered.

"Hello there, young feller," Bill Conway roared at him.

"Top o' the morning to you, old dirt-digger," Farrel replied. "Please deal me a hand of your ham and eggs, sunny side up. How be ye, Wilium?"

"R'arin' to go," Conway assured him.

"All right. Pack up and go to-day. You're through on this job."

"Why?"

"I've changed my mind about fighting Parker on this dam deal—and no profanity intended."

"But—but——"

"But me no buts, even if you are the goat. You're through. I forbid the bans. The eggs, man! I'm famished. The midnight ride of Paul Revere was a mere exercise gallop, because he started shortly after supper, but the morning ride of Mike Farrel has been done on fresh air."

"You're a lunatic. If you knew what I know, Miguel——"

"Hush! I want to ascertain what you know. Bet you a dollar!" He slammed a dollar down on the table and held his palm over it.

Bill Conway produced a dollar and likewise covered it. "Very well, son," he replied. "I'll see your dollar. What's the nature of the bet?"

"I'm betting a dollar you didn't draw the plans for this dam."

Bill Conway flipped his dollar over to his guest.

"I'm betting two dollars!"

Conway took two silver dollars from his vest pocket and laid them on the table. "And the bet?" he queried.

"I'm betting two dollars the plans were drawn by an engineer in Los Angeles."

"Some days I can't lay up a cent," the old contractor complained, and parted with his two dollars.

"I'm betting four dollars!" Farrel challenged.

"See your four dollars," Conway retorted and covered the bet.

"I'm betting that those plans were drawn by the engineer of the South Coast Power Corporation."

"Death loves a shining mark, Michael, my boy. Hand over that four dollars."

Farrel produced a five dollar bill. "I'm betting five dollars," he challenged again.

"Not with me, son. You're too good. I suppose your next bet will be that the plans were drawn by the engineer of the Central California Power Company."

"Were they?"

"Yes."

"Got a set of the plans with his name on them?"

"You bet."

"I want them."

"They're yours, provided you tell your Uncle Bill the Big Idea."

Don Mike flipped some pepper and salt on his eggs and while doing so proceeded to elucidate.

(To Be Continued)

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and diseases—symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

NUXATED IRON

is an eminent physician's best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anaemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help you. Ask for it at any drug store.

Warne Drug Co., Ltd., McDermid & Jury, Ernest L. Payne,

LETTER FROM MR. J. H. BURNHAM

The Province of Ontario is truly in a pitiful state. Not that it will not survive the orgy of extravagance to which it is being subsequented by men who thinking that anybody is good enough to manage public affairs seized the reins of power and straightway started to make themselves solid. It is not financial extravagance but moral depravity to which I refer and when the other day an Orangeman confessed to me that it was getting to be now that Protestants would steal anything they could lay their hands on while Catholics had greatly improved in that respect, I felt that we are reaping the whirlwind. When we substituted force for conscience and the fear of God we sowed the wind. What can we expect but that a people who have ceased to rely upon personal individual moral responsibility will degenerate? So much for the condition of the public mind in Ontario. It is the sort of soil which produces all that is bad and the product is coming up with a vengeance. And the worst of it is that it has all been accompanied by such tremendous professions of virtue. The politician of the old school and his trickery has been laughed to scorn but surely nothing has been seen worse than Drury and his seizing the reins of power with a minority of two hundred and forty-three thousand votes or his last act of juggling to maintain himself in power—if he should again return in a minority! Is it the fault of the public conscience or the public intellect that it tolerates this sort of thing? And then think of it. Not only did members of his government stage the famous last night party the worst debauch that ever disgraced a home of politics but Drury and that eminently pure and pious gentleman, Mr. Raney refused to allow it to be investigated and succeeded in suppressing an inquiry. Let others be prosecuted. Send them to goal and fine them for no offence against decency but for common violations of the O.T.A., but not the chief sinners. Yet these men have the awful brass to ask the people to renew their lease of stolen power. It was not to be wondered at that Mr. Drury's O. T. A. allowed the grape-growers of Western Ontario to defy prohibition while he and Raney pretended that prohibition existed. But it surely is to be wondered at that a people who used to respect themselves and each other have so lost their sense of common decency as to regard his trickery and blamelessness with indifference. Just think of it. These men may very possibly again be returned to power! And yet even is trying to reform itself.

You ask what I have to say regarding the Col. Currie episode. To me it seems wholly incomprehensible that anybody would do such a thing but when he replies "Oh! yes that's the way it used to be, nowadays its the general public advantage that counts not rights or honour," our tongues are tied.

J. H. BURNHAM.

MEN'S CLOTHES TAKE COLOR TUT'S REGALIA

King Tut failed to affect men's fashions as much as he did women's.

But this spring will see an amazing blaze of color on both sexes. Yellow and Nile green neckties will blossom alongside those of cherry and henna. The Prince of Wales' Shetland sweater, with all the tints of the spectrum, will be repeated here generally.

But with coats, suits and shoes man will remain quite conservative. There will be double and single-breasted coats and full, cuffless trousers with flapless pockets.

Stripes will be more popular than checks and brown this season.

You Won't Cough After Taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

On the first appearance of a cough or cold do not neglect it; get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia, or other serious lung troubles.

In Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup you will find a remedy that will relieve the cough or cold on its first inception by soothing the irritation, and healing the diseased lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Percy McRae, Little Shemogue, N.B. writes:—"Three years ago I had the "Flu" which left me with a very bad cough. I tried different medicines which did me no good, so I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It relieved me of that awful cough in a short time."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c and 60c a bottle at all dealers; put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CABINET CHANGES.

OTTAWA, April 30.— (Canadian Press.)— Hon. George Graham has been appointed Minister of Railways and E. W. MacDonald has taken over the portfolio of Minister of Defence temporarily.

THE TURKS ARE GREAT SCHEMERS

(By CHARLES P. STEWART)

The Turks always have been clever in keeping others whom they fear divided among themselves.

They didn't succeed as well as usual at the last Near Eastern conference at Lausanne. However, they got the conference postponed, to gain time. Now it's about to re-open, they've got things scrambled thoroughly.

Americans have been fixed with an oil land concession in Asiatic Turkey, to rival England's.

The Bagdad Railroad question's been reopened. Germany, beaten in the war, is out of it, but the United States has been brought in.

Trade with Persia's at stake.

There's talk of connecting Turkey and western China by rail.

Besides her oil rights, England's been set to worrying over the safety of her back door into India, from the north. France, with a Near Eastern foothold in Syria, doesn't want to see the United States get a better foothold yet. Japan, close to China on the east side, sees her trade endangered if another power builds a railroad in from the west Russia's interest in the whole disputed area is enormous.

So the next meeting is liable to be, not so much a conference between Turkey and the "powers" as a squabble among the "powers" themselves, with the Turks bargaining, here and there, wherever the trading looks best, and maybe getting pretty much anything they want.

* * *

Big Business Plans

The iron, steel and coal magnates continue to discuss settlement of the Ruhr question. E. H. Gary's talk with Hugo Stinnes makes it look as if America were taking part—as between magnates, not as a governmental matter.

Sir Allan Smith, the English captain of industry, wants an economic alliance including his country, America, Germany and Russia.

Other Britons who favor his plan say a combination like this would be too strong for France.

They declare England wants to rehabilitate all Europe. They think America wants the same thing. They believe Germany wants it too, as a means of rehabilitating herself. In Sir Allan's opinion, even the soviet rulers can see that general improvement would be for Russia's good.

But Sir Allan complains that France cares about rehabilitating nobody but herself. That's why he leaves her out of his scheme.

* * *

Russia, however, seems likely to get less recognition than some people favored according to her, because of the execution of Msgr. Butchkavitch, Roman Catholic vicar-general there, on a charge of opposing the soviet government.

The understanding was that Msgr. Butchkavitch, though condemned, would not actually be executed, but the Moscow rulers appear to have lost their tempers over the storm of protest they received from other governments, and to have put him to death against their original intention, to show they could do as they pleased, regardless of the rest of the world's wishes.

The result is that many people in other lands who had been in favor previously of giving them at least commercial recognition, have switched over to the side of those who oppose any relations whatever with such a regime.

* * *

London cables mention in the same breath gains in Labor's political strength in England and corresponding Conservative gains there, too.

There's nothing contradictory in this. Times are hard in England. This makes votes for the Labor party, which favors change. It's a tendency which the Conservatives consider dangerous, and they're drawing together for defensive purposes.

Consolidation of the Conservative lines is hastened by the general conviction that Andrew Bonar Law, the Conservative party leader, can't last as premier much longer. When he goes out, unless the Conservatives are clearly in a majority in Parliament, a Labor premier will come in. Many Englishmen who, on party issues, disagree with the Conservatives, are Conservatives nevertheless rather than radicals, as the British Laborites, in their opinion, are. So, for the expected period of stress, they're getting over toward the Conservative side.

Following Bonar Law, whenever he drops out, there may be a Labor premier—for a very little while. But he can't last—not at present. The Conservatives, when united, unquestionably are in a majority in England, at least as yet, and they're uniting now.

Property.

The Company owns in the Matachewan Gold Area approximately 840 acres in a compact block. This property is the result of the consolidation of the holdings of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited, The Matachewan Rand Gold Mines Limited and the Clemens-Robb claims, located in the centre of what is termed the Matachewan Gold Camp. The merger of these properties places the Company as one of the largest owners of mining properties in Northern Ontario.

A number of the claims making up the total acreage owned by the Company were staked by a group of well known prospectors, which included the late Benny Hollinger, the staker of the original famous Hollinger Mine in Porcupine, now considered one of the greatest gold mines in the world, and which produces approximately One Million Dollars in gold every thirty days. The estate of the late Mr. Hollinger ranks as one of the largest shareholders of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited.

The results secured from development work, hereinafter outlined, supply the foundation for practically every report that has been issued on the district from time to time, both by Dominion and Ontario Government geologists and independent engineers.

History and Location of Matachewan Camp

The Matachewan Gold Area was discovered in 1916 by the late Sam Otisse, one of the oldest and best known prospectors in Canada, the original discovery claims now forming a part of this Company's property. It is situated in the District of Temiskaming, Northern Ontario, and embraces the Townships of Powell, Yarrow, Cairo, Kimberley, Baden, Alma, Bannockburn, Holmes and Flavelle. It is reached by the T. & N. O. Railway to Elk Lake and thence by boat up the Montreal River or by road into the Camp. The Matachewan Camp proper, that is to say, the area where the greatest amount of development work has been accomplished (largely by this Company) is located in the Townships of Powell and Cairo. It is approximately 28 miles southwest of Kirkland Lake and 38 miles south of Porcupine, two of the largest producing gold camps of the Western Hemisphere, and among the greatest in the world.

Development.

During the years 1918, 1919 and 1920, working under most difficult conditions—due to the fact that the property was situated 25 miles from the railroad, and consequently inaccessible; also to the absence of electrical power—the merged companies expended in excess of $500,000 in acquiring claims and conducting an extensive campaign of diamond drilling, surface trenching and underground work. In order to carry out this programme, the Company installed a fairly complete mining plant and equipment, together with the required buildings and bunk houses. This involved the taking in of the necessary machinery, materials and supplies over a country where no roads were available at that time. The results secured, however, conclusively warranted this expenditure.

This preliminary development included the putting down, over a wide area, of 62 holes having an average depth of approximately 250 feet, totalling in all 14,294 feet. In addition, 3,700 feet of trenching, 203 feet of sinking and 1,000 feet of drifting has been done, having as its object the co-relating of the ore bodies. While the chief purpose of this work was to acquire information on the geological conditions existing, it resulted in demonstrating an estimated ore tonnage of 36,857 tons having an average value of $9.77 to the ton.

Extracts From Government Reports.

In a publication issued by the Department of Mines at Ottawa, under the name of "Geology of Matachewan District, Northern Ontario," Mr. H. C. Cook, Government Geologist, who made a thorough study of the Matachewan Area, stated in effect:

"The porphyry mass on these claims (Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited) is the largest yet discovered in the District, being somewhat over one-half mile in length and 500-600 feet in width."

"Channel samples, taken along the bottom of trenches in the enriched areas by the engineers examining the property, are said to have given values carrying from $5.00 to $25.00 per ton."

"The dykes contain sufficient auriferous pyrite to yield values carrying from $3.00 to $50.00 per ton with an average of about $10.00."

In the 29th Annual Report of the Ontario Department of Mines, published in 1920, is given the results of an exhaustive examination of the Matachewan Area as carried out by Mr. A. G. Burrows, Geologist for the Department. It is considered that no more favorable report has ever been issued in Canada on any gold area in the same stage of preliminary development. On Page 61, Paragraph 2, in his report on this Company's property, Mr. Burrows states as follows:

"In places the altered and mineralized light grey schist is 10 to 25 feet in width. One mass of ore to the northeast of No. 1 shaft is 50 feet long, with an average width of 20 feet. Two cross sections of this ore showed assay values of $12.75 over 27.35 feet and $18.31 over 22.75 feet. Another lens of light grey ore can be traced westward from No. 2 shaft for 100 feet into low ground. This ore averages about ten feet in width. In trench 200 one section 14.5 feet in width, of light greenish calcareous schist containing a band of grey porphyry showed an assay value of $20.25."

Conclusion.

An estimated ore tonnage of 36,857 tons has been indicated by the above work. Basing these estimates on the complete reports of the engineers, aggressive operations over a period of six to eight months should open up 150,000 to 200,000 tons of $11.00 ore, approximating in value $2,000,000, and permit the erection of a mill, thus placing the Company on a producing basis within a very short period.

We would draw your attention especially to the Board of Directorate of this Company, which constitutes one of the strongest group ever brought together in any single mining enterprise.

In due course application will be made to list this stock in Toronto and New York.

We are now offering for public subscription, for a limited period, 600,000 shares of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited at $1.00 (par value) a share.

LAKEFIELD DANCE A HUGE SUCCESS

Function In Behalf of Fire Brigade Event of Season —The Guests.

LAKEFIELD, April 30. — The dance held on Friday evening under the auspices of the Lakefield Volunteer Fire Brigade was the success of the season. There was a bumper crowd in which the younger set largely predominated. Pretty girls and pretty gowns there were in plenty and a plentiful supply of dancing hen assisted in no small measure to promote the good time. The music was furnished by the Syncopated Trio and was of excellent quality and a generous programme of popular dances kept the devotees of the Terpsichorean art busy till the wee sma' hours.

As the roads are pretty good there was a large contingent from Peterboro, probably thirty couples, and a load from Warsaw and one from Young's Point.

The Firemen were happy and did all in their power to make the affair go off well. Fire Chief W. L. Webster was a painstaking host and deserves a large measure of credit for his enterprise. Several tables of cards were set out on the platform and the players were able to watch the dancing in the intervals of the game.

JOHN STOCKDALE FREE OF CHARGE

Red Arrow Tire Man Now Wanted by Brockville Police.

OTTAWA, April 30.—The charge of the theft of $110.90, belonging to Dr. W. S. Chartrand, laid against John Stockdale, stock selling agent for the Red Arrow Tire Corporation, was dismissed by Magistrate William Joynt, in the Ottawa Police Court Saturday, after vouchers had been produced by the defendant showing that the money had been spent in paying bills of the company. The case was adjourned from Friday by Magistrate Hopewell to allow Stockdale and Constable Joseph Payette to go to Montreal to get the vouchers. Evidence showed that Stockdale had received the money from Dr. Chartrand for stock which was never delivered. The stock had not been delivered, according to the defendant, owing to differences among the board of directors. Stockdale is now being held for the Brockville police, who have also charges to be preferred against him.

ONE CONVICTED OF SHOOTING INDIANS

Mariposa Farmer Fined $20 and Costs in Lindsay — One Case Withdrawn.

LINDSAY, April 30. — The trial of two Mariposa residents, Rogers and Heattlie on the charge of shooting and wounding two Indians, Edgar and Marsden, of the Scugog reserve, came to a close on Friday night at 11 o'clock after an all day session.

The charge against Rogers was withdrawn by the Crown as the Indians were injured by a shot gun and Rogers only shot his rifle in the air. Heattie who used the shotgun was fined $20 and costs in the two charges preefrred against him.

The evidence went to show that all was not harmony between the white men and the Indians along certain stretches of the shore line of Scugog Lake. On the occasion of the shooting the Indians swore they were along the shore near Port Hoover, with their traps, preparing to hunt, when they were fired upon. It was contended by the witnesses for the defence that the Indians had spears in their hands and were out to rob the rat houses.

The trial attracted a big crowd from Mariposa district, the court room being filled to suffocation.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor of THE EXAMINER:

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30.—The play "Princess Chrysanthemum," given in Cole's Opera House, April 12 and 13, was given under the auspices of Bemersyde Chapter, was directed by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cowell. The agreement was fifty-fifty. The following is a financial statement:

Proceeds	$254.87
Expenses—
War Tax	$23.45
Costumes	50.70
E. J. Birkes	20.40
Rent of hall	57.00
Printing	18.75
E. Henson	2.50
A. E. Wragg	3.00
Cartage for piano and scenery	3.00
Cleaning of stage	1.00
Total	$179.80
Leaving a balance of	$ 75.07

Mr. Cowell having paid the bills for A. E. Wragg, cartage and cleaning, amounting to $7.00, is entitled to one-half of this amount, which brings his share of the net proceeds to $44.53, which leaves a balance of $37.50 for the Bemersyde Chapter.

On settling up Mrs. Cowell declared fifty-fifty "professionally" means that they get half of the proceeds and the Chapter get the remaining half, and pay all expenses. A heated discussion followed which Mrs. Cowell took as an insult and said they would accept no money.

After all bills were paid the Chapter forwarded a cheque and financial statement to Mr. Cowell, and received in reply, the cheque and following note:

"I regret to say that money cannot wipe out the insult offered to Mrs. Cowell. So I am returning your cheque. (Signed) R. T. COWELL."

The Chapter returned the cheque with following note:

"Mr. and Mrs. Cowell:

This cheque is not in payment of any insult. It is your fifty per cent of the net proceeds.

H. ATKINSON (Regent).
I. DAVIDSON (Treasurer)."

This time it was returned without comment.

This will explain why Mr. and Mrs. Cowell, who directed the play and trained the members of the cast, received nothing for their services.

HAZEL ATKINSON (Regent).

TWO MORE NEWSPAPERS HAVE AMALGAMATED

STRATFORD, Ont., April 30. — (Canadian Press). — Announcement is made to-day of the amalgamation of two Stratford daily newspapers, the Beacon and Herald, to be known hereafter as the Stratford Beacon-Herald. Application has been made for a charter for the company with a capitalization of $150,000.

The officers of the company are: President, W. J. Taylor, Woodstock; Vice-President, I. H. Dingman, St. Thomas; Managing Director, Chas. Dingman, Stratford. Additional directors are W. F. Toby and Archibald Thomson. Mr. Taylor purchased the Beacon last March.

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

BUYING OF CHANGING SMALL SELLERS

A handful of hints for the dealers who buy from changing small sellers—the old book store, the used furniture store, the coin dealer, the poultry shipper, the used car dealer, and still others.

Keep your Want Ad before readers regularly, the year round. As in their buying, so in their selling of small things, it is the habit of many people to deal with the most familiar and most convenient. The same principles which cause them to buy drugs and sundries at the handiest familiar drug-store, prompt them to call up the buying dealer whose name first occurs to them.

Realize the possibilities in that word, "convenient," and see how you can emphasize convenience in your Want Ads. "A phone call brings a courteous representative to your door." "We handle all requests for offers the same day as received, usually within two hours." "You sell without the trouble of packing, with no fuss or bother. We buy at your home, and send auto."

You probably buy for cash. If so, put the word in your Want Ad. Don't leave it for readers to assume you pay cash. Many don't do that, phoning instead the dealer who definitely offers cash in his Want Ad.

If you plan to pay at least as much as any other dealer, put "Highest prices paid," in your Want Ad.

There are several things you can do to make your Want Ad stick out from others. Perhaps you can use one or more of these statements, any one of which will help you: "Oldest dealer in town." "Fastest growing business in town in our line." "Largest used-clothing dealer in county."

Still another method is to write your Want Ad in the first person, as in, "I buy all American and foreign coins."

When you have developed a steady supply, make your Want Ads find for you the hard-to-get articles, by mentioning them, in addition to general matter, in your message.

The foregoing methods have all been proved very productive in dealer experience.

MONTREAL JANITOR SHOT AND KILLED BY ROBBERS

MONTREAL, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Shot through the heart by robbers he interrupted, the body of J. B. Roy, aged 71, janitor of the Sumner building, a block occupied by wholesale dry goods firms, was found early this morning by burglary insurance inspectors.

The janitor had apparently caught the burglars at work in the offices of Perrin Kayser Co., silk importers, on the tenth floor.

The inspectors came to the building when Roy failed to punch time clocks regularly.

The burglars were evidently carrying off bales of silks, as the floors of the office were littered with loot.

You Need a Bicycle for Business, Pleasure and Health

FROM early morn till late at night the bicycle plays an important part in our daily life.

It does its work so quietly, so smoothly, so efficiently, we scarcely realize its presence.

Ride to Work

Throngs of workmen cycle to and from work every day, saving time, car fare and the discomfort of riding in packed street cars or of walking long distances.

Multitudes of happy children — teachers, too—ride bicycles to school. And what in the world would the Boy Scouts do without bicycles?

Economical Deliveries

All days long messenger boys—and boys making light deliveries—flit by on bicycles.

Occasionally a plumber pedals by on his wheel on a hurry call—perhaps, a leaking pipe!

A carpenter with his kit wheels from one job to another. The collector and the insurance agent glide along to make calls—many of them not near a car line.

Pleasure and Emergencies

Out in the country, the city man rides for a day's fishing with his rod tied on his wheel. Coming towards him a farmer's boy wheels hurriedly to the city to get a spare part for a farm machine that has broken down.

Away down in California, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks ride bicycles for pleasure and to keep fit. An example that other men and women could follow with benefit to their health.

More People Riding

More people are riding bicycles today than for years past. The paved roads are so smooth, so clean, and so easy to ride on, they are creating new riders by the thousands.

Just climb on a C. C. M. yourself and see how exhilarating it is to ride a bicycle.

See how easily it glides along, thanks to the C. C. M. Triplex Hanger—the three-piece hanger that gives the C. C. M. so much speed—and pep—and power.

Then press back on your pedals and see how quickly and smoothly the Hercules Coaster Brake acts.

Note how strong and rigid the frame is. It's of English Seamless Tubing, strongly reinforced.

Look at the brilliant, lustrous enamel—durable and lasting. And the glistening nickel. It's done over copper so it won't rust.

Glimpse the new Gibson Pedal, too—so light and so strong. Its silvery frame is of aluminum and cannot rust.

Stand back and look at the C. C. M.'s trim, graceful, racy lines. A beauty! A bicycle anyone would be proud of. And one that will give years and years of faithful service.

You need a bicycle—most everybody does.

Slip into the C. C. M. dealer's and talk things over with him. He will show you all the new models, including the new C. C. M. Sport Model for the man who wants something different.

COBOURG AND DISTRICT

COBOURG, Apr'l 30.—The Central Ontario Durham and Northumberland M'n'ster'al Assoc'at'on met at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Ferguson, at Baltimore on Tuesday, when a very pleasant gathering was held and Rev. J. W. Baird, pastor of the Methodist Church, Port Hope, gave an able paper, his theme be'ng "Evangelism." Opportunity was taken before the gathering broke up for the members of the Assoc'ation to express the'r keen regret because of the expected removal of two members of the Association, Rev. H. A. Carson, who goes shortly to Roch Island, Quebec, and Rev. J. P. McLennan, who has not yet definitely dec'ded as to where he will go. The pleasant assoc'at'ons of the past few years, during wh'ch they have been members of the Association, were rev'ewed and the most cordial good w'shes expressed for the continued good welfare and success of these departing ministers who res'de 'n Cobourg, and the'r families.

Real Estate Transfers

Mr. John Gomley has purchased the Gormley res'dence at the corner of Spencer and D'v's'on Sts.

Mr. Fred Clarke has purchased through Mr. G. E. R. W'lson, the Dewey property at Lakeport.

Ralph D. Dramond has sold to Thomas W. A. M'lligate, a part of Lot 14, Con. 6, Hald'mand Tp.

Mr. W'lbur Sackville has sold a part of Lot 30, Con. 7, Hamilton Tp. to William Benson.

Mr. Alex. Skinner of Englehart, t, formerly of Hamilton Tp., has purchased from the John Hume estate, the farm on the Provincial Highway west, occupied for some time by Mr. Henry McLaren. It is understood that the price was in the neighborhood of $12,000.

Mrs. Janney has sold, through Mrs. Geo. Armour, we understand, a cottage on Queen St. to Mrs. F. B. Nivin of Toronto.

Mrs. William Holloway has purchased from Miss Robertson a lot and frame house on Station St.

Alexander McDonald of Alma, has sold to Wesley Harron, 100 acres in Hamilton Tp., being the east half of Lot 1, Con. 4.

Francis and William Herald have sold to Fred. Harris, it is stated, 117 acres of marsh land near the mouth of the Ocmabee River.

Electric Blower Put In

A new electric blower has been installed for the organ at the Baptist church, and it was used for the first time this week. It is a great improvement.

Excursion From Rochester

The sophomores of the University of Rochester staged the first excursion of the season from Genessee dock by the steamer Ontario No. 2 for Cobourg, and arrived here one evening about 11 p.m. They held their banquet on the boat. After a parade through the town the boat cleared some time after midnight on the return trip. The Freshmen are stated to have kindly accompanied them to the dock at Rochester, where the usual college skirmish was engaged in. Upon being unkindly left behind by the excursionists, they dispensed parting salutes from the dock in the way of choice eggs and vegetables flung after the departing boat.

Fractured Collar Bone

When George Page was riding in his auto cart one day this week, he met with an unfortunate fall, which resulted in a broken collar bone and other slight injuries. A physician reduced the fracture, and he is reported to be doing well.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Inspiring Service at St. Andrew's—The Twelve O'clock Club to Meet—Separate School Concert

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30.—Rev. R. G. Fry preached very acceptably at St. Andrew's Church last night and at the conclusion of his sermon rendered in splendid voice a solo "Almost Persuaded". Mr. Fry has for the past month been taking the services at Burnbrae during the absence of Rev. J. J. Black the regular pastor who was in Chicago engaged in past graduate work He leaves in a short time to visit his parents in Ireland.

The special number on the musical programme for the evening was the solo, "Abide With Me", charmingly rendered by Mrs. (Dr.) Fred Free.

Twelve O'Clock Club

A general meeting of the members of the Twelve O'Clock Club will be held in the Public Library to-morrow evening. All members are asked to attend as there are important business matters to be disposed of. A full report of the activities of the Club during the winter will be given and a programme for next season will be discussed.

Separate School Concert

A concert will be given to-night in Cole's Opera House by the pupils of St. Mary's Separate School, assisted by the pupils from Sacred Heart and St. Joseph, the rural separaae schools in his parish. There has been an unusually brisk advance sale of seats and everything points to a crowded house. The programme for the evening is as follows:

Welcome Chorus —Pupils of St. Mary's School.

Play—"No Girls Admitted', pupils of St. Joseph.

Recitation — "Nothing Like a Daddy,"—Owen Hoey.

Dialogues—"The Physical Torture Club", and "Jake Hayseed in the City"—pupils of Sacred Heart.

Song, "I love you Canada,"—pupils of Sacred Heart.

"The Brownies Whisper" a floral cantata —pupils of St. Mary's.

Song, "The Heroes",—boys of St. Mary's.

Scarf drill—Twelve girls of St. Mary's.

Closing Chorus — "Good Night", pupils of St. Marys.

Illegal Fishing

Two game and fish wardens, assisted by local officials went to Meyers burg Friday night and as a result of their visit complaints will be made against seven persons who are charged with jacklighting on the river. An auto which was used for the transportation of the speared pickerel was confiscated.

IMMIGRANTS FROM HEBRIDES ARE HERE

Music of the Pipes Played a Prominent Part in the Welcome of Canada's New Citizens.

ST. JOHN, N. B., April 30 (Canadian Press).—To the merry skirl of the pipes, the Hebrideans who left their native land on the steamer Marloch to seek their fortunes in the new world, stepped briskly down the gangway this morning and marched from the dock to the immigration sheds. There they were formally welcomed to Canada by Mayor Fisher of St. John, who accorded to the new comers not only the cordial greetings of the city but also words of salutation and good wishes on behalf of Hon. Mr. Stewart, Minister of Immigration in the Federal Government, and Hon. Mr. Mersereau, Provincial Minister of Agriculture.

The large group of Scots who came to St. John yesterday, the first group of Britishers to come here in years, as a body, was most favorably commented on by local people who watched the debarking. Alert, rugged, self-reliant and showing in a pronounced degree, the color which comes from good health, the Hebrideans impressed on-lookers as just the right type, physically and mentally, to make good in this country.

St. Andrew's Society was represented in force among the welcoming party. Their piper was present in Highland costume and played during the landing, during the march to the immigration building, and during the routine of examination by the government officials. Pipers among the Hebrideans also furnished music in the immigration building.

The Hebrideans are in charge of Rev. John Macmillan, who will remain with them at Red Deer, Alta., their destination, as pastor, and Rev. Alexander J. Gillies, who will, when the party are finally located, return to the Hebrides.

PRESENT DANCE RECORDS BROKEN 1,000 YEARS AGO

PARIS, April 30 (Canadian Press) —Present United States dance records were broken one thousand years ago, according to manuscripts discovered in Mount St Michael Monastery.

A Benedictine monk, in the year 1023, received a German pilgrim named Rathbert, who recounted the history of a miracle in which a sinner danced for 365 days without stopping, as a penance.

THE LATEST PHASE OF CAMPBELLFORD SCHOOL

Question of New School Will Be Discussed at a Council Meeting This Evening—A Review of the Situation.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30. — The latest phase of the High School question is inquiries by citizens and members of the Town Council having to do with the early history of the movement for a new building and how the Council stood when the sum of $75,000 was voted to the Board of Education in 1920. The Examiner has gleaned from the official records of the Council the following information which will be of interest when read in connection with the present status of the question, and especially in view of the meeting of the Town Council tonight to deal with the requisition of the Board of Education for the raising of $68,000 by a debenture issue. From the bare record of the minutes the conclusion is reached that there was a difference of opinion in the earlier stages of the movement among the members of the Council, that final action was deferred until after the municipal election, probably with a view to giving the taxpayers an opportunity to record their verdict. The result of that election was that a number of the old councillors were defeated, and, for all the minutes show to the contrary, the $75,000 grant was passed by unanimous grant.

The First Vote.

The first time the matter of a new High School was officially brought to the notice of the Council was at a regular meeting held on April 21, 1919. The members of the Council in that year were: Dr. G. A. Hay, Mayor; J. W. Cairns, Reeve; Chas. H. Davidson, Deputy Reeve, and Councillors J. N. Stone, F. J. Smith, Thomas S. Baker, M. Mulhearn, A. L. Riendeau and James Y. Mitchell. Mr. Cairns has since died but he is remembered here as one of the best public servants Campbellford has ever had.

At the meeting referred to, J. A. Stewart, manager of the Standard Bank, and at that time a member of the Board of Education, placed before the Council a resolution that had been adopted by his Board, and asked for the privilege of addressing the meeting, this permission being granted.

Trustees D. J. Lynch, J. A. Irwin and others then spoke on the matter of building a new High School.

Councillor Smith moved and Deputy Reeve Davidson seconded, that the Council act on the resolution of the Board of Education and issue debentures for $60,000, the balance of the $75,000 asked for to be raised by the Township of Seymour. This motion was later withdrawn.

It was then moved by Reeve Cairns seconded by Councillor Baker, and carried, that the matter be left over for a fuller discussion by the Council, and that Mayor Hay be authorised to call a public meeting of ratepayers to be held at the Music Hall on 28th April.

Board Calls a Halt.

At the Council meeting held on 5th May, 1919, a letter from the Board of Education was read, and enclosed was a copy of a resolution adopted by the Board, asking the Council to defer its approval or disapproval of the requisition asking for $69,000 until after 19th May.

On the motion of Councillor Smith and Reeve Cairns, this resolution was laid on the table.

The First Test Vote.

When the Council met on 19th May, Mayor Hay moved and Deputy-Reeve Davidson seconded, a motion that the resolution of the Board of Education be approved by the Council, and that a by-law be prepared as requested by the Board.

Councillors Mulhearn and Mitchell offered an amendment that the resolution asking for a grant be disapproved, and that the Council respectfully ask the Board of Education to submit the original motion to the ratepayers of the town of Campbellford. This amendment was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Cairns, Mitchell, Mulhearn.

Nays—Smith, Baker, Stone, Riendeau and Davidson.

When the original motion was put all voted in the affirmative excepting Reeve Cairns and Councillor Mitchell.

Another Request From Board.

Nothing more with reference to the proposed new High school appears in the records of Council until the meeting of October 6th, 1919, when the Board of Education sent in the following resolution:

"That the Finance committee of the Board of Education of the town of Campbellford request the Council of the town of Campbellford and the township of Seymour to pass by-laws authorizing the issue of debentures for $69,000 and $6,000 respectively, as soon as possible and that a copy of this resolution, under the seal of the Board, be sent to the clerks of the said corporation for submission to their respective councils at their next meetings."

Trustees Lynch and Stewart addressed the council urging the passing of the by-law.

It was then moved by Reeve Cairns, seconded by Councillor Stone, that in accordance with the request of the Board of Education that this council do now instruct the town solictior to prepare a by-law to raise $69,000, the debentures to bear interest at six per cent. and to run for 30 years .This was carried, but there is no record of how the councillors divided.

By-law Introduced.

At the council meeting held in December 1st, 1919, Deputy-reeve Davidson introduced a by-law to provide for the issue of debentures for $69,000 for a site and a building properly equipped in accordance with the regulations of the Department of Education. This by-law passed its first and second reading.

Reeve Cairns and Councillor Riendeau then moved for a two months' hoist of the by-law, but the motion was lost.

On motion of Councillors Mitchell and Stone, the third reading of the by-law was deferred until December 15th.

Another Adverse Vote.

On December 15th Deputy-reeve Davidson and Councillor Stone moved that the by-law by read a third time. This motion was lost on the following division:

Yeas—Davidson, Stone.

Nays—Riendeau, Smith, Mulhearn, Mitchell, Baker.

Goes to New Council.

This action carried the High school question over to the council of 1920 in which a number of new faces appeared, these being D. F. Robertson, C. W. Palliser, J. A. Irwin, W. S. Russell, V. S. Collinson and A. J. (now Mayor) Meyers. In the election of 1920 Dr. G. A. Hay had for his opponent for the mayoralty Councillor M. Mulhearn, the former being re-elected by a majority of four .Councillor Mulhearn demanded a recount and this gave him a gain of one vote.

J. A. Irwin was one vote ahead of Councillor Smith and a recount resulted in a tie, the casting vote giving the position to Councillor Irwin, a former member of the Board of Educaation.

Deputy-reeve Davidson In that election was promoted to the Reeveship and Councillor Stone was elected Deputy-reeve.

Bylaw Recast.

At the first regular meeting of the 1920 council Trustee Lynch appeared before the members and asked that the school bylaw be recast so as to provide for the entire debenture issue of $75,000 by the town, $6000 of that to be charged up to the township of Seymour. This request was concurred in on motion of Councillors Irwin and Robertson.

Final Action Taken.

Final action was taken at the meeting on April 5, 1920, when Councillor Irwin sponsored a bylaw for the $75,000 debenture issue. This passed to the first, second and third reading. There is no record of a vote by taking the yeas and nays.

The bylaw referred to is known as 694 in the official proceedings.

Cause of Delay.

When the board advertised for tenders for the new school it was found that owing to the sudden rise in the cost of building material and labor the amount at their disposal was not sufficient, and that about $20,000 additional would be required to put up a structure according to the original plans. Efforts to secure this from the council explains the delay.

Finally the Board decided to revise the original plans, leaving out the gymnasium and assembly room, so as to bring its cost within the sum already at their disposal. The new building would be in the form of an "L," leaving space for the gymnasium and the assembly room when it is decided to put up these additions.

NEED MORE AGENTS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 30. — (Canadian Press.)—More liquor is being run into the United States from Canada than from combined whiskey smuggling fleets, Roy Merrick, zone chief prohibition agent, said, following his return yesterday from a week's inspection trip of the northern border. He said prohibition enforcement agents on the border should be increased from twenty to fifty.

USE GERMAN STONE.

EDINBURGH, April 30.—(United Press.)—Germany is even selling the Scotch granite with which to erect war materials and erect the graves of war dead, it developed today, when Scottish granite manufacturers met to prepare a protest to Parliament. A movement is afoot to raise all memorials now built from German stone.

AMERICANS GET OIL CONCESSIONS

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 30.—(United Press).—The Chester agreement granting America concessions in the development of the Anatolian oil fields, was signed at Angora today. In the face of French protests, the Turkish Commissioner of Public Works, Feisel Bey, and Col. Kennedy, of the Ottoman-American Development Co., affixed their signatures to the final papers, despatches stated.

Copies were exchanged by the parties and the work will be begun at the earliest possible moment.

The management of the railway project, which is to haul minerals, oils, etc., to the sea, has begun a study of the situation, and actual labor on the scheme will be begun as soon as plans are completed.

Col. Kennedy went to Angora by way of Mudania aboard the American destroyer. All details were completed before his arrival, and there remained only the formal signing of the papers. Under the contract which was voted by the Turkish Assembly, the American company will have exclusive rights in the development of certain leased territory in Anatolia for the marketing of oil and minerals. It includes the Anatolian rail and coincident projects.

EXPECT MAY DAY TO BE ORDERLY

LONDON, April 30 (Canadian Press). — Approximately twenty-five million workers will observe May Day to-morrow throughout Europe.

Probabilities of serious trouble are less, with the exception of the Ruhr, than at any time in a decade.

Although there are more than a million unemployed in this country, outside of the customary Red flags and demonstrations at Hyde Park, there is little likelihood of anything happening.

In other European countries, for various reasons, this May Day is expectd to be quiet

CELEBRATED CEREMONY DECREE OF SANCTITY

ROME, April 30 (Canadian Press) —Pope Pius yesterday celebrated for the first time the gorgeous ceremony of beatification, pronouncing the first decree of sanctity on Sister Therese, a nun of the Barefooted Order of Carmelites, who died at Lisieux, in France, only twenty-four years ago.

It is an exception for the Catholic Church to beatify so shortly after death.

Sister Therese was a beautiful poet, writer, and artist of high gifts, and entered the religious life when fifteen years of age.

PROTESTS AGAINST THE EXCLUSION OF RUSSIA.

LAUSANNE, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—An official protest against Russia being arbitrarily kept out of the conference was sent to the Near East Peace Conference to-day by M. Vorovsky, Soviet representative here. He declared such a decision was in direct violation of the terms of invitation sent to Russia by Great Britain, France and Italy preceding the first Lausanne Conference on November 14, 1922.

M. Vorovsky, in his protest, says Russia cannot accept the ultimatum of the conference that she must sign a convention fixing the status of the Turkish Straits before being admitted to the conference.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curbs the film and removes it without harmful grit. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Which Smile

They show prettier teeth nowadays

Note the open smiles—the glistening teeth — wherever you look today.

A change has come. Millions of people use a new way of teeth cleaning.

This is to offer you a delightful test, to show what it means to you.

Combat the film

The way to pretty teeth is by combating film.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escape.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Teeth not clean

So dental science searched for film combatants, and found two. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research, and these two film destroyers were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Now careful people of some 50 nations employ it, largely by dental advice.

Aids to Nature

Nature gives alkalinity to the saliva, to neutralize mouth acids. It puts a starch digestant in saliva, to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

These agents were generally too weak. So Pepsodent multiplies that alkalinity, multiplies that starch digestant. So it gives manifold power to these tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

Accept this test

Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era. The prettier teeth seen everywhere show that. Learn what it means to you.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — | New York Stock Exchange — And Curb Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, April 30. — (Special.)— Apathy still manifested its influence of the New York Stock Exchange to-day.

Generally prices were somewhat under Saturday's close .Oils and Sugars were inclined to sag, the former under the influence of the bear attacks of last week and the Sugars because of the rapidly spreading housewives' boycott against higher retail sugar prices. Trading was dull and uninteresting. Steels, Motors and Equipments held well. Brokers remain optimistic, arguing that the present dullness is temporary and that the market will continue its upward trend just as soon as it breaks out its apathy.

Selling of Houston is due to disappointment over the failure of the company to make a favorable showing.

With a prospect of lower Oil prices the outlook is that results for 1923 will be more disappointing than last year, when the company earned $2.75 a share on $24,968,000 of common stock. Houston Oil is solely a producing company and its revenue is quickly decreased by lower crude prices. Stocks demonstrated before the morning was half gone, that they had no immediate intention of breaking away from the dullness which characterized the latter half of last week. Heaviness in Steel, Corn Product and a few other industrial leaders was counter-balanced by special strength in individual stock.

California Petroleum's recovery of more than a point to 93 1-4 in the face of irregularity in the general Oil group bore out the statement of a prominent commission house that insiders were accumulating this issue which was declared to have completed its reaction irrespective of what other Oils did. Lima Locomotive was steady around 71, reflecting expectations of record earnings this year. The common stock paid $1.75 quartely from Dec .31, 1920, to Sept. 1, 1922. Buyers of the stock are confident that shareholders will receive more than the current $4 annual rate this year. Reports have been circulated for some time that a large equipment comapny was negotiating for control of Lima.

To-day the stock market goes on daylight saving which means that the market opens and closes one hour earlier. The bears made a successful raid on the market to-day and the result of some of their operations left some of the leaders all the way from one to five points below the opening. In spite of the improved industrial conditions throughout the United States and Canada there has been a strong feeling abroad for some time that so far as the stock market is concerned the top has been reached. The last upward swing did not create any more than passing interest to the professionals who regarded it in the light of a final spurt. This does not necessarily mean that a bear market will follow in spite of to-day's attack. The market has successfully resisted all major attacks up to the present and to-day's decline may be followed by a little rally.

"Switching for Profit"

Some Stocks More Likely to Rise Than Others

The subject of switching is one of the most complex problems the investor has to solve. At the same time it is, of course, one of the most interesting and important of all connected with the stock market.

At all times it is a prime necessity for the investor to keep in close touch with his investments. Conditions are constantly changing, and "good" securities sometimes have a way of turning into the other kind. Also, many opportunities are lost by not watching developments in the security markets.

Send us a list of your holdings. We will gladly supervise same and suggest any trades that our experience dictates.

ATTRACTIVE OFFERING OF NEW CANADIAN GOLD MINING COMPANY

F. C. Sutherland & Co., Toronto, are offering 600,000 treasury shares of Matachewan Canadian Gold, Limited, at par $1.00 per share.

This company is a merger of Matachewan Rand Gold Mines, Limited, and the Clemens Robb Group of claims, which unites properties representing approximately 640 acres of the district with a consolidated capitalization of $5,000,000. Considerable development work has already been done on the property but it has been held back awaiting the completion of the new power plant of the Great Northern Power Co. at Indian Chutes, with which it signed a contract some time ago. Already $400,000 to $500,000 has been spent in prospecting and the programme which is to be immediately commenced will bring the total up to approximately $1,000,000. More diamond drilling has already been done than on any other property outside of the big producers of the Porcupine camp so that it is by no means a prospect but one of the most advanced of the non-producing properties of the North country. The new work to be started can be considered one of the biggest items of the season's campaign of development.

The directorate of Matachewan Canadian Gold, Limited, consists of a number of well-known Canadian and American business men. It is composed of as follows:—President, Hon. Senator G. D. Robertson, P.C., LL.D., former Minister of Labor, Ottawa; Vice-President of the order of Railway Telegraphers. Vice-President, Hon. Senator J. A. McDonald, president Aeolian Pianos, Limited, vice-president Atlantic Underwear Co., Limited, Managing Director, Jos. S. Qualey, Mine Operator, New York. Secretary, Russell E. Evans, Toronto. Directors, Hon. Rodolph Monty, P.C., K.C., ex-secretary of State for Canada, member of law firm of Monty, Duranleau, Ross & Angers, Montreal. M. S. Clarke, Clarke, Hook & Co., Halifax, N.S. vice-president of N. S. Trust Co. C. F. Havin, Secretary Detroit Baseball Co., Detroit. Hugh H. Sutherland, General Manager, Great Northern Power Company, Limited. W. J. Boland, MacDonall & Boland, solicitors, Toronto. Henry S. Thompson, vice-president, Globe & Rutgers Insurance Co., N. Y. N. H. Hopkins, Oil Operator, New York.

She Never Worried But Let Examiner Recover Her Scarf

Mrs. Jones was a lady who never worried. She thought "Ichgebibbela" was the greatest word ever invented, and used it frequently when anything threatened to mar the serenity of her existence. So when her neighbor Mrs. Smith, lost a valuable silk scarf the other day and seemed to be on the verge of hysterics over it, she advised her immediately not to fret, but to go at once and put a "lost" ad in "The Examiner and, next day, when the pleased Mrs. Smith ran over to exhibit her newly-recovered property, Mrs. Jones, whose motto is "I should worry," had the enormous satisfaction of saying, "I told you so."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS FROM DISTRICT COMING

On 24th May, members of the Knights of Columbus to the number of about 400 will gather here for the initiation into the order of some 80 candidates from the surrounding district, including Lindsay, Cobourg, Oshawa, Lakefield, Havelock, Hastings, and Campbellford. It is four years since initiation ceremonies were held in Peterborough, and the local council of which Mr. Sylvester Shaughnessy is Grand Knight, is planning a notable day, commencing with mass at St. Peter's Cathedral in the morning, and progressing through initiation ceremonies to a monster banquet in the evening, Mr. Joseph J. Duffus has charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors, and the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Cathedral is co-operating with the local council in this regard. St. Alphonsus' Lyceum will be the scene of the initiation ceremonies and banquet.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY NAME IS OBLITERATED

The Grand Trunk Railway system has gone for good, and the Canadian people's railroad is now known as the Canadan National Railway System.

Orders issued from the head office of the Canadian National Railways in regard to the erasing of the old name from the bulletin and schedule boards and the substitution of "Canadian National Railway System" have been carried out in Peterborough. The time tables have been changed ,and they now bear in gold fettering on a black background, Canadian National Railways."

The old name of Grand Trunk has passed away, and herefter when calling the up-totwn office or the station, the answer given will be "Canadian National." There has been a little confusion met with so far, callers thinking the answer meant the telegraph company.

Orders have been issued that all new and re-painted cars, engines and other equipment are to be lettered with the new name of the system,

Liver Trouble

Pains in Stomach

Most of the misery and ill-health that humanity is burdened with arise from disorders of the liver, stomach or bowels,

If you are feeling out of sorts, have pains in the stomach, especially after eating, sour stomach, bilious spells, sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, water brash, etc., you should take a few doses of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They will liven up the liver, regulate the bowels, and tone up the stomach.

Mr. T. C. Hallman, Highgate, Ont., writes:—"I have had liver trouble and pains in the stomach for a long time. I started to use your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and in short time I noticed they were helping me. Now I woul not be without them and cannot recommend them too highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto,

Kidnaped by Savage Eskimos

Beautiful Canadian Girl Suffers As Tragic a Fate As Ever Befell a White Woman; Carried Off by the Dreaded "Fish Fang" Tribe Into the Trackless Wastes of Labrador

Miss Marguerite Lindsay.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, Leader of the Grenfell Expedition Which Miss Lindsay Accompanied to the Labrador Coast.

Eskimos Camping Out in Tents During Their Brief Summer Vacation.

A LOVELY society girl kidnaped by savage eskimos — victim of as strange a fate as ever befell a white girl!

Somewhere in the snowy wastes of northern Labrador, Marguerite Lindsay, beautiful, well-bred Canadian girl, is held captive by the wild "Fish Fang" eskimo tribe—while her brother is leading an airplane expedition into the arctic regions as the only hope of rescue.

Marguerite Lindsay, scarcely past twenty and who was one of the reigning beauties of English and Canadian society, became a member of Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell's expedition this Summer, and went with his party on the hospital ship Strathcona to the north Labrador coast to do social welfare work among the natives.

During the short arctic Summer, which is much warmer in that latitude than most people in the temperate zone suppose, Miss Lindsay occupied a hut which she shared with another girl member of the expedition. The hut was a half mile or more from the shore, in a group which housed other members of the party.

One day Miss Lindsay announced her intention of going down to the shore to bathe. Her companion warned her not to go out alone, but the British girl, self-reliant and athletic, said she was not afraid of anything and would be back safe in time for lunch.

She went down to the seashore—and has never been seen since. Dr. Grenfell's party supposed at first she might have been seized with cramps and drowned, but not a trace of her clothing could be found. Then they discovered signs which indicated that a struggle had taken place on shore—and presently their suspicions of her abduction were confirmed when they learned that a party of the wild and savage "Fish Fang" tribe, hunters and fishermen from further north, had been seen in the neighborhood with their big canoes, formed of hides stretched over frames of bone.

The girl's fate was no longer in doubt. She had been seized by this band of marauding eskimos, overcome by force, thrown into one of the canoes and carried off into the trackless north.

Further up the coast it is believed the band landed and struck inland with their white girl captive.

What has become of Marguerite Lindsay since? Her grief-stricken family and friends scarcely dare to speculate. The "Fish Fangs" are known to be as primitive and savage as the American Indians were in the old days. Whether they seized the girl for ransom or to carry her into slavery or to make her the wife of one of their chiefs no one knows.

Marguerite Lindsay is a typical Canadian-English girl of the upper classes, with a wealth of beautiful blonde hair and very bright coloring. She was a prime favorite in English society after the war, and was one of the most courted belles of Mayfair and the London West End.

She led the life that a girl of that class leads—surrounded by luxuries, comforts and adoration. When she awoke in the late morning, tea was brought her by a maid; then the perfumed bath, the hairdresser, the lazy breakfast, the notes and invitations to social functions, the ride in the park. Later in the afternoon, tea in some studio or salon. In the evening, a formal dinner, with perhaps the opera or a ball afterward. The latest gowns from Paris, hosts of admirers, social triumphs—everything that the heart of a beautiful young girl could wish.

Imagine all that last Winter—less than a year ago. And imagine the life she may be leading now! Neither fact nor fiction could afford a more violent or tragic contrast.

Not one word has come from Marguerite Lindsay since she was kidnaped by the eskimos, but white men who have been among the eskimos in the interior and know every detail of their daily round know that Marguerite Lindsay must be living—if she was taken alive.

She sleeps on a pile of evil-smelling furs in a smoky hut or igloo. No light and little air can get in from the outside. Her clothing consists of skins and furs, sewn on her with the beginning of the Winter, to be left there until the coming Spring. Her food consists of blubber and dried raw fish, with seal meat and seal blood when the hunters of the tribe are lucky. Her occupation, if they make her work, consists of cleaning fish and drying their skins. The eskimos live by hunting and fishing, in which the men are exclusively engaged. All the worst drudgery incident to these occupations is left to the women.

Kidnaped in the arctic circle, Marguerite Lindsay has no books, no amusements, no friends with whom she can talk, no members of her own race to whom she can turn for sympathy. Perhaps the women of the tribe are sorry for her and treat her kindly. Perhaps they hate her and help make her life a horror because they are jealous of her blonde beauty. No one knows.

Perhaps they all treat their captive with great deference and consideration. Perhaps their chief is trying to persuade her to become contented with her strange lot and willingly become his wife.

Perhaps, if she has rebelled and sought to escape, they keep her tied up like an animal and seek to break her spirit with their savage cruelty.

Perhaps—stranger things have happened to white people captured by savages—they have made a sort of princess or goddess of her and revere her, though a captive, as something sacred, bringing her the choicest bits of food, the finest furs and skins—the best their wild surroundings can afford.

Any of these may have happened to Marguerite Lindsay—may be happening to her at this very moment. Which is nearest the truth, nobody knows. But one thing is certain. If she ever comes back alive she will have the strangest story to tell that has ever been heard from the lips of a modern woman.

As soon as Miss Lindsay's brother, who served as a lieutenant in the war, heard of his sister's disappearance, he hurried to the eastern shore of Canada and, procuring an airplane, started to search across the barren wastes of Labrador for the "Fish Fang" tribe. His first effort was unsuccessful. He secured further assistance, and the attempt at rescue became a desperate race with the approach of mid-Winter and its terrible snow blizzards.

The rescuers have by no means abandoned hope. Throughout the whole Winter travel is possible, in dog sleds if not in airplanes, and the search will be kept up. Their best chance, they believe, is through other tribes of eskimos, who have consented to aid the rescue party.

Dr. Grenfell and the Grenfell Association of America have been working for years among the eskimos, and have won the lasting gratitude of many tribes which regard the savage "Fish Fangs" as their enemies.

Miss Lindsay's father, who is well known in British and Canadian financial circles and who was one of the heads of the Canadian Red Cross in London during the war, has put all his resources at the command of the rescue expedition—and still hopes that his daughter will be restored to him.

CUP PRESENTED TO BILLIARD CHAMPS

Banquet For De Laval Team, Winners of the City Billiard League — G. N. Gordon Presented Cup.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Peterboro City Billiard League on Saturday night in the S.O.E. hall, when the trophies won during the past year were presented to the winning teams. The President of the League, W. Shiner, occupied the chair.

In presenting the G. N. Gordon Cup to the De Laval Billiard Team, winners of the City League, Mr. Gordon testified to his pleasure in seeing tangible proof that interest has been awakened in this admirable game in the city. "There is no game which is more adapted to developing skill and quickness of the eye than the game of billiards" he said. "It is good sport for the young men of the city. A man who is an expert billiard player is not likely to engage in any excesses which will mar his efficiency. It is also wholesome and good for all of us that these games should be encouraged, for such games promote friendship." Mr. Gordon said he was glad to see the city developing as a sporting city without professionalism. "Billiards is a gentleman's game" he concluded, "and promotes good feeling and the milk of human kindness among the fraternity of experts of the cue."

The team captains made suitable replies, and in his speech of thanks the chairman conveyed the appreciation of the City Billiard League for the interest evidenced by Mr. Gordon in presenting the trophies. Great credit for the success of the League was due to the efforts of the secretary, he said.

The winners of the G. N. Gordon Cup were A. Nicholls, (Captain); F. Whitehouse, G. Kearns, B. Nicholls, P. Pirrie, R. Evans and A. Morley of the De Laval team. The winners of the Consolation Cup presented to the runners up were: L. Campbell, (Captain), F. Joyes, L. Johnston, H. Gotobed, H. Payne, of the Sons of England team.

During the evening a very enjoyable musical program was rendered by talented members of the teams, including violin solos and a vocal solo by Frank Whitehouse and a vocal solo by A. Nicholls.

Community singing was a big success with Frank Whitehouse as leader. At the close of the program the president voiced the thanks of the gathering for the work of those who contributed to the program and to Mr. Nicholls especially for his accompaniments on the piano. A very successful evening closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Carpentier Training For His Next Battle.

PARIS, April 30. — (Canadian Press)—Georges Carpentier is training hard for his fight next Sunday in Buffalo Velodrome here against Marcel Nilles; in fact, it is said he never before trained harder for any contest than for the twenty round battle in which he hopes to regain his prestige lost in the same ring to the big black Senegalese fighter, "Battling" Siki.

Carpentier has been away from Paris since the articles for next Sunday's fight were signed, a month ago, and it is reported from his training quarters at La Guerthe that he is in the best of condition physically and paying especial attention to his hands.

The Velodrome program contains, in addition to the Carpentier-Nilles fight, battles for two European championships. Piet Hobin, of Belgium, will fight Portcher, of France, for the welterweight crown, and Charlie Ledoux will do battle with another Frenchman named Routes, for the bantamweight title.

Woollens Walloped the Tail-End Team.

The Canadian Woollens, with their star battery in action for the last time, snowed the Utilities nine under in the most complete style with a score of 21 to 0. McLean and Hopkins made their farewell appearance in the Woollens uniform and left town yesterday to take up out-of-town positions. The industrial champs started off strong with the willow, and after gathering nine runs in the first two innings took things fairly easy for the remainder of the game. They managed to score, however, in every frame except the fifth, and it was only an accident that they didn't score then.

The players were:
Woollens—Russell, 3b; Hopkins, c; McLean, p; Legros, 1b; Anthony, ss; Stiles, ss; Clarke, 2b; Dawson, lf; Hilliard, rf; Long, rf.
Utilities—Hines, 1b; Dobson, c; Clegg, 3b; Platt, p; Reid, ss; Tremaine, ss; Johnston, lf; Sprague, rf.

YANKS WON EXHIBITION.

CLINTON, N.J., April 30—(Canadian Press)—An exhibition game between the New York Yankees and the Paterson Silk Sox was halted in the ninth inning yesterday when admirers of Babe Ruth stormed the Yankee dugout after the Bambino had clouted a home run over the right field fence. The Yankees won, 9 to 6, in the abbreviated contest.

JUNIOR SOCCER ENDED IN DRAW

Score Was 1 to 1 in Fast Game Between De Laval and C.G.E. Junior Teams

The De Laval Junior Football team, last season's champions, met the C.G.E. Juniors at King Edward Park on Saturday afternoon in a fast game that ended in a draw with the score 1 to 1. The C.G.E. club has only decided to enter a team at a meeting held the previous evening and the committee deserves every credit for bringing out such a promising bunch of boys.

Th champions won the toss and by nice combination were soon testing the abilities of Jenkins, who cleared a splendid attempt by Ward Lynch was put in possession and made a run down the field but his final effort missed by inches. The C.G.E. came again and Lynch who was the outstanding player on the field gave Frick a difficult shot to contend with. The champions who this season are a heavy bunch of boys then took control of game., Ward handling the ball to advantage and from a nice pass to Smith that player beating Jenkins. From the centre kick the C.G.E. left wing came in the limelight playing a nice game and continually causing trouble to the champions defence.

Half time arrived with the score standing 1 to 0 in favour of the De Laval.

Upon resuming, Williams, the young hockey player, was transfered to centre half and this movement worked wonders by feeding the speedy Lynch. The champions goals had some narrow escapes and from a nice run from mid-field Lynch scored a grand goal.

Play now became interesting and pressure was brought on the C.G.E. defence but Feeley and Corbett were equal to the occasion. The C.G.E. forwards were getting a pop at Frick who was in great form. the heavy ground seemed to tire the boys and after some nice play in mid-field time was called with the score standing 1 to 1.

The teams were:

De Laval— Goal, Frick; backs, Grant, Sturdeey; halves, Marchen, Cooper, Smith; forwards, Bell, Feeley, Ward, Elliot, Bradley.

C.G.E.—Goal, Jenkins; backs, Feelel, Corbert; halves, Monks, Ball, Millard; forwards, William, Cross, Lynch, Houghton, Stanley.

Referee—Sam Jones.

KINGSTON TEAM ON THE DIAMOND

Limestone City Fans Expect Batstone to Be the Star Third Sacker of the Circuit.

(Special to the Examiner)

KINGSTON, April 30.—Harry "Red" Batstone, the erstwhile star third-baseman of the Hillcrests, made his first appearance with Kingston, Friday evening, and while he took things easy he impressed the fans with his handling of the hot-corner job. The practice was one of the best the team has held since "spring training" commenced, and the players look to be in great shape.

Manager "Joe" Daley had a flock of players on hand last night, and they disported about the field like a bunch of colts. "Teddy" Gallagher was throwing the ball with speed of old, and the way he whipped the ball into Johnnie Evans' mitt had the fans looking up. Evans looks in good shape, and is ready for the fray, while in "Lec" Rice he has a good understudy. Rice player with the Lakeviews for the past few years and has one of the best throwing arms seen in Kingston in years. He is a sturdy and steady little catcher, and with experience will show up well. Moore and Oates, two recruit pitchers, look to have a lot of stuff and have been coming through in practice.

Bert Daley, who has been holding down first base for several years, has been shifted to the outfield, and his place at first taken by Purvis of the Lakeviews. The latter is a shifty player, with a long reach, and looks to have the initial sack job landed. Twigg, last year with Oshawa, will hold down second base, and his versatility will land him the job. "Bill" Evans and "Jimmy" Arnieli are candidates for shortstop, and both have been going good in practice. In the outfield the herculean Del Cherry will hold down the centre position, and his heavy hitting makes him another Babe Ruth. In a pinch Cherry can take the box and pitch a fairly nifty game. Harry McNeill, Daley, Harold Nicholson and several others are on the job for the other outfield positions. In all the team shapes up as a heavy hitting one, with good pitching the rule.

The team looks like the best representative of baseball Kingston has had in many a year, and fans are enthusiastic over their chances, Gallagher looks to be in better form that ever, and when he is right, he's a veritable world beater, while Moore and Oates look lik finds.

BRITISH RELAY MEN WERE NOSED OUT

University of Pennsylvania Forced to Set a World's Record to Beat Oxford Team.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (Canadian Press). — Great Britain, represented by Oxford University, failed on Saturday in a gallant attempt to capture for a second time the two-mile college relay championship of the United States, but the Great British quartette forced an even more brilliant Pennsylvania State team to set a new world's record to win.

It was the outstanding event on the closing day's card of the twenty-ninth annual University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival.

Allan Helfrich, national half-mile champion, running the last relay for Penn State, broke the tape nearly 30 yards ahead of Milligan, the Oxford captain, in 7 minutes 48 4-5 seconds, bettering by three-fifths of a second, the former world's record, established at last year's races by Pennsylvania. Three years ago a combined Oxford-Cambridge team won the event.

Rain, which marred the closing part of the programme, drove most of a crowd of nearly 40,000 from the stands, and all further chances of record-breaking for the day. It started to fall as the last lap of the two-mile relay race was run.

Hamilton Collegiate Institute, of Canada, scored an international victory in the two-mile championship for both High and Preparatory Schools runners.

LEACH TO PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—(Canadian Press)—The Philadelphia National League Club announced last night that Outfielder Fred Leach had been purchased from the Rochester Club of the International League. Leach played last year with the Waterloo Club, of the Mississippi Valley League and led the circuit in hitting. He was sold to Rochester but refused to report.

GREAT OVATION TO MATHEWSON

By Gotham Fans at the Opening Game at Polo Grounds.

That Christy Mathewson is still the idol of New York baseball fans was impressively demonstrated by the wonderful ovation he received at the opening game at the Polo Grounds in which his Boston Braves were defeated in a ninth inning rally by the score of 7-3. The incident is thus reported by the New York Times:

The pre-game formalities began in the good old fashion. At 3.15 there was a fanfare of trumpets in deep centre field, and the crowd sat at attention. The parade was coming. It formed in the exit gate in furthest centre, moved across the outfield and then veered toward the flag-covered boxes along the first base side. Conway's band led the way, and in the first row, four abreast, came Mayor Hylan, Judge Landis, Senator Edward I. Edwards and Governor Silzer of New Jersey. As they approached the crowded grand stand the Mayor removed his hat and waved it in sweeping gestures at the fans. Judge Landis also uncovered his white head in response to the cheering.

But unfortunately for the celebrities Christy Mathewson entered on the scene at this point and immediately usurped the spotlight. Not that Matty sought the attention of the crowd. He entered quietly, stopped softly to a field box near the Braves' bench and congratulated himself that he had covered his movements with rare skill .

Crow Shouts for Matty.

When the two teams and the distinguished guests began assembling at the home plate, Matty was still in his box. Judge Landis was there. Mayor Hylan was among those present and so was John McGraw, in civilian clothes and a gray overcoat. But there was no Matty, and the crowd showed proper resentment.

"Hey, Judge, where's Matty?" shouted one fan. "Get Christy out on the field, Mr. Mayor" yelled another. So the Mayor and the Judge got busy. The Judge was delegated a committee of one to draft Matty into the party. He walked over to the box, waved a magisterial hand in Matty's direction—and Big Six finally came out.

As he stepped out on the field where years ago he won his greatest fame he received one of the greatest ovoations ever accorded to a ball player. Fans young and old rose to their feet, shouted, clapped their hands, whistled, anything to make a noise. It didn't matter whether you had ever seen Matty pitch or not. He has been away from New York baseball for quite a number of years now, but he still goes on. Not as President of the Boston Braves, but as a Giant pitcher he stepped out on the field yesterday and never in his career as player, coach, manager and later soldier did he receive a finer, more spontaneous ovation.

Greeted By McGraw.

Striding to the plate, the first person he met was John McGraw. They shook hands, McGraw smiling broadly as the crowd kept on cheering his old pitcher. Then came Judge Landis's presentation of the championship rings to the Giants each member of the team stepping up as his name was called. When this ceremony was all over, Matty walked back alone to the box reserved for him, and every foot of the journey was the signal for another demonstration that showed where the heart of New York fandom lies.

Lock Works Nosed Out the De Laval.

The Lock Works nosed out the De Laval Reds by one run in the curtain raiser of the Softball League games Saturday evening. The final score was 7 to 6, the Lock Works shooting across the winning run in the seventh after coming from behind to score three runs and even the count in the sixth. Both pitchers received good support from their teams, but Guerin of the Lork Works had a little the better of the game. He fanned six men and turned in a good steady game. Frick fanned two, but fielded his position in big league style, with eight assists and two put-outs to his credit.

The players were:

De Laval—Perks, 3b; Frick, p; Bullied, ss; McGee, c; Purvic, rf; Williamson, 1b; Marchand, ss; Stanley, 2b; McGee, lf.

Lock Works—Guerin, p; Tayor, c; Black, 1b; Huard, ss; Connors, 2b; McDougal, ss; Baker, 3b; Mason, lf; Burke, rf.

TOM COWLER IN U.S.

NEW YORK, April 30.—(Canadian Press)—Tom Cowler, British heavyweight, arrived on the liner Caronia yesterday to challenge leading United States boxers. His last bout in the United States was with Willie Meehan, at Boston, four years ago.

GOOD MANNERS.

Returning from a party or other social gathering, if it's early and her family is still up, a young girl may invite her escort in, on reaching home. However, this is not obligatory. If it's late, the escort is not asked in, but may be invited to call. In some sections it is still considered correct for a young man to make this request for himself.

Canadian Team Will Be Invited.

WASHINGTON, April 30 (Canadian Press). — Canadian rifle teams will be invited to participate in the great international rifle match at Camp Perry, Ohio next September, if the plans of Senator Brookhart, Ohio, materialise.

It is ten years since there has been a meeting of riflemen of the scope now proposed. Senator Brookhart is sailing shortly for Europe in connection with the project.

It had previously been reported that Canada had been invited to send a team, but Senator Brookhart said to-day that the invitation had not yet been sent. eH expressed not yet been sent. He expressed the hope that rifleman from the Dominion might participate in the meet, however.

THISTLES WON THE OPENING CONTEST

C.P.C. Went Under By a Score of 2 to 1 in First Senior Football Game of the Season.

The Thistles Football team defeated the C.P.C. by a score of 2 to 1 in the opening game of the senior league on Saturday afternoon. The game was played at King Edward Park before a good crowd. There were a number of new faces in the ranks of the Packers who started the game a man short.

From the kick-off the Scots were soon in evidence and by nice short passing Richmond, their clever center, tested young Curtis. Oxley gave to Wag Hotson and the Packers were making tracks for Anderson but Rae by a huge drive relieved the situation. Shawn the Scots' right took the leather to the corner flag and from a nice centre Richmond opened the scoring.

Bill Downer then arrived and with a full team the Packere were getting a good portion of the game. The Scots' half backs, which is the strongest part of the team, were playing a grand game. Hoggarth gave the forward some nice ground passes and McMillan, on the lift, crossed to Richmond, whose shot beat Curtis for the second time.

Curtis was hurt and had to be carried off the field while Harry Mann took his place in goal. This weakened the Packers for Mann was playing a grand game at back. They were not discouraged but went to work like trojans and Wag Hotson and Shaw were a source of trouble to the Scots' defence who were equal to the occasion. Half time was called with the Scots leading 2 to 0.

After the interval Curtis came back and took charge of the goal. The Packers now a full strength went at it with a will and J. Bradbury soon gave Anderson a handful. Coming in again Ted Hotson took a try but sent high over the bar. Richmond got away in centre and placed nicely to McMillan on the left. Curtis was called upan and athough very lame saved a beauty.

Mann and Oxley the Packers backs where playing well sending down some great drives and from one of these Wag Hotson shot and Service under great pressure sent the ball through his own goal. This put new life in the Packers and the ever busy Way Hotson and J. Bradbury were very hard to hold. The Scots halves being forced to kick out to the save the situation. Richmond again made a great try but his final efforts went over the bar. Wag was placed in control by Underwood and racing at top speed sent in a terrific shot which Anderson was lucky to save. Jackson sent Richmond away but after beating all opposition he shot wide of the mark, much to the chagrin of the Scots' supporters. Some nice work by Bradbury and Ted Hotson gave J. Shaw an opening but the ever watchful Rae saved the situation when Anderson was beaten. The game continued fast from now to the call of time leaving the Scots winners of the first league game by 2 to 1. The following were the teams:

Thistles—Goal, Anderson; backs, Rae, Service; halves, McMillan, Hoggarth, Jackson; forwards Shuan, Young, Richmond, Brown, McMillan.

C.P.C.—Goal, Curtis; backs, Mann, Oxley; halves, Downer, Underwood, Bradbury; forwards, H. Hotson, Wag Hotson, J. Shaw, Lazenby, Ted Hotson .

Referee—J. Clarke.

QUOIT MEETING.

TWO GAMES FOR TRIPLE LINK NINE

Defeated Both the Firemen and Rangers in Double Header Saturday Night.

The Triple Link nine won two games in the soft ball league Saturday night but their show of strength has come too late in the schedule for the three defeats sustained earlier in the season means that they have practically been eliminated from the chances for first place.

In their first game Saturday night they defeated the Firemen by a score of 11 to 7 after Chief Gimblett's men had staged a rally to even the count in the sixth inning. The firemen started off strong with three runs in the opening session but were blanked from then till the sixth when they started on a heavy hitting rampage and sent in four more runs and pulled up on even terms with the Triple Linkers. The Triple Link, however, jumped into the lead again for two more in the seventh. George Butcher supplied the batting feature of the game by hitting a home run in the seventh innning scoring Price ahead of him. Long connected for three sacks in the fourth frame with two men on and several other heavy hits went for two bases.

With the exception of the first and sixth innings Price had the Firemen completely at his mercy and it was seldom that more than three men came to bat.

Dunkerly pitched a good game for the losers, fanning no less than ten men but he received rather loose support and when the opposing batters did hit they hit hard. In addition to pitching an exceptionally good game, Price of the Triple Link, received air tight support.

The players were:
Firemen—Carr, 1b; Johnson, ss; Rose, 3b; Chief Gimblett, c; Marchand, ss; McBride, lf; Dunkerly, p; Mason, rf.
Triple Link—G. Butcher, ss; A. Butcher, 3b; Munro, 1b; Ackford, rf; Long, lf; Byers, ss; Barrie, 2b; Crowe, c; Price, p.
Score by innings:
Firemen ..... 30000400— 7
Triple Link ..... 1402022x—11

Second Game.

In their second game the Triple Linkers trimmed the Rangers to the tune of 21 to 8. After holding Sam Calladine and his hopefuls scoreless for eight innings the Triple Link nine weakened in the ninth and hits and errors sent no less than eight runs across before Sam's hopes for a victory were finally snuffed out. In the third, fourth and fifth innings the Rangers showed unexpected fielding strength and held their opponents scoreless but in all other innnings they scored as often and as frequently as they felt like it. Sam Calladines offerings were hit often and far, no less than four clouts going for three sacks.

Byers replaced Price on the mound for this game and Ackford went behind the bat in place of Crowe. This battery turned in a good game and had the Rangers well in hand at all times.

The players were:
Triple Link—G. Butcher, ss; A. Butcher, 3b; Munro, 1b; Ackford, c; Long, lf; Byers, p; Barrie, 2b; Crowe, ss; Price, rf.
Rangers—Calladine, p; Varty, c; Grant, 1b; Shevlin, ss; Hensley, 2b; Dwyer, rf; Vinette, 3b; Nicholls, ss; Thomas, lf.
Score by innings:
Triple Link ..... 220006560—21

LEICESTER CITY TOOK THE LEAD

Liverpool, Bristol City and Nelson Firmly Established at the Head of Their Sections.

LONDON, April 30.— (Canadian Press Cable.) — With Liverpool, Bristol City and Nelson established firmly at the head of their respective sections, chief interest in the football tourney Saturday lay with the second division where Leicester City went to the head of the table by defeating Bury and Clapton Orients went a step farther away from the third division by defeating Bradford City. The Londoners now require only a draw for the remaining match to ensure their continuance in the second division.

Several teams have still a game to play and anything may happen. Rotherham County played desperately against Blackpool and their defeat looks like sending them down in company with the luckless Wolves.

The position at the head of the table is exceptionally interesting, it being still a very open question as to which two of Leicester City, Notts County and West Ham will secure the coveted promotion. The two latter meet next Saturday. Even if they lose to The Wednesday at Sheffield in the midweek West Ham will earn promotion on their goal average if they beat Notts County.

In the first division matches, Stoke, one of the relegation teams, was rather unfortunate against the champions at Liverpool in losing Milne who was injured. This necessitated a re-arrangement of their side and in spite of their weakened forces they put up a good fight and had it not been for the excellence of Scott in goal they probably would have won.

MONTREAL SOCCER OPENED SATURDAY

Exhibition Game Played in the Rain Ended in a Draw—Trouble Brewing in Toronto.

MONTREAL, April 30.—(Canadian Press).—Dismal weather prevailed for the opening of the local soccer season on Saturday and the exhibition game on Alexandra Park between representatives of the New League of Montral and the Inter-City League of Toronto and Hamilton, which should have proved the attraction for a large crowd of soccer fans, was witnessed by an attendance of little more than 1500 spectators. Only a few ventured to stand in the soaking rain and watch proceedings from the side lines, but by half time all of the onlookers had sought shelter in the Grand Stand.

The intentions of the New League to financially assist the Dominion Football Asociation by donating the net reccipts of the match were set at naught by the weatherman as the receipts will not be sufficient to cover the expenses. New League officials estimated that the loss on the game would be approximately $400.

The Montreal eleven shared the honors with Toronto and Hamilton visitors, the game ending in a two goal draw both sides scoring one in each half. The local team turned out as originally selected, with one exception, F. Beake replacing Greeman at inside left. The visitors made three changes. Lavery and Gallaway were unable to make the trip, while Johnstone was unable to play on account of a strained leg muscle Sims, Herron and Gilvear replacing the absentees.

The trip of the Inter-City League team to Montreal may cause some internal trouble in the Ontario District associations. The Toronto and district football association threatens to suspend all of the players from their association who participated in the game, claiming that the necessary authority to go outside the jurisdiction was not obtained. The manager of the visiting team while in Montreal on Saturday stated they were not concerned with the threats of the T. and D.F.A. as they had secured permission from President Dean of the Ontario Football Association on account of the players having been drawn from two district associations. He also claimed to have taken the matter up with John Easton, president of the D.F.A., while the latter was in Toronto on Friday, and to have been advised to go ahead with the trip.

SPORT NEWS, COBOURG

COBOURG, April 30. — At a meeting of the Cobourg Lawn Bowling Club, the contract for a new club house was provisionally let. It is to be about 16 feet by 30 feet, with a wide verandah facing the bowling green, and is to be of frame construction. The tennis club are to have 8 feet by 16 feet on the side next to their court. The contract price is around $1,125.

Town League in O.B.A.A.

At a meeting of the executive of the Town Baseball League held here during the past week, it was decided to affiliate with the O.B.A.A., and play in the Intermediate series.

Three teams are entered, the G.T.R. team of last year taking the name of the Canadian National. The other teams are the Dyeing Company and the Matting-Felt Company team. A schedule of six games has been drawn up, lasting from 12th May to 7th June.

After a winner has been declared in this series, the games will be played in the same order in the second series.

To-morrow afternoon the Matting-Felt and Dyeing Companies will come together in an exhibition game.

President Hayden, in his address, reviewed the growth of the Horse Show since its inception in 1906. That year $1,000 was given in prizes, and last year $8,000.

Upon the request of Mr. George P. Strong, the Cobourg Baseball Club was granted the use of the Horse Show Grounds for games again this season, free of charge. It is expected that all Central Ontario ball games will be staged there.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT ON DRIVER OF AUTOMOBILE

MONTREAL, April 30.— (Canadian Press.)— Struck on the head with an iron bar in the hands of a man he was driving in his automobile in the east end of the city, on Saturday night, J. A. Bartlett, aged 40, chauffeur for a local taxi cab company, suffered a fractured skull from which he died in the General Hospital last night. His murderer, after the assault, walked calmly away in full sight of several persons. He has not yet been arrested.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

QUESTIONS:

ONE—Can a batsman be removed any time, even if he is a pitch hitter and has had several balls pitched to him?

TWO—Does the umpire ever make a ruling on a play where the runner misses a base unless an appeal is made to him?

THREE—If two are out and a runner on first is hit by a batted ball, which retires the side, does the batsman get credit for a hit?

FOUR—What is the penalty if a batsman changes from one side of the plate to the other while the pitcher is in the act of delivering the ball?

FIVE—When a glove is throw at a batted or thrown ball must it stop the ball to have a penalty inflicted?

ANSWERS:

ONE—A batsman can be removed at any time and another player substituted for him. If several balls have been pitched he simply takes the count that existed on the batsman.

TWO—The umpire never makes a ruling on a play in which the runner misse a base unless the play is properly made and the umpire is appealed to for a ruling.

THREE—At all times when a runner is hit by a batted ball and declared out, the batsman receives credit for a hit.

FOUR—The batsman has no such right and is declared out for so doing.

FIVE—All that is necessary for a penalty to be inflicted for throwing a glove at a batted or thrown ball is to have a contact with the ball.

TENNIS COURT SPORTSMANSHIP

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 30.—(United Press).—William T. Tilden, the reigning monarch of the tennis court, aroused a lot of critical comment recently in one of his literary efforts when he said it was the sporting thing to do to even up an advantage obtained by a bad decision of the officials against an opponent.

The champion, to make the point clearer, argued that any fair sportsman, who should score a point on a questionable decision of the judges should make it even by "blowing" the next point with a drive into the net or outside the lines, or something like that.

The point was made by some qualified critics that the sentiment of fair play might be praiseworthy, but an open slam at the judgment of the umpires would hold the officials up to ridicule and that such tactics were anything but good sportsmanship.

Tilden said that all the good players have made it ethical to even up after mistakes in official judgment, but the facts do not bear out his statement.

In the final match of the last indoor national championships, Vinnie Richards was playing Francis T. Hunter. In the last game, Richards scored two service aces on drives that Hunter thought were outside. Richard, however, made no attempt to even up, and he accepted both decisions and won the championship. Hunter lost his head and banged his racket down on the floor.

No one criticized Richards for accepting the judgment of the officials, and Hunter was severely called in the press for his demonstration. Hunter's act was no more of an insult to the officials than Richards would have been if he slammed into the net because both would have been an open affront.

Sportsmanship is always to be desired in any sport and there are occasions when it is the sporting thing to do to even up after a bad break against an opponent.

During one of the big matches between William M. Johnston and James O. Anderson, the Australian star, Anderson slipped to his knees in trying to return one of Johnston's volleys and the little Californian blew the next purposely by driving out of bounds.

That is admirable sportsmanship!

LEASIDE TEAM HERE SATURDAY

Local Baseball Season Will Get Under Way With a Lively Battle.

The local baseball season will get under way on Saturday afternoon, when Bill Henderson's Leaside team, looked upon as one of the most likely contenders in A Section of the Central League, will clash with Jake Solomon's Petes at Riverside Park in an exhibition game that should give a good line on the respective merits of the two outfits.

Leaside will be here with our own Micky Murray, Joe Dillon, Bill Lennan, Pat Mahoney, Clare Hoose, "Nipper" Jones and other stars of last year's team, reinforced by several promising recruits, and as the Durant crew have been working hard to get into shape, they will give the Peterborough gang a busy afternoon. Manager Henderson will likely start "Snakes" Hamilton, one of his new pitchers, against the Solomon outfit, and "Lefty" Maguire will also likely be seen in action, while Heckman will start for the Petes. The game will give local fans a chance to get acquainted with this year's Peterborough team, and it is expected that a record crowd for an exhibition game will be on hand. The battle will start at 3 o'clock sharp.

FIRE LOSSES.

Fire losses in Canada for the week ending April 25 are estimated by the Monetary Times at $318,100 as compared with $110,500 for the same week last year.

BIG FIGHT IN WM. FARNUM'S LATEST

William Farnum, the Fox star, will be seen in one of his strongest screen characterizations in "Without Compromise," which comes to the Royal Theatre for three days, beginning to-day. "Without Compromise" is one of those red-blooded, he-man stories of a frontier town, in which Farnum is cast as a sheriff who has his hands full with the primitive roughnecks, and also fights a band gang of crooked politicians to a standstill. He captures the murderer of his foster-sister after a terrible hand-to-hand battle in a cave, and then holds a lynching mob at bay single-handed.

Lois Wilson plays opposite Farnum. Others in an excellent cast include: Otis Harlan, Robert McKim, Tully Marshall, Fred Kohler and Alma Bennett.

With the feature is an excellent programme of short subjects, including another of the series of picturizations of Jack London's famous pen stories and two good comedies.

AT THE REGENT.

A THRILLING PICTURE.

"The Valley of Silent Men" Has Pictorial Beauties.

A picture which combines magnificent scenic beauty with a thrilling story is "The Valley of Silent Men," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's famous novel of the same name as a Cosmopolitan production, and released by Paramount.

Those familiar with the novel, which ran serially in Good Housekeeping Magazine in 1920, will recall that it is a story of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, with the Rock Mountains for a background. It is a picture of tremendous power, baring as it does the souls of five men and a woman who are isolated in a little narrow valley.

For the purpose of imparting this realism to the screen, the entire company went to Banff, in the Canadian Rockies, and there practically every foot of the action was enacted and photographed. The result, apart from the dramatic value of the production, is a picture of unsurpassed scenic beauty.

The picture, which was directed by Frank Borzage, and which features Alma Rubens at the head of a small but powerful cast, is coming to the Regent Theatre to-night. It is well worth seeing.

None Seriously Hurt at Football Game.

LONDON, April 30.—(Canadian Press.)— Only eight of the twenty persons taken to the Willesden Hospital Saturday, suffering from injuries sustained in the great crush at the English Cup final between West Ham United and Bolton Wanderers at the Wembley Hill Stadium, remained in the hospital last night. Twelve of the injured returned to their homes during the course of the day, and one of those still in the hospital is considered to be fatally hurt.

The officials of the Stadium today stated the casualties were due to the fact that the crowd which sought admission to the Stadium far surpassed the anticipations of the management. Many of those hurt suffered bruises and contusions and did not require hospital attention.

SUSPENDED ALL WORK.

MEXICO CITY, April 30. — (Canadian Press.)— Headquarters of the General Labour Federation announces that May day will see virtual suspension of work throughout the Republic. A feature of the day will be the laying of the corner stone of a monument dedicated to victims of the Chicago hay market riots.

But Little Damage to Wembley Stadium.

LONDON, April 30, Canadian Press. — As evidence that the breaking down of the turnstiles and the fences at Wembley during the playing of the cup final on Saturday was done more in a spirit of fun rather than from malice, the officials at Wembley point out that every penny in the 14 change boxes and 153 turnstiles has been accounted for. The caterers are able to account for every bottle of beer and with all the excitement their breakages were below an average day at a race course.

The damage to the new stadium is very small, it is declared, and a few pounds will cover the expenses of repairs. The turf also will be all right in two or three weeks.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES WILL BE CONTINUED

The gymnasium classes will be continued until the middle of May, when the swimming pool will be opened. All wishing to join the swimming classes are asked to register early.

On the 14th of May Miss M. Ferguson, Nattional General Secretary of the Y.W.C.A. will speak at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Association, all members and friends are invited.

The activities of the week are:

SERVICE IN HANDS OF YOUNG PEOPLE

First Occasion When Plan Followed in Park Street Baptist Church.

Yesterday was a banner day for the young people of Park Street Baptist Church when they successfully conducted both church services. This is the first occasion when this plan has been followed, and yesterday's services proved very attractive and impressive. The young men of the Young People's Society had charge of the morning service, the speaker being Neil Porter. The lesson was read by Ansel Taylor, and the two anthems were rendered by a young men's choir. Four young men were baptized at this service.

The young ladies had charge of the evening service, when a splendid congregation filled the church.

Mrs. A. Nicholls was the speaker, taking as her subject the beautiful relations between Ruth and Naomi. She applied the lesson to present day needs, exhorting young people to take God with them when leaving home and always to seek good companions and influence. Miss White read the lesson and Mrs. Liddell sang a solo. The anthem "Let Him Have His Way With Thee" was sung by the choir, composed of young ladies. A duet was sweetly sung by Mrs. Dunkley and Miss Moore. At the evening service two young ladies were baptized.

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion.

LEASE OF FARM ABANDONED AND CASE DISMISSED

Specific Performance of Agreement Claimed by S.J. Curtis but Changes Prevented Acceptance.

JUDGE ASSISTED

"I think that is a very sensible thing," observed Chief Justice Mulock this morning when Samuel J. Curtis, of Otonabee Township, agreed to withdraw his action against John Morrison, of Cavan Township, for the specific performance of his agreement to lease the defendant's farm.

Curtis, who is a returned soldier with a pension of $25 a month, is employed during the navigation season as caretaker of a bridge on the Trent Canal. He was notified to-day to report for duty. His plans for the occupancy and operation of the farm were disrupted by Morrison's refusal to give him possession of it. His father and his son who were to help him had taken up other work, and beyond that the season for farming was now well under way.

In this case Curtis obtained an agreement from Morrison for the lease of the farm for two years, from March 1st, 1923, at a rental of $400 a year. It was also agreed that the stock, implements and other articles on the farm should be sold to Curtis for $2,500 in three promissory notes. When he sought possession of the farm, on March 1st, he was denied it by Mr. Morrison, who contended that Curtis was to pay $800 cash, but instead of a cheque for that amount, two promissory notes for $150 and $350 were left by Curtis at the defendant's home. G. W. Hatton, K.C., solicitor for the plaintiff, pointed out that these notes fell due early this month.

Curtis was examined by Mr. Hatton and cross-examined by F. D. Kerr, K.C., solicitor for Morrison. He said he had been prepared to enter upon the farm and to bring there his own plow, cultivator, harrows, harness, horse, cow, waggon, seeder and other implements.

Chief Justice Mulock emphasized the point that the difference between the two parties was the payment of $500 cash. His Lordship declared that the agreement was for a lease and that Morrison was entitled to a proper farm lease. The agreement which Curtis drafted at the defendant's home was as follows:

"I, the undersigned, agree to lease to Samuel J. Curtis my farm, being parts of Lots 18 and 19, in the Township of Cavan, one hundred and fifty acres, more or less for two years, from the first of March, 1923, for the sum of four hundred dollars a year and taxes. (Signed) John Morrison."

His Lordship said that this document was a contract for a lease, and that specific performance involved the proper drafting of a lease.

"I think Curtis had better try to arrange for that $500," His Lordship said, after Mr. Kerr intimated that his client was quite prepared to carry out the agreement.

"I certainly hold that the defendant must have a proper lease," His Lordship continued. "If these two things can be adjusted, the matter of the $500 and the lease of the farm, a lot of troublesome litigation will be saved. The plaintiff can have no objection to signing such a lease. I think it would be worth an effort for the plaintiff to arrange for the $500."

Mr. Hatton retired to consult with Curtis, and, returning, explained that the plaintiff could not carry out his plans, because his father and his son had taken other work and would be unable to help him on the farm. The only use he could have of it under those conditions was to sublet it.

"Then he doesn't want specific performance of the agreement," remarked His Lordship, and both parties assented to the dismissal of the action without costs.

BUILDING QUIET IN PETERBORO

April Was Not a Busy Month—Permits Represent Less Than Last Year.

April was not a busy month for builders, as is shown by the figures supplied by the building permits.

About 45 permits were issued, with a total value of $61,276.50. This is less than 1922 by $37,525.50, and less than 1921 by $8,668.50.

One bright spot in the outlook is the 23 of the permits were taken out during the last seven days of April, indicating that the building trade is just coming into its own. The total for the first four monthss of the year is $74,136.50.

Of the 45 permits issued, 9 were for garages, 5 were for dwellinghouses, and the remainder covered repairs, alterations, and small sheds.

TRADE PROSPECTS FOR PRESENT YEAR

Forecasts Rosy, But Much Depends on Capacity of Canada's Skilled Mechanics.

A review of trade, labor and building activities in Canada, together with the prospects for the year 1923 is in the whole encouraging, and the building industry in Ontario and Quebec is showing considerable liveliness. Ontario, however, continues to lead all Provinces in volume, the value of the work started this year so far in that province amounting to $22,422,500 as compared with $20,679,900 during the same period in 1922.

But it must be borne in mind that however bright may be the building outlook for 1923: the amount of building that can be completed will be very largely influenced by the amount of available labor. In this connection J. M. Pigott at the fifth annual conference of the Association of Canadian Building and Construction Industries said: "It is not exaggeration to say that in spite of all the rosy forecast for the year 1923, the work which will be done in 1923 depends, not on the willingness of capital to invest, nor on our capacity to plan and construct but absolutely on what the diminishing number of skilled mechanics in this country can do."

In scrutinizing a summary of general business conditions in Ontario and Quebec during the year 1922 and up to March 31 this year the following interesting comparative status is gleaned: Failures in Ontario during 1922 involved 1.05 per cent of the total business houses and the debt per capita of the otal population was $5.62. In Quebec 3.24 per cent of the business houses failed with a total indebtedness of $19.20 per capita of the total population. The number of failures dropped from 52 in February to 31 in March this year.

And so it will be seen from the foregoing figures that, while Quebec Province is held up as the industrial mecca of Canada, comparatively speaking, business operations on the whole in Ontario are founded on a more substantial footing than in Quebec, while the former's population enjoys a proportionate immunity from debt which gives them an advantage over the population of their sister province.

AUTO DRIVERS STOP FIREMEN WAY TO FIRES

Two Cases Occurred Last Evening—Chief Gimblett Took the Number of One Automobile.

WHAT BY-LAW SAYS

Two cases occurred last night of automobiles impeding the pogress of the fire apparatus when it was rushing to answer a call. At 7.07 p.m. an alarm was received from 404 Patterson street, where a match had set fire to a carpet. When the Chief's car turned out of Aylmer street into Charlotte, an automobile raced in front of it, compelling the fire car to veer out of its way to avoid a collision. Again on Park street the Chief's car was held up by a motorist, whose number the Chief took.

How often are the fire apparatus and the Chief's car hampered and their way impeded by the rattle-brained autoist, bent only on seeing the fire and enjoying the excitement of running with the firefighters. No matter how much this individual, who represents a class, may delay the apparatus, he must get to the fire, or at least enjoy the thrill of racing with the reels.

The outsider pays no attention to the urgency of the call; his is the part to complain of the speed used to reach the scene of a fire. To the firemen, however, the alarm is an important thing. It is not for him to question how it broke out, or why. He has received a call, probably for a place where there are many bad risks, and it is his duty to respond as rapidly as possible. Should an accident occur while proceeding to a fire ,it is what might be expected, no matter how careful the driver might be. If the apparatus is travelling slowly and a child a nervous person, or deaf pedestrian walks in front the machine, death or injury may be the result, yet in many of these cases the driver could not be blamed for fast driving, as the accident was due to the carelessness of the person injured.

Deplorable Conditions.

But if the apparatus of the fire department were given absolute right-of-way over all kinds of vehicular traffic and pedestrians, the danger of accidents would be small indeed. The situation in this city has been bad for years, ever since the first motor truck was installed. And it is steadily growing worse. Already this year, there has been a large fire loss, and in some cases the department was forced to travel the limit to save lives and property. The most deplorable condition in this city to-day is the right-of-way for our fire department in answering alarm. This condition has been bad for years and if something is not done soon there will probably be somebody killed or injured. The increase in automobile traffic from year to year is responsible for much of this condition.

Blame Department.

In some cities, motorists will run their cars half way upon the sidewalk to help out the department. But they don't do that here. Boys upon bicycles will race in front of the trucks or between them and try to beat them to the fire. Should one of these boys fall off his wheel or strike some obstruction, he would very likely be run over by one of the trucks and killed, or badly injured, and then would come the howl that it was the department's fault, and preparations would be made to sue the city for damages.

Continual Danger.

Some o fthe best citizens are guilty of interfering with the progress of the department. There is the man who tries to beat them to the intersection. If a collision resulted under these circumstances, the motorist would feel greatly offended and would rush off to the city hall to get damages. There is also the man who races behind the apparatus. Should a fire truck make a quick stop for some reason or other, which is sometimes neces-

A Friend in Need Is a Friend Indeed Try the Examiner

She was a little girl who had a new dress tied up in a paper parcel and she left it down in a crowded railway station. When she came back after a trip to the tap for a drink, the new dress was gone. She knew she would get a scolding from her mother for her carelessness, so she decided to ask her Guardian Angel to help her. But her big brother thought a little material aid would be useful, so he gave her the money to insert a "Lost" Ad. in The Examiner.

The woman who had picked up the parcel by mistake saw the "Ad." and immediately returned the dress to a rejoicing small girl, who isn't quite sure yet whether her prayers or the advertisement did the trick, and seems inclined to distribute her gratitude equally between the two agencies.

PRICE MEN'S WEAR SHOWS BIG INCREASE IN 36 YEARS

Comparative Charges for Four Items Reveal a Rise of From 150 to 400 Per Cent. Since Queen Victoria's Jubilee

Extra heavy cotton socks ..... 30 cents for 3 pairs
Linen collars ..... 10 cents each
Silk ties ..... 25 cents each
White laundered shirts ..... 39 cents each
Railway fare paid to any point within 100 miles of Peterborough for anyone purchasing goods to the value of $12.00.

The above advertisement appeared in The Examiner in the year of Queen Victoria's Jubilee. That is only 36 years ago.

Inquiry at a men's furnishing store elicited the information that to-day the socks would cost 25 cents a pair, collars 25 cents each, ties 75 cents each for the cheapest grade silk and shirts $2.00 each. These prices show an increase of from 150 per cent. to 400 per cent., and out-of-city patrons do not receive railway fare, which would cost $3.50 for 100 miles.

If wages and living conditions have increased proportionately there is no room for complaint.

CITY ASSESSOR BEGINS ROUNDS

Amendments to the Act Makes Duty of Assessing Considerably Heavier This Year.

May Day for the city assessor means the beginning of his arduous task of taking the assessment and the estimated population of the city. He starts to-day in the East and North Wards, and will continue until the whole city has been covered.

Two Amendments.

The tsak is heavier than ever before this year, because of amendments to the Assessment Act which have come into force. One of the most important of these amendments is that which gives a married woman a vote in municipal elections, whether her husband is an owner or a tenant ofthe property in which they live. This also applies to married men whose wives are the owners of property, the names being placed on the voters' lists as joint owners. All these names will this year be placed on part one of the voters' lists. Part three will consist of all unmarried men and women over the age of twenty-one who are not assessed on part one of the list. Part two will be the same as formerly and will include those who vote only in the municipal elections. The city assessor's task this year is to collect information regarding the names which go on all these lists.

Another amendment which gives him much additional work is one regarding the taking of the census of children. Heretofore the names of all children between the ages of eight and fourteen were placed on the assessor's roll, followed by the total number in the family. This year the children are divided into four groups, and must be listed in those according to age. The four groups are as follow: (1) From five to eight years; (2) from eight to fourteen years; (3) from fourteen to sixteen years; (4) from sixteen to eighteen years.

These changes will mean a great deal of additional work to the assessor, and he intimated this morning that the citizens would help greatly in lightening it by having the above information ready for him when he calls.

NEW CONTROL OF CANADIAN GENERAL

Reported That Parent Company Has Been Heavy Buyer of Interests.

MONTREAL, May 1—The Financial News Bureau learns that the situation concerning the General Electric interests in the United States and the Canadian General Electric Company is as follows:

The American interests have been seeking control for some time, and had bought several large blocks of stock some months ago. They added further to their holdings with the result that they got a sufficient amount of stock to constitute control. Following this development it was thought that they would not go after any more of the stock of the company, and that there might be a tendency to allow it to drag in the market.

On the contrary, however, they went right ahead, and have been persistent buyers and have picked up a very large amount of additional holdings with the result that to-day they own very much in excess of the controlling interest. It is believed that their reason for doing so is that they propose to form a new company and will make a proposition to the holders of the Canadian General Electric of $100 a share for their stock. Recently, when the stock advanced to above $106, it was thought there was a greater possibility of the price being in the neighborhood of $105 than par. Under such a plan the American interests stand to benefit to a great extent because a large amount of their holdings were purchased away below par, and even taking the average of their holdings they would obtain a very attractive profit around that level. It is thought that in the event of a new company being formed an entire rearrangement of capital will be effected.

CHURCH HEAD

The Right Rev. A. C. Garrett, Dallas, Tex., will succeed the late Bishop Tuttle as presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States.

ANNUITY OF $525 FROM DEAN FARM

Mother Receives this Sum From Property She Conveys to Children.

Chief Justice Mulock's advice for a settlement in the case of Dean vs Dean prevailed upon the litigants yesterday afternoon and the agreement that was brought in after several hours' negotiations was entered as judgment.

His Lordship interrupted the proceedings while the claim of the plaintiffs was being outlined to him by Mr. R. R. Hall K.C., and led the principals and their lawyers into his private chamber off the court room for a conference. About three-quarters of an hour later His Lordship returned leaving the rest of the group to work out the details of the settlement which he had earnestly advised upon both the plaintiffs and the defendant. His counsel and his patience were finally rewarded by the report that the basis of an agreement had been arrived at, and after further deliberations the minutes of the settlement were drafted to the satisfaction of both sides by Mr Hall, Mr. Corkery and Mr. Kerr.

This action was entered by Marcus Dean, a farmer living in Smith township, and his sister, Mrs. Clara Dobson of this city, against their mother, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Dean, widow of Adolphus C. Dean, to set aside a deed by which the deceased had conveyed his farm in Smith to his wife. Mr. Corkery was the solicitor for the plaintiffs with Mr. Hall as counsel, and F. D. Kerr K.C., represented the defendant.

According to the settlement, a rather lengthy draft of two pages, the defendant agreed to convey the property to her two children who are required to assess against its revenue the sum of $525 a year as a first charge ot be paid their mother the rest of her life. The defendant also agrees to bequeath to the plaintiffs two-thirds of any estate she possesses at the time of her death, and she releases to the children the unsold farm stock and machinery, while in turn the defendants release to their mother all claims against her household goods and chattels. These are the main clauses in the statement which also sets out that obth parties assume their own costs.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Naish, Lock street, the D.F.G. Club gave a farewell party to Miss Louise Aimola, who is leaving for Toronto shortly.

The afternoon was spent in sports, after which a dainty supper was served to about thirty guests. The evening passed in games and dancing, although the hottest time proved to be the pepper-cake contest held for the scallywags, the prizes going to Mr. William Hill and Mr. Leslie Gandy. A toast was proposed wishing Miss Aimola a happy future and the pleasant time was brought to a close by the united party singing 'For She's a Jolly Good Fellow.'

STEADY FLOW TAX RETURNS PETERBORO

Big Improvement This Year Over Last-Citizens Becoming Educated in Intricacies of Forms.

LOCAL OFFICE CLOSED

The Peterborough offices of the Dominion income taxation department closed their doors last night after a very busy session. Returns had come into the office fairly steadily until Monday, when the rush started. Yesterday the workers were literally swept off their feet by the flood of returns and collections.

Mr. S. H. Gilmour, who was in charge of this temporary branch informed the Examiner that a very big improvement was noticed in the completing of returns this year over last. Citizens are becoming educated to the intricacies of the Income Tax Forms ,and are filling them in correctly. That the necessary filing of the returns will improve book-keeping methods among business men and even private citizens is the belief held by Mr. Gilmour. As an instance he told of one merchant in the furniture business who had not kept record of his business. The necessity of making out an Income Tax Return was pointed out to him, and he had necessarily to take stock. On completion of this he was surprised to find that he had sufficient brass beds, as he put it, "fort the county to sleep on."

The act, in teaching the advantages of book-keeping, is doing the public a great service.

A statement by a prominent Toronto authority was pointed out by Mr. Gilmour, which states very clearly the provisions of the Act respecting dependents. It is as follows: "The exemption under the age of 18 is now $300, instead of $200, as before. A single person or a widower is now entitled to a $2,000 exemption if there is a dependent sister or daughter. A single person or a widower is entitled to the same exemption if there is a dependent brother or son, but in this case the dependent person must be under 21. Exception to this is made if the dependent is mentally deficient or incapable of work. Travellers are exempt on their expense money now. Ministers are taxable on their extras above salary such as telephone, house, etc."

Mr. Gilmour, whose home is in Belleville, is well-known among business men of the city, and has renewed many old acquaintances formed while he was here with the 93rd.

EVERYBODY IS NOT ON MOVE THIS MAY MORNING

Moving within the city is no greater in volume than last year, according to officials of some of the trucking firms, who report that they have very few orders booked ahead.

Prices are the same as last year, but are gradually being fixed on an hourly basis. This system is a benefit to both the truckers and the clients, and will probably become general. With the straight hour rate the persons hiring trucks are always in readiness to get their furniture moved quickly. Under the old system of charging by the load the person contracting for the job was not so particular about having household effects in readiness and in places where they could be easily moved. Through this mode of contracting the truckers can give the client a better rate and a quicker service.

THE WEATHER.

Once again May day. There was a close approa to freezing, the temperature standing at 35 egrees, and with a heavy white frost. The warmest day last month was the 21st with 80 degrees; the coldest, the 1st day of the month with 4 below zero. Sleighing was finished on the 4th. We had 101 days of good sleighing this winter—too much, perhaps, of a good thing. April rainfall totalled 2.26, and the snow fall a little over six inches, or a total precipitation of 2.87. May 1st of last year gave us the last frost of the season. While a little backward, the season is not unusually late. The maples should begin to leaf about May 6th to 10th, and may do so yet. To-day meeting Dan Whetung, I asked him for a tip as to the coming spring and summer. He was non-committal, but ventured to say that if the weather followed its old familiar routine, which he said it did not do now, we would have a hot summer after our steady cold winter. He thought that he deserved a little credit for foretelling the past winter as well as he did, but it was worse than he looked for.—W.P.

Mr. Alex. Dick With Lindsay Firm Here

Mr. Alex. Dick, who has been connected with the McDonald Lumber Company for the past four years as manager, has resigned, and it is understood he has associated himself with Mr. Frank J. Carew, of Lindsay, with a view of organising and establishing an important industry in the city.

SMALL PORKERS ARE DYING OFF

Sudden Increase in Mortality Alarms Farmers and Breeders in Peterborough County.

From surrounding counties comes the rumour in farm reports that there is a sudden increase in mortality figures for little pigs this year. It seems that the small new porkers are dying off in rather alarming numbers.

Inquiry from farmers and hog-breeders in Peterborough district confirmed the report. A peculiar angle of the situation is the fact that, following the interest in hog-raising among farmers consequent on the recent introduction of grading regulations and an agitation in favour of improving the type of Canadian bacon hog, many breeders have gone more extensively into the business, and increased their number of brood sows from one or two to three, four or five. It was thought that there would be a consequent surplus of pigs on the market this year, but the high death rate has brought the supply nearly down to normal.

From the western counties, through the medium of farm journals, comes the repost of births of hairless piglets, which succumb almost immediately.

Interrogated as to a probable cause for such a condition, Dr. Thomas Johnston, veterinary surgeon, gives as a reason the extreme cold of a long, hard winter, and a type of influenza among animals which he declares was prevalent all over the world this year. "It was worse among dogs, for instance, this winter ,all over the world, than was ever known of before."

Similar to the type of 'flu or grippe so common among humans, the doctor said that the mortality among little pigs was undoubtedly caused by this germ, and the hairless types were premature births from sows suffering from the same disease. The extreme cold of the past winter, the doctor also asserts, caused a great deal of suffering among animals of all sort, even those warmly stabled, showing its effects in their proneness to lose flesh.

A further report from neighboring counties of the cold and backward spring affecting adversely the "chick" crop lacks support here among the poultry raisers, many of whom, however, have not yet had time in which to make comparisons. The broody hen ,according to local gossip, is singularly backward this year in getting to work, probably owing to the chill in the air, the wise fowls realizing better than humans the foolishness of introducing to a frigid world the tender yellow chick which needs the sunshine to grow up in.

Incubator chicks are coming along as usual. Mr. Gerald Wood, who uses a cold brooder for his hatchlings, has no unusual casualties to report in his extensive crop of chicks, which has already nearly reached the two thousand mark, in fact, his experience this spring is recorded as being more successful than in other years.

BICYCLES IMPOUNDED LAST NIGHT BY POLICE

Patrons of the Royal Theatre last night who cycled to the show and parked their bicycles outside had the pleasure of the evening marred by the industry of the police force. While the show was in progress policemen took the bicycles in pairs to the police sttaion, where they were impounded. It was announced in the theatre that this had been done, and the owners were compelled to visit the station to reclaim their property. Names of offenders and numbers of machine were taken, and a warning issued against future parking. Parking bicycles is an offence against a city by-law.

The by-law forbids the blocking of the entrance to any place of public assembly.

One-third of Revenue for Six Years Amounts to About $800 With Costs From Stepson's Property.

SUIT NOT DEFENDED

Mrs. Julia Ann Dwyer's claims for arrears of dower in two properties in Ennismore Township which were devised by her late husband, Philip Crough, to his two sons, Leo and Michael Crough, were granted to the amount of nearly $800 with costs, by Chief Justice Mulock in the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court on Monday afternoon.

Neither action was contested, and Mr. John R. Corkery, solicitor for the plaintiff, informed His Lordship that both men were not living in this country.

The will of Philip Crough has been involved in several local law suits. He died in September, 1916, and under his will his wife received benefits amounting to approximately $4,000. She was instructed by her lawyer that she was also entitled by the will to dower in various parcels of property her husband had bequeathed to his children. The first action was brought in the County Court before Judge Huycke, but in view of the fact that it was virtually a test case, since others were likely to be affected by this decision, Judge Huycke advised that an application be made to a High Court Judge for a construction of the will. This course was followed, resulting in an order by Mr. Justice Middleton giving Mrs. Dwyer dower in all the property in addition to what the will gave her. Plaintiff entered a default judgment against the defendants in this case for future dower of one-third of the net revenue from their two farms, and in this action for the arrears, being one-third of the earnings of the properties for a period of about six years and a half from the death of Philip Crough in September, 1916.

Yesterday's actions were to disclose the earnings of the farms that were left to Leo and Michael Crough for the purpose of establishing the amount of dower arrears. They were heard separately.

Wm. J. Scollard said he had rented Leo Crough's farm on the 5th Concession of Ennismore for three years from 1920 to 1922, inclusive, for the sum of $175 a year, and had paid the taxes and road work. Prices of farm produce had decreased since then, and he testified that a fair average rental would be between $125 and $150 a year. Eugene Moloney, the present tenant, rented the farm last fall for three years at the rate of $125 a year. From these facts it was computed that the earnings from the farm during the last six years were more than $900, and Mrs. Dwyer was awarded $340 and costs.

Michael Crough's farm of an estimated worth of about $2,500, has been rented for some years by Michael S. Crough at $200 a year with taxes and statute labor. At this rate its revenue since Philip Crough's death was figured at $1,300, of which Mrs. Dwyer was allowed one-third, or $433, also with costs.

HEAVY LOSSES IN FREDERICTON, N.B.

Floods Entail Damage Estimated From $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

FREDERICTON, N.B., May 1 (Canadian Press). — With damage estimated at anywhere between five and ten million dollars, the St. John River is still continuing to rise today.

The power station here is out of commission, and the civic water system will have to close down if the water rises a few more inches.

Millions of feet of lumber are flowing down the river unchecked, boom gangs being unable to swing booms.

This lumber will probably run into the Bay of Fundy, and most of it will be a total loss.

Reports state that so far twenty-one bridges have been washed out, and many more are in a precarious condition.

TO UNVEIL MONUMENT ERECTED BY THE C.P.R.

MONTREAL, Que., May 1.—It is announced that Hon. Athanase David, Provincial secretary in the Quebec Cabinet will officiate at the unveiling of a monument to Abraham Martin which will take place on the morning of May 12 at Quebec.

The research of Col. Alex. Fraser, Provincial Archivist, has established the fact that in all probability Abraham Martin came from a Perthshire family.

The monument, which has been erected by the C.P. R. is a handsome granite shaft seven feet high, taking the form of a pillar crowned by a globe supported by thistles.

MAY DAY TAME AFFAIR IN PARIS FOR THE UNIONS

Clashes Between Authorities and Demonstrators Have Been Frequent in Former Years.

24-HOUR STRIKE.

PARIS, May 1. Canadian Press.—May day this year according to all indications last night, will be a rather tame affair as compared with previous years, especially in 1919 and 1920, when there were many sanguinary clashes between the demonstrators and the agents of established order.

Even judging from the programmes of the various workers' organiastions, as published last night, the general Parsian public and the Army of American and other tourists here will probably suffer very little inconvenience.

Most of the industrial workers' unions, such is the metal and textile workers, miners and builders, have voted for a 24 hour strike, and it is anticipated that the majority of them will adhere to this decision but the Paris transport union in order not to appear to be following the dictates of the communist appeal for a general strike, has decided to carry on the exception of a ten minute recess. This union includes the street car, the subway and the motor bus workers.

The taxicab drivers' union has voted a general holiday.

The general programme for those adhering to the strike order includes manifestations in favor of increased salaries, freedom to unionize, maintenance of the eight hour day and maintenance of the state monopolies, and against the occupation of the Ruhr, militarism and the continued incarceration of political prisoners.

There will probably be a special demonstration in sympathy with the striking midinettes, who are still holding out for increased salaries, and there will also undoubtedly be meetings of various sorts to hear speeches by labor leaders, although the progress of such gatherings have not been published.

The police are anticipating slight trouble in keeping order but several companies of reserves, including the famous mounted Republican Guards, will be held in readiness for any eventuality.

ASK DISMISSAL OPTOMETRICAL BD. EXAMINER

Letter From Secretary of Society Alleges Incompetence and Disregard of the Laws — Other Matters Before House.

NEW GAS BILL.

TORONTO, May 1.— (Canadian Press.)—In the Legislature yesterday afternoon M. M. MacBride (Brantford) read a letter from the secretary of the Optometrical Society to the Attorney-General requesting that the latter dismiss the optometrical examiners on the grounds of incompetence and disregard of the regulations. The Attorney-General promised a statement to-day. Hon. F. C. Biggs informed Major Alex Lewis (Northeast Toronto) that the Deputy Minister of Highways, W. A. McLean, was not delegated as a representative to a good roads conference in Spain and that no arrangements weer made for his attendance there.

Charles Swayze (Niagara Falls), sought second reading for a bill which would wipe out all natural legislation of recent years and throw the natural gas companies back on their agreements with the municipalities. The bill would abolish the gas referee and the natural gas commission. Mr. Swayze said that the appointment of a gas referee to fix gas prices had rendered nil every agreement between gas companies and municipalities. In Niagara Falls the municipal agreement with the gas company called for gas at 50 cents per thousand. When the referee had decided the rate it became 75 cents and the gas commission later made it from 75 cents to $1.15. "The municipalities and the consumer have got the worst of it every time and they want to get back to the original agreements, being content to take a chance in the courts," said Mr. Swayze. He said that one gas company had $430,000 in tax free victory bonds and had recently struck two good wells. As several members interested in the bill were not in the House Mr. Swayze consented to an adjournment in the debate until to-day.

Hon. Manning Doherty presented an amendment to his loans to consolidate cheese factories bill when it came into committee of the whole. By it the board to make appraisals of the factories to be consolidated will consist of the Chief Dairy Instructor, the president of the dairy association and one other disinterested person. The board is empowered to adjust all matters with the factories which are being displaced by the consolidation. The bill passed committee as amended.

The House gave third reading to the following bills: University of Western Ontario; City of London, Town of Tilsonburg, Incorporation of City of York; two of Brampton and amendment to the local improvement act. A bill amending the Athletic Commission Act by giving the commission wider powers of investigation was given second reading. Hon. Peter Smith got second reading for a bill based on a resolution passed last week giving him power to borrow thirty-five million for provincial purposes.

Questions were answered to the effect that the provincial timber commission inquiry cost the province $170,101 divided in the main as follows: Commissions, $24,000; legal fees and expense, $48,000; accountants ,$23,000; scalers and valuators, $31,000; reporters' fees and expenses, $11,000; travelling expenses, $12,000. The Minister of Public Works informed William Ireland (Hastings) that the cost of dividing off a portion of the office of the Minister of Mines (Hon. Harry Mills) for a private bath room was $462.

The House was informed that the Devonshire Race Course had paid its taxes on the last two days of its 1922 programme with a cheque for $15,000 which, when presented at the bank came back marked N.S.F. The payment, however, was made with a bond which was accepted.

POW WOW PUT OVER TILL TODAY

Meeting of the Indian Tribes of the Six Nations Postponed on Account of Weather Conditions.

MONTREAL, May 1.—(Canadian Press.)— The pow-wow of North American Indians from the United Sttaes and Canada scheduled to be held at the Caughnawa Reservation near here yesterday was put over until to-day, owing to adverse weather conditions .

The purpose of the conference is to unite the members of the various tribes that make up the Six Nations, under one leader and to clear up several differences between the tribes. One of the most important points to be settled is the identity of the lawyer who will represent the Indians in their various matters with their respective governments.

The Indian conference will be presided over by Grand Chief Tamek Tekarihoken who, as head of the Turtle branch of the Mohawk Indians, is leader of the entire Six Nations.

Andrew Bonar Law Leaves for Sea Voyage

SOUTHAMPTON, May 1. — (Canadian Press.)—Andrew Bonar Law ,the premier, will sail to-day on a trip that will take at least a month. It was announced recently that Mr. Bonar Law would take a long rest in an endeavor to overcome the throat affection from which he has been suffering. The premier yesterday booked passage on the Netherlands liner Princess Juliana, which will sail to-day for the Dutch East Indies. It is assumed that he will break his journey at some port of call on the way to the East Indies, but that he will be absent from London at least a month.

COMMUNISTS IN CONFLICT WITH ITALIAN MILITIA

ROME, May 1. — (Canadian Press).—Two Communists were killed and several others wounded in a conflict with a National Militia force of Milan this forenoon, when a band of Communists attempted to prevent railwaymen from working, according to a semi-official account of the incident. Otherwise, it is announced May Day morning passed off quietly through Italy.

L. R. STEEL INCORPORATED GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

BUFFALO, May 1. — (Canadian Press).—The L. R. Steel Incorporated was thrown into bankruptcy late yesterday on a petition of the creditors friendly to the receivers. The creditors of L. R. Steel Company must meet within the next thirty days to elect trustees to handle the property and adjust claims. It is said bankruptcy proceedings were made necessary because of conflict of authority.

OTTAWA REFUSED SIXTH NEWSPAPER

Directors of the Canadian Press Association Turn Down Request For Membership of Proposed Paper.

TORONTO, May 1. — A meeting of the Board of Directors of Canadian Press, Limited, was held here yesterday in preparation for the annual meeting of the members to-day, this being the cooperative news gathering and distributing association of the daily newspapers of Canada.

The president, Norman Smith, of Ottawa Journal, presided, and the following were present; G. Fred Pearson, Halifax Chronicle; Henri Gagnon, Quebec Soleil; John Scott, Montreal Gazette; E. J. Archibald, Montreal Star; W. J. Wilkinson, Toronto Mail and Empire, W. J. McNair, Hamilton Herald; T. H. Preston, Brantford Expositor; E. H. Macklin, Manitoba Free Press; Vernon Knowles, Winnipeg Tribune; Burford Hooke, Regina Leader; F. J. Burd, Vancouver Province; and J. F. B. Livesay, Secretary.

The Board turned down the application from Ondrew Haydon of Ottawa, for a new evening paper membership in that city.

Turkey Granted Concessions to U.S.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1. — (Canadian Press.) — A convention putting into effect the railway development and mining concessions granted by the Turkish government to the United States syndicate headed by Rear Admiral Colby Chester, retired, was signed at Angora. The Turkish Minister of Public Works, affixed his signature for the government and Clayton Kennedy for the promoting corporation .

Commander Arthur Chester, retired, son of Rear Admiral Chester, also signed the document on behalf of the U.S. syndicate.

NEW RULING ON LIQUOR LAWS IN U. S. RE VESSELS

Foreign Ships Must Not Carry Liquor Inside the Three-Mile Limits--U.S. Ships May Sell.

WASHINGTON, May 1 (Canadian Press). — Intoxicating liquors, even under seal, cannot lawfully be brought in United States or foreign ships within three miles of the shores of the United States, the Supreme Court held yesterday in a decision which declared, however, that outside the three-mile limit United States vessels can legally sell intoxicants to passengers. The rights of foreign ships to do so had not been questioned.

The opinion, rendered in ten cases brought by foreign and two by United States steamship companies, was delivered by Justice Van Devanter without expressing his views, Justice McReynalds dissenting.

Justice Sutherland, in a dissenting opinion, agreed with the majority of the Court in reference to United States ships but declared that foreign vessels had the right to bring liquors into the United States under restrictions adequately guarding against leakage ashore.

The effect of the decision was to affirm the opinion of Attorney-General Daugherty that intoxicants could not legally be brought into United States ports and to reverse it with regard to the right of United States vessels to have liquor aboard on the high sea and in foreign ports.

The Court yesterday pointed out specifically that Congress has the power if it sees fit to exercise it, to forbid all ships flying the United States flag, to carry and serve liquors outside the three-mile limit. This view of the Court resulted in predictions by many "dry" leaders, after the gist of the decision had become known that an attempt would be made to obtain legislation on this point at the earliest opportunity.

Sweeping in its scope, the decision left officials somewhat at sea as to how they would proceed as a matter of permanent policy.

Chairman Lasker, of the Shipping Board, announced that for the present at least the ban on liquor would be on all Shipping Board vessels.

The question is expected to come up for discussion at to-day's Cabinet meeting.

In its decision the Court asserted the complete supremacy of United States laws within the three-mile limit, and inferentially conceded that other nations had as exclusive jurisdiction within their own territorial limits. Under the decision United States vessels, should Congress prohibit from having aboard intoxicating liquors on the high seas would be subject to the laws of the nations whose ports they might visit and while within its jurisdiction should those laws require would have to place intoxicating liquors aboard.

NEW YORK, May 1 (Canadian Press). — Passenger steamers running directly between New York and points in Europe may change their schedules and make Halifax a port of call, it developed to-day after the Supreme Court's ruling permitting United States vessels to sell liquor beyond the three-mile limit was made public.

HYDRO ESTIMATES PASS LEGISLATURE

Total of $1,687,000 Piloted Through by Col. Carmichael.

TORONTO May 1 (Canadian Press). — With the minimum of friction Hydro estimates totalling $1,687,000 were piloted through the Legislature last night by Col. Dougall Carmichael.

During the course of the vote the Minister was ready to answer all sorts of questions, and gave volumes of information regarding plans and projects of the electrical system throughout the Province.

The amounts voted were divided as follows:

Niagara system $9,850,000, Muskoka $360,000, Rideau $20,000, Thunder Bay $1,015,000, Central $1,375,000, Nipissing $17,000, and Essex $50,000.

One of the items was a vote for $50,000 for the investigation by the Hydro engineers on the second Queenston - Chippawa development to be proceeded with at once.

G. N. GORDON FOR CABINET

Rumored West Peterborough Member of Federal House May Get Portfolio of Solicitor-General.

OTTAWA, May 1.—(Special).—It is not improbable that the present week will see a further strengthening of the Cabinet, following upon the week-end transfer of Hon. Geo. Graham and Hon. E. M. Macdonald.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P.

It was rumored last night in circles fairly close to the Government that the Prime Minister is anxious to fill the post of Solicitor-General, rendered vacant by the elevation to the bench of Hon. D. D. McKenzie. Prominently named for the vacancy is George N. Gordon, Deputy-Speaker of the House, whose capacity for Cabinet rank is generally recognized. In so far as suitability for the position is concerned, the choice would seem to lie between Mr. Gordon and E. J. McMurray, of Winnipeg, with the former having some advantage because of his experience in the House.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

RUSSIANS HAVE AROUSED ANGER OF THE SWISS

Soviets Accuse the Swiss Officials of Discriminating Against Their Representatives to Conference.

STRAITS TREATY.

LAUSANNE, May 1.—(Canadian Press.)— Russia has riddled Lausanne with Soviet shot again and aroused the anger of Swiss statesmen, who pride themselves on their country's impartiality and hospitality. Officials of Switzerland regard with gravity Russia's complaint made yesterday in M. Vorovsky's public statement that by preventing the arrival of a Russian courier at Lausanne the Swiss confedertaion was guilty of taking sides in a conflict between Russia and certain of the great powers and therefore had abandoned with disloyalty her role of impartiality and fairness.

The whole controversy goes back to the original decision of the powers to invite Russia to the Lausanne conference only for the discussion of the straits and not in any way to participate in the general peace discussion with Turkey. Russia believes that she should take part in all the Near Eastern conversations; she opposes the straits convention drafted by the allies with Turkey but contends that as the straits treaty has not yet been signed she has a perfect right to be at Lausanne.

Swiss officials explained last night that the federal council gave all necessary facilities to all the delegations during the first conference, but as it was understood Russia had not been invited to the present session, the Russian demands for vises were handled according to the usual procedure for Russians, which meant that these requests must be sent by the Swiss legations to the foreign office at Berne, as was done in the case of the Soviet courier. The officials added that when the conference considered Russia as regularly invited her delegation would be treated like the others.

The Russians enlarged their complaint against Switzerland by declaring that the Swiss attitude on the

GERMANY WILL PRESENT A PLAN OF REPARATIONS

Outline of New Scheme Will Be in the Hands of Entente Representative By To-Night.

MAY PAY IN GOLD.

BERLIN, May 1. — (Canadian Press).—Germany's new reparations programme inspired by Lord Curzon's recent speech will be despatched to the Entente capitals and to Washington Tuesday night. Its final draft will be decided on to-day after Chancellor Cuno and Foreign Minister Minister of Von Rosenberg have concluded further deliberations with the Reichstag leaders and announced the Government's plans to the premiers of the federated states.

Official quarters continue their refusal to make even a cursory revelation as to the nature of the new proposals, characterizing current predictions as unauthorized and wholly conjectural. Among the Reichstag leaders who have been in constant touch with Government headquarters the past week the opinion was prevalent last night that the new offer will specify a flat affixation of thirty billion gold marks, will propose of 99-year anti- aggression pact, to be participated in by all the Rhine powers, and provide for the creation of a Franco-German industrial entente.

Whether Germany is making the payment of thirty billion gold marks contingent on the successful flotation of a foreign loan, could not be learned last night although it was stated that the German industrial and financial interests had vouchsafed to Chancellor Cuno their support for his new program.

As an alternative to its new offer, it is learned that the German government would make the unconditional suggestion that the whole reparations tangle should be submitted to a jury of authorized economic experts or it would even be satisfied to have new proposals made subject to inquiry by such a commission upon which the entente as well as Germany would be represented.

Women sleep more lightly and require less sleep than men, according to a French scientist.

A MERITED TRIBUTE.

The banquet tendered to Mr. W. H. Hill by representatives of the Sun Life Assurance Company to mark his retirement from the office of district manager after forty years' service with the Sun company, was a merited tribute to the high place held by Mr. Hill in the esteem of his fellow-employees of the big company.

Citizens of Peterborough generally can endorse the many good things said of Mr. Hill by the various speakers.

In spite of his conspicuous success in the arena of business, the honoured guest has found time during his residence in Peterborough to devote himself to the service of his fellow-citizens with the same zeal, energy and judgment that have characterized his career with the Sun Life.

As a member of the Utilities Commission, of the Board of Education and in various other public capacities, William H. Hill has been a tower of strength to Peterborough.

Forty years' service on behalf of his company have been notched by a record almost equally as long and as brilliantly successful on behalf of the community in which he has lived.

This city as well as the Sun Life owes much to him.

A DOMINION CONFERENCE.

The resoluton passed at the convention of the Canadian Tax Conference last week suggesting the appointment of a committee to take up the whole question of taxation with the Dominion and Provincial Governments with a view to the unification of the system of collection and the reduction of the excessive overhead, is one that the Examiner believes should have general support.

It is rather surprising to find in this connection that when the Manitoba Government suggested to Premier King the advisability of a taxation conference, the reply was that no Province except Manitoba had brought the question to the attention of the Federal Government.

It is evident from this fact that hitherto Provincial administrations have been indifferent to this most pressing question, and this indifference supplies another reason why the suggested conference should be held.

Canadians complain that they are being "taxed to death," and much of the dissatisfaction is caused by the unsystematic and haphazard methods that are employed.

There is no reason why especially in the case of income taxation, which is levied by the Dominion Government and the municipalities and in some instances by Provincial Governments as well, a more business-like system could not be followed, eliminating much of the present overhead and more equitably distributing the burden of taxation.

A Dominion conference attended by representatives of the Dominion Government and of the various Provincial administrations and by delegates from the larger municipalities could not fail to have results that would be generally beneficial.

GOVERNMENT PROFITEERING.

The Ontario Government maintains its adherence to temperance principles and boasts of its enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act—and yet it not only refuses to go the whole distance and abolish the manufacture of native wine, but is itself engaged in the liquor business on a large scale and at a rate of profit that scarcely dovetails with the claims of the administration in regard to temperance.

The Government is making, according to the Attorney-General, a profit of 20 per cent. upon the liquor sold by the Government vendours.

That is a statement that calls for an explanation.

It is admitted that it is necessary for the Government to be in the liquor business in order that the liquor required for medicinal purposes should be kept under control.

But why exact a profit of 20 per cent. from such a business?

The liquor is sold on doctors' prescriptions and the presumption is that the condition of the patient requires the stimulant.

Why, then, should the Government of the Province make money out of the people who need liquor for medicinal purposes?

Twenty per cent. profit upon the turnover of liquor is, of course, a nice little revenue, and with Hon. Mr. Biggs and other ambitious Ministers spending money like water, the Provincial Treasury needs every dollar it can get its hands upon.

But even the need of money is not justification for exploiting the sick people of the Province as the Ontario Government has been doing in its administration of its liquor branch.

A CRYING NEED.

Mr. John M. Imrie, managing editor of the Edmonton Journal, has been personally investigating the conditions in regard to the shipment of Western grain via the Pacific ports, and his findings are of the greatest interest, not only to the people of the Western Provinces, but Easterners as well, for it is recognized that whatever benefits the Prairie Provinces cannot fail to have a tonic effect upon business generally in Canada.

"Weighing against each other the favourable and unfavourable factors," Mr. Imrie declared in a recent address, "I am convinced after searching inquiries on the Pacific Coast that the West-bound route has passed the experimental stage, and with proper facilities and encouragement will be a great boon to the farmers of this Province (Alberta) and Western Saskatchewan, and will give a new impetus to land settlement in the Western half of the prairies."

The Federal Government recently made provision for increased elevator facilities at Vancouver, a step commended at the time by the Examiner in common with many other Eastern newspapers.

But increased elevator facilities will not alone solve the problem.

Mr. Imrie assures us that the actual farmers of Alberta and Western Saskatchewan failed to receive any of the saving in freight on the 15,000,000 bushels of wheat shipped via Vancouver and the Panama Canal.

In other words, the Western route will be of little avail unless the farmers of the Western part of the prairies are assisted in securing the facilities necessary to enable them to take advantage of their geographical position in relation to the Pacific.

They must be put on the same footing as the farmers of Manitoba in reference to the world's grain market.

How is that to be effected?

In Mr. Imrie's opinion only by the providing of adequate cleaning, hospital and storage facilities at Edmonton, by making that city the Fort William of the Western Prairies.

Unless the farmers are in a position to have their wheat cleaned and graded and if below export grade brought up to that standard, the saving in freight via the West-bound route will simply go to elevator companies and speculators because, due to the lack of such facilities, the farmers cannot assume the risk of shipping direct.

This is a matter that is of general interest, and upon its solution will hinge to a great extent the problem of land settlement.

If the farmers of Alberta are assisted along these lines there is no doubt that the large tracts of arable land left in the Province will be speedily taken up, and that there will be no difficulty in directing immigration on a large scale into that section of the West—with results to the country as a whole that need not be enlarged upon in this article.

THE FIGHT ON HARDING.

If there is any fight made on President Harding from within the Republican party because of his adhesion to the World Court plan, it will be because certain men or forces want an excuse to attack Harding and not because there is the same objection from an American point of view to the proposed World Court that lies against the League of Nations. We may or may not agree with the American apprehension that membership in the League would let them in for a lot of cost and trouble in Europe; but it is not difficult to see the grounds for their fear. If the League is to be any earthly use as a peace-maker, it must stand ready to exercise some punitive powers; and the United States, as an important member of any such League, could hardly escape the duty of supplying a percentage of the power to be exercised.

But a World Court will be judicial and not an executive body. The Americans can be under no apprehension that it will send their brave boys to die on distant battlefields in Old World quarrels. Yet it may easily offer the distracted nations a supreme and detached tribunal to which they can refer questions of such high explosive quality that neither diplomacy nor direct negotiation could be safely entrusted with them.

However, our neighbors "play politics" much as we do. There are men who would like to replace Mr. Harding in the White House; and any cry is "a good enough Morgan" until after the elections. These men remember how easily they slew Wilson with criticism of his at-one-time most popular creation, the League of Nations. They slew him by an appeal to American distrust of and disgust with warring Europe. Naturally these same men think that this same weapon can kill another President; and they are undoubtedly more than delighted today that President Harding has put it again into their hands.

The suprising thing is that President Harding had the courage to take the step, and not that the Johnsons and the Hearsts are attacking him for it. Harding was regarded, when he was named, as a "stand pat" candidate. That is, he would—to qoute Gilbert—"do nothing in particular and do it very well." He was, like Bonar Law, to give the nation "tranquillity" after its four years of nervous excitement under Wilson. And, domestically, that is what he has done. But he has also made two rather disturbing excursions into the forbidden foreign field—his Disarmament Conference and his plea for a World Court.

His Disarmament Conference was a great success. It freed the American people from two burdens hich they perfectly understood—the necessity of taxing themselves to build a great navy, and the Japanese bogey. Interested criticism started against it, but soon found that the tide of public opinion was flowing strongly in its favor. This success has possibly encouraged the President to try another venture. It would be a fair guess to imagine that Secretary Hughes had a good deal to do with this decision. Secretary Hughes is a man with a conscience and a sense of world responsibility; and he undoubtedly feels that the wealth, the strength and the independence of the United States have brought with them grave responsibilities.

But the World Court has the disadvantage of depending to some extent upon the machinery of the League of Nations; and it lacks any such advantage as the lowering of taxation or the removal of a popular bogey. So it offers a much more vulnerable surface for attack. And the attack has commenced—savage, insular and unscrupulous. If it can be used to wrest the Republican nomination from President Harding, its makers will have achieved their great objective.—Montreal Star.

Manitoba goes to work today on the 1923 crop. That is more useful work than picking political candidates.

St. Catharines has five candidates in its mayoralty race. The local Chamber of Commerce might find out how St. Kitts succeeded in getting so many people interested in a municipal election.

The Drury government expects to wind up the session this week. And many people expect to wind up the Drury Government during the last week in June.

School Board Turns Down Nurse Proposition—Presentation at Salem.

COLBORNE, May 1.—County Court actions have been brought by Almon Van Blasicom and his daughter, Mrs. Julia Duncan of Morganston against the village of Colborne. There actions were instituted in 1919, but it is stated that particulars of claims were not entered in the prescribed time and the Colborne council of 1919 took it for granted that the actions had been dropped. However, it is further stated, the plantiffs recently applied for, and were granted leave by Judge Ward to file their claims and proceed with the actions, which are for $500 each, for personal injuries and damage to horse and rig sustained on the evening of Sept. 21, 1918, while driving on King street. The horse, it is stated, stepped into a hole and the plaintiffs were thrown out of the vehicle. It is further alleged, it is stated, that corporation officials had been previously notified of the existence of the defect in the roadway, and had neglected to repair it. The councils of 1918 and 1919 contended there was no liability.

Day—Cowey.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cowey, Lakeport, was the scene of a pretty marriage, when their only daughter, Ellen Mary, was married to Mr. Harry E. Day of Castleton. Rev. Dr. W. A. Mackenzie conducted the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by a matron of honor, Mrs. James Cowey, while Mr. J. Cowey, brother of the bride was the groomsman. After the wedding luncheon the happy couple left for eastern points for a trip. They will reside in Lakeport.

Social and Personal.

Mr. A. D. Hall has purchased the residence of Mr George A. Webb.

Rev .T. McKim of Baltimore is conducting the services in Trinity church here, until the appointment of a permanent rector.

Mr. W. E. Redfearn left for a few for Port McNichol, where he will join the crew of the steamer Canadian Tracker as first mate.

Mr. Harold Jamieson, son of Chief and Mrs. W. J. Jamieson of this place, who has been on the staff of the Toronto Bank at Copper Cliff has been promoted to the branch at Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. Louis Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Murphy, has gone to Copper Cliff where he has accepted a position as teacher in the school at that place.

London began a series of evangelistic services in the Methodist church of which Rev. R. A. Whattam is pastor.

Decide Not to Employ Nurse

At a special meeting of Colborne school board, called to consider whether a school nurse should be employed or not, after considerable discussion the following resolution was passed.

Moved by F. McBrintnell, seconded by B. McCracken that having heard the report of the chairman and members of the Board, regarding medical inspection of our schools and the employment of a nurse, the chairman be requested to notify Dr. Smith and Nurse Campbell that the Board does not intend to employ a Government nurse.

BALIEBORO, May 1.—The ice has completely disappeared from the lake. Some of it floated down to the lake, where the water is not nearly as high this spring as it has been in previous years.

The Centreville U.F.O. baseball team has joined a league in which Peterboro and Zion teams figure. Douglas Deyell has been appointed president and Harry Campbell manager.

Geo. Stoddard, teller of the Bank of Toronto here, was recently transferred to the staff at Brandon. Orval Findley of Omemee has taken his place. Clifton Lang, left for Oshawa on Monday to take a position there.

Among those from this village, who attended the community at Cavanville on Thursday evening were: Misses M. Anderson, S. Southern, C. Barnard; Messrs. Jno. Brackenridge, aJs. Johnston, Wm. Lang, F. Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson and daughter of Clinton are visiting friends at Centreville.

The cost of food folly

The cost of your food mistakes is not in dollars and cents alone, but in years of suffering from indigestion—and that means low vitality with little strength to resist disease. Cut down the high protein foods, avoid potatoes and sweets for awhile, and get down to a simple diet of Shredded Wheat Biscuit with green vegetables and fruits, and see how much better you feel. Shredded Wheat is all food. It is the whole wheat in a digestible form. Two Biscuits with milk or cream make a complete, nourishing meal, that costs but a few cents.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter, soft cheese or marmalades.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Pupils of Separate Schools Gave an Excellent Entertainment — Those Who Took Part.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 1. — Every seat in Cole's Opera House was taken last night when the curtain rose for the entertainment that was given by the pupils of the separate schools in the parish, St. Mary's in Campbellford and St. Joseph's and Sacred Heart in Seymour, the opening number being a rousing welcome chorus by the children of the local school. A splendid programme was furnished, honors in the various performances being equally divided among the three schools, all of the pupils showing the careful training that they had received in song, in dialogue, in dance and drill. The stage was artistically decorated with evergreens, and the handsome costumes of the young people combined to make a handsome picture behind the footlights.

Among the performers were two tiny proteges, who captured the house upon their first appearance, not on account of their youth alone but for, as well, the excellent manner in which they performed their parts. Master Owen Hoey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hoey, of Seymour, is only four years old, too young to go to school, but he has one advantage over the majority of children in having a mother who was a school teacher before her marriage, and who trains him in elocution. Little Owen, with all the confidence of a professional, faced the large audience, and without a sign of faltering, recited in audible tones and with a charming childish lisp, a short poem, entitled, "There's Nothing Like a Daddy." The selection was admirably suited to his years, the little chap declaring that he cared nothing for toys, pet cats or puppies, so long as he had Daddy, who, in his estimation, represented all that was mighty and noble in creation.

The other little favorite of the evening was Barbara Kerr, who dressed as a butterfly, really held the place of honor in a cantata put on by the pupils of St. Mary's School. Mrs. W. Welsh acted as pianist, playing several selections before the curtain went up, but the accompaniments for the exercises on the stage were rendered by one of the sisters of St. Mary's, player and instrument being behind a screen.

The programme was the same as that published in the Examiner yesterday, those who took part being as follows:

By St. Mary's Pupils.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IMPRESSIVE EVENT

Touching Sermon at Hastings in Memory of Vera Montgomery.

HASTINGS, May 1.—A very impressive memorial service in loving memory of the late Vera Montgomery was held in the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Rev. M. L. Hinton, pastor, spoke very impressively and forcibly from the words: "There will be no night there the large congregation was held deeply interested during the entire service. The music was suited to the occasion and the service throughout was one long to be remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Bailey spent Sunday in Warkworth.

Lloyd Hess spent Monday in Westwood on business.

Mrs. C. Dodd has returned from the Peterborough hospital but is still in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hess have been visiting friends in Colborne.

Dr. Sutton of Norwood was in town on Sunday.

A THREE-CORNERED FIGHT IN VICTORIA

Liberals Will Hold a Convention on Saturday Next.

LINDSAY, May 1. — It looks as if South Victoria will see a three-cornered fight in the Provincial contest.

The Liberals hold a convention on Saturday, 5th May, and Mr. L. V. O'Connor, the well-known lawyer and curler, will it is said be the choice of the convention.

The Conservatives hold a convention the same day, and the choice of candidate lies between Dr. Hall, of Little Britain, ex-Warden Patterson, of Ops, and C. D .Logan, of Verulam.

The U.F.O. convention is on 11th May and F. G. Sandy M.P.P. of Omemee will again receive the nomination.

In North Victoria a section of the Conservative Party will support Mr. I. F. Weldon, a lawyer, of Lindsay, as the choice of the convention This has created a division in the ranks.

The Progressives hold a convention on 15th May. The fight for the Party's choice is between Jasper Forman of Kirkfield and William Newman of Lorneville.

Many Candidates Are in the Field.

LINDSAY, May 1. — (Canadian Press).—Rumors are many concerning the possible candidates for North and South Victoria in the coming Provincial elections. It is stated on good authority that Edgar Watson, M.P. for North Victoria, will be opposed at the convention to be held at Fenelon Falls by Jasper Forman (Farmer) and William A. Newman (Creamery), of Lorneville. It is also intimated that Mr. Watson is the favorite. The Liberal candidate will in all probability be Emmerson Tiers, of Fenelon Falls, while J. A. Mark, merchant, of Kinmount, and I. E. Weldon, barrister, of Lindsay, are mentioned as the Conservative candidates.

In South Victoria, F. G. Sandy, M.P., will probably be unopposed at the convention, while the Liberals are urging L. V. O'Connor, barrister, of Lindsay, to stand. The Conservative candidates at the convention will probably centre between Dr. G. W. Hall, of Little Britain, and ex-Warden Patterson (Farmer), of Omemee.

England to Levy Duty on Barley.

LONDON, May 1. — (Canadian Press). — Replying to a query at question time in the House of Commons yesterday as to when the proposed bill to levy an excise duty on foreign malting barley would be introduced, Sir Robert Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, said he was unable to answer at the moment, and he was also unable to state whether the duty would be collected at the breweries, distilleries or malthouses. He stated that he did not think the price of feeding barley in the United Kingdom would be affected by the duty.

The proposed duty, ten shillings per quarter (eight bushels) on imported malting barley, with a preference of one-third to the Dominions, is calculated to encourage British agriculture.

CAMPBELLFORD TOWN COUNCIL HELD MEETING

Failed to Reach Decision in Regard to Debenture Issue for the New School — Seek Legal Opinion.

OTHER BUSINESS

CAMPBELLFORD, May 1.—After sitting in special session until nearly midnight last night, the town council adjourned without reaching a final decision on the question of issuing $68,000 debentures for the proposed High school. All they did decide was to refer the question to Hon .N. W. Rowell of Toronto, for a legal opinion as to whether they are required under the statute to issue the debentures. This course was decided upon almost unanimously, the only negative vote being cast by Councillor Carter, who could not see that anything was to be gained by incurring further expense.

The requisition from the Board of Education for $68,000 to be placed with all legal expenditure in one of the local banks to the credit of the Board was received and read and then the discussion began.

Majority For Debenture Issue.

It was generally understood that if a final vote had been taken last night on the question of issuing debentures that the request of the Board of Education would have been complied with by a majority of one, five members of the council voting in the affirmative and four in the negative. The minority seemed set on avoiding a division until outside legal advice had been secured, feeling that this would satisfy the people and would absolve the members of the council from responsibility when it was made clear that no other course could be taken.

Mayor Has Resolution.

Mayor Meyers submitted a resolution which provided that the Council secure competent legal advice on the question before them and this was agreed to. Town Solicitor Humphries was then called into the meeting and he addressed the Council at considerable length, going fully into all legal details. The sum and substance of his argument was that the council had no alternative in the matter, but that under the statute the debenture issue must be made.

Members of the council made it clear that in seeking outside advice they meant no reflection upon Mr. Humphries, to whose opinion they were ready to extend every consideration, but they felt that the public would be better satisfied if the judgment of the town solicitor was confirmed by a non-resident.

Brief For Mr. Rowell.

Town Clerk McGregor was instructed to draw up from the minutes an official statement of every step taken by the council on this issue since the matter of a new High school was first brought to their notice in 1919. This statement will be submitted to Mayor Meyers and Reeve Anderson and if approved by them will be forwarded to Mr. Rowell. It is hoped that the Toronto attorney will be able to give his opinion before the regular meeting of the council next Monday night and that the vexed school question that has been an active problem in Campbellford for the past four years, will at that session be finally laid to rest. It is the general opinion that the issue of debentures will be decided upon and that work on the new school will begin at once.

Care of Streets.

The committee on roads and bridges was authorized to purchase from Henry Redden sufficient crushed stone at $1 per yard to fill the holes in the streets and to buy, besides, five barrels of 60 per cent. asphalt oil to be mixed with the stone.

Another matter discussed was the oiling of the streets. The Law Construction Company of Toronto offer to do their work by a special process at a cost of three cents for every gallon of oil used.

By the new method the oil is thrown on the streets in the form of a spray by steam pressure and less is required. At a recent meeting the council ordered 16,000 gallons of oil for use on the streets this season, but if the plan referred to its adopted 14,000 gallons will suffice. The Law Company has signed a contract to apply the oil to the streets of Stirling.

This question will be finally disposed of at the meeting next Monday night.

FIRST DANCE OF THE SEASON, TRENT RIVER

Delightful Evening Spent — Presentation to Mrs. Macoun.

TRENT RIVER, May 1.—The first dance of the season was held Friday night, Sedgwick's hall being engaged for the occasion. Square and round dancing was indulged in.

Mrs. Jno. Waters has returned from visiting friends in Peterboro.

A refreshing rain fell Saturday causing buds on the trees to break forth and the grass to assume its green sheem once more.

At a pleasant gathering held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Macom, West Seymour recently, the members of the Women's Institute took the occasion to show their appreciation of the services of a former president, Mrs. Macom, who is now corresponding secretary and treasurer of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario. Mrs. Macom was presented with a handsome casserole, accompanied by a complimentary address.

STOMACH TROUBLE

"INDIGESTION"

Relieved By Burdock Blood Bitters

The sufferers from dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomach troubles who has to pick and choose his food is the most miserable of al mankind.

Even the little that is eaten causes much torture, and is digested so imperfectly it does but little good.

Mr. Wm. Kruschel, Morden, Man. writes:—"Some time ago I had quite a serious case of stomach trouble, indigestion. I could scarcely eat anything, outside of some light food, and even then I generally had pains after each meal. I tried many different medicines, but without any improvement, and had almost given up hope of ever being well. A neighbor recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using it a short time I felt much better, so I continued to use it until I was completely relieved. I can honestly say that B.B.B. has done wonders for me after all other medicines failed."

RUSSIANS HAVE

vise question was entirely inconsistent; they asked how Vorovsky was able to get his diplomatic vise to come from Rome, and how My Ayrens, the official spokesman for the Soviet delegation had obtained his privilege to come here from Berlin. M. Ayrens, who outlined this view, added: "We are wondering if the Swiss will deport Vorovsky and myself; we are awaiting developments."

Asked if Soviet Russia contemplated signing the straits convention, M. Ayrens answered: "We are not announcing what we intend to do about signing the straits treaty. The fact is that the convention has not yet been signed and we have a perfect right to be here, because in principle at least the straits discussion may be re-opened at any time.

Such re-opening of the straits discussion is not desired by the allies for the straits document is one of the few things the Turks have accepted without modification.

Moreover it is learned that neither Great Britain nor France is anxious to have Moscow sign the straits agreement if it should imply any step toward recognition.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illness and of the greatest proportion of deaths. They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors believe that colds, tonsilitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation, instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Laxative Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. R. H. Powell, of Gilbert Plains, Man., considers Laxative Syrup Pepsin the best laxative he ever used, and Mrs. Chas. Lewis, of Winnipeg, Man., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 23 Caldwell Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

YANKS WON FOUR BOXING TOURNEY

Americans Earn Honors in International Event at Toronto Last Night.

TORONTO, May 1 (Canadian Press), — In the international boxing tournament here last night the American boxers won four of their six fights staged with the Canadian mitt artistes.

Three came from Cleveland and a fourth from Los Angeles.

The best bout of the night was that between Jack Johnstone of Toronto, international 118-pound champion, and Steve Nugent, of Cleveland. There was very little to choose between these boys, and Johnstone had to extend himself to the limit to gain the award.

Results of the bouts in which the Americans participated are as follows:

112-pound clash, Agnew Burlie, of Toronto, defeated F. Slamey, Cleveland

126 pound, Al. McVeigh, Cleveland, defeated Trooper Goooves, Toronto.

135 pounds, John Jolls, Cleveland, defeated Cyril Kelly, Toronto.

147 pounds, George Gilson, Cleveland, defeated T. Burns, Toronto.

Charles Jenkinson, Los Angeles, won from Trooper Dutton, Toronto.

In other bouts, Phipps, Toronto, light heavyweight, defeated Consentin, Toronto, and McDoullon, Toronto, heavyweight, won from Pook, St. Thomas.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN COMSTOCK

LINDSAY, May 1 — The death took place on Saturday of Catherine Mosttos, relict of the late John Comstock an old resident of Lindsay and sister-in-law of Mr. Aaron Comstock of Peterboro, aged 82 years and one month.

The deceased was born in North umberland County.

FLOOD CONDITIONS IN MAINE ARE SERIOUS

BOSTON, May 1, — (Canadian Press.)—Reports from many points in Northern New England last night told of flood conditions more serious in property damage than for many years. Spring freshets following two days of warm rains, suddenly melted the snow in the mountains, and turned rivers into torrents. Flooding of power plants tied up industries and left cities and towns without lights .Railroad lines were blocked in many places. Damage in Maine is estimated at $3,000,000.

Conservatives Want Workman Candidates.

LONDON, May 1. — (Canadian Press).—Intensive efforts are to be made to secure more workingmen as Conservative Parliamentary candidates. This idea of Tory democracy of course is a very old one, but the Conservative workingman as a Parliamentarian has never been prominent, only two indeed coming forward in the last general election.

Sir Herbert Nield, chairman of the National Unionism Association, declares that it is a libel on the workingmen of Great Britain to say that their true prototypes are the shrieking dervishes from Glasgow.

It is suggested that a levy should be made among the members of Conservative workingmen's clubs which are plentiful in all parts of the country, to furnish funds for running candidates.

AUDIT AND INQUIRY IN CANADA BY N.Y. STATE

BUFFALO, May 1.— (Canadian Press.) — From Albany last night comes the statement that the long arm of New York State government will reach into the Dominion of Canada this week to procure facts upon which to base possible criminal prosecutions against officers of the L. R. Steel Company. In a statement made by Carl Sherman, he says Attorney-General Major Hugh Reilly has obtained full consent of the receivers named by the Canadian government to an audit and inquiry by New York State government.

ANNOUNCED THE NAMES OF ROYAL COMMISSION

OTTAWA, May 11. — (Canadian Press.)—Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, last evening announced the names of the members of the Royal Commission which will investigate all branches of the grain trade in Canada. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, of Saskatchewan, has been selected as chairman. Other commissioners are Dean Rutherford of the Agricultural Department, University of Saskatchewan. D. A. McGibbon, Professor of Economics, Alberta University, and J. G. Scott, of Quebec. Mr. Scot is recognized as an authority on transportation matters.

PIONEER PASSES.

GANANOQUE, May 1. Canadian Press. — The death of another of this town's pioneers in the person of William Phillips, occurred on Sunday night at the Brophy House.

The deceased was at one time widely known in marine circles having had charge of the D. F. Britton wood yard and dock for a number of years during the early days when wood was used as fuel on the steamboats.

He afterwards was the Canadian Express messenger for this town for a number of years. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Shields, with whom he resided, and two sons, Wm. and John, of this town.

FRANCE HAS SERVED WARNING TO TURKEY

LAUSANNE, May 1.—(Canadian Press). — France has frankly informed Turkey that she does not like her concentration of troops on the Syrian frontier, and that if it is intended as a menace, France refuses to be intimidated and will reinforce the French troops in Syria if she believes it necessary. The Turks say the presence of troops on the border is necessary to subdue armed Armenian bands which are committing depredations.

A Woman's Friends

Good, clear daylight and a well placed mirror are the best friends that a woman has. They place honesty before tact and tell the truth—unpleasant, if it has to be.

Daylight and the well placed mirror are, too, the best friends of Peerless Erasmic Soap.

Peerless Erasmic is the daylight soap that will cause your complexion to revel in the nearness of eyes; give to it a pearly clearness and glow of youth all your own; enable your skin to meet fearlessly the scrutiny of other women, and enable your mirror to answer you pleasantly, whilst speaking the truth.

Peerless Erasmic is more than beauty to the skin. It woos the senses with its subtle fragrance. Neither pronounced nor obvious, it is the perfume of good taste—an elusive fragrance floating near.

BILL TO RESTRICT ORIENTAL INFLUX

No Desire to Keep Out Chinese Students—Total Exclusion of All Others is Proposed.

OTTAWA, May 1. — (Canadian Press.)—Second reading was given to an act respecting Chinese immigration in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon and it was then discussed in committee.

Clause three of the bill, which empowers the Governor-in-Council, to appoint officers in countries other than Canada for the purpose of endorsing passports of Chinese evoked some discussion. Hon. H. H. Stevens, (Conservative, Vancouver C.) warned the government that very great care should be exercised in the appointment of men who would exercise this power. Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration, said that it was the intention to have passports of Chinese coming to Canada, vised by immigration officials at the port of embarkation. This work had been done by the British consul in the past.

T. C. McBride, (Progressive, Cariboo) understood Oriental immigration was going to be stopped. "Why, then, is this bill necessary?" he queried.

Mr. Stewart replied that the bill provided for extensive restriction of Chinese immigration. "There was no promise made of exclusion," said the Minister.

Mr. McBride: "Why let Chinese merchants come in to run our cities? I think we have sufficient at present."

Premier King said that in dealing with the question of Oriental immigration international relations had to be considered as well as the economic question of labor.

If the international aspect were lost sight of it was quite possible to create a situation which would have serious future results. For years past it had been realized that it was not desirable to admit large numbers of Chinese to Canada.

The poll tax had been found not merely objectionable but ineffective. It had been felt that a country calling itself Christian should not deal with the problem by imposing a head tax on working people, while at the same time that country was subscribing funds for missionaries to go to China and teach the principles of Christianity. The head tax had accordingly been abolished.

The Chinese people would not take offence at a law restricting immigration but they did not want to be placed under the indignity of total exclusion. It was impossible to talk of total exclusion without offending. It was against the idea of British justice and fair play. So far as labor and economic competition was concerned, the Chinese themselves would agree to the limitation of the number of their people allowed. The proposed legislation would mean an effective restriction of the entry of all classes of Chinese coming to this country other than these which it was to our own interests to admit.

The Prime Minister did not think there was any desire to exclude Chinese students who came to this country seeking enlightenment. Both Sir Arthur Currie and Sir Robert Falconer had expressed the wish that these students be admitted to their universities. The legislation proposed that certain classes would be admitted under regulations approved by the minister. The head tax was removed but the classes were restricted. The laboring class were absolutely excluded since they were not mentioned in the bill. Other classes mentioned were quite within the control of the minister.

OBITUARY

MRS. W. L. PAYNE.

COBOURG, May 1.—The death of Mrs. Payne, widow of the late Wm. L. Payne of Cobourg, has removed one of the aged residents of Cobourg. Mrs. Payne was born in Scotland in 1837, and came to Canada with her parents when she was five years of age, the family settling at Huntington, Quebec. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Whitelaw. She married Mr. Wm. Payne and lived in Cobourg for many years. Her husband predeceased her by a number of years. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. S. I. Wilson. Surviving her are Miss Hattie Payne of Cobourg, Mr. George Payne, police magistrate, Campbellford and Mr. W. L. Payne, K.C., Colborne. All were present at the funeral.

JOHN CUNNINGHAM.

COBOURG, May 1.—The death of Mr. John Cunningham for some years the caretaker of the Horse Show Park and for a number of years foreman of the moulding department at the Crossen car shops when the industry was in operation, has removed a well-know citizen. He had been sick for some time and was 65 years of age. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. R. Record, Port Hope and four sons, William, George, Harold and Victor. Deceased was a member of St. Peter's Anglican church. The funeral services were conducted by the rector, Canon F. J. Sawers.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

In a recent issue of the Examiner I noticed an item of news to the effect that Peterborough milk is inspected from its source to the consumer.

The statement is attributed as having been made by the Sanitary Officers of Peterborough and is to the effect that the Sanitary Inspector makes visits to the outlying districts and inspects the stables and barns of those who supply milk to the city vendors. If this is the case it is very gratifying, but from all the information I can get, or have at my disposal, it is at variance with the facts. I am deeply interested in the matter of pure milk supply for this city and I would like to be corrected by the Medical Officer of Health if the information that comes to me, that sources of supply have not been inspected since last November and December, is incorrect.

Milk is one of our cheapest and best of foods when properly handled but when improperly handled and conditions of producing it are not what they ought to be, then the reverse is the case.

ROSENEATH AND THE DISTRICT.

Death of Esteemed Resident is Widely Regretted Personal Paragraphs.

ROSENEATH, May 1.—Roseneath and surrounding country was shocked on Saturday to hear the sad news that Christina McIntyre, wife of Dr. J. J. Wade has passed away at Sault Ste. Marie. Dr. Wade had taken his family to his brother's home in hope that the change might benefit Mrs. Wade's health, but she passed away on Thursday morning. Mrs. Wade was a resident here for about seven years and during that time had made many warm friends. She was a Christian lady and a devoted wife and mother. The sympathy of the entire community goes out ot Dr. Wade and his two children, Mary, aged 10 and Marjorie, aged 8, in their bereavement.

Besides her family she leaves to mourn her loss an aged and invalid mother, Mrs. McIntyre of Balderson and one sister, Mrs. J. Cooper, who resides with her mother. The funeral was held from her mother's residence in Balderson on Sunday afternoon to Perth cemetery.

Mr. McIntosh of Cobourg is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Geo. McGivern.

Miss Annie Swain's conditions is much improved.

Campbellford Personals.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 1.—Mrs. Thomas Church and little daughter, Betty of Orillia who have been for the last month visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hoover, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Josephine Longmore teacher at Marmora, spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Longmore.

Miss Agnes Thomson of Peterboro Normal School, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. M. Thomson.

Mr. F. J. Linton of Peterboro spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Robert Linton.

Friends of Mr. Arthur Bertrand of Meyersburg will regret to learn that he is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoover motored to town on Saturday to spend the week-end with Mr. Hoover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hoover.

Mrs. Thomas Sarginson, near Meyersburg, who has been confined to her home for past few weeks through illness, is much improved.

Mr. George E. Hay and daughter, Mrs. W. S. Wiggins, left on Saturday for Port Frances, Ontario, having been called there by the serious illness of their daughter and sister, Miss Georgia Hay, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis but whose condition is now regarded as serious.

R. Lowrey, local vice-president for the Conservative party, was in Warkworth recently attending a meeting of the executive, called for the purpose of drawing up plans for the coming election. A list of the meetings to be held throughout the riding will be published shortly.

TRINITY CHURCH CHOIR CONCERT

(By Jeannette.)

Between five and six hundred people enjoyed an excellent musical evening at Trinity Methodist church last night when the choir gave their annual concert assisted by Miss Jessie Tuite, reader of Belleville, Mrs. Geo. H. King, soprano soloist, and Miss Edwina Palmer, violinist.

In a well-balanced programme of choral and solo work, this year's choir concert was a real success, an appreciative audience according a unanimous response to every selection.

Directed by Mr. Geo. H. King, the choir gave a splendid account of the season's work showing a volume of well-controlled, powerful tone and a masterly finish in shading, which was particularly apparent in the unaccompanied number, "Trisagion and Sanctus," with its deep-toned beginning swelling out in concerted, reverent melody, and the majestic cadences of "Come, O Thou Traveller."

"The Miller's Wooing," was a gay opening number of colorful phrasing and much applause followed the bright rendition of the chorus which had the flavor of an old English roundelay, "Love is Meant to Make us Glad."

Miss Jessie Tuite of Belleville, repeated last evening the favorable impression this clever elocutionist made on last year's audiences. She excels in mimicry and impersonation of the characters she portrays, and her offerings are mainly of the popular sort which imitates various familiar types. The monologue, "The Country Post Office," in which the reader "took off" the country postmistress with a nasal twang and an inquisitive disposition, was accompanied by a very real simulation of busily knitting fingers. "The Judgment Day Anon" was a much-enjoyed characterization of "two little boys and a comet" and a very amusing selection was given, entitled "A Man's Description of a Woman's Dress," written for Miss Tuite by Owen Smiley of Toronto. Bright little encores were the reader's response to the applause which greeted her efforts, and a very pleasing number by Ian Maclaren, "The Fee of Love," the story of the fight to save a sick woman's life, told in the broad Scotch, concluded the elocutionist's very pleasing programme.

Miss Edwina Palmer's outstanding technical ability and smooth, velvety tone were displayed to advantage in the violin numbers which delighted her hearers last evening. Her opening number were two compositions by Fritz Kreisler the "Rondino Beethoven," and "Sicilienne and Rigaudon Francouer," followed by encore, "Greig's charming "Grandmother's Minuet."

The solo, Chanson Meditation," a reflective piece in legato style, was particularly pleasing, the difficult pizzicati and harmonic interludes of "Malaguerra," a Spanish dance of Sarasate were executed with brilliant ease and facility, and one of the young artist's most attractive selections was the lovely 'Canzonetta," which served as a final encore.

Mrs. George H. King, the choir's soloist, sang in splendid style last evening. Her full, bird-like, well-trained voice and dramatic rendition was loudly applauded in charming habitant chanson by Dr. Drummond, "Leetle Bateese," with a sweet pick-aninny lullaby as a brief encore. A group of three short songs included the bright "Song of the Robin"; Liza Lehmann's "Good Morning, Brother Sunshine," and "The Blind Ploughman."

An unaccompanied number by the male horus, "O, Peaceful Night," was a major toned, melodious selection by well-harmonized deep voices

Accompanists for the occasion were the director, Mr. Geo. H. King, Miss M. Green and Mr. Leslie Unitt.

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — New York Stock Exchange — And Curb Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, May 1, (Special.)—Bear pressure met with better resistance to-day than in yesterday's disastrous session of the New York Stock Exchange but most issues again led by the oils, offered losses in the early trading. The element working for the d line had a combination of pessimism, depleted margins, and the momentum of yesterday's slide to work with.

Wall street analyzed Monday's severe break as the culmination of a well timed bear drive coming after weeks of pressure had worn down the market's resistance. After such a drastic decline it was natural to expect heavy selling of impaired margin accounts at the opening. Transactions of this character subjected the whole list to large offerings in the first 15 minutes. But despite recent successes of the bears, experienced operators continued firm in the belief that the bull market was not over and important buying came into standard stocks with the thought that issues of this kind would snap back from 5 to 15 points in the next month. Trading proceeded at a two million share rate in the first hour, floor brokers reporting that at times the tape was 15 minutes behind.

Most of the selling which took place represented adjustment of weakened accounts. Many commission houses advised clients who could hold on to stocks to do so, saying that it would be playing into the hands of the bears to let go.

Wire houses were heavy sellers late Monday afternoon. Professionals picked out certain issues for attack, and when declines of 2 to 3 points took place brokers began to make margin calls.

This factor was largely responsible for the enormous volume in the closing hour which aggregated 529,000 shares. Not since 1920 have such sweeping recessions occurred in a single hour in the railroad and industrial avenues. Such a break usually indicates that the turn in the market has come and signs of a better tone were noticeable; steadiness in a number of stocks like corn products, Locomotive and Consolidated Gas was the most impressive feature of the market at noon. However many parts of the list were still under pressure. Steel made a new low on the move at 103 while Amer. Can., Baldwin, Studebaker and other speculative favorites were active at around yesterday's closing prices.

GAVE TRAVELOGUE.

Rev. R. B. Grobb gave his travelogue last evening at Mark Street Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Epworth League. He carried his audience through Scotland, England, France, Belgium, and into Germany, and his address showed a thorough mastery of his subject. The people were very appreciative. Mr. Grobb will always be a welcome visitor at Mark Street Church. Preceding Rev. Mr. Grobb's address, Master Scott Medd delighted his audience with a vocal solo.

Kingnut Treat No. 2

Lettuce and Tomato Sandwiches

CUT thin slices of bread; remove crusts and spread with wholesome Kingnut. Remove skins from ice-cold, ripe tomatoes, slice and place between slices of bread with crisp lettuce leaf above and below. Spread the tomato with mayonnaise and season with salt, pepper and dash of paprika.

* * *

Cocoanuts from far across the Pacific—peanuts from the Sunny South—and pure milk from green pastures—are put together to make Kingnut. That is why Kingnut is the most delicious spread for bread.

KINGNUT

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"If I had two projects in mind—one for irrigation and one for power, I would not, of course, unless I happened to be a public service corporation engaged in producing and selling electric buzz-saw. Indeed, I would have to sell it, for the the juice developed here I could not hope to compete in a limited field with the established power companies. I would proceed to negotiate the sale of this by-product to the highest bidder. Bill, do you know that I've seen enough flood water running down the San Gregorio every winter to have furnished, if it could have been stored in Agua Caliente Basin, sufficient water to irrigate the San Gregorio Valley for five years?"

"I know it, Miguel."

"All a power company requires is the assurance that the dam you are building will impound in the Agua Caliente Basin during an ordinarily wet winter, sufficient run-off water to insure them against a shortage during the summer. After the water has passed over their wheels they're through with it and it can be used for irrigation, can it not?"

"Yes, of course, although you'd have to have a greater volume of water than the amount coming through the power company's pen-stocks. But that's easily arranged. Two ditches, Miguel!"

"If the engineer of the Central California Power Company had not examined the possibilities here and approved of them, it is reasonable to suppose that he would not have drawn the plans and Parker would not have engaged you to build the dam."

"You're on the target, son. Go on."

"Then Parker must have entered into an agreement to sell, and the Central California Power Company must have agreed to buy, if and when Parker could secure legal title to the Rancho Palomar, a certain number of miner's inches of water daily, in perpetuity, together with certain lands for a power station and a perpetual right of way for their power lines over the lands of this ranch."

"Well, son, that's what I would have done in a similar situation. Nothing to be made by letting that hydro-electric opportunity lie fallow. No profit in wasting kilowatts, Miguel. We haven't got a third of the power necessary for the proper development of this state."

"In the absence of conclusive proof to the contrary, Bill, I am convinced that John Parker did enter into such a contract. Naturally, until he should secure the title to the ranch, the railroad commission, which regulates all public service corporations in this state, would not grant the power company permission to gamble on the truth of an official report that I had been killed in Siberia."

"Your reasoning is sound. Now eat, and after breakfast I'll tell you things. Your visit and your eager inquiries have started a train of thought in my thick head."

Don Mike obeyed, and while he devoted himself to his breakfast, old Bill Conway amused himself rolling pellets out of bread and flipping them at a know-hole in the rough wall of the mess hall.

"You've been pretty well troubled, haven't you, son?" he remarked paternally when Don Mike, having completed his meal, sat back and commenced rolling a cigarette.

"Si. Got your train of thought ditched, Bill?"

"I have. Assuming that Parker has made a deal with the Central California Power Company, what I want to know is: Why did he do it?"

"I've just told you why he did it."

"You've just told me why he would make a deal with a power company, but you haven't explained why he should make a deal with this particular power company."

"I cannot answer that question, Bill."

OIL SEEKERS IN EMILY TOWNSHIP

Drilling Equipment Now on the Ground and Will Soon Be Ready.

LINDSAY, May 1. — Workmen are busily engaged at present installing the drill which is to be used by the Northern Development in oil boring operations in Emily township. The Perdus farm where the boring takes place is a busy spot and scores of people are motoring out every day to watch the operations. It cost the company some $1,800 to get the equipment through customs. There are a great many dubious people who shake their heads and freely predict. The venture will end in failure. The members of the company are optimistic however. They have put their own money into the enterprise and have not attempted to sell any stock.

DEBATE AT CAVAN OF REAL INTEREST

A Bible Subject Interspersed With Humor—Birthday Party Much Enjoyed—Personals.

CAVAN, May 1. — The debate in Cavan church between Rev. I. Craw and Rev. G. S. Rorke, as to which was the greatest Old Testament character, Moses or Joseph, was of more than ordinary interest. As the subject was from the Bible no judges were appointed. The debate was not void of humor for both gentlemen are highly gifted as speakers and debaters and possessed of an abundant supply of wit. All present thoroughly enjoyed the event. The music was also very acceptable.

Social and Personal.

Mr. Edwin Moore has recently installed a radio outfit. Mr. Carley and Mr. Oscar McGill are also the possessors of a wireless apparatus.

Mr. Vernon McIntyre, Toronto, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Matchett for a few days last week.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Milligan and Miss Kelly gave a pleasant little party to the children of Cavan Centre school, in honor of the tenth birthday of their nephew Kelly Munroe. All the good things pertaining to a birthday event were in evidence and a merry time was spent. Mrs. Bertha Munroe, and Miss Irene Munroe, Peterboro, motored out to have tea with Kelly and Joe and their little friends.

Mr. J. Syer, who is spending a two weeks' vacation with his mother Mrs. Syer of Millbrook, took his mother, sister, Mr. Coulter and Mrs. Eber Syer, to visit his sister, Mrs. Carscadden, Lindsay, for a few days last week. They had a nice auto trip returning by way of Pontypool, and visiting with friends there.

CHANGE VERY NOTICEABLE SAYS MR. GEORGE GREEN

Mrs. George Green had suffered for years. Four bottles of Dreco, the famous health builder, overcame her troubles after all other methods failed. "A wonderful medicine," says Mr. Green.

The case of Mrs. George Green, 61 Murray Street West, Hamilton, Ont., is typical of the benefits Dreco offers to all sufferers from digestive complaints. You will readily recognize her symptoms, as described by Mr. Green. Thousands of people have them and can cure them just as easily as did Mrs. Green, with the aid of Dreco, which is particularly valuable as a spring tonic and restorative.

"We are thankful for what Dreco has done," says Mr. Green. "My wife has suffered from stomach, kidney and liver trouble for many years. Her complexion became sallow; she was nervous and could not sleep well. I think constipation was the cause of it as she always had to be taking a laxative. After meals everything seemed to sour in her stomach, causing her to bloat terribly. She had dizzy spells, especially when stooping over.

"We tried ever so many things, but they didn't seem to help much. Then we heard what Dreco was doing for other people in this city, and decided to try it. My wife has taken but four bottles, but I can notice a big change in her.

"She now has a good appetite; sleeps fine; her bowels are regular and her nerves have greatly improved. She has a good flow of rich blood, which has cleared up her complexion. She is much stronger and we are pleased with what Dreco has done. It is a wonderful medicine."

Once let the stomach get out of order and the other organs quickly fail for lack of nourishment. Dreco, which contains the juices of twelve medicinal herbs and roots, scientifically compounded, quickly revives a lazy, ailing stomach and tones and regulates kidneys, liver and bowels. With these important organs functioning properly, good health results. Pull through this spring with flying colors, by taking Dreco as a tonic and regulator.

Dreco contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in Peterborough by Bond's Drug Store. It is also sold in Lakefield by E. H. Northey, and by a good druggist everywhere.

LABOR'S POWER NOT SHOWN IN PARIS

PARIS, May 1.—(United Press.)—Troops were held in readiness in Paris barracks, and others guarded the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate against possible trouble from labour extremists this May Day. Early indications were that as a demonstration of labor solidarity, today's strikes and meetings practically were a failure. Several hundred thousand workers struck here for the day, and another quarter of a million workers are participating in demonstrations throughout France, but the boulevards had more the appearance of a holiday than of an example of the power of labour.

Extremists' efforts to make the strike general were unsuccessful. These on strike included bakers, metal workers, builders, taxi drivers.

Service on trams and busses halted only for ten minutes, however, and all other public utilities were functioning.

Extremists at a number of meetings demanded recognition of the Russian Soviets and evacuation of the Ruhr.

TODAY I AM REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N.Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, both the liquid and tablet forms, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash for inflammation. Today I am real well and run a rooming house and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the Change of Life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it."—Mrs. ALICE D. DAVIS, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

At Age of Sixty-Eight She Finds Relief

1087 "THE PILLS"

IN LAKEFIELD AND DISTRICT

Looking Forward to Famous Lecturer's Visit—Liberal-Conservative Ladies to Organize—News Paragraphs.

LAKEFIELD, May 1.—Lakefield people will have a great treat on Wednesday night when Jack Miner will make his first appearance in the village and deliver his famous lecture in the Methodist Church. There will also be a children's matinee in the Queen Street Theatre in the afternoon, which should prove very interesting and instructive and help to put an end to the cruelty which prompts youngsters to shy stones at the birds and rob their nests. This is a form of juvenile "fun" (?) which should be forbidden by law.

To Organize Ladies.

A meeting of the Liberal-Conservative ladies of the village and vicinity will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Leonard's Hall. Mrs. Fallis, of Peterborough, will give an address and the ladies will be organized for the coming campaign.

Add to Equipment.

The Fire Brigade are very much pleased at the success of their dance, and expect in the very near future to add to their equipment some ladders, which will materially increase their efficiency.

Build Boat-House.

There is a rumor that the Brown Boat Co. will build a boat-house at Stoney Lake this year, and use it as a distributing point for their boats on the lake.

The first visit of a steamer for the season of 1923 came on Saturday, when the usual summer call of one long and three short blasts of the siren warned the people that the boat was coming in. The boat came down from Young's Point, and reports the ice out of Lake Katchewanooka. Clear Lake is not altogether free yet from ice, but in a few days Clear and Stoney Lakes will be open for the season.

THE MARKETS

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, May 1.—(Canadian Press).—Receipts 750 cattle and calves and 795 hogs.

Trading was slow on the cattle this morning. The few export feeders on offer sold from $6.50 to $7.00 killing steers ranged from $5.50 to $7.00; best butcher cows, $4.00 to $4.50; good feeder steers $5.00 to $5.50.

The hog market showed a slight improvement, packers bidding $9.75 for thick smooths and $10.72 1-2 for select bacons.

EGG MARKETS.

Press).—A further report has been received regarding the possible importation of Irish eggs to Canada. Some were previously ordered but the business was cancelled on the other side on account of an increase in price in Great Britain. Further business is reported to have been done, however of which we may be able to make a further report at a later date. Very little change in price is reported on the different market centres. Ontario country dealers report paying 26 to 28 and making sales 28 1-2 to 30 straight gathered f.o.b., 33 1-2 for extras f.o.b. Toronto carton extras 36, extras 34, firsts 32, seconds 30.

Montreal extras 33 to 34, firsts 31 1-2 to 32, seconds 29.

Winnipeg firmer. Dealers quoting 23 1-2 to 24 delivered.

Saskatchewan and Alberta markets unchanged.

British Columbia country points 23, specials 25. Jobbing specials 28, extras 25 to 26, firsts 23, seconds 22.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, May 1—There was no improvement in the demand from export or local buyers in the market for cash grain here yesterday. The condition of the flour market is unchanged. Demand for millfeed continues good and the tone of the rolled oats market is steady. A firm feeling prevails in the baled hay market. There is no change in egg prices. Prices were five cents per bag down for potatoes. There was a price advance of 1-4 c per pound in butter. There is nothing to report in cheese.

FIRE ALARMS INCREASE BY 124.

The fire department answered 211 calls during the first four months of this year, as compared with 87 alarms during the same period last year.

SPENT 24 YEARS IN CENTRAL INDIA.

Dr. Alex. Nugent Brought a Special Message to the Millbrook Presbyterians

The special missionary sermons preached by Dr. Alex. Nugent in Grace Presbyterian church on Sunday, April 29, both morning and evening, were particularly timely and interesting. Dr. Nugent, who has relatives in this vicinity, has spent 24 years in Central India as a medical missionary, so is well qualified to speak of conditions there. He chose his Scripture lesson, in the morning, from selected verses in Matthew 9, 11 and 28, illustrating Christ's methods while on this earth, and His final command and promise. Previous to the sermon Rev. Mr. Gervan gave a brief talk to the children on "Shining for Jesus," and a quartette, "Out of the Ivory Palaces," was beautifully sung (unaccompanied) by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Rev. G. S. and Mrs. Gervan.

Forty-six years ago, Dr. Nugent stated in beginning his address, the Presbyterian church in Canada felt it had a message for the people of India, though at that time it was a comparatively weak church very few of its members being found west of Ontario. Rev. James Douglas, the late Senator Douglas, was the first missionary to be sent to Central India, working there for five years. Compelled to return then on account of his wife's health, he became a pioneer missionary in Western Canada, a farmer, member of Parliament, finally a Senator, his widow still making her home in the West where her husband did such good service for the Kingdom. Dr. Fraser Campbell was the next missionary to go to the Indian field, and after forty-five years of splendid work is still in Central India and intends to end his days there in the Master's service. The church now has a large staff of well-qualified missionaries at this distant and needy field.

Of Special Interest

Some reasons why we are specially interested in missions in India were mentioned by the speaker, the fact that one-fifth of the world's population is in that great empire and all are British subjects, being one of them. Another is that our forefathers and theirs came from the same Aryan stock, and from the same plateaux in Central Asia. They object to being called Hindoos, preferring the name Indians as being the correct word to use; they are not black but white-skinned, darkened through generations in the hot sun of that burning climate.

India is divided into provinces, or states, two-thirds of these being directly under British rule, while one-third are still under the autocratic rule of native Maharajahs. For this reason missionaries have to be very careful, in learning what they may, or may not, do, for they can be dismissed at will by these native rulers should they make any political blunders. The Presbyterian church is responsible for the evangelisation of 4,000,000 people in fifty-five states, or parts of states, in the district where Dr. Nugent is laboring. These states are not all in one block—you might travel through half a dozen different provinces in going ten miles because it is the British policy to break them up and so weaken them politically.

First Experiences

When Rev. Mr. Douglas first went to India there were neither schools nor hospitals, there was not even a reading public to make any use of the Bible or tracts which might have been distributed. Now all this is changed though it is still difficult to bring education to girls, because of the religious superstition that the wrath of the gods will be visited upon any parents who even allow their girls to be taught to read. With all their millions of gods there is no thought of any love either of the gods to their worshippers, or of the latter towards the object of their worship, their whole thought is to placate the anger of various idols to whom they bring offerings which they can ill afford, and to whom they pray with senseless repetition.

Education Standard

It was somewhat of a surprise to learn that the same standard of education prevails in India as in England, and that all young people wishing to take higher educational training must do so in the English language. Their students have the ability to do anything which ours in Canada can do under the same circumstances. Because of lack of workers and money, it is not possible to do practically any work among the non-Christian children—the mission is pressed to its utmost to provide even primary training for its Christian young people. Christian children, if allowed in the state schools, would be compelled to study a great deal that is idolatrous, hence the church must attend to their needs. The native doctors and nurses have an English training but will not touch natives of the lower castes—not even the prescription paper—the latter they throw after them. Dr. Nugent stated that in the district where he labors they have all the organizations of the church at home, including a properly graded Sunday School, but so large is the territory to be covered, and so limited the number of workers that many towns and villages do not have a visit from the missionary more than once a year. Trained native assistants must attend to the outstations once they are organized.

To become a Christian means persecution, and many even lose their lives rather than return to idol worship: this he has seen in his own experience, as well as cruel beatings, disgrace of wives and daughters, destruction of property, with false charges preferred by their own relatives. But, however, ignorant these poor people may be, the speaker said he had never yet known one to recant after accepting Christ. Dr. Nugent has his hospital in the second most sacred city in India, and has an excellent opportunity of seeing much of the pilgrims who come seeking relief from the burden of sin from contact with the so-called "holy-men," the cruel superstitions which harass the minds of the people, the disease from the ignorance of sanitary precautions, and the vile practices of heathenism. Education will not save India from idolatry for the students now in American and English universities almost invariably go back into their own caste upon their return; neither will wealth save that great Empire for they have now more riches than can be known; nothing but the message of the Saviour's love will bring change of heart and rest of soul to those teeming millions.

Appeal For Funds

In concluding his remarks, Dr. Nugent made an earnest appeal for funds because for lack of means now he had seen, at the recent Board meeting in Toronto, young men, sons of missionaries, trained and ready for the foreign field, turned away; missionaries now on furlough could not return to their fields because there was no money to pay their fare; and others ready for furlough not able to come home for the same reason. In the hospital of which he is head, two young women are bravely trying to "carry on," and his return is now overdue. In 46 years the church has not yet had to close any part of the work for lack of means, but they are faced with desperate conditions today unless by the end of June this year, funds are materially increased. The Women's Board has no deficit and will help the General Society as far as they can. One dollar per member from the church at home will meet the need, will the people help, or must this great field in God's vineyard be closed up?

We can all do more than we have done,
And be not a whit the worse.
It was never loving that emptied the heart,
Nor giving that emptied the purse.

"The most Delicious Tea you can buy"

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

A QUOTED PRICE HELPS SELL.

The Want advertising of a shrewd beekeeper illustrates well a great merchandising principle. At regular intervals, all through the year, this advertiser offers extracted honey. His Want Ad is very brief. "Best extracted honey; 10 lbs, for $1.50; bring container." This little message has found scores of regular customers and sold many hundreds of pounds of honey. It is successful because the beekeeper quotes his price.

The beekeeper is in a position to sell extracted honey at a bargain. He sells direct, eliminating a middleman. He can readily quote a price which is very cheap beside a retail store price.

Other beekeepers can, too. The difference between this beekeeper and most others is that he realizes the tremendous power of a quoted bargain price in a Want Ad. His price fluctuates somewhat with market conditions, but always he quotes it and always it is plainly a bargain. Readers know it is a bargain. And many of them buy.

A newspaper reader owned an old typewriter. The type was rather worn, the alignment was not perfect, but there were still years of use in the machine. For a student, or other person who would use it comparatively little, it would do first-rate. This reader inserted a Want Ad on the machine. He mentioned a price—$16.75. He found a buyer almost instantly. The price sold it.

When you are undecided whether to mention a price in your Want Ad the questions to consider are these: "Is my price going to help me sell this article? Will readers realize my price is a bargain?" When you can answer these questions affirmatively, by all means quote your price in your Want Ad.

On the other hand, if you feel that readers will not appreciate what a bargain your price is, don't mention it, but say instead, "Bargain price," "very reasonable," or "cheap."

WHO FIRST FELT "LIKE A FIGHTING COCK"?

COCK-FIGHTING was born with the cocks.

But it is only 80 years ago that the first man felt "like a fighting cock!"

Now he has brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, all over the world—all feeling "like a fighting cock!"

It happens this way: A person half sick with bad stomach, dull and heavy headache, takes Beecham's Pills just before going to bed. Immediately the Pills begin to harmonize the digestive and eliminative organs.

Consequently, this person has a good night's sleep and arises in the morning with clear brain, bright eye, keen appetite, and full of energy for work and play.

It is now just 80 years since Beecham's Pills first began correcting disordered stomachs and stirring sluggish livers and bowels to natural activity — and feeling "like a fighting cock" is associated as inseparably with Beecham's Pills, as the pills are with good health.

Belmonts and Rotary Tied for First--Dempsey To Meet Gibbons

BELMONTS SENT KIWANIS DOWN

Kiwanians Eliminated From League Race By Last Evening's Defeat.

The Belmonts did away with a strong contender for league honours when they defeated the Kiwanis nine by the score of 10 to 5. The Kiwanis' chances are about shot now, and the Belmonts have strengthened their position as leaders. A big crowd strained the benches to view the battle on which so much depended.

The game was much better and closer than the score indicates. The last innings spoiled the game as far as the final score was concerned, the Belmonts getting five runs in that frame. The Kiwanis didn't stop trying throughout the game, though the Belmonts were up two on them after the first innings.

The game was featured with two double plays, one by Stuart unassisted, the other Thompson to Lowe.

Webber started off the game with a rush when he lammed out a two-bagger in the first innings. He scored on sacrifices by Gordon and Brown. Thompson also hit out a neat double.

McLean pitched good ball for the Kiwanis and although he received very poor support he never got rattled, but repeatedly struck out men with the sacks filled. He had eleven strike outs. Holyman worked well for the Belmonts, having seven to his credit.

The players were:

Kiwanis— Webber, 1b.; Gordon, s.s.; Brown, c.; Parker, ss.; Mackey, s.s.; McLean, p.; Dick, r.f.; Gray, l.f.; Cummer, 3b.

Belmonts — Jobbitt, 3b.; Stuart, s.s.; Heckman, l.f.; Lowe, 1b.; Haskill, c.; Holyman, p.; Batten, s.s.; Thompson, s.s; Fanning, r.f.

DEDMAN EXPECTS TO HAVE CLEAN-UP

C.O.B.L. Executive Will Meet in Oshawa on May 16 to Issue Certificates—Trouble Ahead.

LINDSAY, Ont., May 1 (Canadian Press). — N. J. Dedman, president of the Central Ontario Baseball League, is bent on "cleaning up" conditions in the League, and with this idea in view a meeting of the executive will be held at Oshawa on 16th May, to issue certificates and to pass on players.

Mr. Dedman stated yesterday that not a certificate would be issued unless the same is accompanied by the regulation amateur card.

It is further intimated that many players in the C.O.B.L. will have trouble securing their amateur cards this season.

It begins to look as if the teams that have packed up with imports are due for a big surprise unless the imports can thoroughly satisfy the C.O.B.L. president.

Fans in the League are crying for a return to home brew teams, and the new president of the Central League is out to give the fans what they want, if it is possible to be done.

MAPLE LEAFS WORKOUT

The Maple Leafs will have a workout at King Edward School grounds this evening at six o'clock.

Club Standings in Soft Ball League

The elimination process goes merrily on. Kiwanis met disaster last night when the team was handed a walking ticket from first to sixth place by the Belmonts. Belmonts and Rotary are still running neck and neck for the first place and they are only a nose ahead of the Gunners. All three teams have lost two games, and while the Belmonts and Rotary have one game each to play the Gunners have two battles in front of them. The Bowlers last evening were relegated to undisputed possession of the cellar position. The standing of the clubs are:

BOWLERS HELD ROTARY TO TEN

Surprise to Both Players and the Fans That the Score Wasn't Higher.

The Bowlers surprised themselves and the fans by holding the hard hitting snappy fielding Rotarian crew to ten runs, while they obtained three. The Bowlers have strengthened up some of the holes. Summerfeldt covered right field in faultless style, pulling off one of the neatest one hand catches seen this season. He also came through with some hits. "Herb" Martin played around like a big leaguer and never once was quiet.

The Rotarians were as usual as hard hitting as a three legged mule and slammed many for long rides.

The lineups:

Rotary—MacPherson, ss; Macdonald, 3b; Matthews, p; Young, ss; Graham, c; Dobbin, lf; Case, 1b; Primeau, 2b; Laurie, rf.

Bowlers—Gilliam, 2b; Freeman, c; Curvin, 1b; Ross, ss; McArthur, 3b; Fox, p; Northy, lf; Martin, ss; Summerfeldt, rf.

KINGSTON'S PROSPECTS.

Kingston Standard: Ever since the prospect of a team here loomed up "Teddy" Gallagher has been grooming himself for a place on the hurling staff and his card has been filled up. Those who have been following the husky hurler's doings know that he was going at a good pace last year and would have made a much better showing had he had better support. Manager Daley is providing the support for him this year and if "Teddy" does not get into a high niche in the pitching and batting records of the C.O.B.L. it will be his own fault.

LEASIDE COUNTS ON STRONG TEAM

Hamilton to Help Maguire Shoulder the Pitching Duties.

A Toronto paper has the following to say of the Leaside team:

When everything is cleared up to the satisfaction of the T.A.B.A., the Central Ontario League and the O.B.A.A., Leaside are figuring on being the team to beat for the Central Ontario League championship this year. Without treading on the toes of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association to any great extent Leaside A.C. has gathered together a bunch of ball players who are fast moulding themselves into a team that will take a lot of beating in their league this year. Leaside were one of the first teams in this district to volunteer to play any team in Toronto for the Frankie Britton Memorial Fund, and are hoping that they will be accommodated in the very near future. They figure that they stand more than an even chance of winning from the best in Toronto.

The Leaside Athletic Association Executive has been working hard for the last couple of weeks getting the grounds in shape for the boys to work out on, and have succeeded in placng at the disposal of the Leaside Ball Club one of the best amateur ball fields in this vicinity, and the players were not slow to take advantage of the warm weather during the last week. Several infield workouts have been indulged in, and team play is becoming a larger factor every time out.

Leaside's Good Infield.

The Leaside infield looks mighty sweet, and with three more solid weeks to go before the first league game, will be working like a well-oiled machine before the umps calls play ball in Oshawa on May 24. The Central Ontario League schedule is a little later starting than the majority of leagues but the games come pretty close to one another after it once gets under way, and the players need plenty of condition for the strenuous campaign. Leaside will play the first game of the season on Saturday, May 5 in Peterboro against Jake Solomon's Stars, and wants to make a good showing as this game will give an idea as to the relative strength of the Eastern and Western sections of the Central Ontario league.

With the old reliable Joe Dillon on first base and as captain of the team Leaside have no worry as to that postion. Second base is going to be a battle between Pat Mahoney (the veteran of the team), and Stevenson who is going great guns in practice. Steve is also a pitcher of no mean ability and will help out in this end of the work a great deal this season. If he can hit like Mahoney he will be one sweet ball player. Bill Lennon at short is going faster than ever and right now looks like the pick of the amateur short stops around this neck of the woods. He certainly takes a ball and gets rid of it in nice style.

Murray at Third.

There is very little wonder that Nip Dwan has been chasing Mickey Murray to play third base for Hillcrests since he lost Batstone. Mickey is without a peer at the hot corner. Although not so hard or consistent a hitter as the famous "Red" he is a much better fielder and throws with an easy, natural style that is so essential in third basemen.

The outfield will be composed in left and centre of two players who need no introduction to the baseball fans of this vicinity, Leaside figuring that in Nipper Jones and Normy Curzon they have two that are as good as can be found in amateur ball. If the third outfield position can be filled with a player who has the ability of Curzon or Jones, Leaside cannot be better fixed than they are. Right field will in all likelihood be left to the care of Bill Culliton, who played centre field for Leaside last year. Cully broke his finger last July and after that did not have the same confidence but if he can hit and field the way he did in the first series of 1922 he will round out a pretty sweet outer garden.

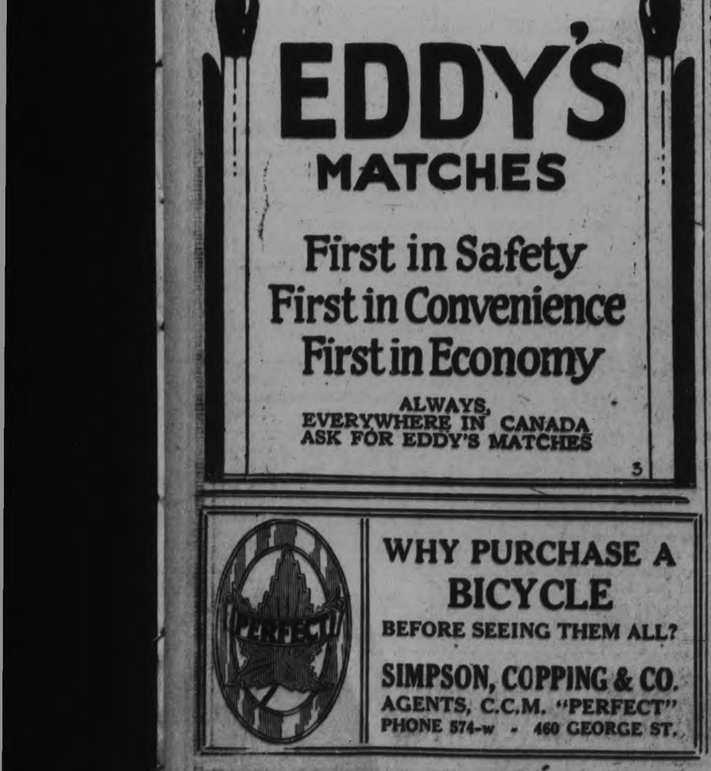
Bill "Lefty" Maguire, a nephew of the mayor of Toronto, will no doubt shoulder most of the pitching responsibility this year as last, but will be assisted by "Snakes" Hamilton, last year with the Beavers at Stanley Park. Hamilton is showing such good form in practice that Manager Henderson anticipates starting him against Peterboro next Saturday. Normy Curzon, who holds the strike out record in the now defunct City Amateur League, can also help out in the pitching if needed, and Harry Walker, a right-hander from the North Wellington League can be called on at any time. Leaside are strong in pitching this year, and that is the place where they were weak last season as they had no one to help Maguire out and for a yougster he was given too much work.

Hoose and Fraser Catchers.

Clare Hoose and Otis Fraser will look after the receiving end of the team. Hoose was with Leaside last year after he was reinstated on July 15 while Fraser is from Western Canada.

There are several others trying out for the team, and Manager Bill will have his work cut out for him when he starts weeding out. There is Bill Smith, an infielder, Breckenridge a pitcher; MacDonald an outfielder, and others who are unknown to the writer who will all be given a thorough trial before they are cut loose. Breckenridge is the pitcher who twice defeated Osler in practice games last year, when Buck Hughes' Patriotic Trophy holders visited Leaside, and with a little more experience will make a mighty good right hand pitcher. He has lots of stuff and can hit, and all he needs is experience.

Leaside should make a strong bid for the Central Ontario League honors this year and with an even break in the luck will be right up to the top of the heap from gong to gong. This team should be fostered and given every encouragement as the men behind the association they represent are good clean sports, and are developing athletics in a new district in a proper way and are trying hard not to antagonize any organization or club. Toronto baseball fans will be well repaid for their trips to Leaside this summer if the Leaside team can be taken as a criterion of the brand of ball teams that go to compose the Central Ontario League.



WILLARD BY KNOCKOUT IN 10 ROUNDS, SAYS Mc CARNEY.

Wilard Boxes With Sparring Partner.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., May 1.—"Jess Willard will knock Floyd Johnson out inside of 10 rounds" says Billy McCarney, famous fight manager, after looking over Willard in his training quarters here.

"Willard is in the best shape of his career. He is going to fight his way to another chance at Dempsey. Incidentally he will make the going much harder for Dempsey than he did at Toledo."

McCarney has the distinction of having picked Johnson to defeat Jeffries, Willard to defeat Johnson, Dempsey to beat Willard and Firpo to knock out Bill Brennan, as well as correctly forecasting many other big battles.

The only blemish on McCarney's record as a ring dopester is the strong boost he gave "Tut" Jackson prior to his fight with Harry Wills.

While he didn't pick Jackson to win, he said a lot of nice things about "Tut," who proved the champion "flivver" of all times.

TORONTO POUNDED WAY TO VICTORY

Kelly and Miller Each Hit For Circuit—Rochester Lost to Baltimore.

READING, May 1 (Canadian Press). — Eight pitchers were used in the Toronto-Reading struggle here yesterday, when the former clubbed out a 12 to 9 victory. Rain prevented Abbott and his men from pulling the scheduled double bill.

The ground was in no shape to play, but nine innings were battled, Kelly and Hack Miller starred with home runs. Score:

Baltimore 10, Rochester 5.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 1 (Canadian Press). — The Orioles took the second game of the series with Rochester yesterday, 10 to 5. The game was more or less ragged, but Parnham by good fortune pitched himself out of several bad holes, and the Birds hammered Lefty Keenan, Rochester's Ace, from the mound, to be succeeded by three recruits. Oshawa Will Boost Junior Lacrosse.

A juvenile school lacrosse league will be operated in Oshawa this summer according to an announcement made by an official of the intermediate lacrosse club last week. The league will be organized by the Oshawa Amateur Athletic Association. Thomas Henderson has offered a cup for the championship team to encourage the game. The lacrosse club have promised to supply experienced coaches for the youngsters and assist in every way possible to make the juvenile series a success. Juvenile lacrosse here is a new undertaking and probably the most important step that has ever been taken to develop players and to stimulate interest in the game.

EAST PETERBORO BASEBALL LOOP.

Clubs Will Meet at the Chamber of Commerce Next Thursday.

East Peterborough Baseball League clubs will meet at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening at eight o'clock to prepare for the season's championship race. It is hoped to enlarge the circuit this summer, and several new clubs may be added to the league. Norwood may return to the fold and Warsaw ball players are looking over available material with a view to joining the organization. All clubs interested are asked to attend the meeting at eight o'clock.

Oshawa's Team is Getting Warmed Up.

Oshawa is getting ready for the season and is evidently still counting on Dainty to occupy the hill for part of the season. The Oshawa Reformer has the following:

Saturday's warm weather was sufficient to attract a number of the more enthusiastic ball tossers to Alexandra Park and while there was not a great number out it was a good start for the season. If the warm weather has come to stay for any length of time the Central League squad will soon be getting down to business. Patton, Oshawa's reliable hurler for several seasons, has announced his intention of donning a uniform again. He and Harold Dainty will probably share the pitching honors between them, but it is said that a couple of other hurlers are available. The coming season looks to be the most promising in the history of the local club.

Other Central League clubs are not idle, according to reports from Lindsay, Leaside, Peterboro, Belleville, Kingston and Cobourg. Leaside has arranged to play an exhibition game in Peterboro a week from Saturday and Lindsay has completed arrangements to play in the Littlock City prior to the opening of the C.O.B.L. schedule.

This Week's Schedule For Riverside Park

The schedule for playing and practice games at Riverside Park for this week will be:

Tuesday—Central League, 5.15 to 6.30; Canadian General Electric, 6.30 to 7.30.

Wednesday—Central Ontario, 5.15 to 6.30; Lacrosse, 6.30 to 7.30.

Thursday—Examiner, 5.00 to 6.00; Western Clock vs Adanacs, 6 to 7.30.

Friday—Central Ontario, 5.15 to 6.15; St. Johns Church, 6.15 to 7.30.

Saturday—Leaside vs Peterboro, 3 p.m.

Any junior teams wishing to use the park should have their applications in the hands of the Grounds Committee not later than Friday.

DEMPSEY WILL DEFEND CROWN

Champion Will Meet Tom Gibbons at Shelby, Montana, on July 4.

CHICAGO, May 1, — (Canadian Press.) — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, will defend his title against Tom Gibbons, St. Paul challenger, at Shelby, Montana, on July 4, in a fifteen round bout to a decision, Loy Moulmby, State Commander of the Montana American Legion, announced last night.

Molumby said that an agreement was reached last night over long distance telephone with Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

All that remains to be done, Molumby said, is to sign the articles and select the referee.

Articles of agreement will be signed Wednesday or Thursday in either New York or Chicago, Molumby indicated.

While the agreement under which Dempsey will fight was not announced by Molumby, it was learned that the champion will be handed a certified check for $100,000 as soon as the articles are signed. It was intimated that Kearns had agreed to plan a providing for a guarantee for Dempsey with the privilege of a percentage of the gate.

Dempsey will meet Gibbons two years to a day after he last defended his crown, defeating Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, July 4, 1921.

Shelby, Montana, the site of the encounter, will prove a much different experience for Dempsey than the scenes of his previous fights since becoming champion. It is a town of less than 1,000 persons located in the midst of the Montana oil fields.

RANGERS SHOT UP BY THE GUNNERS

Victory Leaves Gunners With a Chance to Win the Club Title.

The Rangers trotted home with the small end of a 11 to 1 score last evening in the first game. The Gunners had the big end of the battle as well as the score. The game was fair except for the fifth innings when the Gunners broke out and nabbed six runs.

Sammy Calladine received poor support from his team mates. Piercy the Gunner's "gunner" had fourteen strike outs. He didn't get these so much by his good pitching but the Rangers left their batting eye on the piano with their fielding powers.

The lineups:

Rangers—Calladine, p; Venette, c; Grant, 1b; Hensby, 2b; C. Grant, 3b; Dwyer, rf; Varty, ss; Shevlin, ss; Thomas, lf.

Gunners—Ranger, c; Coursey, 3b; Wolffe, 2b; Piercy, p; Nichols, rf; Dundas, ss; Taylor, lf; Gilders, 3b; Williams, ss; spare, Simmons.

Score by innings:

MATHEWSON IS DOWN WITH COLD

Former Hurler and Boss of the Boston Braves is Again Under Medical Treatment.

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y., May 1.—(Canadian Press.)—Christy Mathewson, president of the Boston Braves, has returned here to undergo a thorough medical examination, it was learned yesterday. He is said to be suffering from fatigue and a bad cold.

Friends of the former star pitcher fear that the strain of his duties as president of a major league ball club has proven too much for his vitality. "Matty" underwent a long seige of treatment here for tuberculosis and made what was considered a remarkable recovery .During the past winter negotiations for the sale of the Boston Braves caused Mathewson to make several trips to Boston. It is thought that the damp climate of the Massachusetts city had a bad effect upon him. Although not seriously ill, he looks drawn and thinner than he did last fall.

Bolton Wanderers in House of Commons.

LONDON, May 1 (Canadian Press Cable). — Carrying the Association Cup which they won in Saturday's final at Wembley, and their be-ribboned mascot, the triumphant Bolton team were entertained at luncheon at the House of Commons restaurant yesterday by Sir William Edge, the National Liberal member for Bolton.

The party, which included former Premier Lloyd-George, T. J. McNamara, former Minister of Labour, and Jack Jones, member for Silvertown, was photographed on the terrace with Lloyd-George standing in the midst of the team.

At the luncheon Lloyd-George proposed the health of the team in a witty speech. He said that in order to make sure of one good clap when speaking at Manchester on Saturday afternoon, he had arranged to be supplied with the result of the Cup match, which he intended to announce to his audience, but owing to the late start of the game this arrangement miscarried.

Mr. Lloyd-George said the happenings at Wembley on Saturday were a triumph for British pluck, endurance, sportsmanship, and good temper.

The victorious team left Euston Station yesterday afternoon for Bolton, with a huge crowd present to cheer them on their way.

THREE—Does the calling af a balk ever affect the status of the batsman?

FOUR—If with runners on first and second and no one out, the batsman in attempting to bunt hits a fly ball to the infield. It is ruled an infield fly?

FIVE—Can base runners advance when a runner is called out for being hit by a batted ball?

Answers

ONE—It must be ruled a foul ball, not an infield fly. The fact the umpire once ruled it infield fly makes no difference. He must change his decision to foul ball in order to protect himself and be within the rules.

TWO—The proper batsman is substituted and he takes the count of two and two that was on the improper batter.

THREE—The calling of a balk in no way has anything to do with the batter.

FOUR—When the batter bunts a fly to the infield in an attempt to advance the runners, it is not regarded as an infield fly under such conditions.

FIVE—They do not advance except when forced to make room for the batsman.

WEMBLEY MATCH AIRED IN HOUSE

Tribute Paid to Good Nature of the Crowd and Heroic Efforts of Police to Keep Order.

LONDON, aMy 1. Canadian Press —Jack Jones, Labor member of the House of Commons for the Silverton division of West Ham, calling attention to the House yesterday to the incidents at Wembley during the football cup match between West Ham and Bolton on Saturday, provoked a heated duel between himself and O. E. Mosley, the Independent member for Wembley.

W. C. Bridgeman the Home Secretary promised the House a statement on Wednesday on the disorders of the big match, whereu. Mosley volleyed supplementary questions and referred to the "hooliganism of the imported crowds, the ineptitude of the British exhibition authorities and the defective police arrangements."

Jones angrily retorted: "But for the good humor of the crowd and the splendid conduct of the police, there would have been murder at the match."

Mosley was shouted down when he attempted to ask questions with reference to the matter. He subsequently explained that he had not intended to reflect upon the police, but he thought that the police force was insufficient at the Wembley gathering.

Home Secretary Bridgeman endorsed the tribute paid by Jones to the crowd's good humor and was cheered thereat. He declared that the rapidity with which 200,000 people were poured into the show area on Saturday amply demonstrated Wembley's accessibility to the public.

AUTO DRIVERS

sary, the man or boy racing behind is liable to run into the apparatus, endangering the men on the rear or breaking ladders and equipment which extends back from it. Many prominent citizens and others who drive everything from trucks to limousines, are in the habit of watching pretty girls on the sidewalk instead of attending to business, and collisions in other cities have been reported frequently from this cause.

Another handicap which happens quite frequently, is the blocking of railroad crossing. The railroad men are not very fast in clearing crossings for the firemen so they can proceed to a fire, and some time ago a dwelling in Hamilton was almost totally destroyed because the apparatus was held for a few minutes. Then there is the question of these "jay drivers," crowding their cars around the scene of a fire, hampering the work of the men, once they are on the job.

Have Right of Way.

In some cities the fire apparatus has no right-of-way over other vehicles, and evidently 90 per cent. of Peterboro motorists and vehicle owners think that Peterboro is likewise unprotected. They are wrong, for a by-law was passed, which says that all vehicles of the department shall have a clear right-of-way while proceeding to a fire or answering an alarm. All electric vehicles shall stop, and all vehicles of every description shall put over to the curb and stop until the fire apparatus passes, so as to avoid accidents and give a clear road to the department.

Yet it is safe to say that not one car owner in a hundred pays the slightest attention to this by-law. Some perhaps, are ignorant of it, while others deliberately laugh at it. This shouldn't be, and something must be done, and done quickly, to rectify this. Although there have been no serious accidents as yet, there have been enough minor crashes to impress upon the city the necessity of allowing the department unhampered progress. There is another by-law, which provides for the control of all traffic by the police department. Yet how often is a motorist summoned before the police court for infractions of the by-law covering the department's right of way?

Got No Assistance.

The situation is serious, and demands attention. It is not very long ago when the average right-minded citizen, who happened to be near the scene of a fire, would roll up his sleeves and turn in to help the men. Some would stop traffic from the side streets and do all in their power to assist the department in every way. This commendable attitude has disappeared. It seems as if everyone had adopted an "every man for himself" policy, and if the fire department drivers cannot thread their way with the huge trucks, through traffic, as easily as it could be done with a baby carriage, then they must face the issue alone. They get no assistance from any ,save a few real citizens who respect the department, and appreciate properly its work.

Action Needed.

At present there is a campaign under way to impress upon motorists the neecssity of obeying this law.

If some of the numbskull drivers were hailed into police court and given the maximum punishment for offenses like this, the practice would, in all probability, soon stop, but until such action is taken, there will be no improvement," said a fire official.

INTEREST IN THE GAME SATURDAY

Anouncement of Leaside Clash Arouses Local Fans

The announcement that the Leaside team is to play here on Saturday, meeting the Petes at Riverside park, has aroused the interest of the fans, and with favourable weather conditions, they will be out in flocks to see the opening clash of the season. Leaside have always been favourites here, and with their strengthened line-up and last year's stars in action, the motor crew will give Manager Jake Solomon's boys a real test in their opening tilt of the year. Micky Murray will be at third base for Leaside, with Dillon at first and Hoose, Maguire, Mahoney, Jones and other well known performers in the line-up.

The Peterborough line-up has not yet been announced, but Heckman is billed to start on the rubber, while Summerfeldt may also be seen in action on the firing line. Leo Comolli will likey be seen at first base, Shiner Johnston at second and Charlie Ansaldo at short, while Max Swanston will, of course, be behind the bat, but the definite line-up has not yet been decided. The Petes are slated for three practices this week and should be in good shape for the Leaside test.

The game is called for 3 o'clock, with last year's prices prevailing.

CLAIMS THE MAN ALONE DID THE SHOOTING

Mrs. Lassandra, Under Sentence of Death, Gives Version of Slaying.

FERNIE, B.C. May 1.—(Canadian Press.) — From death cell in Saskatchewan penitentiary, yesterday, Mrs. Florence Lassandra issued through her mother, Mrs. Vincenozo Constonze, her version of the murder of Provincial Constable Lawson at Coleman, Alta.

According to her confession, Elim Emilo Piccarillo, also under sentence of death for the murder, did the shooting with two guns, and that he set out from Fernie to avenge the shooting of his son by Constable Lawson. She insists that he was not armed and that Piccarillo after firing five shots from one revolver and two from the other handed her the second revolver and told her to keep it. She added that her husband, who was employed by Piccarillo, told her obth would be freed and that Piccarillo's financial resources would be at her disposal. She also claimed that she could produce evidence that Piccarillo alone did shooting.

Her Heart Skipped Every Third Beat

Mrs. James Burleigh, 248 King St. E., Chatham Ont., writes:—"I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat.

I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying my eldest brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; could sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for years.

When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me."

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

WM. FARNUM SCORES IN STRONG PICTURE.

"Without Compromise" is the title of the latest William Fox production starring William Farnum, the popular portrayer of screen heroes.

Judging from the reception accorded this splendid photoplay last night at the Royal Theatre, it fully meets the requirements of William Farnum admirers. To say that it merited the praise of the most captious seeker after dramatic suspence and thrills, is simply to do justice to a really splendid picture.

The locale is a frontier town of the North-West. As a two-fisted sheriff who maintains the morals of the community without resorting to his shooting-irons, Wm. Farnum has opportunities for displaying an intensive histrionic talent that places him in a niche all his own. No actor of the screen knows better than Wm. Farnum the enhancing value of the dramatic power of restraint.

An impression of real acting of a very life-like character, combined with a plot that is absolutely artificial, is the general impression derived from watching the picture, "Adam and Eva," with Marion Davies in the stellar role, at the Capitol Theatre. Miss Davies, who starred in "When Knighthood was in Flower," has a style that departs pleasingly from many of the time-worn traditions of the movie world. Her acting grows in favor with her audience, but the theme of the story of "Adam and Eva" is distinctly that of a fairy tale, with modern characters. The extravagance of his family irks old James King, a rubber magnate, and he departs to South Amercan forthwith, leaving Adam Smith in charge. Adam, played by T. Roy Barnes, a screen knight, who suffers from an unromantic nose profile, and hasn't the knack, evidently, of concealing his defect, promptly falls in love with the temperamental Eva King (Marion Davies), but comes to in time to declare her father bankrupt and allow the young lady to display her cleverness in the instantaneous success of a chicken farm which she adopts on the instant.

There is plenty of color and light in the picture, with its luxurious "Venetian fete" and fashion parade scenes, and a touch of human nature in the episode wherein the father is converted by mental suggestion from a sound healthiness to an invalid, suffering from incipient neuro-pneumonic metabolism."

The comedy is a Larry Semon episode, in the white-faced funmaker's best vein, with aeroplanes, exploding motors and tar-barrels as auxiliary touches.

ADMIRAL SIMS' SPEECH TAKES TIME OF COMMONS

LONDON, May 1. — (Canadian Press.) — The Government was questioned in the House of Commons yesterday regarding Rear Admiral Sims' speech at Los Angeles April 3, in which he was reported to have declared that there was no authentic record of atrocity having been perpetrated by commanders of German submarines, and that stories of such atrocities were nothing but propaganda.

Commander Monsel, Civil Lord of Admiralty, said he could not accept the statement that the stories mentioned were nothing but propaganda.

On the other hand, German submarine officers had behaved with as much humanity as possible, subject to their orders to sink vessels without warning.

GIVEN JUDGMENT AGAINST BROKER

Chas. S. Hetherington Awarded $1162.50 for Commissions on Sale of Stock.

Charles S. Hetherington was given judgment for $1162.50 with costs against H. J. N. Hastings, a New York broker, by Chief Justice Mulock this afternoon in the final case on the High Court docket. Plaintiff was actually awarded more than he first claimed, for his solicitor Mr. B D. Hall submitted an amendment, which His Lordship sanctioned, for $1200 instead of the original $825. Judgment was given for the full amount with a deduction of $37.50 which the plaintiff had received.

Mr. Hetherington's action was for agent's commissions on shares of stock in the Lever Production Spring Suspension Syndicate sold locally between June 1st and October 1st 1921.

Waiting in the Court

Mr. J. F. Strickland, solicitor for the defendant waited for two days expecting his client to put in an appearance from New York. It was the first case on the list, and was set down to the bottom yesterday afternoon at the request of Mr. Strickland who expected Mr. Hastings' arrival last night. He was still absent this morning, and enquiries at half past twelve this afternoon failed to locate him at the hotels or trace on him at Mr. Strickland's office.

In these circumstances it was decided to proceed with the case which was concluded shortly after one o'clock.

Chief Justice Mulock allowed the plaintiff's claim for every item of commission including charges against the stock that was assigned by the defendant to Hetherington and his brother.

Mr. Strickland argued that the agreement was for commissions on cash purchases of stock, but His Lordship held that the stock given to the plaintiff was in lieu of cash.

One of the sales of stock was to M. Carton to the amount of $18,000 upon which the commission at the rate of fifteen per cent was $2,700. The plaintiff received $1,500 in stock and his brother G. T. Hetherington $1,000 on that transaction leaving $200 cash still due as commission.

"I don't see why the plaintiff is not entitled to a commission on that stock," His Lordship said. 'It was the same as cash because it saved the company from paying cash to the plaintif for the sale of that $18,000 stock to Mr. Carton. I think the plaintiff's claim has been established."

This item for $200 was included with the rest. Mr. Hetherington was appointed exclusive agent in Canada for the company.

The apparent use of the word "part" as a synonym for "shares" perplexed Chief Justice Mulock when the action was being sketched to him by Mr. Hall. First he had Mr. Hall read the agreement by which the plaintiff was appointed, and then he read it himself, finally giving it up with the exclamation "Its beyond my comprehension."

"Who drew his?" he asked and when Mr. Strickland replied that the agreement had been drafted in New York, His Lordship remarked that the maker of it was beyond his reach.

Mr. Hetherington said he was engaged to sell shares or parts in the syndicate, and Mr. Strickland and Mr. Hall finally agreed to the definition of "part" of as a unit of $1,000 of the capital stock of $100,000 in brief the equivalent of one $1,000 share. Each share or part entitled the holder to one vote, and half a part to half a vote.

'How could there by half a vote?" commented His Lordship, "I never heard of such a silly thing."

He finally accepted the definition of the term "part" as agreed upon, carefully inscribed it in his memoranda and with that obstacle removed proceeded with the case.

WEDDING BELLS

BATKIN—EAMES.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening, when Elsie Maude, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eames of Dovercourt Road, Toronto, became the bride of Mr. Percy J., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Batkin of Vermont avenue.

The home was prettily decorated with palms and spring flowers, the bride standing beneath an archway of ferns and floral bells. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robbins. The bride who was given away by her father wore a becoming gown of white Canton crepe, draped with radium lace her veil of tulle was caught with a cornet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lillies of the valley.

Miss Vera Lennox made a pretty bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pink kitten's ear crepe draped with silver lace and carrying pink roses.

Miss Dorothy Pollard, the pretty little flower girl, carried a basket of sweet peas.

Mr. Ernest Batkin, brother of the groom was best man.

Mrs. G. D. Bland played the wedding march and during te signing of the register, Miss Florence Harrison of Peterboro, sang "Until". Mr. Earl H. Eames of Peterboro, brother of the bride was an usher.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a French hand bag and to the best man gold cuff links.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to about fifty friends and relatives. Later the happy couple left to spend their honeymoon in New York and Washington, D.C., and on their return will reside in Toronto.

ADVENTURE IN GERMANY TOLD FOR EXAMINER

Banks Charge Forty Per Cent. on Mortgages—Varying Opinions in Germany on Situation

TRUST IN GOD

By ERNEST M. HEMINGWAY
Special to The Examiner. Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.

MAINZ-KASTEL, May 2.—One hundred and twenty-five dollars in Germany today buys two million and a half marks.

A year ago it would have taken a motor lorry to haul this amount of money. Twenty thousand marks then made into packets of ten of the thick, heavy, hundred mark notes, filled your overcoat pockets and part of a suit case. Now the two million and a half fits easily into your pocket-book as twenty-five slim, crisp, 100,000 mark bills.

When I was a small boy I remember being very curious about millionaires and being finally told to shut me up that there was no such thing as a million dollars, there wouldn't be a room big enough to hold it, and that even if there was, a person counting them a dollar at a time would die before he finished. All of that I accepted as final.

The difficulty of spending a million dollars was further brought home to me by seeing a play in which a certain Brewster if he spent a million dollars foolishly was to receive six million from the will of some splendid uncle or other. Brewster, as I recall it, after insurmountable difficulties, finally conceived the idea of falling in love, at which the million disappeared almost at once only for poor Brewster to discover that his uncle was quite penniless, having died at the foundling's home or something of the sort, whereupon Brewster, realizing it was all for the best, went to work and eventually became president of the local chamber of commerce.

Such bulwarks of my early education have been shattered by the fact that in ten days in Germany, for living expenses alone, I have spent, with practically no effort at all, something over a million marks.

During this time I have only once stopped at a de luxe hotel. After a week in four class railway coaches, village inns, country and small town gasthofs, finishing with a seven-hour ride standing up in the packed corridor of a second class railway car, I decided that I would investigate how the profiteers lived.

On the great glass door of the Frankfurter Hof, was a black lettered sign, FRENCH AND BELGIANS NOT ADMITTED. At the desk the clerk told me a single room would be 51,000 marks "with taxes, of course, added." In the oriental lobby, out of big chairs, I could see heavy Jewish faces looking at me through blue cigar smoke. I registered as from Paris.

"We don't enforce that anti-French rule, of course," said the clerk very pleasantly.

Up in the room there was a list of the taxes. First, there was a 40 per cent. town tax, then 20 per cent. for service, then a charge of 8,000 marks for heating, then an announcement that the visitors who did not eat breakfast in the hotel would be charged 6,000 marks extra. There were some other charges. I stayed that night and half the next day. The bill was 145,000 marks.

In a little railway junction in Baden a girl porter put my two very heavy bags on to the train. I wanted to help her with them. She laughed at me. She had a tanned face, smooth, blonde hair and shoulders like an ox.

"How much?" I asked her.

"Fifty marks," she said.

At Mannheim a porter carried my bags from one track to another in the station. When I asked him how much, he demanded a thousand marks. The last porter I had seen had been the girl in Baden so I protested.

"A bottle of beer costs fifteen hundred marks here," he replied, "a glass of schnapps, twelve hundred."

That is the way the prices fluctuate all over Germany. It all depends on whether the prices went up to the top when the mark had its terrific fall last winter to around 70,000 to the dollar. If the prices went up they

HICKS CALLED RATTLESNAKE

Heated Controversy in Legislature Between Former U. F. O. Whip, Drury and E. J. Evans

TORONTO, May 2.—(Special)—Andrew Hicks, the U.F.O. member for South Huron in the legislature to-day gave the promised further installment of his "charges" against Premier Drury. The former Government Whip got his opportunity after the House had dismissed the report of the Educational committee, and his remarks were eagerly listened to.

At the outset he alluded to what happened in the Legislature about a fortnight ago and stated, whether it was necessary or not he gave his undertaking that he would not divulge any secrets. For that reason he was at a loss to know why the following evening when he was not in the house the Prime Minister deliberately challenged him to produce anything of conversations.

Premier Drury said, what he referred to was correspondence.

A Man to Hedge

Mr. Dewart exclaimed, "Oh, No," Mr. Hicks said if there was anything he desliked it was a man to hedge and he did not think such became a public man, especially when he was first minister.

The member for South Huron then went on to refer to the question of calling a caucus and said he was called up on the 'phone on one occasion by the Prime Minister, who remarked, "Say Hicks, I don't think you should send a notice to Mr. Casselman" He (Hicks) asked why and the Premier replied, 'I have felt there is a leak somewhere in our caucuss and I don't just know if I can trust this man Casselman" (laughter). "I said," continued Mr. Hicks, "I do not know any reason why Mr. Casselman should not receive a notice for his caucus if he is a government member, and as long as I am government whip, Mr. Casselman will have to receive his notice the same as other members."

Mr. Hicks then alluded to the particular caucus where, he said, the Prime Minister had intimated his wish to go to Ottawa, The Government members at once said they could not think of it and would not allow it. The result was that the Prime Minister stated that on account of the loyalty and support that had been given him from the members "I will not leave you at the present time, but will stay with you until after the next election, and in the meantime I desire that nothing shall be placed in my way that would hinder me from making that move any time and going there without any question being asked."

Mr. Hicks declared that some government members had even taken the matter up with their executive, to this extent that the Prime Minister wished to go to Ottawa.

Mr. Hicks declared the Prime Minister had laid the matter before members that he wished to go to Ottawa.

Premier Drury—"That's not true."

Mr. Dewart asked the member for South Huron what was meant by going to Ottawa.

Mr. Hicks: "To join the King cabinet."

J. A. Pinard and others—"That's a good place."

Mr. Hicks then asked the Premied to deny that there was such a caucus, and the Premier replied: 'I don't usually answer people who are so irresponsible to the sense of their obligations to their fellow members and to their word of honor (Government applause). "I apologise to the member for Dundas for my

PRIESTS WILL HOLD MEETING DISCUSS CODE

Purpose of Meeting is to Decide to What Extent Church Will Recognize the Reds.

500 GATHER

LONDON, May 2. — (Canadian Press.)— Priests of the Orthodox church are gathered in Moscow from all parts of Russia to participate in the All Russian Church Council scheduled to open to-day.

The purpose of the Council is to determine to what extent the church shall reorganize to make itself acceptable to the government. The gathering is dominated by a reformist group calling itself the "living church." Heretofore the Russian church has not been too friendly with communist principles in so much as the communist programme contains act clause denouncing religion.

But the "living church" group plans to have the Congress accept the Soviet code with the exception of that clause. It controls between seventy and eighty per cent. of the five hundred delegates and it is expected that it will prevail.

ASSOCIATES TOOK PART IN FUNERAL

Engineers and Ex-engineers at Funeral of William Thomas Elliott.

The funeral of the late William Thomas Elliott, veteran Grand Trunk engineer, took place from his late residence, 257 Stewart Street, on Monday, April 30.

The pall-bearers were all members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers from Lindsay, old workmates of the deceased. They were: Robert Wallace, Lewis Gordon, Harry Wilson, Thomas Wilkinson, Edward Higgs and George Nursey.

The funeral was very largely attended, and two car-loads of flowers attested to the popularity of the late Mr. Elliott, and the high esteem in which he was held by all who were associated with him.

Among the many engineers and ex-engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway who attended the funeral were many men who helped to make history in this section of Canada. Some of them came to the Grand Trunk from the old and now long extinct Toronto-Nipissing and the old Midland Railway. The majority of them worked under Mr. Hugel, who built the railroad through Peterborough to Waubaushene. At that time Midland was non-existent as a grain port, being in the possession of the Indians, who there made their last stand against the encroaching civilization.

At the present time Midland stands as the third largest revenue-producing station on the Canadian National Railway system lines.

The obituary notice of William Thomas Elliott omitted to state that T. C. Elliott of Peterborough, is a brother of the deceased.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH TO HOLD CHOIR CONCERT

The concert by St. Andrews' Church Choir to be given in the church, on Monday evening next, promises to be one of much interest

The choir will give several numbers among which will be Gounod's "Gallia" not given in Peterborough for many years. Miss Kathleen Gorrie will take the soprano solo work and will also contribute a group of songs. Mrs. Gerald McClelland, our popular reader will assist, The Imperial Male Quartette will give two numbers. Mr. Unitt and Mr. Crane will play the Second movement of Mendelssohn's G. Minor Concerto for piano and organ the program will also include solos, duets and trios by members of the choir. Tickets at 35 cents are in the hands of the choir.

POLICIES ARE SUBMITTED TO HIGHER COURT

United States Charged With Adopting Soviet Rule in Enforcing Liquor Laws.

DECISION REACHED

LONDON, May 2.—(Special.) — British steamship officials have submitted the United States' Supreme Court liquor ruling to the highest international lawyers for an opinion as how best to combat it. This decision was reached at a meeting of ship owners in Liverpool. Until this opinion is forthcoming it is expected no further action can be taken.

Four policies are being considered:

1. Make all British ships to North America, wholly dry.
2. Establishment of liquor depots outside the American three mile limit.
3. Run liquor ships west bound only.
4. Stop at Halifax to load and unload liquor.

The United States is charged with adopting Soviet rule in enforcing of the liquor decision, in an editorial in the Evening Standard.

"It involves a striking breach of recognized International courtesy," the newspaper states.

"It shows that an original absurdity becomes the fruitful parent of all sorts of minor absurdities."

All manner of views, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe" are aired in London morning newspapers in reference to United States Supreme courts liquor ruling, however grave and severe are most numerous, among facetious suggestions is one that Britain retaliate by placing ban on chewing gum and compel United States ships to dump their supply of this commodity in English channel, according to one legal view Britain is in hapless position and must help United States law in making best of it, however judging from statements published to-day it will be difficult to make shipping interests and travelling public accept such positions.

JOHN ISON ADMITS FIRING BUILDINGS

Private in Royal Canadian Regiment Terrorized London for 12 Months

LONDON, Ont., May 2.—(Canadian Press).—Arrested by mounted police a week ago on charge of having fired one of large frame buildings which make up quarters at trench barracks on Carlings heights Pte, John Ison of Royal Canadian Regiment has made confession in which he admits having caused practically all fires which terrorized London during past 12 months.

His list of admissions, included Old Abattoir plant in East London. Jubilee Rink, Sergeants Mill on King street east and other fires which occasioned total lose of close to $200,000.

Ison further admitted that he tried to set fire to St. Mathews Anglican church on Dundas street east, King street Presbyterian Church. He says he carried on his operations while driving taxi cabs.

FRANCE THREATENS TO DROP MEETINGS

ATHENS, May 2.—(United Press).—France is reported in a dispatch from Constantinople to have forwarded a note to Turkey threatening to withdraw from the Lausanne Peace Conference unless Kemalist troops are removed from the Syrian border. A decision recently was reached in Paris to send French troops into Syria to counter-balance the troop movement of the Turks. France has a mandate over Syria and expressed resentment at the military gesture of Turkey, it was said.

LIFE FOR LIFE ENDS TRAGEDY

In the Gloomy Dawn Man and Woman Expiate Their Crime on Scaffold This Morning.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alta., May 2.—(Special).—Within the high forbidding walls of the jail here, in the gloomy dawn, with low clouds scudding across a fretful morning sky, Mary Florence Lassandra, the first woman to be hung in Canada in twenty-four years, to-day followed Emilio Picariello to the scaffold. The sun had scarce risen above the horizon when the last chapter in Alberta's most fateful bootlegging tragedy had been written and the law was avenged for the slaying of its officer, Constable Steve Lawson, at Coleman last September.

Dawn had just begun faintly to illuminate the eastern sky when the little solemn group of jail officials approached the death cell where Picariello has lain for the past four months. The door clanged open to the prison for the last time. Preceded by Warden Griggs and Sheriff Rae, with three guards, and accompanied by Father Fidelis, Franciscan monk and priest of the little Parish Church here, Picariello walked with unfaltering step to the scaffold.

With Eyes Open.

As Hangman Wakefield stepped up to him to put the black cap on, Picariello growled: "Take that accursed thing away. I can face what's ahead with my eyes open."

It was explained that the law insisted that the black cap must be worn and the request was refused.

"You are hanging an innocent man, God help me," said Picariello, as he stepped upon the trap. It was then exactly fifteen minutes after five. Ten minutes later the body was removed.

The Woman Follows.

Mrs. Lassandra followed Picariello to the scaffold within the hour. It has been a series of tragic followings for Florence Lassandra. She followed Picariello into the lucrative by-paths of whiskey-running across the British Columbia border in the Crow's Nest. She followed Picariello into the death car when they made their mad rush of revenge into Coleman, that ended in the slaying of Constable Steve Lawson. She followed him into the hands of the law, and now she has followed him into eternity.

The little procession again formed up, this time with the matron as well as Father Fidelis accompanying the prisoner.

Night of Prayer.

Mrs. Lassandra had spent the night in prayer with the priest. She ate no breakfast, contrasting with the bacon and eggs, toast and coffee that Picariello ate with equanimity just before the death summons.

With firm step Florence Lassandra began the long walk from the women's building across the jail yard, and to the gateway to eternity. She faltered for an instant as the grim scaffold was reached. The liquid notes of a robin suddenly and startlingly poured into the gloom of the morning a draft of hope.

"Why do they hang me, when I didn't do anything," she asked the little group at the foot of the scaffold. "Is there no one here who has got any sympathy for me? I forgive everybody."

It was nine minutes to six when, the black cap and noose adjusted, Florence Lassandra plunged into eternity.

Eleven minutes later the body was removed.

Death Instantaneous.

In each case death was pronounced as practically instantaneous.

A request has been lodged with the jail authorities that the bodies be turned over to the relatives, through Father Fidelis, for burial in Blairmore.

The Italian colony there has been planning a demonstrative funeral.

The request has been referred to the Attorney-General. It is likely to be granted, with the proviso that burial be made in North Edmonton.

Last 24 Hours.

The last twenty-four hours of the life of the man and woman were spent alone, except for the presence at intervals of Father Fidelis.

The last good-byes were said to relatives on Monday evening, when Charles Lassandra kissed his wife a long farewell, and when young Steve Picariello, the indirect cause of the whole tragedy, visited his father. It was Steve that was shot in the hand by Constable Lawson during a bootlegging chase in the afternoon, and it was the report that his son Steve was shot that turned Picariello's

SUPERVISED PLAYGROUNDS THIS SUMMER

Board of Education is Arranging for Maintenance and Operation During Six Weeks.

CADET UNIFORMS

The Board of Education has definitely decided to arrange for supervision of playgrounds for six weeks during the coming summer, a task hitherto undertaken by the Playgrounds Association until the City Council of 1922 decided to cut off its customary grant toward maintenance. And it is understood that already a number of applications for the position of supervisor are to hand.

This decision was confirmed by the board last evening when in regular monthly session the following report, submitted by J. A. McKone for the Supervision Committee, was adopted:

"Your Supervision Committee beg to report and recommend that for six weeks during the summer vacation the playgrounds at the King Edward School, the Queen Mary School, the Central School and the Queen Alexandra School be supervised.

"That seven supervisors (male and female) be engaged for this period, their salaries to aggregate approximately $850.00.

"That your committee be authorized to engage the supervisors and to take the necessary steps to carry out the organization."

Last year the playgrounds did not function, but this summer, in accordance with the above resolution, they will be operated under direct supervision of the Board of Education.

To Purchase Property.

J. R. Corkery, solicitor for the Albion Knitting Co., notified the board that this company is prepared to exercise its option for purchase of the old West Ward School building they occupy when their lease expires on July 10, this year. These premises were originally leased by the board to R. Paul Parker for a knitting factory at a nominal rental with the option to purchase at the expiration of the lease for the sum of $3,000. Subsequently this lease was taken over by the Albion Knitting Co., who last night forwarded a cheque for $500 in evidence of good faith to purchase, and the board will arrange for sale of the property according to agreement.

Industrial Classes.

A report received from the Deputy Minister of Education on the recent inspection of industrial classes here revealed the roll to be about the same as last year and attendance fairly well maintained. The courses and instruction were eulogized as good and opinion offered that the interest in the new commercial classes justifies their organization.

Less Sickness.

Attendance Officer Abraham reported 10 children absent with measles last month and one with scarlet fever. There was only one truant, while irregulars numbered 10; these latter are attending regularly now. The Home and School Association furnished boots to four children whose absence from school was found to be due to lack of suitable footwear.

Ten applied for education under the Adolescent Act, and five coming under its provisions were granted working permits.

Dental Inspection.

Dental Officer Green reported on his work for April, when he had inspected the teeth of children in the King George and Queen Mary Schools. Of 351 little ones examined in the King George School 339 had defective teeth, while out of 580 inspected in the Queen Mary School 408 were found in the same category. Cards were sent to the parents of these teeth defectives notifying them that their children needed dental attention.

In discussion, it was made quite clear that that only the children of parents too poor to defray the cost of dental attendance would receive free treatment by the board's Dental Officer.

Mr. Wearing was curious to know what action the board would take in regard to parents who, while not poor, yet ignored the Dental Officer's insistence that their children's teeth be attended to. He did not think such treatment could be enforced.

Mr. Worth remarked that medical treatment was compulsory where absolutely necessary, but Mr. Wearing questioned the application by the board of compulsion in the case of dentistry, and his query is yet to be answered.

School Cadets.

The board was requested to advance the necessary funds to supplement those in hand for the cadet corps of the Queen Mary and Central Schools, with which to purchase uniforms. Principal R. F. Downey and O. M. Steer of the latter school were present to voice their request.

It appears that these cadets—some go in the Central School and about 75 in Queen Mary School—have no uniforms, while the Dominion Government gives a grant of $1 for each uniformed cadet. There is also

ANOTHER BOY STAR WITH A BIG SALARY

PARIS, May 2 — (United Press).—A new Douglas Fairbanks is to cavort on the screen. It's Doug., Junior, 14 years old, who sailed to-day for the United States to start his career in the movies.

"I'm going to specialize in the same kind of stunts as dad," he said. "I've been practicing acrobatics and watching Dad's pictures. I can do many of his stunts now, just as good."

Young Doug. said he had a contract with a Los Angeles outfit. He has been studying in Paris.

HARD COAL AT LOWEST LEVEL

Opinion Expressed Today That Price Will Ascend Some Time During the Summer.

Interrogated as to prospects for a further decrease in hard coal prices, which dropped during the first weeks in April from $16.50 to $16.00 per ton, local dealers were of the opinion to-day that this price will be the lowest level reached until such time as an increase takes place, which the majority consider quite likely later on in the summer, in view of the fact that existing agreements between the miners and operators in anthracite expire on the first of September next. The usual generous inflow of coal during the months of April and May is conspicuous this year by its absence, the dealers taking orders only on a "day to day" basis, and refusing requests for future shipments. From the line companies, whose prices are usually lower on account of their costs being free from brokers' and scalpers' costs, there is no adequate supply, and as the season advances towards the first of September, a tightening up in pirces and supplies is anticipated. It is not expected that the mines will be able to mine enough coal during the summer months to supply all demands for another winter, in case the miners should decide to strike in the fall, consequently the coal situation just now is somewhat of a puzzle. It is thought that the line companies are filling their reserves to guard against such a contingency next September.

Alberta Product.

Opinions as to Alberta coal are widely divergent. From one dealer comes the pronouncement that the whole idea of western coal is "a dream,, because it is only soft coal anyway, and we can get any amount of soft coal from the States. Pocahontas smokeless coal is far ahead of it, and we can get any quantity of that. I am told ,too, that the weather affects it and that it is so soft you can squash it up in your hand."

Another dealer declares that a few miles of freight hauling in the west causes the Alberta coa lto slacken up to a fine dust, "and what would it be like if we brought it this far?"

"No chance of competition with American coal," declares another man, while still another coal merchant asserts that there are fashions in coal as well as in anything else, that different people have different tastes in regard to their fuel, that substitutes for regular anthracite have never proven popular in the past, and that, if the dealers did stock up with the western product, the conservative-minded public would not back up their efforts.

Theories advanced by the majority of the dealers as to the disadvantages of the western product, in regard to its reputed refusal to stand up to weather and storage conditions, its supposed habit of reducing itself to an impalpable quality on long haulages, and the undeniable fact of prohibitive present freight rates, are all swept away, however, by the assertions of one local dealer, who might be considered as an authority in view of the fact that he sold coal for eight years in the city of Regina. This man contends that the only objection to Alberta coal is the high freight rate, which objection, he thinks, "if they would only try and do something about it," might also be eliminated.

Store Satisfactorily.

"It will store all right enough. I have put in storage as much as 135 cars of that coal in May or June and it would be in good shape for use in November or December. There is lots of difference in western coal. The real poor quality, the sort we used to sell for $4 a ton, will slacken down to a pretty poor condition, but the best western coal doesn't slacken.

When Pennsylvania coal was selling out there for $12.50 a ton, we would sell the best Alberta product for about $8.50, and there were plenty of people who wouldn't buy anything else. For a furnace, it isn't so good for an over-night fire, but, although it gives out more smoke, there are no clinkers from it. In a kitchen range, which is the way it is generally used out there, you can't beat it. It is clean, it will light up much quicker than wood, and you can check it down to burn slowly too."

If arrangements could be made to lower freight rates, and to bring in a quantity from the west during the summer months, this coal would prove a cheap and valuable addition to eastern fuel bins, in the opinion of its advocate.

PREPARE PLANS FOR ERECTION OF NEW SCHOOL

Education Board Will Also Notify Department of Decision to Construct Combination Building.

PREPARATORY COST

Preliminary steps looking forward to the projected construction of a combined building to afford increased accommodation for Collegiate Institute purposes, together with provision for technical education, were taken last night when the Board of Education passed a resolution for giving formal notice to the Education Department of such intention.

At the April meeting the board passed by a majority of one vote a resolution to erect this combined school, the cost of which it is estimated will be $450,000—the opposition claim nearer half a million — minus about $140,000 as a grant from the government toward the technical training portion of the building.

On motion by Mrs. W. R. Morris and J. A. McKone, the board's secretary was instructed to serve formal notice on the Department of Education that the board projected building a combined extension to the Collegiate Institute and Technical Training School.

Another motion by Mrs. Morris, seconded by Mr. Wearing, was in substance that F. P. Gavin, Assistant Director of the Technical Department of Education of Ontario, be asked to give his consideration to this new construction being erected on the property immediately adjacent to the P.C.I. and already owned by the Board of Education. This carried.

Talking to this latter motion Mrs. Morris said that while Mr. Gavin's opinion had been that it would be wiser to acquire the property west of the P. C. I. grounds, including seven houses facing Aylmer and McDonnel streets, she did not know that he would withold his endorsation of the project were that property not utilized. She strongly emphasized her opinion that an attempt should be made to induce him to change his mind regarding not building wholly on the present site.

Preparatory Cost.

It is understood that the building committee for this projected new structure will go ahead and have plans and specifications prepared before requesting the City Council to endorse the proposition. The fact was also learned this morning that these plans and specifications will cost the ratepayers for architect's fees in the neighborhood of $8,000 on a $450,000 estimate, whether the project is turned down by Council or not.

Amend the Act.

In view of the situation that either the City Council's consent, or that of the ratepayers by directly appealing to them, must be obtained before this proposed work can be proceeded with, the following document is pertinent and aims at giving wider powers to school boards regarding such expenditures:

That, in the opinion of the Urban Trustees' Association the Public Schools Act should be amended so that school boards or boards of education in urban municipalities would have authority to include in the annual estimates such sums as may be necessary for permanent improvements, including the purchase of school sites, erection of buildings or additions thereto, not to exceed 30 p.c. of the total yearly estimates, and further, that where additional accommodation is required, and a request for the issuing of debentures to provide for the same has been made to the Council, as provided in Section 43, sub-sections 1 and 2 of

GOVERNMENT VICTORY BY A LARGE MAJORITY ON BIG NAVAL PROJECT

Eleven Million Pounds to Be Spent on a Naval Base at Singapore--"Command All Seas."

VOTE WAS 253 TO 94.

LONDON, May 2. Canadian Press —The government had an easy parliamentary victory last night when the Right Honorable George Lambert's motion to reduce the naval vote as a protest against the expenditure of 11,000,000 pounds to complete the naval base at Singapore, was defeated in the House of Commons by 253 to 94.

"Command of all seas," the undeviating British naval policy, was the ideal set forth by Lieut. Colonel L. S. M. S. Amery, First Lord of the Admiralty, in defending the government policy.

"Command of the sea was what won the great war," said the first Lord. "But we do not possess such command. We are not in a position to-day, nor shall we be for many years to come, to put a battle fleet into the Pacific, or even as far as Singapore. In all these matters, with their immense consequences from a strategic viewpoint to the whole Empire, we are helpless and reliant on the good will of a friendly and lately allied power. But no self-respecting power can afford indefinitely to be dependent on another power for its security and even its existence."

That, Colonel Amery contended, was the justification for the government proposals. He entered into long detailed explanations, traversing the whole field of the Washington negotiations, and maintained that the Washington agreement did not preclude any other power building bases outside the regions defined in that agreement; it was clearly understood that Singapore stood outside the treaty.

There could be no suggestion of menace to Japan or any idea that Great Britain contemplated danger from or strained relations with Japan or any other great power. If there was any such idea Britain should not proceed so leisurely.

Regarding the genesis of the plan the first Lord explained that the creation of a base at Singapore had been the concern of the naval advisers ever since the late war, and as the Imperial Conference of 1921 had approved the Singapore scheme, it was needless to wait for another Imperial Conference. He disagreed with the idea that the battleship would become obsolete, contending that the basis of all the discussions at Washington, on which all the great naval staffs had been unanimous, was that the battleship would remain for as long a future as one could foresee the main strength and pivot of naval battle.

Colonel Amery gave details of the plans, showing that Singapore was to be made a very efficient base capable of holding the largest capital ships and fortified with guns against possible raids. In conclusion he said the plan was in no sense contrary to the spirit either of the League of Nations or the Washington treaty, but simply aimed at securing for the navy in its reduced strength free mobility in every sea of the world adequately to protect the Empire's interests.

Mr. Lambert, who was a Civil Lord of the Admiralty from 1905 to 1915, maintained that the Singapore scheme was "flouting the League of Nations;" that it was wrong to scatter instead of concentrate, the fleet, and that the new base would be a hostage to any possible enemy. He asked whether the scheme was not an attempt to get bhind the Washington treaty which forbad developments at Hong Kong, but did not forbid them at Singapore.

He characterized the scheme as "absolute madness", leaving vulnerable strategic establishments all over the world, while London was not guarded against aircraft attack.

The Labor member strongly denounced the scheme, arguing that it must be directed either against the United States or Canada, while the speakers for the government pointed out that the scheme was approved by the Imperial conference in 1921 and strongly recommended by committee on Imperial defence, and by both the late and present cabinets.

Bolton EyresMonsell, financial secretary to the admiralty, defending the scheme, contended that the Washington conference made this work increasingly necessary because under it, Great Britain was precluded from developing further at Hong Kong and had not a single dock in the Far East on British territory capable of receiving a capital ship.

The opponents of the government made a great play of the argument that a decade hence naval warfare might be so revolutionized that the capital ship would become obsolete and characterized the plan as a speculation and a gamble. Herbert H. Asquith expressed more measured doubts as to the expediency of the plan, which he viewed with grave apprehension on both financial and strategic grounds. He felt sure it would have been rejected by Lord Fisher, Sir Arthur Wilson or any great strategist he had known. He invited the government to give fuller information on the genesis of the scheme, and upon whose advice it had been undertaken.

Mr. Asquith remarked that the Anglo-American fleets could command the Atlantic without any base such as was now proposed at Singapore.

S. F. Derbyshire, opposing the scheme as an infringement of the spirit of the Washington treaty, thought that it would merely encourage the United States to follow suit and develop Pearl Harbor and Honolulu.

Carlyon Bellairs, supporting the scheme on the ground of its value in the event of an unfortunate difference with Japan, argued that Singapore might ultimately be useful to the United States in defending the Philippines, which she was not developing herself, It would be a good deterrent of war. Nobody supposed that Great Britain or the United States would seek war with Japan but nobody could be sure that the military party might not come to the front in Japan.

Reduction range from 25 cents per bottle on gin to 75 cents on champagne.

IMMIGRATION IS UP IN CONFERENCE

Ismet Pasha Insists That Turkey Must Be Given a Free Hand to Keep Out Undesirables.

LAUSANNE, May 2.—(Canadian Press).—The members of the Near East conference are agitated over the question whether Turkey will swing open her doors to immigrants or shut them tightly. This concern is caused by Turkey's interjection of the immigration question into the discussion of the status of foreigners in Turkey.

Nobody denies Turkey's right to make her own immigration laws, but countries like Italy, with a surplus population, and Greece, whose people have a traditional liking for the shores of Asia Minor, are anxious to know if Angora has decided to hold Turkey for the Turks.

The Allies wanted foreigners to have complete freedom to enter and stablish themselves in Turkey subject only to the same restrictions as apply to the Turks.

Ismet Pasha immediately raised the point that this might interfere with Turkey's right to regulate immigration. The Allies replied that they had no intention of limiting Turkey's authority to determine immigration, but felt justified in asking what Turkey intended to do about immigration and if she contemplates preventing mass immigration like the United States, with the quota system.

The Allies contended that there was not much use in spending weeks laying down regulations for foreigners if Turkey intended to shut the doors against immigrants. Ismet answered that such was not Angora's idea, but Turkey wanted the right like other states to keep out undesirables.

A drafting committee will endeavor to write a satisfactory clause covering this subject.

GUSTAV KRUPP UNDER ARREST BY THE FRENCH

President of Krupp Firm and Three Directors Are Taken Into Custody on Charges Arising From Riot.

TRIAL FRIDAY.

ESSEN, May 2 (Canadian Press), —In the jail at Werden, not far from the Villa Hugel, the home of the famous Krupp family, Dr. Gustav von Bohlen und Halbach, president of the Krupp works, last night was a prisoner of the French occupation authorities. He was taken into custody yesterday by the French on charges brought against him by the riots at the Krupp plant here on 31st March, when fourteen Germans were killed and a large number wounded by the French troops.

Dr. von Bohlen has as companions in the jail three directors of the Krupp works, Dr. Bruhn, chairman of the board, and Herr Oesterlin and Herr Hartwig, who have been incarcerated since they were arrested on Easter morning, the day after the shooting.

Von Bohlen and his associates are charged not only with violating the Decree 22, conviction under which will entail terms of imprisonment of from ten years to life, and the possibility of a death sentence, together with a fine of 100,000,000 marks, but also are accused of violation of the first decree General Degoutte issued when he entered the Ruhr, regarding the maintenance of order. This latter decree provides for imprisonment up to five years, and a fine of 10,000,000 marks.

Colonel Peyronel, commander of the artillery of the 77th French Division, will preside over the Court-martial which is to try the prisoners.

Captain Duvert has been appointed chief prosecutor, while counsel for the defence will include Dr. Grimm, the German attorney who defended Fritz Thyssen, the industrialist, at the Mayence Court-martial; M. Moriaud, a Swiss lawyer, and Dr. Wolfe, of Berlin.

The French authorities have announced that the trial will begin at Werden at nine o'clock on Friday morning, and that the case will be ended and sentences imposed by Friday night.

LEGISLATION NOT REPLACE VALUES

U. S. Congressman Spoke at Annual Banquet of St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. May 2. —(Canadian Press) — "Values destroyed during the war cannot be replaced in other manner than by labor on raw material or the discovery of vast deposits of formerly unknown wealth an dthe attempt to replace them by legislation only lessens the values left," declared Hon. James Begg, of Sandusky, Ohio., Congressman and assistant Republican whip at Washington, at the annual banquet of the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce, last night.

"Every nation including Canada and the United States has experimented with legislation to replace destroyed values and must pay the price," he declared.

"When a nation is at war the individual surrenders his own rights to the government as a matter of national welfare. Even our most treasured possessions, our boys, we surrender to the government. The greatest difficulty in the way of readjustment is to again get the individual and the community to accept the responsibility for their own thinking and welfare. If you can accomplish that you have converted 20,000 leaners on the government to 20,000 supporters of the nation. He held that the Chamber of Commerce as the channel for bringing out willingness to return to the responsibility in communities in both nations. There was not a single teaching in clubs or fraternal organizations that would not make for better citizenship if lived up to, but they are selective against partisans. Politicians never did a thing for a city in the world except split it wideopen and make it less fit to live in.

DRURY SUSTAINED BY SMALLEST MAJORITY OF THIS PARLIAMENT

Division Caused By the Second Reading of a Bill Introduced to Amend the Adolescent Act.

BLUE SKY LAW.

TORONTO May 2.— (Canadian Press.)— With Liberals, Conservatives and Independents voting practically solidly against them, the Drury Government was sustained yesterday afternoon by the narrowest majority in this parliament. The vote was 37 to 32 a majority of five for the government. The division was on second reading of a bill which provides exemption with conditions from the adolescent school attendance act for children in rural school sections. The opposition wanted it minus the conditions and that the act should not apply at all in any rural section. Hon. Mr. Grant, Minister of Eductaion, refused to modify the clause and the House divided. J. W. Curry, Lib. Toronto and W. F. Nickle (Con. Kingston) voted with the government, Andrew Hicks (South Huron), Leslie Oke (East Lambton) and J .Cridland (South Norfolk) on the government side voted against the Government. Several members on the government side who were in when the question was put were out when the formal division took place.

The bill as introduced by Mr. Grant and sustained on second reading, provides: That the obligations of the act shall not apply to any adolescent wohse parents or guardians reside in a rural school section and whose services are required in the household or one the farm of his parents or guardians provided that such adolescent has completed the course of study of the public or separate schools to the extent that instructions in this course is given in the section in which his parents or guardians reside, or has been in regular attendance at the school for at least three months during the year."

The Minister refused to accept the suggestion from the opposition that all the world including and after the word "provided" be struck out.

The amendment developed because W. H. Casselman (Dundas) some weeks ago withdrew a bill proposing that rural sections be exempt from the act on the understanding that the Minister would bring in an amendment containing his suggestions. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson said the bill was not the same as that which had been promised to Mr. Casselman. R. L. Brackin (West Kent) said the conditions in the clause made it much different from the legislation promised when Mr. Casselman said he had informed the Minister that the new legislation would not satisfy him. He declared that 80 per cent. of the electors were opposed to "this fool act."

Mr. Grant said that only a few in rural sections had not completed their Public school educations at 14 years of age and that was all required in the amendment. If they had not then only three months a year was required. He thought the bill moderate and reasonable. He was asked point blank if he would withdraw the conditions and exempt rural sections from the act and replied that he would not consent. Charles Swayze (Niagara Falls) opposed any change in the act as a backward step.

The House gave first reading to a bill making minor changes in the election act for the better guidance of returning officers. There is no change in principle in the act. Second reading was given a bill amalgamating the two registrary offices in Toronto. The Blue Sky Law went through committee and is now ready for third reading. Charles McCrea (Sudbury) asked that the act not come into force until 1924, but Mr. Raney insisted the bill remain as it was, bringing it into effect on September 1 of this year.

RIOTS IN PARIS MARKED CLOSE OF QUIET DAY

Scores Injured and One Policeman Not Expected to Live as the Result of May Day Celebrations.

STABBED IN BACK.

PARIS, May 2 (Canadian Press). —Rioting, in which scores of persons were injured and one policeman was possibly mortally wounded, marked the close last evening of the quietest May Day Paris has seen in years.

The police, after having experienced a peaceful day in beautiful spring-like weather, last veening were called into action in the heart of the Communist district where disorder arose.

Time and again they charged into the swirling masses of demonstrators and it was fully half an hour before aided by reserves who closed in from all directions, they were able to beat back the mob and clear the thoroughfares.

Two other demonstrations, both, however, of less magnitude, occurred about the same time in Versailles, where a half-dozen police who attempted to make arrests were met with showers of stones and finally had to retire from the scene.

There was still another disturbance in St. Denis, where in a general melee a policeman was badly beaten, and in connection with which a city councillor was arrested.

The Paris riot occurred after a noisy, but reasonably orderly meeting at labour headquarters in the workingmen's quarters. When the crowd came out of the meeting place squads of mounted, foot ,and bicycle policemen steered the people toward the big open Place du Combat.

On the way the throng met four bicycle policemen, and surrounded and began to abuse them. Bottles, stones, and other missiles then came sailing from windows on both sides of the street on the encircled policemen, and as the crowd closed in with a rush one of the policemen was badly stabbed in the back, the blade of the knife penetrating his lung.

The comrades of the wounded policeman fought hard meanwhile signalling for aid, and scores of bluecoats soon came charging down the street and effected their release.

The spirit of fight spread throughout the district, and the massed forces of policemen had a hard time pounding a lane through the mob. Man after man dropped out, badly beaten or cut, until the casualty list totalled about thirty, with scores of others nursing small injuries.

Four Red Flags Were Seized in Montreal

MONTREAL, May 2.— (Canadian Press).—Four red flags were taken away from the parading May Day demonstrators here yesterday when the annual procession of the radicals was held. There was no trouble about it, the flags were simply handed to the police captain in charge of the squad watching the procession. Disorders were markedly absent and the speeches were heard quietly by a crowd estimated at about 500 people.

MORE WOMEN WILL BE AIDED TO COME HERE

Male Immigrants Greatly Outnumber the Females--Efforts Will Be Made to Send More Women.

SOME DIFFICULTIES.

LONDON, May 2.—(Canadian Press Cable) — In the House of Commons yesterady a member called attention to the fact that out of 320 emigrants from Stornoway to Canada recently only 20 were women and he asked whether arrangements could not be made to send a more equal number of men and women.

Col. A. Buckley, secretary to the overseas trade department, in replp emphasized that the overseas trade department in reply emphasized that the overseas settlement committee were fully alive to the importance of female migration but there were special difficulties attached. He gave assurance that every effort has been a nd would be made to increase the number of women emigrants.

In reply to another questioner who asked was it fair to send three hundred of the best men from the island of Lewis and leave all the girls forlorn behind, the speaker said that the questioner was the best judge of that.

A labor member called attention to a statement made in the Canadian federal parliament in regard to male and female immigrants and suggested reducing the number of male emigrants to a number more in line with the number of female emigrants. Another member asked would the government give an indication that any woman desiring to go to Canada to marry one of these emigrants when he is established there would be given first consideration in regard to passage money. Col. Buckley replied: "Certainly."

TO COMBAT MENACE OF RACE TRACK GAMBLING

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(Canadian Press).—The Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church in its publication assails what it calls, the menace of race track gambling," and declares that since 1918 "demoralization due to the war resulted in the re-opening of thirteen Canadian tracks and return to a life of race track gambling throughout the United States, Mexico and Canada." It is charged that New York city and the Canadian Racing Association are chiefly responsible.

Keen Competition For Immigrants.

LONDON, May 2. — (Canadian Press Cable.)—Keen competition is arising among the steamship companies over the Scottish emigration traffic. A total of 2,300 emigrants left Scottish ports for Canada and the United States in the past week end and the number of emigrants departing the coming week will be as large. One liner also called at Belfast and took 250 aboard for Canada.

Several of the steamship lines are putting new ships on this service.

Several of the United States owe Great Britain sums of money amounting to $60,000,000 in all; these debts were contracted from 40 to 70 years ago.

Bon Ami

Makes nickel shine like polished silver—

THERE'S nothing like BON AMI for cleaning modern plumbing fixtures of polished nickel.

If you look very closely at some nickel fixtures you will find that they are covered with many little scratches. Those scratches make them dull and hard to clean the next time.

Use Bon Ami and your nickel fixtures will stay unscratched and always easy to clean. Bon Ami is made of a soft material and will not scratch. It is the only cleaner which has a real polishing quality.

Bon Ami also cleans windows, mirrors, white paint, bathtubs, aluminium, kitchenware—everything that is expected to shine.

OWEN SOUND'S PLAN.

In an effort to further beautify their picturesque town, the Parks Commission and the Civic Improvement Committee of the Owen Sound Board of Trade have combined to furnish hard young maple trees to any householder who desires them.

The trees are to be supplied free of cost, the only condition being that the householders must see that the trees are planted.

This is a movement that promises fruitful results, and Owen Sound is to be congratulated upon the progressiveness shown by its public bodies.

It is presumed, of course, that there will be a supervision over the tree planting and some system followed.

Peterborough has had frequent opportunities to see the ill-effects of planting trees too close together. On many of the local streets shade trees were planted with reckless prodigality, with the result that they were too close to each other to have a proper from the U. F. O., hearing the sinking ship, as it

As a result, much thinning out has been necessary, and some of it was done too late to be of much service.

But it is better to have too many trees than not enough and the Owen Sound plan is to be commended for the proof it gives of civic pride and a sense of the beautiful.

A CALLOUS DRIVER.

The report of a traffic accident in Peterborough in which a motorist who collided with a cyclist and injured the latter drove rapidly away without even stopping to see whether or not his victim was hurt, prompts the suggestion that such callous drivers should be punished to the fullest extent of the law if their identity can be established.

No matter how carefully he may operate his car, any motorist is liable to be involved in an accident, but only a coward will deliberately drive away from the scene without an inquiry as to the fate of the other party in the mishap.

The penalty for such conduct should be severe enough to reduce behaviour of that kind to a minimum.

Peterborough, fortunately, is not infested with many drivers of that kind.

There are doubtless too many reckless motorists, but in the vast majority of accidents reported the drivers at fault have had sand enough to remain on the scene and do what they could to repair the damage caused by their carelessness, or to render aid to those who may have been hurt.

Drivers who knock a man over and speed away leaving their victim lying on the road deserve the extreme penalty that the law provides for such offences, and citizens generally can be counted upon to do all in their power to see offenders of that calibre haled into court.

THE BURDEN OF TAXES.

No wonder there are demands for taxation conferences and complaints from all sections of Canada that the tax burden is a handicap to business and a hardship upon individuals.

Manitoba is forcing the pace.

The introduction of a Provincial income tax providing for a tax ranging from one per cent. on taxable incomes of $1,000 to seven per cent. on incomes of $13,000 or over throws an additional burden upon the shoulders of the people of the Prairie Province.

That means that a Manitoba citizen pays an income tax to the Dominion Government, another to the municipality and a third to the Province.

And, in addition, he at various times has to pay a sales tax, a tariff tax, excise taxes, stamp tax, cheque taxes and a tax on receipts.

Ontario seems to be fast drifting in the same direction as Manitoba.

The present administration has exhausted almost every other channel of revenue, and if the orgy of expenditure were to be allowed to continue for another three or four years the paying of a Provincial income tax in Ontario would have to be accepted as philosophically as possible.

This is one of the points that the electors of the Province should consider in casting their votes in June.

The Government now in power was formed by a party whose first plank was retrenchment, whose chief criticism of previous administrations was on the ground of extravagance.

Check up the expenditure of the last year of the Drury regime with the record before the advent of the Farmers into power, and there will be something to ponder over between now and election day.

ANOTHER ONE-PAPER CITY.

The casualties among Ontario newspapers continue to increase and the number of cities now served by one newspaper where two or three were in existence a few years ago grows correspondingly greater.

Stratford is the latest addition to the list.

The well-known dailies, the Stratford Daily Herald and the Stratford Daily Beacon, ceased publication as individual papers with yesterday's issue.

Today a new journal, to be known as the Stratford Beacon-Herald, makes its initial appearance as a result of the amalgamation of the two papers by W. J. Taylor.

The list of one-paper cities in the Province now consists of Chatham, Brantford, Stratford, Kitchener, Galt, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Peterborough, St. Thomas, Sarnia and Windsor.

The passing of so many newspapers is a sign of the times and reflects the ever-increasing cost of the production of a modern paper.

In the smaller centres the dropping out of many well-known journals was inevitable. Amalgamation with the opposition or suspending publication were the only alternatives that the rapidly growing overhead involved in the newspaper business as it exists today left to many journalistic enterprises.

The mortality in weekly papers has been almost as great. The amalgamation of the two Stirling weeklies a short time ago was a duplication of a process that has been going on all over the Province.

A complete list of the newspapers that have passed away in the past four or five years would contain the names of many widely known journals, which have been forced out of business by the peculiar conditions that have arisen.

WEARY OF THE GOSPEL IN JAZZ.

Dr. Lorne A. Pierce, literary adviser to the Methodist Book Room, in an article under his name has something to say to the preacher of today who is attempting to compete with the week-end attractions of the world. Likewise he singles out what he calls the "jazz gospel songs," and says people are weary of them, says the London Advertiser.

No occupant of a pulpit is going to resent fair criticism of methods employed in churches, and Dr. Pierce has cast his arrow in a direction that is vulnerable. He does not like "jazz gospel songs," and when he states his belief in that line he will find that he is speaking of a great company of people who are heartily sick of much of the new type of gospel songs. In some cases tuned us to old popular songs are taken and use with sacred words; in others the words and music are new and as weird as they are new. There is grave doubt if much of it is written by consecrated men and women who see in a song an opportunity for an outward expression of an inward affection.

It may be that we are not living in the age when there are great sacred song writers, or perhaps the present generation is so wedded to the old songs that they refuse to recognize what scant amount of merit may creep into some of the old ones. But it is a fact that the old songs are built right into the very soul of the people. If you doubt it, do a little observing. Watch the average congregation when the organist hits off on a new hymn that they may be strong in technical possibilities for the organist, but mighty confusing to the layman in the pew, and the success or failure of a hymn depends on the latter class.

The one beauty about much of the "jazz music" of which Dr. Pierce complains is that it will pass away quickly. It is of the tin pan sort, and has not the constitution to live long.

REPLACE FOREST FIRES BY INDUSTRY.

Lumbering and the wood-using industries have from earliest times been a strong feature of Canada's industrial and commercial life, but it has only been quite recently that we have had our eyes really opened to the potency of our forests, particularly of pulpwood species, as a magnet to capital and as a source of business expansion, says the Ottawa Journal.

We have had in late years somewhat the same experience with our Eastern Canadian pulpwood areas as we had a few years earlier with our prairie lands. Both were great national assets which lay dormant for decades and, when development finally reached them, it proceeded in each case with startling rapidity. Likewise in both instances it rested upon export trade—upon hungry markets abroad. In the settlement of Western Canada, however, we had to start the ball rolling ourselves, whereas business enterprise turned its full attention upon our eastern pulpwood resources pretty much of its own initiative. We did not have to exert ourselves very greatly to attract the latter development, and the commercial conditions behind it exhibit little or no evidence that they have yet spent themselves as a force in drawing Canada's forest resources into active use.

Our present trade in wood and paper is not wholly on the selling side, but it is overwhelmingly so. Lumber, shingles, and other saw-timber products constitute a heavy item in the exports, but the chief factor in the remarkable growth of exports has been the rise of the pulp and paper industry. Pulpwood, wood pulp, and paper exports now surpass the exports of lumber by a very considerable margin.

There is every reason to believe that for the immediate future the further advance of the industries built upon forest products offers one of the most promising avenues of Canadian development. In the matter of ripeness for development our forests are certainly not in the background as compared with arable lands or any other natural resources. It is true also that there is a limit to the annual cut which they can permanently support, but there can be nothing except satisfaction in seeing industry displace the forest fire as the chief consumer of our pulpwood and saw-timber species.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Interest has been transferred from the Legislature to the constituency conventions. No one seems to care how soon the Queen's Park talkfest winds up.

The Minister of Highways denies the report that the Deputy Minister is going to Spain to lecture on Ontario's road system. There will, however, be plenty of lecturing on that subject when the campaign gets under way.

Congratulations are due Miss Agnes Logan and Miss Mathilde Masson on their success in the Ontario musical competition. They are doing their share in putting Peterborough on the musical map.

The Red Cross demonstrates its usefulness in peace as well as in war. The taking over of the hospital at Cochrane by the Ontario branch is a proof.

One of the planks in the Labour platform is the abolition of the Senate. That will have little effect in an Ontario campaign.

Hon. Walter Rollo is being accused of playing politics. Why shouldn't he just now with an election on?

London Labour party are considering cutting loose from the U. F. O., leaving the sinking ship, as it were?

Rumours persist that West Peterborough is to have a four-cornered contest in the Provincial election. The report that the Farmers intend to nominate a candidate will not down.

An American Astronomical expert says the heat of the sun is diminishing. Canadians would like to see Old Sol for a week or so to find out if the change is correct.

It is to be hoped the movie operators did not fail to get a close up of the reconciliation of Premier Drury and Mr. J. J. Morrison.

SOVIET RESENTS POLICE METHODS

LAUSANNE, May 1 (United Press). — The Allies, already harrassed by the developments in the Near East, may have to take time to deal with Russia.

The Soviet Government, through its Rome representative Vorovsky, the Russian "observer" at Lausanne, issued a protest on Monday against Moscow's exclusion from the renewed Near East peace conference.

Vorovsky declares the Soviets reject the Allied ultimatum, which would admit them only for signing the Bosphorus Srtaits agreement.

Saying the Swiss Legation at Berlin refuses to visia the passport of a Government courier from Moscow to Lausanne, Vorovsky asserted the Allies are resorting to "police methods" in barring the Russians.

FIND TREASURE SHIP.

TUNIS, May 2 (United Press).—American scientists engaged in research work in Tunisia have located, off the coast, the wreck of the treasure ship of the Roman Army which invaded the ancient Carthage in the second Punic War, two centuries before Christ.

It is believed that the gold and silver which sank with the ship represent many millions of dollars.

The expedition was financed primarily for exploration on the site of the primeval African city.

A formal agreement between the United States Government and the Tunisian authorities was drawn up and signed. The searchers have already unearthed two buried temples, one of which was undoubtedly dedicated to Baal, one of the Carthaginian deities.

FRENCH INTEND HAVING REPUBLIC PROCLAIMED

BERLIN, May 1 (United Press). —Delivery of the German note to France, offering a basic payment of thirty billion gold marks and guaranteeing France against future German aggression, has been delayed until Wednesday or Thursday, it was learned to-day.

Such action on the part of the French would bring to a culmination the agitation in process of growth since the end of the war.

The agitation has been in full swing since the French and Belgian defaults on reparations payments.

LETTER DETAILING EVENTS IN CHINA.

Miss Greta Clark, Missionary at Kaifeng, Sends Home Report For Year.

OMEMEE, May 2.—Through the kindness of an Omemee lady the Examiner publishes the following letter from Miss Greta Clark, a missionary in Kaifeng, but formerly a school teacher here, where she made many warm friends who are always delighted to hear from her.

Annual Report.

The year, that has passed since writing my last report, has been an exceedingly interesting one. Kaifeng has been as it were, a stage on which there were acted thrilling scenes that will be recorded in the history of the city. First General Chao gave place to the Christian General, Feng Yu Hsiang, and we watched Kaifeng put on a new mantle. The streets became orderly, beggars and blind were sheltered, fed, clothed and taught Christian doctrine; soldiers sang hymns as they marched but only six months later our leader was moved and we live again under the old regime and see our city under the filth and poverty that before seemed only chine but now seem cruel and unnecessary.

We too, have seen the growth of the chruch, the consecration of the new church buildings, the ordination of deacons, formation of diocesan synod, and opening of a catechitical school beside the usual baptisms and confirmation.

Owing to ill health, I was obliged to give up school work early in May. The doctor advised me to leave the school so I lived with the Napier Smiths and was there during the war. I went to Peking in June, was in the new Rockfeller Hospital for two weeks and later went to Peitaiho, where I spent two months and came back to St. Mary's in September, feeling quite well again.

Language Exams.

I have taken two language examinations this year so am working now at my last one and hope to take it in another month or more. I have much the same work in the school as the previous two years, so there is nothing special of interest to report in that line.

Chinese New Year is China's annual Sabbath day, all work is stopped; the people don their best clothes and call on their friends making very polite bows, and expressing their New Year's greetings. Sufficient food is prepared previous to the holiday to last a couple of weeks and the people have more leisure than at any other time in the year. This is the church's opportunity and special evangelistic meetings are held throughout the whole land. Mr. and Mrs. Trivett invited me to go to Sui Chou last year at this time, and Miss Sua, one of St. Mary's teachers went with me. We travelled by train to Li Pa Chi, where Mr. Trivett met us with a mule cart, and we soon started across country about sixty Chinese miles, and only those who have taken long journeys in these carts, know how very uncomfortable they are. We walked a great deal of the way and arrived in Sui Chou about five in the afternoon.

Dear Bible Woman.

Mrs. Trivett had invited the dear old Bible woman, Mrs. Chin, who is over seventy, the catechists' wife and another helper to meet us that evening and we talked over plans for the meetings and had prayer together. We had over eighty women at the meeting the next morning, very few of whom had studied Christianity. We took turns explaining Bible pictures or teaching the women to sing and they were very much surprised that they could understand me. We went to the church in the mornings early, and each worker took a little group and tried to interest these illiterate women in reading, this too was a better opportunity for personal work. Mr. Trivett used his lantern and showed Bible pictures in the afternoon when great crowds gathered to see and hear. We had big meetings at eleven and again at five in the afternoon each day and some stayed on between the meetings to hear more. We stayed five days.

Mrs. Trivett has a class for women each Thursday and Sunday School for children on Sunday afternoon. It is difficult for the girls to attend classes since it is not proper for them to be on the streets, but the Bible woman and other helpers toddle about on their tiny bound feet to gather them together in time for class.

Special meetings, such as we held, interest the women in Christianity but Christ alone is able to give them power to break away from false gods and heathen superstitions and they require months of teaching that they may really understand and love Jesus as their Saviour and Lord. In this way, we have greater opportunity in the schools, where the students have daily instruction. This year I have a class on Sunday morning for the girls who have come to school for the first time this term and it is a great joy indeed to feel that one has a share in guiding them into the way of truth and light and life.

Last Word.

Christmas has come and gone since writing my report, so I must add a few line. W have had a very, very happy Christmas. I thank you all so much for remembering me so generously. I received many, many lovely things to read, to wear, to look at, to use and things to eat. You can picture Miss Robbins, Miss McIntosh, Miss Watts, Miss Jenkins and myself seated about a grate fire opening our parcels and enjoying them together; that was Saturday evening, for Christmas day we never have time to think of our own joys, we are too busy with the Chinese.

Christmas morning we had a celebration of Holy Communion over in St. Andrews chapel and after breakfast lighted the Christmas tree and the teachers and children received their gifts. The W.A. sent us a great many lovely home knitted woollen scarfs this year and the girls just love them. While the gifts were being distributed, I had to take a girl over to the hospital and when I came back one of the teachers ran and put her arms about me and said: "How did you know I would love this gift and this special color?" (a red scarf). Each girl received a handkerchief and a small bag of Chinese candy as well. Later, Miss Robbins and Miss McIntosh had other duties and I prepared the tree again for our Day School children and kindergarten. We had a little service with them. First talked about Christmas, sang some hymns and I told him the story of "The Little Gray Lamb" a Chirstmas story, then each received their gifts—rubber balls, or picture books or lead pencils, etc. Each handkerchief of course, (we encourage the use of these articles) and a little bag of candy.

In the evening all the mission family gathered at Bishop White's where we had a perfectly delightful evening. Mrs. White is a wonderful hostess and had a real Christmas supper and we played games after. I hope you all had a very happy Christmas and that 1923 holds very special joy and blessing for each.

This little verse was sent by a friend from home. It is a lovely prayer and expressed mywish for each of you this New Year.

God Bless Thee.

Thy goings out, thy comings in
Thy home, thy friends, thy kith, thy kin
Thy hopes and plans, thy work or rest
God bless them, as He seeth best;
In grief or pain, in joy or cheer
In all He sends, God bless thy year.

Yours very sincerely,
GRETA M. CLARK.

REDS HAD PARADE AT GLACE BAY N.S.

Huge Red Banner Was Carried in May Day Celebration — 2,500 to 3,000 Persons in Line.

SYDNEY, N.S., May 2.— (Canadian Press.)—Between 2,500 and 3,000 persons were in line when Cape Breton's first organized May Day parade got under way at Glace Bay at two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Rain which had fallen steadily during the morning ceased about one o'clock and an hour later the start was made.

First came President Daniel Livingstone, of District 26, United Mine Workers, accompanied by several executive officers and Tom Bell, new Labor editor and special envoy of the Workers' Party of Canada.

Following the executive came the huge red flag constructed at Sydney Monday for the purpose. This flag, by the way, had only just been whisked out to Glace Bay on a street car when Chief of Police J. B. McCormick arrived at the shop where it was put together for the purpose of seeing that it came within the law.

Consequently it was used yesterday in the uncensored state with its blazing message, "Long Live Communism."

The steel workers carried many banners at Sydney with lettering in English and Russian.

"Workers of the World, United," "We Mean Business" and the "World For the Workers," were some of the slogans displayed, together with the hammer and sickle, the emblem of international communism.

FIRST WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY

At Campbellford Friday Afternoons Will Be Observed This Summer—Twelve O'clock Club Met.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2. — The first weekly half-holiday of the season will be held on Friday afternoon of this week, following the custom of some years. As this holiday in all surrounding towns falls on Wednesday, it is felt by some that in view of the fact that Campbellford is to have a team in the baseball league this year, the date of the holiday in Campbellford should be changed to correspond with that of its neighbours.

Moses Walter Peeling.

Mrs. John Chase, of Inkerman Street, received a letter yesterday, announcing the death of her brother, Moses Walter Peeling, who passed away last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. Hadley, whom he had been visiting at Woodford, near Owen Sound.

The late Mr. Peeling, who was in his 69th year, was one of the oldest residents in Campbellford. He was born in Seymour Township, the youngest of a family of eight children, but had resided here since his youth. A few years ago he was forced to give up active business on account of illness, which the local doctors pronounced cancer of the stomach His wife, who was Miss Ada Campbell ,of Percy Township, died six years ago and of late years the deceased had made his home with his sister, Mrs. Chase. Last winter he left to visit some of his children who reside at Collingwood and Woodford.

The late Mr. Peeling is survived by one son, George of Collingwood, and by three daughters, Mrs. Hadley of Woodford, Miss Mary of Peterborough, and Miss Maud of Percy Township. Of his seven brothers and sisters only three are now living, Mrs. Chase of town, Mrs. Geo. Potts, who resides with her, and George Peeling, of Albany, Oregon. Mrs. Potts is the widow of George Potts, who for years was postmaster at Meyersburg.

The deceased was buried at Meaford.

Twelve O'clock Club.

A general meeting of the members of the Twelve O'clock Club Campbellford's popular social organization, was held last night in the Public Library, with the president, Dr. W. A. Murphy, in the chair. The report of C. T. Booker, the treasurer, who promoted the organization of the clu bat the beginning of the season, showed a balance on hand, after all bills had been paid, of $149.

It was decided unanimously to donate $50 of the surplus to the D.O.E .to be added to the fund for the soldiers' memorial, and to keep the remaining $99 to meet the expenses of the opening of the season next autumn. The club also went on record as favoring the erection of a memorial building, or something that would be of use to the public, rather than a monument in memory of the heroes of the Great War.

Mine-Workers Are Law-Abiding Men.

SPRINGHILL, N. S., May 2. — (By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—The United Mine Workers of America is a law abiding institution. It does not believe in the destruction of life or property. This was the message which Van A. Bittner, personal representative of International President John L. Lewis, brought to the Springhill local in response to their invitation that a representative of the International Headquarters at Indianapolis visit them on May Day.

Accompanied by Silby Barrett, Glace Bay, International representative Van Bittner arrived in Springhill Monday night and yesterday afternoon took part in a parade of mine workers. Headed by a band, the workers marched from union headquarters to the local drill shed where, accompanied by a large number of citizens, they listened to addresses from D. G. McKenzie, leader o fthe Opposition in the local legislature, and members of the local clergy.

SOCIALISTS AND REDS IN FRENZY AT TORONTO

TORONTO, May 2. (Canadian Press.) — Speaking at the May Day celebration here last night, Paxton Hibbon, secretary of the American Nansen Russian Relief Committee, roused a number of Socialists and Reds to a frenzy with impassioned address on the Russian revolution.

After analyzing the causes leading to the revolution, and claiming that the revalutionary movement dated bac kto the sermon on the mount, the speaker declared that the Soviet had tried to realize their great dream in one generation, had failed, and were now trying to implement their programme by education in an effort to realize some of those doctrines which had proved too advanced for ignorant Russia.

WILL DEFER ACTION.

LONDON, May 2 (Canadian Press). — In official circles yesterday it was stated that the Government was unlikely to take any action on the decision of Supreme Court of the United States regarding the carrying of liquor on ships calling at United States ports, until the receipt of a full report from Ambassador Geddes.

DOUBLE HANGING THIS MORNING

Mrs. Lassandra the First Woman to Die on the Gallows in Canada for 24 Years.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Alta., May 2. (Special.) — Emillio Piccarille and Mrs. Florence Lassandra, were hanged this morning for the murder of Constable Lawson, at Coleman, Alberta.

The double hanging of Emillio Piccarrillo and Mrs. Florence Lassandra, the convicted murderers of Provincial Constable S. O. Lawson, at Coleman, Alta., last September, was carried out at the Fort Saskatchewan penitentiary, at daylight this morning.

Piccarrillo paid the supreme penalty at 5.10, and Mrs. Lassandra at 5.51. Both protested their innocence to the last.

Mrs. Lassandra is the first woman to be hanged in Cana.' for twenty-four years and the fifth since confederation.

FIRE DESTROYED A DREDGE TODAY

Peterborough Fire Department Rendered What Help They Could.

Fire resulting in $4000 damage, partially consumed a dredge on the Trent canal, just north of the Norwood Road, early this morning.

At 6.10 the alarm was turned in to the fire hall, but it was evident to the firemen that the fire had been started some time before this. The dredge was moored close to a boathouse containing a valuable motor launch, and the fire spread to a corner of the boat house, doing about $15 damage.

Conroy, Irwin and Company own the dredge, and Mr. Conroy was called about 5.45, when the fire had made some progress.

The fire department was called when it appeared that the boathouse would fall a victim to the flames.City water was not available in that district and the firemen had recourse to chemicals and water pails. They worked strenuously for two hours and finally succeeded in checking the flames and saving the boathouse.

The dredge has not been in service for about six years, and during that time there has been no fire on it to the knowledge of the owners. It is reported that some children were seen playing on the barge last night and it is considered likely that they started the fire.

The value of the dredge is set by the owners at $6,000, and the loss is about two-thirds. No insurance was carried on either the dredge or the boathouse.

Turks Are Warned By the French.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2. — (Canadian Press.) — The French Charge d'affaires yesterday warned the Turkish Nationalist government in Anogra against the concentration of Turkish troops on the Syrian frontier.

The Charge pointed out that France will be compelled to take precautionary measures against a concentration of Turkish forces there.

A dispatch Monday from Lausanne, where the Near East peace conference is in session, said France had frankly informed Turkey that she did not like the concentration of Turkish troops on the Syrian frontier and that if the concentration was intended as a menace, France refused to be intimidated and would reinforce the French troops in Syria if such action was deemed necessary.

Many Mining Claims Staked in the North.

COBALT, Ont., May 2.— Over 1,100 mining claims have been granted in the Temiskaming and Larder Lake Divisions to date. At the recorders office at Campbell's Bay about 500 licenses have been renewed and about 25 new licenses taken out, while at Swastika the figures are 550 and 800 respectively. There has been considerable staking during the winter months, over 500 claims, chiefly in the Larder Lake section, having been recorded at Swastika.

WINDSOR LIBERALS HAVE RE-NOMINATED TOLMIE

WINDSOR, May 2.—(Canadian Press).— Windsor Liberals last night re-nominated J. C. Tolmie to carry the standard of Liberalism in Windsor riding in the forth-coming provincial elections.

Major Tolmie received the promise announced by F. Wellington Hay that Windsor's representative would receive a cabinet post, providing the hopes of the party are realized.

TO ENFORCE DRY LAW.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(Canadian Press.)— Announcement that the government in thirty days will begin to "vigorously" enforce the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court to prohibit United States and foreign ships from carrying liquor within the there mile limit was made last night by Attorney General Daugherty.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN BUILDING AT CAMPBELLFORD

Housing Shortage, However, is Still Acute—General Cleaning Up Apparent Throughout Town.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2. — There is considerable activity in building operations this spring but the shortage of houses is still acute —an unfailing sign of prosperity in any town—there being nearly 20 application for a residence on Sebastapol street, which was recently advertised for rent. At least four parties have spoken for the same place as soon as the term of occupancy of the present tenants expires.

Five new houses have recently been completed or in process of construction within practically one block Sebastapol street not far from the Methodist chudch. John Smith has put up a handsome commodious home which he will occupy as soon as the outer wall of brick is put up John Payne has made the excavation and the basement of a new residence is nearly finished. Miss Young has erected one of the handsomest and best finished bungalows in the town and the building adds to the home-like appearance of the neighborhood. W. M. Runnells has completed two new houses one of which he has already sold. The rest of these is now being connected with the water main.

There is no sewer on Sebastapol street, but a petition for this improvement is now in the hands of the Council and has been referred to Clerk McGregor for confirmation It is possible that the work may not be undertaken this year as the construction of four sewers, two on each side of the river, has been decided upon. When the Sebastapol sewer is put in that thoroughfare will be one of the finest residential streets in Campbellford and the value of property will increase by fully fifty per cent, according to the estimate of some of the owners.

General Clean-up

The citizens generally appear to be paying attention to the order recently issued by Chief of Police Duncalfe and are demoving from their premises all the rubbish that has accumulated during the winter.

The improvemnt of the appearance of the town is one of the main tenets in the creed of the Chamber of Commerce. At the recent meeting of that organization two residents were held up to their neighbors as shining examples of good taste. R. S. Southworth, proprietor of the Trent Valley Creamery was commended for the improvement he has made in the appearance of his factory which was pronounced a credit to the street on which it stands and which since passing into Mr. Southworth's possession has been outwardy changed almost beyond recognition.

The attention of the property owners on the east side of the river was called to the exemplary condition in which Charles H. Davidson maintains the rear of his garage and this case was cited as one worthy the emulation of all those the rear of whose premises abuts upon the river.

Residents all over town are work

Residents all over town are making improvements to their homes, among these being J. I. Adams who is putting up a handsome verandah to his home on Rannie street.

A gang of men from J. J. Turner and Sons of Peterborough, were busy all day yesterday putting up new awnings on some of the leading places of business so that Campbellford is certain to present a gay and prosperous appearance during the summer.

Many Farmers Have Obtained Govt. Seed.

New Liskeard, Ont., May 2. — (Canadian Press. — More than 60 per cent. of the burn out farmers in the agricultural sections adjacent to New Liskeard, have availed themselves of the offer of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, with regard to a supply of seed for the coming season, according to W. G. Nixon, the District Representative of the Department. The settlers will have a year to pay for the seed purchased and no interest will be charged.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Education Board Decide on Site for High School —Progressives Organize —News Paragraphs.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2.—The members of the Board of Education met at the site of the proposed new High School yesterday afternoon and definitely decided upon which part of the property the building is to be erected. There are two small houses in the way, but it is thought that these can be purchased without the necessity of resorting to expropriation proceedings. Contractor Brown, of Toronto, who will put up the building, met the members of the Board, and it looks as if there was to be no further delay in beginning operations.

According to the contract with Mr. Brown, the material to be used in the foundation may be brick, stone or reinforced concrete, this matter to be decided by the architect who is considered the best judge as to the most desirable base for the building.

Masonic Official Here.

R.W. Bro. R. A. Backus, D.D., G.M., of Prince Edward district, paid his official visit to the local Masonic Lodge last night. He was accompanied by Bro. John McIntosh, of Belleville, and other prominent members of the craft. After the business of the session had been disposed of, visitors and members sat down to a sumptuous banquet.

Progressives to Organize.

Members of the Progressive party will meet Saturday night in their headquarters here to organize for the coming campaign. The business of the session will include the appointment of committees in the polling subdivisions throughout the riding.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. I. Stillman, Rear Street, more than forty members being present.

In the absence, through illness, of the president, Mrs. G. A. Kingston, Miss Boyce, first vice-president, presided in a very efficient manner. The meeting was opened by the singing of a familiar hymn, followed by routine business. Excellent papers were then given by Miss Boyce and Mrs. Duncan Clark. The reports showed the year to have been one of the most successful in the history of the W.M.S. A letter from the president, Mrs. G. A. Kingston, was read, expressing her kindliest appreciation of the co-operation shown by the members during the year. The annual election of officers then took place, resulting as follows:

President—Miss Boyce.

First Vice-President—Mrs. G. W. Hammond.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. W. S. Wiggins.

Third Vice-President—Mrs. L. B. Glover.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. T. L. Diamond.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. L. A. Denike.

Treasurer—Mrs. C. W. Turner.

Mrs. T. L. Diamond was appointed a delegate to the District Convention to be held in Hastings on May 22.

A very dainty lunch was then served by the hostess, Mrs. Stillman, and a very pleasant social hour was spent.

Epworth League.

A very profitable and interesting meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church was held on Monday evening, with the president, Mr. Gerald Wilson, presiding. Miss Roxie Wilson contributed a pianoforte solo, which was much appreciated. The Scripture lesson, the 91st Psalm, was read by Harry Boyd and the topic was ably taken by the president, Mr. Wilson, whose topic was, "Two Kinds of Echoes—God calling man and man calling God."

The annual election of officers was as follows:

President—Gerald Wilson.

First Vice-President—Mrs. George Thring.

Second Vice-President — Miss Verna Saunders.

Third Vice-President—James Gay and Miss Myrtle Forde.

Fourth Vice-President — Clarence McKeel.

Secretary—Harry Boyd.

General Treasurer — Miss Edith Bowen.

Missionary Treasurer—Miss Ruth Taylor.

Pianist—Mrs. C. W. Turner.

Assistant Pianist — Miss Grace Payne.

The new officers, who will assume office immediately, each, in gracious little speeches, pledged themselves to endeavour to make the year a most successful one.

Personal Mention.

Mr. L. F. Gould is so much improved since his recent illness that he is able to be out again.

Mrs. Robert Ballantyne and Miss Lila left on Monday for Toronto, having been called there, due to the injury received by Mr. Ballantyne.

FOR CHURCH UNION.

STATES NATION GUN CARRIERS

The Revolver is Her Badge Declares Chief Magistrate McAdoo at New York Conference.

NEW YORK, May 2 (Canadian Press). — "The revolver is the badge of the United States, and we are known as a gun-carrying, shooting nation," said Chief Magistrate McAdoo yesterday at the International Police Conference, in asking for the more rigorous control of firearms.

"Ladies of the United States have now taken to the gun in earnest," said Mr. McAdoo, "and soon a bride will go to the altar with the family gun strapped to her waist. Or if she gets jilted, off goes the gun. It is the open season for shooting men. Then follows the good-looking woman in the dock, chivalrous jurors, a tale of love. Our reputation is being smirched as a nation of shooters and carriers of guns."

Tourist Resorts For Northern Ontario.

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 2. Canadian Press. — W. M. Neal, General Superintendent of the North Bay Algoma District of the Canadian Pacific Railway, yesterday announced that arrangements were being made to provide tourist resorts in the form of dining room, offices, dancing hall, general stores, and also several camp lodges on the French River. Similar plans are in progress for putting into effect on the shores of Lake Helen, within a stone's throw of Nipigon Station.

Both resorts may be expected to open about July 1st. They will be planned on a scale something similar to those which annua'ly attract thousands of tourists to the scenic beauties of Lake Louise and other famous spots on the Canadian Pacific route through the Rocky Mountains.

CUSTOMS RETURNS.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 2.—(Canadian Press.)— Evidence of better times in Kingston is seen in the customs returns for April which are about 50 per cent. greater than they were in April a year ago. Last months figures totalled $36,703 as comupared with $24,047 a year ago.

SUICIDED AT FALLS.

NIAGARA FALLS, May 2 (Canadian Press). — A man, believed to have been Fred Dean, of Niagara Falls, Ontario, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by throwing himself over the falls. He left a note stating that he could "stand this no longer."

Will This Prove a Second Hollinger?

"I was sitting in the lounge of the King Edward Hotel in Toronto when my friend R. came in.

We talked on generalities for a while, and finally got on the subject of gold mines.

He said, "There is a gold mine in Northern Ontario, which, when developed, I believe may equal Hollinger in production."

"That is what practically every owner of a gold mining prospect claims," I replied, "that his mine is going to be a second Hollinger."

"You know my work brings me in touch with opportunities like this from time to time," he said, "and if you have time to come with me and examine some of the proof which this mine has, the office is right here in the hotel, and it won't take you more than half an hour."

As R. is a good friend of mine, and having nothing else to do at the time, to humor him, I decided to go.

But I can't say that I accompanied him with an open mind, as I was prejudiced against most mining propositions.

I have enough gold mining certificates at home to paper the walls of a large room.

He took me to the Office of F. C. Sutherland and Co., Limited, on the second floor of the King Edward Hotel.

He asked them if they would show me the results of the diamond drilling and other work done on this mine.

These results of the drilling are known as "logs" and show every foot of the formation of the ground through which the drills passed.

Diamond drillings were made in 70 different places all over the property, and in every case showed the presence of gold.

Some drillings showed gold ore bodies of a depth of many feet and in widths up to 30 ft. In other places smaller bodies were encountered, but every drill hole showed the existence of gold.

These are facts which cannot be gainsaid, as the diamond drilling cannot lie, and the drilling was done under the supervision of an experienced mining engineer.

I was so impressed with what I saw that I arranged to purchase 5,000 shares at once.

What these diamond drillings and other development work disclosed have so convinced me that I am going to put those shares away for five or six years.

I firmly believe that at the end of that time I shall have a fortune —enough money to keep me and my family for the rest of our days in comfort if not in luxury.

The mine that I have reference to is the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited, which is now offering 600,000 shares of stock at $1.00 per share (par value)."

You also should know particulars about this opportunity. Let us send you an illustrated pamphlet we have prepared containing full information.

CERTAIN BANKS ARE GRADING BANK ACT

Applicants For Loans Are Made to Give Their Insurance Business to Certain Companies.

OTTAWA, May 2 (Canadian Press). — "There is no doubt that certain banks are in effect evading the restrictions of the Bank Act through Trust companies with insurance departments," stated R. J. Wickham, president of the Canadian Federation of Insurance Agents, before the Commons' Banking Committee yesterday afternoon

"It was said," stated Mr. Wickham, "that when a customer of some banks applied for a loan, he was advised that the same could not be secured unless, or could be secured if his insurance business was entrusted to a certain trust company, and it was felt that the coercive power of credit lodged in a money lending institution was unfair competition and would stifle individual effort."

Mr. Wickham explained that not all banks approved of the practices complained of; and he cited particular cases relating to the Bank of Montreal, the Royal Bank, and the Merchants' Bank.

In regard to the Merchants' Bank he read a circular signed by the general manager of the bank, announcing the organisation of the Bankers' Trust Company by the directors, one of the functions of the trust company being insurance. The Bland Manufacturing Company was, he said, controlled by the Merchants' Bank and its insurance was placed by the Bankers' Trust. The Montreal Shirt and Overall Company was instructed by the Merchants' Bank to give its insurance to the Bankers' Trust Co. The Bankers 'Trust Company, the witness stated, was now exclusively associated with the Bank of Montreal.

In the case of the Royal Bank, he continued, there were eight directors in common between the Royal Bank and the Montreal Trust Company.

The Howard Smith Paper Mills were directed to the Montreal Trust Company after insurance was negotiated by the manager of the bank. The Montreal Trust Company places the insurance for the bank. This bank also controls the trust company of Cuba which deals in insurance.

With the Bank of Montreal were associated, according to Mr. Wickham, the Royal Trust Company and the Royal Agencies. Eleven directors were the same on both boards. The trust company placed the bank insurance. R. B. MacKenzie at the Merchants' Bank meeting, had stated that permission from the bank was necessary before he, as manager of the Trust Company, could investigate Merchants' Bank affairs. When the Bank of Montreal took over the Bank of British North America, a member of the insurance agents' association lost the insurance to the Royal Trust Company, and when the Merchants' Bank was purchased the same thing happened.

Mr. Wickham asked for the removal of this "unfair competition" by the banks, and said that if the grievance were continued it might be necessary for the insurance companies to go into the banking business. He maintained that the practices complained of were in effect a violation of the section in the Bank Act which forbids banks "to be engaged in any trade or business whatsoever."

It was pointed out by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Centre Vancouver, that banks and trust companies were separate entities as a matter of law.

Mr Stevens asked why the insurance agents did not take action against the banks in the Courts.

"The greatest difficulty is to bring definite evidence out against them," replied the witness.

J. J. Hughes, Liberal, Prince Edward Island, has a notice of motion on the order paper designed to remove the grievances of the insurance agents.

Beaudry Lemen, general manager of the Bank of Hochelaga, followed Mr. Wickham on the stand, and criticised various proposed amendments to the Bank Acts in regard to audit, monthly statements, current loans, and overdue debts.

G. G. Coote, Progressive, MacLeod, asked what the salaries of the directors of the Bank of Hochelaga were.

"That has not much to do with the Bank Act," objected Walter Mitchell, Liberal, Montreal.

Chairman MacLean allowed the question, and the witness answered by saying that the total amount set aside for the president, vice-president, and seven directors was $15,000 per annum.

Mr. Coote then wanted to know if directors were influenced in their desire to serve in that capacity by reason of being able to secure stability of loans for companies in which they were interested.

"I do not think so," was the reply. "I have found it exactly to the contrary."

Mr Ladner called attention to the proposed amendment to provide for municipal licenses; to those taking money on deposit, and pointed out that it might interfere with the practice of departmental stores in accepting deposits from customers. The chairman thought this question had better come up when the contentious clauses were under discussion.

The committee then adjourned.

STEAMER ON FIRE.

NEW YORK, May 1 (Canadian Press). — The 4 000-ton steamship Haiti was towed into midstream from her pier this afternoon after a fierce blaze had broken out in her fire room.

Two fire boats were summoned to fight the flames.

The Haiti, which is an oil-burner, was scheduled to sail this afternoon for the West Indies. She was loaded with freight, but carries no passengers.

NAME IS CHANGED TO CANADIAN PRESS

TORONTO, May 2. Canadian Press. — So far as the name goes Canadian Press Limited went out of existence yesterday, its place being taken by The Canadian Press. The change in name of the co-operative news-gathering association of the daily newspapers of Canada was authorized yesterday at the annual meeting of the association, following the passing by Parliament of a special bill with that object in view. This bill also changes the status of the association from that of a company with share capital to a corporation with share capital, but otherwise the functions of the Association remain unchanged.

In his annual address, the president, E. Norman Smith, dwelt on the general improvement in the news service, particularly in the cable service, inaugurated about a year ago by an agreement with Reuters, of London, and supplementary to the cable reports of the Associated Press, which the Canadian Press carries from New York. The president also made reference to the essentially non-partisan and unbiassed character of the political reports carried by the Canadian Press from Ottawa and elsewhere.

The management presented a very satisfactory financial report for the year, showing that the association is on a very sound basis. Officers and directors were elected as follows:

President, E. Norman Smith, Ottawa Journal; First Vice-President, E. H. Macklin, Manitoba Free Press; Second Vice-President, G. Fred Pearson, Halifax Chronicle; Directors, F. B. Ellis, St. John Globe; Henri Gagnon, Quebec Soleil; John Scott, Montreal Gazette;; E. J. Archibald, Montreal Star; W. J. Wilkinson, Toronto Mail and Empire; Irving E. Robertson, Toronto Telegram; W. J. McNair, Hamilton Herald; T. H. Preston, Brantford Expositor; N. E. Nicholls, Winnipeg Tribune; Burford Hooke, Regina Leader; J. H. Woods, Calgary Herald; and Charles Swain, Victoria Colonist; J. F. B. Livesay, General Manager, is also secretary.

Other members present were:

C. L. Sibley, Montreal Herald; E. G. Smith, Quebec Telegraph; Arthur Penny, Quebec Chronicle; George Pelletier, Montreal Le Devoir; Oswald Mayrand, Montreal La Presse; G. A. Disher, Ottawa Citizen; Joseph Goulet, Ottawa La Droit; Stewart Lyon, Toronto Globe; J. S. Douglas, Toronto Mail and Empire; C. C. Knowles, Toronto Telegram; William Mullins, Hamilton Spectator; W. B. Burgoyne, St. Catharines Standard; W. J. Motz, Kitchener News-Record; Arthur Ford, and Charles Thomas, London Free Press, Vernon Knowles, Winnipeg Tribune, John M. Imrie, Edmonton Journal; F. J. Burd, Vancouver Province; B. C. Nicholas, Victoria Times.

A feature of the annual meeting was the unanimous vote of thanks to the president, E. Norman Smith, for the unselfish and untiring work he has done for the association during the past three years. This was coupled with the request that he continue in the presidency for the ensuing year. Thanks were also expressed to the First Vice-President, E. H. Macklin of Winnipeg, and the Second Vice-President, G. Fred Pearson, of Halifax, N.S.

TALK TO I.O.O.F. AT MILLBROOK.

Eloquent Discourse By Rev. S. T. Tucker to the Oddfellows on "The Good Samaritan."

MILLBROOK, May 2.—The center front pews in the Methodist church were reserved for the Independent Order of Oddfellows Lodge, No. 308, on Sunday evening when about sixty members were in attendance and Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D., by special request, preached particularly to the Order, the large congregation practically filling the auditorium of the church. The choir also has augumented its number, and sang two anthems, "O, Praise the Lord", and "I have a Friend so precious," with exceptionally fine effect, previous to the sermon, the solo, duet, and obligato parts being taken by Mr. G. W. Sayles, Mrs. Irwin Hatherly, Miss Ella Elson, Messrs. W. Coombe and F. N. Alcorn.

Mr. Tucker based his remarks upon the Parable of the Good Samaratan, reading this passage from Luke the 10th chapter for his Scripture lesson, and after prefacing his address with a few words of hearty welcome on behalf of pastor and people to the visiting Order, whose history of over one hundred years is a noble one, well worthy of study, he wished the brethren "God-speed in their work."

A Great Spirit.

The great spirit of Oddfellowship, the speaker stated, it brought out in full orb in this parable which is one of the most remarkable of any spoken by our Saviour. Sketching briefly the story of how the parable came to be told, one way in which Jesus turned the question of the lawyer upon himself, was pointed out The latter questioned, "Who is my neighbor?" with the emphasis upon "my" but Christ said, "Who was neighbor to him that fell among thieves?" The hub of the wheel for the lawyer was himself, his query implied that some were not his neighbors but the centre of gravity in the Kingdom is never self, but "Others."

On another occasion Christ made clear that the Sabbath is not the hub of the wheel—"the Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath," hence it must adjust itself to man's needs. God intends that "all things work together for good to them that love Him," including the world, the universe, every created force. "Whosoever" is a great word in God's vocabulary. It is the basis of Divine redemption, it embodies the spirit of the Kingdom, and it is the very essence of true neighborliness, too. If we take the lawyer's attitude we infer that the man that hates me is not my neighbor, the man who does not belong to my Union, the men of another race, or color, has no claim upon my compassion. "If ye love them that loves you," Christ says, "what credit is that to you?" It is bad to make an unnecessary show of high principles, but it is worse to have no high principles to show.

Fell Among Thieves.
